RICHMOND '22 WINNER OF LEHMAN CUP MEET

BROWN '20 IS SECOND

Victor Places in Every Event Scoring 42 1-2 Points to 36 Secured by Rival

Showing remarkable versatility by placing in every event, Richmond '22 won the Lehman Cup Meet last week scoring 42 1-2 points to his nearest rival's 36. Brown '20 was second in the meet and McWhorter '22 third. In winning the meet Richmond scored two firsts, tied once for first, won three seconds, three fourths, and one fifth place. Owing to bad weather conditions the meet was extended over two weeks, the final events being run off last Tuesday.

The number of points won by each man to place in the meet was as follows: Richmond 42 1-2, Brown 36, McWhorter 29 1-2, Barnes 18, Crofts 18, Coddling 17, Allen 8 1-2, Newton 5, Fasse 5, Kieser 4, Kellogg 4, Dewey 2, H. B. Adams 1, Larkin 1.

On Tuesday, March 9, by far the largest number of entries was in the sprint, eight preliminary heats being necessary to determine the winner. Coddling '21 took first place, closely followed by McWhorter '22, Kieser '20, Richmond '22, and Allen '21. In the low hurdles the race was so close that the judges were forced to consider it a tie between Richmond '22 and Barnes '23. The two preliminary heats of the 440-yard dash were won by Richmond '22 and Crofts '21, the time of the former being 3-5 seconds better.

McWhorter '22 won the second race of the 35-yard dash on Wednesday afternoon, March 10, with Brown '20 a very close second, and Coddling '21, Allen '21, and Richmond '22 following in the order named. In the high hurdles Richmond '22 sprang a surprise by taking first place from Barnes '23, but the other places were not very closely contested. Brown '20 led throughout the whole of the 880-yard run, closely followed by Crofts '21 until the final sprint when the former opened up a margin of several yards. By a sensational sprint on the last lap, Richmond '22, who had been trailing somewhat, passed into fourth place, very closely pressing Kellogg '21 who was running third, but failing to pass him.

Because of bad weather no further events were run off till the following Monday when Brown '20 won the finals of the 440-yard dash. Richmond '22 came in second, closely pressed by Crofts '21, McWhorter '22, and Kieser '20. All five men were very closely bunched.

The potato race on Tuesday was more or less a ol scramble, Richmond '22 coming out in the lead with McWhorter second. The judges were unable to decide between Allen '21 and Coddling '21 for third place. Brown '20 was fifth. In the shotput only two men were able to go beyond the required distance. McWhorter '22 scoring two points and Richmond '22 one. Points in the high jump were divided among seven men as follows: Barnes 11, Richmond 10, McWhorter 10, Newton 5, Coddling 4, Allen 4, and Brown 2. The final event of the meet, the mile-run was won by Brown '20. Crofts '21 hung close on his heels until the last lap and finished second with Fasse '23 in third place. Richmond '22 came from behind in the last lap and passed Adams '22 for fourth place.

Smoker Tax Must Be Paid

Monday, April 5, will be the date of the College Smoker. As only two more weeks remain the Smoker Committee is particularly anxious that all taxes should be paid as soon as possible in order that full advance preparations may be made immediately.

SQUAD IS CUT TO 45

Batting Features Week's Work —To Get Outdoors Soon

As a result of the cut made in the baseball squad last Thursday Coach Davis has retained 45 of the 70 men who had up to that time been reporting for practice. The men who have been retained are Field, Foster, Howland, Lee, Mason, Sackett, Wiley '20; Belcher, Burger, Boynton, Brown, Burrows, Connor, Cutler, Dorsey, Eaton, Finn, Gay, Jarrett, McLean, C. C. Noble, Patton, Roth '21; Buell, Dunn, Elliot, Hahlo, Harder, Merriam, Nichols, Secor, R. W. Smith, Wakeman, Wolle '22; Allen, Boynton, Clark, Crosby, Hemphill, Holmes, Hoyt, Monjo, Richmond, Stevenson, Ward. '23.

The past week had been devoted entirely to batting practice. Coach Davis feels that the squad is now ready for outdoor work and hopes that Cole Field may be put in shape for use before the Easter vacation begins. Boynton and Finn '21 are now reporting regularly for practice.

WINCHESTER COMPANY OFFERS SEVEN PRIZES

Cups Are Donated for Five Gun Club Shoots—Campaign for Membership to Begin

Special announcement was made at the meeting of the Gun Club last Thursday evening of a very attractive gift of prizes for the spring shooting. The Winchester Company has offered to donate seven cups to be competed for in five meets. It is planned by handicap and classification systems to give every man an equal chance in these shoots. In addition the club decided to send immediately for a new automatic trap and to otherwise improve its equipment in anticipation of a successful season.

Two meets for beginners will be held that will be open to all members of the club. A handicapsystem will be employed based on averages made in weekly practices, thus ensuring a fair opportunity to all entrants. Each man will not be required to furnish his own gun as heretofore, as the Winchester Company has further offered the loan of two shot guns to the club. As a result of these shoots four class teams will be picked of five men each to compete for the inter-class cup.

Three cups will be offered in the College meet to be held later in the spring. All contestants will be divided into three classes, A, B, and C, and one cup will be offered as first prize in each class.

Following the various intramural events the Gun Club will enter a five man team in the Intercollegiate Meet between Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Yale and Williams. According to a letter from the Yale manager plans are being made to hold this meet in New Haven the latter part of May. Selection of the team will be based entirely on the showing of the men during the spring and a large number should compete.

In preparation for the spring meets the club is starting an active campaign for membership, believing that such shoots should draw forth a large attendance. It is felt that every effort should be made to offer a creditable showing for Williams in the Intercollegiate Meet as the College has not been represented for a number of years. An important meeting of the club will be held Thursday evening at 7.30 in Jesup Hall, to which all men interested in trap-shooting are invited.

Pipe and Quill to Meet

Papers by Hawes and Bushnell '20 will be read at the next meeting of Pipe and Quill which will take place tonight at 8.00 o'clock at the home of Ingersoll D. Townsend '20 on Main Street.

From the week's round of intramurals Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, and Chi Psi each merged the victors of two games while Delta Psi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Delta Upsilon lost twice. Psi Upsilon and Zeta Psi won once and lost once, and Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa each won one game. General roughness and the usual poor basketball featured a majority of the contests played during the week, the match between Phi Delta Theta and Delta Upsilon on Saturday alone giving evidence of any considerable skill.

In the two games played on Monday, Kappa Alpha downed Psi Upsilon by the decisive score of 10 to 4, and Zeta Psi gained a comparatively easy victory over Phi Gamma Delta by a 15 to 11 score.

Delta Kappa Epsilon overwhelmed Theta Delta Chi 14 to 4, and Chi Psi defeated Delta Psi 10 to 6 in a harder fought contest in the second game of the afternoon. Of the four teams Delta Kappa Epsilon showed the best brand of basketball.

In a hard fought battle on Tuesday Delta Upsilon lost to Alpha Delta Phi 10 to 7, and Phi Delta Theta swamped Delta Psi by a 42 to 4 score. Considerable more skill was shown in these two contests than in those on the two preceding days, Phi Delta Theta having the best team of the four.

Greater accuracy in shooting was responsible for the victory of Phi Sigma Kappa over Beta Theta Pi in the only game played on Thursday afternoon. The losing team guarded closely but was unable to make its shots count.

Kappa Alpha won its second game of the week Saturday afternoon when it defeated Zeta Psi 14 to 8. Psi Upsilon also played for the second time, winning from the Commons Club by a 12 to 8 score. (Continued on page 3, col. 3)

SELECT DEBATING TEAM

Speakers to Oppose Brown and Dartmouth on April 23

As the result of trials which were held last Wednesday in Jesup Hall, teams were selected to represent Williams in the Triangular Debate against Brown and Dartmouth on Friday, April 23. Atwell, Hall '21, and Terry '22, with Sedgwick '21 as alternate will speak on the affirmative side of the proposition in Grace Hall against Dartmouth, whereas Hedden '20, Coan '21 and Lyon with Cole '21 as alternate, will debate against Brown in Providence.

The question for debate will be practically the same as that which was presented by Amherst, Wesleyan, and Williams last December. The exact wording of the proposition is as follows: "Resolved, that all employers should recognize the right of employees to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choice in respect to wages, hours of labor, and other conditions of employment."

JEWETT '20 DESCRIBES EXPERIENCES TO FORUM

Tells of Conditions in South Dakota During War—Joslyn Noble and Lyon Officers

Jewett '20 addressed the Forum last Monday evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium, taking as his subject "The Real I. W. W." The speaker derived his knowledge of the subject from practical experience gained while serving on the State Constabulary of South Dakota during the labor troubles in that state in the summer of 1917.

The speaker's object was to show that the I. W. W. is an organization of fact and not opinion, that it has no constructive program, is immoral, and is an enemy of the United States. He traced the origin of the I. W. W. among the western coal fields and in the Lawrence and Paterson textile strikes of 1911.

The organization consists of a general executive board in New York City, which directs its policy and has the power to call strikes. Its motto is "Sabotage", which means that the organization has no respect for personal property. Its preamble states that there is nothing in common between labor and capital, that trade unions should be opposed and the wage system abolished.

Jewett next described the conditions in South Dakota and related his experiences with the I. W. W. during the war. It was open and avowed warfare between the I. W. W. and the civil authorities. The I. W. W. pillaged, plundered, and burned, incited to these acts by the official organization in Chicago. Many documents and official letters were produced by the speaker to prove that these destructions and fires were moved by the official hand of the I. W. W.

But though the I. W. W. should be destroyed, the speaker said, it should be crushed by removing its causes for existence, by alleviating its grievances, and by a positive legislative program.

In the discussion after the address, Heddon '20 brought forth two cases in which two members of the I. W. W. were directly incited to riot and disturbance by the impetuous actions of the United States deputies. He agreed with the speaker that the organization can be broken up only by the redress of certain wrongs.

In the business meeting which followed the discussion officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Joslyn '21, President; C. C. Noble '21, vice-president; and Lyon '22, secretary-treasurer.

Organ Recital Is Cancelled

No organ recital will be given this week by Mr. Sumner Salter as Grace Hall will remain closed for the week because of the scarcity of coal for heating purposes.

R. P. I. DEFEATED IN DUAL SWIMMING MEET

SHAW SCORES 12 POINTS

Williams Takes First Place in All but One Event—Relay Race Is Spectacular

Williams won all but one event in the dual swimming meet with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute held in Troy, N. Y., last Saturday, gaining a total of 40 points to the 19 scored by Rensselaer. The relay race and the fancy dive were the most closely contested events of the meet.

Throughout the entire meet Williams easily maintained its superiority, allowing R. P. I. only a single first place. As usual the plunge was won easily by Capt. Olmsted with Jones a close second. Shaw with 12 points to his credit was the heaviest scorer for Williams, while Truman and Richardson were tied for second with seven points each. Weiskopf with five points for first place in the breast stroke was the highest scorer for R. P. I.

In the relay race Wallace, the lead-off man for Williams, obtained a five yard advantage over his man on the plunge; and although the event proved to be a closely contested one, this initial handicap was never overcome by Rensselaer. In the fancy dive one of the surprises of the night occurred in the defeat of Bourne, of Rensselaer, by Shaw, of Williams. In the 100-yard swim Richardson nosed out Young, of R. P. I., at the very finish of the race.

A summary of the events follows:

Relay, 200 yards—Won by Williams (Wallace, Richardson, Shaw, and Truman); R. P. I. second (Bryant, Ruckdeschel, Young and Winquist). Time, one min. 53 4-5 sec.

50-yard dash—Won by Shaw, Williams; second, Winquist, R. P. I.; third, Young, R. P. I. Time, 27 3-5 sec.

Breast stroke—Won by Weiskopf, R. P. I.; second, Montgomery, and Thompson n, Williams, tied. Time, 8 2-5 sec.

220-yard swim—Won by Truman Williams; second, Wilcox, Williams; third, Winquist, R. P. I. Time, three min, 10 2-5 sec.

Plunge for distance—Won by Olmsted Williams; second, Jones, Williams; third, Rees, R. P. I. Distance, 71 ft., 2 in.

100-yard dash—Won by Richardson, Williams; second, Young, R. P. I.; third, Cronkite, Williams. Time, one min., 10 2-5 sec.

Fancy dive—Won by Shaw, Williams second, Bourne, R. P. I.; third, Webb, R. P. I.

Total points for the meet; Williams 40, Rensselaer 19.

Track Weight Men Called Out

All track candidates for the discus and hammer throws and the shot-put are asked to report to Mr. Withington at 11.00 o'clock on Tuesday morning in the baseball cage, according to a recent announcement of Coach Seeley. This is the first call that has been issued for weight men, and there is a scarcity of varsity material in these events.

To Hold 1923 Declamations

Next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Room 1 of the Thompson Physical Laboratory a meeting of all freshmen interested in entering the Freshmen Declamation Contest will be held. Two prizes are offered: a first prize of $20 and a second prize of $10. According to the faculty committee on prizes preliminaries for the contest will be held sometime in April, probably on the Monday before the Easter recess.

News Editor This Issue—R. H. Balch

Vol. 34 March 22, 1920 No. 1

At a meeting of the Record board last Thursday afternoon, the following members of the freshman class were elected to the editorial staff: Ernest Groesbeck Angevine, of Brookline, Mass., and Herbert McAneny, of New York City.

With this issue the 1921 board takes over the work of issuing the Record and the senior editors retire to a well earned rest. To them we wish to express our appreciation of the valuable training and of the excellent principles which guided the policy of the Record during the past year. Although we intend to make no formal declaration of a set of rules which shall govern the paper during 1920-1921, we shall endeavor for the most part to keep to the same course which has been followed by the out-going board. To maintain an independent, yet not an aloof attitude towards the college affairs, to make criticisms constructive rather than destructive, and to use all means in our power to make for a better Williams, are the tenets which we shall adhere to.

The Monitor Question

The accompanying communication voices one opinion of a proposed solution of a question which has been bothering both faculty and undergraduates for many years, which solution will come before the student body for settlement next Friday evening. The advocates of the inclusion in the Honor System of a clause whereby the soliciting of extra cuts from chapel monitors will be prevented, are able, however, to present several arguments in favor of the innovation, and it is the duty of the College body to consider both sides of the question before coming to a decision.

That the present system is undesirable cannot be denied. And it is the belief of the Student Council that this is the best, and in fact the only remedy. What the undergraduates must decide is, first, whether this will solve the difficulty, and second, whether the element of risk in regard to the weakening of the Honor System is too great. One contention is presented in the communication of the Honor System Committee. Following is a category of the arguments of the Student Council in favor of the proposed plan:

1. The monitors now are in an impossible position. Something must be done to remedy it.

2. Other methods of bettering things have failed. It has been found impossible to create adequate sentiment in College, either through the Dean's office, the Student Council, or the Record.

3. The proposed method will remedy the situation, for if the suggested clause is placed in the Honor system compliance with it is assured. The Honor System has never failed to work successfully at Williams.

4. If done, this will not strain the Honor System, because a violation would be analogous to dishonesty in the class room, and furthermore, a violation necessarily includes admitting to the monitor openly that the violator is willing to perjure himself.

5. The best method of combatting this evil is through the Honor System, because soliciting a man to break his word and his contract is a dishonorable act. There is no other place in which it would be appropriate.

6. The contention that such a plan would lead to further and trivial additions to the Honor System is worthless, because the acceptance of this addition does not bind the College to the acceptance of further additions, since the College ballots freely on all such changes.

7. The Honor System committee can make suitable punishments for all offences. It is not necessary that this, a relatively less flagrant offence, be punished by penalties prescribed for a breach of honor in an examination.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record:

Sir:—

It is the unanimous sentiment of the Honor System Committee that the plan concerning chapel monitors, as proposed by the Student Council and outlined in the Record of March 12, should not be incorporated in the Honor System. We feel that the ratification of this amendment would greatly weaken the Honor System. The two offenses of soliciting chapel cuts and of cheating in examinations are in no way analogous. It hardly seems just that a student who merely asks for an extra chapel cut should receive the same punishment as one who cheats on an examination. Undoubtedly the rule would be violated because the act itself is trivial, even if the punishment be severe. Since its establishment, the Honor System has worked so well that it has become one of Williams' greatest institutions, and we feel that it should not be tampered with for the sake of settling a question which is in no way related to the purpose of the agreement.

We would suggest that the student body give serious consideration to this question before the College meeting, at which the proposed amendment will be brought up for ratification. We feel that, if it is a question for the undergraduate body to decide, a better solution can be arrived at by a little thought and effort on the part of each undergraduate.

The Honor System Committee
William P. Black '20, Chairman

For Men

WITH the purpose in mind of increasing the Knox service to men, a department has been organized which will be given over exclusively to clothes ready for wear.

Men are familiar with the character and standards which have prevailed in connection-with Knox Hats. Exactly the same elements have been carefully maintained in the production of Knox Clothes.

Sold, as they are, under the Knox trademark; the tailoring, materials, correctness of style and general desirability need no further warrant.

To give Knox Clothes the presentation befitting their character, a mezzanine floor has been erected in the Four-Fifty-Two Fifth Avenue Store, where the garments are now being shown.

Customary Knox ideals of service will prevail, and men will be capably supplied, in accord with their requirements, with "Knox Clothes for every occasion."

BASEBALL SCHEDULE HARDEST FOR YEARS

R. P. I. GAME APRIL 17

Includes Four of the Larger Universities—Spring Trip for Training Probable

Sixteen colleges and universities are included in this year's baseball schedule which will be the stiffest one Williams has encountered for some time. The opening game of the season is on Saturday, April 17, with R. P. I. at Williamstown; and the closing one is on Monday, June 21, with Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.

Four of the larger universities are on the schedule this spring. The first big game comes with Columbia in New York on May 1. On May 19 Harvard will be played at Cambridge, and on May 26 the team will oppose Yale at New Haven. Dartmouth will be the second to the last game of the season, coming on Saturday, June 19.

Wednesday, April 21, is still an open date. Nine games are to be played here in Williamstown and seven away. Games are scheduled with Vermont, Wesleyan, Holy Cross, and Amherst both at Williamstown and at their respective home towns.

In addition to this schedule plans are now under way for a training trip during the spring recess. Games will probably be played every day except Sunday from April 8 to April 14, inclusive with teams in the vicinity of New York, but the exact schedule is not as yet ready for announcement. About 15 men will be taken on the trip.

The schedule is as follows:

Saturday, April 17—R. P. I. at Williamstown.

Wednesday, April 21—Open.

Saturday, April 24—Holy Cross at Worcester.

Saturday, May 1—Columbia at New York City.

Wednesday, May 5—University of Vermont at Burlington, Vt.

Saturday, May 8—Wesleyan at Williamstown.

Saturday, May 15—Colgate at Williamstown.

Wednesday, May 19—Harvard at Cambridge.

Thursday, May 20—Amherst at Amherst.

Wednesday, May 26—Yale at New Haven, Conn.

Saturday, May 29—Holy Cross at Williamstown.

Monday, May 31—Amherst at Williamstown.

Tuesday, June 15—Syracuse at Williamstown.

Thursday, June 17—University of Vermont at Williamstown.

Friday, June 18—The Alumni at Williamstown.

Saturday, June 19—Dartmouth at Williamstown.

Monday, June 21—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.

1923 Business Competition

All members of the Class of 1923 interested in competing for the second assistant manager position of the Record will meet in the Manager's office, Tuesday, March 30, at 7.30 p. m.

Noted Australian to Speak

Through the efforts of Frederick T. Wood '98, president of the New York Williams Club, Hon. Mark Sheldon, High Commissioner to the United States from Australia, has consented to address the Forum meeting next Monday evening at 8.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall, on the subject, "Australia". Following his address, the speaker will answer questions on Australian life and conditions.

SPRING TRACK TO START

Coach Seeley Asks All Candidates to Report Monday

Coach Seeley has announced that regular spring track practice will start next Monday afternoon on the board track at 4.00 o'clock. All men who have any track ability whatever are urged to come out. High jumpers and hurdlers are especially desired, as there seems to be a dearth of material for these events.

The first meet will be a dual one with Union, in Schenectady, N. Y., on May 1. Training cannot begin too soon. The Weston Field track will in a short time be in condition, and it is imperative that a large squad answer this first call for candidates, if Williams is to have a successful season.

Mr. Withington has also requested that the weight men report to him each afternoon beside the board track between 3.30 and 5.00 o'clock instead of in the cage in the mornings.

TO VOTE ON TAX FOR NON-ATHLETIC BODIES

College Meets Monday to Pass Upon Revisions and Addition to Honor System.

Proposed changes in the constitution of the Non-Athletic Organizations and an addition to the Honor System prohibiting the solicitation of extra cuts from chapel monitors will be brought before the college body for ratification at a meeting at 7.30 o'clock next Monday evening in Jesup Hall. The most important legislation is the provision for the support of the Non-Athletic Organizations by a tax on the entire undergraduate body based on the amount of room-rent.

The entire amendment follows:

Article III of the By-Laws of the Board of Governors of Non-Athletic Organizations shall hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 1. Meetings of the Board shall be held at the discretion of the Chairman or on petition of four members of the Board.

Sec. 2. In the third week of the college year, the Chairman shall call a meeting of the Board at which time those members representing organizations which will not be self supporting for the coming year shall make out a budget showing full and complete approximate expenditures for the year. The Board will then approve or revise these budgets and submit them to the Student Council. The Student Council will then revise or approve of these budgets after conferring with the organizations in question. The Student Council will immediately make out a Non-Athletic tax to cover these proposed expenditures. This tax will be a College tax based on room rent. The undergraduate College treasurer will supervise the collection of this tax and will forward the apportionment of each organization to the respective heads. There will be no undergraduate solicitation of funds on the part of any of these College organizations. The Student Council shall submit a budget at this time which will include the College Smoker tax.

Sec. 3. On the third week in March the chairman shall call a meeting of the Board at which time each undergraduate non-athletic organization in College shall submit an audit of its accounts. Organizations failing to submit such an audit shall be reported to the Student Council. The Student Council shall then officially warn these organizations. If, after this warning, the audits are not presented to the Chairman of the Student Council within two weeks thereafter, the financial head of the offending organization shall be removed from office.

The addition to the Honor System is in the form of an eighth article, reading as follows: "All students are bound by

Call For Heelers

Members of the Freshman Class who wish to enter the second competition for the Editorial Board of the Record will meet the Managing Editor in the Record office, Jesup Hall, at 7.30 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, March 29. The competition will last eight weeks, a cut being made on May 6, when six men will probably be retained in the competition. On June 1 two men will be elected to the Board.

VOICE AND VIOLIN IN JOINT RECITAL

FINAL PROGRAM OF YEAR

Alice King and C. E. Griffith to Appear Here This Evening in Thompson Course

For the eighth and closing number of this season's Thompson Course, to be given at 8.15 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall, Alice King and Charles E. Griffith, Jr., will appear in a joint recital. Although they have not before presented a program together, the courses of their musical careers have been more or less parallel. Both have been known from youth as gifted makers of music, having, while still in college, an especial repute for their abilities, and having, in recent years won the approval of many audiences and critics.

Mrs. King had just begun her senior year at Wellesley when Oscar Hammerstein chanced to hear her sing, and offered to give her a position in the Manhattan Opera Company which he was then managing. Although this offer involved a real opportunity of immediate professional experience, upon seasoned advice she decided to devote herself to a thorough preparatory training here and, if possible, abroad. After being graduated from Wellesley, she spent two years of study in Boston followed by two years of concert work, during which time she has successful appearances in the West, and on two occasions in the Panama Canal Zone. In 1914 a journey to Europe, undertaken with intent to renew her former studies, was cut short by the outbreak of the War. She then returned to Boston, and in 1916 was married to James E. King '12.

Mr. Griffith, a graduate of Dartmouth, attained there a prominence which cannot be called anything but exceptional. Almost immediately after entering college

BECKWITH CHOSEN NEXT CAPTAIN OF BASKETBALL

Varsity Five Elects Left Forward on 1919-20 Quintet to Lead Next Season's Team

At a meeting of the varsity basketball team in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock yesterday evening Kenneth Daggett Beckwith, 1922 of Torrington, Conn., was elected to captain the 1920-21 varsity five. Entering with the class of 1920, he played forward on the varsity team during his freshman year, and after returning from the Service was one of the mainstays of the offense in the season just completed, being second highest scorer for the year.

CAPTAIN-ELECT OF NEXT YEAR'S BASKETBALL TEAM

Kenneth D. Beckwith 1922, who has played consistent game at left guard on varsity for two years

Beckwith prepared for College at the Torrington High School where he was a member of the football, baseball, basketball, and track teams. During his junior and senior years there he was president of his class, and was also captain of the basketball team, president of his school athletic association, and business manager of the school publication during his last year. Besides playing on the varsity five his freshman year at Williams he was captain of his class basketball team, treasurer of the W. C. A., and winner of the Francis W. Rawle Memorial Cup for physical development during the year.

Always one of the steadiest players on the team, Beckwith has displayed consistently good form throughout the past season, and has been a large factor in the scoring in every game in which he has taken part.

ATHLETIC INSIGNIA AWARDED BY COUNCIL

HONOR 1920 SOCCER TEAM

Olmsted '20 and Jones '23 Win "W"—"BWB", "SWT", and Class Numerals Are Voted

Insignia for basketball, hockey, and swimming were awarded at a meeting of the Athletic Council, last Wednesday afternoon. At the same time class numerals were given to the members of the victorious interclass soccer team and also to the two teams winning the interclass relay championship.

Eight members of the 1919-20 basketball team were voted the "BWB" for playing in the required number of games and insignia was also given to the manager and assistant manager. The complete list of the men receiving the "BWB" is as follows: Burrows, Bonner, Carick, Draper, F. M. Jones, '20 Boynton, Fargo, Finn '21, and J. E. Wilson '22.

Both Olmsted '20 and Jones '23 were awarded the "W" for gaining first and second places respectively in the plunge at the recent New England Intercollegiate Swimming Meet at Boston. Olmsted also qualified by establishing a tank and College record. The usual swimming insignia was given to twelve members of the team including both managers. The following men received the "SWT": Carey, Henderson, Olmsted, Truman '20, Fulle, Power '21, J. R. Montgomery, Richardson, Wilcox, '22, Garvin, S. A. Jones, Shaw '23.

Fourteen members of the 1920 soccer team which won the interclass championship last fall will receive their numerals. This is the first time that insignia has been given for this sport and the award is made in accordance with a recent decision of the Athletic Council placing soccer on the same standing as other interclass sports. Acken, Anderson, H. H. Brown, Carey, Chaouchoglou, Dessau, Huston, Keegan, D. W. Milton, Schermerhorn, Townsend, Truman, W. Williams, and Winslow will receive the 1920 numerals.

Four men, Allen, Coddington, Crofts and Kellogg received their 1921 numerals and five, McWhorter, Mendes, Richmond, Rosenwald, and Wolfe were given 1922 insignia for winning the Upperclass and Underclass Relay Championships.

Official news was also received by the Athletic Council of the election of Williams to membership in the I. C. A. A. A.

Announce Basketball Standing

Five sophomores received first recommendations in the basketball manager competition, according to the announcement made last night. The Sophomore Class will meet next Wednesday evening to nominate five men for election by the College. The final standing follows: First group—Huckel 86%, W. D. Coleman 83%, Burger 82%, Lyon 81%, Halho 80%. Second group—Loiseaux 76%, Wallace 72%, Bumstead 66%, G. F. Baker, Jr., 62%, Luedeke 56%, Fleming 55%, Schmidt 50%. Third group—Plant 38%.

Freshman Declamation Trials

Preliminary trials for the Freshman Declamation Contest will take place on April 16, the Friday immediately following the spring recess, according to the decision reached at a meeting of the candidates held in the Thompson Physical Laboratory last Tuesday evening. April 20 has been set as a tentative date for the finals. About 15 men have already entered the contest, but entries may still be handed to the Prize Committee.

With the program this evening the 1919-1920 Thompson Course series comes to an end. The fund which supplies the expenses of these performances is only one of the many gifts of Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson to the College, but the good resulting from it is not the least which comes from her bequests.

That in our more or less isolated community we may attend the performances of well known artists in various fields is truly an invaluable opportunity, and the large attendance of undergraduates as well as members of the Faculty at the entertainments this year has been proof of the especial appreciation which the community feels for this manifestation of Mrs. Thompson's interest in Williams. The sincere thanks of the entire College, therefore, are extended to her for her generosity, and to Professor Karl E. Weston for his work in arranging so varied a program.

More About Monitors

The most important question which will come before the College body next Monday evening is that concerning Chapel monitors, and all indications point to a wide difference of opinion among the undergraduates. We wish first of all to urge upon all who vote that they consider the suggestion of the Student Council purely on its merits as an advocated remedy for an undesirable situation. It will be easy to let other considerations be fog the issue, and many arguments will undoubtedly be offered which have an appealing sound, but which have no real bearing on the point.

The Record firmly believes that a logical consideration of the question allows but of one conclusion: that the incorporation in the Honor System of a clause forbidding the soliciting of extra cuts from monitors is the only sure solution, and the most desirable solution of the problem.

In the first place it is certain that definite steps must be taken to remedy the situation. This matter has been an admitted evil for years; and it has been found impossible to stop it either by requiring monitors to sign contracts, or by attempting to create public opinion against the practice of soliciting cuts.

Three possibilities are now open: either it must be left entirely in the hands of the Dean to prevent the giving of extra cuts; a separate agreement, similar to the No-Deal agreement, must be formulated by the undergraduates; or the addition to the Honor System must be made.

That the Dean adopt police methods to prevent monitors from giving cuts is obviously undesirable. It would inevitably lead to hard feeling between the faculty and undergraduates.

To make a separate agreement, the second suggestion, is altogether inadvisable, for this would necessarily make the matter wholly one of honor among the students, and the agreement would be no different from the Honor System. All the complicated machinery necessary to enforce the provisions of the agreement would be added, without achieving anything which cannot be achieved through the medium of the Honor System.

This leaves but one method of disposing of the difficulty, that of incorporation in the Honor System. The efficacy of this method, should it be adopted by the student body, cannot be doubted, for no man would be willing to risk exposure as a violator of the Honor System, especially when he would know that the undergraduates considered his act thoroughly dishonorable.

The question, then, resolves itself into this: Would incorporation in the Honor System have other results which would be so undesirable that it is better to vote such an inclusion down, even if the opportunity is thus lost of eradicating an undeniable evil?

Those who answer this question affirmatively present the following objections, which they contend are serious enough to justify the rejection of this solution of the problem.

1. The Honor System would be weakened.

2. The matter is too trivial to be placed on the same basis with cheating in examinations.

3. The punishment does not fit the crime.

The principle involved in all these contentions is that soliciting a monitor to give extra cuts is not a dishonorable act in the same sense that soliciting another man to give you aid in an examination is a dishonorable act. This contention is thoroughly fallacious, for asking a monitor to break his contract, and therefore to break his word, is a dishonorable act just as asking another man to give you aid in an examination is dishonorable. There is no difference in the principle involved. In both cases a dishonest act is committed. Before the advent of the Honor System, it was considered by the student body perfectly legitimate to cheat in examinations; after it was made a matter of honor, cheating in examinations stopped. At the present time a large number of students consider it legitimate to ask monitors to violate their contracts; if this is made a breach of honor, solicitation of cuts will stop. What basis is there, then, for the conjecture that the inclusion in the Honor System of a clause which makes dishonorable an act which is already dishonorable, would weaken the Honor System?

As to the matter being trivial, those who contend this are ignorant of the facts of the case. Monitors have been made so uncomfortable in the past that they have resigned their positions, rather than face unpopularity which resulted from their refusal to break their contracts. And these men needed the money which they derived from their positions as monitors; last year in fact, several men who resigned their monitorships in this fashion left college because they could not earn enough money to pay expenses. One of the greatest evils which Williams has to fight is its undeserved reputation as a "rich man's college." Yet this very

this agreement to refrain from soliciting extra chapel cuts from monitors." This article was framed and amended to the Honor System constitution to obviate numerous cases of personal and pecuniary embarrassment on the part of monitors and bad feeling between them and undergraduates growing out of the attempts of the latter to obtain from their monitors the chapel cuts which they could not get legitimately through the Dean's office.

To be binding on the College Body, the new article must be ratified by a three-fourths vote of those present at the mass-meeting of the college. Once ratified, Article VIII will make the solicitation of extra chapel cuts as severe a violation of the code as cheating in examinations.

More About Monitors

practice of soliciting cuts from monitors is helping strengthen that reputation which the College has been trying to fight down for years.

In regard to the contention that the punishment does not fit the crime, it must be remembered that the punishment is entirely in the hands of the Honor System Committee, which body is able to exercise discretionary powers. Why a man should not be punished for committing a dishonorable act in one place, when he is punished for committing a dishonorable act in another place, is however, a question which is hard to answer. And it is our belief that the prestige of the Honor System at Williams is such that, as soon as this inclusion is made, soliciting of cuts will stop and the Honor System Committee will have no more violations to deal with from that source in the future, than they have from the source of cheating in examinations in the past.

Chi Psi was the only team to maintain a perfect record in the intramurals this week, defeating Phi Delta Theta in an exciting contest yesterday by the score of 17 to 13. Psi Upsilon has gained the lead in League A through a victory over Phi Gamma Delta, while Kappa Alpha broke even in two games. All of the teams are scheduled to play the final round tomorrow, and the time limit for postponed contests expires tonight.

Three League A games took place Monday and Tuesday. Kappa Alpha barely managed to win from Phi Sigma Kappa by the close score of 16 to 12. Following this, Phi Gamma Delta defeated Sigma Phi, 16 to 10, in a hard-fought and cleanly played contest. Taylor and White were responsible for most of the scoring, and Black on the losing team played an excellent game. On the next day Psi Upsilon nosed out Beta Theta Pi by a 12-10 score. Bumsted shot all six baskets for his team. Yesterday afternoon Sigma Phi defeated Kappa Alpha 7 to 5, and Psi Upsilon won from Phi Gamma Delta 8 to 4.

The most important game in League B was that between Chi Psi and Phi Delta Theta. The score was 4 to 3 in the latter's favor at the end of the first half, and reached 12-9 near the end. The Chi Psi team staged a last-minute rally and won, 17 to 13, on three baskets and two fouls. Lyon and Milton did most of the scoring for their respective teams. Delta Kappa Epsilon defeated Alpha Delta Phi on Wednesday afternoon in a well-played game, which thus keeps it in the running for the championship. Delta Psi came from behind and barely nosed out the Faculty 14 to 13 yesterday, after which Delta Upsilon won from Theta Delta Chi, 14 to 5.

The following games are scheduled for tomorrow afternoon: League A—Phi Gamma Delta vs. the Commons Club, Beta Theta Pi vs. Zeta Psi, and Psi Upsilon vs. Phi Sigma Kappa. League B—Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Phi Delta Theta, Chi Psi vs. the Faculty, Delta Upsilon vs. Delta Psi, and Alpha Delta Phi vs. Theta Delta Chi.

LOST: One gold watch-chain and key—name on key. Return to P. Phillips, Kappa Alpha House and receive a munificent reward.

he was asked to play as violin soloist for the Dartmouth Musical Clubs, and in two successive years was invited to be one of three soloists competing in the Inter-collegiate Glee Club meet in New York. In 1912 Mr. Griffith was married to Miss Susan Hoyt, a daughter of Mr. Willard E. Hoyt, treasurer of the College. Mrs. Griffith, herself an accomplished pianist, will accompany her husband in his solo numbers this evening, while Mrs. Charles A. White, of Boston, will accompany Mrs. King in her songs, as well as in the selection for voice with violin obligato.

Mrs. King's first group of pieces, chosen from the Italian, traverses an interesting range from the gentle melody of Pergolesi to the broader airs of "late" Puccini writing. Her first three French songs should give opportunity for happy revelation of the colorful lyric qualities of her soprano, late French work being consciously omitted from this program, except for Cesar Cui's dramatic song of The Three Birds from Copée's similarly named poem. Her English songs have also been carefully chosen.

Mr. Griffith's first number is of especial interest. Entitled Sonata, it is the only surviving movement of a complete sonata written by Brahms, Schumann, and Dittich on the occasion of Joachim's first appearance as concert violinist in Dusseldorf. The Sonata is the part of the work done by Brahms, betraying his own rhythmic tendencies but the melodic influence of Schumann. Mr. Griffith plays the Andante from Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole by request. The title of Bruch's Kol Nidrei, being translated, means Lord God Almighty and the piece is a transcription of a set of responses used in the most ancient set of Hebraic services of worship of which there is now any knowledge.

MEDLEY RELAY TEAM WILL MEET COLGATE

Purple Competes in Four-man Event in Albany Saturday —Prospects Are Good

In the second indoor meet of the season, the Williams relay team will run Colgate tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock in the State Armory at Albany, N. Y. With the exception of Richmond '22 who is taking the place of Kellogg '21, the Purple quartet is the same as that which took second place in a triangular relay with Bowdoin and Worcester Polytechnic Institute on February 7. Although practically no information has been received with respect to the relative excellence of the opposing team, the team representing the College is a very well rounded out combination and should make a good showing.

Two, four, six, and eight laps of 176 yards each compose the medley relay which will be started by Coddling '21 for Williams, Richmond '22 will run four laps, Captain Brown '20, six laps, and the anchor man, Crofts '21, will run eight laps. Marked improvement has been shown during the last week since the team was picked, and although Richmond slightly sprained his ankle Thursday, he will in all probability be able to run Saturday. Kellogg '21 is being taken along as a substitute, and in case of Richmond's disability will take the latter's place.

In addition to the relay race two men will be entered in outside events, two sprints, and one distance run. Kellogg '21 is entered in the 1000-yard handicap run, and McWhorter '22 will compete in the 60-yard novice race and the 60-yard handicap race.

WHY?

Your Meat Costs Are High

III. 342 POUNDS OF BEEF; 64 POUNDS
NOW UTILIZED

An average side of beef weighs 342 pounds. The table below shows the weights of the various cuts.

Steaks	37½ lbs.
Roasts	26½ lbs.
Round	44½
Chuck	40
Rump	13

Total Useful	161½ lbs.
Cheap Cuts and waste	180½ lbs.

342 lbs.

The table shows that about 52.3% of a carcass of beef is now practically unsalable. But the majority of the Fraternities are eating solely Steaks and Roasts, only 64 pounds of a carcass. This not only means that you are using but 18.7% of what the butcher has to buy, but you are only using 39% of what you might use and enjoy.

By this we mean that you are only using the most delectable meats. Round and Rump Steaks make good Pot Roasts, and Chuck meat makes good stew. These meats cost you less, but also by varying your diet more you can reduce the price on the popular cuts, Steaks and Roasts, because under existing conditions 61% of the meat in a carcass has a stagnant sale. The butcher accordingly must charge the loss on what he can sell.

AUDIENCE CHARMED BY FINAL CONCERT RECITAL IS EXCELLENT

Alice King and C. E. Griffith Appear in Combined Violin and Vocal Entertainment

In the final number of the Thompson Course, Alice King and Charles E. Griffith, Jr., rendered a most interesting vocal and violin recital last Friday evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. Although the artists were appearing in a joint program for the first time, the concert proved an unqualified success, bringing forth the unstinted applause of the audience. Jesup Hall was not large enough to accommodate all the people who wanted to hear the concert which was in many respects the most delightful of the Thompson Course entertainments of the current season. But the hall—for those fortunate enough to gain admittance—proved once again a very satisfactory setting for chamber music, as compared with Grace Hall.

The personal interest of the Williams audience in the artists, which gave an unusual piquancy to the occasion, was joined with artistic satisfaction in their rendering of a program of great variety and brilliance. Mrs. King is a dramatic singer, with a rich voice of uncommon range and exquisite flexibility, which enables her to cover in her programs a wider field of song than is possible to the average soprano singer. It must be confessed, to the chastening of our racial pride, that the group of songs in English is almost always the least interesting in a singer's program and this was true on Friday, with the saying exception of Mrs. Salter's beautiful and ecstatic setting of Her Love-Song. The Italian songs, especially the Puccini aria, were particularly suited to the singer's dramatic temperament, the latter perhaps more so than the more formal composition of Pergolesi. The French group was very charmingly sung and was full of contrasting moods, from the sustained emotional tone of Chère Nuit, through the haunting waltz time of the Fauré song, the coquettish Bonjour, Suzon and the tragedy of Les Trois Oiseaux. Le-maire's Vous Dansez, Marquise made a vivacious encore to this group.

Mr. Griffith, charmingly accompanied by his wife, played with the richness of tone and the poetic feeling so well known to his friends, and gave great pleasure to his audience. The unfamiliar numbers in his program were the Brahms sonata movement, a characteristic composition fortunately saved from oblivion, and the Kol Nidrei of Bruch, superbly dignified and elevated, with its antiphonal phrases highly suggestive of the religious ceremony on which the composition is based. The exquisite delicacy of the Chaminade Serenade, with its bell-like harmonies, the romance of the Lalo Symphonie—which brought back to the reviewer memories of Ysaie's superb rendering of it in his prime—the Russian charm of the Hymn to the Sun, to mention only a few of the delightful violin numbers, were given fresh and beautiful interpretation by Mr. Griffith. The Rondino of Beethoven which he played as an encore was one of the most exquisite pieces of the evening.

The song with obligato, Le Nil, was exceedingly effective with its sustained but passionate themes, and the versatility of the artists was nowhere better shown than in the utter contrast between this song and the somewhat miniature beauties of Gounod's Sérénade, given as an encore.

The program follows:

- I. Sonata in A Major Brahms
Menuet in A Major, Op. 118, No. 1
Hochstein

MARK SHELDON SPEAKS

Australian Commissioner Ad-

The Hon. Mark Sheldon, a member of the Australian Commission to the United States, will address the Forum at 8.00 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall on the subject, "Australia." Following his talk, the speaker will answer questions on Australian life and conditions.

Mr. Sheldon is a banker and manufacturer of Sydney and is also interested in ranching. He was chairman of the Committee on Repatriation of Soldiers. On his present trip he has already traveled throughout the West and has addressed many Chambers of Commerce and citizens' committees. He expects to speak at Yale and Harvard within the next few weeks. In his talk tonight Mr. Sheldon will describe particularly the life and occupations of Australia, its system of government, and if time permits the budget system and labor conditions.

TRUMAN ELECTED NEXT CAPTAIN OF SWIMMING

Final Victories and Record-Breaking Plunge Establish Success of 1920 Season

Roswell Truman 1921, of New York City was elected to captain the 1920-21 swimming team at a meeting of the varsity swimmers last Friday evening in Jesup Hall. Although this is Truman's first year on the team, he has done consistently good work throughout the season, placing third against Harvard, Wesleyan, and Springfield in the 220-yard swim, and winning first place in this event in the final meet of the season against R. P. I.

Truman received his secondary education at the Phillips-Andover Academy, representing his school on the swimming team during his senior year. He entered Williams in 1916, and is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

The election of the new swimming captain marks the close of a decidedly successful revival of varsity swimming after a lapse of three years. With a record of three defeats and two victories, not including the record plunge by Captain Olmsted '20 in the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Boston, the team has produced satisfactory results in spite of the handicap caused by a lack of practice at the beginning of the season. The 1920 season is closely comparable to that of 1917 in which Williams was defeated by Amherst and Wesleyan, but won over Rutgers and R. P. I.

The outstanding feature of the team has been the plunging, for in this event the varsity has succeeded in winning first place in every match, although Captain Olmsted was prevented by illness from competing in all but the last two meets of the season. In this department, the work of Fuller '21 and Jones '23, the latter of whom took second place in the Intercollegiate, has been of the first order. In the 220-yard swim, Wilcox '22 and Truman '21 have both done consistently good work, whereas Shaw '23 has proved a point winner in the dives. In all directions, improvement throughout the season has been marked, as shown by the last two meets, in which Springfield and R. P. I. were defeated by decisive scores. These victories were largely due to the improvement in the relay work, which has been more and more noticeable as the season has progressed. Another encouraging feature is that the team consists largely of underclassmen and will probably lack only two veterans, Captain Olmsted and Henderson '20, at the opening of the 1921 season.

Chi Psi is the winning team in League B and the only team in either league to maintain a perfect record as the result of defeating Delta Upsilon on Friday afternoon and the Faculty on Saturday afternoon. In League A three teams are tied for first place with an average of .714: Kappa Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Psi Upsilon.

The tie is to be played off today; the game between Psi Upsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa will be the first in the afternoon and Kappa Alpha will play the winning five in the evening. The winner of League A will then be matched against Chi Psi, the winner of the League B, at 7.45 o'clock on Tuesday evening for the intramural championship.

Three League A games took place on Friday afternoon. Phi Sigma Kappa defeated both Phi Gamma Delta and Psi Upsilon by scores 9 to 5 and 21 to 12 respectively, thus creating the sensation of the series and coming up from third place to a tie for first. Beta Theta Pi defeated Sigma Phi in a very close game by the score of 8 to 4. C. Taylor was the individual star, scoring most of the baskets for the winners.

In League B on Friday afternoon Chi Psi defeated Delta Upsilon in one of the most exciting games of the season. At the end of the first half the score was tied, and in the second half Delta Upsilon got a lead of one point, bringing the score to 9 to 8. Then in the last minute (Continued on page 3, col. 3)

OUTDOOR WORK BEGINS

Baseball Squad Will Be Cut to 30 Men This Week

Outdoor practice for the baseball squad is scheduled to begin this afternoon on Cole Field, weather permitting. Coach Davis is anxious to get the players out on the diamond where he can pick the most promising candidates for the various positions, as work in the cage has been confined to light throwing and batting practice.

Following this week's practice, the squad will be cut to about 30 men at the end of a few days. All the regulars have been practicing in the cage daily except Finn '21 who has been incapacitated for a short time but will report on Wednesday.

A temporary line-up will probably be announced at the end of the week, after Coach Davis has had a chance to size up the work of the men on the field.

In case the Spring training trip fails to materialize, practice will be held here daily during the vacation, Manager Tiebout is awaiting word from the managements of the Brooklyn National League Club, the Newark and Jersey City International League Clubs, and several colleges in and around New York City as to the possibility of arranging practice games with these teams during the vacation. Whether the Spring training trip will be held depends on the answers of these clubs.

REV. MR. F. B. EDWARDS MAKES W. C. A. ADDRESS

Popular Preacher and Alumnus Takes for Subject "Is the Church Indispensable?"

The Rev. F. Boyd Edwards '00 addressed the W. C. A. meeting last evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium on the subject, "Is the Church Indispensable?" If one were to make a scientific study of the church, according to the speaker, one would find that it really is a mother to all good and rich enterprises; but for his talk the Rev. Edwards took the church from a purely abstract point of view, putting aside all sentimentality.

Gov. Coolidge summed the matter up when he wrote "men do not make laws; they discover them." As there are laws of physics, biology, and all sciences which were discovered and not made, so are there laws which shall judge the conduct of men.

All men have abstract possessions called domestic affection, a sense of justice and a desire for knowledge. These things are symbolized by the home, the courts, and the schools. The reverence and affection all men have for the Creator and the laws by which men keep great and clean and fine are symbolized by that great token, the church. If a man believes in not turning his back on the institutions of home and court, he also cannot turn his back on the church. But in things of this kind men do not like to be compelled. This feeling we are all familiar with as represented by the undergraduate feeling against compulsory chapel.

Man knows that there is a punishment for infractions of the laws of justice and society, but for the infractions of the laws of religion there is no bodily punishment; there is instead a punishment which visits the inner most life of a man. But if all laws were taken away, we all recognize the fact that there were left a man and a woman, we should have again the institutions of the family, the school, and the courts by the working of the laws of evolution.

Thus one perceives that the church is indispensable and that there is a punishment for trifling with religion. The Rev. F. B. Edwards appealed to his audience to think deeply on these facts and closed his address by saying that as a token of the things he had mentioned the church is in need of big men to carry on its great projects.

PURPLE RELAY TEAM WINS FEATURE RACE

COLGATE IN SECOND PLACE

McWhorter '22 and Kellogg '21 Win First and Second in respective Contest

Maintaining a narrow lead throughout all twenty laps, Williams won the Medley Relay Race against Colgate and Hobart in fast time last Saturday night at the State Armory in Albany, N. Y. In addition to the victory of the four-man relay team, McWhorter '22 won first place in the finals of the 60-yard novice dash, and Kellogg '21 came in a very close second in the 1000 yard handicap run, and the 60-yard handicap dash being the only event in which the Purple was entered and failed to place.

Featured in advance as the principal event of the relay carnival, the medley relay race for colleges was fully up to expectations and furnished one of the closest and most hotly fought contest of the evening. The time of the Williams team was eight minutes, 22 1-5 seconds, fast time for an indoor track without banked curves, and two seconds better than that of the Harvard-Cornell race over the same course two weeks ago. Colgate was fifteen yards behind in second place, while Hobart came in third over a quarter of a lap behind.

Coddling '21 started the relay for Williams, securing and holding the lead throughout his two laps in spite of being closely pressed. After the first lap and a half, Colgate passed into second place and was never seriously threatened by Hobart during the remainder of the race. Richmond '22 received a lead of 10 yards from Coddling and managed to hold his own for the four laps, although his ankle had been injured a few days previous to the meet. Captain Brown '20 ran a fine race, adding twenty-five yards to the advantage which had been given him and apparently ensuring a safe lead for the remainder of the contest. Woodmansee of Colgate, however, showed remarkable speed and endurance in his race with Crofts '21, the Purple anchor man, and rapidly cut down the lead until at the end of the fifth lap he was immediately behind Crofts. Crofts, quickening his pace, refused to surrender the lead, and for two laps the men ran close together. Woodmansee making a vain endeavor to pass into first place. On the last lap Crofts started the final sprint, setting a pace that the Colgate man was unable to maintain, and crossed the finish line with a lead of fifteen yards. Hatch for Hobart was a bad third.

In the first event of the evening, the 60-yard novice dash, McWhorter won his heat and semi-final events and then took first place in the finals. His time, six and two-tenths seconds was extremely fast and better than the time of the 60-yard handicap dash, which immediately followed. McWhorter, the only Williams entrant also in this event, took second place in his heat, and third place in the semi-finals, but failed to place in the final race, due doubtless to the fact that no time was allowed between the handicap and novice events.

Kellogg showed probably the most sterling performance of the evening in the 1000-yard handicap run. Starting from scratch he was boxed in last position for a considerable part of the first few laps, but after freeing himself he rapidly gained and passed up into seventh place at the opening of the final lap. In the sprint for the remainder of the distance Kellogg succeeded in passing five men, and finished only a foot behind the winner, who had had a 30 yard handicap to start the race.

Members of the Freshman class are offered two excellent opportunities this week in the two competitions for the business and editorial staffs of the Record. The competitions are so different in character that one or the other of them should appeal to almost every member of 1923 who has any ambition to take part in extra-curriculum activities. The value of the editorial competition has already been emphasized, but the business competition offers something new. In addition to the pecuniary remuneration, which is a feature which should appeal especially to the student who is in need of financial aid, the training along business lines which the business department offers is unusually thorough.

Tennis at Williams

With the first varsity tennis match only a month away, and the snow rapidly disappearing from the ground, it is highly important that work on the tennis courts, be started in the near future. The condition of the College courts has, of late years, been disgracefully unsatisfactory, and has proved a great handicap to the team, both in matches and in practice. Of the eight courts, four have been possible for use in matches; one was worked on in a perfunctory manner; and the other three remained so many patches of weeds. Eight courts constitute a small number for a college the size of Williams, especially in view of the interest which the undergraduates take in tennis. And to have four of these in such condition that they cannot be used means that both the team and the large number of tennis-playing students are offered little opportunity to play. When varsity practice is going on, only one or two courts are left for the use of about 500 men.

The care of the College Courts is the responsibility of the Athletic Council, rather than of the tennis manager, for it is impossible for the latter, with a corps of undergraduate assistants, to give the courts the attention which they require, to be in anything like good condition. As long as the tennis courts remain a college institution, it is the duty of the Athletic Council to see that they are properly maintained.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Record

Sir:—

A monitor's job is unpleasant. It is unpleasant because men ask for extra cuts. Men ask for extra cuts because they think they have some hope of getting them. They think they have some hope of getting them because some monitors have been known to give them. Some monitors have been known to give them because perhaps neither the monitors nor the men realized the principle involved. That is the basis of the whole situation. Here is the remedy:

Before assuming his duties, each monitor shall sign this contract: In consideration of the sum of.....to be paid to me by the Treasurer of Williams College, I agree to perform the duties of a monitor. The duties of a monitor are these:

1. To report to the Office of the Dean any student absent from a Chapel exercise.

2. If myself absent, to appoint a substitute, and be responsible that this substitute perform my duties faithfully.

This contract and the names of the monitors who sign it shall be published in the Record. Soon the monitors will no longer be bothered—why?

Because most men will immediately stop asking for cuts, for they will clearly understand that they are asking the monitor to break his word of honor.

Because most of the men who aren't stopped by this reason will be stopped when they find the asking does no good. Facts prove this: Some monitors have never been known to give cuts. Men soon tired of asking them. Now they are never bothered.

Because most of the men who aren't stopped by either of these reasons will be stopped by public opinion. What prevents a man from voting for himself at a college meeting? Public opinion. What prevents a man from coming to Chapel in overalls? Public opinion. What prevents a man from sitting down when the National Anthem is played? Public opinion. What will prevent a man from asking a monitor to break his word of honor? Public opinion.

Because all of the men who aren't stopped by any of these reasons will be stopped by the Student Council. This will make prompt inquiry into any case of a man's making a monitor's position unpleasant. He won't do it again.

"But", some will say, "monitors have already signed contracts and the system didn't work". That is true. And the system didn't work for three reasons: The contracts were framed in indefinite language (I have one before me): not one man in five remembered that the monitors had signed a contract; those that did remember did not realize—or choose to realize—that the monitors were honor bound by it. The accompanying plan makes this contract definite; every man in college will know the monitors have signed it; every man in college will know the monitors are honor bound by it.

"But", the Record contends, "it has been impossible in the past to create sufficient public sentiment to prevent men from soliciting cuts." The Record is right. But that fact does not prove that it will be impossible in the future. The way to create public sentiment is by advertising. And the "monitors system" by now has received enough advertising to bring it to the attention of every man in Williamstown—unless he is deaf and blind, or dead.

Yes, this whole situation hinges on the assumption that the monitor will keep his word or honor. I'd call it a safe proposition. Would you?

Comprising parlor, dining, and baggage cars as well as day coaches, the special train for New York on Wednesday, April 7, will leave Williamstown at 4.15 o'clock and reach its destination about 9.00 o'clock. This will be the quickest and most comfortable way of reaching New York as no change of cars will be necessary because the train will run through the entire distance. The only stops will be at Troy and Albany to discharge passengers. Those leaving Williamstown on the 3.25 B. & M. train must make a three-minute connection in Albany to reach New York by 8.45, and if they miss this, the next train is not due there until 10.10. Moreover, the inconvenience of making connections has been greatly increased by the change of time in New York State. It has been necessary to guarantee the railroad company 125 fares in order to secure the train, so that all who intend to take advantage of it must sign the announcements posted in the various eating houses and in Hopkins hall at once. Complete announcement as to sale of tickets and pullman reservations for the special trains going down and returning after the vacation will be made in the next issue of the Record.

Elections to Delta Sigma Rho

Announcement is made of the election to the Williams chapter of Delta Sigma Rho of Atwell, Cole, Hall '21, Lyon, Schaffler, and Zalles '22. Delta Sigma Rho is the national honorary debating society founded in 1906 with chapters in nearly every important college and university in the country. Initiation of the new members was held Sunday evening.

Trials for parts in the French play will be held at the meeting of the Cercle Francais Tuesday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Commons Room. L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle, is the title of the play to be given, and the committee in charge has received the books for it, so that practice may start in the near future. Due to the resignation of Blanchard '20 from College, a vice-president will be elected at the meeting to serve for the remainder of the year.

Nine Men Win Hockey Insignia

Nine men were awarded hockey insignia at a meeting of the Athletic Council last Wednesday afternoon. The list of men receiving the "HWT" is as follows: Cutler, Hatch, Huston, Mills '20, D. M. Irwin, '21, Becket, Rouse '22, Ely '23.

William Dwight Whitney was one of the first Williams graduates and was renowned alike both in America and in Europe as a scholar and a philosopher. He graduated from Williams in the class of 1845 as Valedictorian of his class and spent 40 years of his life as a professor at Yale.

ESSAYS FOR GRAVES CONTEST DUE MAY 1*Seven Prizes to be Awarded Winners Must Deliver Papers at Commencement

Announcement has been made that essays in the Graves prize contest for seniors must be submitted to Professor Maxcy before May 1. The awards will consist as usual of six prizes of $20 each for the best six essays on assigned subjects and an additional prize of $80 to the student who shall deliver his paper most effectively at Commencement. The fund was donated by the late Arthur B. Graves '58.

Any competitor entering agrees to take part in the speaking contest, in case he wins one of the prizes, and forfeits his preliminary prize if he fails to participate. As the final prize is based entirely on effective presentation in public, it is customary to make minor alterations in preparing the essays for final delivery. Following are the rules to be followed: 1. The essays submitted are not to exceed 2500 words in length. 2. Each essay is to be typewritten on paper of the size usually employed. 3. Each essay is to be signed by a fictitious name and accompanied by an envelope containing both the fictitious name and the true name of the writer. 4. The essays are to be submitted to Professor Maxcy not later than Saturday, May 1. 5. A typewritten copy of each successful essay must be placed on file at the College Library previous to Commencement week.

The list of the 15 subjects for this year follows: The Educational Fads of Mr. Wells, Thackeray's Familiar Essays, New Poets and Old Problems, The Revival of the Occult, Melville and the Romance of the Sea, Remuneration for the Soldier, The Politics of the Educated Man, Government Control of Railroads, The Lodge Reservations, The Test of a Liberal Education, The Feminization of American Life, Temperance vs. Prohibition, Church Unity, Individual Opinion and the Tyranny of the Majority, The Raison-d'etre of Radicalism in the United States.

College Meeting Tonight

Meeting at 7.30 o'clock tonight in Jesup Hall, the college body will vote on ratification of proposed changes in financing the Non-Athletic Organizations and an addition to the Honor System prohibiting the solicitation of extra cuts from chapel monitors. The provision for the Non-Athletic Organizations suggests their support by a tax on the entire undergraduate body based on the amount of room-rent. The Honor System proposal is favored by the Student Council and opposed by the Honor System Committee. A three fourths vote of those present is needed to ratify it.

On Saturday Phi Gamma Delta nosed out the Commons Club by a score of 9 to 7 in League A. Stabler and E. Taylor did most of the scoring for the winners. In League B Delta Upsilon overwhelmed Delta Psi 22 to 4 in a game in which Greer proved to be the individual star. Chi Psi defeated the Faculty 30 to 21 in a very well played game. As usual Mr. Buffinton was the individual point winner for the Faculty; and for Chi Psi, Lyon and Richardson did the best work, both accounting for four baskets. This gave the series in League B to Chi Psi. In the remaining games on Saturday afternoon Theta Delta Chi lost to Alpha Delta Phi by a score of 11 to 7, and both Delta Kappa Epsilon and the Faculty forfeited to Phi Delta Theta.

EINSTEIN THEORY SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Prof. McElfresh Discusses Relativity in the Last Number of Tuesday Course

Speaking in the last number of the Tuesday Lecture Course for the present year, Professor McElfresh discussed the salient points of the Einstein Theory of Relativity and showed that the acceptance of this hypothesis would radically upset the generally recognized ideas of time and space. The address was enthusiastically received by an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the lecture hall, in the Thompson Physical Laboratory.

Professor McElfresh opened his address by pointing out the difficulty of comprehending from a mathematical standpoint such an intricate subject. He, therefore, confined his explanations to a general survey, clarified by simple graphic explanations.

The Einstein Theory, he declared, means the complete rejection of the idea of absolute time and space. The speaker traced the growth of the idea of "relativity" from the speculations which followed the discovery of the "wave motion" of light. Astronomers early noted the phenomenon known as the "aberration of light" as illustrated in the fact that a telescope in order to give results, must be pointed, not directly at, but at a slight angle in advance of the star to be observed due to the motion of the earth. Various explanations of this fact, based on formerly accepted laws, are of a more or less problematical nature.

Einstein's Theory of Relativity, on the other hand affords a perfectly plausible solution. Further phenomena created by the action of moving water on light waves are easily explained on this basis. Professors Michelson and Morley, the latter of whom is a graduate of Williams in the class of 1860, conducted famous experiments to determine whether light waves are affected by the motion of the earth. It was discovered that two separate rays, one travelling in the same direction as the earth and the other travelling transverse its path apparently cover slightly different distances in exactly the same time. Fresnel suggested that the motion of the earth has the effect of shortening one of the distances.

Einstein arrives at this explanation by a different process. Using the results of the "Michelson-Morley Experiment", as a basis he formulates as fundamental the two following principles. First, that "absolute transitory motion" through space cannot be detected; Second, that the velocity of light is the same to all observers regardless of the relative motion of the source of light and the observers.

Einstein discusses relativity on the basis of these postulated, the first of which is strongly supported by the fact that all physical experimentation in both optical and electrical fields has failed to reveal the speed of the earth through space. By combining them, he demonstrates the fact that the idea of time is not an absolute one. Professor McElfresh illustrated that simultaneity or coincidence of time is also relative. By comparison of moving and stationary objects measured by the constant velocity of light it follows that there can be no absolute measure of length when there is motion. Therefore time and space are not absolute but relative.

The speaker stated that the Einstein Theory does not materially conflict with Newton's Laws of Motion and Gravitation when only low velocities are involved, but with high velocities such as the speed of light there is a decided divergence. Concrete examples are furnished in the case of Mercury and certain stars, photographed by British scientists at the time of an eclipse of the sun. In these cases, calculations based on Einstein's Theory rather than on Newton's gave the best approximation of the position of the stars as obtained by actual observation.

Professor McElfresh closed by declaring that the striking feature of the Theory is its logical strength. If found false in one respect, it must be rejected entirely. However, as it stands, it will have a profound influence on accurate thought as it points out in a new and revolutionary manner that time, space, and motion are closely inter-related.

THE WILLIAMS RECORD

VOL. XXXIV

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1920

NO. 4

KAPPA ALPHA WINS INTRAMURAL TITLE

FINAL SCORE 14-13

Victors Attain Small Lead in Last Minute of Play with Undeclared Opponents

Scoring the winning basket from the middle of the floor in the last half minute of play in an exciting and spectacular game, Kappa Alpha won the Intramural Championship and the 1920 Intramural Cup last Tuesday afternoon in their contest with the hitherto undefeated Chi Psi team, the winning five in League B. Phi Sigma Kappa and Psi Upsilon had played off their tie for first place Monday afternoon, the former team winning, and that evening Kappa Alpha defeated Phi Sigma Kappa 13 to 12 thus securing the right to play Chi Psi for the championship.

In the preliminary contest Monday afternoon both teams appeared to be somewhat off form, and the playing was generally loose. Phi Sigma Kappa was an easier victor than the 12 to 8 score would appear to indicate. Mendes and Bianchi did the best work on the floor. The contest between the winner of this game and the Kappa Alpha team the same evening was much closer, however. At first it appeared that Kappa Alpha was due for an easy victory as four baskets were rapidly scored to their opponents' one, but by the end of the half the score was closer, 8 to 6, and in the second period the Phi Sigma Kappa team took the lead and maintained it until nearly the end of the game. The deciding points were three free-throws scored in rapid succession by Sewall which gave Kappa Alpha a margin of one point and won the contest 13 to 12.

Tuesday afternoon a large audience assembled to see the final contest between Kappa Alpha, winner of League A, and Chi Psi, winner of League B. The former team had a record of six games won and two lost, while the latter team was undefeated. The 14 to 13 victory of Kappa Alpha well illustrates the closeness of the game. Although Chi Psi held the lead throughout almost the entire two periods they were at all times very closely pressed, and at the close of the game the narrow margin of one point maintained for several minutes proved insufficient. There was little to choose between the two teams, each manifesting general good playing and team work, which occasionally degenerated under the excitement of the moment.

Camp opened the game by scoring a basket from the floor and the first foul made shortly after afforded Lyon the opportunity to score the first free-throw of the afternoon. Sewall retaliated with another successful goal from foul, but the Chi Psi team was not to be denied and rapidly piled up a lead, finishing the first half at the long end of a 7 to 4 score. Perry showed up particularly well, scoring two difficult baskets in succession.

The best playing of the contest was displayed by both teams in the second half, Kappa Alpha having a slight edge through the sterling work of its two guards, Irwin and Mills. Camp and Sewall each scored one goal apiece during this period, and two spectacular shots went to the credit of Dessau. For the Chi Psi five Doherty and Joslyn were the only men who succeeded in breaking away from their guards for goals from the floor. In free throws during the game, Lyon scored three out of twelve attempts, and Sewall two out of six. With only a few seconds to play in the second half Chi Psi led by one point, but Dessau caged a perfect goal from near the center of the floor, winning the game 14 to 13.

BISHOP IS TO PREACH

Ex-President of De Pauw Will Deliver Easter Sermon

Rev. Edwin Holt Hughes, D. D., since 1908 a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach the Easter sermon next Sunday morning in the Thompson Memorial Chapel. Dr. Hughes is a recognized authority on religious affairs and has written many valuable books on Christian life.

Dr. Hughes studied at West Virginia University and at Iowa College. He received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees at Ohio Wesleyan and continued his studies at Boston University where he was made a Bachelor of Sacred Theology, and at Syracuse University which honored him as Doctor of Sacred Theology. He was the recipient of the degree of D. D. from Ohio Wesleyan, and of LL. D. from DePauw. He was called to Malden, Mass., from Newton Center, Mass., his first pastorate. In 1903 he became president of DePauw University, and held this office until 1908 when he resigned to become Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bishop Hughes served as member of the Indiana State Board of Education, president of the State Teachers Association of Indiana, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred on religious activities at the Panama Exposition in 1915, and is now a trustee of the Carnegie Foundation. He is the author of Thanksgiving Sermons, The Teachings of Citizenship, A Boy's Religion, and The Bible and Life.

Owing to the inability of Bishop Hughes to remain in Williamstown, there will be no meeting of the Williams Christian Association next Sunday evening.

FACULTY ORGANIZATION WILL ADVOCATE HOOVER

New Non-Partisan Club Adopts Resolutions in Support of Food Administrator

Hoover's candidacy for President of the United States was unreservedly endorsed at a meeting of a number of faculty members last Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of forming a non-partisan organization. An executive committee was elected consisting of Professor Pratt, chairman, Professor Hardy, and Doctor Bell, and measures were taken to get in touch with other Hoover Clubs. The text of the resolution drawn up and signed by nearly 45 per cent of the faculty is as follows:

"We believe that our country is in special need of a leader and organizer, equipped for the position of President by native strength of mind and will and by knowledge gained from a wide personal experience with the varied social and economic groups of our citizens. We should be fortunate to have in the person of President a man familiar with labor and its problems. We need a man who knows Europe and the Far East and who is known by them—a practical cosmopolitan, who possesses the confidence of the great nations of the world. We need also a man who believes profoundly in a League of Nations which safeguards all reasonable American interests, whose ideas remain important elements in the conclusions of the Peace Conference, who believes that our own best development is dependent upon the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles, and the acceptance of a liberal policy in foreign relations.

Be it resolved, then, that we, the undersigned, independent of party affiliations, support the candidacy of Herbert Hoover for President. We believe in his comprehension of the new era and that, by reason of his ability as an organizer and administrator, he is preeminently fitted to lead the Nation during the next four years."

"DAYS OF EPH" WILL APPEAR NEXT MONDAY

SMOKER TO BE MUSICAL

Wit and Talent of Entire College Body Will Be Included in Clever Extravaganza

Representing the varied vagaries and freakish fantasies of a sagacious and satirical College Smoker Committee, "Days of Eph" will be ushered in with a crash of cymbals at 8.15 o'clock next Monday evening in Lasell Gymnasium. In answer to the passionate pleadings of a trantie Faculty, the Committee has prepared a thoroughly sterilized production so that the most squeamish and virtuous may take their moral code to the performance with no fear of bringing it away even slightly cracked.

As usual, mystery shrouds the ceremony. Weird forms in strange snaky and scanty costumes have been seen flitting fleetly in and out of the massive portals of Lasell Gymnasium, and rumors are rife that agile acrobats and fair females galore will caper and cavort before the wondering eyes of the assembled aggregation. Ably aided by artistic actors the clever Committee has created a stupendous spectacle voluptuous but chaste in every detail. Replete with superb songs, daring dances, and excellent exhibitions of strength and skill, it is calculated to arouse interest in the most blasé minds.

Taking the form of a musical comedy entitled "Days of Eph", the creation will consist of two tense acts divided into 12 scenes, each one in itself being well worth the price of admission. The lyrics are by Oppenheimer '20, and the music is the work of Banks '21, and W. D. Coleman and Luedek '22.

In speaking of the possible lack of potency of the production on account of its praiseworthy purity a member of the committee, while lamenting the enforced absence of spicy scenes, stated a firm belief that in spite of this hindering handicap the performance will be unusually attractive.

Through the kind efforts of Quinn and Manley, and Cabe Prindle, the P. Lorillard and Joseph Whitcomb Companies will furnish several thousand cigarettes and cigars as well as numerous tins of pipe tobacco. Besides these refreshments the audience will be allowed to perform gastronomic feats with doughnuts and ginger ale.

The dining car will be ready to serve dinner on leaving Williamstown. On returning, the special train of Pullman sleeping cars will leave New York at 1.00 a. m. on Thursday, April 15, New York time, which is 12.00 midnight by Massachusetts time, and will arrive in time for chapel the same morning. The New York Central officials declared that this was the latest the train could leave and still arrive in time for chapel. Special cars from Buffalo and Chicago will be coupled on to this train at Albany on Thursday morning.

SCHAUFFLER TO HEAD 1922 GULIELMENSIA

Five nominated for Basketball Manager—Richardson Sophomore Class Treasurer

Harry Klock Schaufler '22 of Washington, D. C., was elected chairman of the 1922 Gulielmensionian board last Thursday at a meeting of the newly elected sophomore board. Other members of the Editorial board, who were elected at a meeting of the Sophomore Class on Wednesday evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room, are as follows: Herbert Maxwell Brune, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., Jo Allison Humes, of Homer, La., Arthur Lewis Hurst, of Glen Ridge, N. J., and Douglas Hall Rose, 2nd, of Baltimore, Md.

Schauffler prepared for Williams at the Phillips-Andover Academy, Andover, Mass., where he was on the debating team for two years and was Class Orator. He was elected to the Editorial Board of the Record during his freshman year at Williams. He is the manager of the Sophomore debating team, a member of the varsity debating team, on the Handbook Board, and was recently elected to the Delta Sigma Rho Society. Schaufler is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The other members of the 1922 Gulielmensionian staff were elected as the result of competitions and are as follows: Business Manager, Arthur Vreeland Youngman, of Montclair, N. J.; Photographic Editor, Chapman Gardner Elliot, of New York City; Art Editors, William Huckel, Manhasset, L. I., and Lee Charles Jeffreys, of Greenwich, Conn.

William Rittenhouse Richardson '22, of Jersey City, N. J., was elected treasurer of the Sophomore Class at the meeting last Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall as J. M. Baker, the former treasurer has resigned from college. Richardson prepared for Williams at the Lincoln High School in Jersey City where he was editor of the Year Book and a member of the football team for two years. During his freshman year at Williams he was manager of his class basketball team. He was a member of the Sophomore Auxiliary Prom. Committee and this year swam on the varsity swimming team. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

At the same meeting five men from the Sophomore Class were nominated from the recommendations for assistant manager of basketball announced last week. These men in the order of their recommendations are as follows: Huckel, W. D. Coleman, W. Burger, Lyon, and Hahlo '22.

COLLEGE APPROVES NON-ATHLETIC TAX

NO HONOR SYSTEM CHANGE

Substitute Motion is Passed To Stop the Solicitation of Cuts from Monitors

Emphatically condemning the practice of soliciting extra cuts from Chapel monitors, the undergraduate body, meeting last Monday evening in Jesup Hall, passed a resolution requiring the monitors to report any offenders in the future to the Student Council which will refer the matter to the Dean for disciplinary action. At the same time a number of amendments to the constitution of the Non-Athletic Organizations were adopted.

Hawes '20, chairman of the Student council, opened the meeting by presenting several amendments affecting the non-athletic organizations. All the proposed changes were accepted by the college by a viva voce vote. The most important of these is the article providing for a non-athletic tax similar to the athletic-tax now in force. The proceeds will be apportioned for the use of the various organizations which are not self-supporting. The new tax will be levied on the basis of room rent and collected in a manner similar to the present levy. In this connection a budget for the year's expenditures must be presented by each organization for the approval of the Board of Governors, and subsequently to the Student Council.

Another important section fixes March as the final date for the presentation of the budgets. In case of delinquency, the offending organization will be warned and if necessary the financial manager removed.

Violent opposition was raised by the proposal to incorporate in the honor system a clause to prevent the solicitation of extra cuts from chapel monitors. After considerable discussion in which a number of men spoke on both sides of the question, Lasell '20, in opposition to the proposed "Honor System" amendment, introduced a separate motion condemning the custom of soliciting cuts. The Lasell resolution requires the monitors to report the name of any person attempting to obtain cuts, to the Student Council with the understanding that that body will take up the matter before the Dean with a view to taking proper disciplinary action against the offenders. Forfeiture of all Chapel cuts for the remainder of the semester will be the penalty.

After a short debate, which assumed in general a favorable character, the resolution was adopted by a large vote. As a formality, the proposed amendment to the honor system was voted down. The exact wording of the motion passed by the College body is as follows: "Resolved, that it be the sentiment of the College to condemn the solicitation of extra cuts from Chapel monitors and that all monitors shall be required to report any such solicitation to the Student Council, which shall refer the case to the Dean and recommend the forfeiture of the offender's cuts for the remainder of the semester, or that he be placed on probation."

Alumnus Passes 99th Birthday

Reverend Edward Lord '43, of Clifton Springs, N. Y., the oldest living alumnus of Williams College, celebrated his 99th birthday last Monday. In recognition of the occasion, President Garfield sent him the following telegram of congratulation: "Williams men recall with great interest that March 29 marks the beginning of your 99th year. On behalf of the Trustees, Faculty, students, and alumni I send you most cordial greetings and best wishes for your continued good health and happiness."

To the Faculty

It is with pleasure that we call the attention of the faculty to the appended communication from the chairman of the Smoker Committee. As he states, the objectionable features in Smokers of recent years have done much to prevent members of the faculty from attending those performances. This fact has always been deplored, and the determination of this year's Committee to rid the entertainment of obscenity is especially laudable, in that its intent is to restore the feeling of congeniality between professor and student, a feeling which can perhaps be better fostered at the College Smoker than at any other time.

The Solution Not Complete

Although the motion passed at the recent College meeting, making it necessary for monitors to report all solicitation of extra cuts, was evidently intended to solve completely the problem, we consider it deplorable that the undergraduate body was satisfied to rely on a half-way measure, when the proposed addition to the Honor System offered a more thorough remedy. However the plan which the College saw fit to adopt has in it the power to prevent all trouble in the future, provided that public opinion supports it. As long as sentiment is absolutely opposed to solicitation of cuts, monitors will not be troubled; but as soon as that sentiment lags, and the practice is no more frowned upon than it has been during the past year, the monitor is placed in a more embarrassing position than ever.

Public opinion has always been considered the most effective remedy for this as for all other undesirable situations. And it was only because it seemed impossible to arouse public opinion that the addition to the Honor System was proposed. Sentiment is aroused at the present time; if the same feeling can be maintained we shall have no more trouble. It is up to the men that adopted the present plan, then, to support that plan; and to see to it that future infractions are few and far between.

All members of the Freshman class wishing to enter the competition for second assistant stage manager and second assistant costume manager of Cap and Bells will report to Anderson '20 in Jesup Hall tomorrow afternoon at 3.45 o'clock.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record

Sir:—

The coming College Smoker, as it has been widely advertised is to be thoroughly purified and devoid of all obscenity. As a result it is the desire of all the members of the committee that the Faculty regard the event in the light in which it was originally started. In former times the Smoker was looked upon as one of the rare occasions when undergraduates and members of the Faculty could convene on an equal footing as Williams men. Due to the objectionable features in former performances this feeling gradually gave way to indifference and even opposition on the part of many of the Faculty. It is our wish this year to renew this feeling of good fellowship and, therefore, we, the committee, have, to our minds, eliminated all objectionable features. We heartily urge that as many members of the Faculty, as are possibly able to attend, will be present on Monday evening to enjoy what we hope will be a good entertainment and a renewed spirit in the tradition of College Smokers.

SQUAD ON COLE FIELD

First Outdoor Practice Held— Teams to Play Tomorrow

Holding its first outdoor practice last Wednesday on Cole Field the baseball nine is rounding into shape for the opening game of the season with R. P. I. on April 17. Nearly a month's work in the cage has removed the rough edges, and the squad is showing signs of fast development.

Manager Tiebout has announced that the Spring training trip will not be taken because enough games could not be arranged. Proposed contests with Lehigh, Seton Hall, New York State Agricultural College, and the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn, which were to have taken place during the vacation, had to be called off.

Coach Davis has arranged a practice game between two evenly matched teams the "Americans" and the "Nationals" which will be played next Saturday afternoon. Burrows, Holmes Dorsey, and R. W. Smith will comprise the battery for the former team, and Patton, McLean, R. C. Clark, and Stevenson for the latter. Captain Boynton will play short-stop for the Americans.

Following are the line-ups, which are subject to change:

AMERICANS		NATIONALS
Burrows	p.	p. Patton
Holmes	p.	p. McLean
Dorsey	p.	p. R. C. Clark

Preparation of the forthcoming performance of L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle occupied most of the meeting of the Cercle Francais last Tuesday evening in the Common Room of Currier Hall. The date of production has not yet been determined, but will be fixed shortly after the Spring recess. The cast of characters, as selected by Moore '20, chairman of the dramatic committee of the Cercle, is as follows: Eugene, an interpreter—A. H. Holt '20; Hogson, father of Betty—N. S. Bushnell '20; Julien Candel—E. T. Wheeler, '20; an inspector—G. C. Poncet '20; a bell-boy—C. G. Chaousoglou '20; Betty Hogson—J. H. Loizeaux '22; a cashier—J. W. Power '21. On account of the vacancy caused by the resignation of Blanchard '20, L. Moore '20 was elected vice-president of the organization.

HON. MARK SHELDON TALKS BEFORE FORUM

"AUSTRALIA" IS SUBJECT

High Commissioner Discusses Country's Finance System and Labor Conditions

Hon. Mark Sheldon, the Australian High Commissioner to the United States, spoke before the Forum last Monday evening in Jesup Hall on the subject of "Australia". Because of the comparative newness of the civilization of Australia there is a general lack on the part of Americans, as well as of others, of knowledge of the island country.

Commissioner Sheldon explained that his country was located partially within the tropics and emphasized the healthy climate conditions which prevail. Because of the nature of the Australian's occupation in the country districts there is a need for but a small number of workmen on the ranches. Grazing and agriculture are now the chief occupations of these districts, the former prevailing, while forty per cent of the population live in the cities. The speaker drew an interesting analogy between the American and Australian business man's chief topics of conversation, saying that in Australia the predominating topic is the amount of rainfall, while here the main subject of talk is the rise and fall of the stocks.

Another interesting point that was brought out was the fact that the English gained a foothold in Australia just one day in advance of the French. In 1843 responsible government was first introduced, and since that time the Australians have conducted their own affairs. Commissioner Sheldon explained that responsible government was the same as that known more familiarly as representative government. In 1900 the six states formed themselves under a federal constitution which was patterned largely after our own. The members of the cabinet and the president or the prime minister are all members of the Parliament, which consists of two houses, the Senate and the House of Representatives. The latter are chosen according to population and are elected by popular vote. In Australia there is universal suffrage, and it has worked with great success. In the House rests the real power of the government, the Senate acting as a higher and more conservative body, which passes on legislation initiated into the lower house. If the policy of the prime minister and the cabinet is not approved, or if it is placed under discussion, the minister and his cabinet resign. There have been about six changes caused from this fact in the last twenty years.

The budget system is used by the Australian government and has been found extremely satisfactory. It has been very accurate in estimating costs, the average error for years being 2 1-2%. The members of the judiciary, who are known in Australia as magistrates, are appointed for life, and Mr. Sheldon stated that there have been practically no cases where a Judge has proved to be lacking in integrity.

One of the most interesting features of the talk was the description of the universal system of training used in the schools. From the ages of 12 to 14 years boys are given each day a short period of physical training, in swimming and in the use of miniature rifles. From 14 to 18 each young man has to attend at least 40 drills per year. Boys in this class are known as senior cadets and undergo regular military instruction. The last class is one of more active service, and includes men to twenty-six years of age. The amount of work varies according to the branch of service, but about seventeen days of continuous service are spent in camp and field where the men received regular military instruction and are drilled in field maneuvers. Business men in Australia have found that this training given to young men fits them remarkably well for business life.

During the recent war there were about 360,000 Australians sent abroad and out of this number there were 60,000 deaths. Most of these men served from four to six years and the total number of casualties averaged nearly 300,000. Many of the men were in over 80 battles, and the country is caring for its incapacitated soldiers by means of a system of pensions.

In closing, Commissioner Sheldon spoke of the labor question. In 1890 there was a great strike in Australia, and at that time the labor unions failed to obtain their demands. They have done the proper thing and have carried their case before the people in the legislative bodies of the government. This method has gradually proved to be the best way out of the difficulty and now there are a number of men in the lower house representing the labor party, while there is but one in the Senate. This fact is of peculiar interest because it illustrates the way in which the Australian considers the question. The men in the lower house are there to represent the sentiment of the people and will initiate legislation in accord with this feeling. But the Senate is to act with the more conservative and tempering hand.

To Take Two on Business Staff

In the notice calling out freshman competitors for the office of second assistant business manager of the Record which appeared in the last issue, no mention was made that a second man would be taken on the board at the completion of the competition. The winner will be elected to the board as second assistant business manager and the second man as second assistant circulation manager. All freshmen desiring to enter the competition, who have not yet done so, are urged to report to Power '20 or R. P. Towne '21 at their first opportunity. Active work has not yet started.

Mt. Holyoke has taken a referendum on the league of Nations which showed twenty-five per cent of the students and fifty-six percent of the faculty to be in favor of the League as it stands, but many more desirous of reservations or amendments.

"Just Enough Turkish"

A Hippodrome audience may truly be called "representative" of the whole United States—so this day-after-day preference for Fatima is highly significant.

For one thing, it shows the broad sweep of Fatima's popularity.

But—more important—it indicates that men generally are growing more sensitive to the taste-effect of too much or too little Turkish tobacco in their cigarettes.

Fatima's "just enough Turkish" blend, in other words, is the one feature which sets it definitely apart from all other cigarettes—and which accounts for its leadership at so many famous places.

PLANS LAID TO BOOST CITY

Chamber of Commerce Plan to Develop City Industrially Through Advertising

The City of North Adams, one of New England's many thriving industrial centers, lies hidden in the famous Hoosac Valley of the renowned Berkshire Hills at the junction of the north and south branches of the Hoosac River. The 'Home of the Mohawk Trail', as it is called, has a population of over 25,000, and is served by two railways, the Boston & Maine, connecting east, west and north; and the Boston & Albany, connecting south with the New York Central Lines to New York. Electric trolley lines connect with all nearby towns. The city is noted, however, not only for its historical and scenic advantages, but also for the industrial opportunities offered by the great number of mills and factories which surround it. Huge looms turn out thousands of yards of cotton, woolen and worsted goods every day. North Adams also takes pride in its silk, leather and shoe industries, its two great print works, and other industrial activities embracing machinery and castings, rolls and roll covering, biscuits, crackers, and other products.

City Improvements

As a city, North Adams ranks among the first in its form of city government, its well equipped fire department, its system of pure, abundant water, its gas and electric service, its wholesale houses, its numerous churches, its Y. M. C. A. and its large and commodious hotels and garages for the accommodation of the thousands of tourists which annually pass over the Trail. Educationally, North Adams stands among the leading cities of the commonwealth, having a fine state normal school, a magnificent high school, equipped with all the modern conveniences including a large gymnasium and an auditorium capable of seating 1,100; splendid grade schools, a business college, and a Public Library of over 37,000 volumes.

The Chamber of Commerce

With a Chamber of Commerce having a membership of about 500 members, the city's business interests are in progressive hands; while its various clubs always have an open door and a cordial welcome for visitors from other cities. Under the able chairmanship of Mr. James E. Wall, the Chamber of Commerce is undertaking a campaign to advertise North Adams, to boost it as a business and industrial center, and to impress upon the mind of the public that North Adams, the 'Home of the Mohawk Trail'; North Adams, the 'Industrial City', stands ready to welcome the newcomer, whether he be traveler, business man or investor.

The Labor Question

The industrial boom during the war brought thousands of wage-earners to the Middle Atlantic States, notably to the ship-building and munition centers in New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland. Housing conditions in these sections were far from adequate to take care of the enormous influx of this laboring population. Hundreds of new houses were built, public service utilities increased their facilities twofold; a city became a metropolis almost over night.

Then peace came, and with it a shutting down of all these thriving industries so vital to the successful conduct of a war. Regardless of this wholesale shut-down, high wages received while the boom was in full sway, have enabled this laboring population to raise their standard of living considerably. As long as their surplus money lasts, they will continue to enjoy the fruits of their labors. The time is soon coming, however, when they will have to stop 'vacationing', and look for new jobs. The industries in those cities affected by the war boom are not able to absorb this over-supply of labor due to peace conditions. Consequently, labor must turn elsewhere for profitable employment.

To grow industrially, a city must first increase its population so as to have sufficient labor to offer the prospective manufacturer. The North Adams Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to meet both sides of this question of industrial growth by boosting North Adams not only as a mecca for the industrial investor but also as a residential city. Thus with unusual foresight and thought, the men behind this progressive movement are rendering a great and valuable service to North Adams; are sacrificing their time and efforts for the benefit of the community at large; and are looking forward towards the goal of "A Better To-morrow".

The Market Value of Brains

SENATOR Beveridge, who was once a salesman said "that being prepared is the secret of most successes". The market value of brains is success and most men achieve little because they attempt little.

There isn't any better way of being prepared and achieving success than by utilizing your greatest asset—Advertising. Did you ever stop to think that most of us wouldn't know who the president of the United States was if it wasn't for the printing press. Now, isn't it quite reasonable to suppose that if you alleviate the value of the printing press from your assets that you shouldn't be disappointed if people have never heard of your business?

Let us execute your next order for Printing as a trial order and we will substantiate our claim that our Printing is better, commands more attention and costs your less.

We have a department for Printing in all its different forms, and we have some mighty good suggestions that may be helpful to your business.

Would you care to talk them over?

The HOME of the MOHAWK TRAIL

FAMOUS MOHAWK TRAIL IS WELL NAMED

Word Mohawk Originated with the Algonquin Indians

The Mohawk Trail has been well-named. For several centuries it has been a by-way of travel between the mountains of western Massachusetts and the eastern valleys. Over this trail King Philip and his warriors glided; Colonel "Eph" Williams and his brave companions many times travelled the trail in defense of the people of the northwest outposts; citizen soldiers from the eastern towns hurried over the trail to the aid of Johnson at Lake George; Benedict Arnold galloped across it towards Ticonderoga; and loyal Massachusetts men dropped their tools, bade a hurried farewell, and set out over the trail to swell the little band with Stark at Bennington.

The present trail is at least the third roadway across the mountain. There was an old Indian path, then the stage road, and now the automobile road. The name of the trail is significant in that there was a time when the dwellers in the valleys to the east could regard the horizon of the western hills only with terror, for no man knew at what moment a band of dusky braves would appear for pillage and death.

It may be of interest to stop for a minute to see who these Mohawks were. Quoting the BOSTON SUNDAY HERALD:—"Mohawk is an Algonquin word, which no Iroquois, no Mohawk could pronounce. Their accepted name was Canienga, meaning "People of the Flint;" and from Canienga they were called Agniers by the French.

"As early as 1660, the English complained that the Mohawks were making depredations upon the Penobscots. Later they were as far east as French Acadia. In 1677 a band of 80 Mohawks robbed some Mohicans; and in 1680, the Massachusetts commissioners complained that they had killed 60 of their friendly Indians. In 1676, some 300 Mohawks fought and defeated a band of King Philip's men near Albany. The name "Mohawk" was held in awe by all the native Indian tribes.

"The famous chief, commonly called Joseph Bryant, whose sister was the Indian wife of Sir. William Johnson, the hero of Lake George, was sent to Dr. Whitlock's Indian School at Hanover—now Dartmouth—in 1761, and there learned to read and write."

"Massachusetts has created a spot of the greatest beauty, which is rich almost beyond telling in the finest traditions of four wars and the colonizing of the West, and round which clings some of the most beautiful sentiment of New England. In travelling over the 16 miles of the trail one can find the whole gamut of scenery, from the rugged crags of the Cold River to the sweeping view from Whitcomb summit, and the glorious challenge of Greylock from the western slope."

GOOD TO LOOK AT—

but still better to taste. . . . . Bread must look appetizing because nothing but quality ingredients are used in making it. . . . . Bread is one of the few articles of palate pleasing foods that are really wholesome. Let the children—or the grown-ups—satisfy their appetites for this crisp, pure, product from a spotlessly clean bake-shop.

MASSACHUSETTS FAMOUS AS AN INDUSTRIAL STATE

Cotton Prints, Woolens, Shoes,
Watches, Machinery, Paper
Most Important Products

In the NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE for March, we find the following statements regarding the extent of Massachusetts industries:—"Massachusetts occupies fifth place amongst the states in the product of its factories and in the taxes which it pays to the Federal government. In quantity no less than in value do the manufactures of Massachusetts amaze. A boot, a shoe, or a slipper for every human foot in the United States; more cotton goods than the whole world produced when John Adams was President; hosiery to cover 40,000 miles of feet and legs; and sufficient woolen goods to put a twenty foot bandage around the waist of Mother Earth, are but a few items in the long list of manufactured articles.

Textile Manufacturing

Massachusetts is famous for its textile manufactures. Think of twelve million flying spindles converting fibre into yarn and thread at the rate of fifty to sixty thousand revolutions per minute. If placed end to end, these spindles would extend from Montreal, Canada to Memphis, Tennessee. Then there are the looms, a quarter of a million of them, one out of every three in the United States being found in the Bay State. Of the textiles, cotton is first, some two billion yards of woven goods leaving the cotton looms each year. This means cloth flowing from machines at the rate of nearly eight miles per minute. It is sufficient goods to make a woven belt long enough to hitch the moon to the earth, and six feet wide. 115,000,000 square yards of woolens are produced a year; enough to make a blanket a mile wide and thirty-seven miles long. A thousand acres of shoes! Two out of every five Americans wearing Bay State shoes.

Machines That Almost Think

As shoe leather for 'uppers' comes into the factory, it has the irregular form of hides or skins. To calculate the area of one of these hides is a task for the keenest brain; but there is a master machine, through which the hides are fed like clothes through a clothes wringer, and which immediately registers on a disk the number of square feet in that particular hide. The machine is so delicate that it has to be adjusted to temperature every day.

In one of Massachusetts' greatest watch factories can be seen steel hair springs worth $49,000 a pound. Machinery seems almost too coarse for fashioning the intricate parts of an expensive timepiece; yet we see a machine turning out perfect screws, so small that 50,000 of them can be placed in a thimble.

Variety of Manufacture

There are many lines of manufacture in which Massachusetts is the nation's leader besides those already mentioned. The State makes seven-eighths of the nation's whips; more than two-fifths of its gum shoes, rubber boots, and linen goods; one-third of its leather belting, bicycles, and motorcycles; a fourth of its envelopes, fireworks, silverware, sporting goods, stationery, suspenders and garters; and in all these surpasses every other state.

PIONEER OF PRINT INDUSTRY

Windsor Print Works First Print Works Established in Western Massachusetts

This organization had inception in the early part of the nineteenth century and was the first print works to become established in Western Massachusetts, as well as one of the first in the country. When manufacturing pioneers were bringing their industries from the old countries, the founders of the Windsor Print Works came also to this side of the water. In 1829, in a small factory erected the year previous at North Adams, Mass., Caleb B. Turner, the Windsor pioneer, began the printing of cotton goods. Two years later he was joined by a partner, Walter Laffin. Messrs. Turner and Laffin immediately erected a brick building where they carried on an extensive business, printing cotton goods until the panic of 1837. The plant then remained idle until 1843, but was purchased in that year by James E. and Joseph Marshall, who repaired and rebuilt in part, then leasing for a term of years to Harvey Arnold and Jerome B. Jackson.

After a half century of progress the Windsor Print was incorporated January 15th, 1907, under Massachusetts laws with a capital stock of $1,000,000, and with officers as follows: Walton Ferguson, president; Charles M. Howard, vice-president; Alfred L. Ferguson, treasurer; P. J. Ashe, clerk; David A. Russell, general manager; Joseph Bennett, superintendent. The plant of the Windsor Company was taken over immediately and the work of improving and enlarging begun, so that at this writing (1920) the works covers nine acres, and consists of 22 brick and 4 frame buildings, with a floor space of 319,918 square feet. The company also owns (1920) about nine acres in the heart of North Adams, some fourteen tenements, and the Eagle Mill, a three-story brick mill, used for manufacturing until the company began to purchase its cloth from outside sources. The present Windsor Print Works is exceptionally well-equipped for bleaching, dyeing and printing. It operates 15 printing machines, and has a bleaching capacity of 35 tons of cloth daily. The equipment is capable of producing a wide range of fabrics. The napping of cotton flannel was first attempted in the U. S. A., here, and the finishing the finest and sheerest goods and percales in white and dyed ground effects. The product of the company has borne for many years the reputation of being distinctive. The present company adopted the name of "Windsor" for the reason of the reputation and popularity of its products, which for a long time had been sold under that trade brand.

Until within comparatively few years practically all print cloths, or calicos, as they were then called, ran 24 inches in width, and all the printing establishments were rigged only to handle these grades. The predecessors of the Windsor Print Works, however, were about the first to become aware of the demand for wider prints, and installed machinery for printing goods 36 inches in width. During the first year it turned out from 1,000 to 1,200 pieces in this construction. It later increased to a daily capacity of 3,000 pieces.

There are employed in all the departments about 700 skilled hands of long training in this exacting field. Much of the help is native, many being descendants of previous operatives. Mr. Russell, the general manager of the company since 1902, became connected with the Print Works in 1887 when he entered as a roll boy, subsequently advancing by stages of importance to the highest manufacturing position. The superintendent of the Works, Joseph Bennett, is a native of England, and a graduate of Owen's College, Manchester. He became identified with the establishment in 1896, becoming superintendent eleven years later. During his career he has been the recipient of many honors for his endeavors in color and textile processes.

The late Charles Marvin Howard directed the styling and merchandising of the products for nearly fifty years. Mr. Howard was conceded to be of rare ability and foremost in his field, and his death in 1918 was a loss, not only to the Company, but to the industry in general. He has been succeeded by his son Frederick T. Howard, who was closely associated with him for nearly twenty-five years.

The present officers are: (1920) President, Walton Ferguson; vice-president Frederick T. Howard; treasurer, Alfred L. Ferguson; clerk, P. J. Ashe; manager David A. Russell, superintendent, Joseph Bennett.

Lower Cost of Commodities

Public necessities require increased production.

Greater output alone will reduce commodity prices.

Increased production per unit means lower prices for clothing and foodstuffs.

Greater individual output tends to higher wages as well as lower cost of product.

It is a false doctrine to restrict production and create artificial scarcity of labor as a means of increasing wages.

Public, community, and personal interests are best served by adjusting production so as to afford the maximum regularity of employment consistent with efficient business methods

All parties should regard it a national obligation to obtain the greatest volume of output at the smallest cost, having due regard for the public welfare, contentment and future posterity.

THE ARNOLD PRINT WORKS

History of One of the City's Largest Cotton Print Industries

The Print Works of Harvey Arnold & Company was erected in 1862 and with the help of other prosperous and active concerns around this Print Works the city of North Adams has been built.

The firm was incorporated in 1876 as the Arnold Print Works and the plant has seen a steady growth since then while its reputation has spread around the world. Its products go all over the United States, to South America and to many other lands.

In a book published in Manchester, England in 1916 entitled "Dyeing in Germany and America" there is this account. "The Arnold Print Works at North Adams is the best print works in the country and its fine prints command a foreign market."

At the present time the Arnold Print Works employs 1300 people, many of them technically trained men and women, and often finishes more than 2,000,000 yards a week. Its pay roll is more than a $1,000,000 yearly.

The Arnold Print Works stands for all that is best in the Textile Art. A visitor is amazed at the variety of the product produced at the works, shirtings, draperies, voiles and many other kinds of cloth are printed and dyed. Cloth is napped and many different finishes are expertly given.

The quality of the work reflects the high grade of workmanship and management. A well equipped laboratory enables the latest discoveries of chemistry to be applied to the problems of the Textile Industry. Here the dyes are tested and at every step of bleaching, dyeing, printing and finishing the foreman have as their advisers expert analytical chemists.

The Arnold Print Works is also among the leaders in the textile industry in the thought which is given to the welfare of the workers.

The plant has the advantage of a central location in a medium-sized progressive city and all the services rendered by and to the community are easily available for its employees.

Because of this close relationship with the community there are many activities which do not need especially to be developed in connection with the works itself.

The Arnold Print has concentrated its industrial service upon the workers while at the plant, seeking to establish a real spirit of co-operation between employer and employees.

The Employment department in addition to employing the help and arranging for transfers and promotions often is able to straighten out difficulties which arise between the foremen and the workers.

The Employment Manager in co-operation with a committee of the employees publishes a monthly plant paper, "The Arnold Print." This paper, containing intimate plant gossip, pictures of the workers and stimulating articles, increases the good will and awakens the consciousness of common interests.

Bulletin Boards at the entrances and throughout the plant are kept supplied with easily readable material which will prove helpful and promote thought.

The Spirit of The Company

In all its service work the desire of the Arnold Print Works has been to avoid the paternal attitude. The company has not tried to do for its employees things that they had better do for themselves. It has sought healthful and agreeable conditions of labor, it has helped its employees to self-help; it has co-operated with them in developing activities which are for the good of all; it has had an especial interest in all civic movements which would benefit not only its own employees but those of neighboring industries.

Recognizing that its first concern must be the quality of the product and the efficiency of its methods of production in order that its 1,400 employees may have work and a living wage, the Arnold Print Works has realized also that the value of the industry of the future will be measured not alone by its material output but also by its human product, the character and well being of the workers.

Truth and Terms

In the interest of Truth and to avoid mistakes and misunderstanding, it is imperative that precise terms be used.

The term "all wool" has become a "mere" general term that includes shoddy.

More than two-thirds of the raw material used in manufacturing "all wool" woolen clothing is shoddy and not virgin wool as the public believes.

Virgin wool is the true term—a term that positively prevents mistakes.

Virgin wool can mean only fleece wool right from the sheep's back—wool that has never previously been spun and woven.

PLAY RECEIVES FINAL TOUCHES BEFORE TRIP

FARCE TO BE PRESENTED

"Stop Thief" Met with Great Success When First Given in New York in 1912

Having received its final touches, the Cap and Bells performance, Stop Thief, is ready for its first presentation of the Easter trip tomorrow evening in North Adams. The play, a farce which relies for its effect upon swift action rather than lines humorous in themselves, was acted at the Mid-Winter Houseparty and subsequently at Northampton with great success.

The play is a three-act farce by Carlyle Moore, and had its initial appearance on December 25, 1912 at the Gaiety Theatre in New York, where, with an all-star cast, it met with great success. At that time the part of Jack Doogan was played by Richard Bennett, who is now starring in New York in Eugene O'Neill's new play, Beyond the Horizon. Nell, the leading female part, was played by Mary Ryan, who now has an important role in the Broadway success The Sign on the Door. Frank Bacon, who plays the title role in Lightnin', which is now approaching its 700th performance, took the part of Richard Carr. James Cluney was played by Percy Ames, one of the best character actors on the American stage. Dr. Willoughby's part was taken by William H. Boyd, who has since developed into an admirable leading man. Ruth Chester, a remarkably fine exponent of quick dames and motherly characters, played the role of Mrs. Carr, and Vivian Martin, a very clever ingenue, prior to her advent as a star in the movies, played the part of Mrs. Carr's daughter, Joan Carr. The part of the Sergeant of Police was taken by Thomas Findlay, an excellent character actor with a long record of many important parts to his credit.

The play has been coached to its present success by Mr. Albert Lang, and it is through his efforts that the cast has been able to develop almost professional ability. He coached Twelfth Night and Green Stockings when they were given here some years ago, and he also coached Stop Thief to a huge success when it was played by the Cornell Masque.

The plot of the play is as follows: On the eve of the wedding of an absent-minded man's daughter to a youth who is troubled with fits of kleptomania, a new lady's maid is introduced into the house. The best-man knows that the groom is unconsciously addicted to taking things that do not belong to him. The wife knows that her husband has this same fault, and both are trying to keep the fact a secret. To add to the excitement, the lady's maid happens to be the advance agent for a gentleman thief named Doogan, the man whom she is to marry. He arrives after she has looked over the place and together they lay ingenious plans for relieving the house of a heavy burden of wedding presents.

Doogan finds his task an easy one. The young kleptomaniac believes Doogan to be the detective he has sent for and accuses him of having removed the valuables which are already beginning to disappear. The absent-minded parent hands Doogan his wallet and asks him to take it for safe keeping, while the other members of the family hasten to confide to him the whereabouts of their valuables. Just as Doogan and his sweetheart have taken about everything there is in the house in the way of valuables and are ready to make their escape, there enters an earnest capitalist who demands certain stocks that he has given to the absent-minded parent as collateral for a loan which he is now ready to pay. ## EUGENE DELANO '68 DIES

Noted Philanthropist Served Many Years as Trustee

Eugene Delano '66, trustee of Williams College since 1900, died last Friday morning at his residence in New York City at the age of 76. Mr. Delano was the senior member of the firm of Brown Bros. and Co., bankers, 59 Wall Street.

He was born in Utica, N. Y., and graduated from College with the class of 1866, later receiving the degree of M. A. He started his business career as a merchant and joined the banking firm of Brown Bros. and Co., in 1880. He was interested in many philanthropic causes, being Treasurer of the Grenfell Association of America and a trustee of many New York humanitarian movements. He was also President of the Musical Arts Society and Treasurer of the American Waldensian Aid Society. The performance given by the Flonzaley Quartet each year are among the many gifts made to the College by this generous alumnus.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME WITH R. P. I. POSTPONED

Americans Win First Outdoor Contest—Featured by Poor Playing—Squad Is Cut

Several changes in the baseball schedule were announced today by Manager Tiebout, and at the same time it was definitely stated that no Spring practice will be held in Williamstown during the Easter Recess. The game with R. P. I. which was scheduled for April 17 has been postponed to May 22, and the first contest of the year will be played here with Union on April 24 in place of the game with Holy Cross at Worcester which will take place there April 28.

21 men were retained after the second cut of the season. They are: Burrows, Field and Mason '20; Boynton, Burger, Dorsey, Finn, Howland, McLean, Noble, and Patton '21; Beckett, Nichols, and R. W. Smith '22; and Boynton, Clarke, Holmes, Hoyt, Monjo, Richmond, Stevenson, and Ward '23.

Six pitchers worked out in the first outdoor game at Cole Field last Saturday afternoon, each one playing three innings. The "Americans" won by a 10-8 score, in a game which was marked by poor fielding and ragged playing. No changes have been made in the line-ups of the two teams as yet. Finn is the only

PLAN NOTABLE CEREMONY

To Hold Celebration on June 20—To Unveil Memorial Tablets in Chapel

In order to make the transfer of the remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams a significant and memorable occasion, the Trustees of the College have planned a ceremony which will be held at 2.00 o'clock, Sunday, June 20, in the Thompson Memorial Chapel and in which alumni, undergraduates, and faculty will unite in paying respect to the Founder. At this time will occur the unveiling of the tablets in the chancel which bear the names of the Founder and the Williams men who gave their lives for their country in both the Civil War and the recent World War. As a result of this action Williams will be the only college in the country to have the remains of its founder buried on the campus.

At their last meeting the Trustee appointed from their number Solomon B. Griffith '72, Franklin H. Mills '92, and Clark Williams '92, to act as a committee in charge of inviting and receiving distinguished guests to represent the Army and Navy, and the arranging through Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts for military escort and a caisson, together with the general direction of the ceremonies. This committee has invited the following committees to co-operate with it in the discharging of its duties: Committee of the Faculty—Professors Carroll Lewis Maxcy '87, Karl E. Weston '96, and Brainerd Mears '03, whose duties will be the wording, engraving and issuing of invitations to the families of the dead and to other invited guests; the arrangement, preparation and printing of the program of ceremonies within the chapel; the drawing up of arrangements in the chapel, including seating, ushers, music, order of exercises, and such details; and the organizing of the marching unit of Faculty: Committee of Alumni—Herbert F. Roy '97, and Josiah M. Lasell who will arrange for the raising of the remains of the Founder from their present

CONSTITUTION ALTERED

Outing Club Adopts Dartmouth Code—Plans Spring Trip

Changes in the constitution of the Outing Club were effected at a meeting of the Club officers last Friday evening. The new constitution is based almost entirely on that of the Dartmouth Outing Club, with only such modifications as conditions at Williams necessitate.

Plans were laid for the increased activity of the Club during the Spring For the Purpose of marking out trails and of constructing several cabins on the neighboring mountains, a trail committee and a cabin committee were appointed, the former consisting of Moore '20, Hyndman '21, and Learned '22, and the latter of Townsend '19, Reinhardt '20, and Bullock '21. The possibility of an extended trip to the Adirondacks or to the vicinity of Rutland, Vt., was discussed, but no definite decision was reached.

For the purpose of obtaining a seal for letter heads, reports, and booklets, a contest will be held from April 6 to 21 inclusive, in which tentative designs will be considered by the officers of the Club. A cash prize of five dollars will be awarded to the winner. Further particulars may be obtained from Brucker '21.

HALL '21 CHOSEN TO HEAD ADELPHIC UNION

Coan '21 Elected Vice-President—New Constitution Will Be Drawn Up

Reorganization of the Adelphe Union was effected last Friday evening at a meeting of men who have participated in this year's triangular debates. A committee of three was appointed to draw up a constitution, and it was decided that only speakers and alternates of varsity debating teams, together with the manager and assistant manager of debating, would be eligible for membership in the Union.

Cameron Parker Hall, 1921 of New York City, was elected president for the coming year, and Howard Radcliffe Coan, 1921, of Minneapolis, Minn., was chosen vice-president. It was decided to elect the manager each year to the position of secretary-treasurer of the organization as he is in direct charge of all debating activities. Webster Atwell, 1921, of Dallas, Texas, manager of this year's debating teams, will hold the position of secretary-treasurer until the manager for next year is chosen. The constitutional committee appointed by the president consists of the following: Goodman '20, chairman, Coan '21, and Zales '22.

CAP AND BELLS WILL PLAY IN SIX CITIES

FIRST TRIP SINCE 1917

Itinerary Includes Worcester, Brookline, Fall River, New York, and East Orange

Six cities will comprise the itinerary of the New England and New York trip to be taken by Cap and Bells during the Easter vacation, the first performance being in North Adams, Mass., on April and the final one in East Orange, N. J., on April 13. This will be the first vacation trip taken by the dramatic organization since the spring of 1917 when "Green Stockings" was presented on an extended tour and met with marked success.

Drury Auditorium in North Adams will be the scene of the first performance which will be given at 8.00 p. m., Wednesday, April 7. The entire proceeds will be devoted to local charities. Tickets are already on sale and will also admit holders to the dance which will follow.

OLMSTED '20, PRESIDENT

Leaving North Adams Thursday at 12.55 p. m., the cast will proceed to Worcester, Mass., arriving at 5.01 p. m., the same afternoon. A special parlor car will carry the members of the organization throughout the trip. In Worcester a buffet dinner will be served at the theatre, Tuckerman Hall, where the performance will be presented that evening. At the dance later, the College orchestra will furnish music as at the other tea and evening dances during the trip. Chester D. Heywood '11 is in charge of preliminary arrangements.

Friday, April 9, the cast will take the 10.35 a. m. train for Boston arriving there at 11.40 a. m. A tea dance will be given that afternoon in honor of Cap and Bells by the Boston alumni and their wives. Whitney Hall, at Coolidge Corner, Brookline, Mass., is to be used for the play in the evening and for the dance following which has been arranged by Charles M. Davenport '09, the alumnus in charge of the performance.

The cast will leave Boston at 10.20 a. m. Saturday and arrive in Fall River, Mass., at 12.11 p. m. A luncheon will be given at 1.00 p. m. by resident alumni, and it will be followed by a tea dance in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. John S. Brayton, "Stop Thief" will be presented that evening as a benefit performance for the Union Hospital in Fall River. Arrangements for the performance in the Music Hall are in the hands of John S. Brayton, Jr., '18.

From Fall River, Cap and Bells will proceed to New York City arriving Sunday afternoon at 4.36 p. m., New stocks, when a search for them is made, have disappeared. Even the capitalist's ready money disappears and, threatening vengeance on everybody, he departs at once for a search warrant.

Presently the Sergeant enters with the warrant, accompanied by four uniformed policemen. The document is stolen and carefully deposited in the absent-minded man's pocket, while in its place the Sergeant reads an inventory of household articles, including telephones, ice-boxes, and door knobs. Then follows still more exciting and laughable scenes wherein the officer, waiting for another warrant to appear, holds the household in durance, while Doogan and the maid, Nell, are using every means to escape.

The kleptomaniac is trying to evade the consequences of his innocent depredations and the wife is trying to find out what her absent-minded husband has concealed, and its whereabouts. To the surprise of all, part of the money is eventually found in the possession of the innocent minister. In conclusion, Doogan holds up the whole party, and he and Nell escape, only to return again to receive forgiveness.

The play is essentially a farce of swift action, with a wealth of quick-fire dialogue and climatic surprises. A conservative critic on an equally conservative paper spoke of a recent performance as follows: "Stop Thief" was a huge success. Everyone remarked about the absolutely professional manner in which the play went off, and I can heartily endorse Cap and Bells' effort as a genuine hit that would put to the blush a number of New York productions'."

"Days of Eph", the widely heralded production of the College Smoker Committee, will be given tonight at 8.15 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. By all indications this most highly sterilized and sanitary representation will be one of the most popular in years.

location at Lake George, their removal to Williamstown on the 20th of June, and their delivery to the military escort outside the town. In this work they will be assisted by representatives from the Committees of the Trustees, Faculty and Undergraduates. They shall also have the management of organizing the marching unit of Alumni. The third committee, that of the undergraduates, composed of Becket, Mills '20, and Bullock '21 is to co-operate with the Committee of Alumni in the removal of the remains of the Founder, aid the Marshalls, handle the colors and standards, and organize the marching unit of undergraduates, co-operating with the Marshalls in the last two duties assigned to them. The Marshalls, Col. Archibald Hopkins '62, and Col. Charles W. Whittlesey '05, will have charge of the organizing of the procession and arrangement of the column in proper order, leading it to the chapel from the point of entrance of the remains of the Founder into Williamstown, arranging for the transfer of the remains the caisson to the place at the head of the from center aisle in the chapel and their lowering at the proper time into the vault below, and for the placing of the colors and standards on the unveiling of the memorial tablets. This committee will co-operate with the Committee of the Faculty in the last two duties assigned above. The Chaplains will be the Rev. Dr. John S. Zelig '87, and the Rev. John N. Lewis '89, the former to make the ceremonial address appropriate to the occasion, and the latter to conduct the religious ceremonies, both co-operating with the Committee of the Faculty as to the program to be followed in the chapel.

As to the ceremonies, representatives of these committees will have charge of the raising of the remains of the Founder, which now lie in the plot at the foot of Lake George owned by the College, and their transportation to the environs of Williamstown, there to be transferred to an army caisson draped with the colors and escorted to the village limits by a company of Massachusetts troops. There they are to be met by the procession of invited guests, trustees, faculty, undergraduates and alumni and escorted to the Thompson Memorial Chapel. This procession will be under the command of the two marshalls, one representing the spirit of the Civil War, the other the spirit of the World War.

At the present time a vault is being constructed from the bedrock beneath the chapel. It is proposed at the ceremony to lower the remains through the pavement of the chapel into this vault and to place in the floor of the chapel the stone, which will bear an appropriate inscription in bronze letters, set flush with the surface of the stone.

At this time also there will be an appropriate service in the unveiling of the tablets, which are the rear walls of the chancel and on which will be engraved the names of the dead. The colors, up to that time carried at the head of the procession, will then be placed in their final receptacles beside these tablets. During the ceremony there will be appropriate music which will be concluded by taps.

To Continue Ticket Sale

Tickets for the New York special trains will be on sale at the managers' office in Jesup Hall today from 12.00 to 2.00 and 5.00 to 6.00 and tomorrow from 1.15 to 2.30 and 5.00 to 6.00. All tickets must be obtained at this time. As previously announced, the train will leave Williamstown at 4.15 p. m. Wednesday, arriving in Troy at 5.20 p. m. and in New York at 10.15 p. m., New York time, which is 9.15 p. m. by Massachusetts time. Returning on Thursday, April 15, the train of Pullman sleeping cars will leave New York at 1.00 a. m. New York time, or 12.00 midnight by standard time, arriving in Williamstown in time for chapel.

Vol. 34 April 5, 1920 No. 5

With this issue the RECORD suspends publication over the spring recess. The next issue will appear on Friday, April 16.

At a meeting of the RECORD board last Saturday afternoon, Henry Sherwin Prescott of Cleveland, Ohio was elected to the position of second assistant Distribution Manager.

The sincere thanks of the College are due the Trustees for their very laudable action in arranging for the transfer, with appropriate ceremony and services, of the remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams from their present resting place at Lake George to the Thompson Memorial Chapel. That Williams will then become the first college in the country to have the bones of its founder interred on the campus is a fact of which we may justly be proud.

In the death of Mr. Eugene Delano, a loyal alumnus and trustee for many years, Williams has suffered an irreparable loss. It would be futile to attempt to express in words the extent of his generosity and of his great services to the College: nor can his place ever be filled in the various lines of philanthropic endeavor in which he had long interested himself. All Williams men unite in extending the deepest sympathy to his bereaved family.

A Vacation Responsibility

That Williams men are proud of their alma mater is a premise that can safely be assumed without proof; but whether Williams men take advantage of their opportunities to assert this pride in a manner that will react to the College's benefit is another matter.

Williams has never pursued the policy of public advertising, for it has never been necessary to employ such an unfortunate method to attract desirable freshmen. But Williams, like all colleges, does need desirable publicity. To rest assured that we shall continue to draw good men without efforts on our part would be fatal. Self-satisfaction always produces stagnation, and stagnation leads to decay.

Now the approaching vacation offers an opportunity for such desirable publicity. Especially at this time of the year, prospective freshmen are considering the problem of "which College?", and many of them are bound to come in contact with Williams men. It is the duty of the latter at such times to refrain from destructive criticism, and to leave with the sub-freshmen favorable impressions. It is unnecessary to howl cheers in the public squares. But the work of drawing men to Williams must be carried on by exhibiting enthusiastic pride and loyalty whenever the subject of colleges is broached.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To The Editor of the RECORD:

Sir:—

As a Williams man teaching in Princeton University I take especial pride and pleasure in the following expression of personal preference by members of the Senior Class:

Favorite man's College:—Yale 43, Williams 33, Harvard 31, Dartmouth 23, La Salle Extension University 2, Univ. of Penn. 7, University of Va. 1, West Point 1.

That Princeton men should place Williams as their second choice above Harvard and Dartmouth is certainly of very great significance. It is true that there is much in common between Princeton and Williams. When I came here seven years ago I sensed an atmosphere that very much reminded me of Williams, a similar outlook, and attitude towards the things that count.

Sincerely yours,
Philip Marshall Brown '98

To The Editor of the RECORD

Sir:—

A call to be issued within a few days for candidates for the Gun Club team offers an opportunity and a duty. The opportunity consists in the presentation to every man in college of a chance to indulge in the great sport of shooting and for the men who have been in the military service to continue their practice with the gun and enjoy the pleasure of shooting which they had learned in their period of service. The duty involved is that of giving your best to make this addition to the important branches of sport in which our college is represented a worthy representative of the college and its prestige in other lines. Every man who loves a gun, who enjoys shooting or thinks he would enjoy shooting should make it a point to be present when the squad is called out to help support this organization and to see to it that we are fittingly represented in the intercollegiate matches that are planned for the coming spring.

In the first place opportunity will be offered for every man to learn to shoot and to enjoy shooting whether he is picked to represent the college on its gun team later or not. Novelty shoots, beginners' shoots and interclass matches will be arranged to add interest and competition to the regular shoots. Arrangements are being made to present trophies for the individual winners and in the case of the interclass shoot for the class which captures the event.

Intercollegiate trapshooting has been in vogue for about a decade now and has proved to be a popular sport. When it is considered that trapshooting has probably more actual participants than any other sport with the exception of baseball—for there are estimated to be over 200,000 trapshooters in this country—it can be realized that this is no mean sport for us to be represented in. Intercollegiate matches are to be arranged together with an intercollegiate meet to follow the dual matches of the season. The plans call for the formation of an intercollegiate trapshooting association to have charge of this meet. Plans are also being arranged by which it is hoped to have a fine silver cup offered for the winner

Utilizing Nature's Power

ELECTRICAL energy generated by water power has grown to be one of our greatest natural resources—and we have only begun to reach its possibilities. It mines and refines our ores, turns the wheels of industry, drives our street cars and lights our cities and towns. The power obtained from Nature saves many million tons of coal every year.

At first the field of its utilization was limited by the distance electricity could be transported. But soon research and engineering skill pointed the way to larger and better electrical apparatus necessary for high-voltage transmission. Then ingenious devices were invented to insure protection against lightning, short-circuits, etc., which cause damage and interrupt the service. And now all over the country a network of wires begins to appear, carrying the magic power.

The General Electric Company, with its many years' experience, has played a great part in hydro-electric development. By successfully co-ordinating the inventive genius of the company and its engineering and manufacturing abilities, it has accomplished some of the greatest achievements in the production and application of electrical energy.

The old mill wheel of yesterday has gone. Today the forces of immense volumes of water are harnessed and sent miles away to supply the needs of industry and business and the comforts of the home.

of the intercollegiate each year, this cup to become the possession of that college which finally wins it three times.
Every effort will be made to inaugurate the sport on a firmer footing both here and at the other colleges which are being interested in the new intercollegiate league than has been the case in the past although it has been strongly intrenched already at some of the colleges. Keener competition than ever before is expected so it behooves us to see to it that the word is spread around and that no stone is left unturned to make our own gun club a credit to the college and to its members.

Middlebury Receives Bequest
A gift of $65,000 by A. Barton Hepburn of New York City to Middlebury College for the promotion of major athletics, was announced a few days ago. The income from the funds is to be expended on the advice of a committee of alumni and students. In a letter explaining his gift, Mr. Hepburn said: "By major athletics I mean football and baseball. Football as it is now played, did not exist at the time I was at Middlebury. Other games may succeed baseball and football as time goes on. This fund being for all time, I desire to grant to its administration sufficient discretionary leeway and best to carry out my idea of appealing to the athletic instincts of young men. I have always had great respect for the old Roman adage of a sound body and sound mind. I believe in physical culture and particularly believe in successful athletics."

EIGHT IN LEADING ROLES

Lack of Dramatic Experience Slight Handicap to Work of Commendable Cast

Although none of the actors in "Stop Thief" have had dramatic experience at College previous to the present season, the work of the cast has been exceptionally well received in the two performances already given. The following are short write-ups of the eight men playing the leading roles.

Alfred Hubbard Holt, 1920, of Oconto, Wis., prepared for Williams at the Taft School which he represented on the debating team and mandolin club. For three years he was a member of the dramatic club, being vice-president in his senior year, and was also a member of the Oracle board. During his sophomore year at Williams, he was on the 1920 debating team. He is now a member of the Honor System Committee, the Literary Monthly board, and is secretary-treasurer of the Cercle Francais. In addition, he has played for three years on the Mandolin Club. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society.

Webster Atwell, 1921, of Dallas, Texas, received his secondary education at the Terrill School. There he was a member of the football and the debating teams and a winner of the school declamation contest. In his freshman year at Williams he won the Freshman Declamation Contest, and last year he was one of the winners of the Moonlight Speaking Prizes. He is a member of the debating team and belongs to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

John Whittlesey Power, 1921 of Pittsfield, Mass., attended the Pittsfield High School, where he was a director of the athletic association and a member of the debating team. He was also on the school paper and as associate editor of the year-book. He entered Williams in the fall of 1918 and was elected assistant swimming manager in his sophomore year. Power is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

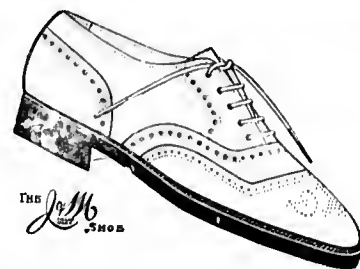

Arthur Louis Thexton, 1921, of Oak Park, Ill., received his secondary education at the Oak Park High School, where he was a active as a member of the dramatic society. He represented the school on the football and debating teams and was an editor of the school newspaper. On entering Williams he played on freshman football squad. He is a member of the 1921 Guelphian board, the Press Club, and is editor-in-chief of the Record. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Warren Cook Clark, 1922, of Springfield, Mass., attended the Central High School in preparation for College. He was a member of the school football team during his senior year, and also manager of the year-book. Last fall he played on his class football team. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Hervey Crampton Lawder, 1922, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., prepared for College at the Mt. Vernon High School, where he played on the school baseball team, was manager of the football team, and president of his class during his junior year. He was also business manager of the Annual, the class book, and president of the student body during his senior year.

He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

BURGER CHOSEN TO MANAGE BASKETBALL

MAJORITY IS ONLY 11

Winning Candidate Elected on Fourth Ballot College Polls 335 Votes

William Chapman Burger, 1922, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected assistant manager of basketball as a result of the balloting of the College body on Tuesday, April 6. Of the 335 votes cast, Burger received 173 and was elected on the fourth ballot by a majority of 11 over the next candidate.

VARSITY HALFBACK CHOSEN 1922 BASKETBALL MANAGER

William Chapman Burger

Burger prepared for Williams at the Choate School where he was active in athletics. During his senior year he played half back on the school football team and was also a member of the base ball team. He entered College in the fall of 1918, serving in the S. A. T. C. As a freshman he played on the 1922 class baseball team. During the football season last fall, he played regularly at half back on the varsity football team. He also captained the sophomore class eleven. Burger was on the sophomore auxiliary Prom. committee and is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The voting at the basketball management election was slightly heavier this year than last but the majority of the winner was only about half as great. The margin also falls well below the figures of former years. The winning majorities during the last few years have been 17, 30, 15 and 13.

April "Cow" To Appear Soon

Vanity Fair will be parodied in the April issue of the Purple Cow, which will appear within the next ten days. One of the features of the issue will be an article entitled "Slime" ouse Nig" ts," by Oppenheimer '20. Other literary features are by Hyndman, Moody '21, and Britton '23. The cover is a parody on the latest of Vanity Fair's unusual pictures. Photographs of various feminine beauties of the classic school of dancing will be unusual and of high artistic value. The principal art work has been done by Wasson '21 and Britton and Hurley '23.

DR. OLDHAM TO PREACH

Luther Fowle '08 to Address W. C. A. on Near East

Chapel services next Sunday morning will be conducted by the Rev. George Ashton Oldham, rector of St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Oldham is a graduate of Cornell University and of General Theological Seminary. Before taking up his pastorate at St. Ann's Church, he was rector of St. Luke's Church in New York, and assistant to Dr. Huntington at Grace Church and to Dr. Stires at St. Thomas' Church, both in the same city.

Mr. Luther R. Fowle '08 will address the W. C. A. meeting at 7.30 o'clock on the situation in the Near East. He is spending a year in the United States on behalf of Roberts College, Constantinople, where he is a teacher, and in aid of the Near East Relief Fund. During the war Mr. Fowle organized and managed a branch of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Commission, over $3,000,000 passing through his hands. His many experiences in this work have given him a thorough knowledge of conditions in that little understood section of the world.

BALL SQUAD RETURNS TO PRACTICE IN CAGE

Richmond '23 Only Member Not Eligible Finn and Burger '21 Back After Illness

Although Coach Fay's had not returned yesterday, baseball practice was again resumed under the direction of Captain Boynton. The entire squad of twenty-five men reported and the practice was conducted in the cage on account of the cold wave and the fact that at Weston Field is still submerged in water and mud. Batting and light fielding practice took up the greater part of the afternoon in order that the men might loosen up their muscles after the recess.

All the men, with the exception of Richmond '23 will be eligible for the season which opens a week from today with Union as the first opponent. An effort will be made to restore Richmond to the eligible list if possible, as he has been slowing up well in practice. Finn '21, veteran catcher of the team for the last two years, has joined the squad having recovered from his illness which kept him out of the game before the recess. Burger '21 has also returned to college and will undoubtedly be stationed at third base where he played two years ago. Ward '23 is considered as the best find of the season thus far. He has been transferred to the outfield and is playing a better game there than he did in the infield. Holmes '23 is performing the best work in the box from among the freshman members of the squad while all the other varsity pitchers are showing their old-time form. The entire squad is composed of heavy hitters and this will probably prove to be a great factor throughout the season.

Practice will continue to be held at 3.30 p. m. daily, either on Cole Field or in the cage according to weather conditions. With a few days of favorable weather Weston Field will recover from its usual Spring condition and the squad will then take up practice there.

To Discuss Rushing Agreement

Two questions of imminent importance will be discussed and, if possible, definitely settled at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council at 7.30 o'clock next Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. Changes in the present interfraternity rushing system will be considered, relating particularly to the advisability of deferring rushing week to a later date than this year's. The second topic of discussion will be the proposed rule requiring regular eligibility of freshmen before they may be initiated.

COMBINED COLLEGE SMOKER SCORES HIT

MUSIC FEATURES PROGRAM

"Days of Eph" Delights Entire College Pollard, Foster and Frazier Star

True to the advance statement of the Smoker Committee, the musical extravaganza, "Days of Eph", which was staged in Lasell Gymnasium at 8.15 o'clock Monday evening, April 5, was noticeably free from the objectionable vulgarity which has been the rule in past years, and replete with witty scenes and tuneful melodies. Special credit for the success of the production is due the College Smoker Committee and to Foster and Pollard '20 and Frazier '21, who played the principal roles.

In the first scene, Colonel Ephraim Williams, played by Pollard '20 deplored the departure of the "good old days" to his trusty Frenchman Brief, played by Frazier '21, and Frazier, assisted by the "Floradora Sextet", composed of Carson '20, Belcher and J. Power '21, Loizeaux and Richardson '22, and Baxter '23, sang the opening song and bit of the evening, "Days of Eph", written by Luedcke '22. In the second scene Chapman, Harder, and Lewis '22 and S. Richmond '23 sang "Ragtime Chapel Chimes" also written by Luedcke, as an introduction to the third scene which took place in chapel.

Prof. Liquorman, the misshapen, played by Foster '20, conducted the services in the chapel scene from the Sears Roebuck catalogue. He was ably assisted by Sunga Psalter, the organist, played by W. D. Coleman '22, and Rector Morals, the jaundiced junior, played by Gay '21. The male quartet, clad in full fire brigade uniforms, acted as the choir, the congregation joining in singing the closing hymn, "There's a Still Upon the Mountain".

In Scene IV, which was laid on Sting Street, Eph and Brief encountered cycling Carl Smith, played by Foster '20, who

To Vote on Chapel Question

Under the direction of the RECORD, a poll will be held next Wednesday on the three questions appended below. Ballots will be distributed among the various eating houses on Wednesday, and the results of the voting will be published in next Friday's issue of the RECORD.

2. Do you favor the continuance of the compulsory chapel service with an increased number of cents? If so, how many do you consider should be allowed?
3. Do you favor a change in the hour of holding the chapel service? If so, at what time do you think it should be held?

MANY TRACK LETTER MEN BACK THIS YEAR

Prospects for Season for 1920 Favorable Weston Field Ready for Practice

Track practice was held on Weston Field yesterday afternoon for the first time this year, although the high jumpers were outside several days before vacation. The track is rapidly being put into condition and a large squad is now reporting every afternoon at 1.00, but more candidates are still desired, especially in the hurdles and high jump.

Prospects for the season seem bright as all but two of last year's team, Capt. Stewart '19 and R. Harden '20 are back. The distances are well taken care of by Capt. Brown, Conn. and Crofts. In the dashes Kieser, Olson, and Parker are letter men; the broad and high jumps will be taken care of by Keiser and Anderson respectively. Mills is the only letter man in the weights and P. Brown in the pole vault. In the hurdles there are two "W" men, Wickwire and P. Phillips.

McWhorter and Richmond '22 proved themselves to be versatile point winners in the Lehman Meet and both made the trip to Albany a few weeks ago for the Medley Relay. McWhorter also won the 60-year dash at this meet from a large field. In addition to these men some of the freshmen are showing up very well.

Buffalo Alumni Hold Banquet

Carson '20 and Vroman '22 were undergraduate speakers at a banquet of the Williams College Alumni Association of Buffalo, N. Y., held last Saturday evening in the Ellicott Club in that city. The Association decided to award a trophy to the high school in Buffalo gaining the largest number of points in athletics during any school year. The assignment of points and the awarding of the prize is to be left to the discretion of an alumni committee appointed for the purpose. It was also voted that a meeting be held every month and a banquet every other month at the Ellicott Club, which has been selected as the Association's headquarters.

Seniors to Meet Tuesday

Members of 1920 will elect a class baseball manager and class singing leader at a meeting of the senior class at 7.45 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. At the same time the question of the class tax and the commencement exercises will be discussed.

ENTHUSIASM AROUSED OVER CAP AND BELLS

"Stop Thief" Encounters Large and Appreciative Audiences in Six Eastern Cities

FIRST TRIP SINCE 1917

College Orchestra Accompanies Dramatic Club Furnishing Music at All Dances

Large and enthusiastic audiences comprising a total of more than 3000 people greeted Cap and Bells' production of "Stop Thief" on its Easter trip through six cities of New England and the East. Alumni organizations at the various stopping points rendered valuable support without which the success of the trip would have been impossible, and individual alumni proved very hospitable in throwing open their homes to the various members of the cast.

Comment of the daily papers and of critics of the cities in which performances were held was highly favorable to the dramatic organization and the best opinions expressed agreed in calling the present performance of "Stop Thief" the finest fare production ever attempted by Cap and Bells. H. C. Lawder '22 with only two weeks preparation for his part in the leading role proved very effective and divided honors with Holt '20 as the favorite man of the cast. The latter's eccentric role was slightly toned down and presented with a decided finish in execution. Among the feminine portrayals of the cast, Rose '22 and Trexton '21 were decided successes. Power '21 appeared to advantage in a couple of brief but dramatic love scenes.

The New York Sun briefly sums up the opinions expressed by the various newspapers in the following comments on the performance in New York: "Cap and Bells, the Williams College Dramatic Club, on their spring tour stopped for long enough to give a lively and robust performance of 'Stop Thief' at the Moore's popular play of a few seasons ago, before an appreciative audience in the ball room of the Hotel Astor last night. The principal parts were capably played by A. L. Trexton '21, E. T. Wheeler '20, D. H. Rose, 2nd, '22, A. H. Holt '20, and H. C. Lawder '22.

"The production was staged under the direction of Albert Lang and moved with the requisite spirit for a melodramatic farce. . . . The officers who did much to insure the success of the evening were M. B. Olmsted '20, president of the club; C. H. Kimberley '20, manager; S. W. Anderson '20, stage manager; and Stuart Peabody '15, local manager. . . ."

Particular praise was accorded the first performance of the trip by The North Adams Transcript, as follows: "The members of Williams dramatic clubs of the past have presented many notable successes and their work on all occasions has been highly pleasing, but of all their productions none has ever met with more favor and given a more pleasing entertainment than did the offering of last evening. . . . The work done by the members of the cast was of a very high order and each one of the young men gave a clever portrayal of the characters assigned to them."

Special credit was given throughout to the College orchestra which accompanied the play on the trip and furnished the dance music at each entertainment preceding or following the performance. In every instance the music furnished proved better than any which might have been provided by any local orchestra which could have been secured for the occasion.

The Chapel Question

In the news columns there appears the announcement of a straw vote to be taken by the RECORD on the chapel question. We print in this number a communication voicing one opinion. We are purposely delaying the vote until next Wednesday in order that Monday's issue may carry more communications, from both undergraduates and faculty, presenting other views. In this way all arguments, pro and con, may be fairly presented to the voter.

Service Well Rendered

Cap and Bells is to be congratulated on its recent trip. Through the efforts of the dramatic and musical organizations, more than in any other way, college activities achieve widespread recognition, and many people who have no other means of judging are likely to base their opinions of the college merely on the quality of such performances. It is gratifying to know, therefore, that "Stop Thief" was enthusiastically received wherever it was presented.

A College Press

Unsettled labor conditions have made the printing of the RECORD so difficult this year that the time of the paper's appearance has been consistently later than ever before. This has been a cause of regret no less to the members of the board than to the undergraduate body. Remedies have been sought, but it seems impossible to obtain better facilities.

There is but one way in which conditions can be improved. That is by the establishment of a College Press, a project which has been urged for many years. The volume of printing that is done by the Administration and by the Undergraduate organizations is surprisingly large, and if done wholly by one concern would support a good-sized business. Such an organization, by printing the RECORD, the Cow, the Lit., the Gul, the College Catalogues, and various other smaller jobs, would be able not only to render service, but to make money.

It is no charitable venture that we are urging on the College, therefore, but an opportunity for wise investment of capital—an investment that would yield a good return. And the benefit which would result to undergraduate publications can hardly be overestimated.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To The Editor of the RECORD:

Sir:—

After hearing considerable discussion as to methods of settling the monitor question, I feel certain that college sentiment is strongly in favor of a large increase in the number of chapel cuts. Of course the ideal solution would be voluntary chapel if the attendance would be satisfactory; but undeniably the reaction from the abnormally strict compulsory chapel would mean almost no attendance under the voluntary system.

Williams used to be noted as a college of deep religious spirit. In recent years quite the opposite reputation has been acquired; in fact, a former president of the Christian Association of one of the larger universities, after making a tour of eastern colleges, remarked that the religious status of Williams was as low as that of any other place he had visited. I believe that compulsory chapel, daily and twice on Sunday with only 14% daily cuts and 11% Sunday cuts, which amounts to an attempt to "stuff religion down one's throat", is responsible for this decline. This belief is based on the fact that when living at home we used to go to church every Sunday and now during vacations we rarely do; that, although a few years ago we paid careful attention to any religious service, we now read or sleep in chapel (if we do not sit in the first ten rows); and that the W. C. A. which should be a vital force in the life of the College, is now an organization without meaning and without influence. After talking the matter over with a number of representative men, I find them in favor of the following as the minimum which will materially help to increase the religious spirit of the College: 1. Voluntary Sunday afternoon services. 2. Four Sunday morning chapel cuts each semester, with the possibility of obtaining a fifth. 3. One-third daily chapel cuts, which means two a week or 36 a semester. In my opinion, anything less could have at best only a temporary effect and will reproduce certainly within a few years the present deplorable conditions.

NATIONAL BLANK BOOKS & LOOSE LEAF DEVICES

THERE are few first-class Stationers who do not carry some National Blank Books. A great many dealers carry National products exclusively. You are taking no chances when you buy blank books from a dealer who features Nationals, because back of his personal reliability is the guarantee of the largest blank book factory in the world.

Promiscuous buying of Account Books results in loss of time, money and office efficiency. As Blank Books are the cornerstones of business, intelligent care should be used in their selection. National Blank Books are uniformly satisfactory.

Combined College Smoker Scores Hit

in spite of his bashfulness was enticed into a game of Kelly pool. At this point Brief, assisted by both male and female chorus, seized the opportunity to sing "Mr. Kelly's Pool", a catchy number composed by Luedeke '22.

Audrey Torium, played by Britton '23, aroused the ire of the other spectators at the movie in the next scene by reading the captions to her young hopeful, Nattie, played by S. A. Jones '23. Several clever quips were exchanged here by Eph, Audrey Torium, and Ruff N. Reddy, a limelime knight, played by Stabler '20, which were well received by the audience. Frazier then rendered several songs, accompanied by Coleman and Banks at the piano. He sang "Why Do They All Go to Montreal," by Coleman, "Plain but Pure," by Banks, and "Rachel," by Coleman and Frazier. These numbers were enthusiastically received and Frazier was forced to respond to several encores.

Scene VII represented a classroom in which Foster appeared first as Thisblistered Millhand, then as George Izwell Buttoned. Both of these impersonations were exceptionally clever and the audience howled with delight. During the scene Frazier rendered "What Am I Thinking Of," written by Luedeke. Just before the close of the first act Frazier sang "Girls' Lips," also by Luedeke, while the pony chorus distributed cigarettes to the eager audience. Four thousand Murads and four thousand Fatimas were donated by the P. Lorillard Co.; one thousand Fatimas by Liggett & Myers; Tel & Tel Cigars by Joseph Whitecomb & Co.; and Imperial Smoking Tobacco by Cabe Prindle, all through the courtesy of the latter.

During the intermission talks were given by Dean Howes and Professor Long, while ginger ale and doughnuts, with the compliments of Gus Bridgman, were dispensed. At this point a special act was introduced by the courtesy of Mr. John S. Adriance. Two acrobats imported from New York astounded the audience by their feats of strength and skill.

Harry Hart, played by Frazier, acted as interlocutor in the orchestrated minstrel show which composed the opening scene of the second act, and exchanged a number of almanac jokes with the end men, Eph, played by Pollard and Parker Prashy, played by Foster. Frazier sang "Poor Little Purified Smoker," composed by Banks, and the Silvertown Cornet Band played several popular numbers.

Frazier opened the second scene with a song, "At the Vaudeville Show," by Banks. Six turns then followed, the best of them being Mason and Dixon (Foster and Frazier) with their usual line, featuring the recent ballad hit "We Were Strolling Down the Avenue." This act and the Formaldehyde Four in the boat scene were probably the wittiest skits in the entire performance.

The closing scene, which took place at the Prom, was featured by Foster's impersonations as Tibbie and Edwin so-and-so Lang, and dances by Coughlin, Frazier, Britton, and Jones. The Belles of the Evening Peeling", written by Luedeke and sung by Chapman; "House-party Girl," written by Coleman and sung by W. Gahagan; "Russian Ballet," also by Coleman and sung by Frazier; and "Days of Now," by Luedeke and sung also by Frazier, were the song hits of this scene.

the first evening, Wednesday, April 7, the cast proceeded to Worcester the following day where they were entertained with a buffet dinner at the Worcester Club. The show and dance were held at Tuckerman Hall.

The tea dance planned for Friday afternoon in Boston was not held, but the evening dance following the play at Whitney Hall in Brookline was very successful and the performance itself was one of the best of the entire trip. A spirit of good-natured rivalry was aroused by the presence of the respective presidents of the Amherst, Harvard, and Wesleyan Boston Alumni Associations, and each president in turn when interviewed praised the excellence of the Williams production.

Cap and Bells arrived Saturday noon at Fall River where they were entertained at luncheon by alumni. In the afternoon Mrs. John S. Brayton entertained at her home with a tea dance in honor of the cast, and the evening performance and succeeding dance were given at the Music Hall. All proceeds were donated to the Union Hospital of Fall River.

Williams alumni and friends in New York enjoyed the best performance and dance of the trip on Monday evening in the ballroom of the Hotel Astor. Over 800 were present for the performance and a large number remained and danced to the music supplied by the College Orchestra which was at the height of its achievements. The concluding entertainment on the following night, April 13, at the Woman's Club in East Orange, N. J., was of a similar high order and attracted a large audience. Considerable difficulty was experienced in the latter part of the trip in making proper railroad connections owing to the switchmen's strike, and much credit is due the officers of the organization for their efficient handling of the entire trip.

1923 Baseball Practice Starts

Active practice for the freshman baseball team will start this afternoon, April 16, on Cole Field. Thirteen men have signed up as candidates, but no pitchers have reported as yet. The following men have given their names to Manager Clark '23: J. N. Anderson, Angevine, Bixby, Dowd, Hoffman, MacAneny, Mackie, Mallon, Oliver, Rankin, Roberts, Vilas, and Witcombe.

Mr. Torres Lectures in Boston

Instructor Arthur R. Torres delivered a lecture on "Democratic Poetry" last Tuesday evening in the Spanish Club at Harvard University. He opened his address by comparing the poetry of Autocracy with that of Democracy and pointing out that North and South America have reason to be the best representatives of the latter type. Mr. Torres devoted himself principally to discussing the works of Walt Whitman, Pezoa Veliz, a Chilean poet, and Evaristo Carriego, a poet of Argentina. He emphasized particularly the influence which Walt Whitman has had on the development of modern poetry in the Americas.

To Present "Stop Thief" Again

Cap and Bells will close the season with two final presentations of Stop Thief at Vassar on Saturday evening, May 1, and Glens Falls, N. Y., on either May 11 or May 18. The latter performance will be for the benefit of the Sophomore Prom committee. No change will be made in the cast which will be the same as appeared during the recent Spring trip.

1921 "GUL." RETURNS
TO EARLY PRECEDENTS*VOLUME ON SALE MAY 20*Two Hundred and Fifty Illustrations Feature Complete and Elaborate Annual

Editors of the 1921 Gulielmian have practically completed their difficult task of producing an annual which goes back to the pre-war basis for the first time since the 1918 volume. The book, which has been dedicated by the board to Charles Frederick Seely, contains more illustrations than the average of past years and reviews of several activities never before recognized, whereas others that have lost their significance are omitted.

Similar in size and bulk to the 1920 volume, the annual will have a purple cloth grain cover containing an imprint done in gold. The design is by Banks '21. Gloss white paper will be used decorated by a panel effect somewhat similar to that of last year, and the printing will be black as usual. The type and mode of binding are the same as the 1920 issue.

May 20 is the tentative date set for the appearance of the new Gul. On account of the great increase in the cost of chemicals for engraving and photographing, the price of the volume will be increased to $4.00. Contrary to the custom of previous years order blanks will not be distributed to the various fraternities and the Commons Club but the student body will be requested to sign up for copies in Jesup Hall. Only a limited number, some 300 copies, will be available for sale. Each volume will contain a total of 345 pages.

Continuing the precedent set in previous years, full-page illustrations will be scattered through the book and a special section will be devoted to snapshots of college life and its exponents. Similar snapshots will also be placed at intervals through the advertising section as well as the remainder of the volume. A full page photograph of the New York Alumni Dinner and a review of the event will be included as usual. In general the order of the book is the same as that of last year.

Additions and omissions are plentiful. Many new cuts and new pictures of several fraternity houses have been made while the pictures of 13 new members of the faculty will also appear. Among the innovations are pictures of the soccer teams, both the class champions and see all class teams, and the swimming team and two debating teams are represented for the first time since 1918. The Outing Club is the only organization to make its debut. New pictures of particular interest will be those featuring the Victory Celebration and the Winter Carnival. Owing to the lack of activity of the Good Government Club and the Deutscher-Verein, these organizations have been omitted.

Approximately 250 illustrations are included. Of these 210 are half-tones and the remaining 40, line drawings. Banks and Wasson '21 have done the bulk of the art work, but Huckel and Jeffries '22 have also contributed.

Weather Near Normal in March

Summary of the meteorological observations at the Williams College station shows that the month of March was nearly normal in both temperature and precipitation.

The highest temperature during the month was 62 degrees on the 25th and the lowest was 6 degrees below zero on the 2nd. Neither of these temperatures is extreme or record breaking as the highest and lowest ever observed during March for the last 20 years are 75 degrees and 10 degrees below zero respectively. The average temperature for the month was 32.3 degrees, which is very close to the normal temperature of 32.0 degrees.

The total precipitation, including (rain and melted snow), was 3.30 inches, but little above the normal precipitation of 2.94 inches. The snowfall was 20.0 inches, which is more than double the normal precipitation of 9.0 inches. This has been surpassed several times during the last 20 years. In March 1916 47.7 inches of snow fell. The month began with 29 inches of snow on the ground. This fact coupled with the large snowfall made the month seem very snowy.

There were 12 clear days, 9 partly cloudy days, and 10 cloudy days during the month. Rain or snow fell on 12 days.

COLLEGE NOTES

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES

Endowment Fund Over Three Million

Cornell University's Endowment Fund yesterday passed the three million mark in its drive for five million dollars to increase the salary of the professors. New York heads the list with a total of nearly one million dollars and Chicago is second with a third of a million. This total does not include the amount given for the Medical College and other specific purposes.

Outlook Good For Penn. Crew

In one of the most comprehensive schedules ever arranged, the Pennsylvania University crew will race practically every college team in the United States during the coming spring, and, in the event of a successful season, will probably be chosen to represent America in the Olympic Meet to be held in Brussels, August 27. The colleges included in the schedule are Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, The Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, and Yale. It is possible that some of the Western Colleges may send crews to contend in the Poughkeepsie Regatta.

Gov. Coolidge To Speak At Vermont

Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts will be the Commencement orator at the graduation exercises of the University of Vermont to be held at Burlington Vt., June 25, 26, 27, and 28.

Tennis Recognized As Major Sport

Princeton and Yale athletic committees have voted to grant their tennis players a major letter, provided plans for an intercollegiate league are successful. Harvard, Pennsylvania, and Cornell, the other colleges which have been proposed as members, have yet to determine their stand in the recognition of the game.

Announce Wesleyan Tennis Schedule

Wesleyan University has announced a tennis schedule as follows: April 2, Brown at Middlebury; May 1, Dartmouth at Hanover; May 4, Springfield Y. M. C. A. at Middletown; May 8 Amherst at Amherst; May 13, Cornell at Middletown; May 20 Trinity at Hartford; May 22, Williams at Middletown; May 23, New York University at New York.

Spring Football Practice at Yale

About 80 candidates have reported for spring football practice at Yale University. Captain Callahan and Trainer Mack are rehearsing the men in rudimentary principles and in physical conditioning, giving special attention to the centers and backs. Outdoor practice in punting and drop-kicking will commence as soon as the weather permits.

Amherst Has Veteran Nine

Amherst baseball practice is under way with forty candidates trying out under the direction of Coach Jacklitch. Every member of last year's team has reported, and there are in addition three veterans of former teams and promising material from the Freshman and Sophomore class. With two or three men bidding for each position, Amherst is confident of a successful season.

The fact that the Naval Cadets are picked men, representing every State in the Union, makes this one of Fatima's strongest endorsements.

Here at Annapolis as elsewhere, men have discovered that cigarette character depends on the right proportioning of Turkish tobacco.

So Fatima owes its popularity to the fact that it contains not too much nor too little, but just enough Turkish—just enough to taste right, always.

THE WILLIAMS RECORD

VOL. XXXIV

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., MONDAY, APRIL 19, 1920

NO. 7

REPUBLICANS WILL CONVENE ON MAY 14

DEMOCRATS DOUBTFUL

Undergraduate Committee is Formed to Plan for Mock Political Meeting

Plans are already under way for a mock Republican convention to be held here on May 14, similar to that held in 1916 when Justice Hughes received the presidential nomination of the undergraduate body on the Republican ticket. At the present time it is believed that there are not a sufficient number of Democrats among the student body to justify a Democratic convention, but on the same ballots which the RECORD is using next Wednesday in its poll on the chapel question, there will be a place where students may signify their party preferences, and if at this time there appears to be a sufficient Democratic following to justify it, a Democratic convention will be held.

A committee composed of Jewett, chairman, Becket, Hawes, Moore, Townsend, and Ward '20, Joslyn and Thexton '21, has been formed to make plans for the campaign, and to stimulate the formation of the clubs for each of the Republican candidates. The committee will also have charge of the assignment of men to their respective state delegations, and in the case of a state's having an insufficient representation, men will be chosen as representatives from states having more than the necessary number of men. The number of delegates will be about half that of the National Convention, and representation will be in the same proportion. At a meeting of the committee held yesterday Moore '20 was elected secretary and treasurer, and an executive sub-committee was chosen composed of Jewett and Moore '20, and Joslyn '21. Moore has already been in communication with various political leaders in order to obtain information that will enable the committee to handle all business after national campaign plans.

The convention will open with the Chairman of the Republican Committee presiding. The first duty will be to elect a temporary chairman and secretary. Following this will be the settlement of all contests for seats and the election of committees on credentials, rules, and regulations. The delegates will be officially seated after their credentials have been reviewed. After the reports of the rules and regulations committees, a permanent chairman and secretary will be chosen. Then a platform will be adopted, and the nomination of a President and Vice-President will conclude the convention.

Two clubs have already been formed, the Wood Club and the Lowden Club. There will be a meeting of the Lowden men, with Hawes '20 as chairman pro tempore, next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. It is the intention of the committee in charge to secure out-of-town speakers to talk in behalf of the candidates supported by the various clubs. In 1916 Mr. B. F. Bills spoke in favor of Roosevelt before the Roosevelt Club, while Professor Doughty addressed those men backing the candidacy of Elihu Root. Mr. Samuel P. Blagden also of Williams-town spoke in behalf of the Progressive candidate, and at the close of his talk distributed Roosevelt posters and literature. Later Roosevelt campaign slides were shown in the Williamstown Opera House and a stump-speaker addressed T. R. partisans on Spring Street. Assistant Professor Allen addressed the Wilson Club, and Mr. Botsford the Hughes Club.

The straw ballot to be conducted by the RECORD next Wednesday will be managed by distributing ballots at the various eating houses in the forenoon, so that the voting may be done at the time of the noon-day meal. In view of the fact that a great deal will depend on the result being representative of the sentiment of the entire undergraduate body, it is to be hoped that every student will vote. The questions have been slightly changed from the form in which they appeared in Friday's RECORD, in order to make the voting easier in case a man favored the abolishment of compulsory chapel, but was in favor of increased cuts as second choice. The questions now read.

1. Do you favor the abolishment of compulsory daily chapel?
2. In case the present system of compulsory chapel is retained, what number of cuts do you consider should be allowed?
3. At what hour of the day do you consider daily chapel should be held?

To this section of the ballot will be appended a form by which men may signify their party preferences in preparation for the coming mock convention. In view of the fact that the number of Democrats will probably be too small to warrant a Democratic Convention, it is advised that all Democrats who so wish register their names as delegates to the Republican Convention, in order that they may not be deprived of a part in the campaign.

URGES OLD CLOTHES

Resolution Passed by Gargoyle to Help Reduce H. C. of L.

Endorsing the recently organized "over-all strike" as an effective means of reducing the high cost of living in a resolution passed at a meeting held last Saturday, Gargoyle urged the student body to adopt the movement. The text of the resolution is as follows: "Resolved, that in order to aid in reducing the high cost of living, it be the sentiment of the Gargoyle Society of Williams College to encourage the wearing by the undergraduates of overalls, army and corduroy trousers, and old clothes."

This movement which is fast attaining nation-wide significance, has already entered many other colleges and universities. Practically all the southern institutions have adopted the idea and all guests of both sexes who attend the Junior Promenade at Columbia in the near future have been requested to wear the denim.

BASEBALL TEAM WINS FIRST PRACTICE GAME

Varsity Defeats Williamstown Nine by 4-2 Score—Play- ing Slow and Ragged

Coach Davis returned to Williamstown Saturday and outdoor practice was resumed the same afternoon when the Varsity met and defeated by a score of 4 to 2 a team composed of several townsmen and members of the College baseball squad. Although the playing was slow and ragged at times, the team showed up well on the whole and appeared to be in good condition for the game with Union next Saturday. Burrows did particularly good work in the box, allowing only one hit and McLean and Patton '21 were also up to form. In hitting, Boynton '21 did the best work, having a home run and a three-bagger to his credit, while Boynton and Ward '23 were the best among the freshmen.

Work on Weston Field was begun last Saturday afternoon, and Coach Davis hopes that it will be ready for use by the middle of the week. The line-up for Saturday's game was as follows:

COLLEGE	WILLIAMSTOWN
Hoyt	2b Danaher
Field	rf Mason
B. Boynton	ss Mallon
Finn, Stevenson	c Keefe
C. Boynton	1b Becket
Ward	cf Howland
Monjo, Burger	lf Papin
Noble, Nichols	3b Judd, Clark
Burrows, Patton	p
McLean	1b Prindle

START INTRAMURAL BASEBALL TOMORROW

56 CONTESTS PLANNED

Form American and National Leagues—World's Series is to Decide Winner

Three games tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Cole Field will open the intramural baseball series: Commons Club vs. Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi vs. Delta Kappa Epsilon, and the Faculty vs. Alpha Delta Phi. The fourteen fraternities, the Commons Club, and the Faculty have been formed into two leagues, the American and National, and the final winners in each league will play off a post-season "world's series" of three games for a silver loving cup and the championship of the college.

The two leagues will be composed of the following teams: American League—Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi, Commons Club, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi and Zeta Psi; National League—Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Faculty Club, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon, and Theta Delta Chi. Each team will be charged an entry fee to be determined by the Interfraternity Council which will go toward the purchase of the silver loving cup for the winner.

All games will be of five innings duration but in the case of a tie at the end of five innings the necessary number of extra innings to decide the game will be played. Games postponed on account of rain will be played on open dates to be decided upon by the respective teams and Manager Tiebout '20. All men in college are eligible to play in the series with the exception of those who have won a baseball "W" or who shall be on a list of varsity players to be posted in the near future by Coach Davis. ## BROOKS EX-'13 TO BE NEXT FOOTBALL COACH

SECURED FOR 1920 SEASON

Former Williams Man Directed Victorious Elevens During 1916 and 1919 Seasons

Joseph W. Brooks ex-'13, of New York City, has been secured again as football coach for the 1920 season. He is now connected with S. W. Straus & Company of Boston and will continue his relations with that firm while directing the Williams eleven next fall.

During his freshman year at Williams Brooks played on his class football team and in his sophomore year he played on the varsity and captained his class eleven. He transferred to Colgate at the end of his sophomore year where he starred on the gridiron for three seasons. While a member of the Colgate eleven he was picked by Walter Camp as an all-American tackle.

In 1915 Brooks assisted Fred Daly in coaching the Williams eleven, and when the latter resigned at the end of that season, Brooks was appointed to fill the vacancy the following fall. With six letter men as a nucleus in 1916 he built up a winning team, which lost two games tied two, and won four, both the Amherst and Wesleyan elevens being among those defeated.

Last fall he succeeded in developing an even stronger combination, which won six games and lost two, scoring a total of 132 points to 19 made by opponents. R. P. 1. was defeated 22 to 0 in the opening game of the season, and the victory was repeated the following week with Union by a 23 to 0 score. The Purple met its first defeat at the hands of Cornell in the third game after a hard fought contest which resulted in a 3 to 0 victory for the Red and White. The Williams goal line had not yet been crossed, and this record was maintained in the next game when Columbia was overwhelmed 25 to 0. (Continued on page 4, col. 1.)

TRACK TRIALS SATURDAY

Team Will be Picked for Union Meet to be Held May 1

Track practice has been materially aided by the prevalence of favorable weather conditions since the end of the Spring recess and the squad should be in good shape by the end of this week. Next Saturday trials will be held in all events for the purpose of picking the team to represent the Purple against Union in the first meet of the season a week later.

Coach Seeley is very desirous of having more candidates this week for both track and field events, either with or without previous experience. Men are particularly needed for the pole vault and broad jump. A large number of freshmen showed up well in these events in the period of physical training, but comparatively few have come out thus far. It is imperative that more report immediately as the first meet is less than two weeks off.

NEAR EAST CONDITIONS DESCRIBED IN LECTURE

Luther Fowle '08 Tells W. C. A. of Experiences in Charge of Mission's Finance

Speaking before an informal meeting, of the W. C. A. last Sunday evening Luther Fowle '08 gave a vivid description of his work as financial director of the relief forces in the Near East and of the conditions existing there. He has spent the last eight years in Constantinople in charge of the financing of the hospitals, churches, and schools of the Christian Missions there and was the only American attaché in the city during that War.

In his talk, he gave a rapid sketch of the connection between America and Turkey, pointing out that America is indebted to her for much of her civilization—the three great faiths, Christian, Jewish, and Mohammedan; the basis of Western law, art, and algebra—and that she has received far more from Turkey than she has given.

According to the speaker, the mass of the Turkish people were not in favor of entering the War on the side of Germany. The Kaiser made a trip there and posed as the champion of the Moslems, gaining the control of the Bagdad Railroad and the support of the Turkish government. As soon as Turkey had entered the war, German officers took charge of the Ottoman armies and navies.

The Turks tried to exterminate the foreign Christian races in their territory, and succeeded in killing over one million civilian non-combatants, but the attempt failed, thanks to the 35 millions of dollars sent to the Relief Committee by this country. Thousands of children were in the care of the American mission. (Continued on page 3, col. 4.)

The intramural baseball leagues were started last year with a view to encouraging participation in athletics by the many instead of the few. That the experiment was a success is shown by the fact that this year several teams have already organized and played games, without waiting for the schedule to be formed. Approximately 175 men, almost one-third of the college, take part in these games. Surely the advocates of "athletics for all" can find here a potent argument, for to judge from the interest shown, intramural baseball at Williams is to prove a great success in the future.

The Mock Convention

The approaching mock convention offers an opportunity to the undergraduate body which will be neglected only by the man who is altogether blind to his duties as a citizen of the United States. A presidential campaign always stirs the American people to a ferment of excitement and speculation that is equalled at no other time, and it is not surprising therefore, that in past years unusual interest has been evinced in the election even here in the "heart of the Berkshires". The present campaign is one of the most important that the country has ever seen, for upon the shoulders of the next president will rest the burden of restoring pre-war conditions, if such be possible, and of averting possible calamity. The interest in the coming campaign there, therefore, should be just so much greater. Here is an opportunity for every student to learn more about politics, to clear up for himself the issues of the campaign, and to voice his sentiments in regard to the settlement of the most important problems before us today.

Beating the H. C. of L.

With thousands of people all over the country donning the garb of the farmer and the workingman, the movement exalting overalls as correct attire for all occasions is attracting nation-wide attention. Starting in the South as more or less of a joke, the agitation is rapidly assuming a serious aspect. Men are not only wearing overalls, but they are pledged to continue wearing them; and they are appearing in this guise not only on the street, but on congress, in the judge's bench, at weddings, banquets, teas, dances, and at every function society boasts.

The Gargoyle Society, realizing the significance of the movement, has recommended the wearing of overalls, old clothes and corduroys. If the college body follows this suggestion, and indications are that such will be the case, two things will be accomplished. Williams undergraduates will not only become partners in a great movement to reduce costs, but Williams' reputation as a "rich man's college" will be dealt a serious blow. This is the best opportunity that has ever presented itself for Williams men to give the lie to the all too numerous ignorant critics who depict this college as a collection of effete millionaires.

There is one danger that must not be overlooked. Overalls must not become a fad, to be discarded as soon as the novelty wears off. This is a serious attempt to lower the exorbitant price of clothing. Once overalls or old clothes are put on, they must be kept on; for it will be only by continuing to wear them until the decrease in the amount of clothing purchased is noticeable to tailors and manufacturers, that prices will drop. The Gargoyle Society evidently considered this possibility when it included in its recommendations "corduroys and old clothes." It may not be practicable for every student to supply himself with overalls, but every man can find old clothes of some description. So "off with the new and on with the old!"

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the RECORD:
Sir:

Compulsory chapel is the one cause for existence of the so-called "Chapel Question". It is the fundamental cause for both the indifferent attitude toward and the absolute hatred of religious service, now undeniably present here at Williams. It is time that the Trustees, the Faculty, and the alumni realize these "present deplorable conditions—" to quote Mr. Brune—and directed their efforts toward a solution. It is an artificial and unhealthy state, the complete cure of which is to be found only in voluntary attendance. This solution seems impracticable for various reasons, especially those of sentiment and precedent, so that it is necessary, as Mr. Brune suggests, to be content with a more liberal number of cuts. The purpose of such a change, however, would not be "to increase the religious spirit of the college". Every man has an innate sense of religion; in some, great; in others, small. Certain conditions tend to develop this sense, but nothing in our morning chapel is religiously beautiful or impressive. To try to hear a professor mouth a few verses from the Bible, to watch the choir sing the congregational hymn, to bow over a class book during a more or less commonplace prayer, to put on one's coat during the Gloria Patri—this is chapel at Williams. Inspiring! The fact is that we have had so much chapel when we didn't want it, that it has become commonplace, almost unbearable. Chapel has passed through a transition; from a source of inspiration it has become a mere disciplinary exercise, and a poor one at that.

The only evident benefits resulting from the compulsory system are social and disciplinary (and that because one must rise at 7.15 A. M.). What possible good is induced into our beings by collecting us in the Chapel at 7.45 every morning, when practically every student is experiencing an internal revolt and some are loudly protesting that what little religion they once had, has long since disappeared on account of compulsory chapel? Does it not seem reasonable that such a situation should be remedied?

We are not going to present any complicated solution, but in all fairness to sincerity, as opposed to hypocrisy, the least that can be done to restore and strengthen the spiritual side of Williams life, is an extension of cuts and change of time to a later hour.

Finals of 1923 Declamatory

As a result of the trials held last Friday afternoon and evening in Jesup Hall, six freshmen were retained for the finals of the Freshman Declamation Contest, to be held at 8.00 o'clock tomorrow evening in Jesup Hall. The list of contestants, and the subjects of their orations, are as follows: Collins—Kellogg's Spartacus; the Gladiators; Green—Kahn's On America's Entrance into the War; Proctor—Wilson's Force to the Utmost; Sewell—Prentice's What Does Thou Here, America; Stephens—Wilson's A Scrap of Paper; Thompson—Roosevelt's Citizenship in a Republic. The judges of the contest are Professor Milham, Assistant Professors Clark and Licklider, Goodman '20, and Atwell '21.

Senior Class Meeting Tonight

For the purpose of electing a singing leader and a baseball manager the Senior Class will meet at 7.45 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. Other matters to be discussed are the class tax and the Commencement exercises.

To Discuss Rushing Agreement

Two questions of eminent importance will be discussed and, if possible, definitely settled at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council at 7.30 o'clock to-morrow evening in Jesup Hall. Changes in the present interfraternity rushing system will be considered, relating particularly to the advisability of deferring rushing week to a later date than this year's. The second topic of discussion will be the proposed rule requiring regular eligibility of freshmen before they may be initiated. In addition the council will determine the tax to be assessed each fraternity for the purpose of providing a cup for the winner of the intramural baseball series.

Sir:

Through the agency of your communication columns we wish to express our sincere thanks for the aid rendered by the students, the faculty, and the Williamstown fire company in the extinguishing of our recent fire. Had it not been for their prompt and energetic help, the fire might have, in fact, probably would have, caused far greater havoc, and we keenly appreciate their invaluable assistance.

To the several fraternities who so kindly and thoughtfully extended to us their hospitality during the period immediately after the fire, we also express our thanks.

aries, and many others starved to death in the first months after the declaration of war one Germany by this country because of the lack of funds. The American government allowed money to be sent, but it was with the greatest difficulty that it was received by the board of workers in Turkey. All the funds and books were kept at the Swedish Embassy and a false set of books were opened to Turkish inspection for it would have, been a serious offence for a Turk to have been caught giving money to the Relief Committee. All the paper work was done at the Swedish Embassy by the American stenographers under the direction of Mr. Fowle who was the only American official attaché in Constantinople.

Mr. Fowle ended his address in a stirring appeal for American aid in the Near East, and for more of that spirit of sacrifice which the United States showed during the War. Only America is able to help Turkey, for she alone has never tried to exploit that country for her own benefit.

Next Football Coach

The Purple's opponents were blanked again when Williams won from Hamilton 13 to 0 in the fifth games of the season. This contest marked the beginning of a slump, however, and the following week the Williams eleven bowed to Wesleyan 16 to 0, but recovered in the seventh game, defeating Middlebury 19 to 0. The supreme effort was made in the closing contest, and Amherst was crushed 30 to 0.

Although five letter men will graduate this year the nucleus of a strong team still remains, and with Boynton and some promising material which the Freshman team developed last fall, Coach Brooks should have little trouble in building up another successful team.

To Select Debating Manager

All juniors interested in obtaining the managership of the debating team for next year should hand in their names to Atwell '21 before Wednesday. The manager will be selected by the Adelpic Union from the list of candidates. He will also be given the office of secretary-treasurer of the Union and in connection with his duties, he will make at least two out of town trips with the team. Due to the fact that debating has been revived for the first time in several years the manager will be selected without a competition.

UNION WILL OPPOSE WILLIAMS TOMORROW

Garnet Defeated Brooklyn Nine
Last Friday by a Score of 16-7—Pitchers Good

VARSITY OPENS SEASON

Condition of Weston Field May Cause Erratic Play—Burrows '20 Will Pitch

In the first game of the 1920 baseball season Williams will meet Union College tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Little can be said by way of comparative scores so early in the season, but Union has the upper hand in having been able to test its ability in one scheduled game, in which it met and defeated by a score of 16-7 Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute last Friday afternoon, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

In this game the Garnet pitching staff showed up well, and the batting and fielding of the team was also creditable. Holloran, who seems to be Union's best man on the mound, allowed 10 hits in 9 innings and struck out 14 men. Raynolds, who will probably play center field on Saturday, was the heaviest hitter, having four hits, including one three-bagger, out of five times at bat to his credit. Dean, the Union right-fielder, made a home run in the first inning, while Heidorf and J. Brucker each hit two-baggers. Coach Fitzgerald and Captain Wittner have been putting the team through intensive training during the past few weeks. Last week, however, little practicing was done on account of Easter vacation and poor weather conditions. This week the varsity and scrubs have lined up against each other for a few innings each day, and the varsity has always been victorious. Union was to have met the New York University team at University Heights on Saturday, April 17, but rain prevented the game.

This morning Weston Field was not in the best of condition, but the work of rolling and leveling has been going on all day, and it is hoped that by tomorrow afternoon many of the ruts in the infield will have been smoothed out. Varsity practice has been hampered this week by the rainy weather, but as both teams have suffered the same handicap, this is not likely to prove disastrous. Coach Davis has been emphasizing the offence in practice during the past few days. The batting has been good and on it will depend in great part the result of tomorrow's game. Boynton and Finn '21 appear to be the heavy hitters, while Ward '23 is doing the best work among the freshmen members of the squad. Burrows '20, who will probably start the game in the box, has been performing the best work among the members of the pitching staff, while McLean '21 has also been showing up well. Hoyt '23 looks promising at second base, and will probably start the game in that position tomorrow.

The line-ups of the two teams, as given, will probably be as follows:

WILLIAMS		UNION
Hoyt	2b	ef	Raynolds
Field	rf	1b	J. Brucker
B. Boynton	ss	c	Wittner
Finn	e	ss	Heidorf
Ward	cf	rf	Dean

Horace Fort to Address Forum

Mr. Horace Fort, of the Berkeley Divinity School Middletown, Conn., will address a meeting of the Forum next Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall, speaking on the responsibility of Christians of the modern age toward poverty and riches. Mr. Fort recently addressed a meeting of the W. C. A.

FORM POLITICAL CLUBS

Hoover, Lowden, and Wood Men
Prepare for Convention

In preparation for the coming mock convention to be held here on May 14 the supporters of Hoover and Lowden have already formed campaign organizations, and the Wood men will meet for that purpose at 7.30 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. In view of the small number of ballots cast for the Democratic party in the straw vote just held by the RECORD the Democrats will not hold a convention.

About 35 men met in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock yesterday evening for the purpose of forming a Lowden club. Hawes and Noble '20, Atwell and Thexton '21 were chosen as an executive committee with Hawes chairman and Thexton campaign manager. Members of the Faculty will be asked to speak in favor of this candidate and an effort will be made to secure outside speakers as well.

Organization of a Hoover club with Ward as acting chairman has also started and solicitations for membership have been sent out.

Townsend '20 has issued a call for all Wood supporters to meet in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock this evening to organize. Mr. Blagden and Dr. Howard of Williams-town have already consented to speak in favor of Gen. Wood, and other speakers will also be secured.

COLLEGE JOINS IN OVERALL MOVEMENT

Many Undergraduates Don Blue Denim in Effort to Reduce High Clothing Prices

In hearty response to the appeal of Gargoyle, "blue denim" took the college by storm last Monday morning and the old clothes and overalls movement to reduce the cost of clothing now reigns supreme on the campus. It is no exaggeration to say that over one half of the students seen about College are wearing either the workingman's garb or clothing which indicates the possible formation of a patch club.

Overalls made their debut at the morning chapel service when more than a score of men appeared in the now popular regalia. Their example was immediately followed by a large proportion of the student body so that by evening Williams-town was literally blossoming with blue and khaki denims.

Evidence that the movement is a serious attempt to down the H. C. L. is found in the fact that the enthusiasts are in no way limiting themselves to the now fashionable overall, but are utilizing all forms of apparel in keeping with the purpose of the campaign. Army breeches, flannel shirts, khaki and flannel trousers, which have seen better days, are quite the vogue, while patched garments are no less noticeable to the keen observer. The railway workers' or engineers' cap is rapidly replacing other forms of headgear.

Among these useful costumes, there are also various freak outfits of a more or less practical nature. Perhaps the most striking garb is a suit of white duck similar to the garments worn by members of the Painters Union.

The members of the faculty are not far behind the undergraduate body in their support of the nation-wide movement and several professors are already wearing khaki or army breeches. Up to the present time, however, none had conducted classes in overalls.

Although Williams is among the first of the northern colleges to adopt overalls for general wear, the movement is spreading and is now well established elsewhere in New England institutions. Reports indicate that in many places drastic action is being taken against those who do not cooperate. The movement in Williams, however, has been voluntarily followed, and has experienced little difficulty in the form of excessive profiteering in the "denims."

One National and two American League games were played last Tuesday afternoon on Colefield in the successful opening of the 1920 intramural baseball season. Three further contests scheduled for Wednesday afternoon were postponed on account of rain but will be played as soon as weather conditions permit.

Results of the games on Tuesday afternoon were as follows: American League—Commons Club 4, Beta Theta Pi 0; Delta Kappa Epsilon 6, Chi Psi 3; National League—Alpha Delta Phi 9, Faculty Club 8.

Raggedness characterized the opening games to some extent, but considerable individual excellence appeared, and promise was given of improved team-work and all-around playing in future contests. The pitching was fairly effective in almost every case, but ability to break through at times for a series of hits or passes proved to be the really deciding factor in all three cases. Error appeared with rather less frequency than was to be expected this early in the series.

Superior hitting and several passes gave the first game to the Commons Club. Wakeman pitched a consistently good game throughout, keeping hits well scattered and successfully checking all attempted rallies. After the second inning Painter also settled down and refused to allow any further runs, but his team mates were unable to over-

SEWALL WINS CONTEST

Stephens Gets Second Prize in Freshman Declamation

Before a small audience, the annual Freshman Declamation Contest was held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. The selection of Sewall was very well rendered and was voted the first prize, the second prize being awarded to Stephens, and honorable mention being given to Greene.

Speaking fourth in order, Sewall repeated a sermon which was delivered by the Rev. Sartell Prentice under the auspices of the National Security League in Nyack, New York. The sermon was entitled "What Doest Thou Here, America?" and was given on our entrance into the war. Stephens spoke first with the stirring speech of Lloyd George in reply to the German term of "scrap of paper" as applied to a treaty. This selection was spoken in Queens Hall, London, England, in 1914.

Proctor took Wilson's "Foree to the Utmost" for the second speech of the evening and gave a very excellent rendition of it. Thompson spoke next and delivered one of Roosevelt's speeches, Collins was the last speaker of the evening. Immediately after the selections, the judges Professors Clark, Licklider, Long, Milham, and Taylor and Atwell '21 and Goodman '20, retired and following a short conference, Professor Milham, chairman of the committee on prizes, gave the decision of the judges.

TO HOLD TRIAL MEET IN PREPARATION FOR UNION

Return of Veterans Promises to Add Strength in Every Event but Pole Vault

In order to select the team that will open the track season against Union at Schenectady, N. Y., on May 1, a trial meet will be held tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. Aided by good weather during the past week, Coach Seeley has rapidly developed a team that contains several exceptional performers in each event.

The weakness shown in the sprints last year has been remedied by the addition of Coddling '21 and McWhorter '22, both of whom are running at top form. Keiser '20, a veteran, and Kellogg '21 are taking care of the middle distance runs, and Richmond '22 seems the strongest contender in the half-mile. In the mile run Coan and Parker '21 are showing to good advantage, while Captain Brown '20 and Crofts '21 are ready to repeat their triumphs of last year in the two-mile. The hurdles are not quite so well taken care of, although P. Phillips '22 and Barnes '23 are showing promising form.

In every field event except the pole vault the return of many veterans offers a bright outlook for the coming season. P. Brown '22, who has won places in dual meets as well as in the N. E. I. A. A., is doing well in the pole vault, but the other entries in this event are weak. Anderson '20 and Barnes '23 are taking care of the high jump. Keiser and Wickwire '20 the broad jump, and Fieser, Mills '20, and Hibbard '21, members of last year's team, in addition to several promising recruits, the weights.

French Play to Appear May 13

Two changes have occurred in the cast of L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle, to be presented by the Cercle Français on the evening of Thursday, May 13, at 8.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Power '21 has taken the part of Hogson, in place of Bushnell '20, and Wallace '22 has replaced Power as the cashier.

Recording an overwhelming sentiment in favor of voluntary Sunday vesper services and compulsory daily chapel at the customary time with a 100 per cent increase in cuts, the College Body polled the unusually large vote of 449 in the straw ballot held last Wednesday by the RECORD. Over nine-tenths of those voting registered as delegates for the coming Republican Convention.

The convention registry may not in point of fact represent the true political status of the undergraduate body, as announcement was made that the democrats would probably have no convention and should register as republicans. The wording of the chapel questions was as follows.

1. Do you favor the abolishment of compulsory daily chapel? 2. In case the present system of compulsory chapel is retained, what number of cuts do you consider should be allowed? 3. At what hour of the day do you consider daily chapel should be held? 4. Do you consider that the Sunday vesper service should be voluntary instead of compulsory?

On the final count 65 per cent. of the voters favored the continuance of compulsory chapel, but practically all desired voluntary vespers and a substantial increase in cuts. The detailed vote on the second question was as follows:

Sunday Cuts Per Semester

	No.	Pct.
Four cuts	222	50%

The Chapel Vote

In presenting to the faculty the results of the straw ballot held this week, the most potent argument in favor of compliance with the plea of the student body is that the undergraduates have voted sanely and intelligently; that they ask no radical overturning of the system of compulsory chapel, but request only certain modifications which they deem necessary to make certain features of that system less oppressive.

If the students had taken the extreme attitude of voting for the complete abolition of compulsory chapel, the faculty would have been justified in rejecting the ballot as merely an indication of unthinking reaction to uncomfortable discipline. But such is not the case. It is evident that the voters are greatly in sympathy with the administration's point of view. The arguments in favor of the system have been considered, and the vote seems the result of careful judgment.

The requests are not exorbitant. The number of cuts asked is smaller than the allowance in at least seventy-five per cent of the colleges in which compulsory chapel is in vogue. No change in time is desired. And the request for voluntary Sunday vespers is entirely justifiable.

This service, while it is declared by all to be the most attractive of all the chapel services, comes at an unfortunate hour, which has always made it a source of irritation. It not only interferes with the occupations of a Sunday afternoon, but seriously affects the meetings of the W. C. A. The information comes to us from the best authority that many preachers who come here have voiced strongly the sentiment that it will always be impossible to secure large audiences at W. C. A. meetings when the student body is compelled to attend religious services only two hours earlier. The logic of this is clear. Two meetings of religious character in one day are sufficient to most men, and the number who desire to attend a third, (although it may be the most valuable of the lot) when the first two are compulsory, is necessarily small. It is surely not the wish of the College to interfere with the activities of an excellent and altruistic organization as the W. C. A. And if the judgment of even the clergymen who have looked over the situation is that compulsory vespers services produce such interference, there is undoubtedly reason for asking that this obstacle be removed.

The requests of the majority of the student body, then, first, that the number of cuts be increased, and, second that Sunday vespers be voluntary are in the hands of the faculty. It is our belief that the undergraduates have signified that they sympathize with the faculty's ideas. It is to be hoped that the faculty will likewise appreciate the undergraduate conception of the matter to such a degree, at least, that the requests will be seriously considered and if possible granted.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the editor of the RECORD:

Sir:

My attention has been called to a seemingly derogatory statement which I made about the W. C. A. in these columns last week. I wish to apologize to the W. C. A. cabinet for expressing myself too strongly and thus creating a wrong impression. I meant to cast no reflection on the work that the Secretary and his associates are doing for I believe that due to their efforts the W. C. A. is wielding as much influence as it can possibly wield with chapel conditions as they are. The point I was trying to make was that the W. C. A. can never be the power in College life that it should be if the present system of attempting to force religion upon the undergraduates is continued.

H. M. Brune Jr., '22

To the editor of the RECORD:

Dear Sir:

Williams is the first college in America to start a branch of the National Security League. The officers of the League are watching the experiment with interest. So are those Reds who happen to know about it.

What is the League? It is the most powerful unofficial voluntary organization in the United States. It is strictly non-partisan and non-political. It does not vote itself bonuses. Before the war it urged national preparedness. During the war it combatted German propaganda. After the war it began a crusade against Lenin's doctrines. It stands for the Constitution and American institutions. Its platform is 100% Americanism. Trite? Never trite enough.

Of course some people approve of Lenin and Emma Goldman and Berkman. Some people approve of the platform of the Communist Party which "shall keep in the foreground its consistent appeal for proletarian revolution, the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of a dictatorship of the proletariat." Some people approve of William Z. Foster who writes that "he is a radical anti-patriot. He is a true internationalist knowing no country." Some people approve of "Syndicalism" although Foster says that "the Syndicalist is as 'unscrupulous' in his choice of weapons to fight his everyday battles as for his final struggle with capitalism. He allows no consideration of 'legality', religion, patriotism, 'honor', 'duty', etc., to stand in the way of his adoption of effective tactics." Some people have no objection to the scum of Europe—men who couldn't make good in their own country using America as a national boarding house. Some people have no objection to their plots against the government their sneers at the flag and their boast to make another Russia on this side of the water.

Americans have. The League has. We trust every Williams man has.

But the League's activities are limited by its funds. Your membership fee of one dollar a year would help. Cabe and Hi Walden will allow you that.

May first 1920 was set by the Reds as "Communist Saturday". On that day they planned a general uprising, overthrow of the government and the setting up of a Soviet dictatorship. By an odd coincidence May first was set by the League as the day that its 100% membership in Williams will be complete. Somebody has made a mistake. We wonder which.

III

Any man who has been a student at Williams can become a member of the Williams Loyalty Fund by making a contribution. The amount of such contribution can be much or little, according to the means of the member; but it is hoped that each will give according to his ability.

Albany Law School

Established 1851

WILLIAM P. RUDD
President of the Board of Trustees

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

The annual circular, giving full information, may be had on application to the Registrar.

MARCH "LIT." HOLDS SUCCESSFUL STANDARD

MARKED BY SERIOUS TONE

Material is Not Distinctive But is Noteworthy and of Value, Says Critic

The March number of the Williams Literary Monthly offers reading matter of representative interest, and regardless of certain typographical as well as technical crudities maintains a fairly successful standard. It is chiefly commendable for indications some of its pages bear that an effort has been made in the serious art of writing. By this the present critic wishes to distinguish between what is merely written "to order" for a magazine, and that which suggests that the writer was aware of personal scruples in his work, and that he wrote because he found a relish in the act. Certainly no estimate not unnecessarily partial should overlook the fact that none of the contributions can properly be said to rise to the point of distinction; yet it is equally certain that for the most part the material is clearly noteworthy and of definite value.

The prose is of first importance, and among the stories Mr. Moody's The Living Past deserves attention as being the most serious and rightly the most significant. The situation is well presented at the start, and once the reader has accepted the somewhat supernatural implication he finds the narrative moving consistently on, even developing a degree of power in Mona's transformation and the ripening of a dreadful certainty in Winthrop. The unstable natures of both individuals are logically demonstrated in their yielding to the tragic influence of suggestion, which leads to the final harrowing scene. In regard to the subject, however, the story can scarcely defend itself from the attack which must always be directed against a reliance upon the morbid. In its analysis and tracing of susceptibilities it reveals the conscious manner of a certain branch of the romantic school—a fact which, together with the questionableness of employing the doctrine or reincarnation as a means for bringing down the past into what one assumes to be a modern present, constitutes a chief deduction from originality.

In the story entitled Fool's Luck, Mr. Schlesinger handles with flavor and freshness a subject which does not pretend to differentiate itself from the common stock of the movies. One is inclined to suspect at first that the case of Blodgett is somewhat hypothetical in point of "numbness", but the succeeding readjustment, after the startling rise to leadership in stocks, with the inevitable crash that follows, comes about easily and naturally. Mr. Withrow's The Ananias is on the whole a well executed piece of work. The too curious glance of the reader is carefully fed with appearances until unexpectedly—and here one's credulity receives a serious jolt—Blaine calmly produces fifteen one hundred dollar bills, the required sum. At this point also, outside of the consideration of probability, any suspicion that may have been lurking as to the status of the two characters receives confirmation, since Blaine proceeds to arrange a date for the evening, an act which, however natural, is for the plot superfluous, and even robs the "surprise" conclusion of some of its effect. The story is, nevertheless, cleverly devised, and contributes its full share to the variety of the current number. A Bad Young Man, by Mr. Hawes, shows a touch of good writing in spite of its slightly magazine air. It is a sketch rather than a story, and in a few skillful passages outlines a typically smooth and careless youth against an unrelieved Puritan background, represented in character by a quite typical aunt and by Robert's fiancée, who, notwithstanding her attractive appearance, is by nature sympathetic with the traditional element and finds it easier for her conscience to side with the aunt against the young man, the representative of a newer order of convention. Robert's attitude and expressions are those of sarcasm, and form a somewhat obtrusively conscious gesture; yet beneath his mannerism lies a more earnest and solid quality, the casual revelation of which marks the completion of the study.

The only essay, Mr. Holt's Reflections on Job, is a restrained yet suggestive and entertaining treatment of a subject that might easily, but for well defined limits, become inflated and soar beyond control. It undertakes to present and test, by comparison with various sidelights from different authors, the theory of existence as found in H. C. Wells' The Undying Fire. To do this in seven pages Mr. Holt runs the risk of giving the effect of a mere patchwork of quotations, yet in true essay manner he is able for the most part to obviate the difficulty by weaving in an intimate touch of personal experience. He does well to steer free of anything dangerously cynical by a healthy, satisfying turn at the conclusion. The article is thoroughly unpretentious—is too modest if anything—and what is more, has an element of style.

The verse contributions are pleasing for their direct simplicity and are not without grace and charm. It is altogether fitting that there should be a poem to Death, despite the great demands imposed by such a subject; and Mr. Anderson, by careful phrasing and quiet tone, puts the reader in the mood where he feels that song is "the truer in belief." Judged by itself the first stanza is weak, and serves merely to introduce and set off the second. There seems also to be nothing gained, for the ear at least, in the fact that the fifth line is shortened. Yet the poem as a whole succeeds in reaching the emotions rhythmically, though the thought "limps after." In Evening on the Carillon Canal, Mr. Hyndman creates a genuine pictorial effect through proper suggestive means. The impression of movement likewise occurs in the transitory glimpse of human affairs afforded by the passing "cassocks" and "broad-brimmed hats" while a larger human and natural background is represented by the raftsmen on the river. There is a definite singing rhythm in the two stanzas containing the references to east socks and hats, although the rest of the poem suffers decidedly from lack of varied melody. The last line, too, is unfortunate, since it brings truantly to mind the one which concludes the first stanzas in Gray's Elegy.

Whether these words are too many or too few, or whether they are more on one side than on the other, seeming to "damn with faint praise" where they should have struck more boldly to the case, the fact remains that "criticism is easy, art is difficult." It is therefore precisely because of this difficulty that all traces of art are significant and should be recognized.

'23 BALL TEAM TO PLAY Mallon Chosen Captain—Squad Improved by Ineligibles

Horace Taft Mallon was elected captain of the freshman baseball team at a meeting of the members held in the Gymnasium last Wednesday. He played for three years on the Taft team as short stop, and filled the same position on the freshman team last fall. He was also a member of the freshman football and basketball teams.

With the prospect of a game against the high school team in view, practice has been going on at Cole Field under the direction of Coach Withington whenever the weather permitted. Twenty-five candidates are trying out for positions on the team, and several promising players have been found. The squad has been strengthened by the addition of Clark, Mallon and Richmond who are ineligible for the Varsity.

Pawling will oppose the first year men on May 1 in Williamstown, and games are to be arranged with other preparatory school teams if possible. The lineup for tomorrow's game has not been decided as yet, but it is certain that Clark will pitch, and Hemphill, Mallon and Richmond will cover in field positions. All candidates will be given an opportunity to play in the game.

Each member of the team will pay three dollars toward the cost of his uniform, and the rest will be paid by a special tax imposed upon the freshman class. This decision was reached at the meeting of the class last Tuesday night in Jesup Hall. Travelling expenses will be paid by the class for any trips which the team may take.

Senior Class Elects

John W. Lasell '20, of Whitinsville, N. Y., and George M. White '20, of Ridgewood, N. J., were elected Senior Class singing leader and baseball manager respectively at a meeting of the Class held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall.

It was announced at the same meeting by Reinhardt '20, chairman of the Class Day Committee, that a tax of approximately $18.00 would be levied on each member of the Class. The Commons Room in Currier Hall was decided upon as the place for the Senior banquet, and the desirability of giving a subscription to the Williams Loyalty Fund instead of taking out a Class Insurance Policy at the end of the year was discussed.

DR. FITCH TO PREACH

Will Conduct Morning Service In Chapel Next Sunday

The Rev. Albert Parker Fitch, who has the distinction of being one of the most popular ministers who have visited Williams will again conduct the morning chapel service next Sunday morning and will also address the evening meeting of the W. C. A. at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

Graduating from Harvard in the class of 1900, Dr. Fitch received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from the Union Theological Seminary in 1903. In the same year he was ordained into the congregational ministry, and was assigned a pastorate at Flushing, Long Island. Two years later he was transferred to the Mount Vernon Church in Boston, and in 1909 became President of the Andover Theological Seminary. In the same year he was granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Amherst, and Williams conferred the same honor upon him in 1915. Since 1918 he has been Professor of the History of Religion and Biblical Literature at Amherst.

Dr. Grenfell to Speak Thursday

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell will speak in Jesup Hall on Thursday, April 29, at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association. His picturesque life and his work among the Labrador fishermen are well known, and his unusual lectures have been enthusiastically received wherever given. Dr. Grenfell, a graduate of Oxford, where he played on the football team, became first interested in his present work by sailing on the first hospital ship for North Sea fishermen, later cruising with it from the Bay of Biscay to Iceland. He first went to Labrador in 1892, where he built four hospitals, an orphanage, a series of co-operative stores, and started numerous small industrial schemes. Since then he has been constantly engaged in work of a similar nature, and has succeeded in arousing much interest in his country over his Labrador efforts.

CLOCKS TO BE ADVANCED

Daylight Saving Plan Goes Into Effect Sunday

All clocks in the state of Massachusetts will be set ahead one hour at 1.00 o'clock next Sunday morning, April 25, in accordance with the "Daylight Saving Plan", which was recently ratified by Gov. Coolidge and which goes into effect at that time. College exercises will be conducted on the new time, and therefore morning chapel service on Sunday will begin at 10.30 a. m., new time, or 9.30 a. m., present time, should any member of the student body forget to set his watch ahead Saturday night before retiring.

The Boston and Maine Railroad will continue to operate its trains on Eastern Standard Time or sun time, as this plan is optional with individual states and no change of time on interstate railroads can therefore be made. Accordingly the time on which trains arrive at and depart from Williamstown will be one hour earlier than the state time after Saturday night.

DISCUSS RUSHING PACT

Fraternities Are Undecided on Length of Closed Period

No decision was reached concerning the length of the closed period for next fall or the insertion of an eligibility ruling for freshmen in the rushing agreement at the meeting of the Interfraternity Council held at 7.30 o'clock last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall.

Opinion at this meeting seemed to favor a closed rushing period of about three weeks and it is hoped that a definite date can be set at the meeting to be held next week for the opening of the coming rushing season. The delegates were instructed to obtain the sentiment of their respective houses both in regard to this matter and to the eligibility clause. By the latter plan it is proposed to have fraternity initiations subject to the same eligibility rule which governs participation in College activities. The delegates will also ascertain the opinion of their houses as to whether to reach a decision concerning this matter at the next meeting or to leave it until the annual meeting in June when the alumni of the various fraternities will be present and it will be possible to discuss the idea more thoroughly with them.

CLOTHIERS

We've Got All You Want;
We Don't Want All You've Got!

In these days of high prices, goods of an exceptional quality and a consistently low price are in demand.

Foodstuffs, meats and dairy products especially, must have a quick 'turn-over', [that is, frequent shipments which are sold in a short time.

In contrast, a slow 'turn-over', such as furniture stores have, means fewer sales at longer intervals, thus necessitating a bigger profit on each sale in order to meet the intervening overhead charges.

In simple arithmetic, therefore: Quick 'turn-over' = smaller profit + better goods. Smaller profit + better goods = lower cost. THEREFORE—QUICK 'TURN-OVER' = LOWER COST.

Three Games Open
Intramural Season

 come the lead already piled up. Beckwith and Holt showed the best ability to take advantage of all opportunities offered. The score by innings was:

Innings	1 2 3 4 5

Batteries—Wakeman and Hahlo; Painter and Pattison.

Delta Kappa Epsilon had little difficulty in defeating its opponents, 6-1, hitting Carson, the Chi Psi pitcher, heavily in the second inning. A dangerous rally was started by Chi Psi in the fourth inning when two men were advanced to second and third bases respectively, with none out. It was checked by a double play, Frazier to Ward to Burger, the last man being caught at the plate. Fulle's pitching was fairly effective, although the Chi Psi runners made a circuit of the bases only to be caught at the home-plate. The score by innings was as follows:

Delta Kappa Epsilon	0 4 0 2 x - 6

Batteries—Carson and Clark; Fulle and Burger.

Alpha Delta Phi's game with the Faculty Club produced the most thrills of the afternoon, the final result being in doubt until the last minute of play. Hits were made fairly consistently off Withington, the Faculty pitcher, and at the opening of the fourth inning Alpha Delta Phi was leading by a 6-3 score. In this period Becket crumbled, letting the Faculty through for five runs, and Mallon finished the game in the box. In their half of the inning the undergraduates scored two runs, tying the score. The Faculty advanced two men to third base during the last inning but were unable to score, and an extra-inning contest appeared to be necessary until in the last half, with two men out, Alpha Delta Phi scored the winning run and closed the game, 9-8. The summary:

	1 2 3 4 5
Faculty Club	2 1 0 5 0 - 8
Alpha Delta Phi	3 2 1 2 1 - 9

Batteries—Withington and Buffinton Becket, Mallon, and Connor.

In furtherance of the campaign for the wearing of old clothes, the Student Council at a meeting Wednesday evening passed a rule permitting Freshmen to wear army trousers for the remainder of this year. The new regulation will only hold for this spring and does not include knickerbockers of any other description.

Sentiments favoring the old clothes movement were passed, laying particular emphasis on the fact that excesses tending to make the movement simply a short fad would completely defeat the real end and purpose of the drive. It was further decided to fix up the Trophy Room in Jesup Hall this week, putting the various silver cups into proper shape and hanging up pictures of all major teams since 1898. A plan for the limitation of individual participation in extra-curriculum activities will be drawn up and presented to the College body during the spring.

HOLY CROSS TO FACE WILLIAMS WEDNESDAY

FIRST OUT OF TOWN GAME

Several Shifts Made in Purple Line-up—Boynton and Nichols to Switch Positions

In its first game of the season out of town, the Williams baseball team will face the strong Holy Cross nine Wednesday afternoon on Fitton Field, Worcester. In view of the poor showing made by the varsity in its opening game against Union last Saturday and because of the shift in the Purple line-up, made necessary by Captain Boynton's sore arm, the advantage will probably be decidedly with the opposing team.

Although Daly, Captain and right-fielder for Holy Cross, is out of the game with a broken leg received in practice last Tuesday, the Worcester team has a strong combination, including four veterans, Gagnon, Santoro, Maguire, and MacLaughlin, which has won all three games played so far this season. Brown was defeated twice by 3-1 and 8-4 scores, and St. Ansel's was overwhelmed 10-1 in the opening game of the season. The contests scheduled with Trinity and Colby were cancelled on account of the condition of the diamond.

Gill and MacLaughlin have been doing good work in the box for Holy Cross this spring both in the three regular games played and in those on the Southern trip, and Horan pitched a steady game when Brown was defeated for the second time last Saturday. Gagnon, who has been playing short-stop, and Santoro, who has been playing at third, will change positions in the game next Wednesday. Both of these players are veterans of the 1919 squad and have kept up their excellent form of last year in the games this spring. In the contest with Brown last Saturday, Santoro batted .500 percent getting one two bagger.

Captain Boynton's sore arm has caused Coach Davis to shift him temporarily to first-base and to put Nichols in his place. Ward will continue in center field and Hoyt, at second base, but McLean will replace Howland at third and Burger will probably take Becket's place in left field, Patton or Holmes will pitch.

Since Williams and Holy Cross have met no common opponents this spring it is impossible to make an accurate comparison of the strength of the two teams. The probable line-up will be as follows:

WILLIAMS		HOLY CROSS
Hoyt	2b	If	Leo Dugan
Field	rf	ss	Gagnon
Boynton	1b	cf	Len Dugan
Finn	c	cf	O'Connor
Ward	cf	rf	Gildea,
			Doherty
McLean	3b	3b	Santoro
Nichols	ss	2b	Maguire
Becket, Burger	lf	c	Walsh
Patton, Holmes	p	p	Horan, Gill,

Horace Fort to Address Forum

In addressing the Forum tomorrow evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall, Mr. Horace Fort of the Berkley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn., will take as his subject "Captives of Success." As he is an ardent student of industrial and social conditions, he will undoubtedly touch on the merits and defects of the present system. During the War Mr. Fort served for several years with the Y. M. C. A. attached to the British forces in German Southwest Africa and in India, and recently addressed a meeting of the W. C. A. upon India.

As usual open discussion will follow the principal address and the public is invited to attend.

PRES. GARFIELD SPEAKS

Addresses Annual Banquet of Connecticut Alumni

Speaking before the annual gathering of the Williams College Alumni Association of the Connecticut valley last Saturday night at the Nayasset Club, Springfield, President Garfield declared that if the fuel administrations plan for a permanent conference between the representatives of the operators, miners, and public had been adopted, the coal strike of last fall would never have taken place. Dr. Garfield further emphasized the need of recognizing not only the right of free speech in America, but also the right of being listened to by intelligent people.

The second speaker was Professor Roy K. Hack '05 of Harvard University, who ably analysed the world problems of today and called upon the educated man to point the way to a more human understanding between individuals. Preceding the dinner, the association re-elected the following officers: president, Dean Edward M. Lewis '96 of M. A. C.; first vice-president, E. T. Broadhurst '01; second vice-president, B. B. Snowden '08; treasurer, E. H. Marsh '91; secretary, M. C. Sherwood, '14; executive committee, J. C. Robinson '86, C. E. Street '96, J. M. Birnie '01.

LABRADOR DOCTOR WILL LECTURE NEXT THURSDAY

Famous Missionary Spoke Here in 1916—Will Return to Frozen North Soon

Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the famous Labrador doctor, will speak before the College under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association in Jesup Hall on Thursday at eight o'clock. Williams is very fortunate in having the opportunity of again hearing this celebrated doctor who addressed the College in 1916 and who is to make but one more speech before his return to Labrador.

Wilfred Thomason Grenfell was born at Parkgate, England, and graduated from Marlborough College, where he played on the rugby team. He later attended the University of London and then entered the London Hospital. He became house surgeon to Sir Frederick Treves at the hospital, but left to spend two terms at Queen's College, Oxford. He equipped the first hospital ship to cruise in the North Sea with the fishermen, and sailed with them to Iceland where he established homes for them on land and mission vessel on the sea. He came to Labrador in 1892 and built four hospitals, a school, an orphanage, and established a series of co-operative stores. In 1912, with the money which he had raised during the preceding ten years, he founded the King George V. Seaman Institute at St. Johns, Newfoundland. Williams College conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1909. He has published many books of his work with the fishermen of the far north, among them are Drift on a Pack of Ice, A Man's Faith, On the Rocks, The Adventure of Life, and lastly his autobiography A Labrador Doctor.

Through the efforts of Dr. Grenfell, the work of relief in the Labrador country has become well known to the world. His hospital ship, the Strathcona, travels more than two thousand miles a year, dispensing relief of all kinds. In addition to the ship, surgical work is done in the many lonely settlements scattered throughout the country, and services are held at those places on Sunday. Food and clothing are given to the needy natives, and a large orphanage is taking care of the children left destitute through the War and the influenza epidemic. In all the hospitals and orphanages, the work is more than the present size of the equipment is able to take care of, and more money is badly needed to carry on the Christian work. ## SPRING TRIANGULAR DEBATES ON FRIDAY

FIRST IN THREE YEARS

Will Discuss Question of Col- lective Bargaining—Sil- ver Cup for Winner

Williams will meet Brown University at Providence, R. I., and Dartmouth in Grace Hall at 8.00 o'clock next Friday evening, and Brown will oppose Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H., in the thirteenth annual triangular debate. The Williams team will uphold the negative here and the affirmative at Brown, whereas the Brown team will argue the negative at Hanover on the following question, "Resolved, That employers should recognize the right of employees to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choice in respect to wages, hours of labor, and other conditions of employment."

There have been no debates in the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams League since 1917 when Williams lost both contests. According to the rules of the league the silver loving cup offered for excellence in debating becomes the permanent property of the first college to win three championships.

The Dartmouth team which will uphold the affirmative in Grace Hall is: H. T. Pinney '22, of New London, Conn., J. L. Sullivan '21, of Manchester, N. H., S. B. Gorham '21, of New Bedford, with W. F. Mason '23 as alternate. The Williams team which will argue the negative here is: Atwell '21, of Dallas, Texas, Terry '22, of New York City, Hall '21, of Utica, N. Y., as alternate. Both Atwell and Hall have had previous experience in debating, having represented Williams last fall in the Amherst-Williams debate. Terry won the Freshman Declamation Contest last year, and Sedgwick was a member of his class debating team. The judges of the debate in Grace Hall will be as follows: Dean C. H. Pettet of the New Hampshire State College, President Howard Edwards of Rhode Island State College, and Mr. H. G. McKean, Professor of Rhetoric and Public Speaking at Union College. Before the debate and while the judges are considering their decision Mr. Salter will render selections on the organ.

MOODY '21 ELECTED TO CHAIRMANSHIP OF "LIT."

Three Juniors and One Sophomore Chosen Members of Editorial Staff

John Edwin Moody, 1921, of New York City, was elected chairman of the Literary Monthly for the ensuing College year at a meeting of the board yesterday evening in Jesup Hall. Moody is the fourth undergraduate in the history of the College who has headed the editorial staffs of both the Literary Monthly and the Purple Cow.

At the same time three juniors and one sophomore were elected to the editorial board. These were Robert Bruce Hyndman, 1921, of Greenwich, Conn., Alfred Cary Schlesinger, 1921, of College Point, N. Y., John Andrew Withrow, 1921, of Cincinnati, O., and Gilbert Page Simons, 1922, of Blauvelt, N. Y.

Moody prepared for college at Trinity School, New York City. While there he was on the editorial staff of the school paper and a member of the dramatic society. Since coming to Williams he has been for two years a member of the board of the Purple Cow of which he was recently elected editor-in-chief. He has been assistant press manager of the Musical Clubs and secretary of the Classical Society. Moody is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Tennis Season To Open Friday

In its first game of the 1920 season, the tennis team will meet Princeton at Princeton, N. J., next Friday afternoon. Owing to the recent bad weather conditions, work on the courts has been severely hampered, and no practice has as yet been held.

At present one court is in good condition, and it is hoped that two more will be ready for use tomorrow. No announcement of the names of the men who will make the trip had been made up to the time of going to press. The match at Princeton will be followed by another with Yale, at New Haven, Conn., on Saturday, May 1.

Pipe and Quill This Evening

Members of Pipe and Quill will meet at 8.00 o'clock this evening at the Chi Psi Lodge, Bushnell, Gillham, Hawes, Oppenheimer, and Ward '20 will present papers in addition to the reading, a one act play by Oppenheimer '20.

VARSITY DEFEATED BY UNION NINE 3-2

Williams Loses First Contest of 1920 Season by Series of Fielding Errors

BURROWS PITCHES WELL

Purple Shows Serious Lack of Practice—Adverse Weather Handicap to Players

Cold weather and a muddy field marred the opening game of the 1920 baseball season in which Union succeeded in nosing out Williams, by a close score of 3 to 2. Several costly errors by members of the Purple nine proved decisive in turning the tide in favor of the victors.

For the first game of the season the play was fairly good but the outstanding feature of the contest was the work of both pitchers who proved exceptionally effective. In spite of comparatively weak support from their teams, they were able to keep down the score and held the opposing batters at their mercy nearly the entire time. The work of the pitchers was very nearly equal; each gave two passes, but Burrows allowed only eight hits as compared with nine charged to his opponent. On the other hand, the Union moundman struck out 12 men to the Williams hurler's 11.

Throughout the game, the fielding was erratic and errors were frequent. In this respect, the Williams team was the worse offender and showed clearly lack of outdoor practice. Although wild throws by Boynton were partially responsible for Union's final and decisive run, the Purple captain stopped several difficult grounders and made one beautiful catch in addition to being effective at the bat. The batting honors, however, went to Burrows who made two hits out of the three times at bat, received a base on balls, and scored one of the Purple's runs. Captains Wittner and Bartley scored the runs for Union.

Reynolds opened the game auspiciously for Union by driving a triple to center-field. The Garnet's hopes however were premature, as Burrows fanned the next two batters and Ward caught a short fly by Captain Wittner, retiring the side. Williams, in turn was no more successful. With two out Boynton tripled far over the center fielder's head for the longest hit of the afternoon but was left on third when Finn fled out to Dean.

Union made the first score of the game in the second inning. With two out, Burrows passed Bartley who reached third base when G. Brucker singled, the latter taking second on the play at third base. Goff grounded out to Howland scoring Barkley. A short infield hit to Burrows ended the inning.

In the next frame, Burrows scored the first run for Williams. After winning a pass, he took third when the Union infield bungled an easy grounder by Hoyt. Field reached first base on an error by G. Brucker, scoring Burrows. Boynton singled, but Finn forced Hoyt at the plate, and Ward struck out.

The Purple made its second run in the fourth inning. With two out, Howland reached first base on an error. A pretty Texas Leaguer by Burrows put him on third; Hoyt singled, scoring Howland. Field popped out to short stop.

Union tied the score in the sixth when Bartley walked, took third on a long fly to Ward, and scored when Boynton, Stopping Goff's grounder, made a wild throw to first. A moment later Howland caught Reynolds' fly, ending the inning.

The final decisive tally came in the seventh inning. After striking out the first two batsmen, Burrows hit Capt. Wittner. An error by Boynton allowed him to take third base while Dean reached first in safety. Gilbert grounded to Boynton, but was safe when the throw went wide of the bag. Wittner, scored. Vol. 34 April 26, 1920 No. 9

Although the result of last Saturday's baseball game was unfortunate, it is no cause for anxiety over the season's prospects. Bad weather conditions and the resultant lack of practice provided a handicap which it was impossible to overcome against a strong opposing team. Union's victory is no true indication of the strength of the varsity, as the next two months will undoubtedly prove.

Voluntary Vespers

Perhaps the most important of the questions aroused in the agitation over chapel cuts is that of voluntary vesper services. The almost unanimous vote of the student body makes clear the undergraduate attitude, and in addition this belief is shared in by the majority of the outside preachers who have considered the situation.

There are two perfectly valid reasons in favor of making this service voluntary: first, that, except for compulsory chapel at 5.30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon would offer an opportunity for exercise which is afforded at no other time; second that compulsory chapel at this time prevents large audiences at the W. C. A. meetings in the evening.

Undoubtedly the first of these reasons is the cause of the universal dissatisfaction among the undergraduates. Especially at this time of year, when the weather is again pleasant after a five months siege of snow and zero temperatures, it is irritating, to say the least, to be deprived of the opportunity on Sunday afternoon for any protracted recreation—on the only afternoon of the week that is not interfered with by extra-curriculum activities.

That there is a casual connection between compulsory vesper services and small attendance at W. C. A. exercises is strongly supported by the statement of outside preachers to this effect. And it is entirely logical that such a connection exists. To repeat from our last issue.

"Two meetings of religious character in one day are sufficient to most men, and the number who desire to attend a third, (although it may be the most valuable of the lot) when the first two are compulsory is necessarily small".

REV. A. P. FITCH SPEAKS ON COMPULSORY CHAPEL

Present Institution Upheld at Well Attended Meeting Under W. C. A. Auspices

Advocating that the College chapel should be made more real and less superficial and that it should be compulsory, the Rev. Albert P. Fitch addressed one of the best attended W. C. A. meetings of the year last Sunday evening in Jesup Hall. The speaker expressed the opinion that the chapel exercises should be held to balance the work in the classrooms, but that the services should consist of more prayer, and especially silent prayer, more sacred music, and less actual instruction and preaching on the part of the minister.

That religious exercises raise men to the super-rational level, that of the realm of intuition, was the attitude of Dr. Fitch. More attention is being paid to the arts in the colleges because the arts train the heart and the emotional life, and these must keep pace with the education of the mind. The church must not be too much like the classroom, and the purpose must not be to instruct solely but to give the individual a feeling of God.

Dr. Fitch called awe and reverence the two greatest elements of worship. The former was defined as emotional stupefaction before God, a kind of Godly fear that was ennobling. Reverence was termed as a moral reaction, a sense of loyalty to the Superior Being. Moreover, worship is emotional, while the work in the classroom is analytical. The two must go together, for the worship provides a relief after the different kind of work taken up in the classes.

In speaking of compulsory chapel, Dr. Fitch expressed the opinion that the fact that chapel was compulsory would not destroy its value if the student loved the service for itself. Chapel should be made simple and universal, an expression of religious devotion. A discussion followed the speech.

Hold-ups Occur on Campus

Two masked men armed with revolvers held up Garvin '23 last Friday evening near Grace Hall, but as he had only 25 cents on his person which they refused to accept, he suffered no loss. Later in the evening, two students at the Botsford Tutoring School were also waylaid and the highwaymen relieved them of their watches and a small amount of change. Attempts by the local authorities to discover the identity of the malefactors have thus far been unsuccessful.

The work of the missions and hospitals is carried on through voluntary contributions. Because of the present high prices Dr. Grenfell has given up his furlough and has spent the time in lecturing in this country to raise money for the work.

The undertaking is Christian, but strictly non-sectarian. The workers are for the most part, volunteers, and assist in the surgical and other work connected with the missions. The public as well as members of the Faculty and the undergraduate body is invited to attend the lecture in Jesup Hall.

Spring Triangular Debates on Friday

During the past few weeks the varsity debaters have been working hard on the speeches and have held several trial debates in which Professors Clark, and Pratt and Dr. Bell have aided them, both as to delivery and subject matter.

BOYNTON IS CHOSEN TO HEAD WOOD CLUB*Parade on Weston Field During Union Game—Will Organize Hoover Club Tonight

First of the campaign movements preparatory to the Republican Convention on May 14 was a parade on Weston Field of about 50 supporters of General Wood held during the Union game last Saturday. Plans for the parade and the Wood campaign had been formulated at a meeting of the Wood Club held last Friday evening in Jesup Hall.

Boynton and Townsend '20 were chosen chairman and secretary respectively of the Wood movement at Williams which is affiliated with the National Leonard Wood League with headquarters in Boston. Reinhardt '20 was made chairman of a committee composed of Bogart, Holt '20, Dana, and Fuile '21 which will have charge of drawing up a constitution to be presented for ratification at the next meeting of the Club.

Short talks on the life of the General were given by Mr. Samuel Blagden, of Williamstown, and by Professor Morton. It was announced that the headquarters of the Club would be made in the room used last winter by the Outing Club. Within the next two weeks a speaker will be sent from the headquarters of the National movement in Boston to address the Wood men here.

Rallies of the followers of General Wood will be held every week, and the next meeting which will take place Wednesday evening, in the Jesup Hall Auditorium at 7.30 o'clock, Holt '20 will present a short sketch of the life, policies, and platform of Leonard Wood.

Plans are now also well under way for the organization of the Hoover Club and a meeting for that purpose will be held at 7.30 o'clock tonight in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. At this time officers will be elected and Professor Pratt will give a short talk. Plans will be formulated for the activities of the Hoover Club at Williams; and delegates will be selected to go to the conference of the College Hoover Clubs to be held at the Harvard Club, New York City on May 1. Ward '20, temporary chairman of the Hoover movement, has also announced that up to the time of going to press the total number of men who have allied themselves with the Hoover movement is over 135.

TRIALS HELD FOR FIRST MEET OF TRACK SEASON*Team Selected in 12 of 14 Events as Result of Contests on Wet Field

As a result of trials held last Saturday afternoon, the men who will run against Union in the first track meet of the season on May 1, were tentatively picked in 12 of the 14 events. Veterans of last year's team took first place in nine events whereas the dashes and discus throw were won by new men.

On account of the slow track and an extremely cold wind the times and distances were for the most part poor, but several of the events were close. Interest ran high in the finals of the 100- and 220-yard dashes, each of which was a close race between Coddington '21 and McWhorter '22, but in both cases the latter barely managed to nose out his opponent at the finish. In the mile run all of the runners remained bunched until the end, when Coan '21 sprinted and won by ten yards. Captain Brown '20 and Crofts '21 remained side by side in the two-mile run until the last stretch, when the former in a burst of speed came in ahead by about three yards. Anderson '20 won the high jump with out difficulty and then proceeded to add three inches to his mark. Phillips '22 took the 120-yard high hurdles from Barnes '23 in a close race.

The team picked as a result of the trials will be changed somewhat before Saturday's meet. Richmond '22, one of the strongest contenders in the 440-yard dash, was unable to take part in the trials on account of a sprained ankle, but he will be entered in the meet. The pole-vault and hammer-throw trials will take place early this week.

Coach Seeley in an interview after the meet declared that the sprints, which formed the chief problem last year, will be well taken care of by McWhorter and Coddington. He also said that the trials Saturday were valuable because of the practice the men obtained in competing in a real meet. The pole-vault, according to (Continued on page 4 col. 1)

Two American and one National League games were played on the Cole Field diamonds last Friday afternoon in the intramural baseball series. No games were played on Saturday on account of the varsity game with Union on Weston Field.

Errors and ragged playing characterized all the games to a great extent. The pitching seemed to be the deciding factor in all cases, as the bad condition of the field owing to the recent rains made consistent fielding almost impossible.

In an uphill fight to overcome a lead of six runs in the first inning, Psi Upsilon defeated Theta Delta Chi 10 to 8 in the first game. Cutler, who was substituted for Coburn in the second inning, was the individual star of the game, scoring three runs for the winners besides pitching very consistently. A double play, Patch to Williams, in the second inning and the fielding of Mosher were other features of the game.

In the second game Kappa Alpha defeated Phi Gamma Delta 10 to 5 in a very raggedly played game in which most of the runs were scored on errors. The game was very close until the beginning of the fourth inning when Kappa Alpha scored seven runs in a heavy batting rally and secured a lead which its opponents never threatened.

In the other game played Friday afternoon Sigma Phi defeated Zeta Psi by the score of 5 to 3. The game was a pitchers' battle throughout and was the most closely played of the day. For Sigma Phi, Black was the individual star, scoring two of his team's five runs. The game was featured by two three base hits in the third inning by Secor and Black.

TURNER '14 HONORED IN MEMORIAL PRIZES

TO BEGIN AWARDS IN 1920

$5000 Fund Given in Name of Gallant Alumnus Who Won Congressional Medal

In memory of Lieutenant William B. Turner '14, who was killed in action in France in September, 1918, and was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, his family has offered to endow two prizes amounting to $150 each, the income from a fund of $5,000. They will be awarded annually beginning with 1921 and will be known as the William Bradford Turner Prizes.

One will be for the best essay in the field of American History and Institutions and will be open to men who have completed the necessary courses on these subjects in the College curriculum. It has been suggested that a student, in order to compete for the prize, shall have completed the courses in Government 1-2 and History 3-4 and that he be taking History 9. The purpose of this prize will be to promote thorough and independent study of American History and of the republican ideals and habits of government which have inspired it from the beginning.

The other prize will be awarded to "that member of the graduating class who in the judgment of the graduating class shall have best fulfilled during his course his obligations to his College, his fellow-students, and himself". The award of this prize will be in accordance with the decision of a committee composed jointly of Faculty members and members of the Senior class. Complete details as to the appointment or election of this committee have not yet been decided.

The formal offer of these prizes was made last May, and an announcement of the gift appeared in the Alumni Review last July. However, due to a slight misunderstanding incident upon President Garfield's long absence from College as Fuel Administrator, a statement of the donation was omitted from the November catalogue. The prizes will be capitalized as soon as possible, and until the details of the endowment are worked out, the family of Lieut. Turner will pay in April of each year the sum of $300 to the treasurer of the College to ensure the annual award of the prizes. It was originally planned that the prizes should be awarded this year, but on account of the belated announcement they will not be given until 1921.

Lieut. Turner was the second Williams man to be honored with the Congressional Medal of Honor, which was awarded in (Continued on page 3, col. 3)

HONORS MEMORY OF SON

Mrs. Rockwood Establishes a Fund for Tennis Cup

In memory of her son, Richard Rockwood '14, who was killed in action in France, Mrs. R. L. Rockwood has offered to the College the sum of $1000, to be put in trust, the interest from which, approximately $50 a year, is to be expended for a cup. The cup will be given each year to the winner of the fall tennis tournament.

The Student Council, to which the communication telling of the gift was referred, gratefully accepted the gift on behalf of the student body, at its last meeting on Tuesday, April 19. The fund will be given to Mr. Botsford, the Graduate Treasurer, to be invested.

Mrs. Rockwood's gift was most appropriate, since her son played on the varsity tennis team for three years, and in his last year at College played on the team which won the intercollegiate championship.

1920 BASEBALL SQUAD

COLLEGE AIRMEN WILL COMPETE NEXT FRIDAY

Official Recognition of Aero Club Permits Williams to Enter Three Fliers

Through the action of the Athletic Council, which yesterday officially recognized the Williams Aero Club for a period of one year only, unless it shall prove itself worthy of further existence, Williams will be represented next Friday in the first air met of the Intercollegiate Flying Association, to be held at Mineola, L. I. The newly-sanctioned club has chosen Goodman, Lemmon '20, and Perry '21 to represent Williams in the carnival, in which Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, and Columbia will also compete.

The five events will be as follows: (1) take-off, circling, and landing to the mark, (2) maneuvering and acrobatics, to be executed at an altitude of at least 1500 feet, (3) obstacle race, (4) altitude test, (5) 100-mile cross-country race, course undecided. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for the first three places in each event. In addition to these, the American Flying Club Trophy will be presented to the college scoring the greatest number of points, the Aero Club of Massachusetts Trophy to the victor in the cross-country race, and the Cleveland Aviation Club Trophy to the college placing first in the remaining four events. All airplanes will be furnished by the government.

Honor Men to Banquet

President Ferry, of Hamilton College, will be the principal speaker at the Phi Beta Kappa Society banquet, to be given in the Commons Room in Currier Hall tonight at 8.00 o'clock. Judge Tenney '86 of Williamstown will act as toastmaster. All the alumni, faculty, and undergraduate members of the society have been invited to be present, as well as any other members of the society who happen to be in Williamstown at this time.

Hoover Club to Meet Monday

Dr. Long, Ward '20, and Lyon '22 will be the principal speakers at a political rally to be held by the Hoover Club next Monday evening at 7.45 in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. A report will also be made at this time by one of the delegates sent to the conference of the College Hoover Clubs in New York City.

Members of other political clubs in College are invited to attend a meeting. After short talks by the regular speakers of the evening the meeting will be thrown open for open discussion and informal debate.

WILLIAMS TO OPPOSE UNION IN TRACK MEET

FIRST CONTEST OF SEASON

Union Squad includes 8 Veterans—Opponents Are Evenly Matched in all Events

Williams will face Union in the first track meet of the season tomorrow afternoon on Alexander Field, Schenectady. No direct comparison of the strength of the two teams can be made since neither college has held a meet yet this spring, but both are considered the strongest either institution has had in several years and the score will probably be close.

No less than 18 veterans form the nucleus of the Williams squad, and all of the men may be considered as very likely point winners. Captain Brown '20, and Crofts and Coan '21 have scored frequently in the distance runs in former years, while Coddling '21 and McWhorter '22 will be the mainstays of the team in the sprints. The Purple team is weakest in (Continued on page 3, col. 4)

POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS SHOW MARKED PROGRESS

Fieser '20 President of Hoover Club—Has Largest Membership Total in College

Meetings of the Hoover and Wood Clubs and the distribution of Lowden propaganda constituted most of the political activities of the College during the week. Campaign plans for each man are being rapidly formulated, and before long it is expected that open warfare will be waged by the constituents of the three candidates for the Republican nomination.

Campaign plans and the election of officers took place at the first meeting of the Hoover Club which was held last Monday evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. Pamphlets on the life of Hoover were given out and it was announced that the membership of the Club had reached 175, making it the largest of the political organizations in College.

Fieser '20 was elected president of the Club and Preston '22 was continued in his office of secretary. An executive committee composed of Winslow '20, Heath, and Joslyn '21 was also elected. One member of the faculty and Preston '22 will be sent to the conference of College Hoover Clubs at the Harvard Club in New York City tomorrow morning.

Speeches were made by Professor Pratt, president of the Faculty Hoover Club, and by Ward '20 on the life of Hoover. After the primary elections are held, men will be sent up from the National Headquarters to address the Club; and in the meantime arrangements will be made for a series of informal debates with the Wood Club.

Holt '20 spoke on the life and policies of General Wood at a meeting of the Wood Club last Wednesday evening. The debate with the Hoover Club was discussed and it was decided to send membership blanks around to all the fraternities and the Commons Club in the near future. It was also announced that a speaker will soon come to Williams from the Leonard Wood headquarters in Boston.

Activities of the Lowden supporters during the week included the distribution of circulars around the College and negotiations to secure outside speakers. Judge Tenney '86, of Williamstown, and Professor T. C. Smith will speak on Lowden in the near future.

Elect 1921 Supper Committee

Belcher, Frazier, and Hibbard '21 were elected members of the Junior Class Supper Committee, at a meeting of the class last Monday evening in Jesup Hall.

COLUMBIA TO OPPOSE WILLIAMS TOMORROW

FIRST OUT OF TOWN GAME

Blue and White Team's Record Includes Four Victories and But One Defeat

Williams will meet the strong Columbia nine tomorrow afternoon on South Field, New York City, in the first game of the season to be played out of town. The excellent record of the latter team in its games so far this season, combined with the poor start made by the Purple in the Union game and the change in line-up necessitated by Captain Boynton's sore arm, will probably give a decided advantage to the Blue and White.

Four victories have been scored by Columbia over N. Y. U., Colgate, C. C. N. Y., and Harvard, respectively, and a single defeat was incurred at the hands of Princeton. The games with Wesleyan and Yale had to be cancelled on account of poor weather conditions.

Against N. Y. U. on April 7, the Columbia team played well in spite of cold weather and a wet field, winning easily by a score of 4 to 1. Mid-season form was displayed the following week against the strong Colgate nine which was defeated by a 2 to 1 score as a result of an error in the seventh inning. Throughout the game the Columbia team played errorless ball. Princeton administered the only defeat of the season to-date in a close game ending 4 to 2, Princeton's four runs being due principally to nine errors made by Columbia. During the last week-end C. C. N. Y. and Harvard were successively defeated by the respective scores of 9 to 6 and 4 to 2. A total of twenty hits was made by the Blue and White in the two contests.

Telford is the only man on the Columbia nine who is not a veteran of one or two years' experience, so that the team is of well-balanced, veteran material throughout. The strongest department is, without doubt, the pitching staff with three men, Farrell, Koenig, and Meany, all doing excellent work. In the game with N. Y. U. Farrell fanned seven Violet batters in the three innings he pitched. Koenig and Meany also pitched, and held the opposition well in check. Meany proved himself especially efficient in the pinches, later striking out nine men in the Harvard contest. Ackerman, last year's hard-hitting (Continued on page 4, col. 4)

TO PLAY TWO MATCHES

Tennis Schedule Opens with Yale and Princeton

Matches with Princeton at Princeton, N. J., this afternoon and with Yale tomorrow afternoon, at New Haven, Conn., will open the 1920 schedule of the tennis team. On account of the unfavorable weather conditions which have postponed openings of the tennis season, little information is available with respect to the strength of the two opposing teams, both of which are composed mostly of new material.

As a result of the practice matches during the past two weeks the following four men have been selected to make the trip; Captain Pollard '20, Bullock, Fraker '21, and Rowse '22. Pollard and Rowse will probably compose one doubles team, and Bullock and Fraker the other, while all four will play singles matches.

Rainy weather has handicapped the team so far this spring, but four courts have been put in condition during the last week, and the remaining four will be in good shape shortly providing fair weather permits work on them. The present team is merely temporary, and Captain Pollard is desirous of seeing a large number of candidates report for regular practice next week.

Vol. 34 April 30, 1920 No. 10

The thanks of the College are due the family of Lieutenant William Bradford Turner for their generous gift of the substantial prize fund to perpetuate his memory. It is unfortunate that a misunderstanding arose which resulted in the belated announcement of the prizes and consequently the decision to postpone the award until next year. The first of the prizes is particularly welcome during these times of unrest designed as it is to foster a genuine spirit of Americanism through an exhaustive study of American History and republican ideals. The second, to the senior who has best "fulfilled his obligations to his College, his fellow-students, and himself", is a prize for general merit and fills a long-felt want in a list of awards for successful effort in special fields. No more fitting tribute could have been devised to honor one of Williams' greatest war heroes.

The Value of the Campaign

If genuine interest can be measured by outward appearances, the political campaign is stimulating the undergraduate body to great curiosity concerning the present presidential race. Whether this inquisitiveness results in anything more than wearing buttons, shouting cheers, and marching in parades, is another matter.

The mock convention has a higher purpose than to furnish amusement for its participants. It offers a real opportunity to men who either are, or soon will be voters to learn how a part of the great American game of politics is played. Much has been said in the past, and is being said today, about the leadership of the college men. It is agreed that to him is assigned the task of guiding the country through the maze of future fortunes and disasters. To do this he must have a knowledge of the manner in which the government is conducted. And since the character of the chief executive often determines whether or not the government fulfills its function well, his election is an important event. By reproducing as exactly as possible this election, therefore, as unusual opportunity is offered to those who take part. But attendance at meetings is not sufficient. Only by a thorough study of the issues of the campaign, of the manner in which the convention is managed, and of the qualifications of the various candidates, can any permanent benefit accrue.

Do not accept the first button that is offered to you merely for the sake of wearing a button. Find out for yourself who the best man is, and know why you favor his candidacy.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.

recognition of his "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action" while engaged in an attack on the Hindenburg Line. After he had rushed an enemy machine gun nest single-handed and killed the crew with his revolver, he led his command over three lines of German trenches regardless of the fact that he had been wounded three times. The supporting forces, however, failed to break the German defence, with the result that Lieut. Turner and his men were cut off, and only four survived to be captured. After their release these four men gave a full account of the gallant action and death of their commander.

To Present "Stop Thief" again

Cap and Bells will present its performance of Stop Thief at the Parish Hall, Glens Falls, N. Y., at 8.15 o'clock on Tuesday evening, May 11, in which the regular cast of the Easter trip will take part. The performance will be managed by the Sophomore Prom. Committee, and all proceeds above expenses will be used to defray the deficit incurred by the sophomore class at the time of the Prom. All proceeds above that deficit will go to Cap and Bells.

The performance will be followed by a dance, for which music will be furnished by an orchestra consisting of Greer, Luedeke, Rounds '22, and Jones and Morse '23. The cast, managers, and committee will leave Williamstown by automobile after the last class on Tuesday afternoon and will return after the dance, thereby eliminating the necessity of using cuts. Tickets may be obtained from Kellogg '22, who is acting as local manager for the Glens Falls performance.

In addition to the list of names recently published in the RECORD, the following men have received ten per cent cuts: Becket, Humphreys, Thomas '20, Coan, Heath '21, and Brune '22.

Union is relying on Hughes, W. L. Jones and Captain Beekman for the majority of its points, and each is entered in at least three events. Potter will again represent the Garnet in the dashes and Freedman is counted upon to place in the two mile run. Besides Captain Beekman, two new men, DuBois and Speer, will compete in the weight events, materially strengthening the Union squad at these points.

The list of entries follows:

Six teams maintained perfect records in the intramurals this week as a result of five games played Monday and Tuesday afternoons on Cole Field. Rain made necessary the postponement of the contests scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, so that most of the teams have been in action only once to date.

Tight fielding characterized the game between the Commons Club and Delta Kappa Epsilon, in which the former scored its second victory by a 3 to 1 score. The feature of the contest came when Brown caught Burger's liner with the bases full and none out and the Commons Club made a triple play.

In a close game with numerous errors Chi Psi won from Beta Theta Pi by the score of 6 to 5. Painter and Lyon pitched well for their respective teams. In the last inning Beta Theta Pi had men on first and third but lost the chance to tie the score when Lyon struck out the next batter.

Due to the effective pitching of Clark, who allowed only two hits, Delta Psi triumphed over Alpha Delta Phi 10 to 3 in a fairly good game. Chapin, the catcher for the winning team, excelled in batting. Mallon was the best player on the losing side.

In the last game Monday afternoon the Faculty Club won from Delta Upsilon by a 7 to 4 score. The contest was so ragged that it was almost a continuous round of errors. Grindy, the Delta Upsilon twirler, allowed only three hits and Withington also pitched well.

Going to pieces in the fourth inning, the Phi Delta Theta team let in 12 runs and permitted Phi Sigma Kappa to win Tuesday's contest by the score of 14 to 6. Carey pitched effectively until the ball was wet and slippery, when he became wild, but Greeff did not lose control. The winning team played an excellent game in the field considering the poor condition of the ground.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Northfield Event Changed to Site on Lake George

Silver Bay, Lake George, N. Y., has been selected as the location of the 35th annual religious conference of eastern college students to be held during the week of June 25 to July 4. Composition and organization of the Williams delegation will be decided upon at the next meeting of the W. C. A. cabinet.

Similar to the previous conferences held at Northfield for a number of years, the present one will have for its purpose the gathering together of men from all the eastern colleges to discuss the moral and religious problems of the day, and to promote intercollegiate fellowship. Over 100 colleges have already signified their intention of sending delegations, and registrations will have to be made promptly as the total number of delegates will be limited to 800.

The setting of the place, near Ticonderoga, offers more ideal conditions than at Northfield for tennis, boating, swimming, mountain climbing, and fishing, as well as the use of a new gymnasium, and the committee in charge has already made plans for an extensive athletic program throughout the days of the conference. The list of prominent speakers who have been secured will be announced in the near future.

Columbia To Oppose Williams Tomorrow

the first sack this year, with Hauck at second, Weschler at short, and Tedford at third, rounding out the infield. The outfield is composed entirely of veterans with Houlahan in left, Weinstein in center, and Goodman in right.

Captain Boynton's sore arm has caused Coach Davis to shift him temporarily to first base, and Nichols will replace him at short-stop. Howland will be replaced at third by McLean, and Becket's position in leftfield will probably be taken by Burger. Either Burrows, Holmes, or Patton will pitch. Since the Union game, Coach Davis has been laying particular emphasis on the offence, and the team should hit its stride in catcher, is displaying fine form behind the bat, as well as in the hitting department. Captain Schnaars is covering batting by the end of the week. Varsity practice has been hampered this week by rainy weather, which also necessitated the cancelling of the Holy Cross game, but as both teams have suffered the same handicap, it is not likely to prove disastrous.

The probable line-up will be as follows:

WILLIAMS		COLUMBIA
Hoyt	3b	3b Tedford
Field	rf	1b Schnaars
Boynton	1b	lf Houlahan
Finn	c	c Ackerman
Ward	cf	2b Hauck
McLean	3b	rf Goodman

Rev. Dr. Ross to Preach

Rev. G. A. Johnston Ross, D. D., of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will occupy the pulpit in the College Chapel next Sunday morning. Dr. Ross graduated from the Royal Academy at Liverpool, Scotland, and in 1884 received his M. A. degree from the University of Edinburgh. Four years later he completed his preparation for the ministry at the United Presbyterian College in Edinburgh, where he was ordained in 1890.

After preaching in Scotland and England for 19 years he accepted a pastorate at Bryn Mawr, Pa. In 1912 he was made Professor of Practical Theology at the Presbyterian College in Montreal, and later in the same year he accepted his present position as Professor of Homiletics at the Union Theological Seminary. No arrangement has been made as yet for a speaker at the meeting of the Williams Christian Association.

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Inter-church World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

1 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK AT HOME. A score of times come under this head. Consider only one. Five and a half million people in the United States cannot even read and write the English language. Whole to carry forward this vast work of Americanization if the church does not?

2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES. Every year thousands of men and women seriously ill are turned away from Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children's homes are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.

3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. Of the 450,000 American students in institutions of higher grade, one-half are in institutions founded and supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have had no great endowment campaigns, but their needs are just as pressing as the needs of larger schools, and you have only to read their list of alumni and alumnae to measure the value of their contribution to America.

4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. At least 12,000,000 children and young people under 25 years of age are entering American life without any religious training at all. Remembering the faith of Washington and Lincoln, do you think that America will continue to produce Washingtons and Lincolns if faith dies out of the hearts of its youth?

5 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK ABROAD. Influenza came first from the Orient thirty years ago; nearly all plagues are Oriental plagues. So long as China has only one physician to every 400,000 people the Orient will continue to be a menace. So long as one-third of the babies of India die before their second year our own babies are not safe. A Christian doctor or teacher sent abroad is working for America as truly as though he worked at home.

6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "forgotten man," and well he may be. Eight out of ten preachers are paid less than $20 a week!

DARTMOUTH DEBATERS OPPOSE PURPLE HERE

FIRST IN THREE YEARS

Collective Bargaining to Be Discussed—Williams Affirmative at Brown

Williams will oppose Brown University at Providence, R. I., and Dartmouth in Grace Hall tonight at 8.00 o'clock in the thirteenth annual triangular debate. This will be the first of these contests to be held since 1917 when Williams lost to both the other teams.

Dartmouth will uphold the affirmative here and the Purple will present the same side of the question at Providence. Brown will take the negative at Hanover, N. H. The subject of the debate will be "Resolved, That employers should recognize the right of employees to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choice in respect to wages, hours of labor and other conditions of employment."

Dartmouth will be represented by H. T. Pinney '22, of New London, Conn., J. L. Sullivan '21, of Manchester, N. H., S. B. Gorham '21, of New Bedford, Mass., with W. F. Mason '23 as alternate. The opposing Williams team will be composed of Webster Atwell '21, of Dallas, Texas, J. Hendrick Terry '22, of New York City, Cameron P. Hall '21, of New York City, with John P. Sedgwick '21, of Utica, New York, as alternate. Atwell and Hall have represented Williams in former debates. Terry was the winner of the Freshman Declamation Contest here last year, and Sedgwick has been a member of his class debating team.

The judges in Grace Hall will be: Dean C. H. Pettee, of New Hampshire State College, President Howard Edwards, of Rhode Island State College and Mr. H. G. McKean, Professor of Rhetoric and Public Speaking of Union College. Mr. Salter will render selections on the organ before the debate and while the judges are forming their decisions. After the contest the debaters, judges, and members of the faculty will be invited to attend a reception at President Garfield's house.

Hiram Lyon '22, of Buffalo, N. Y., Howard R. Coan '21, of Urumia, Persia, Walter P. Hedden '20 of Newark, N. J., with Richard B. Cole '21, of West Newton, Mass., as alternate will speak the affirmative at Providence. Lyon and Cole have been on Williams debating teams in the past, Coan was captain of his class team until he became an alternate on the varsity. Hedden has represented his class in debating. The Brown debaters will be: R. S. Squiers '22, W. Gardner '20, R. D. Gerstenlauer '22, with P. K. Wilson '23 as alternate.

Several trial debates have been held recently before Professors Clarke and Pratt and Dr. Bell, and the team has received valuable assistance in regard to delivery and subject matter. A silver cup will be given to the first college winning the debate three times.

GOLF SEASON TO START

Team will Play University of Pennsylvania on May 8

Henderson '20, manager of the varsity golf team, has arranged a schedule of six games for the spring season. In addition to matches with different colleges, the team will be entered in the Intercollegiate, which will take place at Garden City, L. I. on June 22.

In the first contest of the season the varsity will oppose the sextet of the University of Pennsylvania on the links of the Nassau Country Club, at Glen Cove, L. I. The Purple will also meet Cornell, Yale, and Amherst, none of which was included in last year's schedule, but to compensate for two of these additions no date has been filled with either Dartmouth or Columbia. At the present time the men who are competing for the team are Captain Black, Jones, Murdock '20, Adams, Sedgwick '21, Baker, Hemphill, and Simmons '23. Practice thus far, however, has been seriously hampered by weather conditions.

The entire schedule, as ratified by the Athletic Council, is as follows:

May 8—University of Pennsylvania, at Glen Cove, L. I.
May 13—Cornell, at North Adams
May 15—Yale, at New Haven, Conn.
May 26—Harvard, at Greenfield.
May 31—Amherst, at Greenfield.
June 22—Intercollegiate, at Garden City, L. I.

CERTIFICATE RECEIVED FOR AMBULANCE NO. 726

Car Donated and Maintained by Students and Alumni Wins Fine Record

In recognition of the generosity of the students and friends of Williams College who donated ambulance car number 726, a Certificate of Service has been received by Professor Carl E. Weston from the American Ambulance Field Service in France. The certificate, which is in water colors illuminated in red and blue, with the seal of the Service attached, will be framed along with the brass plate inscribed "Williams College" which the ambulance bore while in action and will be placed among the other war relics of the College.

Funds were raised in 1917 to the amount of $1800 by students and alumni for the purpose of equipping and maintaining an ambulance in France. Ambulance number 726, purchased by this fund, left for the front June 17, 1917, as a part of Section Sanitaire Number 28. It was attached to the 134th Division of the French Army, operating in the Champagne Sector while the unit was cantoned at Marmelon le Grand, serving the advanced "poste de secours" of Village Gascon. Six of the drivers were killed or wounded during this period, in consequence of which the Section was cited with the order of the division for distinguished conduct under fire. When the American Ambulance Field Service was federalized, this car was turned over to the United States Army Ambulance Service which operated with the French Army.

Burger Captain 1922 Nine

William Chapman Burger of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected captain of the 1922 baseball team at a meeting of the squad last Tuesday afternoon in Jesup Hall. He played two years on the Choate nine previous to entering College, and held the position of catcher on the Sophomore team which won the interclass championship last fall.

Pring '23 has resigned from the competition for the assistant business managership of the Williams Handbook.

Horace Fort Declares that Un- earned Incomes Controvert Spirit of Democracy

Condemning the present social system in the United States as essentially capitalistic and consequently unfair to the citizens of the country, Mr. Horace Fort, of the Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn., addressed the final meeting of the Forum for this year, last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. He declared that the one great instinct that has perverted society,—the instinct to acquire wealth,—is the direct outcome of the American system of competitive profit-making.

Mr. Fort pointed out the unfairness of the industrial system as organized at present, giving examples of its evil effects both on individuals and on society. In the United States 60 per cent of the total wealth is divided among two per cent of the total population; one-half the children of the country are financially unable to complete their high school education; in many instances the government is corrupted by rich corporations, as was recently the case when the New York, New Haven, and Hartford railroad was found to control the Connecticut state government; and above all, the spirit of democracy cannot exist where deception for personal ends is the foundation of a national economic system. In India, where the speaker spent several years, the craving for wealth is so strong that whole villages are run by money-lenders, a vast population is oppressed with famine, and any expression of democratic feeling by the natives is forcibly suppressed, often by dint of bloodshed.

The citizens of this country, are furthermore, captives of a government run by men who are themselves captives of success, of the "almighty dollar." Because the government has been changed from a governing body into a money-making proposition, which merely deprives its citizens of certain personal liberties, Mr. Fort said that he does not believe in voting and never has.

He stated that the responsibility of establishing social justice rests upon the students of today. Three things must be done in order to effect a remedy. Every young man must study the modern industrial system intelligently, from every point of view. Secondly, every man must put himself into a position of absolute self-dependence, that he may understand the injustices existing for those who must work to live. Lastly, unearned incomes must be done away with, in order to create a fairer distribution of wealth.

In answer to queries propounded after his talk, Mr. Fort said that the strongest remedial tendency at present was toward the increased socialization of wealth and property. He also declared that the state should pay, where necessary, for the education through college of every child.

1922 NINE IS DEFEATED*First Interclass Game Won by Freshmen by 14-1 Score

1923 defeated 1922 on Weston Field by the score of 14 to 1 last Tuesday afternoon in the first of the interclass baseball series. Play for both sides was very ragged due to lack of practice and a heavy downpour of rain during most of the game.

Effective pitching by Clark '23 was the outstanding feature of the game as only four hits were allowed the Sophomores during the entire contest. R. Smith '22 was the individual star for the second year men, with a single and a double to his credit.

Two runs were scored by the Freshmen in the first inning on hits by Mallon and Boynton and a pass given to Wightman. From that time on the Freshmen were never threatened by their opponents, the single run by 1922 coming in the seventh inning, just before the game was called on account of rain and darkness. The heaviest scoring of the afternoon occurred in the fifth inning, when hits by Mallon, Boynton, Richmond, Bixby, Hemphill, and Monjo netted four runs for 1923. The score by innings is as follows:

Batteries: 1922—Wakeman, Buell, and R. Smith; 1923—Clark and Boynton. Umpire—Burrows '20.

Each man, upon payment of this fee, will receive a card of receipt, which he must carry with him when using the club's links. Anyone wishing to take advantage of this offer should send his name to Mr. D. J. Ensign, at the North Adams Trust Company.

The WISE buyer will consider carefully three things:—quality, quantity and price.

TRACK TEAM GAINS DECISIVE VICTORY OVER UNION BUT COLUMBIA WINS BASEBALL GAME

PURPLE TAKES 9 OUT OF 14 FIRSTS IN 80-46 TRIUMPH

BEEKMAN SETS RECORD

Union Man Throws Hammer 132 ft. 9 1-2 in.—Team Shows Strength on Track

Showing strength on the track by taking seven out of eight firsts and relative weakness in the field events in which it took but two firsts, the Williams track team defeated Union last Saturday afternoon at Schenectady in the first meet of the season by a score of 80 to 46. Beekman of Union with two firsts and a second to his credit was high point man of the meet, with Hughes of Union second with 11 points and McWhorter of Williams third with ten; Miller of Union took the only other first won by the Garnet.

The dashes and hurdles were marred by very poor starting. As a result Coddington was left on his marks in the 100-yard dash which was won easily by McWhorter in 10 3-5 seconds, good time considering the strong wind against him. W. L. Jones and Hughes took second and third places. The 220-yard dash resulted in another victory for McWhorter in the fast time of 23 seconds with Coddington second and W. L. Jones third.

Chapin's winning of the pole-vault at 10 feet, 10 inches was one of the biggest surprises of the afternoon although Wallace's victory in the high jump at 5 feet, 6 inches was equally unexpected. The 880-yard run resulted in a pretty race between Kellogg and Crofts with the former taking the lead on the second lap and finishing some two yards ahead; Northrop took third. The 440-yard dash resulted in another clean sweep for the Purple runners. Captain Brown won it easily in 53 seconds flat, Richmond and Allen taking the other two places. Immediately afterwards, before the runners had time to regain their breath, the 2 mile run was called. Crofts took first place and Brown second, with Watson of Union third. In the mile run, Parker led during a fast first lap maintaining his place until the third lap when Coan passed into the lead and held it to the finish. Fasce, passed Parker on the last lap coming in second with Parker third.

Despite seven false starts, not the fault of the contestants, Phillips won the high hurdles in the good time, considering the wind, of 16 1-5 seconds and took second, in the low hurdles which were won by Hughes of Union. Barnes took second in the former race. Beekman of Union set a new record of 132 feet, 9 1-2 inches in the hammer throw and also won the discus. Towne and Becket took second places in these events. Keiser and Wickwire with a second and third in the broad jump and Mills with third in the shot put completed the scoring for Williams.

The summary of events follows:

100-yard dash—won by McWhorter (W); second, W. L. Jones (U); third, Hughes (U); time, 10 3-5 seconds.

880-yard run—won by Kellogg (W); second, Crofts (W); third, Northrop (W); time, 2 minutes, 6 2-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Phillips (W); second, Barnes (W); third, V. Lyman (U); time 16 1-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by H. H. Brown (W); second, Richmond (W); third, Allen (W); time 53 seconds.

Two-mile run—won by Crofts (W); second, H. H. Brown (W); third, Watson (U); time, 10 minutes, 30 2-5 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—won by Hughes (U); second, Phillips (W); third, V. Lyman (U); time 27 4-5 seconds.

One-mile run—won by Coan (W); second, Fasce (W); third, Parker (W); time, 4 minutes, 52 1-5 seconds.

ERRORS ADD TO SCORE

Meaney, Pitcher for Blue and Gold, Plays Stellar Game with 13 Strike-outs

Completely outplayed in all departments, the varsity baseball nine lost the second game of the season to Columbia by an 8 to 1 score on South Field, New York, last Saturday afternoon. Although the Purple team kept an even footing with their opponents during the first three and a half innings, the superior pitching of Meaney and the poor fielding and batting of the varsity gave the advantage of Columbia from that point on, and the New York team scored two runs in each of the four succeeding innings.

Although Columbia made only four more hits than the varsity, frequent errors by the Williams team at critical moments were responsible for its decisive defeat. Finn was the only man on the Purple squad who was able to find the opposing pitcher with any consistency, making two singles and one two-base hit out of four times at bat. Two singles by Captain Boynton and one by C. Boynton, who went in for Ward at center field in the sixth inning, made up the remainder of the varsity's work at the bat.

Meaney, the opposing pitcher, was the backbone of the Columbia team, and besides striking out 13 batsmen he secured one three-bagger and one single. Tedford, the Columbia third baseman, also made one three-base hit and two singles. One error made by the Columbia nine as against 12 by the varsity is typical of the game as a whole.

Williams took the bat in the first half of the first inning. Hoyt and Field both struck out. Boynton grounded to Tedford. In the second half Tedford, who headed Columbia's batting list, reached first with a single and advanced to third but was thrown out at home. Schnaars also singled and advanced to second when Houlahan grounded out to Boynton. Ackerman singled but was put out trying to steal second, closing the frame.

Finn opened the second inning with a two-bagger to center field, but Ward struck out. McLean flied out to Houck and Nichols fanned, ending the Purple's half of this inning. In the second part of the frame Houck flied out to Hoyt. Goodman reached first on McLean's error but was forced out at second on a fielder's choice when Meaney grounded to Nichols. Weinstein reached first on McLean's wild throw and stole second but Farrell grounded out to Hoyt which ended the inning.

Burger grounded out to Meaney in the third and both Burrows and Hoyt struck out. In Columbia's half, Tedford and Schnaars grounded out, Houlahan walked and advanced to third on Finn's overthrow, and Ackerman made the third out, Nichols to Boynton.

Field, the first man up in the fourth, struck out, Boynton singled and stole second, but Finn flied out to Farrell and Ward fanned. In Columbia's half of this inning the first two runs of the game were scored. With Houck out on a grounder from Nichols, Goodman reached first on an error and came home on Meaney's three-base hit, the latter scoring on Burrow's wild throw. Weinstein and Schnaars made the second two outs with a foul fly to Finn and a grounder to Burrows respectively.

McLean hit a fly to Farrell in the first of the fifth, Nichols struck out, and Burger was hit by a pitched ball; Burrows ended the half frame with a fly to Houck. Col-

POLITICIANS DORMANT

Hoover, Lowden, and Wood Men Will Meet This Week

Activity on the part of the several college political clubs has been at low ebb for the past few days, but plans of campaign are being formed and it is expected that active hostility will soon commence. Meetings of the Hoover, Lowden, and Wood Clubs will be held this week.

At the meeting of the Hoover Club, to be held in the Jesup Hall Auditorium this evening at 7:45 o'clock, Dr. Long, Ward '20, and Lyon '22, will be the principal speakers. At this time reports will be made by Assistant Professor Brinsmade and Preston '22, the two delegates to the Conference of the College Hoover Clubs at the Harvard Club in New York City. Members of other political clubs in College are invited to attend this meeting. Following short talks by the speakers of the evening, the meeting will be thrown open to discussion and informal debate.

The Lowden men will meet next Wednesday evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room at 7:30 o'clock, at which time Judge Tenney '86, of Williamstown, will speak. The club's campaign manager has been in communication with the Lowden headquarters at Springfield, Ill., and has received pamphlets and other information concerning Lowden, which will be distributed at this meeting.

The executive committee of the Wood Club, composed of Reinhardt, chairman, Bogart, Holt '20, and Dana, Phillips, and Fulle '21, will meet next Monday evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room.

CHANCES POOR FOR VICTORY WEDNESDAY

VARSITY PLAYS VERMONT

Green and Gold Nine Is One of Strongest in East—Purple Line-Up Is Unchanged

Williams will face the University of Vermont baseball team, one of the strongest nines in the East, at Burlington next Wednesday afternoon. Prospects for a victory are slight as the varsity has lost the only two games played so far and Vermont is in the midst of an extremely successful season.

Coach Engle of the Green and Gold, who last year developed a team that won from a number of strong opponents has again produced a winning combination. On an extensive Southern trip undertaken in March, the nine nosed out Princeton after 15 innings, won from Georgetown and several other highly-rated teams, and suffered its only defeat at the hands of Fordham by a one-run margin. The regular season opened on

PURPLE DEBATERS WIN FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP IN 13TH SERIES OF BROWN-DARTMOUTH LEAGUE

DOUBLE VICTORY OF UNDEFEATED TEAMS CLOSES YEAR

Two to One Decision of Judges Decides Issue in Providence and Williamstown—Up-to-date Knowledge and Better Analysis of Question Are Deciding Factors

For the first time since becoming a member of the league, Williams debaters gained the championship of the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams Triangular Debating League by defeating the two rival institutions in the thirteenth annual debate, Friday evening. A 2 to 1 decision of the judges in Jesup Hall pronounced victory for the Purple negative team and the judges at Brown awarded the Williams affirmative team the verdict by a similar decision. Brown took second place in the league by defeating Dartmouth in the contest at Hanover, N. H.

Only twice before the present season have Williams debating teams won a double victory in either of the two triangular leagues of which the College is a member. In 1909 both Amherst and Wesleyan were defeated simultaneously for the first time in the history of the fall contests, and again in 1915 a double victory was repeated in the same league. In previous debates with Brown and Dartmouth four victories have been scored, although no two have occurred in the same year. The present achievement in connection with the championship of the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams League won last fall forms an entirely new record in history of intercollegiate debating at Williams.

WILLIAMS VS DARTMOUTH

President Garfield acted as presiding officer at the debate in Jesup Hall and the judges were Prof. A. C. Baird of Bates College, President Howard Edwards of Rhode Island State College, and Professor Horace G. McKean of Union College. After the final decision was announced Mrs. Garfield held a reception at the President's home in honor of the participants, judges, and members of the Faculty. The personnel of the two teams was as follows: Williams—James Hendrick Terry '22, Webster Atwell '21, (Captain), Cameron Parker Hall '21, with John Popham Sedgwick '21 as alternate; Dartmouth—J. I. Sullivan '21, H. T. Pinney '21, S. B. Gorham '21, with G. H. Mason '23 as alternate.

According to the opinion handed in by the majority of the judges the negative team won the debate on account of a more logical presentation of arguments and better selection of the main points to be attacked or defended in rebuttal. From the first main speech of each team it was clear that there was a distinct line of division along which the discussion was to proceed, although there was considerable quibbling over technicalities throughout. The negative team endeavored to tie down its opponents to defending some particular form of collective bargaining, while the affirmative team preferred to argue the general principle rather than specific applications for the most part. The negative sprang a surprise by offering a substitute plan for collective bargaining, and the ineffectiveness of the affirmative in seriously attacking any part of this substitute plan was largely responsible for the adverse decision against it. The latter team had, however, a decided edge in delivery with a polished, unhurried presentation which was highly effective. The weight of the argument lay with the negative team through their better analysis of the question, a broader discussion, resulting in a more forceful rebuttal. In presenting the first argument for the affirmative, Sullivan defined the main principles of collective bargaining and pointed out the necessity of changing present conditions. The suggested method is the only solution consistent with principles of equality because it favors laborers by allowing them to help judge cases in which they are concerned and at the same time aids capital by placing a sense of responsibility on the employees. The public will enjoy the effects of increased harmony between labor and capital, coupled with increased production.

Terry opened the case for the negative by stating that their purpose was the same as that of the affirmative—a proper solution of the present labor unrest. Collective bargaining could not be employed, however, because it is unfair to the employees, to the employers, and to the public. For the employees it means the "closed shop" as has been illustrated in nearly every case where collective bargaining has been extensively applied. Injustice to the employers is a very probable result on account of the irresponsibility and breaking the contracts by labor unions, while for the public no provision whatsoever is made.

Continuing the argument for the affirmative, Pinney refused to admit the question of trade unionism to the question as there are other methods such as the shop committees which may prove better. The worker should be accorded the same right as the employer to call in outside experts just as cases in law courts are not argued by laymen but by expert lawyers. Illiterate laborers, for instance are scarcely capable of properly representing themselves.

Atwell pointed out, in behalf of the negative, that shop committees are but a very small part of collective bargaining and that under any form there is great danger of vicious and radical elements being introduced, particularly through the present tendencies of the unions. The extension of collective bargaining to wage-earners must include policemen and public servants as well, and the country has shown its disapproval of this by condemning the Boston police strike.

As the final speaker for the affirmative, Gorham attacked the negative position endeavoring to show that it is simply the capitalist view-point. There is no necessity of arguing the principle of collective bargaining as it is already generally recognized. In the Colorado Coal mines since the great strike, as well as in many other industries, collective bargaining has proved highly successful to all concerned.

In closing the main speeches for the negative Hall pointed out the fact that the question should be brought down to practical points and not mere theories. It has proved ineffective in case after case with no provision or method of even enforcing its decisions. In conclusion he introduced the negative plan for the removal of strikes by penalizing those who incite them. A permanent adjustment commission should be established similar to American law courts on which the public shall have an overwhelming preponderance. Labor and capital disputes would be settled by this board, which would be eminently fair and impartial in contradistinction to collective bargaining.

In rebuttal, Terry quoted statements showing that shop commissions are in consistent with true collective bargaining. William Z. Foster, the radical agitator, is an example of the "outside expert" which collective bargaining seeks to introduce. The fact that the "closed shop" is an inevitable result had not been disproved by

The Debating Victory

Heartiest congratulations are due the members of Williams' victorious debating teams for their achievement last Friday. The event is particularly notable in that it closes a debating season without a parallel in the history of the College a season in which two championships have been won without a defeat. The recent victory is only the fourth that Williams has won as a member of the intercollegiate debating leagues with Amherst and Wesleyan, or with Dartmouth and Brown, and it is the first victory to be obtained in the latter group. At the present time Williams holds permanently the cup won by defeating Amherst and Wesleyan last fall for the third year, and last Friday's victory gives the Purple a leg on another debating prize.

That the teams have been able to accomplish so much in spite of the lack of a coach, and under the handicap imposed by the comparatively indifferent attitude of the undergraduate body adds greatly to their achievement. Debating has never been as popular at Williams as it is at a majority of the institutions with whom contests are held. And because the appeal of an intercollegiate debate is altogether intellectual, and has nothing of the excitement which accompanies an athletic contest, debating will undoubtedly never have the support accorded baseball, football, or any other sport. Nevertheless, there should be a large number of undergraduates to whom a debate, especially on as vital a subject as this year's would be of interest; but the attendances both last fall and this spring have been woefully small.

A very laudable effort was made by the contestants last Friday in changing their speeches to meet the occasion and to make the arguments of the opposing sides clash from the very beginning. One of the greatest objections to most intercollegiate debates is the formality with which they are conducted. "Cut and dried" speeches, which show only too plainly that they have been carefully written out and memorized beforehand, but which often have nothing in common with the opposing contentions which preceded, make the debate a series of rather dull declamations instead of an argument. The audience is interested in the contest between two teams, in the effectiveness with which one side overthrows the contentions of the other, and attempts to prove the proposition. By destroying to a certain degree this formality, then, the Williams teams should accomplish much toward making debates more interesting, and toward obtaining larger audiences in the future.

To the Editor of the Williams RECORD

Sir:
In addition to the gift in memory of her son, Richard Rockwood '16, the proceeds of which are to go to the purchase, each year, of the Rockwood Tennis Cup, Mrs. Rockwood has given another fund of $1,000, the interest of which is to be used each year in the purchase of French books for the college library. Her son Richard, while in College, was very much interested in French, and after his graduation continued his studies to an M. A. in French. Each book bought by the Rockwood memorial fund will bear within the cover a few facts in memoriam of Rockwood's life—that he was a winner of the Benedict prize in French, that he died for his country in France, Sept. 28, 1918, and that he won the Distinguished Service Cross and the Ordre de la Couronne with rank of Chevalier. In behalf of the French Department, I should like to express thus publicly our great appreciation of Mrs. Rockwood's gift. It will not take many years to accumulate a very considerable Rockwood library. We can hardly think of a more suitable memorial to Richard Rockwood, and, at the same time, more valuable to us.

Victory Wednesday

April 19 with a 4-1 victory over Boston College. On April 24 St. Lawrence University was beaten, and last Friday the University of West Virginia also went down to defeat.

The strongest asset of the Vermont nine is its pitching staff, and particularly Kibbee, who recently fanned the first three Boston College batsmen to face him. Patten and Duba has also displayed considerable ability on the mound. The entire team bats well, McGinnis and Kerwin being the surest hitters. In fielding the nine has made but few errors and has completed fast plays on numerous occasions. It is interesting to note that a New York sport writer picks the Vermont and Holy Cross teams as the two best in the East, judging by the records to date.

The Williams line-up will be the same as in the Columbia game. Either Patton or Holmes will be the probable choice for pitcher, although it is possible that McLean will be in the box. Hoyt or Mason will occupy second base, and Ward will play in center field. Captain Boynton's sore arm continues to bother him, and he will again play first base, with Nichols at shortstop. McLean will play third unless he pitches.

The probable line-up follows:

their opponents in the two intramural games played this week on Cole Field. Both games were close, the Delta Psi-Faculty contest requiring an extra inning. Poor fielding was the outstanding feature of the game between the Commons Club and Chi Psi which resulted in an 8-5 victory for the former. The batting on both sides was effective, and the pitchers were wild and easily hit. Combining five passes with a triple, a double, and several singles, the Commons Club scored seven runs in the first inning, adding an eighth in the third. The Chi Psi score came in the third inning when four passes and three singles sent five runs over the plate. A double play by the Commons Club, Schlesinger to Potter, in the fourth inning cut off a possible Chi Psi run. During the two innings he played, Wakeman pitched effectively for the winners.

Delta Psi defeated the Faculty Club in a close but loosely played contest by a score of 12-11. No pitcher lasted more than three innings and substitutions were frequent. The Faculty started well and scored seven runs in the first two innings. In the fifth, the Delta Psi team tallied seven times and tied the score, necessitating an extra inning. The pitchers for the Faculty gave six passes and allowed several extra base hits in this frame. In the extra inning, the winners scored one run and a possible tally for the losers was prevented when Mellen '23, the Delta Psi pitcher, caught Dr. Bell off third base. Mellen '21, featured at the bat for the victors, and Professor Galbraith batted perfectly for the Faculty.

the affirmative. In reply Sullivan pointed out that collective bargaining is not inconsistent with the negative plan itself and he further stated that where it was applied by the United States War Labor Board, the "closed shop" did not follow.

Hall showed that the affirmative points had been simply stated and not fully proved. If the affirmative refused to defend either the shop commissions or the labor unions, there is nothing left of collective bargaining. Pinney's rebuttal consisted mainly in showing that Foster had probably not been elected by the steel laborers themselves, and further that trade unionism and collective bargaining were not inseparable as proved by quotations of famous men who favored one but not the other.

The case was closed for the negative by Atwell in one of the most emphatic speeches of the evening in which he pointed out that consideration of the public is entirely left out of the plan for collective bargaining and that trade unionism with the consequent "closed shop" are inevitable results. Gorham closed the debate by reiterating statements that the negative plan meant simply collective bargaining as all arbitration must be preceded by bargaining. Excellent results have followed every application of collective bargaining.

WILLIAMS VS. BROWN

The decision of two to one in favor of the affirmative, represented by Williams, was rendered at Providence, R. I., by Prof. Herman Churchill of Rhode Island State College, Prof. Arthur Adams of Trinity College, and Mr. Merritt Y. Hughes of Boston University. Prof. Walter G. Everett of Brown presided at the debate. The personnel of the two teams was as follows: Williams—Hiran, William Lyon '22, Howard Radcliffe Coan '21, Walter Page Hedden '20 (Captain), with Richard Barton Cole '21 as alternate; Brown—J. A. Wilson '23, W. R. Gardner '20, R. D. Gerstenlauer '22, (Captain), with W. I. Waldan '23 as alternate.

Up-to-date knowledge of the subject combined with better interpretations of the issues of the debate were the chief reasons assigned by the judges for awarding the verdict to the affirmative team. The negative team developed points very ably which would have been true five or ten years ago but which no longer hold, and in consequence the affirmative's better appreciation of the issues of the question in its recent developments in America and abroad proved a very decisive factor. The chief fault in the negative argument lay in the fact that admitting the contention of the affirmative team that organization is necessary and effective for the protection of the workers, no attempt was made to offer any better solution than that of collective bargaining. The home team failed to realize that constructive criticism was called for fully as much as destructive criticism. The final point in favor of the affirmative team was its greater ability to adapt its conception of the question to the purposes of rebuttal.

Lyon opened the debate by showing the very important need of workers for protection at the present time. Collective bargaining presents the only reasonable and practical solution which has been offered to take care of this need. Under the modern industrial system of great organizations there is great inequality in the respective bargaining power of the employer or corporation and the individual worker, an inequality which only true collective bargaining can remedy.

As the first speaker for the negative, Wilson admitted the need for some form of labor organization but showed that collective bargaining, if so employed, would only result in decreasing personal skill and penalizing the good worker as he would receive the same standard wage and other conditions as the poorest man in his group. The plan would defeat its own purpose and be only a makeshift at best, for it would constantly encourage strikes for less hours and more pay.

In advancing the argument of the affirmative, Coan demonstrated that the only other alternative to collective bargaining is paternalism, which may be divided into two groups, that under the federal or state government and that by the employers themselves. Under either system numerous evils are bound to result and it becomes evident that a far better system is to permit the workers to assist in protecting themselves. Paternalism is both ineffective and undemocratic and so far has only resulted in failure.

The main part of Gardner's speech was occupied with assailing unionism in its various manifestations, showing that such labor organizations are generally organized simply in opposition to capital as is proved by sympathetic strikes. Irresponsibility and breaking of contracts is common, and unions are generally recognized as evil in Great Britain at the present time. Under collective bargaining production is curtailed and there is no tendency for any increase.

Closing the main argument for the affirmative Hedden showed that collective bargaining is essential to the future of industry as well as to the welfare of the general public in as much as it will insure industrial peace eventually with consequent increase in production and numerous other benefits. It is noteworthy that opposition on the part of employers has been largely responsible for

Phi Beta Kappa Holds Banquet

Thirty-five members of the Williams chapter of Phi Beta Kappa attended the annual banquet of the Society held in the Commons Room last Friday night. Judge Tenney '86, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Dr. Frederick Ferry '91, President of Hamilton College and former Dean of Williams. Dr. Ferry spoke on education and especially discipline in colleges and schools. The speaker termed the S. A. T. C. a failure and said that almost all colleges were now opposed to it. President Ferry traced the progress of forms of punishing student offenders from the first method of physical punishment, then through the stage of assessment of fines, to the present idea of suspension and probation. According to the speaker, the existing system of placing the students on their honor to behave has elevated the standards of the college man. Dr. Ferry criticized the increasing importance given vocational training and blamed that as one of the causes for the decline of scholarship in colleges. The speaker ended his address with a plea for liberal education.

Elect W. C. A. Officers Today

Election of the Williams Christian Association officers for the coming College year will take place from 12.00 to 1.00 o'clock this afternoon and from 5.00 to 7.00 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. Ballots may be obtained at the W. C. A. office by those men only who have signed to W. C. A. membership cards. The nominees are as follows: president—Hall, Noble '21; vice-president—Joslyn, Tyler '21; recording secretary—Burger, Lyon, '22; corresponding secretary—Beckwith, W. H. Prescott '22; treasurer—S. A. Anderson, Ayer, Wightman '23.

League Will Seek Members

An effort is being made by the National Security league to enroll 250 members in college before June 1. Each fraternity house and the Commons Club will be canvassed in the near future by a committee of which Bullock '21 is chairman.

W. C. A. IS DISCUSSED

Mr. Withington Shows Value of Works of Association

"Is the Williams Christian Association a failure?" was a question answered in Mr. Withington's informal talk before the meeting last Sunday evening in Jesup Hall. The speaker emphasized the point that the most successful work is that about which the College knows the least, chiefly the work among immigrants and mong boys, and the Sunday School teaching and preaching carried on in the different communities around Williams-town.

The speaker gave a short summary of the undertakings of the W. C. A. the purpose of which are to bring the sentiments and attitudes of the College to a higher plane. These works include the Sunday evening meetings, the greeting to the freshmen, the sending of delegates to conferences and conventions, the weekend entertainment deputations, the boys work, the assisting in the educating of immigrants, and the addressing of Sunday Schools and churches near Williams-town.

Columbia Wins Baseball Game

Columbia brought in two more runs in this inning with Houlahan and Ackerman reaching first on errors and going all the way round in the same manner. The inning closed with Honck's fly to Nichols, Goodman's to Hoyt, and Weinstein's strike-out.

Columbia scored twice both in the next and in the eighth inning. In the sixth Farrell singled, stole second, and after advancing to third on Tedford's flyout, came home on a wild throw while Schnaars advanced to third and scored on Houlahan's sacrifice. In the eighth with two men out Tedford hit a three-bagger, Schnaars walked, and both came home on Houlahan's single. The Williams nine made its only tally in the last round when Boynton singled, advanced to third on Finn's one-base hit and an error, came home on C. Boynton's single.

strikes, and if a larger share in control was given the workers it would follow the such strikes would diminish in late measure.

Gerstenlauer closed the main speech with a discussion of the dangerous power afforded to unionism by collective power. The mushroom growth of the American Federation of Labor and the questionable character of most of its officers offered evidence of this. Under such a plan the proposition of welding 35,000,000 workers into "one big union" as has been attempted elsewhere would not be by any means impossible. Radical element form a definite danger which could not be excluded.

In rebuttal the first negative speaker, Wilson, dwelt on the destruction of individual freedom caused by collective bargaining. He also reverted to the evil of unionism with its standard wage and restriction on output. Lyon in reply answered the argument on radicalism by showing the changed attitude of the unions and the restraining influence which they exert. Repression can only lead to radicalism, while the breaking of contracts will decrease as labor receives more responsibility. Herbert Hoover has stated that collective bargaining is the only method of reviving interest in production.

In the best rebuttal speech for the negative team Gardner emphasized the need for greater production, a condition which unions are constantly fighting against. Quotations from Comptroller well illustrate the insatiable ambition of labor organizations for more power. Coan attacked the argument that collective bargaining killed initiative on the part of the laborer by showing that strikes can only be called by a referendum and that workers desire collective bargaining which would be illogical if the fact were true. The political analogy illustrates the point well, for by giving people representation their independence is certainly not destroyed but rather increased.

Gerstenlauer closed the case for the negative by summing up their points in detail. He made the fatal admission that the negative team was not defending paternalism or any other system and that their criticism was entirely on collective bargaining or in a word, destructive. Hedden in an excellent rebuttal took advantage of this to point out that no better solution than collective bargaining had been offered and therefore the latter plan still stood supreme. He closed the debate with a thorough analysis of the various points at issue in the discussion and by a resumé of the affirmative points which in large measure had been unsuccessfully attacked.

Announce Large Donations at Meeting of Trustees

Announcement of gifts to the college totalling $61,000 and the making of Faculty appointments for the year 1920-21 occupied the greater part of the trustees meeting held yesterday morning in the Griffin Hall Library. The remainder of the meeting was taken up with regular routine business.

A gift of $22,500, completing a total donation of $25,000, the income from which will be used to increase the salaries of the teaching staff of the College, was made jointly by Herbert J. Brown '88, Orton B. Brown '92, W. Robinson Brown '97, and Downing P. Brown '08. $25,000 in Spokane International Railway first mortgage 5% bonds have been added to the Chapin Library maintenance fund by Alfred C. Chapin '09. $13,500 from the estate of Harriett E. Jones will be used to establish the Daniel A. Jones fund, the income from which will be used in caring for the College grounds.

Informal discussion took place regarding the chapel cut question, the turning over of Currier Hall to the Commons Club next year, and the final completion of plans for the Ephraim Williams memorial in the chapel, but no decision was reached on any of these matters.

Faculty appointments for next year will be announced sometime in the very near future. All of the Trustees of the College were present at the meeting with the exception of Senator W. M. Crane, Mr. Hale Holden '90, Mr. F. L. Stetson '67, and Mr. B. W. Warren '85.

POWER CHOSEN HEAD OF DRAMATIC ORGANIZATION

Cap and Bells Elects Atwell Secretary and C. Lawder Delegate-at-Large

John Whittlesey Power, '21, of Pittsfield, Mass., was elected President of Cap and Bells at a meeting Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall. At the same time Webster Atwell, '21, of Dallas, Texas, was elected secretary, Harvey Crampton Lawder, '22, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., delegate-at-large, and the following men were elected to membership in the society: Bushnell, Holt, Wheeler '20, Atwell, Bullock, Power, Thexton '21, W. Clark, H. C. Lawder, McWhorter, Rose, and Youngman '22.

Power prepared for college at the Pittsfield High School, where he was director of athletics and a member of the debating team. During his sophomore year at Williams he was elected assistant manager of swimming and took part in the College Smoker of that year. This last year in addition to acting in the recent College Smoker and in the Cercle Francois play, he has played one of the leading feminine roles in the Cap and Bells' production of "Stop Thief". Power is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Rehearsals for the final performance of "Stop Thief", which will be given Tuesday evening in Glens Falls, N. Y., will be held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 p. m. and Monday evening at 7.30 p. m.

Spring Registration Omitted

Registration for the year 1920-1921 will be omitted this spring contrary to the usual custom, according to a decision made at the faculty meeting on May 4. Final registration for the next academic year will be held before the opening of College in September at a date to be announced later. Complete information regarding the content of courses and full details as to schedule, time of recitations, rooms, etc., will be published in pamphlet form before the final examination period this spring. Further details will be posted in Hopkins Hall.

Republican Convention Notice

All men who wish to take part in the Republican Convention and who did not register on the straw ballot which was recently taken, should hand their names to the Republican Committee consisting of Jewett, chairman, Becket, Hawes, Moore, Townsend, and Ward '20, Joslyn and Thexton '21, before next Wednesday. Unless men so signify their intentions, they will not be allowed to take part in the Convention. A paper is also posted on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall on which it is possible to sign up.

NINE SUFFERS THIRD CONSECUTIVE DEFEAT

FINAL SCORE IS 10 TO 0

Strong Vermont Team Thru Superior Pitching Wins Shut-out Victory

In the third game of the season, Williams bowed in defeat before the persistent attack of the formidable Vermont nine by the score of 10 to 0, at Burlington, Vt., last Wednesday afternoon. Only during the first inning did the Purple hold its opponent in check, and in every inning after that, Vermont scored at least one run.

Loose playing on the part of the varsity was responsible for most of the Green and White's scoring. With three hits out of four trips to the plate, Captain Boynton starred at the bat. Nichols, with two hits out of three attempts, and C. Boynton, with two singles out of four times at bat, were the only others who showed up well on the offensive. By producing a pair of opportune singles out of four times at bat and striking out twelve of the opposing batsmen, Dufka, of Vermont, contributed much towards winning his own game.

Williams went to bat in the first half of the first inning. Mason was out, Kermin to McGinnis, and Field followed him to the bench on a grounder to short. B. Boynton reached first on a hit to center, but was forced out when Finn grounded to Hamilton. Vermont started off auspiciously when Hamilton hit a two-bagger on his initial trip to the plate, Brach fanned. Harris was out Holmes to B. Boynton, and McGinnis flied out to C. Boynton.

In the first half of the second C. Boynton reached first on a hit to left, but was left there when Nichols struck out, Burger retired on a fly to center, and Holmes grounded. In Vermont's half of the frame Kermin grounded out to Holmes.

PURPLE WILL MEET TWO ANCIENT RIVALS IN BASEBALL GAME AND TRACK MEET HERE

CHANGED LINE-UP WILL OPPOSE WESLEYAN NINE

Pitching Staff of Visitors is Strong—Williams Has Been Defeated Three Times

With the line-up greatly changed as a result of the recent disastrous defeats at the hands of Columbia and Vermont, the varsity baseball team will face Wesleyan at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. Unless the nine shows a complete reversal of form, there is little chance for a victory, as the visitors have won three games so far and have lost three by close scores to strong teams.

The Wesleyan season opened on April 3, when N. Y. U. defeated the Red and Black 6 to 3 in a contest marked by poor fielding. The following Saturday the nine batted two Yale pitchers for a total of 12 hits and won by a 10-8 score. Due to Connelly's airtight pitching Bowdoin went down to defeat by the score of 8 to 1 on April 22. Next came two closely contested games, which Wesleyan lost to Lehigh 4 to 2, and to Brown 2 to 0. Both contests were exhibitions of superb pitching, and both were lost on account of errors at critical moments. Last Wednesday afternoon a loose game with Johns Hopkins left the Southerners on the short end of a 10-5 score.

An exceptionally large squad of 51 men reported to Coach Liston at the beginning of the season. Of these 12, including two ex-captains, had won letters in previous years. The pitching is well taken care of by Green and Connelly, who were in top form against Brown and Lehigh, respectively. The infield is particularly fast, with Captain Jones on third and veterans in all the other positions. The team is rich in good batters. Boote is probably the best, but Webb, Bateman, and Connelly are .300 hitters and Jacobs not far below.

Several changes have been made in the Williams line-up in an effort to produce a stronger combination. Mason, a veteran of two years will be back at his old position at second base, and Ward will play third, with McLean in center field. C. Boynton will replace Field in the right garden, and Burger will start left field. Captain Boynton's arm is much better, and he will appear at short-stop with Nichols on first. Burrows, who will pitch, has had a week's rest and is in good shape.

The Wesleyan contest will be the second home game of the season. A victory for the Purple would be unexpected in view of the records up to this time as the varsity has lost its only three games to Union 3 to 2, Columbia 8 to 1, and Vermont 10 to 0.

The probable line-up follows:

WILLIAMS		WESLEYAN
Mason	2b	3b	Jones
C. Boynton	rf	cf	Bateman
B. Boynton	ss	c	Boote
Finn	c	ss	Webb
McLean	cf	1b	Jacobs
Nichols	1b	lf	Raines
Ward	3b	2b	Camp
Burger	lf	p	Connelly
Burrows	p	rf	Tomlinson

Two Men Enter Aero Meet

Goodman and Perry '21 left last Tuesday afternoon for Mineola, L. I., where they will represent the Williams Aero Club in the first air meet of the Intercollegiate Flying Association, to be held there this afternoon. Goodman will compete in the 100-mile cross-country race and Perry in the altitude test. Weather permitting, all events will be run off today.

VICTORY OVER PURPLE AND WHITE IS LIKELY

Amherst Lost First Dual Meet Of Season to Springfield by a 79 to 46 Score

Williams will oppose Amherst tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock on Weston Field in the second dual meet and the first home contest of the season. Judging from the poor showing made by the Purple and White athletes against Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, and the strength displayed by the varsity against Union, the Purple should triumph over her ancient rival by a decisive score.

Although the Amherst men winning their events against Springfield averaged better time in the track events and made better distances in the field events, the favorable weather conditions during the last few days have done much to improve the Williams squad in these departments, and Coach Seeley is confident of a victory with faster times than those made at Union. Entries in the different events tomorrow will be practically the same as those against Union last Saturday.

McWhorter '22 is expected to place in the dashes although he will have to compete against R. Clark who ran 100 yards in ten seconds flat against Springfield. In the distances where the greatest strength of the Williams squad lies, Captain Brown can be counted on for points in the quarter mile and two mile runs with probable first places in both events, while Kellogg and Coan '21 are reasonably sure to qualify in the half mile and mile runs, respectively. In spite of Amherst's greater strength in the field events, Kieser '20 should place in the broad-jump, while H. S. Towne '21, Becket '22, and Chapin '23 are expected to do likewise in the hammer and discus throws and the pole vault.

In the only meet which it has contested this season, Amherst was decisively defeated 79 to 46 by Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. Although the Purple and White athletes took the same number of firsts as their opponents, inability to win second and third places lost them the meet. Besides winning the 100-yard dash in ten seconds, R. Clark, a freshman, took first place in the high jump, going one inch higher than Wallace '22 was able to make against Union. Munn won the mile against Springfield in five seconds faster time than that made by Coan '21 last Saturday, and Johnson took first place in the two mile run, but in 15 seconds slower time than Crofts made against the Garnet team. If the present weather conditions prevail, an interesting contest should take place.

The list of entries follows:

100-yard dash—R. H. Clark, Donahue, Ferrini, Keeney, Wolfe (A); Allen, Codding, Kieser, Mendes, Mosher, McWhorter (W).
220-yard dash—R. H. Clark, Donahue, Ferrini, Keeney, Wolfe (A); Allen, Codding, Kieser, McWhorter, Mendes, Mosher (W).
440-yard dash—Lee, Moyer, Parker, Taylor, Wing, Woodbridge (A); Allen, Atwell, H. H. Brown, Kieser, Mendes, Richmond (W).
880-yard run—Allen, Lee, Moyer, Taylor, Woodbridge (A); H. H. Brown, Crofts, Kellogg, Northrop, Richmond.
One mile run—Conrad, Johnson, Munn (A); H. H. Brown, Coan, Crofts, Fasse, Kellogg (W).
Two mile run—Conrad, Johnson, Munn (A); Adams, H. H. Brown, Crofts, Fasse, Kellogg (W).

Vol. 34 MAY 7, 1920 No. 12

The decision of the faculty to postpone registration for the academic year 1920-1921 until next September should be a welcome innovation to the undergraduate body. It is a frequent occurrence that men returning to college in the fall find their previous choice of courses, made over four months earlier, unsatisfactory; and in such cases the "red tape" that must be employed before any change can be made is disagreeable both to the administration and the student. Under the present plan the number of such occurrences will be necessarily fewer, and the undergraduate is given an opportunity to make what should be a wiser and more deliberate selection of courses.

A Timely Gift

This year, as usual, all action on the part of the Trustees concerning matters of immediate interest to the undergraduate body is carefully hidden from the undergraduate eye by the veil of mystery with which it always seems necessary to muffle the deliberations of that body. Two or three bits of news have escaped the censorial guardianship, however, and among them there appears the very welcome announcement of a gift of $25,000 to increase the salaries of professors. Discussion on this subject is so general at the present time that it is unnecessary to enumerate the many reasons why professors' salaries should be raised. Agitation on this subject has gone so far in some institutions, that the student bodies have participated in parades, and in various demonstrations to show their sympathy with the underpaid teacher. Williams men undoubtedly realize to a similar degree, although they have not declared their opinions quite as vociferously as some others, that the situation needs remedying. We only hope that this generous gift will be one of a large number to follow, all directed to the same end.

Mr. Chapin's further gift of $25,000, to be added to the Chapin library maintenance fund, and the gift of $13,500 to be used in caring for the College grounds, are other presentations which will be greatly appreciated by the College.

The Value of Test Papers

We reprint the following editorial from the Princetonian as of interest to Williams undergraduates and professors, since the suggestions contained therein are applicable here just as at Princeton.

"It is the custom in some departments to hand back after every test the corrected papers. There are many advantages to such a practice and we believe that it ought to be extended to every department and universally carried out. It undoubtedly causes some trouble to professors and instructors. Disgruntled students may complain about their marks and desiring such and such a correction explained to them, but these disadvantages are offset by the value of the plan to the undergraduate.

Every man has a right to know in what respect he fell down on a test in order that he may profit from his mistakes and be the better prepared for the next examination. Without having his paper returned, and without hearing anything about the test except this mark, the test itself is of absolutely no value to the student. By the simple expedient of returning marked papers the test can, however, be made something more than simply the means of ascertaining the extent of the student's knowledge, or memory; it can become a real aid in mastering the subject and bolstering up one's weak points. Papers are handed back in many courses, and it would certainly be to the advantage of the undergraduate, an advantage outweighing the slight inconvenience to the professor, if the practice were extended to every department."

TRUSTEE WILL PREACH

Rev. Harry P. Dewey '84 to Occupy Pulpit Sunday

Rev. Harry Pinneo Dewey '84, of the Plymouth Church, Minneapolis, Minn., and for 18 years a Trustee of Williams College, will occupy the pulpit at the chapel service next Sunday morning. Dr. Dewey received the degree of B. D. from Andover Theological Seminary in 1887, was ordained in the Congregational ministry in the same year, and in 1898 received his D. D. degree from Dartmouth.

Before taking up his present pastorate, he held positions at Concord, N. H., and Brooklyn, N. Y. During 1912-1913 he was president of the Minneapolis Congregational Club, and served during the war on the National War Service Commission. He is now vice-president of the Congregational Education Society and a member of the American Missionary Association. Besides being a trustee of Williams, an office he has held since 1902, Dr. Dewey is a trustee of Andover Theological Seminary, of Carlton College, and of Straight University.

Dr. Dewey will be unable to address the W. C. A. Sunday evening, and therefore the usual meeting will be omitted.

PLAN FOR VAN VECHTENS

Trials for Senior Speaking Contest Begin May 11

Final plans for holding the Van Vechten Prize Contest for extemporaneous speaking were arranged at a meeting last Monday evening in the Thompson Physical Laboratory, when nine seniors became candidates for the $70 award. As is customary, the contestants will speak on subjects assigned to them only one hour before the time scheduled for the declamations.

Although addresses will be given on four separate occasions, each entrant will be obliged to participate only three times. The contests will take place in Jesup Hall on the following dates: Tuesday evening, May 11 at 7.30 o'clock; Thursday afternoon, May 13 at 4.30 o'clock; Tuesday evening, May 18 at 7.30 o'clock; and Thursday afternoon, May 20 at 4.30 o'clock. All trials will be open to the public.

The following is a list of the contestants: Chaoushglou, Field, Finder, Goodman, Hedden, Holt, Humphreys, Hyndman, Webb '20.

Hamilton '23 has resigned from the competition for second assistant business manager of the RECORD.

REACH NO DECISION

Interfraternity Council Fails to Agree on Rushing Date

Discussion of the length of the closed period for rushing next fall resulted in a division of opinion in favor of three different dates at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council at 7.30 o'clock last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. One group of fraternities advocated a closed period of two weeks, another desired one month, while the third favored delaying rushing for two and a half months.

With regard to the insertion into the agreement of the proposed eligibility clause based on the Faculty ruling governing participation in extra-curriculum activities, it was decided to give up discussion of this question for the remainder of the year, including the annual meeting in June when the alumni representatives are present. Except for the difference of opinions concerning the date for opening the rushing season next fall the fraternities were all in favor of the present agreement. One fraternity, however, asked for an increase in the number of dates during the second period, and its representative was asked to formulate a plan for this amendment to be presented to the Council at a meeting to be held in the near future. At this time an attempt will be made to set an exact date for the end of the closed period.

Gun Club Elects Officers

Frederick William Fulle, Jr., '21 was elected president of the Gun Club for the year 1920-'21 at a meeting held in Jesup Hall last Monday evening. Other officers for next year were selected at the same meeting as follows: vice-president, Jo Allison Humes '22; treasurer, William Chapman Burger '22; and secretary, Geoffrey Rupert Bennet '23.

The Gun Club also decided not to compete in any matches with outside colleges this year. Cups will be obtained from the Winchester Repeating Arms Co. in the near future, and intramural and interclass shoots will be held this spring according to previous plans.

Two victories over the local High School baseball team were the result of this week's practice by the freshman nine. The team has been strengthened by the addition of Chapin as catcher, and is rapidly improving in its fielding.

President of the Board of Trustees

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

VACUUM RESEARCH ROOM G-E LABORATORY

Using the X-Ray in the Home

Greater X-ray Service— through Research

FOR years after the discovery of X-rays it was evident that only intensive research could unfold their real possibilities.

Meanwhile, scientists of the General Electric Company developed the process of making wrought tungsten. This proved ideal as the target in X-ray tubes and its use for this purpose soon became universal.

Then further research resulted in the development of an X-ray tube of a radically new type—the Coolidge Tube—with both electrodes of wrought tungsten and containing the highest attainable vacuum.

But the complication of high-vacuum pumps made the new tube in large quantities impossible. The answer to this problem was the Langmuir Condensation Pump, utilizing mercury vapor in its operation and almost automatic.

To meet the need for simple X-ray apparatus during the war, the G-E Laboratory developed the Self-Rectifying Coolidge Tube, which made possible portable outfits at the front. The latest X-ray outfit of this type is so small it can be taken conveniently to the home or to the bedside in the hospital.

Thus the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company continues to serve, that progress in things electrical may continue for the good of humanity.

Training College Men for Business

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.

Williams will oppose the University of Pennsylvania on the course of the Nassau Country Club at Glen Cove, L. I., tomorrow afternoon in the first gold match of the season. Five men will make the trip including Capt. Black, Jones, Sedgwick '20, Adams '21, and either Murdock '20, Sinmons, or Hemphill '23. Of this number Black, Jones, and Murdock are veterans of last year's team and are playing in their usual good form, while the two freshman contestants have been showing unusual ability. Although weather conditions of late have not been especially favorable, the squad has succeeded in getting some practice on the courses of the Adams and North Adams Country Clubs, the local course not yet being in shape for use. Nothing is known of the strength of the opponents as this is the first match of their schedule.

1920 TEAM WINS TWO INTERCLASS CONTESTS

Seniors Lead League—Freshmen Second—Sophomores and Juniors in Order Named

Sending two runs across the plate in the last inning, the Sophomores defeated the Juniors by a 9-8 score Tuesday afternoon on Cole Field, and at the same time, the Freshmen lost to the Seniors 11-9. On Thursday the Seniors continued their winning streak and won from the Juniors 24-8, and the Freshmen defeated the Sophomores 8-7, placing the first year men second in the league, following the Seniors.

In the Junior-Sophomore game on Tuesday, Cobb pitched effectively with the exception of the third and fifth frames when several passes combined with clean hitting gave the upperclassmen seven runs. The other score came as a result of a home run by Eaton '21. The Sophomores scored in every inning but the eighth, and proved to be the more consistent team at the bat. The hitting of Wilson '22, who singled on two timely occasions, was one of the features of the game. The fielding of the 1922 infield was ragged and showed lack of practice, whereas the outfield displayed excellent ability in catching and throwing. The score by innings is as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1922	2	2	1	1	1	0	2-9
1921	0	0	4	0	3	1	0-8

Batteries: 1922—Cobb and R. Smith; 1921—Dorsey and Cutler. Umpire—Fulle '21.

1923 had little difficulty in hitting Foster in the first and third frames of the 1920-1923 game but they were unable to solve his delivery in the other innings. The Seniors hit Richmond, the 1923 pitcher, at all times and in the fifth they grouped their hits and sent five runs across the plate. Richmond was the star of the game at the bat with a home run and triple to his credit. Fitch, Lee, and Sackett were the hard hitters on the 1920 team, each one driving out two safe hits. In fielding, the upperclassmen showed their superiority as well as at the bat. The score follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1920	2	2	0	2	5	0	0-11
1923	4	0	5	0	0	0	0-9

Batteries: 1920—Foster and Whittier; 1923—Richmond, Mallon and Chapin. Umpire—Withington.

In the contests Thursday, the Seniors completely outplayed the Juniors in the most decisive game of the series, winning by a score of 24-8. Carson, the 1920 pitcher, never lost control and held the losers to a few clean hits, whereas the Seniors drove Painter and Brown from the box and found the delivery of Roth for numerous safe hits. Holt batted perfectly for the winners and Whittier and Finder also excelled with the stick. The score by innings follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1920	3	5	8	0	3	5	0-24
1921	0	0	0	2	0	0	6-8

Batteries: 1920—Carson and Whittier; 1921—Painter, Brown, Roth, Cutler, and Brown. Umpires Gahagan, White '20.

In the Freshman-Sophomore game, the first year men had more trouble in defeating their opponents than in the last contest, the final score being 8-7. The winners gained the lead in the third inning when hits by Richmond and Chapin, together with two passes and several errors gave them five runs. The sophomores scored twice in the same

Five games were played in the Intramural Leagues on Monday and Wednesday of this week and as a result, Sigma Phi maintains their tie with the Commons Club for first place in the American League, whereas Delta Psi and Psi Upsilon hold the same positions in the National League, the latter displacing Phi Sigma Kappa by their victory of Wednesday. All four teams continue to maintain perfect averages.

Without a doubt the best game of the week was that between Delta Kappa Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi, the former winning 2 to 1 in the extra inning which was necessary to decide the score. No score was made until the first of the sixth inning, although many chances to bring in runs were lost, due to the inability to obtain hits at the psychological times. Beta Theta Pi scored early in the sixth inning, but Delta Kappa Epsilon was able to tie them in the latter half of the inning, and then obtained the winning run on Burger's single. Poor pitching and heavy hitting characterized the game throughout. Cutler fielded especially well for the winners and contributed much toward the victory, while Ward's pitching was also effective.

Zeta Psi easily won a 12-5 victory over Kappa Alpha, scoring the majority of their runs in the first two innings and obtaining nine straight hits off Cobb. After that, however, Kappa Alpha recovered somewhat and played a good brand of baseball, although they were unable to overcome the lead of their opponents. In a loosely played game replete with errors and hits, Delta Upsilon succeeded in defeating Alpha Delta Phi 5 to 4 on the same day.

The two games played on Wednesday were of the usual Intramural type, characterized by heavy hitting and numerous errors. Sigma Phi secured a big lead over Phi Gamma Delta at the outset, scoring ten runs in the first three innings. Buell then replaced Murdock in the box and the victors were able to score only one run off his delivery whereas Phi Gamma Delta continued to score a few runs every inning, nearly overcoming the lead of their opponents. The final score was 11-9 in favor of Sigma Phi.

Psi Upsilon completely outplayed Phi Sigma Kappa and easily obtained a 6 to 2 victory. Mendes, who was in the box for Phi Sigma Kappa proved to be rather ineffective and nine hits were obtained off him, whereas Cutler, who was pitching for Psi Upsilon, only allowed three. Psi Upsilon scored five runs in the third inning when Mendes weakened, and this lead was never threatened. The fielding of the winning team was far superior to that of the losers, Christian and Dorsey contributing several good plays.

Theta Delta Chi defaulted their game with Phi Delta Theta which was scheduled to be played on that day.

MEETINGS FOR HOOVER AND LOWDEN ARE HELD

Political Organizations Getting Ready for Republican Convention on May 17

Meetings of the Hoover and Lowden clubs have kept political feeling high during the past week, while active campaigning has been going on for all of the leaders in the presidential race. Although the heralded Wood-Hoover debate has not yet taken place, a variety of posters and literature in favor of the respective candidates has been distributed.

Assistant Professor Long was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Hoover Club last Monday evening. In reviewing the qualifications of the most important presidential aspirants he branded Wood as being concerned with votes first and principles second. He stated that the general's speech at the Victory Celebration held here last fall was the sixth time he had made the same address, dealing each time in meaningless generalities about "Americanism". Ward '20 and Lyon '22 spoke briefly on behalf of Hoover, and Dr. Brinsmade gave a report of the Hoover convention that took place last Saturday in New York.

Lowden supporters to the number of over 60 attended a meeting Wednesday evening, at which Judge Tenney '86 made the principal address. He pointed out the needs of the United States for a trained executive and showed how Lowden best fitted these needs. Hawes '20, chairman of the Lowden executive committee, and Atwell '21 also spoke.

The activities of the Wood Club during the week have been confined to distributing propaganda and canvassing for members, with the result that the undergraduate membership now totals nearly 160. Arrangements have been completed for a speaker from the New York Wood Club to make an address in the near future, and plans for appointing delegates to the mock Republican convention to be held here on May 17 are being formulated.

CHANCE FOR VICTORY OVER UNION ARE GOOD

Tennis Teams Clash Saturday Afternoon—Garnet Twice Has Suffered Defeat

Chances for a victory in the tennis matches with Union here tomorrow afternoon appear to be good, as the Williams team has had the advantage of considerable practice, as well as of the addition of two new members, since its unsuccessful trip to Princeton. The Garnet team has suffered two decisive defeats in the first two contests in which it has played this spring.

Opening the season on April 30, the Union team was defeated by Rutgers on a heavy wet court by a 5 to 1 score. In the contest with N. Y. U. the following afternoon, the team was unable to win a match, losing 6 to 0. Bill Yates, a former Union tennis captain, is coaching the team, but he has been decidedly handicapped by the recent rainy weather. Wadsworth and Wilber have shown up as the best players. In addition to these two Gillespie and Hawkes will probably make the trip to Williamstown.

Since the Princeton trip in which the Purple team was badly handicapped by lack of practice due to weather conditions, marked improvement has been shown. Chapin '23 will be able to play Saturday as well as Captain Pollard '20 and Fraker '21. The fourth man of the team in singles will be picked after the elimination matches which are now being held. Bullock '21 and Rowse '22, both of whom played at Princeton, are regarded as likely candidates. Among the other contestants Allison '21, Prescott, Youngman '22 and Greaf '23 have shown up well. Pollard and Chapin will compose one doubles team and Bullock and Fraker will probably form the other.

Hawes, Power, and Ward '20, and Sayen '21 will represent the RECORD at the annual banquet of the Eastern Association of College Newspapers to be held at Columbia University tonight.

Applications for freshman cap and furniture moving agencies must be handed to Draper '20 by today.

... and at Atlantic City

A fact:

At Atlantic City, which affords a typical cross-section of American society, Fatima is one of the three best sellers in nearly every hotel on the famous boardwalk.

At many of them, indeed, including the Marlborough-Blenheim, the Traymore, and Haddon Hall—Fatima is steadily the leader.

*Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.FATIMA
*A Sensible CigaretteThe "Just-enough Turkish" Blend

Leadership facts such as these offer interesting proof both of Fatima's pleasing taste and of the fact that they can be smoked freely without worry about "too many."

Three words explain it:

*"Just enough Turkish."*Not too much Turkish, as in over-rich straight Turkish cigarettes; not too little for taste, as in blends less skilfully proportioned; but just enough Turkish.TRAVELING DOWN WASTE-BASKET LANE

Rejected manuscripts, age-old jokes, poor drawings, orange peels, pencil shavings and newspapers—all are tourists down that lane which has no "come-back."

Perhaps that's where that Record you want so badly has gone. It will never come back.

A bound volume of the Record will last a life time, besides providing a handy reference for the events of the college year.

VOLUME XXXIII WILL BE READY IN A SHORT TIME

The number of copies is limited.

Handsomely bound in heavy book board, insuring durability; covered with Book Cloth and lettered in gold.

WILLIAMS IS SECOND IN COLLEGE AIR MEET

YALE WINS FIRST PLACE

Perry '21 Takes Alert Event in 60 Seconds and Qualifies in Landing Test

Winning the alert event in 60 seconds and placing third in the landing contest, Perry '21 put Williams in second rank by tallying six points in the first intercollegiate air meet in history at Mitchel Field, Mineola, Long Island, last Friday afternoon. Yale was the winner of the meet with nine points, while Columbia and Princeton tied for third with five points each.

In the alert contest, the spectators witnessed the most realistic event of the afternoon. A captured German plane flew over the field dropping smoke bombs, whereupon a signal pistol was fired and the contestants raced from their bunks to don their flying clothes and get their planes into the air in the shortest possible time. Perry, who won this event in exactly one minute, outstripped his nearest rival, Manchester of Wesleyan, by seven seconds and the third man, Sewell, of Yale, by 13 seconds. In this event occurred the only accident of the day to a contestant. W. G. Nowell of Lehigh, with Merton Bachman as mechanic, although delayed by engine trouble got his plane into the air, but after rising about fifty feet, the machine, in turning down wind, side-slipped and crashed to the earth. The plane was destroyed and the motor hurled from it, but Bachman was hardly more than shaken up. Nowell's injuries were more severe and the shock of the fall knocked him unconscious. He received cuts about the face, but his condition is not serious and he will not be confined to the hospital where he was taken for more than a few days.

M. H. Pyne of Princeton won the landing contest and J. F. Keller of Pittsburg took second place. In this event the Wesleyan pilot gave the spectators a thrill when he escaped running into the roof of a hangar by putting on full power at the last moment and barely skimming over the top. In his second attempt he overshot the mark and bounced along for some distance from one wing to the other about six feet above the ground, but finally landed his ship without a crash.

In the 25-mile race with two pilots in each machine, G. W. Horne and J. T. Trippe, representing Yale, came in first 16 minutes after leaving the starting point. The Pennsylvania plane, which came in second, was disqualified for clipping corners too close, and the place was given to Lehigh with Pittsburg third. Columbia, Williams, Princeton, and Wesleyan took the next places in the order named.

S. Kirkland, flying for Columbia, won the acrobatic event, going through the

Republican Convention Notice

All men who wish to take part in the Republican Convention and who did not register on the straw ballot which was recently taken, should hand their names to the Republican Committee consisting of Jewett, chairman, Becket, Hawes, Moore, Townsend, and Ward '20, Joslyn and Thexton 21, before next Wednesday. Unless men so signify their intentions, they will not be allowed to take part in the Convention. A paper is also posted on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall on which it is possible to sign up.

TROPHY ALMOST CERTAIN

Amherst Can Only Tie in Competition for Big Prize

Amherst's defeat in the track meet last Saturday virtually assures Williams of the Trophy of Trophies for a second time. Last year on account of the unusual conditions caused by the war it was decided not to award the Trophy but to wait until the regular resumption of intercollegiate activities this year.

Thus far Williams has won four points each in football and track victories, and one point through a victory in debating. As each institution won a game in the basketball series, the three points are evenly divided, making a total of 10 1-2 points for Williams. Amherst's 3 1-2 points have been secured through a victory in swimming and the division of basketball points. No hockey game was played, and only baseball, tennis, and golf contests remain this spring, making a total of seven points as yet unawarded. Thus Amherst can only possibly tie Williams in number of points toward the Trophy by winning every remaining contest of the spring.

EVENTS ANNOUNCED FOR GRADUATION EXERCISES

Remains of Col. Ephraim Williams Are to Be Placed in Memorial Chapel, June 20

Announcement has been made by the Class Day Program Committee of the order of events at the 1920 Commencement exercises, beginning Wednesday, June 16, and ending Monday, June 21. Previous to Commencement, eight fraternities will hold houseparties, on the 14, 15, and 16 of June starting immediately after the end of examinations and concluding with the Senior Prom. The following houses will entertain guests: Beta Theta Pi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon, Sigma Phi, and Zeta Psi. The dances will be held at these fraternities in addition to the usual evening dances. Four other houses, Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Psi, Kappa Alpha, and Theta Delta Chi, are undecided, but will probably have festivities of some kind.

THREE MADE ASST. PROFS.

Dr. T. H. Proctor of Harvard Appointed New Instructor in Philosophy Department

Three instructors were made assistant professors, and six assistant professors and six instructors were reappointed by the Board of Trustees at the regular May meeting last Thursday. At the same time, Dr. T. H. Proctor, of Harvard, was appointed Instructor in Philosophy to take the place of Dr. Hendel, who has been called to Princeton as an assistant professor.

Dr. Garrett Droppers, Orrin Sage Professor of Political Economy, who has been Minister of Greece since 1914, will resume his professorship at Williams in the fall. The following three instructors were appointed assistant professors by the Trustees: Dr. James W. Bell in Economics; Dr. J. B. Brinsmade, in Physics and Dr. Carl S. Hoar, in Biology.

The following reappointments were made: Assistant Professors David T. Clark, George B. Dutton, John S. Galbraith, Theodore B. Hewitt, Albert H. Licklider, and Elmer I. Shepard; and Instructors Albert L. Cru, Guy B. Colburn, Russell Geer, Robert S. Hussey, Arturo R. Torres, and Frederick W. Whitman.

Dr. T. H. Proctor, who will take the place of Dr. Charles W. Hendel, Jr., as Instructor in Philosophy, is an Englishman but came to this country soon after his birth. He was graduated from Pethany College, Kentucky, and returned to England after his graduation for further instruction. After three years of study for the Bachelor's Degree at the University of Manchester and two more years in theology, he spent a year in Germany to continue his studies in philosophy and theology. Dr. Proctor volunteered for service as soon as the war broke out but was rejected and came to America. After three years' study he received his Ph. D. from Harvard in 1917. He then volunteered again for war work and was accepted as a chaplain in the British army. In this capacity he served in Egypt and Palestine for two years. After the signing of the armistice he received his discharge and went back to Harvard, where he has remained as an Assistant Professor in philosophy until the present time.

GOLF TEAM LOSES, 6-3

U. of Penn. Wins Four of Single Matches and Two Foursomes

Williams was easily overcome by the University of Pennsylvania by a score of 6-3 in the opening golf match of the season, which was played Saturday afternoon on the course of the Nassau Country Club at Glen Cove, L. I. Four of the singles and two of the foursomes were won by the Penn. team.

Jones was the individual star of the Purple team, defeating Capt. Brown in the singles and also with Sedgwick, winning his foursome match against Rowan and Rhodes. Murdock was the only other point winner for the Williams team, defeating Taylor in the singles. Calves and Seaman starred for the victors the former defeating Capt. Black, the latter winning from Adams in the single matches, and these two opponents also defeated Black and Adams in the foursome. The entire match was played in a drizzling rain which not only inconvenienced the players but also made the course rather soft and slow.

The summary is as follows:

Van Vechten Contest Begins

Nine seniors, Chaoushoglou, Field, Finder, Goodman, Hedden, Holt, Humphreys, Hyndman, and Webb will compete in the annual Van Vechten Prize Contest for extemporaneous speaking which will begin tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall reading room. In accordance with the conditions of the contest, the speakers will have their subject assigned to them only one hour before their addresses are to be given and therefore the declamations will begin promptly at 8.30 o'clock.

Each entrant will be required to participate in three of the four separate occasions on which the contest is held, the dates being Tuesday evening, May 11 at 7.30 o'clock; Thursday afternoon, May 13, at 4.30 o'clock; Tuesday evening, May 18, at 7.30 o'clock and Thursday afternoon, May 20, at 4.30 o'clock. All trials will be held in Jesup Hall and are open to the public.

Purple Team Places in Every Event and Secures Seven Firsts, Ten Seconds

FINAL SCORE IS 74-52

R. H. Clark of Amherst Is High Point Winner—Times Are Good Despite Rain

Winning seven firsts, ten seconds, and nine thirds, Williams ran away from Amherst in the twelfth dual meet between the two colleges last Saturday afternoon on Weston field, thereby making it impossible for Amherst to more than tie for the Trophy of Trophies by winning all the remaining contests of the year. In spite of a persistent rainfall which continued throughout the contest, the Williams athletes experienced little difficulty in maintaining a safe lead over their rivals from the first main event, the one-mile run, in which all three places were captured, to the victorious close of the meet when the score stood 74 to 52.

Times and records for the individual events averaged better than those of recent years in spite of the soaked track and soggy field. Seven events were faster than the corresponding records in the 1919 dual meet and nine were better than those of 1918. Amherst and Williams took each seven firsts, but the real strength of the well-balanced Purple squad was shown in the fact that it took ten seconds to its opponent's four, and nine thirds to the other's five. The home team placed in every event, securing second place or better in 13 out of the 14 events, while the Purple and White failed to place at all in two races and secured only third place in two other events.

R. H. Clark of Amherst was the individual high point winner of the day, securing first place in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220-yard dash and the high jump. Captain Brown, Crofts, and Phillips each amassed eight points and Wing, whom Amherst had counted on for both firsts in the hurdles, secured only five points.

Again the Purple runners demonstrated their supremacy in the middle and long distance runs, making a clean sweep of places in the mile and two-mile and taking first and second in the half-mile. The time for the mile in particular was excellent, considering the bad condition of the track. In the two dashes and the two hurdle races, both teams split even Williams taking first and third in the 120 yard hurdles and the 220-yard dash, while Amherst won similar places in the 100-yard and the 200-yard hurdles. Amherst maintained a slight margin in field events by taking first place in the shot-put, hammer-throw, and broad jump, while losing only third place in the big jump, but Williams retaliated by winning first place in the pole-vault and both first and second in the discus throw.

In the first heat of the 100-yard dash, Mosher of Williams beat out McWhorter, taking second place to R. H. Clark, Amherst's star sprinter, and in the second heat Coddling won his way into the finals with Donahue of Amherst. Clark won the finals in the fast time of 10 2-5 seconds, leading Coddling by only a yard. Donahue took third place for Amherst. The trials for the 120-yard high hurdles placed three Williams men in the finals, Phillips, Barnes and Schermerhorn, with only one Amherst contestant, Stauff. The finals were won by Phillips with a margin of only two yards, followed by Stauff and Barnes in the order named.

Crofts ran one of the prettiest races of the afternoon in the mile run which he won in the fast time of 4 minutes, 43 1-5 seconds, the best time in the last three years of dual meets. A fast pace

A New Kind of Publicity

A certain glamour always attaches to the spectacular, and especially to any contest in the air. Flying as a regular sport has been taken up by the prominent colleges and universities of the East, and Williams has placed second in the first intercollegiate air meet. All credit is due the Williams aviator who has won for his College more really beneficial publicity than a dozen football victories over Amherst could do.

The Season's Criterion

The Trophy of Trophies was practically assured to Williams for the present year by the addition of four points through Amherst's defeat on track and field last Saturday, an event very gratifying to the loyal band of spectators who assembled in spite of inclement weather. The margin of victory was ample and the defeat decisive, but the important point was the fact that Amherst was defeated. Regardless of the results during the remainder of the spring, the 1920 season may already be called a success, so strong is the traditional feeling over the results of an Amherst-Williams Contest. But unless present indications fail the remainder of the season should be fully as satisfactory.

Congratulations are to be extended to Coach Seeley and to Captain Brown for their joint success in developing valuable track material despite a rainy and uncertain spring. The fact that Williams placed to advantage in every event winning the meet through a larger total of second and third places, indicates how well balanced the squad is as a whole. Good prospects for next year are to be seen in the fact that only a few consistent point winners will be lost through graduation and that the present tendency in track material seems to be decidedly on the upgrade. In spite of a drenched track and field, seven out of this year's fourteen events show better records than the corresponding events last year which were in turn better than those of the preceding year. Advance indications augur well for 1921.

loop, the barrel roll, and the zoom, flying upside down, and executing Immelmann turns in a way that could not be beaten even by Sewell, Yale's ace, who took second rating. The Wesleyan pilot again made the onlookers gasp in this event. After fighting his way upward to a considerable altitude in an old Curtiss training plane, he realized that his machine would not permit stunts. He therefore went into a tail spin which he held while the plane whirled downward almost to the ground. After coming out of the spin successfully he landed without trouble.

Army officers who were interested in the meet for its value to the air service expressed pleasure with the way in which the contestants handled their machines. It was definitely proved that reserve aviators without practice would be able in time of need to handle fighting planes on short notice, and officers in charge of aviation expressed their intention of encouraging frequent meets of this character in order to keep the reserve pilots in practice as much as possible.

On account of the heavy rain Friday afternoon, only one of the three scheduled intramural games took place, that between Phi Delta Theta and the Faculty Club, victory going to the former after eight innings of wild baseball by the score of 6-5. It was the longest and probably the most unusual game of the series, abounding in freak plays.

The following contests are scheduled for the coming week: Monday, May 10, Chi Psi vs. Sigma Phi, Alpha Delta Phi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Psi vs. Psi Upsilon; Wednesday, May 12, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Zeta Psi, Commons Club vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Upsilon vs. Theta Delta Chi; Friday, May 14, Beta Theta Pi vs. Kappa Alpha, Faculty Club vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Delta Phi vs. Phi Delta Theta.

PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Republican Committee to Pick Delegations Tonight

Further plans for the coming Republican Convention materialized at a meeting of the Republican Committee yesterday afternoon. At this time next Monday was definitely picked as the date for the Convention, which will begin in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock. The committee will meet again tonight.

Unless organizations are formed to support Allen N. Butler, Coolidge, Johnson, Knox, and Harding it is probable that Hoover and Wood will each receive 19 state chairmen and Lowden ten. Each state will be allotted approximately one half the number of delegates which it has in the National Convention, and no state will have less than four representatives. So far as possible, men will represent their own states, although some from the eastern states will have to act as delegates for western and southern districts. About 430 have registered for the convention, but others will be given opportunity to enter until Wednesday.

The various political clubs have been inactive during the past few days except for informal discussion throughout the College. Plans for this week are being formed, but no definite announcements can yet be made. The Wood Club now claims to have the largest membership of any club in College comprising 173 undergraduates.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

PRINDLES'*Tennis Team Goes to Boston

As a result of practice matches held during the past week, two men, Pollard '20 and Chapin '23 will compose the team which will compete in matches with other teams of the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Association tomorrow afternoon in Boston. Although little is known as to the comparative strengths of the teams entering, both Pollard and Chapin have been doing particularly good work lately and should show up well tomorrow.

Inspect Founder's Grave

Inspection of the grave of Ephraim Williams, the founder of Williams College, at Glens Falls, N. Y., took place last Wednesday under the auspices of the College Committee, accompanied by John G. Clark, State Geologist, and Rev. John S. Zelle '87 of Troy, N. Y. The visit was preliminary to and for the purpose of forming plans for the removal of the Founder's remains to Williamstown for interment in the College Chapel in the early part of next month.

Pipe and Quill Meets

Dr. Bliss Perry '81, professor at Harvard, addressed a meeting of Pipe and Quill held last Thursday evening at the Beta Theta Pi House, taking for his subject "Thackeray." In his discussion Dr. Perry first gave a short sketch of his life and character, and then took up his works, speaking of the author as satirist, novelist, and humorist, using as the key words for these groups truth, love, and fun respectively. He ended his talk by speaking of Thackeray's greater novels, Vanity Fair and Henry Esmond. Rev. John S. Zelle, '87, who has conducted the Sunday chapel services twice during the past year, was a guest of honor at the meeting. At the next meeting which will be held on Monday, May 17, Hedden '20 will read a paper on G. K. Chesterton, one of the most prominent of the English contemporary authors. The election of new members for next year will also take place.

Kilmer, '22, Albert, Bowen, Britton, Haggerty Humes, Langmuir, Livingston, McAneny, McCurdy, Stevens, Stowers, Sutton, Tiffany, Vercoe, and Webb '23 were elected to the Classical Society at a meeting held last Friday evening.

Wesleyan Game Cancelled

Due to the hard rain last Saturday afternoon the baseball game with Wesleyan was cancelled. The contest will not be played off later, but Williams will play the second scheduled game with the Red and Black at Middletown on Monday June 21.

Adelphic Union to Meet

The Adelphic Union will meet in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock this evening to elect the manager of the debating teams for 1920-1921. Nine juniors, Dorsey, Milton, Keegan, Baker, Platt, C. L. Taylor, E. P. Taylor, and Stanley have given their names to Atwell '21 as candidates for this position. At this meeting the constitution drawn up by a committee consisting of Goodman '20, chairman, Coan '21, and Zalles '22, will also be read and voted upon.

Rain Prevents Tennis Match

Weather conditions again interfered with the tennis team and prevented the match scheduled to be played with Union on the College courts last Saturday afternoon at 2.00 o'clock. Both teams have been handicapped all season by lack of practice due to rain, the Purple having lost its first contest and Union its first two.

Williams Victor In Twelfth Dual Meet with Amherst

was set from the very start and he was never in danger of being overtaken. Coan and Parker secured the remaining places for Williams in respective order. The unexpected occurred in the 440-yard dash when Lee of Amherst took first place from the Williams entrants in the last 20 yards. Richmond took the pole from the start and kept the lead throughout the major portion of the race but was passed by Lee on the home stretch and lost second place to Kieser as he fell across the finish line. All three men finished within two yards, of each other, making it the most hotly contested race of the meet. The two-mile run was entirely a Williams affair although one Amherst representative hung on grimly to the end. Fasce, who took third place, deserves credit for sticking so successfully to the two leading runners throughout the race and finishing within a yard of Brown and Crofts. The trials of the 220-yard dash were easy races, placing Allen, Coddling and McWhorter in the finals for Williams and R. H. Clark for Amherst. McWhorter and Clark fought it out neck and neck in the finals until the last 20 yards when McWhorter drew ahead and made a fine finish with two yards to spare, Coddling following in third place only a yard behind Clark. The time was 23 1-5 seconds.

The finals of the 220-yard low hurdles were won by Stauff of Amherst. Although he was hard-pressed by Phillips most of the way. Barnes, the other Williams entrant, appeared to be off form and failed to place. The 880-yard run proved to be one of the most spectacular events of the day. Captain Brown contested the lead with Lee of Amherst for the first half of the race and set the pace successfully during the last half. In the last 200 yards, however, Kellogg of Williams sprinted from fifth place past three Amherst men and Captain Brown into a five yard lead. He took first place in a close finish with Brown, and Lee, eight yards behind, won third place.

In field events Amherst took an early lead by winning first place in both the shot-put and hammer-throw. In the first event, Demarest of Amherst put the shot 36 feet, 1 3-4 inches, while Mills and Carick took second and third places, respectively. F. R. Clark of Amherst threw the hammer for a record of 105 feet, 11 1-2 inches, a mark which was not approached by Towne or Landon, who secured the remaining two places. Amherst supremacy in the high jump was marked, Kimball taking first place with 5 feet, 3 inches, and F. R. Clark stopping an inch shorter. Wallace of Williams took the remaining place.

Again in the broad jump Amherst took first place. Copeland won with a jump of 20 feet, 1-2 inch farther than that of Wickwire, thus reversing the result of the same event last year when Wickwire won by the same margin over his Amherst opponent. Kieser, who had previously run the quarter, placed third.

Williams came into its own in the pole-vault when Card of Amherst dropped out at 9 feet and Bailey at 9 1-2 feet. In spite of the wet take-off Chapin successfully cleared the bar at 10 feet. In the final event of the meet, the discus throw, Becket of Williams easily won first place with a throw of 98 feet, 4 inches, and Landon took second for the Purple with Demarest of Amherst a distant third.

The summary follows:

100-yard dash—won by R. H. Clark (A) second, Coddling (W); third, Donahue (A); time, 10 2-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Phillips (W); second, Stauff (A); third, Barnes (W); time, 17 1-5 seconds.

One-mile run—won by Crofts (W); second, Coan (W); third, Parker (W); time, 4 minutes, 43 1-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Lee (A); second, Kieser (W); third, Richmond (W); time, 52 2-5 seconds.

Golf Team to Play Cornell

Cornell University will oppose Williams next Thursday afternoon on the North Adams links in the second golf match of the season. A 6-3 defeat was suffered at the hands of the Pennsylvania team in the first match, largely owing to the fact that playing has been greatly handicapped by the bad weather and extremely soft condition of the links.

Up to the present time Jones and Murdock '20 have made the best showing for the Purple. The personnel of the Cornell team is not yet known. The Williams team will remain unchanged as follows: Black, Jones, Murdock '20, Adams, Sedgwick '21, and Simmons '23.

REHEARSE FRENCH PLAY

L 'Anglaise Tel Qu' on Parle to Be Presented May 20

Regular rehearsals are being held of L'Anglaise Tel Qu' on Parle, which will be presented Thursday evening, May 20, at 8.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall, according to Moore '20, chairman of the dramatic committee of the French society. The play, a short comedy, deals with the mishaps caused by the employment of a bogus interpreter at a French hotel. The cast will be as follows: Eugene, an interpreter—A. H. Holt '20; Hogson, father of Betty—J. W. Power '21; Julian Cicandel—E. T. Wheeler '20; an inspector—G. C. Ponset '20; a bell-boy—C. G. Chaoushglou '20; Betty Hogson—J. H. Loizeaux '22; a cashier—D. B. Wallace '22. In addition to the play, Roche and Sericye '23 will give a short character sketch.

CHAPIN GAINS TITLE ON LONGWOOD COURTS

POLLARD SHARES HONORS

Williams Players Win Singles and also Doubles at N. E. I. L. T. A. Tournament

Exhibiting a remarkable heady and aggressive style of play throughout the entire tournament, Chapin '23 emerged victorious from a field representing nine colleges and secured for Williams the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Championship, last Wednesday afternoon on the courts of the Longwood Club, Boston. Captain Pollard and Chapin, representing the Purple, won the doubles crown also by defeating the M. I. T. pair in an exciting four set match.

By this double victory, Williams gained two additional points towards the trophy and now stand withing one point of Amherst, the leading contestant. The Purple has scored five and a half points out of the total of eight necessary for the permanent possession of the cup.

In the singles, Chapin secured the title only after a well earned, but somewhat unexpected victory over Sanders of Dartmouth, who he succeeded in downing 6-2, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4. In this final match Chapin's game was remarkably sound and the mere fact that he secured 48 to his opponents 31 placements tells the story of the victory. To quote the Boston Herald, "Greater aggressiveness and heady playing were the deciding factors."

Before reaching the championship round Chapin advanced through the tournament in a decisive manner. Although he met several strong players, notably Carleton of Dartmouth, who was defeated, 6-2, 7-5, and Bennett of Amherst who likewise yielded to the Purple champion by the score of 6-4, 6-1, 8-6, Chapin won all his matches, in straight sets. In the opening round of the tournament on Monday, he had little difficulty in defeating Stearns of Brown, 6-4, 6-0. Captain Pollard on the other hand met his match in Swift of Wesleyan, who

GOLF TEAM IS VICTOR Defeats Cornell by 7-2 Score In First Home Match

Displaying much better form than in their match with Pennsylvania last Saturday, the Williams golf team easily defeated the Cornell University sextet on the links of the Adams Country Club yesterday afternoon by the score of seven to two. Olin of Cornell made the best showing for the losers, defeating Captain Black in the singles and with and Lippett winning his foursome match whereas Murdock played especially well for the Purple.

Williams used the same line-up as in the previous match. Black was the only loser in the singles, and, paired with Adams he registered the only defeat in the foursomes. The team will meet the Yale players next Saturday afternoon on the links of the New Haven Country Club, at New Haven, Conn.

The summary is as follows:

PURPLE TRACK TEAM TO OPPOSE RED AND BLACK

Wesleyan Defeated N. Y. U. but Lost to Brown—Williams Is Still Undeclared

In the third meet of the season, Williams will meet the Wesleyan track team tomorrow afternoon on Andrus Field, Middletown, Conn. Coach Lum of the Red and Black has built up a well-rounded team and has developed much promising material, assuring the Purple a hard contest.

Thus far this season, Wesleyan has won one and lost one meet. On Saturday, May 1, the Red and Black was defeated by the Brown team at Middletown by a score of 69 5-6 to 56 1-6, when the Brunonians gave a superb exhibition in the track events. The winners proved especially strong in the sprints, taking all three places in the 100-yarddash, the 220-yard dash, and the quarter mile. Mack, Wesleyan's fastest man in the 220, won his first heat, but on account of a poor start and his previous hard run, lost the third place in the finals. In the broad jump Conover, of Wesleyan, lost out in the finals by a quarter of an inch.

Stimson, Wesleyan's crack distance man, took first place in the mile and half-mile with wide margins. In both races he gained a lead at the start and continued to increase it throughout the course. Stimson's time in the half mile, 2 minutes, 13.5 seconds, made on a wet track, almost equals that set by Cutbill, of Wesleyan, when he broke the record in last year's intercollegiate. The two-mile run was the least hotly contested event of the day, three Wesleyan men, Foster, Wetzell, and Johnson taking turns in leading and completely running away from their opponents.

Ten Retained for Cheerleaders

The following Juniors have been retained for further competitions for cheerleaders: Atwell, Belcher, Finn, D. M. Irwin, Joslyn, Lasell, McLean, Montgomery, Patton, and Ufford. The final cut will be made immediately before May 30.

CRITIC CALLS "LIT." SUCCESSFUL VENTURE

RECENT NUMBER Praised

April Issue with Articles on Both Amherst and Williams Sets Worthy Precedent

This is a unique number and may some day bring notable prices among the collectors. It will require a special binding of a color combination hitherto unusual, and arranged with a heraldic sequence that will show no favoritism. For Amherst and Williams here meet in literary embrace, not to wrestle but to give each other the osculum pacis. There is no umpire and no trophy to award. The critic must acquire a psychology adapted to the occasion, ethical and "touched with emotion". And he can do so without effort and sincerely, for the notion was excellent and the execution creditable.

The articles referring to Amherst are fittingly given by the Williams contributors, who act well the part of host, showing courtesy and a humor without sting. They serve as banquet addresses and might be so given acceptably were the courses for the body as well as for the soul. They are in the style characteristic of their authors, who have been reviewed so many times that it were adding coals already delivered by the Newcastle department, to go into detail. Mr. Hawes writes soberly with relieving touches, and Mr. Holt in a more sprightly vein, keeping on the right side of the invisible line which that style cannot cross without sin and repentance, yet which by nature it ever approaches, and hence must acquire the curve of the asymptote if it would describe a safe orbit.

The Amherst contributors have given articles of good alloy, the one on Sabrina having the advantage of a subject hard to parallel for poetry, drama, detective stories, tales of "treasons, stratagems and spoils", and handling its subject with well sustained interest. The story of Drink and the Devil is difficult to manage within the limits of space allowed, and suffers inevitably from the violent foreshortenings imposed thereby. A special technic must apply, hard to master.

If Mr. Anderson had been tempted to follow his statistical and historical account of Amherst-Williams Athletic Relations by a sonnet or ode worthy of the theme and had succumbed to the temptation, we should have been his debtors. The only poetry of the number does not celebrate the literary union, but is an admirable part of it, written in excellent English, smooth and musical. Mr. Ward is entitled to put his final question to

TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY Opposes Colgate and M. I. T. on May 14 and 15 at Home

Williams will oppose the Colgate University tennis team on the College courts Friday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock, and the M. I. T. team at 2.00 o'clock on Saturday. M. I. T. was the last aggregation eliminated by Williams in the doubles tournament of the New England Intercollegiate tournament at Boston, but little else is known of the strength of the Maroon and White team.

Rain has interfered with the practice of both the opposing teams and has necessitated the cancelling of several games. Colgate will be represented by four men: Law, McLoughlin, captain, C. M. Reed, and V. Vernon. The line-up of the M. I. T. team is not certain, but it will probably be composed of Barron, Beattie, Broockmann, and Cauldwell. Broockmann was defeated in the recent Intercollegiate by Sanders of Dartmouth, who was defeated by Chapin, while the Tech doubles team was eliminated by Pollard and Chapin.

Seven have been chosen for the Williams team: Pollard '20, Allison '21, Bullock '21, Fraker '21, H. S. Prescott '22, Rowe '22, and Chapin '23. Pollard and Chapin will compose one doubles team and Bullock and Fraker will make up the other. In view of the result of the recent Intercollegiate, the outlook for a Purple victory in both the matches is bright.

WILLIAMS TO OPPOSE STRONG MAROON NINE

Columbia Defeated Visitors by Score of 2-1—More Changes Made in Varsity Squad

With further changes in the line-up that played against Columbia and Vermont, the varsity baseball team will oppose Colgate at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. Continued bad weather has given a serious handicap to the Williams team on account of the resulting lack of practice, and unless a great improvement is shown, chances for a victory tomorrow are small, in view of the form demonstrated by the Maroon nine this spring.

Colgate was barely beaten by Columbia, 2-1, with Meaney pitching for the latter team, and Cornell twice bowed to the strong Hamilton aggregation. They were defeated by Lehigh, Rutgers, and Fordham. The game with the latter institution, which has one of the best college teams in the country, was very closely contested and lost only by a 3-2 score.

Captain McBride of the Colgate team has been doing excellent work behind the bat, and his ability to steady the Maroon pitchers at critical moments has been a large factor in the success of the team. The pitching staff has three excellent men in Blume, Leonard, and Miller. Blume has played several brilliant games, holding his opponents to a few scattered hits. The infield includes three new players, but they have already shown veteran calibre, Schlenger at second base being especially valuable for his batting. Steffen in right field has also been a consistently heavy hitter, making an average well over .500 in the first four games of the season.

With Ward at third base, Mason at second, and Captain Boynton back at shortstop, Coach Davis hopes to have a

"Cow" Elects Three Members

Three sophomores were elected to the board of the Purple Cow at a meeting in the Cow office yesterday evening, as follows: Clement B. P. Cobb, of New York City; Harry M. Montgomery, of Evanston, Ill., and Dudley B. Wallace, of Springfield. At the same time material was considered for the Houseparty and Commencement number.

FINAL PREPARATIONS MADE FOR CONVENTION

461 DELEGATES TO ATTEND

Names of State Representatives Announced—Meeting to Be Held Monday

Four hundred and sixty-one undergraduates will attend the Republican Convention next Monday evening as recognized delegates of the party. The National Committee has assigned the men to their respective states last Wednesday according to the proportion adopted by the National Republican party in 1921.

On this basis each state has four delegates at large and an extra delegate for every 10,000 votes cast for the last Republican presidential candidate. As there were not enough members in the party here to follow this out literally the committee has divided each state delegation by about 2 1-2. As there were not enough men in some states to complete their delegations, men from other states whose number was in excess of that needed, were chosen by lot to fill these places.

The convention will be called to order at 7.30 o'clock Monday night in the Jesup Hall Auditorium by Jewett '20, chairman of the National Committee. Nominations will then be in order for the temporary chairman, who, upon his election, will deliver the keynote speech of the meeting. The National Committee will make one nomination for temporary chairman, but nominations from the floor will also be in order. After the regular quota of three secretaries has been chosen, the state delegations will proceed to the election of committees on credentials, resolutions, permanent organization, and rules. The convention, at this point, will adjourn for a few minutes while the committees meet and prepare their reports, and during this time the various sections of the party will hold caucuses. The convention will then meet again, and when the committees on credentials, permanent organization, and rules have made their reports, the installation of the permanent officers will take place. The committee on resolutions will then set forth the party platform, which, after discussion, will be accepted or rejected. The climax of the convention will come with the second calling of the roll. During this time nominating speeches and seconds will be made by state chairmen, the states being called in alphabetical order by the Secretary; nominations will then be in order for president and vice-president of the United States. A majority of votes is necessary to elect and if the necessary number is not secured on the first ballot, roll call will be continued, until the choice is made.

The Williams College National Committee has ruled that any man who finds it necessary to leave the Convention floor may give his proxy to his state chairman, provided he is present at the first roll call. Besides the three candidates whose organizations have been working in college during the spring term, it is expected that Coolidge, Knox, Harding, Butler, and Johnson will be nominated. The public is cordially invited to occupy seats in the gallery.

A complete list of the delegates follows: ALABAMA—Howland '21, chairman, W. V. Field '20, Burger, Hall, and D. E. Jones '21, Johnson and Wallace '22, and B. N. Campbell, Lunt, and Perkins '23.

ARIZONA—C. C. Noble, '21, chairman, Fieser '20, Seager '21, and Richardson '22.

ARKANSAS—Goodman '20, chairman, F. W. Smith '20, Stanley, Jopling, and Searles '21, Cameron, Emerson, and Underwood '22.

The RECORD again has occasion to extend congratulations to representatives of Williams athletic interests for achieving victory which will bring to the College the most desirable kind of publicity. A great deal of credit on this score is due to the men who made a clean sweep of the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, placing Williams again on top in this department of sport among a group of strong opponents.

The baseball team faces another hard test tomorrow when it meets Colgate on Weston Field. A victory will wipe out the record of three past defeats, all of which were attributable in a large measure to lack of practice. In spite of these losses, however, there is no reason for being despondent over the prospects for the season, since the most important contests are yet to come; but the strong support of the College body is needed tomorrow to assist the team in getting rid of the jinx which has pursued it thus far. A large and enthusiastic cheering section will do much towards achieving this end.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:
Sir:

Some thoughtful undergraduate, possibly a member of the board of our esteemed contemporary, the Purple Cow, claims to have discovered an argument in favor of the present chapel system. "Did not a Williams man," he says, "win the alerts in the intercollegiate flying meet? What was the reason? Why, simply that we are not provided with enough chapel cuts to be extravagant with them, and on this account we must learn the noble art of quick dressing. What an advantage over the other benighted colleges and universities, which either have lost the blessings of compulsory chapel completely, or else have been granted so many cuts that, for all practical purposes, they have lost these manifold advantages." If the trustees, those silent but all powerful arbiters of our fate, would at least give this as their reason for shelving the chapel question it is probable that undergraduate sentiment would not run so high.

Signed,

H. Penseroso

SENIORS COMPETE IN VAN VECHTEN CONTEST

ELEVEN DELIVER SPEECHES

Trials Held Tuesday Night and Yesterday—Only One Hour's Preparation Is Allowed

First and second trials in the Van Vechten Prize Contest for extemporaneous speaking took place in the Jesup Hall reading room last Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock and yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. Eleven seniors entered the contest, nine delivering speeches on each day.

On Tuesday evening Assistant Professor Licklider presided and acted as judge with Assistant Professors Dutton and Dickerman. The speakers were given their choice of the following four subjects: "Compulsory Chapel at Williams", "The United States Mandate Over Armenia", "The Appeal of Christianity to the Modern World", and "The Most Promising of the Republican Candidates for President." These topics, in accordance with the conditions of the contest, were assigned one hour before the addresses were delivered.

Four sets of trials are held, and each contestant must speak at three of them. The speakers are signalled at the end of 10 minutes and must stop at the end of 12.

Three of the speakers, Hedden, Humphreys, and Webb, chose "The Appeal of Christianity to the Modern World." Hedden deplored the fact that the ministers of today are a professional class. They should be connected with the life of the people, and there is no reason why Christianity cannot flourish in the open as well as in the churches. Humphreys spoke of Christianity from the point of view of the soldier, emphasizing the fact that religion is not a matter of money but of faith. He concluded by saying that normal religion will produce a normal man and an upright, law-abiding citizen. A comparison between Christianity, Hinduism, and Confucianism was the main theme of Webb's speech. The religion of Christianity is that of service. It is positive effort and not mere negative refraining, and by expressing it to others one accomplishes his duty in the world.

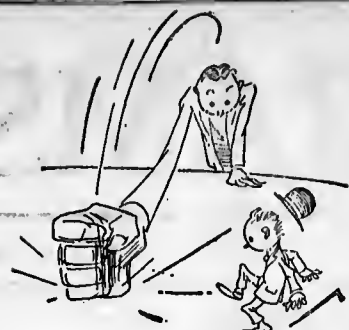

Chaoushiglou spoke on the subject, "The United States Mandate Over Armenia", declaring that the delayed settlement of the Armenian question constituted one of the biggest blunders the Allies committed after the armistice was signed. He further stated that the United States Senate has put party issues before the plight of the unfortunate Armenians, who want America as mandate, for they have far greater faith in this country than in the European powers.

Field, Finder, Hinman, Meirowitz, and Noble picked the subject, "The Most Promising of the Republican Candidates for President". Three of the speakers came out for Hoover, one for Lowden, and one for Coolidge. Field advocated Hoover because "he is a man who is first and foremost for progress, a man young yet experienced, a man who will not forget his ideals for any present victory, and one who is in every way qualified for the position of President of the United States". Finder declared Hoover to be the man of all others who is able to handle the social, economic, and international questions that the next president must meet. Hinman stated Hoover's views on the League of Nations. He favors the League, but with such reservations as will prevent the surrender of the sovereignty of the United States. Noble maintained that Lowden was the man for the presidential chair, as he believes in the judicial rather than the political side of a league of nations. Lowden also feels that the cure for Red agitators lies with the farmers of the country and not in deportation. Meirowitz favored Governor Coolidge, who, he said, is a man of great mental power and has the courage of his convictions. He is a statesman rather than a politician.

In the second trials yesterday afternoon Professor Milham presided, and Professor Taylor, Assistant Professor Long and Dr. Hendel were the judges. The four elective subjects were as follows: "A Bonus for Ex-Soldiers", "The Mexican Policy of the United States", "Should Williams Introduce More Utilitarian Subjects into the Curriculum and Give a B. S. Degree", and "The Remedy for Strikes". The majority of the speakers of the afternoon condemned the plan for a bonus for ex-soldiers.

Field declared that the bonus bill should not be passed, because it is un-American, because Americans should not be paid for what is their duty, because two wrongs, the unnecessarily high wages paid to war workers and the bonus the soldiers ask to offset this, do not make a right. Humphreys, taking the same view, gave it as his opinion that what the soldiers need is a highly efficient vocational board, which can place ex-soldiers in good positions. Bushnell discussed the bill in more detail, raising the question of whether a larger bonus should be given to overseas men than to those who had seen no service abroad, and whether officers should receive a larger amount than privates. Goodman said that he

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental training for business together with specialization in those fields in which the student is most interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation which enables them to deal effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own special fields. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business theory to actual business problems. For this purpose the "problem method" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent business laboratory.

Courses offered: Accounting, Business Law, Banking and Finance, Marketing, Advertising, Industrial Management, Employment Management, Business Statistics, Foreign Trade Transportation, Insurance, Lumbering, Income Taxation, Office Organization, Printing and Publishing.

finally nosed out the Williams player in closely contested sets, winning 6-4, 9-7.

The doubles championship went to Pollard and Chapin after a four set battle with Brockmann and Cauldwell of M. I. T. The Tech players started well and won the first set handily. Beginning the second set the Purple pair played well back in the court and by careful placements allowed Brockmann and Cauldwell to defeat themselves by smashing drives which for the most part went wild. The match finally went to the Williams combination 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

In winning the right to oppose M. I. T. in the doubles finals Pollard and Chapin defeated Swift and Steele of Wesleyan, 8-6, 2-6, 6-3 and Davis and Smith of Boston University 7-5, 6-3. They also disposed of Sanders and Carleton of Dartmouth, by the score of 2-6, 8-6, 6-1. This proved by far the closest and most interesting match of the entire tournament. Three times during the second set Dartmouth was within one point of victory and could not score. Later in the contest, the Purple team reached match point five times before clinching the championship.

The summary follows:

ponents, only one of whom crossed the finish line. Foster won the race with a wonderful burst of speed on the home stretch, breaking the tape far in the lead of the second man. The time was 10 minutes, 21 1-5 seconds.

Wesleyan's victory came last Saturday, May 8, when New York University's track team was defeated on Ohio Field by a score of 69-57. Wesleyan won the meet largely through its ability to score second and third places. The New York team won 8 of the 14 events, but lacked sufficient second-string men to produce a victory. Coach Seely's efforts to put the team in good condition for the meet tomorrow have been greatly helped by the favorable weather conditions of the past week. Williams can, with little trouble, take the majority of points in the dashes, but Stimson, Wesleyan's strongest representative in the distance events will probably make a strong bid for first place in the mile and half-mile.

THREE INTERCLASS GAMES PLAYED OFF

Seniors Overcome Freshmen in Extra Innings—1922 and 1923 also Victors

Three games of the interclass series were played during the past week on the Cole Field diamond, resulting in victories for the Seniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen. All of the games were featured by ragged playing and the pitching seemed to be largely responsible for their various outcomes.

In the Senior-Freshman game on Tuesday, 1923 started out with a batting rally which netted them five runs in the first inning. For the first four innings the Seniors were held scoreless, while the Freshmen ran their total up to seven. Clark, the 1923 pitcher, weakened in the fifth inning and by the end of the seventh the score was tied, 9-9. Both teams failed to score in the eighth; and a single by Whittier in the ninth inning with the bases full clinched the game for 1920, bringing the final score to 10-9. The score by innings was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
1920	0	0	0	0	3	2	4	0	1-10
1923	5	1	0	1	0	0	2	0	0-9

Batteries: 1920—Fitch, Carson, and Whittier; 1923—Clark and Hemphill. Umpire—Coach Davis.

On Wednesday, 1922 disposed of 1920 without difficulty by the score of 9-2. The pitchers for both teams allowed very few hits, most of the scoring being done on errors. At no time during the game was the Sophomore team closely pressed, as three runs were scored in the first inning, giving them a lead which was never endangered. Harder was the individual scorer, bringing in three runs. The score by innings was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1920	3	0	1	1	1	2	- 9
1923	1	0	0	0	1	0	- 2

Batteries: 1920—Foster and Ward; 1922—Cobb and S. Dunn. Umpire: S. T. Coleman '22.

1921 was defeated by 1923 by the score of 7-1 in a game in which the breaks seemed to be against the upperclassmen. The Freshmen had no difficulty in scoring throughout the game, but there were very few clean hits, while fielding errors predominated. Richmond pitched a very consistent game for the Freshmen, and was well supported by his team, in direct contrast to the ragged playing of 1921. The score by innings was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5
1921	0	1	0	0	- 1
1923	2	2	1	2	0 - 7

Batteries: 1921—Painter, Fulle, and Conner; 1923—Richmond and Hemphill. Umpire—Van Deusen '21.

The links of the Taconic Golf Club are now open for use with temporary putting greens. The fair greens as well as the permanent putting greens have been rolled and levelled and the latter will be ready for use very shortly.

ADELPHIC UNION ELECTS

E. P. Taylor '21 to Be Manager of Next Debating Team

Edward Pease Taylor, 1921, of Westfield, Mass., was elected manager of the debating team for next year at a meeting of the Adelpic Union in Jesup Hall, last Monday evening. It was further voted at the meeting to return to Mr. Terry '89 the remainder of the money given by him for the expenses of debating during the season just completed.

Taylor prepared for College at the Westfield High School, Westfield, Mass., where he was editor-in-chief of the Year Book, business manager of his school paper, and treasurer of his class during his junior and senior years. Since entering Williams he has played for three years on his class basketball team. He is circulation manager of the 1921 Gulielmian, a junior cheer-leader, and is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

had been unable to find any statements or statistics showing that ex-service men are in need of this bonus. Hinman spoke against the bonus bill from the point of view of the soldier, declaring that the men who fought in the combat divisions feel that it is almost profanation to offer to pay them for what they lost in the war or for what they did.

Chaushoglou argued against introducing more utilitarian subjects into the curriculum of Williams College, since in the present age of materialism the college men of the country need the most liberal education possible.

"What we want is not something which will stop strikes quickly, but something which will stop them for good," was the keynote of Hedden's speech, in which he proposed two remedies for strikes, a far-reaching system of education and collective bargaining.

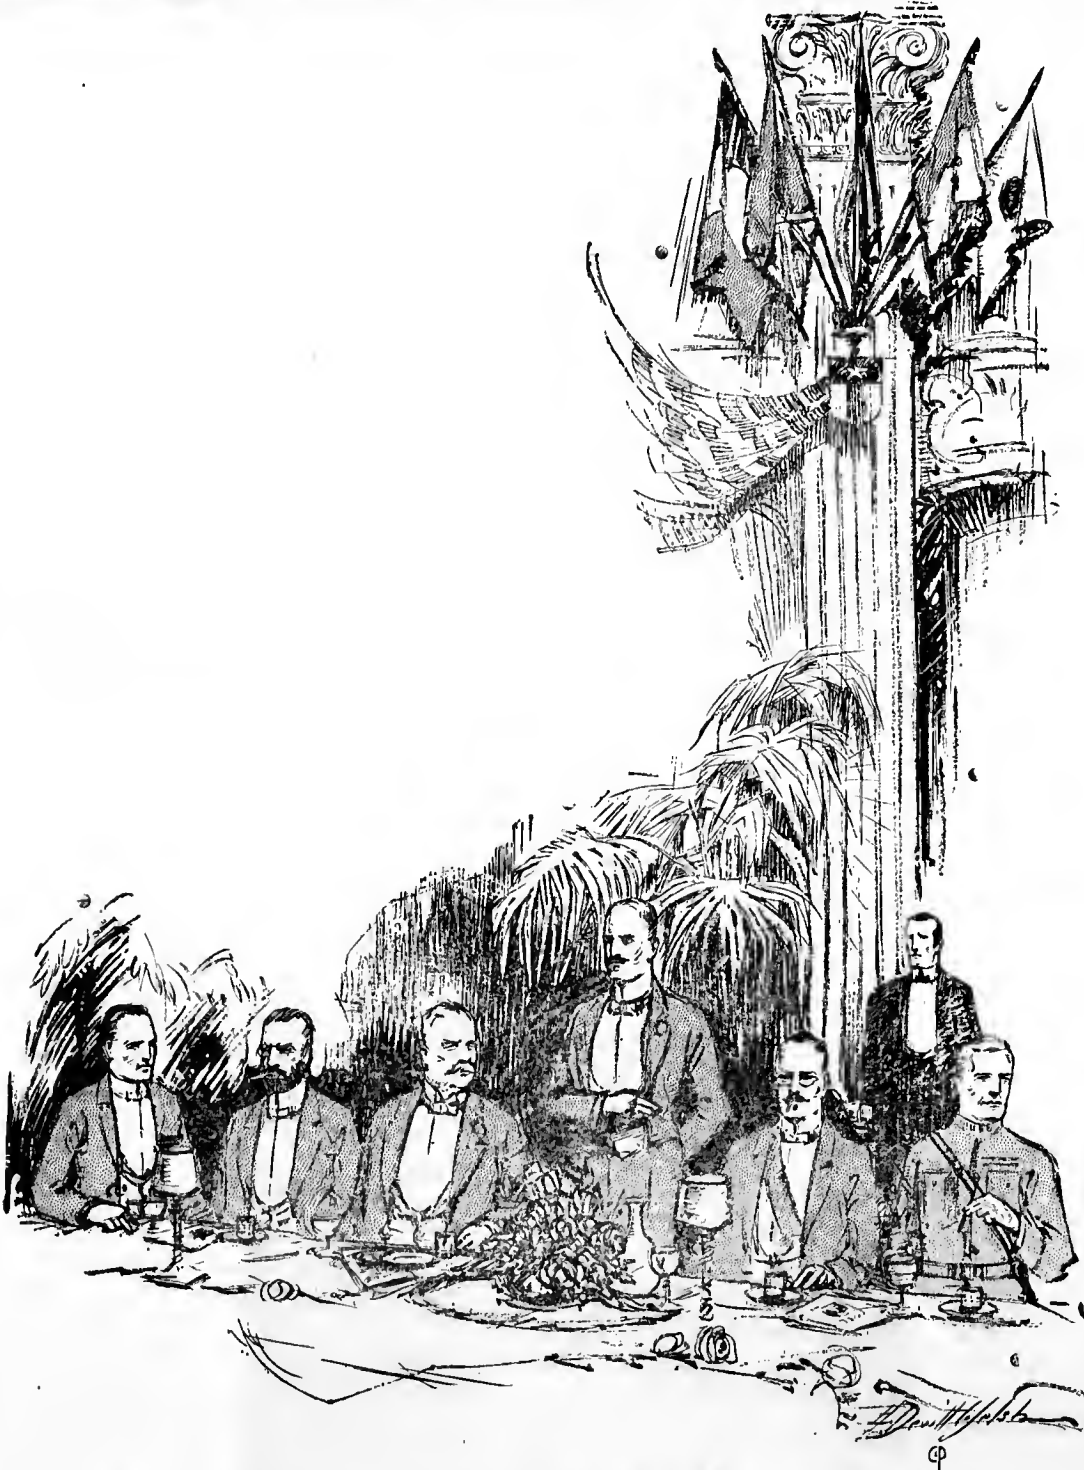

Webb and Noble discussed the problem of the attitude of the United States toward Mexico. The former described conditions in the Tampico district from personal experience. He declared that the real solution of the Mexican problem lay in extensive education of the Mexicans themselves. Noble advocated a United States protectorate over Mexico until a fair election has been held, and an extensive educational campaign among the Mexicans.

Present Farce at Glens Falls

Cap and Bells was well received last Tuesday evening at Glens Falls, N. Y., where the society gave a special performance of Stop Thief to defray the deficit incurred by the Sophomore Prom. Committee last February. The comedy on the whole was well presented although several incidents, resulting from carelessness on the part of the stage management, marred the effect of the production. No change was made in the cast which was identical with that which appeared on the spring trip. From the financial standpoint, the trip was a decided success as the proceeds will defray a large part of the Prom. expenses.

Purple to Play Yale in Golf

Yale will be the opponent of the Williams golf team tomorrow afternoon on the links of the New Haven Country Club. Yale has had a successful season thus far, having defeated Dartmouth and Columbia. In the latter match, Captain Scott of Yale won from Walker, of Columbia, last year's intercollegiate champion.

A fact:

"Just enough Turkish"

Facts like these make Fatima's place among cigarettes unique. A few years ago, the "proper" thing on such state occasions would have been an expensive, fancy-boxed, straight Turkish cigarette.

Today, things are different.

Men base their choice on taste rather than price. That Fatima should be so clearly the choice of men who can afford anything they like, shows that most smokers really prefer—not too much Turkish tobacco in their cigarettes nor too little—but "just enough Turkish."

Within a single week last fall, great civic dinners were tendered at the Waldorf-Astoria to General Pershing, to Herbert Hoover and to Cardinal Mercier. And at all three of these famous banquets, the only cigarette served by the hosts was Fatima.

himself, but then the mystery is as much a mystery for the poet as for the public. In The Full of the Moon is a play of the order of Maeterlinck's symbolic dramas with their apparently inconsequential gossip and baby-talk, behind which rises a mystic background of fate and tragedy conjured up by the subtle art of the poet. The reader must deliberately put himself into a sympathetic and suggestible mood if he would get any glimmer of the author's meaning. Otherwise he will see only a fantastic caprice. Such drama is refractory to criticism, though it probably has its own canons if they can be worked out. The author risks encountering mockery and parody for the sake of reaching a few souls tuned to his vibrations.

REPUBLICAN FACTIONS TO ASSEMBLE TONIGHT

Convention Will Open in Jesup Hall Auditorium—"Record" Will Issue Bulletins

DEADLOCK IS EXPECTED

Hoover, Wood, and Lowden Are Principal Candidates Who Will Split Delegates

Delegates to the national convention of the undergraduate Republican party will assemble at 7.30 p. m. tonight in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. A total of four hundred and sixty-one men will be on the main floor representing the respective states to which they have been assigned according to the proportion recently adopted by the National Republican party.

The situation which will confront the delegates tonight is somewhat similar to that which faced the Republican convention here in 1916. Four years ago a majority of four votes on the second ballot nominated Hughes over Roosevelt, although Roosevelt had a large plurality on the first ballot, in which Root drew a large number of the votes that finally shifted to Hughes. This year the party is likewise split into three principal factions, and Wood and Hoover appear to be the two outstanding favorites among the undergraduates as well as with the country at large. Lowden is the third candidate with a firm group of supporters, and by the second or third ballot selection will undoubtedly be narrowed down to these three.

Advance predictions from the various political leaders indicate one hundred and seventy-five to two hundred votes apiece for both Hoover and Wood and seventy-five to one hundred votes probable for Lowden. It is expected that a deadlock will result by the third ballot which can only be broken by some compromise between any two of the three clubs, thus creating a majority in favor of a single candidate. Thus far, however, no two clubs have shown any tendency to cooperate for the possible election of a compromise candidate, and there is a possibility that some "dark horse" partially suitable to all three factions will have to be agreed upon. Followers of Butler, Coolidge, Harding, Johnson and Knox have hopes for the nomination of their respective candidates as the result of such a compromise.

In accordance with the arrangements made by the national committee, the delegates will meet in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock and take their positions in line according to states. Various factional meetings will probably be held just prior to the convention. States will march in under their own banners and take their positions on the main floor. President Garfield and several members of the Faculty will occupy the stage with the officers of the convention. The public is cordially invited to occupy seats in the gallery which will be opened at 7.15 o'clock.

During the course of the convention the Record will occupy a press table on the main floor and periodically issue bulletins reporting the progress of the convention together with announcements of further speeches and other information on the various aspects of the situation. These copies will be sold for one cent apiece.

The actual convention will be called to order by Jewett '20, representing the national committee of the 1920 Republican convention. Nominations will then be in order for the temporary chairman, who upon his election will deliver the keynote speech of the convention. Reinhardt '20 is expected to be the Wood candidate for chairman, Ward '20 the Hoover candidate, and Hawes '20 the Lowden candidate. Anticipating a possible deadlock in this case, the national committee will nominate Jewett '20 as a non-partisan candidate. As the election of secretary is of no political

WITHINGTON TO LEAVE

General Secretary of W. C. A. Accepts Post at Exeter

Mr. Frederic B. Withington, who for the past year has been Secretary of the Williams Christian Association, has accepted a position at Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and will be compelled to sever his connections with Williams at the end of the college year. He will become a member of the faculty of Exeter, will take charge of the Christian Fraternity, and will also have general charge of all religious work.

Mr. Withington came to Williams after having served as a chaplain in France, and took charge of the Christian Association at the beginning of this college year. The work that Christian Association has done under the leadership of Mr. Withington has been much the same as it was before being interrupted by the war, and although no startling successes have been achieved, Mr. Withington has laid a foundation for the future.

LIMITATION OF COLLEGE ACTIVITIES IS PLANNED

College Will Vote on Plan to Restrict Holding of Non-Athletic Positions

In order to limit the participation of undergraduates in non-athletic extra-curriculum activities, the Student Council drew up a set of rules at a meeting held last Saturday evening. The college body will vote on the proposed rules some time this week, if possible.

Following are the rules for participation in undergraduate non-athletic activities, as drawn up by the Student Council:

Section 1. Undergraduate non-athletic offices shall be divided into three classes, as follows: Class A—The RECORD: editor-in-chief, managing editor, and business manager; chairmanship of the Student Council; presidency of the Williams Christian Association; managerships and assistant managerships of the football, baseball, track, and basketball teams; chairmanship of the Interfraternity Council (in season). Class B—Membership on the RECORD board; chairmanship of the Literary Monthly; editor-in-chiefship of the Purple Cox; editor-in-chiefship of the Gudiemansian (in season); participation as a principal in a Cap and Bells show (in season); College Press Agent; manager-

BIG INNING FOR COLGATE

Burrows Weakens in Sixth and Allows Visitors Five Hits for Total of 11 Bases

FINAL SCORE IS 5 TO 3

Fielding of Both Teams Spectacular at Times—Boynton and McLean the Stars

Five hits for a total of 11 bases, when Burrows weakened in the sixth inning, were responsible for the varsity's fourth straight defeat at the hands of Colgate by a 5-3 score last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field. Both teams played good baseball, affording the spectators several bits of sensational fielding, and Burrows pitched a fine game except during his one bad inning.

Williams built up a total of three runs during the first half of the contest, and it looked as if the persistent jinx was to be conquered at last. The turning point came when O'Connor started the sixth with a slashing liner down the third-base line, which went for a home run when Burger baredly failed to make the catch. That hit started the batting rally which cost Williams the game. Barnes, the southpaw who pitched for Colgate during the remainder of the contest, did not allow a single hit, although several times the chances seemed good for the Purple to score.

The varsity secured only five hits, but the batting was not as bad as this would seem to indicate, for the Colgate outfielders were kept busy on long flies, and the infield received several line drives that looked good for two bases. Captain Boynton showed his batting eye, hitting safely twice, flying out to deep center, and knocking a liner to the pitcher in four trips to the plate. The fielding was generally good. The team made five errors, but none was at all glaring, although two of them were responsible for one run. McLean played particularly well in center field, catching five flies and robbing two or three of the opposing players of almost sure hits. Burrows pitched good ball on

COLGATE AND M. I. T. OVERCOME ON COURTS

Matches Friday and Saturday Result in Easy Victories for Williams Players

Winning from Colgate every set in the entire six matches with the final score of the day 6-0, and losing but two sets to M. I. T. in a 5-1 victory, the varsity tennis team completely defeated the visitors last Friday and Saturday afternoons on the College courts. Although no particularly spectacular playing was demonstrated in either of these contests Chapin of Williams played his usually strong game on Friday, and Broeckman of M. I. T. showed extraordinary skill in placements throughout Saturday's play.

In the Colgate match, the varsity consistently held the advantage. Chapin succeeded in winning by the score of 7-5, 6-4, although Vernon of Colgate executed several clever placements. The match between Bullock and McLoughlin was, however, a little more hotly contested. Bullock played an even game and defeated his opponent by the score of 11-9, 6-2. Due to poor serving on the part of Reed of Colgate, Rowse easily scored a 6-2, 6-2 victory over the Maroon defendant. With equal ease, Fraker won his match

RED AND BLACK DEFEATED

Williams Takes Track Meet by 66-60 Score—Wesleyan Wins 6 Firsts and Ties in 3

WEAK IN FIELD EVENTS

Purple Weight Men Outclassed but Runners Win all Races Except the Half-Mile

Winning five firsts, three ties for first, seven seconds, and six thirds, the Williams track team completed a victorious season of dual meets by defeating Wesleyan in the eleventh contest between the two institutions, held last Saturday afternoon on Andrus Field, Middletown, Conn. Clear weather and a fast track resulted in good times in many of the events, and the Purple team, taking the lead at the start by winning eight points in the mile, maintained a slight margin throughout the meet until the final score of 66 to 60 assured to it the silver trophy offered by Wesleyan.

In 13 of the 14 events the times and distances were better than the corresponding records made in 1919, when, however, the contestants were hampered by an inundated track and field coupled with cold weather, and in two events, the 100 yard dash and 120-yard high hurdles, the time was faster than that in the New England Intercollegiate meet of last spring. Although Wesleyan secured six firsts to Williams' five, the triple tie in the high jump gave the latter six of the nine points in that event. Wesleyan also took seven thirds to the Purple's six, but the superiority of coach Seeley's team revealed itself in seconds of which it took seven to its opponents four.

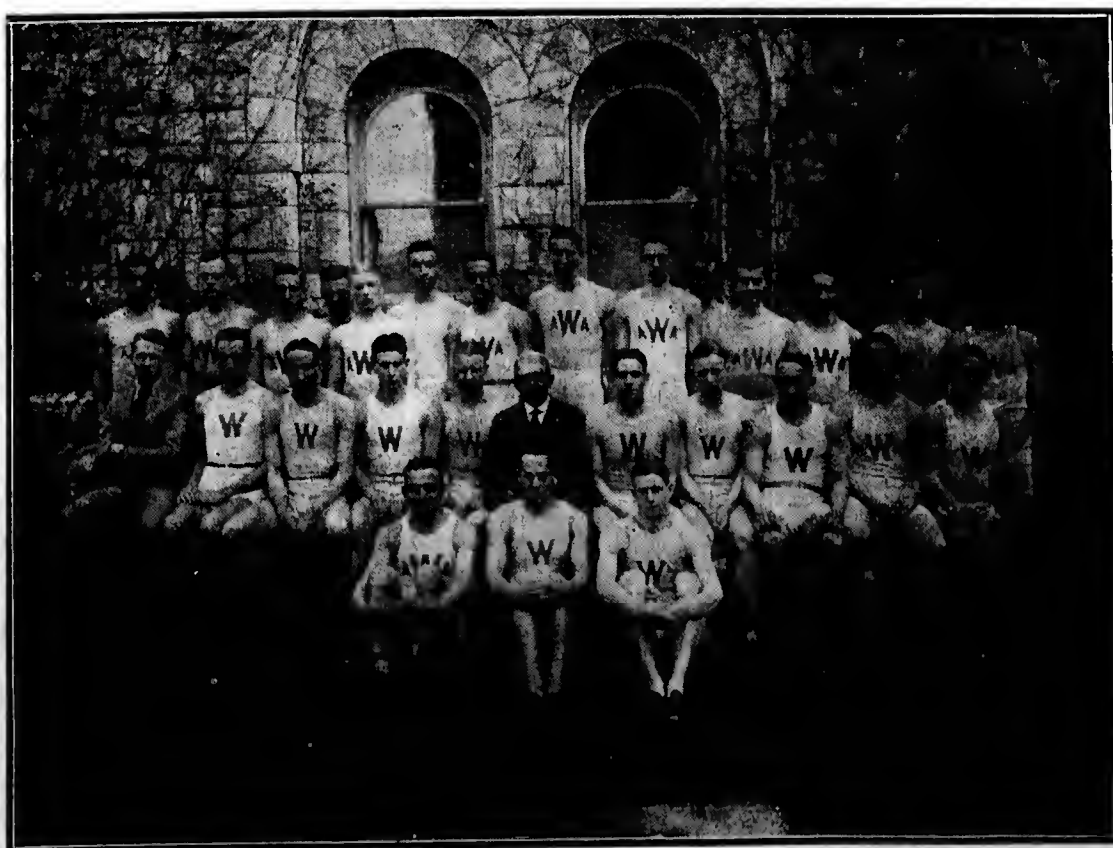

Anderson of Wesleyan was the individual star of the meet, having three firsts to his credit in the weight events, whereas McWhorter with firsts in both dashes scored ten points for Williams. Coddling with seconds in both dashes was the only other man in the meet to secure more than five points. McWhorter and Coddling won their trial heats in the 100-yard dash and had no difficulty in placing first and second in the finals in the fast time of 10 1-5 seconds. Barnes and Phillips both qualified in their respective trials of the 120-yard high hurdles but the final race was so close as to be declared a dead heat between Barnes and Cook of Wesleyan with Phillips third. The time of 16 2-5 seconds, as well as that made in the 100-yard dash, was better than that made in the New England in 1919.

In the weights and the running broad jump Williams was hopelessly outclassed, taking but five points to Wesleyan's 31, and in but two of the six field events, the high jump and the pole vault did she hold her own. Captain Anderson, of Wesleyan, took first place in the shot put, in which his throw of 42 feet, 7 1-2 inches broke the Wesleyan record, and first places in the discus throw and hammer throw as well. The only points for the Purple in the first four of these events were a second in the shot put by Mills, and third in the hammer throw and broad jump by Towne and Wickwire, respectively. The high jump resulted in a triple tie of 5 feet, 5 3-4 inches, between Anderson and Wallace of Williams and Downes of Wesleyan. With the score 62 to 55, Williams' favor, the result of the meet hung upon the outcome of the pole vault. Chapin's tie for first with Mueller of Wesleyan at 10 feet, 6 inches gave the Purple the final points necessary for the victory. Hosdowich took third.

The summary follows:

Vol. 34 MAY 17, 1920 No. 15

We call the attention of the College, and especially the Sophomore class, to the communication from the chairman of the 1923 banquet committee in this issue. Since the freshmen have been forced into this action, there can be no choice for 1922 except to refrain from any attack which might involve both classes in litigation with cautious hotel-keepers who fear for their glass-ware. Such trouble would react unpleasantly to all concerned, and to the College.

It is made clear in the appended letter, however, that what the freshmen wish to avoid is complications with persons outside of the college; that they are not seeking to flee from an interclass combat. Those numerous undergraduates and alumni who so often mourn the passing of the late-lamented Williams "virility", need not, therefore, go into hysterics over this as further evidence of decadent manliness in the student body. We can even conceive that it was with a feeling of regret that the members of the 1923 took this step, and abandoned the prospect of an underclass battle.

Student Council

The RECORD heartily recommends to the student body the plan for the limitation of participation in undergraduate activities. Systems very similar to this have been put into effect at numerous other colleges and universities with good effect, and there seems no reason why such a plan should not work beneficially at Williams. The need for such limitations is often evident when one man, overburdened with too many positions, either administers one or more of them inefficiently, or slights his curriculum duties. Both of these situations are undesirable; for either the organization suffers from maladministration, or the individual suffers from devoting all of this time to extra-curriculum affairs, thus deriving no benefit from his courses.

Although the Student Council has evidently worked out this system with great care, the RECORD believes that several changes should be made in the grouping to make it more acceptable. These suggestions include the shifting of one position from Class A to Class B, and of three from Class C to Class B. In detail the proposed changes are:

1. To change the Chairmanship of the Interfraternity Council from Class A to Class B.

2. To change the presidency of the Forum from Class C to Class B.

3. To change the editor-in-chief of the Class Book from Class C to Class B.

4. To change the business management of Cap and Bells from Class C to Class B.

5. To change the business management of the Musical Clubs from Class C to Class B.

The chairmanship of the Interfraternity Council requires a large amount of work, but only throughout a very short period of time, and is not the equal in importance to the College of the other positions named in Class A.

The other four proposed changes are of positions which require many hours of hard work for their proper fulfillment, and which are eminently important to the welfare of the College. Efficient management of the Musical Clubs and Cap and Bells trips is imperative, since the reputation of the College is greatly affected by the showing these organizations make; the Forum is an organization that is increasing its scope and importance every year; and the editor-in-chief of the Class Book has a position to fill which is in every way more exacting and important than most of those named in Class C.

With these changes, we urge the adoption of the plan. Even without these alterations, however, which, although we consider them desirable, are perhaps not absolutely necessary the system is one which should be adopted, for the resultant benefits both to undergraduate organizations, and to the men who are administering them, will undoubtedly be manifold.

A Long Waited Improvement

Authentic information has arrived to the effect that the three remaining College tennis courts are to be put into condition for playing the first of this week. The news is none the less welcome in that it has been long and tediously delayed. The necessity for additional courts was never more clearly demonstrated than during the last week-end when two tennis matches at home on Friday and Saturday monopolized four courts for the larger part of each day, leaving one court for the remaining 500 undergraduates. After the conclusion of the match with M. I. T. all five courts were crowded, with several pairs waiting, as long as good light continued until nearly eight o'clock. The tennis management is to be congratulated on the fine condition in which it has placed the four courts used for match play, and if the remaining four courts are speedily put in as good order tennis enthusiasts will be highly gratified.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:
Sir:

Elsewhere in this issue of the RECORD there appears the announcement of the place and date of the Freshman banquet. Hitherto it has been the custom, of the Freshman classes to hold their banquets secretly in order that any intervention on the part of the Sophomores might—possibly—be prevented. Whether or not under normal conditions this custom would have survived is not for me to discuss here. Undoubtedly it has proved, this year, to be an unsuccessfully established precedent. Hotels have refused accommodations to the freshman class through fear of disorders in their lobbies and damages in their dining-rooms; and it is only upon the guarantee that no disturbance will take place that the management of the Hotel Richmond has consented to accommodate the class at a banquet next Saturday evening. For this reason, and for this reason alone, the class of 1923 has been forced to the whole, striking out seven and issuing only one pass.

The fireworks began in the sixth. After Finn had dropped his foul, O'Connor made his slashing homer directly over third. Barnes hit a hot grounder to Nichols, who made a pretty stop for the first out. Steffen then clouted the ball far out into left center for three bases and scored when Herman was safe on a line drive that was too hot for Mason to handle. McBride hit safely and went to second on the throw which barely failed to catch Herman at third. Schlenger executed a squeeze play, scoring Herman, but was thrown out at first. Harris brought in McBride and went to third when Ward made a bad throw on Kinney's grounder. Kinney started for second, and Harris scored when Mason made a poor return throw to the plate, but Finn caught Kinney at third for the last out.

Neither team made any more runs although Williams threatened to score twice. In the seventh, with one out McLean walked and Captain Boynton came to the plate. He hit a vicious line drive that brought the spectators to their feet, but when the smoke cleared, Barnes found the ball in his glove and threw to first for an easy double play. In the ninth Nichols struck out, Burger walked, Hoyt, batting for Burrows, struck out. Enthusiasm rose to a high pitch as Mason came to the plate, but he ended the game on a high fly just lack of the third base.

Mr. Courboin is a brilliant concert virtuoso, possessing an extensive repertoire of several hundred compositions all of which he plays from memory. He has recently completed a series of recitals in the Grand Court of the Wanamaker Philadelphia Store on the great organ there which ranks as the largest organ in the world. The attendance at the 22 concerts approximated 125,000 people.

YALE WINS GOLF MATCH

Purple Sextet Loses at New Haven by 8 to 1 Score

Yale was an easy victor over the Williams golf team last Saturday on the links of the New Haven Country Club, New Haven, Conn., the final score standing eight to one. Murdock was the only Purple player to win his match, defeating Finkenstaedt by the score of one up.

Almost all the Williams players were distinctly outclassed, although two of the matches were lost by close scores. In the singles, Adams was defeated on the last hole by the score of two up, and in the foursome Captain Black and Adams lost by three and two.

President of the Board of Trustees

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

The annual circular, giving full information, may be had on application to the Registrar.

DIFFICULT MID-WEEK TRIP WILL BE TAKEN

OUTCOME LOOKS DOUBTFUL

Powerful Harvard and Amherst Nines Will Be Encountered on May 19 and 20

Playing through a difficult mid-week schedule the Williams baseball team will face Harvard at Cambridge on Wednesday and Amherst on Thursday. In each case chances for victory based upon competitive scores appear to rest with the opposing teams in spite of the improved playing of the Purple in the Colgate game.

Harvard's record thus far is good considering the strength of the teams encountered. On the southern trip three games were lost, the Annapolis, Pennsylvania, and Columbia nines each winning by a two run margin, while the Harvard team tied its score with that of West Point and the University of Virginia. In addition to this trip an early season contest with New Hampshire State was won 9 to 2, and the strong Cornell team was defeated in the twelfth inning by a 7 to 6 score. The last three contests have been unsuccessful, the Crimson losing to Dartmouth 10 to 7, to Amherst 3 to 1, and to Princeton 3 to 1. Harvard's chief weakness has been in the pitcher's box, but an air-tight infield has done much to counteract this.

Considerable improvement was shown by the Williams team in the game with Colgate last Saturday, and as Coach Davis has expressed himself as well satisfied with the line-up used in that contest, the same line-up will probably be further tested out on the present trip. Ward showed up well at third base and McLean proved his ability at center field. The team as a whole batted fairly well against good pitching, and it was under the further disadvantage of encountering the first left-handed pitcher met with this season. In the games with Harvard and Amherst all three pitchers, Burrows, Holmes, and Patton will probably be used but the order has not been settled thus far.

The probable line-up follows:

WILLIAMS		HARVARD
Mason	2b	ss	Conlon
C. Boynton	rf	3b	Lincoln
B. Boynton	ss	2b	Emmons
Finn	c	rf	Perkins
McLean	cf	lf	Frothingham
Ward	3b	cf	Hallock
Nichols	1b	1b	Bigelow
Burger	lf	c	Gammack
Burrows, Holmes
or Patton	p	p	Felton

During the Amherst spring trip the University of Virginia was twice defeated, 4 to 2, 2 to 0, and V. M. I. also lost 5 to 4, but Washington and Lee was victorious 5 to 4. Since the spring trip the Blue and White has been forced to bow before two strong nines, that of Cornell and of the University of Virginia in a return game, losing by a margin of a single run in both cases. On the other hand Trinity was held on the short end of a 4 to 2 score and Harvard was decisively defeated 3 to 1.

Veterans comprise the entire team with the exception of the catching department, where promising material has been developed in Heselton, a freshman. Clark and Cummings have shown plenty of ability in pitching and have succeeded in holding heavy-hitting teams to comparatively small scores. They have received excellent support from the remainder of the team, which constitutes a well rounded, out aggregation. The Williams line-up will be the same as that used in the Harvard contest unless later developments necessitate a change.

The probable Amherst line up follows:

Eveleth	rf
Seamans	lf
Brisk	ss
Maynard	cf
Cowles	1b
McNamara	3b
Weber	2b
Davison or Heselton	c
Clark or Cummings	p

After the election of committees on credentials, resolutions, permanent organization, and rules, the convention will adjourn temporarily while various sections of the party hold caucuses. The convention will meet again, and the installation of permanent officers will take place. The report of the committee on resolutions, setting forth the party platform, will be discussed and accepted or modified. The real work of the convention will begin with the second calling of the roll. Nominations and seconds for the president and vice-president of the United States will be made by the state chairmen, the states being called in alphabetical order by the Secretary. A majority of votes is necessary to elect and if the necessary number is not secured on the first ballot, roll call will be continued until the choice is made.

PROBLEMS OF ADRIATIC ADJUSTMENT DISCUSSED

Only Basis of Settlement Is Union of Italy and Jugo-
Slavia, Says C. U. Clark

In an illustrated lecture on "Adriatic Problems" last Friday evening in Jesup Hall, Prof. Charles Upson Clark, formerly of Yale University, outlined the conditions and conflicts existing in Italy, Hungary, and the Balkans. The colored slides he showed of Fiume and Albania, taken from official Italian photographs, indicated the rugged character of the disputed territories.

Mr. Clark said in commencing that it was difficult to obtain authoritative information about anything in southern Europe, as practically nothing that is said and little that is seen is worthy of confidence.

The most pressing Adriatic problem of today, he continued, is undoubtedly the disposition of Fiume. The town of Fiume is inhabited almost entirely by Italians, who dominated it until 1848, when it fell into the hands of the Croats. For 19 years they ruled it poorly, until in desperation Fiume joined the state of Hungary, whose control proved even worse. For this reason the people of Fiume are today strongly opposed to annexation by Jugo-Slavia, a large part of which comprises Hungary and Croatia. Furthermore, Italian interests own all the many manufacturing plants which, in the eyes of the residents, distinguish the city itself rather than its value as a port. Fiume is now under the control of Gabriel D'Annunzio, with whom Mr. Clark became personally acquainted, and who is trying patriotically to safeguard Italy from further invasions of which it has already suffered 67, at the same time giving the people absolute self-determination without, as has been falsely stated, the coercion of his troops. In the meantime, the diplomatic "experts" at the peace conference are bickering over a question whose significance is entirely unknown to them.

Mr. Clark emphasized the dangers to be found in this country in Hungarian propaganda which has almost completely replaced German propaganda since the armistice. It is distributed largely through the religious press, and takes the form of appeals for sympathy on the ground of religious persecution by the Serbs and chiefly the Rumanians, charges which, according to Mr. Clark, are grossly untrue.

In connection with the photographic slides, Mr. Clark told of the racial problems connected with the disposition of Albania, pointing out that at the present time only the steady hand of Italy can guide that people safely. The ultimate basis of adjustment of all Adriatic disputes, concluded Mr. Clark, must be an amicable understanding and union between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, for as long as these two peoples remain at odds, there can be no peace either between them or among their neighbors.

The doubles matches were easy victories. Pollard and Chapin defeated McLoughlin and Vernon by the score of 6-3, 6-2. Pollard played a good game, but McLoughlin and Vernon fell down considerably from their form in the singles. Chapin executed several unexpected shots close to the net. A 6-4, 6-1 victory was gained by Fraker and Bullock over Law and Reed, chiefly due again to the poor service of the Maroon players.

Saturday's match with M. I. T. was much more closely contested than that with

As a result of the four games played in the Intramural leagues last week, Sigma Phi superceded the Commons Club in first place in the American League, when the latter team lost to Phi Gamma Delta, and the Faculty Club moved from seventh to fifth place in the National League as the result of its victory over Phi Sigma Kappa. Poor weather conditions prevented several of the scheduled games from taking place.

Colgate. Broockmann was undoubtedly the star of the Maroon and White team. His well-planned placements drew his matchwith Pollard to a contest of three sets, the first of which was won by the Williams player, 6-3, but the remaining two lost by the score of 6-1, 6-2. This was by far the best played of the matches, and both Pollard and Broockmann executed several sensational back-hand shots. Fraker scored a 6-1, 6-4 victory over McWane and Bullock a 6-2, 7-5 triumph over Beattie. The Fowse—Scott match was fast, and the former won, 6-1, 6-4.

In the doubles matches Pollard and Rowse defeated Broockmann and McWane 6-1, 8-6. Rowse showed up well in this contest, succeeding in several spectacular shots as well as demonstrating general good form. The playing on the M. I. T. side was somewhat loose during the first set but tightened up as the game progressed. In the second of the doubles matches Bullock and Fraker easily defeated Reed and Scott, 6-1, 6-0, thus totaling five points to the opponents' one.

HOME RUN IN NINTH NETS HARVARD GAME

Williams Battles Against Opponents Lead, but Is Unable to Prevent Winning Run

VARSITY MUCH IMPROVED
Nichols for Purple and Frothingham for Crimson Star at Bat—Final Score Is 6-5

Showing a marked improvement in every department of play, the Williams baseball team made a strong uphill fight against the superior pitching of Harvard on Soldier's Field Cambridge, last Wednesday afternoon, and succeeded in getting up from the short end of a 5-2 score in the sixth inning to a 5-5 tie in the eighth only to have Frothingham, the Crimson's star hitter, knock out a home run in the latter half of the ninth that gave Harvard a hard-won victory by a score of 6-5. Both teams played good ball, and the varsity showed a much stronger fighting spirit than has hitherto been in evidence.

For the Purple, Nichols did by far the best hitting, obtaining two hits out of four times at bat, and bringing in two men from bases by means of a timely three-bagger in the fourth. Only a very questionable decision by the umpire prevented him from tallying a run himself in the same inning when he tried to come home on a hit to pitcher by Burger. During the seventh, Nichols clouted the ball into right field for a three-bagger and got home on a balk made by the Harvard pitcher. In the box, Holmes allowed the opposing nine 6 hits until he was replaced in the second half of the seventh by Patton, who permitted one hit for the remainder of the nine innings. Bases on balls by Holmes in the first and fifth were disastrous.

Frothingham did most of Harvard's bat work by securing three hits out of five times at bat. Three of these resulted in runs, one of them being the homer in the second part of the ninth that decided the game. Harrison, on the mound for the Cambridge men, allowed but four hits up to the first half of the ninth, when Goode took his place, and finished the game without letting the Williams batsmen find him.

Together, the Harvard pitchers struck out seven men.

The game opened at 4 o'clock, with Mason the first man at bat for Williams. He was given a base on balls, after which McLean fled to Hollowell, in right field and was put out. Captain Boynton hit a foul that Gamrack, the Harvard catcher, secured without trouble, while a foul by Finn, which Bigelow, at first for Harvard, caught, ended the inning without permitting Mason to come in. Holmes gave bases on balls to Conlon and Lincoln at the start of Harvard's half, and a punt by Emmons brought them to third and second, respectively, although Emmons was put out at first, Hollowell connected with one that Holmes transferred to Nichols, nabbing the batter at first, and Frothingham came through with a two-bagger over Boynton, at shortstop, that brought Conlon and Lincoln safely to the plate. Mallock struck out, closing the frame with 2 runs for Harvard.

During the second inning, the Purple fielders showed better stuff on the whole than before, and Holmes began to increase his control of the ball. Neither side scored in the third, although an error by Captain Boynton, who dropped a grounder from Hollowell, resulted in filling the bases with Harvard players.

Matters grew decidedly interesting in the fourth, when Williams tied the score at 2-2. Captain Boynton opened the frame at bat and was given his base on balls. He made second when Finn

TO OPPOSE WESLEYAN

Purple Net Men Will Play at Middletown Tomorrow

Williams will oppose Wesleyan tomorrow afternoon at Middletown, Conn., in the fourth tennis match of the season. Captain Pollard, Fraker, Bullock, and Rowse will represent the Purple and will have as their opponents Captain Swift Steele, Ott, and Leland of the Red and Black team.

Tomorrow's match will be the second time this year that representatives of Williams and Wesleyan have clashed on the courts and chances for victory seem about even. Last week Pollard and Chapin defeated Swift and Steele in the semi-finals of the New England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association tournament by the score of 8-6, 2-6, 6-3. In the singles, however, Swift defeated Pollard in a close match in the first round of the tournament in two sets which went to 6-4 and 9-7. The Williams team is much weakened by the absence of Chapin who will be unable to make the trip.

BELGIAN ORGANIST TO APPEAR IN GRACE HALL

Charles M. Courboin, Renowned Virtuoso, Will Play 19th Century Selections

Through the kindness and generosity of a friend of the College, the noted Belgian organist, Mr. Charles M. Courboin will give a recital in Grace Hall on the evening of Monday, May 24. The concert will be held at 8.00 o'clock and will be open to the public who will be admitted free of charge.

Mr. Courboin is a brilliant concert virtuoso, possessing an extensive repertoire of several hundred compositions all of which he plays from memory. His reputation has been extended from coast to coast by a number of concerts which have aroused the greatest enthusiasm wherever he has appeared. He has recently completed a series of 26 recitals, as guest soloist, on the magnificent organ at the Wanamaker Store in Philadelphia, an organ which is without doubt the largest in the world, having 232 speaking stops. The total audience at these solos exceeded 125,000 people.

The foreign virtuoso is a native of Antwerp, Belgium, a graduate of the Belgian Conservatory, and at the age of 18 became the organist of the famous Antwerp Cathedral which contains the largest and finest instrument in Belgium. Shortly after entering upon this position he gave a concert in Albert Hall, London before an audience of 15,000 people. Referring to his recital, Hilton Carter said, "Never has an organ virtuoso obtained such a triumph in England." From other sources, also, he has received equally high praise. In commenting on his playing at the opening of the new organ at the Cathedral of Bruges, the critic of La Patrie wrote, "One does not really know which to admire most the virtuosity, the surety of execution, the delicacy of interpretation, the depth of sentiment, or the absolute docility of the instrument to respond to all the impulses of the soul which governs it and commands it."

The recital will consist entirely of representative selections from the great composers of the nineteenth century. The program follows.

Toccato and Fugue in D Minor	Bach
Evening Song	Schumann
Pastorale From Second Symphony	Widor
Third Choral, in A minor	Franck
L'Organo Primitivo	Yon
The Bells of St. Anne Beaupre	Russell
Forest Murmurs (from "Siegfried")	Wagner
Allegretto	De Boeck
Marche Heroique	St. Saens

BOSTON COLLEGE MAY TAKE TITLE ON TRACK

NEW ENGLAND TEAMS MEET

Thirteen Williams Athletes to Compete in Contest at Tech Field, Cambridge Today

With M. I. T. pressing her closely for the honor, Boston College seems likely to emerge victorious in the Thirty-fourth Annual New England Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, which will take place this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon at 2.00 o'clock on Technology Field, Cambridge. The colleges with which Williams will compete are Amherst, Bates, Boston College, Bowdoin, Brown, Holy Cross, Maine, M. A. C., M. I. T., Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, Wesleyan and W. P. I.

With fifteen colleges entered, 35 points at the most is certain to be the winning figure, and on the showing of the individuals from various colleges whose teams have little chance will depend largely the splitting up of these points and the ultimate resting place of the trophy for the winning team. M. I. T. appears to have the best balanced of the teams which are entered, although the splitting up of points will favor Boston College which is exceptionally strong in the distance events and in the broad-jump, in which Captain Dempsey is almost a certain winner.

Ten of Coach Seeley's athletes made the trip to Cambridge yesterday, and three more left today, to represent Williams in all events except the shot-put, hammer-throw, and discus-throw. There is little chance of a victory for the varsity since the team is poorly balanced and no men have been entered in the weight events, but it is expected that the Purple will better its showing of fifth place made in last year's meet. The thirteen men who will represent Williams tomorrow have won 181 of the 218 points gained by Williams in meets this season. Of these H. H. Brown '20, Crofts '21, and McWhorter '22 are expected to be the most consistent point winners, but each will have to compete with strong opponents. In the two-mile event, in which both Brown and Crofts are entered, Goodwin, of Bowdoin appears to be the most dangerous entrant. Goodwin, who covered the mile in 4 minutes, 24 3-5 seconds last Saturday in the Maine Intercollegiate Championship meet, at Lewiston, Me.,

NINE SENIORS FINISH VAN VECHTEN CONTEST

Trials Held Tuesday Night and Yesterday—Results to Be Announced Very Soon

Nine seniors took part in the final trials of the Van Vechten Prize Contest for extemporaneous speaking which took place in the Jesup Hall reading room last Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock and yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. Contrary to the usual precedent of not announcing the successful contestants until Commencement, the judges have decided to make public the results of the contest this year within the next few days, providing the rules of the deed of gift permit.

Four sets of trials have been held, and each contestant has been required to speak at any three of them. The speakers are signalled at the end of 10 minutes and must stop at the end of 12 minutes. Four subjects covering a wide variety of subject-matter have been offered at each trial, any one of which could be chosen and treated from any possible viewpoint by the contestant.

On Tuesday evening Assistant Professor Clark presided and acted as judge with Professor Morton and Assistant Professor Galbraith. The speakers were given their choice of the following four subjects: "Adoption of the League of Nations with or without Reservations", "A Bonus for Soldiers", "Later College Exercises in Winter", and "Compulsory Universal Military Training." These topics, in accordance with the conditions of the contest, were assigned one hour before the addresses were delivered.

Two of the speakers, Finder and Bushnell, chose the subject of later College exercises in winter than in summer. It was pointed out that the students' interests should be considered as well as the Faculty's, and that chapel and classes should be set for an hour later in winter to satisfy best the interests of all. Field took as his choice the question of bonuses for soldiers while Goodman further emphasized the military viewpoint by advocating compulsory universal military training. Raphael favored the adoption of the League of Nations with no further reservations than those proposed by Elihu Root. His principal criticism was of the shifting of responsibility by this country which hopes at the time to partake of the benefits of such a league. Bushnell and Goodman appeared on the whole to have shown the best ability during the afternoon in extemporaneous speaking.

In the final trials yesterday afternoon Professor Milham presided, and Assistant Professors Allen and Hoar acted as associate judges. The four elective subjects were as follows: "The Relations of the United States to Central and

Hoover Defeated by Only Five Votes When Supporters of Lowden Give Up Hope

337 DELEGATES ATTEND

Dr. Garfield Picked for Vice-President as 6 Hour Session Closes at 1.20

Major-General Leonard Wood received the nomination of the Williams College Republican Convention on the seventh ballot at 1.20 o'clock last Tuesday morning in Jesup Hall by a majority of two and a plurality of five votes over Herbert Hoover, his nearest opponent. Controlling two of the important committees, the small but determined band of Lowden supporters, who created a three-hour deadlock and refused to give in until they had tried every means in their power to secure the nomination of their candidate, finally consented to vote, and a last-minute boom for former Justice Hughes as a "dark horse" was defeated.

As a number of the delegates did not remain until the end, it was impossible for Wood or Hoover to receive a majority vote of those registered. The convention therefore passed a motion immediately before the last ballot to the effect that the candidate obtaining a majority of the votes cast should be accorded the nomination. In every ballot General Wood received a plurality, which was greatest at the beginning and steadily diminished until the end. When at last the Lowden men gave up hope, they held a party caucus, in which Holt '20 represented the Wood party and Ward '20 the Hoover party, the latter condemning the action of the Lowden supporters in holding out so long, and the former adopting a policy of conciliation toward them. As a result some influential Lowden men who were thought to favor Hoover as second choice swung over to the other side and thus ensured Wood's nomination. The convention finally came to a close after a session lasting from 7.40 o'clock to 1.25 o'clock with the unanimous choice of Dr. Garfield for vice-president.

After some minutes of parades and demonstrations on the Laboratory Campus, particularly on the part of the Wood Club, the delegates entered Jesup Hall, where the meeting was called to order at 7.40 o'clock. On the nomination of Hawes '20, Jewett '20 was unanimously elected chairman on a non-partisan basis. The new chairman then delivered the keynote address. After mentioning the existing state of unrest, he declared that the party in power must introduce thrift into the government by abolishing wasteful taxes, by having competent business men in charge of government finances, and by instituting a budget system. Jewett went on to urge the restoration of republican government by destruction of the war-time autocratic powers of the executive and to declare complete agreement with the Senate in its fight for reservations to the Peace Treaty and League Covenant. In conclusion he said that industrial conferences should be substituted for strikes, that the merchant marine should be Americanized, that teachers salaries should be increased, the immigration laws enforced, woman suffrage granted, and armaments reduced.

Next came the election of the secretaries and committees. Moore '20, chosen secretary by acclamation, named Becket, Symons, and Townsend '20 as his assistants. After the adoption of a permanent roll, Field '20 was elected chairman of the committee on rules, Reinhardt '20 of the committee on organization, Townsend '20 of the com-

Vol. 34 MAY 21, 1920 No. 16

Much encouragement is to be drawn from the marked improvement displayed by the varsity against Harvard last Wednesday, when after an uphill fight through seven innings it tied the score in the eighth and was finally defeated only by a home run in the ninth. The team shows signs of casting off at last the persistent jinx which has been following it thus far and it is hoped that in the next few games will find its real stride in preparation for the final clash with Amherst on May 31.

The College Body meets this evening to vote on the plan of the Student Council to limit participation in non-athletic activities. Many arguments have been advanced in favor of the proposal, and few can be made against it. However, possibly some details of the system should be changed before it is to be passed. It is therefore the duty of every undergraduate to familiarize himself with that plan and to attend the college meeting prepared to offer any suggestions that may have occurred to him.

The Convention

It is a good sign that Williams undergraduates are interested in affairs of the day, when a mock political convention kept over three hundred of them in an auditorium for six hours until the decision was at last reached. This interest is particularly evident when one considers that few other occasions have ever been able to attract the attention of the college man to such a degree or to hold his attention for so long.

One of the communications in an adjoining column voices the belief that "Williams College is Hoover College". It is true that a large majority of the Faculty favor Hoover for the presidency and that probably a straw vote including the Faculty and the much-sat-upon little coterie of Democrats as well as the Republicans would give Hoover a plurality. But Williams does not favor any one candidate overwhelmingly and cannot be called "Wood College", "Hoover College", "Lowden College" or anything of the sort. The divided sentiments of the college are gratifying because they form the concrete proof that Williams men, coming as they do, from many different sections of the country, are willing to devote some individual thought to politics rather than follow the crowd in the support of one candidate.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

Editor of Williams RECORD:

Dear Sir:

Williams alumni will doubtless feel highly gratified at the splendid work of the two Williams undergraduates at the recent New England Intercollegiate tennis championship.

The record made by Pollard and Chapin this year has not been equalled but once during the last twenty years when in 1904 L. H. Northrup and Floyd Smith won the doubles and met each other in the finals of the singles. Since that year, although Williams men have several times won either the singles or doubles it was not until this year that both events were again won in the same tournament. Therefore it is with just pride that we alumni view the results obtained by our representatives in the events at Longwood this year.

—Floyd R. Smith, 1906

Editor of Williams RECORD:

Dear Sir:

I feel that a little explanation ought to be given of the results of the Republican Convention held last Monday night in order to dispel the illusion prevalent among many, both inside and outside of College, in regard to the presidential preference of Williams College.

The Republican Convention was represented by the undergraduates only. In the final vote Wood won the nomination by a majority of five votes, the ballots cast being 158 to 153. The faculty, however, for some good reason was excluded from participation in the convention. It is this fact that gave Wood the victory. But the Faculty by an overwhelming majority have declared themselves for Hoover. Thus if we consider, as we ought to, the Faculty as much a part of the College as the undergraduates (and after having taken into consideration the small number of Democrats who are for Hoover), we can safely say this: while the majority of Williams Republican undergraduates nominated Wood, Williams College remains Hoover College.

College Body to Meet Tonight

In order to discuss the Student Council's plan for limitation of participation in non-athletic activities, the College body will meet in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock this evening. The proposed plan was given in detail in the last issue of the RECORD.

Meeting of College Church

At the close of the morning chapel service next Sunday morning the regular annual meeting of the College Church will be held in the West Transept of the Chapel. The following four members will be elected to the standing committee: one member from the Faculty to serve for two years, two members from the present Junior class, and one member at large to be elected from any class.

Sophomores Will Nominate

In order to nominate five men from the list of eight track competitors the Sophomore Class will hold a meeting Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. The following eight sophomores with their grades have been announced by the track management: Group 1—W. H. Prescott, Jr., 96; Richardson, 95; H. M. Montgomery, 90; H. M. Lawder, 86; Chapman, 85; and Stout, 84; Group 2—Mendleson, 79 and Hyde, 73.

Because of the insufficient number of men who have signified their intention to take the trip of the Outing Club up Killington Peak, the club has cancelled its plans.

Red and White Team Compos- ed of Veterans—Purple Line
Up Remains Unchanged

Williams will again face a strong team tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field when R. P. I. will be the opponents of the Purple nine. It is doubtful if last year's easily gained 7-4 victory will be repeated.

The Red and White possess a team of unusual ability this year having lost but one of their five games. In addition to being materially strengthened by the return to college of Behan at first base and Kuhnert in the box, the team is composed almost entirely of last year's veterans who have been displaying their old time form. The nine also has a valuable man in Hartary at third base who has proven to be one of the principal mainstays in the infield this season. With this veteran team the season thus far has been most successful. Stevens was defeated by a 6-3 score in the opening game. Syracuse was shut out 1-0 in a well-played game, and Brooklyn Poly Prep. and Worcester were overwhelmed 7-0 and 12-3 respectively. The only defeat suffered was at the hands of Middlebury when the latter took the game out of the fire in the tenth inning and won 3-2.

The Purple team will undoubtedly present practically the same line-up that was used against Harvard last Wednesday with either Burrows or Holmes in the box, presumably the former since he was not worked yesterday in the scheduled game with Amherst. The combination of Nichols at first, Mason at second, and Ward at third is proving far more favorable than any previously tried out. There has been a noticeable improvement in the team work of the nine during the past week, weather conditions in the early part of the week having been especially favorable for much-needed practice. The fact that the score was tied in the eighth inning of the Harvard game Wednesday is sufficient evidence of the team's improvement.

The line-up will probably be as follows:

WILLIAMS	R. P. I.
Mason	2b Holden
McLean	cf Dewey
B. Boynton	ss Wash
Finn	c Cropsey
C. Boynton	1b Baldwin
Ward	3b Hartary
Nichols	1b Behan

Members of the Cercle Francais will present L'Anglais Tel Qu' on le Parle next Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. The comedy will be preceded by a short sketch consisting of dialogues from Courteline's Le Commissaire est Bon Enfant in which Seriey '23 will appear as Le Commissaire and Roche '23 as Floche.

The comedy by Tristan Bernard, which follows, deals with the mishaps caused by the employment of a bogus interpreter in a French Hotel. The cast will be as follows: Eugene, an interpreter—Holt '20; Hodgson, father of Betty—Power '21; Julian Cicandel—Wheeler '20; an inspector—G. C. Ponset '20; a bell boy—Chaousoglou Raphael '20; Betty Hodgson—Loizeaux '22; a cashier—Wallace '22; Agent de Police—Bancker '23.

Gen. Wood Nominated On Seventh Ballot

mittes on resolutions, and Hawes '20 on the committee on credentials. When the delegates had been appointed by the state chairmen to serve on these committees, they withdrew to prepare reports. Several Democrats who were unofficially occupying positions on the main floor were ejected.

Upon the return of the committees business was again resumed. The committee on rules, controlled by Lowden, suggested that the name of any candidate having less than 25 votes could be cast out by a majority vote, but that a candidate having more than 25 votes could not be thrown out, and both rules were passed by the convention. The committee on resolutions reported the following platform:

1. That the United States shall subscribe to the covenant of the League of Nations with proper reservations in respect to Article X.

2. That the United States recommend to the Supreme Council that the Treaty be revised in respect to indemnities and mandatories.

3. That the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment be ratified by state legislatures so that women may vote for president and congressmen in November.

4. That a campaign of education and intelligent Americanization be fostered.

5. That a commission composed of representatives of capital and labor, together with a cabinet member as presiding chairman, be established in every basic industry to study industrial relations in that industry and to form voluntary conciliation boards.

6. That a national budget system be adopted.

7. That in the event of the establishment of the League of Nations, protection as a policy be abandoned but a flexible tariff be retained with a possibility of protection as needed.

8. Opposition to government ownership and the Plumb Plan. (The minority report favored government ownership).

9. That a small standing army be maintained with a trained citizen reserve subject to call only in case of declaration of war by Congress.

10. That the literacy test and other immigration laws be enforced.

The platform was unanimously adopted by the convention. Following this the secretary read the roll-call for nomination, for the office of President of the United States. Arizona passed to Tennessee, and Raphael '20 nominated President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia. Wasson '21 of California nominated Senator Hiram Johnson. Connecticut passed to South Dakota, and Jarrett '21 nominated Senator Knox. Ward '20 of Delaware nominated Herbert Hoover. Ohmsted '20 of Illinois nominated Governor Frank O. Lowden. Winslow '20 of Massachusetts nominated Governor Randolph Coolidge. R. K. Perry '21 of North Carolina seconded Hoover's nomination. Holt '20 of New Hampshire nominated General

Leonard Wood. Bushnell '20 of Ohio nominated Senator Warren G. Harding. Coddling '21 of Pennsylvania seconded Johnson's nomination. Milton '21 of Rhode Island seconded Coolidge's nomination. Cole '21 of South Carolina seconded Knox's nomination. Atwell '21 of Texas seconded Lowden's nomination. Boynton '21 of Vermont seconded Wood's nomination. Waring '20 of Virginia seconded Harding's nomination.

At this point Lowden's candidacy received its biggest boom. Jewett, elected chairman on a strictly non-partisan basis, declared himself decidedly in favor of Lowden. The convention then proceeded to the first ballot. The result was as follows:

Wood	126
Hoover	98
Lowden	57
Coolidge	25
Harding	12
Knox	4
Butler	2

The total number of votes cast was 329, out of the 337 delegates who attended. The necessary majority was 169. After all but the first four names had been dropped by a majority vote, a second ballot was taken, in which most of the Coolidge and Harding forces shifted to Hoover. The result follows: Wood 136, Hoover 129, Lowden 63, Coolidge 4. After Coolidge's name had been withdrawn, Wood gained three votes and Hoover one. Then the convention realizing the deadlock, amended the rule about dropping candidates to read "less than 100 votes" instead of "less than 25 votes." The fourth ballot showed practically the same vote. Field '20 of the Hoover faction, moved that Lowden's name be cast out, although Hawes '20 had told the convention that the Lowden men would vote against the party which tried to put Lowden out of the running. At this the Lowden supporters withdrew to hold a party caucus and on their return refused to vote in the fifth ballot, so that Wood again failed to receive a majority vote of the delegates.

Feeling that the time was ripe to put up the name of a "dark horse", Sedgwick '21 of Georgia nominated Former Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Hughes as a possible rallying point for the various factions. Finder '20 of California seconded the nomination, but the new candidate received only 30 votes on the sixth ballot, and his name was withdrawn. The parties then held caucuses, and the Lowden men decided that it was useless to hold up the nomination any longer. When they returned, the convention balloted for the seventh time and chose General Wood by a vote of 158 to 153 for Hoover. Jones '20 of Ohio nominated President Harry Augustus Garfield for vice-president of the United States, and his election was made unanimous. The convention finally adjourned at 1.20 o'clock.

S. N. Anderson and McGrath '23 have resigned from the competition for second assistant business manager of the RECORD.

Nets Harvard Game

sacrificed. C. Boynton struck out, while Ward, the next batter, walked to first. Nichols got off a clean three-base liner into left field that brought in Boynton and Ward. Burger hit weakly to the pitcher, and Nichols tried for home from third, but he was declared out by the umpire although manifestly safe. Only three men took the bat for Harvard in this inning, all of them going out on flies. Gammack sent one to Ward, Harrison delivered a high one to Captain Boynton, and Conlon failed to get the ball past McLean, in center. With 2 runs for each side, prospects began to look brighter for the varsity.

In the fifth, however, the Crimson hitters annexed two more runs. Holmes, the first man to bat, grounded to Harrison, and was put out at first. A pitched ball struck Mason, and he walked, stealing second a few seconds later when Gammack dropped a pitched ball. McLean grounded to Conlon, at shortstop, and narrowly missed getting safely on base. Captain Boynton struck out, with Mason unable to reach home from second. The first man up for the Cambridge players was Lincoln, to whom Holmes gave a base on balls. Emmons followed him with a bunt, which Holmes stopped, getting the sphere to Nichols, who put Emmons out. Lincoln made second on this play. Hallowell smashed a base hit over shortstop, making second and bringing Lincoln to the plate. Frothingham kept up his record with a triple over third that Burger was unable to hold up and that gave Hallowell safe passage home. Hallowell fled out through center to McLean, and Finn caught Bigelow's high foul, ending the period.

With a tally at 4-2 in the sixth, in favor of Harvard, none of the Williams batsmen were able to score, while Gammack managed to come home on a single by Conlon through right field, giving Harvard a three-run lead over Williams. The varsity showed signs of recovery in the seventh, when Nichols got in a splendid drive to right field for three bases and reached the plate on a balk by Harrison, the Crimson twirler. Patton replaced Holmes on the mound for the second half of this frame, and was successful in retiring the Cambridge batters without permitting them to score.

The real battle began in the eighth. Boynton, struck by the second ball pitched, walked to first, and came home on a scorching drive by Finn to right field. Finn made second on his own hit, and covered another lap when Noble, batting for C. Boynton, sent a grounder past the pitcher but was put out at first. A most opportune hit by Ward, in the form of a grounder to center, let Finn reach home and landed Ward on first. Nichols hit a long fly to left field, and Ward stole second. Burger fouled and went out. Thanks to Ward's hit, the score was tied at 5-5. The Purple aggregation took the field with Noble in right field for C. Boynton. Harrison and Conlon went out on flies. Captain Boynton failed to get the ball to Nichols, at first, when Lincoln grounded, and the latter reached second. Emmons went out on a fly to McLean. The frame closed with the score unchanged.

Patton and Mason got their bases on balls in the ninth, after which Harrison was removed from the box, to be replaced by Goode. McLean bunted, and on a fielders' choice, Patton was arrested at third, while McLean and Mason were at first and second, respectively. Captain Boynton unfortunately went out on a fly caught at center. Finn grounded to shortstop, and the third out occurred when McLean was tapped at second. This was the Purple's last opportunity to score. Hallowell's second foul was captured by Ward off third, and then Frothingham clinched the game for Harvard with a hit to center field that resulted in a home run. The final score was 6-5.

South America", "National Prohibition by Constitutional Amendment", "The Effect of the 'Movies' in Williamstown," and "The Restriction or Forbiddance of Immigration into the United States for the next five years."

The first subject was not touched upon by any of the speakers of the afternoon, and only one contestant chose the last question. The other two subjects, however, were fully discussed by three speakers apiece. The difficulty in judging was greater as continued practice had rendered all contestants more proficient in collecting and expressing their ideas, but Hedden, Bushnell, Webb, and Goodman stood out from the rest in forcefulness of delivery and expression.

National prohibition by constitutional amendment was considered by Bushnell, Goodman, and Noble. The general consensus of opinion appeared to be against the amendment because of the serious menace which it offers to the Constitution through possible non-enforcement with a consequent weakening of the covenant. Bushnell, however, favored the amendment practically, although not theoretically. Three speakers, Humphreys, Finder, and Webb, discussed the effect of the "Movies" in Williamstown, advocating, for the most part, moderation with increase in lectures and other entertainments of a similar nature to somewhat replace the cinema attractions. Hedden took up the possible restriction of immigration into this country and discussed the serious problems involved.

These men will constitute the organization for next year and will continue its literary activities. At the meeting Hedden '20 also read an interesting essay on "G. K. Chesterton," which was the only paper presented.

RETAIL VS WHOLESALE

The corner grocery store is a neighborhood necessity. Situated as it is in the midst of the community, it acts in the capacity of a 'Service station', supplying the immediate needs of the people.

These needs range from a yeast cake to a weekly market list. A large number of the sales to any one person at any one time are considerably under $5.00, in contrast to the wholesaler's orders which run into the hundreds.

Retailing is selling in small quantities; wholesaling, in large quantities. The wholesaler sells either by mail or through the agency of road salesmen, thus doing away with the necessity of keeping up a prosperous looking establishment.

On the other hand, the retailer sells direct to the consumer, in small quantities. He must make his store a pleasant place to deal in; he must take the responsibility for the satisfaction of his customers; and he must keep his profits down to the lowest possible margin.

There is only one way in which he can render this manifold service and still keep his head above water,—namely, by increasing the NUMBER of his sales.

A greater VOLUME of business enables him to keep his margin of profit per sale very low. This in turn tends to lower prices.

REMAINS OF FOUNDER WILL ARRIVE JUNE 20

Thompson Memorial Chapel to Be Final Resting Place for Eph. Williams

TO UNVEIL HONOR ROLL

Foremost Representatives of State and Nation to Participate in Ceremony

Ceremonies of unusual solemnity will take place on Sunday, June 20, when the remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams will be received here for military burial, after being transferred from the original burial place near Lake George, where Colonel Williams fell in battle on September 8, 1755. The remains are to have final resting place in the College Chapel erected as a memorial of Frederick F. Thompson, of New York City.

At that time and place also the Memorial to Williams men who have died in war will be unveiled. This has taken the form of stone tablets placed on the rear wall of the chancel, on which will be inscribed the names of those Williams men who gave their lives in the Civil War and in the World War. Thus will appear in the center of the religious life of the institution a record of all its soldier dead, beginning with the Founder.

Impressive exercises are to attend the reception of the remains of Colonel Williams. They will be met outside the village limits by a military escort, and, placed on a horse-drawn caisson under the colors, will be brought to Field Park at the head of Main Street. There the main procession, representative of the College and its graduates, marshalled by Colonel Archibald Hopkins '62, of Washington, who served in the Civil War, and Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey '05, of New York, who served in the World War, will be in waiting. The march to the chapel will follow. Exercises there are to be conducted by Rev. Dr. John S. Zelle of Troy, N. Y., and Rev. Dr. John N. Lewis '89, of Waterbury, Conn., both of whom were in service in the war against Germany. The chaplains and alumni and students who saw service are to appear in uniform.

In this demonstration of loyalty to the things Williams has stood for in the national life, representatives of the State and Nation will have part. Governor Coolidge and his staff will be present, together with some of the foremost representatives of the Army and Navy of the United States. General Pershing and Admiral Sims have promised to be in Williamstown unless unexpected official duties shall prevent. Both have expressed appreciation of the large measure (Continued on page 4, col. 2)

HEDDEN WINS CONTEST

Awarded Van Vechten Prize—Bushnell '20 Mentioned

On account of oratorical ability, sound reasoning, and up-to-date knowledge, Walter Page Hedden, 1920, of Newark, N. J., has been awarded the Van Vechten Prize for Extemporaneous Speaking as a result of an interesting contest which was held during the last two weeks and in which nine seniors participated. Honorable mention was also adjudged to Nelson Sherwin Bushnell, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Each contestant spoke on three occasions and, in accordance with the rules of the contest, one hour before his address he was given four topics from which to select one as the subject of his oration. In his first speech, Hedden discussed "The Appeal of Christianity to the Modern World". The other topics on which he spoke were "The Remedy for Strikes" and "The Restriction of Forbiddance of Immigration into the United States for the Next Five Years."

COLLEGE TO VOTE ON MANAGERSHIP FRIDAY

Election of the second assistant managers of track, baseball, tennis, and golf will be held next Friday afternoon. Polls will be open in the Managers' Office, Jesup Hall, from 12.00 to 2.00 and from 5.30 to 7.30 o'clock.

Undergraduates will vote on the following track managership candidates, nominated at a meeting of the sophomore class last Friday evening in Jesup Hall: W. H. Prescott 96%, Richardson 95%, H. Montgomery 90%, H. M. Lawder 86%, and Stout 84%.

The Sophomore Class will nominate five men from the list of recommendations published by the managers of baseball and six from that published by the tennis managers at a meeting this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. One man will be elected for the baseball managership, and two for the minor managerships, the candidate with the highest number of votes being given the choice of tennis or golf. The baseball, track, and minor managerships recommendations are published elsewhere in the RECORD.

WILLIAMS MEETS RED AND BLACK IN 3-3 TIE

Purple Leads Contest Through Singles—Wet Courts Handicap Fast Playing

Playing on rain-soaked courts, the varsity tennis team met the retinue of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. last Saturday afternoon in a match which resulted in a 3-3 tie. Williams led 3-1 at the end of the singles, but Wesleyan came back and took both of the doubles matches.

Captain Swift of Wesleyan was the individual star being the only man who won both of his matches, while in the singles Bullock '21 easily defeated Ott, of Wesleyan, by the scores of 6-0, 6-2. Steele, of the Red and Black team, gave Fraker '21 a hard battle and was beaten only after three sets had been played, the last of which resulted in a 10-8 victory for Fraker.

Rowse '22 easily defeated Leland, in a two-set match, and Ott and Leland emerged victorious against Fraker and Bullock, defeating them by the score of 6-4 in both sets. The other doubles match was closely contested, but Swift and Steele finally won by the score of 6-4 and 7-5.

The summary is as follows:

Singles—Swift (Wes.) defeated Pollard (W) 10-8, 6-2. Bullock (W) defeated Ott (Wes.) 6-0, 6-2; Fraker (W) defeated Steele (Wes.) 6-1, 4-6, 10-8. Rowse (W) defeated Leland (Wes.) 7-5, 6-4.

Doubles—Swift and Steele (Wes.) defeated Pollard and Rowse (W) 6-4, 7-5. Ott and Leland (Wes.) defeated Fraker and Bullock (W) 6-4, 6-4.

To Hold 17 Class Reunions

Seventeen classes will hold reunions on Class Day, June 18, under the Dix Plan by which classes that were in college together reunite at the same time. Those to be represented are the classes of '60, '61, '62, '63, '64, '70, '80, '81, '82, '83, '95, '99, '00, '01, '02, '18, and '19.

Several of the reunion committee heads have announced plans for the festivities. Three members of the Class of 1864 will return, and the Class of 1881 will have a delegation of almost 20 men present. About 40 members of the Class of 1899 intend to revisit Williamstown, accompanied by a brass band. The Class of 1919, through its reunion committee comprising Townsend, Quaintance, and Anthony, is laying plans for an unprecedented turnout. Almost all the classes whose plans are known intend to hold reunion banquets on Friday, June 18.

NINE SUFFERS SIXTH CONSECUTIVE DEFEAT

BOYNTON KNOCKS HOMER

Strong R. P. I. Team Overcomes Williams in Well-pitched Game Ending 2 to 1

Williams' inability to hit at crucial moments, coupled with opportune hits by the opposing team, gave R. P. I. a 2 to 1 victory last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field in a contest which missed being a shut-out game only through Boynton's home run. The home team appeared still to lack the final and decisive drive which often turns defeat into victory, for in the seventh inning with runners on second and third and only one down, as in several other cases when men were advanced as far as third base, the necessary punch was lacking to bring even a tying run over the home plate.

Except for the fifth inning, in which three hits were bunched, Patton pitched very good ball, allowing only two bases on balls and holding the opposing batters in tight places to infield hits or flies. As a direct result, ten R. P. I. players were left on bases during the course of the game. Kuhnert, the star pitcher of the Red and White aggregation, pitched a consistently good game, striking out a total of twelve men and keeping the four Williams hits well scattered. He allowed seven bases on balls, however.

Umpire decisions were faulty and equally unfair to both teams. Williams received rather the worst of this, as such a decision happened to come at one of the most critical times in the fifth inning when the two R. P. I. runs were scored. With men on second and third, Behan knocked a fly over second base which McLean caught and threw to third. The runner on third who scored had left his bag before the fly was caught, and in a close decision at third with respect to the runner from second, who was apparently out, the umpire at first so decided, but later changed this decision. The latter player also scored on the next hit.

Four errors were made by the Purple nine as opposed to three by the Red and White, but none were at all glaring or responsible for either of the two runs. The fielding was generally good, and steady support was offered the pitcher throughout the contest. In the fourth inning an error by McLean in catching a short fly just past second base placed runners on first and second. Holden's single between shortstop and third filled the bases with only one out. Patton pulled safely out of the hole, however, with good support, Boynton captured an infield fly, and the next man struck out. (Continued on page 6, col. 1)

INTERFRATERNITY BODY ELECTS FINN CHAIRMAN

Rushing Period Next Year Will Begin with Fifth Saturday after College Opens

John Hartney Finn, 1921, of Northampton, Mass., was elected chairman and Dudley Marvin Irwin, Jr., 1921, of Buffalo, N. Y., secretary of the Interfraternity Council for next year at a meeting in Jesup Hall last Friday evening. At the same time final alterations were made in the next fall's rushing agreement which will be presented to the various fraternities for their signatures within the next week.

Finn prepared for Williams at the Northampton High School, Northampton, Mass., and at the Williston Seminary, East Hampton, Mass. At the former school he played on the basketball team and was captain of the baseball team for two years. At the Williston Seminary he was on the debating team. Since entering Williams, Finn has played on his class basketball team for two years and has been twice picked by the RECORD for the all-star five. He was on the class debating team in his freshman year. For three seasons he has served as catcher on the varsity baseball nine, and last spring he was elected manager of basketball. Finn is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Irwin prepared for College at the Nichols School, Buffalo, N. Y. Since entering Williams he has played on his class soccer team and has been a member of the College fire brigade in addition to playing on the varsity hockey team. Last spring he was elected manager of baseball, and at the conclusion of the present hockey season he was chosen captain for next year. Irwin is a member of the Kappa Beta Phi Society and of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

In concluding their consideration of the proposed changes to the present rushing agreement the Council decided to change the opening date of the rushing period to the fifth Saturday after the opening of College in the fall, making a closed period of slightly over a month previous to the rushing dates. A proposal to lengthen the time of the second period was voted down. The agreement as at last approved by the Interfraternity Council will be presented to the various fraternities for ratification during the ensuing week.

M. I. T. and Brown Finish First and Second, Respectively, on Cambridge Track

BROWN TAKES TWO-MILE

McWhorter, Barnes, Crofts, Chapin, Coddling, Phillips, and Richmond Win Points

Capturing one first place, one second, and four thirds, and two fourths in the track events, 11 Williams entrants won third place for the Purple with 20½ points in the New England Intercollegiate at Tech Field, Cambridge, last Saturday afternoon, during a heavy rain which inundated the field to a depth of several inches. M. I. T. and Brown, although unable to outscore Williams on the track, secured enough places in the field events to take first and second in the meet with 33 and 30 points, respectively.

The unfavorable weather conditions made good times impossible. Captain Brown ran a beautiful race in the two-mile run, winning in 10 min. 2-5 sec. from a field consisting of the Maine Intercollegiate Champion, the Eastern Intercollegiate Champion, the runner-up in the I. C. A. A. A. cross country, and other contestants who were expected to furnish lively competition. McMahon of M. I. T., was eight feet behind, with Crofts a close third and the others some distance back. In the 120-yard hurdles, Barnes took second place and Phillips fourth. McWhorter came in third in the 100 and the 220, with Coddling fourth in the former event. Chapin tied with five others for first in the pole-vault, and Richmond placed third in the 880-yard run.

In the trials which took place on Friday, only seven Williams men qualified. Brown, with 15 qualifiers, looked like a sure winner. M. I. T. qualified 12, Boston College, Bowdoin, Wesleyan, and Williams seven each, Amherst six, N. H. State five, Holy Cross four, Tufts three, M. A. C., Trinity, and Vermont two each, and Bates, Maine, and Middlebury one each. Colby and W. P. I. failed to qualify any men. McWhorter won his heat in the 220 in 22 2-5 sec., which was the latest time of any heat. Chapin in the pole-vault made 11 feet easily on the first try, as did three opponents, and two others cleared the same height on a later try. The points were split among the first four, as it was impossible to hold the finals under the slippery conditions (Continued on page 5, col. 1)

TO OPPOSE DARTMOUTH

Williams Net Men Will Meet Strong Visiting Quartet

Williams will meet the Dartmouth tennis team on the college Tennis Courts at 4.00 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. Although the Green players have had considerable success in their matches thus far, they were defeated on three occasions by the Williams netmen in the N. E. I. L. T. A. tournaments at Boston.

Captain Pollard, Bullock, Fraker, and Chapin will probably make up the Williams team, with Rowse in reserve. Dartmouth will probably be represented by Captain Farnham, Carleton, Sanders, and Gale, of whom Sanders and Carleton have been playing brilliantly this spring. On a three-day trip, the New Hampshire team won from Brown, 6-0, and overcame the strong M. I. T. combination by the score of 4-2, whereas Amherst was defeated 5-1. In the New England Intercollegiate Tournament, Chapin disposed of Carleton by the score of 6-2 and 7-5, and defeated Sanders in the final round, 6-2, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4. Pollard and Chapin conquered Carleton and Sanders in the semi-final round, 2-6, 8-6, 6-1.

Vol. 34 MAY 24, 1920 No. 17

The Student Council's plan for the limitation of participation in undergraduate activities will come before the College tomorrow evening. The RECORD again recommends to the College the adoption of this plan, either in its present or in a slightly revised form. The changes which were suggested in the RECORD of May 17 are repeated below:

1. To change the Chairmanship of the Interfraternity Council from Class A to Class B.
2. To change the presidency of the Forum from Class C to Class B.
3. To change the editor-in-chief of the Class Book from Class C to Class B.
4. To change the business management of Cap and Bells from Class C to Class B.
5. To change the business management of the Musicals from Class C to Class B.

The June 20 Celebration

In the news columns of this issue the details of the ceremonies to accompany the transference of the remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams to Thompson Memorial Chapel are announced. According to the careful plans which have been made, the exercises promise to be unusually effective, especially in view of the fact that both General Pershing and Admiral Sims have promised to be present. The RECORD wishes to take the opportunity to emphasize the fact that it is due largely to the efforts of one man that the project of interring the ashes of Williams' founder in a proper resting place has culminated. Major William A. Pew, during the S. A. T. C. period in particular, has been extremely interested in the military tradition which Williams possesses, and it was largely through his insistence on the value to the college of erecting a memorial here that it was decided to arrange the ceremonies which will take place on June 20.

The Intercollegiates

To the track team and to Captain Brown particularly the congratulations of the College are due on their excellent showing in the New England Intercollegiate. A large share of the credit must undoubtedly be extended to Coach Seeley, who is to be greatly complimented on the high calibre of the work he has done. The greatest value is to be attached to his efforts, especially since his able development of new material during the past few years was responsible for a large proportion of the points secured.

Outclassed by none in the track events, Williams would indeed be in possession of an enviable title, were it not for extraordinary weakness in the other departments. Although the pole-vault is well taken care of, the varsity has no dependable men in the weights and jumps. It may be impossible to train a man in the jumps unless he has natural ability, but quite the opposite is the case in the weights. Any man of unusual strength who is able to control his muscles to a reasonable degree can be made into a winner in the shot, hammer, or discus contests. The track team's greatest need is a new coach, an assistant to Mr. Seeley, to take charge of the weight events; for with an experienced man in that important position, Williams should have a track team which would defy all competition.

Golf Team to Oppose Harvard

Williams will meet the Harvard golf team in the fourth match of the season at 2.30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, at Greenfield. The Purple line-up will probably remain the same as in the recent match with Yale, Captain Black, Jones, Murdock, Adams, Sedgwick, and Simmons playing in the order named.

Little is known of the opposing team, except that it had no difficulty in defeating Amherst, 11-0, but lost to Princeton. The men who will probably take the field for Harvard are Captain Lake, Baker, Duncan, Jones, Bacon and Henderson.

of war service rendered by Williams men. At the head of the center aisle in the chapel, under a descriptive tablet sunk into the stone floor, that which remains of the body of Colonel Ephraim Williams will be placed. As is fitting, the permanent receptacle underneath has been built up from the solid rock.

Above the inscribed panels on the rear wall of the chapel will appear this inscription in bronze letters sunk in the stone: "In faithful remembrance of the Founder, who fell in battle, and of the Sons of Williams who gave their lives that the blessings of free government might endure."

First in the center panel will be the name of Colonel Williams, followed by the names of the dead of the Civil War, with the class and the place of death of each. The other two panels will contain the names of those who died in the late war. The national colors, the College Battalion flags, and the State flag are to have permanent places in this dignified and appealing memorial. The beautifully carved stone work which sets off the three panels embodies details of military significance that has historical value. This ennobling addition to the Chapel memorial of her husband, is the gift of Mrs. Thompson to the College.

CHANGED LINE-UP TO APPEAR AGAINST YALE

DIFFICULT GAME PROMISED

Harder and Monjo Will Play in Outfield—Holmes May Pitch In Wednesday's Contest

Williams will oppose the Yale nine, one of the strongest teams on the schedule next Wednesday afternoon on Yale Field, New Haven, Conn. Several necessary changes have weakened the varsity and, view of the strength of the Blue, the advantage lies decidedly with the opposing team.

Yale is represented by a well balanced team and has had a fairly successful season thus far. The outfield is composed of Crane, Faherty, and Parsons and is one of the heaviest hitting combinations in college baseball this year. In the box, the Blue has Chittenden, Cox, Kelley, and Selleck, all of whom are experienced pitchers. The nine lost to Virginia on two occasions, was defeated by the Georgetown team, and lost to Pennsylvania State, Wesleyan, and Holy Cross. Yale has overcome Fordham and Dartmouth. Williams has played none of Yale's opponents this year but, judging from the strength of the teams defeated by the Blue, the chances for a Purple victory are poor.

Coach Davis has been forced to make several changes in the line-up owing to the fact that at least two of the men have not the cuts necessary to make the trip. Harder and Monjo will play in the outfield in place of C. Boynton and Burger and Holmes will pitch if Burrows is unable to go. Although the team showed an improvement in the last home game, they did not display the team-work and enthusiasm which was evident in the game with Harvard. The nine is still weak in batting, and much stress will undoubtedly be placed on that department before the Yale contest.

The probable line-ups of the two teams will be as follows:

WILLIAMS	YALE
Harder lf	Crane, Calliger lf
Mason 2b	Sawyer, Capt. 2b
B. Boynton ss	Parsons rf
Finn c	Faherty cf
McLean cf	Diamond 1b
Nichols 1b	Holmes 3b
Ward 3b	Aldrich ss
Monjo rf	Peters c
Burrows, Chittenden, Cox,
Holmes p	Kelley p

1922 MEETS TONIGHT

Will Select Eleven Candidates for Three Managerships

Members of the sophomore class will meet this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room to nominate five men from the list for recommendations published by the manager of baseball and six from that published by the manager of tennis last night. The college in turn, will vote next Friday on the men nominated by the sophomore class to elect one man for the second assistant manager of baseball, one for track, and two for the minor managerships of tennis and golf. Of the men to be elected from the list of tennis competitors, the man with the highest number of votes will be given his choice of the managership of tennis or golf.

The baseball recommendations are as follows: Group I—Preston 97%, S. Phillips 91%, S. T. Coleman 90%, Hurst 85%; Group II—Lewiss 72%, Cameron 61%; Group III—Greer, Humes. The management has announced that it does not recommend the men in Group III.

The tennis recommendations are as follows: Group I—Wilcox 94%, Bianchi 91%, Loiseau 90%, H. C. Smith 83%, Doherty 82%, Luedeke 80%, H. S. Prescott 80%, Olmsted 77%. Group II—Symons 67%, N. C. Lawder 65%. Group III—Davis 48%.

Members of the Purple Cow board will hold their annual banquet at 7.00 o'clock this evening in the Richmond Hotel, North Adams.

TO VOTE ON PROPOSAL

College Will Discuss Council's Plan to Limit Offices

In order to discuss and vote upon the plan for the limitation of undergraduate non-athletic activities proposed by the Student Council, the college body will meet at 7.30 o'clock tomorrow evening in Jesup Hall. Following are the rules as drawn up by the Student Council at its last meeting:

Section 1. Undergraduate non-athletic offices shall be divided into three classes, as follows: Class A—The RECORD: editor-in-chief, managing editor, and business manager; chairmanship of the Student Council; presidency of the Williams Christian Association; managerships and assistant managerships of the football, baseball, track, and basketball teams; chairmanship of the Interfraternity Council (in season). Class B—Membership on the RECORD board; chairmanship of the Literary Monthly; editor-in-chiefship of the Purple Cow; editor-in-chiefship of the Gullielmian (in season); participation as a principal in a Cap and Bells show (in season); College Press Agent; managerships and assistant managerships of hockey, swimming, tennis, and golf; membership on a debating team (in season). C. A. cabinet; class presidencies.

Section 2. No undergraduate may hold at one time more than the following combinations: Two positions in Class A and two in Class C; one in Class A and two in Class B; one in Class A, and one in Class B, and two in Class C; three in Class B; two in Class B and three in Class C; one in Class B and four in Class C; six in Class C.

Section 3. The term in season indicates that the position continues but for a limited time and it is only for this limited time that the position is to be considered as a member of the Class indicated.

Section 4. No restrictions are imposed as to the holding of positions not mentioned above.

Section 5. The power of enforcing these restrictions is to reside in the Student Council, which may in extraordinary circumstances make exceptions to Section 2, according to its discretion.

Hazing has been made illegal at the University of Texas through a rule prohibiting the practice on the part of undergraduates and forbidding members of the Faculty to countenance it.

Maine Reorganizes Council

In order to promote greater harmony between the alumni, undergraduates, and faculty at the University of Maine, the Interfraternity Council has been reorganized on a more cooperative basis. It is now made up of the head of each fraternity house, one alumnus from each house, and three members of the faculty appointed by the president of the university.

Nine Suffers Sixth Consecutive Defeat

The hitting of the team was the weakest point, no efficient work with the bat being in evidence at the times when it was most needed. Captain Boynton showed the best batting eye with a home run, Williams' only score, and a two-bagger to his credit. Another long fly to left field was caught by Schermerhorn, who was playing deep. Finn failed to connect except for a single in the sixth inning to center field following Boynton's homer, and Burger made the other Williams hit in the fifth inning when he slid into first base ahead of the first baseman in a close decision. The remainder of the team failed entirely to hit the ball successfully although the opposing pitcher on several occasions showed signs of going up in the air. A total of eleven men were left on bases, almost any one of whom would have scored on a safe hit, tying or winning the game.

THREE TO REPRESENT PURPLE IN BIG MEET PROSPECTS ARE FAVORABLE

Brown and Crofts Entered in Two-Mile Run—McWhorter to Compete in Dashes

Captain Brown '20, Captain-elect Crofts '21, and McWhorter '22 will represent Williams in the 44th annual Intercollegiate track meet to be held on Franklin Field of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia today and tomorrow. The return to normal conditions in college athletics following several years of War activities also brings competition back to the high plane which always has characterized these contests, and the performances of the winning athletes of this meet take on added interest by reason of the proximity of the Olympic Games.

More than 30 colleges and universities including two strong contenders from the West, California and Leland Stanford, will be represented, over 1000 entries having been made. Close followers of college track athletics have been extremely cautious in predicting the winner, due to the widely-distributed strength of the material this year. However, most of the experts agree that the meet will resolve itself into a dual between Cornell and Pennsylvania with Dartmouth and Princeton dangerous contenders. Pennsylvania's chances were appreciably brightened when the Quakers defeated Cornell in their dual meet two weeks ago, for the first time in ten years. Too much emphasis should not be laid upon this though for it has been proved that a good dual team is not necessarily an intercollegiate champion. Last year Cornell rolled up a score of 28 points on the efforts of three men, but this trio should be fortunate if they get 20 points this year. Smith, the crack Cornell hurdler, will have to compete with Thomson of Dartmouth, who was ineligible last year, and who is regarded as the superior of Smith by reason of defeating him at the Penn Relays, while third place in these events is practically assured to Erdman of Princeton, who could not run last year on account of illness. At least three records are in danger, one of which is the 120-yard hurdle mark of 15 seconds set by Murray of California in 1916, as Thomson, it is predicted, can do 14 4-5 over the high sticks. The half mile mark of 1.53 set by Meredith, of Pennsylvania, in the same year will be threatened by Eby also of Pennsylvania, who has been a consistent winner in that event throughout the season. His ability at least to equal the record is scarcely doubted, provided there is some one to push him throughout the distance. The hammer throw record will possibly be shattered by Merchant of the University of California, who has already beaten the I. C. A. A. A. mark of 165 ft. 3-4 in. set by Bailey of Maine in 1915.

Brown and Crofts have both been entered in the two mile run, and McWhorter will compete in the dashes. Although the Purple entries have been granted no places by enthusiasts who have picked the probable winners of these events, yet it is generally conceded that their chances are extremely favorable. The showing which these men made in the N. E. I. C. A. A. meet last Saturday at Cambridge proves their ability beyond question. The record of 9.22 2-5 in the two mile run is not expected to be equalled, although the entries from other colleges are fast and have been showing up well throughout the season. Swede of Princeton has been picked as the most logical winner of this event, with Shields of Pennsylvania second, Higgins of Columbia third, and Hillea of Yale fourth. Shields will also run the mile which he has

Mass Meeting Saturday

To arouse enthusiasm for the Holy Cross and Amherst games, the College mass meeting will be held Saturday at 1.00 p. m. in Jesup Hall. It is expected that Ira Thomas will be present to address the student body as well as Coach Davis. At the same time the proposition of the Student Council for limitation of participation in non-athletic activities will be discussed and voted upon.

BELGIAN ORGANIST DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

CHARLES COURBOIN PLAYS

Skill in Interpretation Marks Masterful Recital of Vir- tuoso in Grace Hall

Many thanks are due the "friend of the college", who made it possible to hear the Belgian organist, Charles Courboin, last Monday evening in Grace Hall. His masterful handling of the instrument, and his skill in interpretation, resulted in many beautiful effects that have seldom before been heard in Grace Hall. Playing entirely from memory, M. Courboin was able to put all his powers upon the interpretation of his music, and did not need worry about the notes.

Among the more interesting numbers, the Fugue in D minor, by Bach, was played with great skill, and a fine showing of splendid technique. Bach music is written primarily for the organ, and yet it requires an artist to assemble the whole into the effective unit produced by M. Courboin.

The Schumann Evening Song played on the three softest stops in the organ, showed fine interpretative skill, and the attention of the audience is ample proof of the pleasure with which it was received.

Cesar Franck's Third Choral in A Minor showed best the powers of M. Courboin in interpreting difficult music. Music that has no melody, and relies for its worth simply upon harmonic effects and chord modulations, is the most difficult to play, especially to an audience that is not used to it. The number would have been better received, had the hearers been more familiar with this new music of the Modern French school. It was played with great feeling, and was probably the finest example of the organist's skill as a true musician of any number in the recital.

The Bells of St. Anne De Beaupre, by Russell, was perhaps the most popular of any of the numbers. The soft organ is possibly more beautiful than the full in the long run, and the skill with which it was used in this met with great appreciation on the part of the hearers.

The selection from Siegfried was played extremely well, and showed us M. Courboin's love for Wagnerian music. If the audience had been more familiar with the Forest Murmurs, it would have been more greatly appreciated. Wagner generally improves on acquaintance.

The finale, St. Saen's Marche Herioque, played with a full organ, showed what could be done with the instrument, and how mere volume of sound can be arranged in a harmonious whole by an artist.

The audience was indebted to M. Courboin for his two encores. The Ride of the Walkuries is most difficult to play, and it showed off to the best advantage the organist's technique. It was a little muddled at times, and the high notes sounded a little shrill, but this was the fault of the organ, and of the music, and not of the player. The Belgian Folk Song was perhaps the most beautiful of anything that was played, and this was due to the feeling that M. Courboin put into it. His great powers of interpretation were here shown at their best, as well as the

STRONG HOLY CROSS NINE FACES VARSITY

VICTORIOUS IN 11 GAMES

Purple Line-up Undergoes Seve- ral Shifts in Attempt to Break Losing Streak

Williams will meet the powerful Holy Cross baseball team tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field in the eighth game of the season. Inasmuch as the visitors have won 11 of the 14 games they have played this spring and as Williams has been defeated seven times, the probability of a fair showing more than on the part of the varsity is remote.

Holy Cross has turned out a team almost the equal of last year's championship nine. On its Southern trip in early April it registered three victories, the only defeat being at the hands of Georgetown University, by the score of 7-3. Since opening its regular season, Holy Cross has defeated such strong aggregations as Brown, Tufts, Vermont, and Yale, conquering the last named by a 6-4 score. West Point succeeded in overcoming the Worcester nine on May 12, and Harvard came out on the winning end of a 1-0 score last Wednesday, securing a home run on one of the two hits allowed by Horan, pitching for Holy Cross.

The visiting team possesses unusual strength in every department of the game. Of the three pitchers, Horan has been performing most brilliantly, as was shown when he held Harvard to three hits on Wednesday. McLoughlin and Gill, who will probably face Williams tomorrow, have also done consistently good work. Gagnon and Santoro, at short and third, respectively, are both hard-hitting veterans. Although Captain Daley, the right fielder, is out of the line-up with a broken leg, the outfield is well taken care of by Doherty and the Dugan twins, Leo and Len.

Williams will enter the game with the same line-up that faced R. P. I. last week, except that Harder will play in left field, and either Monjo or C. Boynton will take right field. Patton, who has had a week's rest, will do the pitching

LONE RUN PREVENTS SHUT-OUT FOR NINE

YALE WINS CONTEST 12-1

Opponents Easily Hit Burrows and Holmes—Williams Weak at Bat and in Fielding

One run, scored by Harder in the first inning, saved the varsity from a complete shut-out at the hands of the powerful Yale nine on Yale Field, New Haven, Conn., last Wednesday afternoon. Accurate hitting at opportune moments by the Eli batsmen, coupled with the varsity's poor batting and fielding, which were largely due to the fact that four substitutes had been put in the places of as many regulars who lacked the cuts necessary for the trip, resulted in a complete victory for Yale, by the score of 12-1.

Harder was the first man at the plate for the Purple, and he was given first base on balls by Cox, the Blue's south-paw pitcher. Mason followed at bat, and Harder stole second. The batter sacrificed with a grounder to third base, bringing Harder to third. Boynton brought Harder across the plate with a high fly to left field, and made first himself. Finn grounded to Cox, and he and Boynton were put out at first and second on a double play by Sawyer and Diamond. Crane, up for Yale, made first on a grounder, and was advanced one sack by Sawyer's sacrifice bunt to Nichols, after which he stole third. Parsons knocked a sizzling grounder to Boynton, but was caught at first. Faherty fled out to Harder, closing the frame with a lead of one run for Williams.

Both teams were unable to change the score in the second.

Howland struck out in the third, but Burrows made first on a grounder, aided by an error on the part of Holmes, of Yale, who missed the ball. Harder struck out, Mason's lucky hit to left field got him to first and Burrows to second, and Boynton knocked a grounder to short-stop, who caught Mason at second. Burrows weakened badly in this frame, letting Yale go through its entire batting order, with Crane at the plate twice. The latter opened for Yale with a grounder which Boynton got, but threw wide in an attempt to put his man out at first. Crane came home on a grounder by Faherty just inside the first base line, and was followed across the plate by Sawyer.

CROFTS SELECTED TO CAPTAIN TRACK

TO LEAD TEAM IN 1921

Has Proven Consistent Point Winner in Distance Runs— Three Years on Team

John Wesley Crofts, 1921, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. was elected track captain for the 1920-21 season at a meeting of the track team held Wednesday afternoon in the gymnasium. He has been a member of the team each of his three years at College and has won second place last year and third place this spring in the two mile at the annual N. E. I. C. A. A. meet at Boston.

Crofts prepared for Williams at the Mt. Vernon High School, where he was editor-in-chief of the school paper and also of the year book. He entered Williams in 1917 and, without any previous experience, gained a place on the Freshman track team and subsequently was chosen to captain his class relay team. In the following Spring he made the varsity team as a two miler and subsequently proved to be the mainstay of the team in that event during the season.

In the autumn of 1919, Crofts was a member of the S. A. T. C., but was sent to the Field Artillery Officers' Training School at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., where he remained for the rest of the fall. He returned to College in the winter and resumed his place on the track team. In the dual meets he scored 11 points, winning the two-mile against Wesleyan and taking second in the Union and Amherst meets. In the New England Intercollegiate he ran second to Captain Brown. During the past year Crofts ran on the varsity cross country and relay teams and was captain of the Junior Class relay team.

Summer Improvements

The continued unfavorable weather this spring serves to emphasize the need for some moderately dry and stable method of communication between Williams Hall, Grace Hall, and the remainder of the College proper. Also there is not a respectable walk from Clarke Hall to Morgan Hall. Several inches of rainfall is all that is necessary to reduce the Grace Hall campus to an oozy morass and the road to a series of brimful ruts, making passage decidedly perilous.

The perennial "Do Not Cross This Lawn" signs will continue to be of but slight value in protecting the grass until some suitable walk is laid along the road. Such a project would be a worthy method of initiating the use of the Daniel A. Jones fund for caring for the College grounds.

A Closed Corporation

Although the RECORD is no way sponsor for the very definite charges preferred against the tennis team in the rather heated communication in this issue; yet on account of this same definiteness, some attention must be paid to the assertions of the writer, who is not, by the way, one of the tennis players mentioned in the letter.

Whether or not there is any truth in the charges, and the writer seems to have the facts well in hand, any such difficulty might well be avoided another season. The establishment of a ranking list of about ten men at the beginning of the season, the order of ranking to be decided by means of a "round-robin" tournament in the early part of the spring, would prevent any objections. A continuous "ladder-tournament", would be held throughout the spring, wherein any man on this list, by challenging and defeating them an ranked above him would move up one place. The four men ranked highest at any time would form the team for that week, and the college would thus be represented by the four best players, as nearly as this could be determined.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:

Dear Sir:

Throughout the spring the wonder of a great many undergraduates has grown as to the unique position occupied by the tennis team among other organizations that represent the college. We do not refer now to the fact of its recent victories in the New England, but the system by which its members are chosen. As far as we know it is the only closed corporation in College; other teams are always open to benefit by new material if it proves itself better than the old, but the tennis team is apparently enjoying the distinction of being able to confer life-membership. With one exception, every member of the team as it has been constituted and has taken trips during the spring, has been defeated by at least one other man in College who is eligible in every way to represent Williams.

But these defeats do not dislodge the old men or give the College the benefit of the superior ability of the victors. Strange as it may seem, this condition is carried over from last year, when one man defeated every member of the team, but was not given a place upon it.

If the object of the tennis team, financed and supported by the College, is like that of other teams, to have Williams represented by the best ability in the College, then its present organization must be changed. As long as any undergraduate who is eligible to represent the College is not put on the team when he challenges and defeats any member of the team as it may be left over from a previous year, then that organization is not a team but a select group of men who enjoy travelling to various colleges at the expense of the student body.

The men on it can hardly call themselves the representatives of Williams, nor do they deserve to receive insignia of the College if that insignia is to stand for anything.

—A Williams Man.

FRENCH CLUB SKETCH AND PLAY SUCCESSFUL

Holt, Wheeler '20, and Power '21 Take Leading Parts in Clever Farce

L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle, a one-act farce by Tristan Bernard, was presented by the Cercle Francais last Tuesday evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium before an enthusiastic audience. Preceding this comedy, a short sketch consisting of dialogues from Le Commissaire Est Bon Enfant, by Courtelaine, in which Serieye and Roche '23 appeared as Le Commissaire and Floche, was given. The part of L'Agent Lagrenaille was played by Bancker '23. This sketch was marked by fast action and gave the audience much amusement. The acting of the three men who took part was excellent, especially that of Roche and Serieye, who took the leading parts.

Le Commissaire Est Bon Enfant was followed by the feature of the evening, L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle. The play showed the results of careful coaching on the part of Mr. A. L. Cru, of the French Department, and the humorous lines, upon which the farce relied for its success, were well brought out by skillful acting. Holt and Wheeler '20, Power '21, and Loiseaux '22, were exceptionally good in the leading parts of Eugene, Julien Cicandel, Hogson, and Betty Hogson, respectively. Holt took the part of an interpreter, Wheeler that of an ardent bridegroom, Power that of an irate old English gentleman, and Loiseaux that of a blase young bride.

The action of the play began with the employment of a bogus interpreter, Eugene at the Hotel de Cologne. Julien Cicandel, a Frenchman, and Betty Hogson, daughter of an irate old Englishman, have eloped to this particular Paris hotel. Due to the misinterpretation of the new employee, the eloped couple is suspected of robbery and is caught by the police. During an exciting scene where the inspector is about to carry the couple to jail, Hogson breaks in, directing all manner of epithets at the frightened interpreter and the astonished inspector. Order is at last restored, and the officer sees his mistake. The lovers are pardoned and granted the good will of the father.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Eugene , Interpreter	Holt '20
Hogson , pere de Betty	Power '21
Julien Cicandel	Wheeler '20
Un Inspecteur	Poncet '20
Un Garcon	Chaosoglou-Raphael '20
Un Agent de Police	Loiseaux '22
La Cuissiere	Wallace '22

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

Finchley RepresentativeTENNIS MATCH WITH DARTMOUTH TIED 3-3*Three Single Matches Won,
But Both Doubles Lost—Chapin Plays Whirlwind Game

Winning three of the singles matches and losing both of the doubles, the tennis team played Dartmouth to a 3-3 tie here last Thursday afternoon. Chapin, playing number one, furnished the most spectacular tennis of the afternoon by defeating Sanders in straight sets 7-5, 6-4, thus repeating his performance of the N. E. L. T. A. tournament finals.

Sanders started out in the first set with a 4-2 lead, but Chapin finally proved too accurate for his Dartmouth opponent and won 7-5. In the second set he was at no time in danger, although every point was hotly contested. Pollard won his first set without much difficulty 6-3. Then Carleton rallied and took the next two sets 6-1, 7-5. In the other two singles matches Fraker and Bullock defeated Gale and Farnham respectively in straight sets 6-1, 6-4, and 6-0, 12-10. Bullock encountered the only difficulty in his second set, winning in the end by superior steadiness.

With the score standing 3-1 in Williams' favor, Chapin and Pollard paired off with Sanders and Farnham for the doubles and Bullock and Fraker with Carleton and Gale. In the first match, Sanders and Farnham reversed the outcome of the N. E. L. T. A. finals, winning 6-1, 6-2. The match was much more closely contested than the score indicates, however, especially towards its finish. The last game went to deuce six times before ending, and Chapin and Pollard won their point four times when the set was at stake. The other doubles match was won by Carleton and Gale 6-0, 7-5, bringing the final score for the day to 3-3. No difficulty was experienced by the Dartmouth pair in the first set, but Bullock and Fraker settled down in the second and by careful playing almost changed the tie to a Williams victory.

The results of the various matches were as follows:

Singles—Chapin (W) defeated Sanders (D), 7-5, 6-4; Carleton (D) defeated Captain Pollard (W), 6-3, 1-6, 5-7; Bullock (W) defeated Captain Farnham (D), 6-0, 12-10; Fraker (W) defeated Gale (D), 6-1, 6-4.

Doubles—Sanders (D) and Farnham (D) defeated Chapin (W) and Pollard (W), 6-1, 6-2; Carleton (D) and Gale (D) defeated Fraker (W) and Pollard (W), 6-0, 7-5.

Banks N.E.I.C.A.A. Treasurer

Banks '21 was elected treasurer of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association at the annual convention of representatives from the various institutions which are members of the association, held last Saturday morning in Boston. The other officers are as follows: President—J. T. Donahoe of Boston College; Vice-president—assistant manager of track at M. I. T. (not elected as yet); and Secretary—and Russell Pearson of W. P. I. It was voted at the meeting that the President should appoint the other members of the Executive Committee as soon as possible and that he should also appoint a special committee to revise and draw up the rules of the Association for publication. Boston College at the same time offered the use of its athletic field for the annual meet of the Association next spring, and in all probability the offer will be accepted.

Will Hold State Tournament

On the courts of the Brae-Burn Country Club, West Newton, Mass., beginning Saturday, May 29, the annual Massachusetts State Championship in doubles will be played off. The winners of the tournament will have a leg on the new Championship Trophies, which will become the property of any team winning them three times, not necessarily in succession. In addition to the Trophies, suitable prizes will be awarded the winners and the runners-up. The tournament is open to all residents of the state, including all students at any college or school in the state.

GOLF TEAM DEFEATED*Harvard Has Little Difficulty In Winning Match 5-1

Harvard had little difficulty in defeating the Williams golf team by an eight to one score on the links of the Greenfield Country Club, Greenfield, Mass., last Wednesday afternoon. Murdock was the only Purple player to win his match, overcoming Duncan one up on the last hole. Both Adams and Jones were defeated by small margins, the former losing to Lake, the opposing captain, on the final hole, and the latter suffering defeat at the hands of Eaton of Harvard, one down on the 19th. The Crimson won all of the foursomes, although at no time was the Purple team completely outclassed.

The summary is as follows:

Breaks Record for Single Lap

While practicing for the Intercollegiate Meet last Tuesday afternoon on Weston Field, Captain Brown '20 broke the record for one lap around the track. It was his fifth lap and he finished the circuit in one minute and 15 seconds, breaking the record by one second.

War Veterans Will Parade

All members of the American Legion are invited to report at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, May 31, at the head quarters of the Williamstown Post to participate in the annual Memorial Day Exercises. The procession will be made up of Civil War Veterans, Spanish War veterans, and veterans of the World War. The Gale hose Company will also take part in the ceremonies.

The march will first be made to the Williamstown cemetery where Mr. Stocking and the Rev. Ralph M. Tibbals will speak and several graves will be decorated. From there the parade will proceed to the Soldiers' monument where Professor Morton will make a short address and Atwell '21 will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech. Next the procession will go to the Eastlawn cemetery under the leadership of the Greylock Band and thence to Spring Street where it will disband.

Prom. to Be in Gymnasium

It was decided at a meeting of the Senior Class last Monday evening in Jesup Hall to hold the annual Senior Prom. in Lasell Gymnasium on June 16 in place of in Currier Hall as in former years. The price of admission to the dance will be $10 for a couple and $6 for stags. At the same time, the class voted that each member should pay a least $10 a year to the College Loyalty Fund and that a class endowment insurance policy would not be taken out.

New Track at Yale

Plans have been made public for the construction of an athletic field and track at Yale on the land which encircles the Yale Bowl. By filling in a part of the meadow below the Bowl, an excellent track will be obtained. Grandstands on the slope from the Bowl will give a full view of the 220 yard straight-away. Quarters for the athletes and a place for equipment will be provided in a three story club house, a gift of H. G. Lapham '97, which will be at the end of the track.

TO PLAY THREE TEAMS

Williams Net Men Face Union, Middlebury, and Amherst

Three matches are scheduled for the varsity tennis team on the College courts within the next four days. The Purple will face Union at 4.00 o'clock this afternoon, Middlebury at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and Amherst at 10.30 o'clock Monday morning.

So far the Garnet has lost to N. Y. U., tied Syracuse, and defeated Springfield College. Gillespie, Hawkes, Kay, and Wadsworth will make up the Union quartet, and Chapin, Captain Pollard, Bullock and Fraker will play for Williams, with Rowse and Prescott in reserve.

No information is obtainable as to the strength of the Vermont team or its record up to this time. Middlebury did not appear on the schedule last year. The Williams team will be picked from the six men mentioned above.

Amherst has defeated Worcester 5 to 1 and Brown 4 to 2, and has lost to Dartmouth 5 to 1. Matches with Wesleyan and M. I. T. were cancelled because of rain. The team is composed of Captain Thorpe, Sprague, Bennet, Lowe, and Elwell, while the personnel of the Williams quartet will probably be the same as against Union.

To Organize Spanish Circle

All men who are interested in the promotion of a Spanish Circle in Williams College are requested to meet this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in Room 8, Hopkins Hall. Men now taking Spanish 5-6 or 3-4 and those who received either A or B in Spanish 1-2 during the first semester will be eligible for membership.

Dr. Coffin Will Preach Sunday

Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City and Assistant Professor of Homiletics at the Union Theological Seminary, will conduct the Chapel services next Sunday morning. He is a graduate of Yale University, of the Union Theological Seminary, and has taken post-graduate courses at Edinburgh University, Scotland. Dr. Coffin delivered the Beecher lectures at Yale several years ago and served six months at the front as a Y. M. C. A. secretary in 1918. Among the many well-known books of Dr. Coffin are: Christians and the Church, Some Christian Convictions, Ten Commandments, with a Christian Appeal to Present Day Conditions, University Sermons, and More Christian Industrial Order.

Award Rawle Cup to Greene '23

Laurence M. Greene '23 of Rochester, N. Y., has been awarded the Francis W. Rawle Memorial Cup for this year, according to the announcement made yesterday by Professor Maxcy, Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics. There has been no award of this cup since 1918.

The cup is given annually, under normal conditions, by Messrs. Fulton Bent and Henry D. Riley '95 to that member of the Freshman Class who shows the most marked progress in those branches of athletics prescribed by the Freshman Class by the Faculty. An average of at least C in all his courses must also be maintained by the recipient.

yer and Faherty when Holmes sent a wicked grounder into center. Another run was prevented when Diamond was tagged at home after Aldrich had singled but Coxe came through with a single that gave Holmes the right-of-way to the plate for Yale's fourth run in the same inning.

Neither side tallied in the fourth and fifth, only three Williams players taking the bat in each frame. In Yale's half of the fourth, Holmes was put in the box for Burrows.

The sixth inning was the third in succession in which the first three Williams batsmen were put out. In this frame Harder, Mason, and Boynton were caught at first after all three had hit grounders. Two balls pitched were sufficient to dispose of Harder and Mason. Again in the sixth, the entire Yale team came to the plate, with disastrous results. Crane got to first and was replaced by Gaillard, who made third on Sawyer's two-bagger. When Parsons walked, the bases were filled, with no outs. Faherty flied to right field, and was caught at third on a throw from Becket to Boynton to Howland, but Gaillard, Sawyer, and Parsons reached the plate in safety. Diamond struck out, Holmes made first, and stole second, to be brought home by Aldrich, Peters sent a long drive to center that was dropped by Noble, allowing Aldrich to score, and Coxe closed the inning by a fly to Boynton.

Although Finn flied out to left field, and Nichols struck out in the seventh, there was hope that the varsity might rally when Becket and Noble got first base on balls. Howland, however, could not evade the Yale second baseman with his grounder, and was caught at first. Gaillard walked to first and made second when Sawyer bunted and got safely to first because of an error in the way of a short throw by Howland to Nichols. Parsons and Diamond flied out, and Faherty knocked a foul that Finn easily caught.

Yale took the field for the eighth with Larnier at third for Holmes, and Coxe kept up to form by permitting only three Williams players to bat. Holmes grounded to second, and was stopped at first, whereas Harder flied out to second, and Mason's foul was caught. An unfortunate stumble by Nichols, at first, allowed Larnier to reach the sack on a light grounder. Aldrich drove the ball into right, whereupon Becket threw for home, allowing Aldrich and Larnier to reach second and third, respectively. Peters walked, filling the bases, and Coxe sacrificed to bring Larnier home. Gaillard struck out, making the second down, but Sawyer came through with a single that let Aldrich and Peters score. Peters stole second, but Parsons was caught at first after grounding to third base. The end of the eighth found the score 12-1, in favor of Yale.

In the last inning, Boynton was put out at first after grounding to the second baseman, but Finn got a base hit only to go out when, on Mason's grounder to second, Diamond and Sawyer executed a double play that disposed of both Purple runners, ending the one-sided contest.

To Captain Track

This spring he has performed consistently and won the third highest number of points of any man on the squad, scoring a total of 23 points, only two less than Captain Brown. In the dual meets he won first in the mile against Amherst and Wesleyan and second against Union. He also captured the two-mile race in the Union meet and took second place to Brown in the same event in the Amherst contest. In the recent N. E. I. C. A. A. meet at Boston, Crofts was a close third in the latter event, and he is entered in the National Meet this week in Philadelphia. Crofts is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

done in better than 4.20. However, both Brown and Crofts are expected to figure prominently in their event and to disturb any predictions which have been made as to winners.

Neither the record of 9.4-5 s. for the 100 yd. dash, established by Craig of Michigan in 1911, nor that of 21 1-5 s. in the 220, which has been equalled four times, is expected to be equalled, but McWhorter will be forced to compete against a large field of fast material. Hayes of M. I. T. is universally picked as the winner, with Smith of Pennsylvania second. Minar of Cornell third, and Brown of Princeton fourth, whereas the 220 is granted to Smith with Poole of M. I. T. second, and Minar third. It is barely possible that Hayes may be able to equal the former record if he is pushed sufficiently hard. As in the case of Brown and Crofts, McWhorter's chances appear particularly bright in the light of his showing last Friday when he defeated Poole by a wide margin covering the furlong in 22 2-5 seconds. It is very possible that he will prove something of a surprise in these events.

Reports from the trials for the meet will be posted on the RECORD bulletin board today in front of Jesup Hall immediately upon receipt by telegraph from Franklin Field, and final results will be posted tomorrow.

"Gul" TO APPEAR SOON

Many Illustrations in Large Volume—on Sale June 10

June 10 has been set as the tentative date for the appearance of the 1921 Gulielmian which will be dedicated to Mr. Charles Frederick Seely. This number has returned to the precedent set in the years before the War in respect to size and the number of illustrations. The cost of the book will be $4.00, and order blanks will be delivered to the various eating houses and fraternities. Full page illustrations will be distributed through the volume, and a special section will be devoted to snapshots of college life. New pictures of several fraternity houses and of newly recognized teams will also appear.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Student Strike in Buenos Aires

A student strike at the University of La Plata recently resulted in a shooting affair in one of the lecture rooms and the death of an undergraduate taking an examination despite the general "walk out" of the student body. The tragedy is the most serious of a series of violent acts on the part of the strikers during the last month. Demanding various reforms in the administration of the university, including an enlargement of the powers now possessed by the undergraduates controlling the management of the institution, the strikers have taken possession of the buildings on four separate occasions and ejected the faculty.

Yale Class Crew Beats Harvard

Yale's 1921 class crew, winner of the interclass championship, defeated the Harvard champions, the senior crew, last Saturday afternoon over a mile and five-sixteenths course. The race was close until the finish where the Blue oarsmen drew ahead sufficiently to win by a length.

Enrollment Closes

Dartmouth has already closed its rolls for the freshman class entering next fall. Of the 1,000 applications received less than 600 could be accepted due to the lack of housing facilities. Next year's enrollment is placed at approximately 1900.

Universities Favor Hoover

As a result of the straw ballots held recently by the Princetonian and the Harvard Crimson, Herbert Hoover defeated his opponents at both Universities by large margins, having 581 supporters at Princeton who cast ballots for him as against 441 for Wood, and 1036 at Harvard, with 567 for Wood. Hoover also led Wood in the balloting at Cornell by a plurality of 418.

Fire at Princeton

Fire starting early on Saturday, May 15 at Princeton destroyed Dickinson Hall and Marquand Chapel, causing a loss of $400,000. But two walls of the chapel remain standing and only a few sections of the stonework of Dickinson Hall.

As a result of eight intramural baseball games played this week, and several forfeitures, Zeta Psi has taken the lead in the American League, in the place of Sigma Phi, while Delta Psi and Psi Upsilon are now tied for the honors among the National League teams. Poor weather marred the playing and caused the postponement of a number of scheduled contests.

Only three games were played on Monday. Delta Psi in the National League overwhelmed Phi Sigma Kappa, in a loosely played game, by a score of 13-4. In the other contest, Zeta Psi downed the Commons Club, 5-1. The game was featured by the pitching of Foster '20 and the batting of Gay '21.

In the American League, Sigma Phi won a 4-2 victory over Kappa Alpha.

On Wednesday afternoon, three National and two American League games were played. Delta Upsilon defeated Phi Sigma Kappa by a 3-2 score. Phi Delta Theta shut out Delta Psi, 5-0, in a contest featured by the batting of Acken '20. In a closely played game between Theta Delta Chi and the Faculty Club, the former won their first victory, 2-1. By the same score, Phi Gamma Delta nosed out Beta Theta Psi, Buell '22 pitching a one-hit game for the winning nine. In the American League the Commons Club shut out Sigma Phi to the tune of 3-0.

Phi Sigma Kappa defeated Theta Delta Chi in a postponed game last week, to the score of 8-7, and won over Alpha Delta Phi by default. The latter team also defaulted a game scheduled with Psi Upsilon.

A Hippodrome audience may truly be called "representative" of the whole United States—so this day-after-day preference for Fatima is highly significant.

But—more important—it indicates that men generally are growing more sensitive to the taste-effect of too much or too little Turkish tobacco in their cigarettes.

Fatima's "just enough Turkish" blend, in other words, is the one feature which sets it definitely apart from all other cigarettes—and which accounts for its leadership at so many famous places.

WILLIAMS TO FACE PURPLE AND WHITE

RIVALS IN ANNUAL CLASH

Amherst Has Edge on Varsity on Eve of Holiday Game— Burrows Will Pitch

Odds will favor the visitors this afternoon when the Williams nine meets Amherst in the annual Decoration Day baseball classic at 2.50 o'clock on Weston Field. Although the Purple and White team has not had a particularly successful season this year, it has played consistently good ball and won three out of six scheduled games played.

All of Amherst's games this year have either been victorious or have gone to extra innings. The team showed good form on the spring trip, winning two out of three games against the University of Virginia and also defeating V. M. I. The Purple and White, however, was forced to bow before Washington and Lee. Since the opening of the regular season Amherst has lost only to the University of Virginia and to the strong Cornell nine, which defeated the Massachusetts collegians 6 to 5 and subsequently by a 2 to 1 score. The remaining three games were victorious. The first of these was won from Trinity, 4 to 2. Against Harvard, the only team which has played both Williams and Amherst, the latter took the long end of a 3 to 1 score whereas Williams lost 6 to 5. Amherst continued its winning streak by downing M. A. C. 6 to 4 last Thursday.

Veterans comprise the entire visiting team with the exception of the position of catcher which will be filled by Heselton, a freshman, who has proved a promising player. The Purple and White will be represented on the mound by Clark, a veteran of three years, who was defeated by Williams in the May 30 game last year. He pitched a good game, however, allowing only six hits in seven innings and striking out four batters. He also pitched seven innings in the second Amherst contest which the latter won by the score of 9 to 7. In this game, however, he was not particularly effective and owes his victory to the hard hitting of his team mates. Both he and Cummings, who will be held in reserve, have shown plenty of ability this year in holding heavy hitting teams to comparatively small scores. They have received plenty of support from the remainder of the team, which makes a well rounded aggregation. Maynard is again captain of the nine and has proved the mainstay of the outfield at center. His ability at bat has also been a factor in all the games.

The Williams team has been playing steadily all week and with the aid of this much needed practice should make a far better showing than in former games. The line up will be the same as that used against Yale, except that Burger will probably return to his place at right field, which was filled by Monjo in New Haven. Either Burrows or Holmes will pitch, depending largely on the result of the Holy Cross game Saturday.

The probable line-up follows:

WILLIAMS		AMHERST
Harder	lf	Eveleth	rf
Mason	2b	Seamans	lf
Boynton	ss	Brisk	ss
Finn	c	Maynard	cf
Nichols	lb	Cowles	lb

WILL OPPOSE AMHERST

Golf Team to Play Purple and White at Holyoke Today

Williams will oppose the Amherst golf team at 2.00 o'clock this afternoon in the fifth match of the season at the Mount Tom Golf Club, Holyoke, Mass. The line-up for the Purple will be the same as that opposing Harvard last Wednesday afternoon, Captain Black, Jones, Murdock Adams, Sedgwick, and Simmons playing in the order named.

The line-up for Amherst will be as follows: Captain Uchida, Putnam, Hooker, Senno, Kohn, and one man yet to be decided upon. Thus far this season Amherst has won two matches and lost three. Defeats were suffered at the hands of Dartmouth, Harvard, and Cornell; while the Northampton Country Club and the Amherst Country Club were defeated by the Purple and White.

PURPLE NINE VICTIM OF HOLY CROSS TEAM

McLean's Fielding Featured One-sided Contest—Final Score Reaches 12-3

McLean's stellar fielding was the one bright spot in a 12-3 defeat of Williams at the hands of the strong Holy Cross nine last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field. Bunched hits by the visitors and numerous errors on the part of the varsity told the story of a game that was at few times even interesting.

Capturing a lead of three runs in the first inning and adding eight more in middle of the contest, Holy Cross was at no time in danger, for inability to hit at crucial moments prevented the Purple from staging a real batting rally. Holmes took Patton's place on the mound in the seventh and allowed only two hits and one run, but the home team could at no time solve the delivery of Horan.

The Williams fielding was ragged in the extreme, as the total of seven errors clearly shows. Fumbles, bad throws, poor judgment—all forms of misplay were in evidence to a greater or less degree. McLean, however, played a beautiful game in center field, catching eight flies in all. He covered an enormous amount of ground, pulling in several hits that looked good for at least two bases, and his throws were consistently accurate. Finn had an off-day, being guilty of two passed balls and permitting (Continued on page 7, col. 1)

Breaking the College record for the two-mile run by 20 4-5 seconds, Captain Brown '20 of the track team won that event last Saturday afternoon in the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America, held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Pa., in the remarkable time of 9 minutes, 27 3-5 seconds, while Captain-elect Crofts '21 finished fourth in the same event. With only two men competing in the finals, Williams took ninth place in a meet in which over 30 colleges and universities from all parts of the United States were represented, the first I. C. A. A. A. meet in which she has competed for a decade.

Captain Brown's victory in this meet makes him the probable choice for American representative in this event at the Olympia Games to be held in Antwerp this summer since all the important colleges and universities in the United States were represented on Franklin Field. Full details of Captain Brown's track career will be found in the supplement.

Twenty college and universities placed one or more men in the semi-finals scheduled for last Saturday, not counting the one (Continued on page 8, col. 2)

GARGOYLE ELECTS TODAY

Baseball Game, Class Singing, and Parade to Be Held

Memorial Day exercises begin this morning with a parade at 9.00 o'clock of G. A. R. veterans, veterans of the Spanish War, and veterans of the recent World War. In the afternoon the annual Interclass Singing Contest will be held immediately after the Amherst baseball game. Following this the Gargoyle elections will take place.

The procession will first march to the College Cemetery, where Mr. Stocking and the Rev. Ralph M. Tibballs will speak and several graves will be decorated. From there the parade will go to the Soldiers' Monument in front of Griffin Hall where a short address will be given by Professor Morton and Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech by Atwell '21. After going to the Eastlawn Cemetery for the decoration of other graves the procession will then disband. Directly after the baseball game in the afternoon the annual Interclass Singing Contest and the Gargoyle elections will be held on the Laboratory Campus.

COLLEGE ADOPTS PLAN TO LIMIT ACTIVITIES

Student Council Draft Amend- ed at Meeting of Under- graduates Saturday

Virtually promising victory in one of the week end baseball games, Coach Davis addressed an enthusiastic College mass meeting at 1.00 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Jesup Hall and urged the student body to put forth their best efforts in support of the team, in success or in defeat. At the same time, a set of rules was adopted at the suggestion of the Student Council which will limit the participation of under-graduates and Extra-curriculum non-athletic activities.

Hawes '20, as president of the Student Council, presided at the meeting, which was first addressed by Manager Tiebout Coach Davis, and Captain Boynton all of whom called on the College for support before and at the Amherst game.

The new rules passed by the College are practically the same as those proposed by the Student Council on May 15 with the exception of several amendments adopted at the suggestion of Oppenheimer '20, Cole '21 and Thexton. The detailed provisions follow:

FOUR MANAGERS ARE CHOSEN BY COLLEGE

Preston to Direct 1922 Base- ball Team and Richardson 1922 Track Season

MAJORITIES ARE LARGE

Luedeke and Loizeaux Receive Managerships of Golf and Tennis Respectively

In the balloting for the second assistant major managers Friday afternoon and evening, the College elected Roger Preston, 1922, of Lexington, Mass., to manage the 1922 baseball team, and William Rittenhouse Richardson, 1922, of Jersey City, N. J., to manage the 1922 track team. The elections for the minor managerships resulted in the selection of Joshua Harold Loizeaux, 1922, of Plainfield, N. J., to manage the 1922 tennis team, and William Paul Luedeke, Jr., 1922, of Buffalo, N. Y., to manage the 1922 golf team.

The number of votes cast this year was about average, with 362 cast in the track election, 360 in the baseball election, and 348 for the minor managerships. The electing majorities were rather large, Preston winning on the fourth ballot with a majority of 52, and Richardson also on the fourth ballot with a margin of 106 votes over his nearest competitor. The tennis golf election was much closer, five ballots being necessary to select Loizeaux, and on the recount for second choice Luedeke was elected on the third ballot.

Preston prepared for Williams at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. During the last year he has been very active in College political work and during the spring was elected secretary of the Hoover Club. He was chosen Delegate-at-large of the College Church at the last meeting. Preston is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Richardson came to Williams from the Lincoln High School, Jersey City, N. J., where he was on the swimming and football teams and editor-in-chief of the school annual. Last fall he was elected Sophomore class basketball manager and during the winter he was a member of the varsity swimming team. He was elected treasurer of his class during the spring term and was a member of the Auxiliary Prom Committee. Richardson is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Loizeaux prepared for College at the Plainfield High School, Plainfield, N. J. Since coming to Williams he has been chosen circulation manager of the Literary Monthly, and is a member of the Musical Clubs. He took a leading part in the skit presented by the latter organization this winter and also played in the 1920 College Smoker. This spring Loizeaux acted in the play presented by the Cercle Francais. He is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

Luedeke came to Williams from the Lafayette High School, Buffalo, N. Y., where he was a member of the musical clubs. Since coming to College he has been on the Musical Clubs and assisted in composing much of the music for both the 1919 and 1920 College Smokers. He has served this winter on the Sophomore Prom Committee. Luedeke is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

"Hi Juvenates" Day on June 14

Following the annual custom of enjoying free "drinks" at the expense of underclassmen just prior to graduation, the Class of 1920 will celebrate "Hi Juvenates" Day on Monday, June 14, from the hours of eleven to twelve o'clock in the morning. Any members of the three lower classes caught on the streets by seniors will be apprehended and forced to treat their captors to whatever form of refreshment may be had on Spring Street.

Start of the two-mile race in the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Cambridge on Saturday, May 22, in which Captain Brown took first place and Captain-elect Crofts third. The former won the same event at the National Intercollegiate at Philadelphia last Saturday making him probable choice for American representative at the Olympics this summer. Crofts took fourth place at Philadelphia.

A Dubious Welcome

To the Amherst team which will invade Williamstown today, we extend a hearty welcome; but at the same time it is our fondest hope that they will return to their native haunts sadder but wiser men. All advance predictions, based on comparative figures, undoubtedly give the Purple and White the advantage this afternoon, but "dope" of this kind has often been overturned. The usual May 30 game at Williamstown has always held terrors for the Amherst ball-players; and with good reason, for the laurels of the day have gone to the home team the large majority of times. It is a fact to be counted upon that Captain Boynton and his men play the best ball of the season today in an effort to swell this list of Memorial Day victories.

Criminal Carelessness

An almost unprecedented condition has prevailed this spring in regard to athletic teams, which has in many cases been detrimental to success. Men have been prevented from making trip after trip not because of ineligibility due to low scholarship, but merely on account of lack of cuts. And in almost every case this want of cuts has been due to carelessness on the part of the men concerned, not because of illness.

Even the most liberal-minded observer cannot condone such utter lack of loyalty to the team. A member of any athletic organization knows that he is restricted in his personal use of absences from classes by the fact that he is forced to take cuts in making out of town trips. Some small sacrifice is therefore required of him in order that he may have the privilege of contributing to the success of the team of which he is a member. To refuse to make this sacrifice, by a careless use of cuts which may cause disaster to the team, is inexcusable.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:
Sir:

In your issue of May 21st I notice a communication from a Mr. Floyd R. Smith '06, in which he states that the record made by Pollard and Chapin in the New England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Championship this year has not been equalled since 1904 when he and Northrup won the doubles and the singles event for Williams. His statement that both the singles and doubles have not been won in the same year since 1904 is incorrect, for in 1916, Captain Richard S. Maynard won the Intercollegiate singles, and paired with Richard B. Rockwood, who was killed in the War, won the doubles also. As I was a member of the varsity tennis team while in College, Mr. Smith's letter naturally interested me.

—Reginald A. Cook '17

Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:
Dear Sir:

We wish to correct the false impression which the communication in the RECORD in RECORD of May 28 may have created throughout the college. The tennis team is as far from being a "closed corporation" as any athletic organization in college. The men on the team are there solely because of their superior ability, and if it so happens that they play on the team two or more years in succession, it is not because any "life membership" has been conferred upon them, but because they are the men best fitted to represent the college. Every man who desires to play and is eligible to represent the college has a fair and equal chance; the best men among those coming out for the team are picked; and the best men have been picked.

The contention that every man on the team save one has been beaten by at least one other man in college is untenable. Every eligible man that has beaten a member of the team has in turn been beaten by that player or by some other member of the team who has at some time been beaten by the player first defeated. The only exception to this is the case of one man who did not come out to play until the past week—which is no fault of the tennis organization—and this man, having played only one member of the team just once, no definite rating could be assigned to him.

It might be added that the men who have been competing for the team are opposed to the spirit of the communication of the "Williams Man", which they feel is unjustifiable.

With the close of the most successful season in years—having lost but one match out of the seven played—the "Williams Man" need have no apprehension that his opinion that "the men on it can hardly call themselves the representatives of Williams" and that "they do not deserve to receive insignia of the

DIRECTORS:

T. JOHNSON, M. A., of Bingham School;

J. REARDON, B. A., of The Taft School;

This is a first-class tour, a great, unique educational opportunity, and really the trip of a life-time.

AIMS: To show a party of selected American boys and young men—two distinct groups—the heart of France and the soil where America helped win the fight for the Liberty of the World; to enrich them permanently by an understanding and appreciation of the countries visited and a direct knowledge of their treasures of culture; to give an illustration of how much French can be learned in a natural way by a summer in Europe with competent directors; to make the trip so thoroughly enjoyable, profitable, and enlightening that every participant will consider it through life as one of his best experiences.

Mr. Jetteur fought with the Belgians, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Culver with the Americans. As soon as America entered the war, Mr. Reardon returned from Rome, where he was Fellow of the American Academy, and offered his services.

Entering the World Electrical

THE graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.

PURPLE EASILY WINS TWO TENNIS MATCHES

Defeats Both Middlebury and Union 6-0—Latter Fails to Win one Set

Continuing its successful play, the tennis team has won two more decisive victories this week defeating Middlebury with ease on Saturday afternoon and likewise overcoming Union on Friday. In both these matches the Purple players made a clean sweep, succeeding in capturing all six matches from both of their rather weak opponents.

Losing only two sets, Williams easily defeated Union on Friday afternoon. The play was slow compared with that in the Dartmouth match, although several of the sets were forced to extra games. Wilbur, captain of the Garnet team, by drawing Chapin to the net and then driving the ball into deep court out of his reach, won the first two games in the initial set, but was overcome by the Williams player after a spirited uphill fight. Wilbur won the second set but lost the third through the superior serving and harder hitting of Chapin. In the doubles, the Williams teams had little difficulty in defeating their opponents by 6-2, 6-1 score in both matches.

The summary follows:

Singles—Chapin (W) defeated Captain Wilbur (U) 7-5, 4-6, 6-3; Captain Pollard (W) defeated Gillespie (U) 6-3, 8-6; Bullock (W) defeated Wadsworth (U) 6-1, 6-2; Wiley (W) defeated Kay (U) 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles—Captain Pollard and Chapin (W) defeated Wadsworth and Captain Wilbur (U) 6-2, 6-1; H. S. Prescott and Rowse (W) defeated Gillespie and Kay (U) 6-2, 6-1.

In Saturday's matches, the Williams players had little difficulty in defeating Middlebury. All the matches were won not only in straight sets, but by scores verging on love. Chapin easily downed Parker while Bullock won from his opponent, Rothermel, by two love sets.

The summary of the Williams-Middlebury match follows:

Singles—Chapin (W) defeated Captain Parker (M) 6-1, 6-2; Captain Pollard (W) defeated Ginsburg 6-3, 6-4; Bullock (W) defeated Rothermel (M) 6-0, 6-0; Fraker (W) defeated Lane (M) 6-0, 8-0.

Doubles—Bullock and Fraker (W) defeated Parker and Lane (M) 6-3, 6-4; Rowse and H. S. Prescott defeated Rothermel and Ginsburg 6-4, 6-1.

REMAINS OF FOUNDER REMOVED FROM GRAVE

Excavations from Col. Ephraim Williams' Tomb Now Lie In Cemetery at Troy, N. Y.

Removed on May 15 from their lodgment near Bloody Pond at the foot of Lake George, the remains of Col. Ephraim Williams are now in the vault of the Gale family in Troy, N. Y., awaiting transfer to Williamstown on June 20 when they will be finally laid to rest in the Thompson Memorial Chapel. The following is the report of Clark Williams '92, Chairman of the Committee of Trustees:

"On Friday, May 14th, Mr. Perry Smedley, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds at Williams College, caused the stone over the grave of Colonel Ephraim Williams to be removed, in order that the operations incident to the raising of the remains might be easily accomplished.

"On Saturday, May 15th, 1920, the Honorable Herbert F. Roy, Chairman of the Committee of the Alumni on the memorial ceremonies to occur at Williamstown on June 20th, incident to the final lodgment of the remains of the Founder in the College Chapel, Clark Williams, Chairman of the Committee of the Board of Trustees, Doctor John M. Clarke, New York State Geologist, and his two helpers, arrived at the grave at 10.30 a. m. The work of excavation was immediately begun.

"The grave was enclosed by a rectangular iron fence about 8 feet by 10 feet. The surface was removed from the middle of this plot and a shaft was sunk at that place to a depth of five feet, until hardpan was reached. It was apparent from the condition of the soil, that it had never been disturbed. The same was found as the shaft was extended to the south and to the west.

"We then proceeded to tunnel under the two tree trunks lying to the northwest and the north, and at the northeast corner of the plot we found in sandy clay a portion of the soil which had very evidently been disturbed. At the depth of two feet we found pockets of decomposed animal matter containing bone fibre, which was easily distinguishable. This evidence of human remains was carefully removed and placed in the urn provided for the purpose.

"Work ceased at 4.30 p. m., the earth was returned to its former place; the remains were taken by automobile to the house of Hon. Herbert F. Roy and held there the night of the 15th. On the morning of the 16th they were removed to the vault of the Gale family in the cemetery at Troy, N. Y., awaiting their final removal to Williamstown."

me familiar with the modes of preservation of organic life in the soils and muds, and so, eventually, in the rocks.Judging from this experience, which is now pretty long, and also from my experience with you the other day at Bloody Pond, I think I may say to you that you have every reason to feel assured that, in what you took from the burial place of Colonel Ephraim Williams, you have a proper representation of his earthly remains.In a free and open soil where there is easy percolation of water, it is a common practice to estimate that the identity of a burial will disappear in about thirty years. When I say "practice", I mean that this has been the assumption in the old burials and burying grounds of Europe.
In crowded centers the burial is regarded as effaced in this period and a new burial is permitted in the same spot. Of course, after 165 years interment in soil conditions such as we found in this instance, we were fortunate to find even so much as we did, and it is therefore to be frankly said that you have removed from that spot all that there remained of the body of Colonel Williams.Very sincerely yours,

Professor Milham will sail for Europe during the summer to take courses in astronomy and allied subjects at a French University still to be determined. Professor Wetmore will leave this country on July 6 and will study archaeology at the classical centers of Italy and Greece. He will also spend considerable time in taking courses at the Grenoble University in Paris. Dr. Kellogg has made no definite plans as yet.

H. Howard Copeland has been appointed secretary of the Forrest Realty Company Columbus, Ohio.

Burn Professors in Effigy

Bodies of several of the professors were burned in effigy by the Sophomores and Freshmen at Pennsylvania recently. This forms part of an annual ceremony marking the emancipation of the Freshmen from wearing class caps and from other restrictions. Mock trials for the ill-fated professors, speeches by the officers of the two Classes, and a torch light parade constitute the rest of the performance.

ting four stolen bases. The batting on the whole was no better than the fielding. Mason made two good outfield hits, and Nichols clubbed the ball down the third base line for his third three-bagger of the season, but none of the other members of the team could even connect safely. Patton pitched fairly good ball, allowing only two earned runs, and the result would undoubtedly have been different if he had had better support. Holmes was effective during his three innings in the box.

Holy Cross presented on Saturday a hard-hitting team and a clever pitcher. Horan kept the Purple batsmen guessing the entire contest, and his team-mates showed their ability to hit when hits meant runs. The Dugan brothers and Gagnan secured eight safeties between them. The fielding of the Worcester nine, however, was slightly erratic. Gagnan, after making two bad errors, later tossed the ball to Maguire, who threw to O'Connor for one of the fastest double plays seen on Weston Field this year.

Hits by Gagnan and O'Connor, a base on balls, and an error by Mason gave Holy Cross three runs in the first inning. The visitors scored again in the fourth when Patton walked Doherty, who came home when Burger dropped Horan's fly to left field. Leo Dugan's hit over shortstop, Boynton's error on Gagnan's grounder, and Len Dugan's elout netted three more runs in this inning. Holy Cross added another tally in the fifth, when Doherty hit to right field for two bases and came in on Boynton's miff of Connor's grounder. Four hits in the next inning, one for two bases, and an error by Mason netted the Worcester team three more runs. The Purple's first run came in this frame, when Nichols hit along the left-field foul line for three bases and came in on Horan's wild pitch. Holmes went into the box in the seventh and held the visitors scoreless for an inning, but in the eighth Len Dugan singled to center and advanced to third when Finn missed a pitched ball, coming home on Boynton's poor throw to Ward after Santoro's liner. The Purple broke into the scoring column again in the eighth when Mason singled to left, advanced to second on Finn's fly which Gagnan missed, and came in when Gagnan muffed Nichols' grounder past second base. Finn also scored when McLean grounded out at first. Williams' hopes in the ninth were smothered by a fast double play, Gagnan to Maguire to O'Connor.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

The annual circular, giving full information, may be had on application to the Registrar.

1920 DEFEATS 1922 AND WINS INTERCLASS SERIES

Hard Hitting Features of 9-3 Victory Home Runs Made by Ward and Whittier

1920 defeated 1922 9-3 in the last game of the Interclass series on Weston field Saturday afternoon. This victory gives the championship in the league to the senior team, with the Freshmen second, the Sophomores third and the Juniors fourth.

Cobb, the first pitcher for the Sophomores, was easily hit by the upperclassmen. In the initial inning, two runs were scored on a single by Finner '20. The underclassmen were unable to score until the third frame when Smith singled and was scored by Bergan's triple. Groat, the first man up, tripled, but was caught off third by a throw from the catcher. The 1920 team scored again in the third when Carson and Finner were sent across the plate by sacrifice flies on the part of Whittier and Ward. The Senior lead was increased in the fourth, when several singles combined with home runs by Whittier and Ward drove in five 1920 runners. The game ended with the scoring of two runs by the Sophomores through hits by Burger, Wilson, and Cobb.

The score by innings is as follows:

1920	2	0	2	5	0	9

Purple Loses Six Games In Unsuccessful Season—Practice Hindered by Rain

BOYNTON LEADS BATTERS

Hitting and Fielding Averages Poor this Season—Weather Cancels Three Games

Six defeats and no victories in regularly scheduled games to date place the 1920 season of the varsity baseball team far below the record of last year. Bad weather throughout the season has greatly hampered practice, and in view of the fact that many of the teams against which the varsity has been matched have had the benefit of southern trips, the record made by the Purple nine is not without excuse.

Owing to the loss by graduation of Boyden, Brown, Callahan, Manning, and Roth, the season opened with vacancies at first, second, and third bases, and the outfield, although the squad contained eleven veterans of the past two years. Captain Boynton, who was unable to play last year because of the war, has played a fast game at short all season, and barring a few wild throws, has been the most reliable fielder and hitter on the team. He divides the honors in hitting with Finn who has been clean-up man in the line-up in all the games thus far.

THE SEASON BEGINS

The varsity opened its season with Union College on Weston Field, on Saturday, April 24. Cold weather and a muddy field marred the playing of both teams, but Union succeeded in nosing out Williams by a close score of 3-2. Several costly errors by members of the Purple nine proved decisive in turning the tide in favor of the victors. For the first game of the season the play was fairly good, but the outstanding feature of the contest was the work of both pitchers who proved exceptionally effective. In spite of comparatively weak support from their teams, they were able to keep down the score and held the opposing batters at their mercy nearly the entire time. The work of the pitchers was very nearly equal; each gave two passes, but Burrows allowed only eight hits as compared with nine charged against his opponent. On the other hand the Union moundsman struck out 12 men to the Williams' hurlers eight.

The game with Holy Cross on Wednesday, April 28, having been cancelled on account of rain, the varsity's next opponent was Columbia, on South Field, N. Y., on Saturday, May 1. The Purple team, completely outplayed in all departments, lost the game by a score of 8-1. Although the Purple team kept an even footing with their opponents during the first three and a half innings, the superior pitching of Meany and the poor fielding and batting of the varsity gave the advantage to Columbia from that point on, and the New York team scored two runs in each of the four succeeding innings.

Rain again interfered with the varsity, when the game with Wesleyan on May 8 was cancelled. The next scheduled game came on Saturday, May 15, with Colgate University, on Weston Field, and again Williams went to her defeat, this time by the score of 5-3. Both teams played good baseball, affording the spectators several bits of sensational fielding, and Burrows pitched a fine game except during the sixth inning when he allowed five hits for a total of 11 bases.

The game with Harvard, at Cambridge, on Wednesday, May 19, proved to be the encouragement that the varsity needed. Although the team met its fifth consecutive defeat, the Purple nine showed a marked improvement in every department of the game, but finally gave in to the superior pitching of Harvard, by the score of 6-5. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 5-2 in favor of the Crimson, but through Williams brought this up to a 5-5 tie in the eighth. Frothingham, Harvard's star hitter, knocked out a home-run in the latter part of the ninth and gave the Cambridge men a hard-won victory.

The Amherst game on Thursday, May 20, having been cancelled because of the usual rain, the varsity's next contest was with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, on Saturday afternoon, May 22, on Weston Field. The game was played through a slight drizzle of rain, and though the varsity showed a decided improvement over its past work, it finally had to give in and the game ended with the score of 2-1, in favor of R. P. I. Williams' inability to hit at crucial moments, coupled with opportune hits by the opposing team, was responsible for the victory which missed being a shut-out only through Boynton's home-run.

INDIVIDUAL CRITICISM

Ben Lee Boynton, 1921, of Waco, Texas, shortstop and captain, prepared for Williams at the Waco High School. Though at times erratic, he was the fastest man on the team this year, and the most consistent hitter, leading the batting list with an average of .440.

He was captain of the football team this fall and was elected captain of the baseball team last spring.

Charles Albert Boynton, 1923, of Waco, Texas, center field, prepared for Williams at the Waco High School. He played on his freshman baseball team this fall and has shown up well on the varsity this spring. He has done good work in the outfield all season, with only two errors, and stands fifth on the batting list, with an average of .176.

Norman Chapman Burger, 1921, of Brooklyn, N. Y., left field, prepared for Williams at Choate School. He won his letter in varsity baseball at Williams two years ago, when he played third base. He was unable to play last year because of an injured knee. He has upheld his sure fielding reputation this year at left field, in which position he has scored five put-outs and no errors.

Frank Ely Burrows, 1920, of Lake Placid Club, Essex County, N. Y., pitcher, has upheld his last year's reputation in the three games he has pitched this season. Although his support has not always been all that could be desired, he has held his opponents to few hits, and has had the opposing batsmen under control at all times.

John Hartney Finn, 1921, of Northampton, Mass., has proved to be one of the best catchers among all the teams met so far. Playing on the varsity for his third year, he has fielded all season with but three errors, for an average of .921. Finn is an unusually steady man behind the bat and can also be relied upon to hit safely in pinches. His batting average is .333.

Edwin Holmes, Jr., 1923, of Englewood, N. J., pitcher, prepared for Williams at the Ridgefield School. He played on his freshman team this spring and has developed into an exceptionally valuable moundsman on the varsity.

Willard Evans Hoyt, Jr., 1923, of Williamstown, second base, prepared for Williams at the Taft School. He played on his class team this spring, and has proved a good fielder on the varsity, although his batting has been weak. His batting and fielding averages are .900 and .111 respectively.

Ralph Clinton Mason, 1920, of Williamstown, second baseman, has been one of the mainstays of the team for the last three years and has played equally well this spring. His batting, however, is not as good as in previous years, for it has fallen from .367 last year to .063 this spring.

Donald McLean, 1921, of Lansdowne, Pa., third base and outfield, prepared for Williams at the Lansdowne High School. He played on the varsity for the last two years as pitcher, but was shifted this year, first to third base and then to the outfield. Although he has not been up to form in batting, he has been a decided asset to the team this spring.

Herman J. Nichols, 1922, of Williamstown, first baseman, prepared for Williams at the Williamstown High School. He played on the varsity last year and has shown up well this spring, both in hitting and fielding, in which departments his averages are .300 and .897 respectively.

Philip S. Patton, 1921, of Pittsburgh, Pa., prepared for Williams at the Hackley School. He has pitched in three games this season, and showed up particularly well in the game with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on May 22. The outstanding feature of his pitching in this game was steadiness. Although in tight places several times, he never lost his head and always extricated himself without difficulty.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

James Crawford Ward, 1923, of Kansas City, Mo., third base and outfield, prepared for Williams at the Kansas City Day School. He played on his class team this spring, and has proved a valuable man on the varsity.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON FOR CHRISTIAN ASSO.

Membership and Activities are Increased—Freshman Information Bureau Planned

Increased membership and greater activity has been the aim of the Williams Christian Association during the 1919-1920 season in an effort to place it on a peace-time basis. More stress has been laid on the internal rather than the external organization.

Membership in the organization this year comprised 80 per cent. of the college body, an almost normal enrollment. The voluntary contributions of the undergraduates were $1,500, although far more was pledged. Dr. Garfield's Bible class for Freshmen met almost every Sunday morning in Jesup Hall and had an average attendance of 20. The Sunday evening meetings of the association, held 15 times during the year, were usually addressed by the speakers of the morning chapel service, among whom were: Dr. A. P. Fitch, the Rev. F. Boyd Edwards, and Bishop Charles Fiske. Several mid-week meetings were also held.

Seven Sunday schools have been conducted by Williams' students, and services have been held under the auspices of the Christian Association at these places on Sunday afternoons. 45 boys of Williamstown have been formed into a Boys' Club and have held regular meetings in Jesup Hall which W. C. A. workers have addressed. The W. C. A. has also conducted classes for them in the Gymnasium and has provided amusement at their gatherings. In addition to this work, the association has sent students to take charge of three Boy Scout troops in North Adams. The deputation committee has given two entertainments a week in towns near the College, as well as sending six week-end trips on which undergraduates have conducted religious services. The association also sent six men to the Student Volunteer Convention at Des Moines, Iowa. Under the leadership of Hedden, '20, the W. C. A. has maintained schools in Williamstown and North Adams for the education of foreigners. The charity committee has distributed books to the sick and has given clothes to the poor of the vicinity.

Next year President C. C. Noble, '21 intends to establish a bureau, with the permission of the Interfraternity Council, to meet the Freshmen and give them needed assistance and advice. The Sunday evening meetings will be held every week, an outside speaker addressing the association if the preacher of the morning is unable to remain. Immediately following the football season, a campaign will be run to bring before the College the need for spiritual education and development, and prominent speakers will be engaged to address the meetings during the drive. A new secretary to succeed Mr. Withington has not been chosen yet.

WIN TITLES IN TENNIS

Chapin and Pollard Victors at Boston—Season Good

Capture of the New England Intercollegiate singles championship by Chapin, and of the doubles by Chapin and Pollard, have already set the stamp of success on the present tennis season. Of the regular matches played so far the team has won two, tied one, and lost one.

The season opened rather disastrously on April 30 when the Williams net men, with only a few days of practice, lost to the strong Princeton quartet at Princeton by a 6-0 score. A match the next day with Yale and one the following Saturday with Union had to be cancelled on account of bad weather. Chapin, runner-up last summer in the National Junior Tournament and winner of the College tournament last fall, represented the Purple for the first time in the New England Intercollegiate, which he won with but little trouble, also capturing the doubles title with Captain Pollard. On May 14 and 15 the team overwhelmed Colgate 6 to 0, and M. I. T. 5 to 1, Chapin playing on the former occasion but not on the latter. Chapin was unable to make the trip to Middletown, and in a drizzling rain Williams tied Wesleyan 3 to 3 on May 22.

GOLF TEAM WINS ONCE

Defeats Cornell But Loses to U. of Penn and Yale

Defeats by the University of Pennsylvania and by Yale and a victory over Cornell are the features of the Williams golf team thus far this year. The Purple has shown a marked improvement since its first matches and should win the contest with Amherst. Jones, Sedgwick, and Murdock '20 have been the chief point winners in the

CONSERVATIVE POLICY OF COUNCIL BENEFICIAL

Change in Monitor System and Limited Participation in Activities Important Conservative as has been the policy of the Student Council during the past year, yet the results and improvements which have been accomplished have been of material aid to the student body as a whole and to the College in particular. Much credit is due to Chairman Carson and to his successor, Chairman Hawes, and to the whole organization in general for the manner in which they have controlled the college matters which fall within their powers.

Much discretion was used throughout the year in awarding the various agencies for special trains, freshman caps, and other lucrative business to the men in college who were most in need of it. It was also due to the Council that Rule Five concerning attendance at the first chapel exercise following the holiday of October 17th was eliminated for that date in order that a good representation from the college might attend the Columbia game in New York.

The Council also again aroused interest in the Trophy of Trophies and it is to be awarded this year. It was through the efforts of this body that the Trophy Room in Jesup Hall was established fulfilling a long-felt and much discussed need. The Freshman football game with the first year men of Wesleyan which was played in Middletown on November first was made possible by the petition of the Council requesting that cuts be granted to the members of the team for the trip. It was also due to the Council's petition that the schedule of classes after Thanksgiving remained unchanged in order to allow more time for the athletic teams to practice, instead of being changed to one half hour later, as has been the custom in past years. The rules regarding the competition and election of cheer leaders were also revised.

On February ninth Carson's resignation was accepted with regret and Hawes was elected to fill the office of Chairman. The work continued as in the past with the greatest benefit to the college as its final aim. The new rules regarding the monitor system in chapel form an important phase of the work of the council during the second semester. Furthermore many changes of importance were made in the Constitution of the Council itself especially in regard to non-athletic activities, the managership competitions and elections, and the freshman rules. Perhaps the greatest and most radical change brought about by the present Council was the recent proposal for limitation of participation in extra curriculum activities. The feasibility of this plan is beyond question and the step brings to a successful climax the close of a year of conscientious and valuable work on the part of all the members of Student Council.

In the opening contest played on Saturday, May 8, Williams was defeated by the University of Pennsylvania team 6-3, Jones and Murdock winning their singles, and Jones and Sedgwick their foursomes. Cornell was overcome in the second match 7-2 on the links of the Adams Country Club. Yale had little difficulty in winning from the Purple 8-1 in the contest held May 15 at the New Haven Country Club. Murdock was the only man to win his match, although Adams '21 was defeated by a small margin.

THIRD IN N. E. I. A. A.

Strength in Dashes and Distances Makes up for Weakness in Field Events

Third place in the New England Intercollegiate, combined with a clean sweep of the dual meets with Union, Amherst, and Wesleyan, marks the 1920 track season as an unqualified success. Satisfactory scores have been obtained in every case, the Purple piling up a total of 220 points in the three dual meets as against 158 secured by the opposing teams, and individual times and records have been of a high order in spite of unfavorable weather.

Captain Seeley has had the advantage of the presence of several veterans from former teams and in addition has done remarkably well in developing new material to fill the gaps and strengthen the weak events. Captain Brown, '20, who is New England Intercollegiate two-mile champion for the third year, is a veteran of the successful 1916 team which defeated both Amherst and Wesleyan. Parker, '20, Crofts and Conn, '21 are also distance runners who have been winners in previous dual meets. Phillips, '22 won first place in the high hurdles against Amherst last year and secured two seconds during the season. In the field events Kieser, '20, the 1918 New England Intercollegiate champion, and Wickwire, '20 in the broad jump, Anderson, '20 and Wallace, '22 in the high jump, and Mills, '20 in the shot put were all point winners in meets last year.

McWhorter, '22 is easily the best of the material developed this year. With 31 points to his credit he has scored more points during the season than any other man on the team, securing first places in the 100-yard dash against Union and Wesleyan, and in the 220-yard dash in all three dual meets. In the recent New England Intercollegiate he won a third place in both of the dashes. Coddling, '21 has run a close second to McWhorter throughout the spring, earning four second places and taking fourth place in the Boston meet. Chapin, '23 has also shown up to decided advantage in the pole vault where he has won or tied for first in every contest of the season. In the long distance runs Fauce, '23 developed endurance and placed in every dual meet in spite of spirited competition, while in the middle distances Kellogg, '21 showed surprising ability in sprinting into the lead on the final lap.

TEAM WEAK IN THE FIELD

Throughout the season the track team suffered a severe handicap from its weakness in the field events. It was only against Union and Amherst which were in very similar condition that the Purple weightmen and jumpers were able to hold their own. In the Wesleyan meet the Red and Black team won or tied for first in every field event, in addition to taking four second and three third places. Only an overwhelming preponderance on the track saved the contest for Williams. Chapin appeared to be the only man in the former department who could win consistently. Coach Seeley made no entries other than Chapin in field events in the New England Intercollegiate last week, and the close final score indicates that Williams would have won the meet if another steady point winner had been available for the field events.

STRENGTH ON THE TRACK

As in former years Williams' principal strength lay in the middle and long distance runs where Captain Brown and Crofts were always good for at least one first apiece and generally another second. Kellogg, Conn, Richmond, and Kieser insured a fair proportion of points in the quarter and half-mile runs, while Phillips and Barnes have consistently won places in each hurdle event. In the Amherst meet Williams made a clean sweep of places in the one-mile and two-mile runs, took first and second in the 880-yard run, and first and third in the high hurdles. First two places were won in the Wesleyan meet in the one-mile run and the 440-yard dash, and first and third were secured in the two-mile event. The dashes, which were a very weak point last year, were thoroughly strengthened through the addition of McWhorter and Coddling, who together won a total of 38 points in the three dual meets.

REVIEW OF THE DUAL MEETS

Showing strength on the track by taking seven out of eight first and relative weakness in the field events in which it took but two firsts, the Williams track team easily vanquished the Union team at Williamstown May 1, by the decisive score of 80 to 46. It was only in the weight events that Union showed any strength at all by taking first place in the hammer-throw, shot-put, and discus-throw.

BASKETBALL SEASON IS BEST SINCE 1913

Captain Burrows Team Wins
Six out of Nine Games—
Amherst Defeated Once

Concluding the season with a 32 to 14 victory over Amherst the 1919-1920 basketball team under the leadership of Captain Burrows may be termed a decided success. Through the entire schedule the varsity played a fast and effective game and its record of six victories and three defeats stamps it as the most successful quintet since 1913 when seven victories were scored against four defeats.

Great credit is due to Coach Wachter for the manner in which he handled the team and for the close attention which he paid to the most minute details of the game thereby correcting many of the defects showed by the team in the early games of the season and enabling it to finish the season with three straight victories.

The opening of last season found the team particularly fortunate in having at its disposal a wealth of material consisting of three of the regular members of the previous year's team and five men who had played on the varsity in previous years.

In the first games of the season Burrows, Beckwith, Boynton, Carrick and Bonner were chosen to represent the Purple, but later in the season Bonner's place at center was taken by Jones who ended the season playing a sensational game and was largely responsible for the victories over Amherst and Union.

By defeating Wesleyan in the first scheduled game on January 19 by a score of 31 to 27, the basketball team gave bright prospects of future success. The game was marked by the effective work of Captain Burrows and Beckwith for the Purple and the accurate shooting of Harmon for Wesleyan. The varsity quintet continued its success by defeating Dartmouth 32 to 21 in a ruggedly played game, but met its first defeat at the hands of Syracuse which by superior teamwork defeated the home team before the houseparty crowd by the score of 26 to 19. The team continued its slump by losing a closely played game at Amherst by the narrow margin of one point, the final score being 27 to 26.

Playing a very erratic game in the next two contests, Williams defeated a weak Hamilton five by a decisive score, but was defeated by West Point 28 to 25 in a very close struggle.

The basketball team now struck its stride and swamped Middlebury, winning 50 points to its opponents' 17. Beckwith and Carrick were largely responsible for the high score. Union was the next victim, losing to the Purple to the tune of 23 to 17. The credit of the victory goes to Jones who personally scored 19 points.

Williams put the finishing touches on the basketball season by 32 to 14 victory over Amherst on March 15. The game was very fast, but superior team work and greater accuracy in shooting baskets gave the Purple an easy triumph over its ancient rival.

NEW PLUNGE RECORD

Swimming Team Wins Two of its Five Dual Meets

By winning the last two dual meets of the season and breaking the college record in the plunge, the swimming team put the stamp of success on an otherwise mediocre season. After losing three meets in succession at the opening of the winter, the Purple mermen finished strongly by conquering Springfield and R. P. I., and Captain Olmsted set a new mark in the plunge of 75 feet in 55½ seconds at the New England Intercollegiate meet at Boston.

Inadequate facilities for practice again proved a severe handicap to the team, although the coaching of Mr. Withington brought success in the end. Williams' strength lay chiefly in the plunge, in which Captain Olmsted, Fuller, and Jones were steady point-winners. Of the new men Shaw proved the most valuable, winning points in the dashes and the fancy dive. The distance swims proved to be the greatest weakness of the team, although the relay team made several good showings.

The season opened on February 14 with a 30-17 defeat at the hands of Harvard. On a two-day trip, the varsity was defeated by Amherst, 38-15, and by Wesleyan, 31-22, the latter contest being lost only because of a premature start in the relay race. On March 13 Williams placed fourth in the New England Intercollegiate with eight points, being out-distanced only by M. I. T., Harvard, and Yale. In the last two encounters, the Purple swimmers overcame Springfield Y. M. C. A. College by the score of 32-21, and R. P. I. by 40-19.

As Olmsted and Henderson will be the only men lost by graduation, prospects are reasonably bright for next year. With Truman, '21 as captain, and reinforced by several strong men who were ineligible this year, notably Mackenzie, '23, winner of the Bowker Cup, the 1921 team ought to make a better showing than did its predecessor.

ACTIVITY OF FORUM INCREASED IN SCOPE

HEAR OUTSIDE SPEAKERS

Informal Discussions Followed Main Speeches of Evening
—Ten Meetings Are Held

Greatly increased interest on the part of the student body has enabled the Forum to carry on its activities in a much broader and more valuable way than during the four months of its existence last year. Under the presidency of Hedden, '20, one of the founders of the organization, it has fulfilled its purpose "to encourage the discussion of current social, economic, and political questions" by procuring ten speakers on subjects of interest and then opening its meetings for free discussion.

The first speaker of the year was Assistant Professor D. T. Clark, who on October 27 spoke on "Some Aspects of the Industrial Situation Relating to Present Day Problems." He stated that the causes of the current unrest were only temporary, and would wear away when the nation had emerged from the reaction due to the war. On November 3, Rev. Richard W. Hogue of Baltimore, Md., upheld the Plumb Plan of railroad operation, and defended it against the criticism of several of his audience. The third speaker was Dr. Horace M. Kallen, of New York City, who in a talk on November 24 entitled "Liberals and the League of Nations" traced the idea of such a league through the centuries and explained the rejection of the present covenant by the United States Senate.

The best-attended meeting of the year was on December 8 when Dr. Norman M. Thomas, of the National Civil Liberties Bureau, spoke on the subject "Why Freedom Matters." In his speech he attacked the suppression of free speech and the imprisonment of I. W. W., saying that no surer way to start a revolution existed. As an outgrowth of Dr. Thomas' talk, Professor T. C. Smith on January 22 took up the question of the discussion of radicalism and the holding of radical ideas in college, declaring that as long as it was carried on in a constitutional manner it acted as a beneficial stimulus to thought.

On February 20, Mr. George McAneny, of the New York Times, addressed the Forum on the subject of "Present Day City Government," pointing out that the worst influence in municipal operation is partisan control. Judge Robert Carey, of Jersey City, N. J., spoke on "Government Ownership or Control of Business" on February 27, condemning federal control of public utilities as wasteful and unnecessary. The first undergraduate to speak before a meeting was Jewett, '20, who described his experiences in the South Dakota State Constabulary in a talk entitled "The Real I. W. W.," delivered on March 15. He pointed out that the I. W. W. movement is fundamentally immoral and destructive, but that the way to get rid of it is not by force but by removing its causes. At this meeting the Forum elected the following officers for 1920-1921: Joslyn, '21, president; C. C. Noble, '21, vice-president; Lyon, '22, secretary-treasurer.

The first address under the new administration was given on March 29 by the Hon. Mark Sheldon, High Commissioner from Australia to the United States, on the subject of "Australia." He described briefly some of the economic and labor conditions in the island continent. Mr. Horace Fort, of the Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn., concluded the list of this season's speakers on April 27, when he spoke on "Captives of Success," condemning the unfairness of the present capitalistic state of industry.

VARIETY AND INTEREST IN THOMPSON COURSE

Musical, Lecture and Dramatic Numbers Comprise Program of Successful Season

In reviewing the Thompson Course of the past year, too much credit and gratitude from the student body can not be given first to Mrs. Frederick Ferris Thompson, through whose generosity the series of concerts and entertainments each year was established, and secondly to Professor Weston to whom falls the prodigious task of arranging the program. These entertainments of a superior artistic and intellectual type stand forth prominently in our memories, coming as they do to relieve the monotony and isolation caused by the long winter months.

The program this year was one of variety which added greatly to its entertainment features. The large attendance which was called forth at each concert or lecture is conclusive evidence as to their popularity.

Professor Richard's famous Mountain Ash Welsh Male Concert Choir scored a decided success in the year's first number of the course on November third. The concert was varied and extremely entertaining. On December first, Mlle. Magdeleine Brand, the extraordinary 16-year old French piano artist, held the audience spell-bound throughout an extensive program.

Departing from musical concerts, Lieut. L'Hullier delivered an illustrated lecture on "Devastated France" in the third number of the series on December 15th, giving a graphic picture of what France has suffered and relating many of his own experiences in the war zone. On January 9 Mr. William W. Ellsworth, the retired president of the Century Publishing Co., interested the audience in his lecture on "Forty Years of Publishing," with many amusing anecdotes taken from personal experiences with prominent writers. Mr. Alexander Watson, the celebrated English dramatic reader, presented perhaps the most generally appreciated number of the course on January 15. Selections from three of Barrie's plays were given, each rendition showing artistic insight and appreciation, as well as skill in representation.

In the final concert of the year on March 26th, Alice King and Charles E. Griffith, Jr., appeared in an excellent and charming joint voice and violin recital before an audience taxing the capacity of Jesup Hall.

"CLASS BOOK" OUT BY COMMENCEMENT

Volume Dedicated to Memory of Professor Reese—is Nearly Same as 1919 Issue

Although practically the same as last year's edition, the Senior Class Book, which is scheduled to appear just before Commencement, deserves much credit and praise. The volume is prepared with due regard for arrangement and economy of space, and as a result the book appears in a neat and compact form that compares favorably with its predecessors.

The 1920 Class Book is bound in red cloth with the class numerals printed on the cover in gold. The book, as usual, will contain a history of the class and a biography and photograph of each Senior in college, together with short write-ups of sometime members of the class. The volume will also contain the war records of all 1920 men, class statistics and elections, and faculty elections. A brief summary of the work of members of the senior class on College teams will also be given. Unlike last year's issue, the book will contain no snapshots.

As a frontispiece, the book will contain a portrait of Professor Byron J. Reese, to whose memory the volume is dedicated.

JOURNALS SHOW HIGH ORDER OF EXCELLENCE

RECORD HAS GOOD YEAR

"Lit" Resumed Publication in September—"Cow" up to Former Standard

Constant endeavor to bring the College publications up to the standards set by former boards has resulted in volumes of undeniable quality during the first year of reorganization after the war. The Literary Monthly has been able to resume publication on a sound basis, the Purple Cow has maintained an unusually high order of excellence, and the Williams Record, in its more limited field for creative writing, has published forceful editorials and timely news columns.

Continuing the more conservative policies of their immediate predecessors but introducing a few desirable innovations, the 1920 editors of the Record maintained its position of dignified prominence in undergraduate activities. Through the editorial columns the cumbersome machinery weighing down the College curriculum was vigorously attacked last spring, and the suggestion was made that Latin be no longer compulsory. A storm of comment, favorable and unfavorable, was aroused; and the College authorities, prodded from their profound lethargy, at last took action and removed the compulsion from some of the undesirable courses of freshman year. The entire year was noteworthy on account of the number of special issues published. There were two last spring, one in September, one at the time of the Amherst football game, including a large pictorial section, a special Musical Club number at Christmas, and several during the winter, culminating in the final humorous issue. Two or three cartoons by Pollard '20 helped greatly to enliven the sheet. The crowning achievement of journalistic effort took the form of a "pink sheet" on the evening of the Amherst football game, proclaiming the Williams victory in type two inches high.

Among alumni perhaps even more than upon the campus, the editorials of C. L. Ward, Jr., Editor-in-Chief, have excited the most favorable comment. Of real literary brilliance, his writings also showed careful study and sound analysis. He struck frequently and he struck forcibly, at the very spots, fortunately, where undergraduate (and Faculty) minds were most tender.

When the 1920 board retired, the Literary Monthly lost several writers whose ability and brilliance few, if any, of the new board can equal. Resuming publication last fall after a long lapse due to the war, the magazine under the guidance of S. S. Hawes, '20 very nearly reached the high standards of former years. Unfortunately the Lit. was greatly handicapped by the lack of contributions from the undergraduate body. This difficulty, however, the members of the board very successfully met by producing numerous stories and articles themselves. The result was a monthly not perfect, yet thoroughly satisfactory.

The Purple Cow has without doubt had a banner year. The standard of the art department has been consistently high in both conception and execution. Although a number of the jokes had perhaps been printed sufficiently often before and some of the jingles were mediocre, a large proportion of the longer contributions possessed genuine humor, and from the number of laughs she has evoked, the Cow may be said to have fulfilled her function on the campus wisely and well. Moreover, the editorials, however light the vein in which they were written, sounded a more serious note than ever before, so skillfully as to make the Cow seem, after all, very worth while.

The 1921 Gulic'mensian, the 1920 Class Book, and the W. C. A. Handbook are not out yet but are expected to appear shortly.

TRIUMPHS ATTEND 1920 TRACK SEASON

The varsity track team ran away from Amherst in the twelfth dual meet May 8, annexing seven firsts, ten seconds, and nine thirds, for a total of 74 points against their rival's 52. A safe lead was maintained throughout the meet, and Amherst failed to show much spirited contest except in the dashes, weight events, and high jump. Seven individual records or times were better than in the 1919 dual meet and nine were better than those of the 1918 season.

Wesleyan at Middletown on May 15 proved a more difficult proposition, and it was only with difficulty that the varsity nosed out a victory by the close score of 66 to 60. Williams' overwhelming strength on the track piled up a big lead which the Red and Black was unable to overcome in the field, although they won or tied for first in every event there.

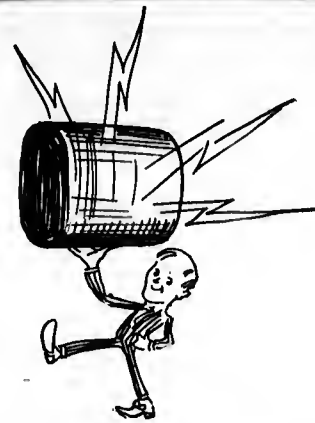

The showing of the team in the New England Intercollegiate meet, where it took third place with a score of 234 points, was highly creditable considering the small number of men entered and the entire lack of representation in field events other than the pole vault. Captain Brown, for the third time winner of the two-mile championship, was one of the individual stars of the meet.

Captain Brown, Kieser, Mills, and Anderson who secured a total of 47 points this year, will be lost to the team this spring through graduation. Williams men placed second to them, however, in practically every event, so that their loss will not prove a very serious set-back to next year's team.

INDIVIDUAL CRITICISMS

Horace Hallock Brown, 1920, of Bernardsville, N. J., captain of the team, prepared for college at the Bernardsville High School. Although he had no track experience there at all, he has developed into one of the best distance and middle distance runners who has ever been engaged in track athletics at Williams. In the spring of his Freshman year, Brown won every race he entered in the dual meets with Amherst and Wesleyan and won the two-mile in the New England Intercollegiate. In cross country he was equally successful, winning the New England Cross Country championship in 1916, on the victorious Williams team. Last year he was equally valuable as a point winner for the team and his time in the intercollegiate two-mile event, 9 minutes and 51 2-5 seconds, Stunning bolts!

Many of our new Summer suits were made from bolts of stunning Scotch and English woolsens.

The shock came with the price—we bought and landed these fine, foreign fabrics for less than good domestics. Of course we were much favored as long established customers.

Naturally it follows that the garments themselves (we are our own manufacturers) are much less than you'd expect to pay for such fine imported cloths.

TRIUMPHS ATTEND 1920 TRACK SEASON

was the best that was made in the East that year. As captain this spring he has set his team a worthy example, piling up a total of 26 points. Captain Brown is the first man in the history of Williams to win the New England Intercollegiate championship in any event in three different years.

Alfred Frederick Kieser, 1920, of Brooklyn, N. Y., took first place in the 440-yard dash this year against Wesleyan and second place against Amherst. He entered the broad jump and scored in several meets but was not as successful as in previous years. An unfortunate fall prevented him from placing in the quarter mile event in Boston. In his Sophomore year at Williams Kieser was New England Intercollegiate broad jump champion and the high scorer on the team, and last spring he was second high man.

John Tyler Mills, Jr., 1920, of New York City, has been the mainstay of the team in the weight events, getting a total of 7 points in the dual meets. He won second place in the shot put against both Amherst and Wesleyan. This is his third year on the team.

Charles Gordon Landon, 1920, of Rutland, Vt., scored all of his four points in the Amherst dual meet. In this contest he won second place in the discus throw, and took third place in the hammer throw.

Samuel Wagner Anderson, 1920, of La Crosse, Wis., has been a high jumper on the track team for the last three seasons. He first won his NFA in the spring of 1918, but his only points this year were taken in the Wesleyan meet in which he was in a triple tie for first place.

Reinold Marion Parker, 1920, of Hartford, Conn., has been a Williams miler for the last three seasons. He won his "W" in cross country in 1917 and again two years ago in track. His two points this season were scored in the Union and Amherst meets in each of which he won third in the mile.

Gerald George J. Carick, 1920, of New York City, was on the track team for the first time last year when he entered the sprints as well as weight events. This spring he took third place in the shot put in the Amherst meet.

John Wesley Crofts, Jr., 1921, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has been one of the mainstays of the varsity track team for the last three years in the long distance events and has only been beaten in the last two years by Brown. He has scored first place this year in the mile run against Amherst and Wesleyan and in the two-mile run against Union, and also taken three additional second places in the respective dual meets.

In a very fast field in the New England, he came in third in the two-mile.

John Wesley Coddling, Jr., 1921, of Towanda, Pa., has been a sure point winner in the dashes during the season, running a close second to McWhorter. He has won a total of four second and two third places in the dual meets and in the intercollegiate captured fourth in the 100-yard dash.

Hamilton Hyde Kellogg, 1921, of Skaneateles, N. Y., was a member of the Syracuse freshman cross-country team before coming to Williams and last year he ran on the varsity here. In the two meets with Amherst and Union he won first place in the half-mile and took second place in the Wesleyan contest.

Howard Radcliffe Coan, 1921, of Urumia, Persia, by placing first in the mile in the Union meet and second in the remaining two dual meets, has obtained a total of 11 points. This is his second year with the team.

Herbert Sands Towne, 1921, of Holyoke, Mass., showed to advantage with the hammer, winning second place in the first two meets of the season and third place at Wesleyan.

Arthur Manley Wickwire, Jr., 1921, of Brooklyn, N. Y., won his "W" in track two seasons ago and has been the most consistent point winner in the broad jump this year with two seconds and a third place to his credit in successive meets.

Torrey Allen, 1921, of Burlington, Vt., has been a member of the squad for the last two years. His only score this year was a third place in the quarter-mile against Union.

Emerson Hopkins McWhorter, 1922, of Brooklyn, N. Y., scored more points than any other man on the team during the present season, with a total of 34 points won in the indoor meet, three dual meets, and the intercollegiate. In the 220-yard dash he took first place in every dual meet of the season, and in the New England Intercollegiate, although only placing third in the finals on a soaked track, his time for his trial heat, 22 and 2-5 seconds, was the best made during the entire meet. In addition McWhorter won first in the 100-yard dash from both Union and Wesleyan and took third in the same event in Boston. This is his first year on the team.

Philip Phillips, 1922, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been the mainstay of the team in the hurdles this year and has been credited with first place in the high hurdles and second place in the low hurdles in the first two meets of the year. In the Wesleyan meet he won second again in the low hurdles and third in the high hurdles and captured fourth in the intercollegiate. Phillips won his "W" last season.

Charles Stewart Richmond, 1922, of Chatham, N. J., has shown proficiency in the quarter and half-mile in his first season on the team. He has succeeded in placing for a total of 8 points in the dual meets and in the intercollegiate won third place.

Dudley Brabner Wallace, 1922, of Springfield, Mass., won first place in the Union meet in the high jump and tied for the same position in the Wesleyan meet, besides adding a third place in the Amherst meet. This is his second season with the squad.

Alan Lamplough Becket, 1922, of East Orange, N. J., has amassed a total of 8 points throwing the discus in the first two meets of the season. The distances have been fairly good in spite of damp grounds.

John Burr Northrop, 1922, of Fredericksburg, Va., won his only point of the season in the Union meet when he came in third in the half-mile run.

Alfred Hastings Chapin, Jr., 1923, of Springfield, Mass., has been the only man in field events who could win consistently. He has won or tied for first place in the pole vault in every dual meet of the spring and repeated the performance in the intercollegiate by tying for first place with three other contestants, clearing the bar easily at 11 feet on the first attempt.

Charles Barnes, 1923, of New York City, has been another consistent point winner who has joined the track team for the first time this year. In the dual meets he has been a close second to Phillips over the hurdles and in the intercollegiate he won second place.

Egi Victor Fasse, 1923, of Adams, Mass., has shown good ability at sticking with the leaders through the long grind of the two-mile run, and has finished close to Brown and Crofts on several occasions, gaining a total of 5 points in this event.

John Allen Coe, Jr., 1920, of Waterbury, Conn., manager of the track team, prepared for College at the Crosby High School, Waterbury, Conn.

Morton Mortimer Banks, 1921, of Noroton, Conn., assistant manager of the track team, prepared for Williams at the Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, Mass.

WILLIAMS WINS DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP

Varsity Defeats Amherst, Wesleyan, Brown, Dartmouth on Collective Bargaining

For the first time in the history of the College, the Williams debating teams won the championship of both the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams and the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams Triangular Debating Leagues. A 2-1 decision of the judges awarded the debates to the Purple at both Amherst and Williamstown on December 5 and over Dartmouth here and Brown at Providence, Rhode Island, on April 30.

Atwell, '21, captain, Hall, '21 and Schaffner, '22 with Zeitler, '22 as alternate defeated the affirmative Amherst team on Dec. 5 through better delivery and more logical presentation of facts. The Williams affirmative team, composed of Cole, '21, Lyon, '22 and Zalles (Continued on page 8)

WILLIAMS WINS DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP

'22 with S. A. Brown, '22 as alternate, won the decision from Wesleyan because the opponents attempted to identify the collective bargaining plan with the sentiments of the "red" labor element. The subject of the debate was, "Resolved, That the right of wage earners to organize without discrimination, to bargain collectively, and to be represented by representatives of their own choosing in negotiations and adjustments with employers with respect to wages, hours of labor, and relations and conditions of employment should be recognized."

In the spring debate, Atwell, '21, Captain, Hall, '21 and Terry, '22, with Sedgwick, '21 as alternate represented the Purple at Jesup Hall and overcame the Dartmouth affirmative team on the question, "Resolved, That employers should recognize the right of employees to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choice in respect to wages, hours of labor and other conditions of employment. A more logical presentation of arguments and a better selection of points to be attacked or defended in rebuttal were the reasons given by the judges for the Purple victory."

Williams sent Hedden, '20, Captain, Coan, '21 and Lyon, '22 with Cole, '21 as alternate to uphold the affirmative side of the same question against the Brown debaters. The opposing team developed arguments which were too old to be effective and that, combined with an up-to-date knowledge of the subject together with better interpretation of the issues of the debate on the part of the Purple were the chief points which gave the decision to the varsity. The negative team admitted that organization is necessary and effective for the protection of the workers but failed to offer a better solution of the problem than that of collective bargaining.

COMEDY IS PRESENTED

Cap and Bells Visits Nine Cities with "Stop Thief"

With Carlyle Moore's comedy Stop Thief as the attraction, Cap and Bells appeared before nine appreciative audiences during the past winter, and went through a decidedly prosperous season. Through the coaching of Mr. Albert Lang the cast attained well-nigh to perfection, and at all the cities visited the attendances indicated that interest in Williams dramatics had not lagged as a result of the war.

The principal parts of Jack Dugan and Nell were capably played, the former by Zalles '22 and later H. C. Lawder, '22, and the latter by Rose, '22. Holt, '20 made a decided hit in the part of Mr. Carr, and the remaining female roles were taken care of by Wheeler, '20, Power, Thexton, '21, and McWhorter, '22. The entire cast was well-balanced and well-trained, and acted almost like professionals, according to the newspaper comment received.

The first performance of the comedy was given in Grace Hall before the midwinter houseparty guests. This was followed by a presentation at Northampton, Mass., preparatory to the Easter trip. During the holiday week six cities were visited, North Adams, Worcester, Boston, Fall River, New York, and East Orange, N. J. In order to help defray the expenses of the Sophomore Prom. Committee, Cap and Bells gave a concluding performance at Glens Falls, N. Y., early in May.

GAMES SCHEDULED IN COMMENCEMENT WEEK

Purple Nine to Face Syracuse, U. of Vermont, Alumni, and Dartmouth Teams

After losing eight games straight and then showing unexpected power in defeating the strong Amherst nine, the varsity will entertain four teams during Commencement Week. The Purple's opponents will be Syracuse on Tuesday, June 15, Vermont on Thursday, the Alumni on Friday, and Dartmouth on Saturday.

The Williams line-up will probably be little changed from the winning combination which faced Amherst. Burrows, Holmes, and Patton will do the pitching. It is likely that Hoyt will continue to play second, with Mason in the outfield. The line-up is expected to be as follows: Hoyt, 2b; Mason, rf; Boynton, ss; Finn, c; Nichols, 1b; McLean, cf; Ward, 3b; Burger, lf; Burrows, Holmes, Patton, p.

Syracuse will present a strong team in the first game of the series. Comparative scores would give the advantage to the visitors, as Colgate, after defeating Williams 5 to 3, lost to the Orange nine 4 to 2. However, the varsity is likely to upset calculations if it continues in the stride found in the Amherst contest. The probable line-up for Syracuse is as follows: Malone, lf; Ackley, ss; Brown, cf; Fallon, rf; Savidge, 3b; Coughlin, 1b; Allen, 2b; Robertson, c; Ingalls, Irwin, p.

The University of Vermont has already downed Williams by the overwhelming score of 10 to 0 and so is an easy favorite for Thursday's game. The probable line-up for the visitors is as follows: Hamilton, ss; Brock, cf; Harris, 3b; McGinnis, 1b; Kerwin, 2b; Tryon, rf; Garrity, lf; Spillane, c; Kibbee, Patten, Duba, p.

Little is known of the strength of the Alumni, as no advance information can be obtained as to the team which will represent them. The contest will be staged Friday, June 18, on Weston Field.

Dartmouth's hard-hitting nine will be seen in action on Saturday. The New Hampshire men recently defeated Amherst 11 to 4. Their probable line-up is as follows: Reese, cf; Kopf, 2b; Maynard, ss; Merritt, lf; Robertson, 1b; Bruce, 3b; Grundman, rf; Ross, c; Blake, Achenbach, Willard, p.

WILLIAMS WINS TRIPLE VICTORY OVER AMHERST IN BASEBALL, TENNIS, AND GOLF

CLEAN SWEEP IN SINGLES

Purple Racket Wielders Secure One Doubles and Four Singles Matches Easily

FINAL SCORE IS 5 TO 1

Chapin and Pollard Are Both Undeclared in Memorial Day Tournament

By defeating the Amherst netmen, five matches to one, in the Memorial Day encounter last Monday morning, Williams won its fifth consecutive tennis victory. Although Amherst exhibited some good tennis, greater steadiness on the part of the home team was responsible for the victory.

Williams swept through the singles matches, allowing the opponents but two sets. Chapin was slightly off his game, and had difficulty in overcoming Bennett Amherst's stellar player, in a three set match, by the score of 5-7, 6-3, 7-5. Captain Pollard played an unusually steady game, easily defeating Captain Thorpe of Amherst by a count of 6-2, 6-3. Elwell gave Bullock a hard fight before he finally succumbed to the brilliant net game of the Purple player, the final score standing 6-2, 4-6, 6-2. In the last singles match Fraker disposed of Sprague, 6-4, 6-3.

The doubles matches were more bitterly contested both of them going to three sets, including one deuce set, before a decision was reached. Pollard and Chapin started off well against Thorpe and Sprague, but lost the second set, and captured the deciding points only after the score had been tied four different times, finally triumphing, 6-3, 4-6, 10-8. H. S. Prescott and Rowse opposed Bennett and Lowe in the final match of the morning. After dropping the opening set, 6-4, the Amherst players tightened up and prevented a shut-out by winning the next two sets, the final score being 4-6, 8-6, 6-3.

The summary follows:
Singles—Chapin (W) defeated Bennett (A), 5-7, 6-3, 7-5; Captain Pollard (W) defeated Captain Thorpe (A), 6-2, 6-3; Bullock (W) defeated Elwell (A) 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; Fraker (W) defeated Sprague (A), 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles—Chapin and Pollard (W) defeated Sprague and Thorpe (A), 6-3, 4-6, 10-8; Bennett and Lowe (A) defeated Prescott and Rowse (W), 4-6, 8-6, 6-3.

F. B. JENNINGS DIES

Prominent Attorney Served As Trustee for Many Years

Frederick Beach Jennings '72, trustee of Williams College from 1906 to 1910 and 1912 to time of death, died May 26 at his home in New York City, at the age of 66. Mr. Jennings was a general counsel for the Associated Press, the International Paper Company, the Eric Railroad, and a member of the board of the First National Bank of North Bennington, Vt.

He was born in Bennington Centre, Vt., in August, 1853, and graduated from College with the class of 1872, later studying at Harvard and New York University Law Schools, being admitted to the bar in 1875. Mr. Jennings represented the Associated Press in its litigation against the International News Service, a Hearst organization for pirating news. In the famous case before the United States Supreme Court, he succeeded in gaining what was regarded the most sweeping decision ever rendered, which established property right of news.

Mr. Jennings is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth, and three sons, Perch Hall, Frederick B., Jr., and Edward Phelps Jennings. The funeral services were held last Friday morning at his residence in New York City.

RIVALS ARE OUTCLASSED

Purple Nine in First Triumph of Season Vanquishes Opponents 11 Runs to 6

HOLMES PITCHES WELL

Boynton and Nichols Star at Bat and Entire Team Hits and Fields Excellently

Taking the lead in the first inning with two runs and holding a safe margin of tallies throughout the game, the Williams baseball nine met and conquered Amherst in the annual Decoration Day baseball classic last Monday afternoon on Weston field. The 11 to 6 victory was particularly noteworthy and gratifying since the formidable Purple and White team was forced to go down in defeat before the home nine in a spectacular and well-played game which broke a series of eight consecutive defeats for the latter team.

Stimulated by the traditional spirit of rivalry which always characterizes contests with Amherst, the Williams team for the first time this season showed the brand of baseball which it was capable of playing. The support given the pitcher was of the first order and only two minor errors were made by the Purple in the entire game, neither of which contributed to a run. The fielding was perfect, McLean starting in particular with four difficult catches to his credit. A total of fourteen assists were made by the various members of the infield, and seven players contributed a total of fourteen hits.

The Purple team found its batting eye for the first time this year, and as a result nearly every member of the organization succeeded in securing at least one hit in spite of the effective hurling of the Amherst pitchers, both of whom have a high rating in college baseball. Captain Boynton was the particular star of the game in this department with a record of a three-base hit, a double, and two singles out of five times at bat. Nichols followed a close second with three hits out of four chances to his credit, one of which went for two extra bases. Mason was the only other Purple slugger to knock the ball for more than one base, but singles were laid down by four other members of the team. For the visitors, Maynard starred with a three-bagger to left field which scored two runners, and Davis was also credited with a two-base hit and a single.

Holmes pitched a very pretty game throughout the contest in spite of a tendency to wildness and pulled himself out of several difficult situations, receiving good support from the remainder of the team. He allowed six bases on balls, two of which came in the ninth inning just before he was relieved by Burrows, but in the first eight innings Holmes struck out a total of five men and assisted in putting out three more. The nine hits secured by Amherst were kept fairly well scattered. Burrows allowed a three-bagger immediately after relieving Holmes, but retaliated by striking out two men in the remainder of the inning. In the five innings in which Zink pitched, he struck out five men, but allowed four bases on balls and six hits for a total of six runs. Clark pitched well the remainder of the game except for one inning, allowing only three bases on balls and striking out three men. In the eighth, however, he was found for six safe hits, and five Purple runners crossed the home plate.

Amherst started the scoring in the first inning when one man came home from third while Boynton and Nichols were trying to put out a second runner between

A Day of Triumphs

The interest over the result of any athletic contest with Amherst has always been so great that it has become an axiom that if a team defeats the Purple and White, the season is to be considered a success, no matter how disastrous the outcome of the other contests. Under this requirement the baseball team has surely vindicated its previous losses, and the 1920 season is no longer to be considered a failure. Last Monday's 11-6 trouncing looms up so large that all the other games are forgotten. The tennis and golf teams, by scoring two more triumphs on the same day, added to the ignominy of the invaders from Amherst; and helped to make May 30 a day to be remembered in Williams' athletic annals.

Baseball For the Game Itself

The success of the intramural baseball leagues ever since they were inaugurated last spring under the direction of Ira Thomas has been undenied within the college, and the interest has waxed greater this year than ever before. The value of the plan to the undergraduate body has been surprisingly great, and news of this success has now reached those outside the bounds of Williamstown. We reprint the following editorial from the Schenectady Union-Star:

"With all due respect to intercollegiate athletics, it seems to us that the idea embodied in the baseball practice at Williams College this spring comes nearer filling the bill than much of the more sensational 'varsity' work on other diamonds.

Williams has been playing a losing game judging from the scores in intercollegiate games. Whether it is a losing game in the long run depends on whether you look at collegiate baseball as an end, or as a means to an end. If you consider that all a boy goes to college for is to become an expert baseball player, the record of this college shows dismal failure. If, on the other hand, you regard collegiate baseball as a game to train muscles, eye, nerve and self-control and as a wonderful exercise making for health and sport and all-around physical development, baseball at Williams is a decided success. For, instead of a highly trained 'varsity' team doing all the playing while the rest of the college looks on and makes bets, the intra-mural system at Williams has eighteen teams working in two distinct inside leagues, busying more than two hundred men, in addition to the regular schedule of inter-class games.

"We submit, that it is better to benefit more than two hundred men playing the game for the sake of the game than it is to develop a single highly specialized team, including perhaps a score of men playing the game for spectacular effect. But then it is an old-fashioned idea that college baseball should be other than of big league order."

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

TO the Editor of the RECORD

Sir: Early in December the W. C. A. Cabinet prepared a careful budget of the expenses of the Association for the College year, based on a very conservative estimate of about four-fifths of its promised contributions. Owing to the failure, from one cause or another, of a large number of men to pay their promised contributions, the W. C. A. faces a situation wherein it will be unable to meet its promised obligation to the Canton Christian College in China to support a Williams man on its faculty. In view of the fact that a member of the present senior class is to become a member of that same faculty, it is especially embarrassing to the Williams Christian Association to fail to meet any obligation made in good faith, and thus to fail to stand back of Williams men who are making large sacrifices for the sake of education and good-will among the nations.

Realizing that in most cases this failure to pay up the contributions is due to oversight and not intentional neglect, I am writing you this communication in order to bring the situation before the student body in the hope that it may be satisfactorily attended to. Over eight hundred dollars of contributions are still unpaid. If only half of these promises are met, the Association will be easily enabled to meet its obligations and thus to keep its record clear.

—Frederic B. Wilkinson,
General Secretary.

The Editor of the RECORD

Sir: It is most certainly a cause for congratulation and very gratifying, to put it mildly, when Williams figures as prominently as she did at the Intercollegiate Track Meet at Philadelphia recently, when through the splendid work of Captain Brown he captured first place in the two mile run. This feat placed her even above Yale when the points of the meet were tallied. The brilliant showing also made recently by Williams men in the aerial contests between well known Colleges and universities of the East, is also another cause for rejoicing.

Triumphs of Williams men which bring recognition to our Alma Mater in all sections of the country, are especially gratifying to alumni and undergraduates who happen to reside in States where Princeton, Yale, Pennsylvania or others of the large universities, usually usurp first places in the mind of the general public. Legitimate publicity, such as this, to my mind certainly should be of value to Williams. And it decidedly is most satisfactory to Williams men everywhere who seek universal recognition of their Alma Mater. I am indeed glad that it is possible, both financially and because of excellence of material, to enter Williams men at the Philadelphia intercollegiate. It helped bring home to the general public in States south of the New England group and also distant from the Middle West section, the fact that Williams also has a place in the very first rank of American colleges, in athletics as well as scholarship.

Very truly yours,
—J. Douglas M. Royal '14

of the men picked but think that the Gargoyle society has drawn too fine a point for election or else has discriminated against certain men whose work, character, and personality obviously deserved recognition over some of those elected.

Although Gargoyle is more or less a secret society, the writers do not think that it would hurt, but in fact help, the said society to publish in the RECORD their basis of election so that the men who are not tapped will not think that there is something radically wrong with themselves or that they have some grievous faults not perceived by the student body.

Seemingly Gargoyle does not pick men who have done a great deal for Williams outside of athletics as for instance Dana next year's football manager, Thexton, editor-in-chief of the RECORD, Heath, Managing editor of the RECORD, Moody, Chairman of the Cow and Lib, and Crofts, track Captain-elect, all positions requiring hard conscientious work, and ability and the trust and confidence of the Student body in electing them thru their representatives on the separate organizations.

Gargoyle is so inconsistent in its secret, mysterious and bewildering policy, one wonders if it has any definite, set basis of election. One year it is college honors, the next popularity and athletic ability.

If Gargoyle only published some definite policy and made that policy permanent, the writers think that all the hard feelings and apparent injustices that occur in every election would be done away with.

Far be it from the writers to criticize Gargoyle, but "us neophytes on the fence has some rights" and if Gargoyle is what it is supposed to be, it is up to them.

President of the Board of Trustees

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

The annual circular, giving full information, may be had on application to the Registrar.

first and second with two down. Williams came back in its half and stepped into the lead with two runs scored by Hoyt and Boynton, who had been advanced successively through a base on balls, a sacrifice bunt, and triples by Boynton and Nichols respectively. In the second inning Williams laid up a safe margin of three runs. Ward was given a base on balls, took second on a short grounder of Burger's which was fumbled by McCandless. Both advanced on a single by Hoyt, filling the bases, and a base on balls to Mason brought Ward home. Burger and Hoyt both scored on a long single by Boynton to right field.

The next scoring came in the fifth inning when Mason was hit by the pitcher, advanced to third by Boynton's single, and scored on a wild pitch by Zink. Runners were then on second and third with none out, but the next three men to face the opposing pitcher either fanned or flied out. Amherst also scored a lone tally in the first half of the sixth.

In the eighth inning the Purple and White continued the scoring, adding two runs by means of a base on balls, a single, and a double by Davison which scored both Maynard and McCandless. Williams retaliated in the latter half of the same inning and laid the game safely on ice scoring five runs. Ward again started an inning by receiving a base on balls, stole second, and advanced to third on Burger's single. Hoyt singled, scoring Ward, and later stole second base. A two-bagger to left field by Mason scored both Burger and Hoyt, and Boynton's two-base hit scored Mason. Boynton himself advanced to third on a single by Finn and came home on McLean's single. Ward and Burger then flied out, retiring the side with three men left on bases.

Amherst's remaining two runs came in the ninth inning when Holmes walked the first two men to face him and was relieved by Burrows. Maynard scored both runners with a three-base hit over Burger's head. Burrows then struck out Cowles, Boynton caught a short fly by McNamara, and McCandless also struck out, ending the game 11 to 6.

Three games were played this week in the intramural series, one in the National and two in the American League. Delta Psi reached first place in the National League by a 3-2 victory over Phi Delta Theta; and in the American League defeats were suffered by Phi Gamma Delta and Beta Theta Pi at the hands of Zeta Psi and Sigma Phi respectively.

Play in the National League game was very even, the winning run being scored in the last half of the fifth inning when Chapin knocked out a three bagger and scored on a single by Hoffman. Both pitchers kept hits well scattered, the only unsteadiness being shown in the first inning by Fleming who was a little wild.

The score by innings follows:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5
Delta Psi 2 0 0 1 - 3
Phi Delta Theta 1 0 1 0 0 - 2

Batteries: Delta Psi—Clark and Chapin; Phi Delta Theta—Fleming and R. Smith. Phi Gamma Delta lost to Zeta Psi largely through the excellent pitching of Foster who allowed only one hit during the entire game. In the first inning three runs were scored by Zeta Psi before Buell settled down to the steady pitching he showed in the succeeding innings. No other scores were made during the game.

The score by innings follows:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5
Phi Gamma Delta 0 0 0 0 0 - 0

Batteries: Zeta Psi—Foster and Dunn; Phi Gamma Delta—Buell and Humphries. Sigma Phi defeated Beta Theta Pi 13-0 in the third game of the week largely through the difference in the hitting ability of the two teams. Beta Theta Pi seemed unable to touch the pitching of Bixby. Sigma Phi featured the game with heavy batting rallies in the first and third innings which scored three and ten runs respectively.

The score by innings is as follows:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5
Sigma 3 0 10 0 0 - 13

Batteries: Sigma Phi—Bixby and Humes; Beta Theta Pi—Painter, Hoeck, and Patterson.

As part of a plan to house 2200 students a new dormitory building will be built at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology before the fall of 1921, which will accommodate 500 men, according to recent announcement by the dormitory committee. The new building will be erected on the grounds of the College in Cambridge.

Seattle Students Edit Daily

Through the courtesy of the management of one of the large city newspapers Seattle students of the University of Washington who are members of the staff of the college daily will take charge of an issue of the "Daily Star" in the near future. This action came as the result of the newspaper management's offering its equipment that the students might create an interest in journalism.

Abolishes Honor System

The faculty of Northwestern University have abolished the Honor System among the students because the undergraduates have failed to live up to the confidences placed in them. Members of the faculty claim that cheating has been increased greatly during the regime of the system and that it will be necessary in the future to have professors present at all examinations.

New Plan at Cornell

Mechanical, civil, and electric engineering colleges at Cornell are to be combined under one Faculty next year, and the students of these three branches will take a common schedule. Each undergraduate will be compelled to carry 18 hours of University work, and an average of at least 79% will be required to graduate.

VARSITY WINS AGAIN ON ERRORS BY ORANGE

SYRACUSE DEFEATED 7-5

Burrows Keeps Opponents' Hits Scattered—Boynton Gets Two Three Baggers

Five glaring errors on the part of the Syracuse team in the first three innings gave Williams a 7-5 victory over the Orange nine last Tuesday afternoon on Weston Field. Burrows pitched effective ball most of the time, keeping the hits well scattered and striking out eight, but he weakened in the seventh and allowed two home runs in succession.

The Williams team had no difficulty in solving the delivery of Irwin, who started in the box for Syracuse. After five runs had been scored, due in the main to errors, Ingalls was sent in with two out in the third. Another bad misplay accounted for two more runs, but he held the Purple scoreless from that time until the end of the game. The visiting nine looked dangerous in the seventh and again in the eighth, but was unable to overcome the lead which Williams threatened to increase several times.

The home team managed to connect with the ball fairly consistently but made only five hits to nine for Syracuse. Three were triples, however, two of them long hits by Captain Boynton and one by Finn. The fielding was slightly ragged, as the record of five errors shows, but few came at critical moments. McLean played his usual brilliant game in center field, pulling in five flies altogether, and C. Boynton made two pretty catches in left which effectually cut off rallies. Captain Boynton's throws were especially quick and accurate, and the rest of the infield showed flashes of good playing.

The Syracuse nine batted well and fielded well after the third inning. Ackley led with the stick, scoring a home run and a single out of three trips to the plate. Malone and Savage also hit safely twice, and Brown made the second home run. The fielding at the start was wretched. Two errors by Savage were responsible for three of the runs, but Ackley and Coughlin also figured in the slaughter.

Malone, leading off for the visitors with a double, scored the first run, advancing to third on Ackley's infield hit and coming in on Brown's sacrifice fly. Finn caught Ackley at second, and Fallon whiffed, ending the inning. Hoyt led off for the Purple with a single to left center, went to second on Mason's sacrifice bunt, and was out at third when Boynton hit to short-stop. Finn hit a slashing liner and made three bases when the fielder misjudged the first bounce, coming in on a bad throw by Ackley. Nichols flied to Brown for the third out. Both teams scored in the second, Syracuse on two errors and a sacrifice hit, and Williams on a base on balls, a sacrifice hit, and an error.

With two out in the third, Captain Boynton started the ball rolling with a triple to deep center, which would have gone for a home run except for extremely fast fielding. After Finn had walked and stolen second, Nichols hit a grounder and was safe on a bad throw by Savage which allowed Boynton to score and Finn to make third. Finn came in and Nichols went to second on Coughlin's wild throw to the plate. Irwin then walked McLean and retired in favor of Ingalls. Ward hit a grounder through Savage and made second, both Nichols and McLean scoring on the play. Burger flied out to Coughlin, finishing the inning.

There was no score for the next three innings. In the fourth, however, Savage singled to left and made third when the ball went through Burger. Burrows walked Coughlin and then pulled himself out of the hole by striking out the next man

GOLF TEAM WILL PLAY

9 Men to Represent Williams In Golf Intercollegiate

Williams will be represented by nine men in the annual Intercollegiate Golf Tournament to be held at the Nassau Country Club on Long Island, June 22 to 26. The Williams team will be composed of Black, Jones, Murdoch, and Sedgwick '20, Adams '21 and Ward and Simmons '23, and Hemphill and Jones '23 will contest in the individual matches.

Ten colleges, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Georgia Tech, Harvard, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Williams and Yale, are members of the association and each will probably send a team.

Thirty-six holes will be played on the first two days when the team championship will be decided by medal score. These first 72 holes will serve as qualifying rounds for the individual championship matches which will be played on the remaining three days for which 16 men will be retained. The first and second rounds of 18 holes will be played on June 24, the third round and semi-finals on the 25th, and the final match of 36 holes on June 26. The individual championship will be decided entirely by match play.

Among the many individual stars entered in the tourney are "Bobbie" Jones of Georgia Tech, runner-up in the last national amateur championship, and Ward '23, who for three years has held the state championship of Missouri.

DELTA PSI IS WINNER IN INTRAMURAL LEAGUE

Seventh Inning Rally Snatches Victory from Zeta Psi Team —Final Score is 12-10

Overwhelming their opponents in the seventh inning with eight tallies the Delta Psi baseball nine won the College championship from the Zeta Psi team with a final score of 12-10. Heavy hitting after the sixth inning by both teams combined with loose fielding featured the contest, which appeared in the beginning to be an easy victory for Zeta Psi.

Errors and a base on balls netted one run in each of the first two innings for Zeta Psi, while their opponents failed to score. Neither team made any runs during the next two frames, but Zeta Psi scored once in both the fifth and the sixth, while Delta Psi brought three runs across the plate in the sixth. In the next round, however, a series of singles together with a two bagger by Hoffman and a triple by Hyndman netted eight runs for Delta Psi, giving them a lead their opponents were never able to pass. Frequent errors by the Zeta Psi nine also aided this rally.

Three base hits by Hinman, S. Dunn, and R. Mellen, and doubles by Secor and Hoffman featured the batting of the two teams. Neither pitcher's work was effective and the fielding support on both sides was extremely ragged at several critical points.

The score by innings follows:
Inning 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Delta Psi 0 0 0 0 3 8 0 1 - 12
Zeta Psi 1 1 0 0 1 1 4 0 2 - 10

Batteries—Zeta Psi, Foster and S. Dunn; Delta Psi, R. Clark and Chapin.

TWENTY-TWO CLASSES RETURN FOR REUNION

EXPECT LARGE ATTENDANCE

Alumni Meet Under Both Dix and Old Plan—Arrange for Headquarters

With the advent of commencement and the closing festivities of the College year, twenty-two classes return for their respective reunions. Several will meet under the Dix plan and several by the old plan. In many cases it has been impossible to obtain the final arrangements or the number of graduates expected to return, but 1882 and 1885 seem to be the strongest contestants for the loving cup, annually awarded to the class which has the largest percentage of attendants.

The individual statistics and plans as far as could be ascertained are as follows:

1860-1864—The reunions of these classes were held under the Dix plan. No headquarters were established. Professor George L. Raymond '62 has arranged for a combined luncheon of these classes for this noon at the Commons.

1870—Separate headquarters have not been made. Mr. Walter G. Mitchell '70 is in charge of the local affairs. President Harry P. Judson '70, of Chicago University, and Former-Trustee William H. Hollister '70 were expected to be present at the dinner given yesterday evening at the Commons.

1880—No information concerning their plans has been received.

1881—Headquarters are at Miss Grace Perry's residence on Grace Court.

1882—Headquarters are at the residence of Mr. E. H. Botsford '82, 30 North Street. Mr. John Tatlock '82 was one of the guests at the class dinner last evening at the Commons. Mr. John S. Adriance '82 will entertain the class at lunch at 12.00 o'clock today at his home. Twenty members of the 28 living graduates of the class were expected to be present for the reunion.

1883—No information has been received concerning their plans.

1885—From 20 to 25 graduates of this class, of which President Carfield is a member, have signified their intentions of returning to celebrate the reunion. Headquarters are at Mayhew Cottage on Main Street.

1890—Headquarters are at Miss Murphy's on Hoxsey Street. Mr. T. M. Banks and Dr. Vanderpool Adriance '90 have Every alumnus must vote for one man out of the following five who have been nominated in previous balloting: Frederick Geller, of the class of 1883, Loran L. Lewis, of the class of 1887, Damon E. Hall, of the class of 1897, James F. Bacon, of the class of 1898, Frederick T. Wood, of the class of 1898. The results of the balloting will be announced in Grace Hall this noon. The man elected will serve as Alumni Trustee from 1920 until 1925 when he will pass out of office.

PURPLE FACES TWO STRONG OPPONENTS

Dartmouth and Wesleyan Will Oppose Varsity in Last Games of Season

Two strong nines will be faced by the Purple during the annual commencement exercises this week. The former will be opponents in a game at Weston Field at 2.30 today, whereas the latter will face Williams in Middletown on Monday afternoon. Both opponents have won against strong teams and have many veteran men playing for them.

A hard fought battle will be encountered by the Purple nine when they meet the fast Dartmouth team. The Green team has practically the same line-up as that of last year. From comparative scores, Dartmouth would appear to have a considerable advantage having lost but five of their fourteen games, and having overwhelmed several of the teams which in turn took the measure of the Williams nine. Dartmouth defeated Harvard 10-7, Amherst 11-4, Columbia 2-1, whereas the scores of the Purple team in these respective games were Harvard 6-Williams 5, Williams 11-Amherst 6, and Columbia 8-Williams 1.

DARTMOUTH

Reese	cf	3b	Hoyt
Maynard	ss	rf	Mason
Merritt	lf or p	ss	B. Boynton
Robertson	1b	c	Finn
Bruce	3b	1b	Nichols
Grundman	rf	cf	McLean
Ross	c	3b	Ward
Harris, Merritt,	lf	Burger
or Ross	p	p	Holmes,
			Patton

In case Merritt pitches for Dartmouth Browne will play left field. Should Ross pitch, Merritt will catch, and Browne will play left field.

Wesleyan will also present an extremely formidable line-up of veterans. Their flawless fielding and Green's good pitching have been consistent factors throughout the season which have contributed much to its success. After a long, gruelling pitchers' battle Wesleyan defeated Union 2-1 and the latter defeated Williams 3-2. This is the only comparative score available, and therefore the odds for victory would seem about even, although the opponents have had a more successful season.

The line up for the Wesleyan team will be: Jones 3b, Bateman cf., Boote rf., Webb ss, Jacobs 1b, Camp 2b, Raines lf, Heuer c, Green p. The lineup of the varsity will doubtless remain unchanged from that used in Dartmouth game this afternoon. The team has been somewhat handicapped lately due to the final examinations and more or less broken training. Yet it is hoped to continue the winning streak established by the Amherst game and continued thus far.

BODY OF FOUNDER TO BE BURIED IN CHAPEL

HOLD CEREMONY SUNDAY

General Pershing and Admiral Sims Expected to Take Part in Impressive Exercises

Williams College will witness ceremonies of exceptional historic appeal tomorrow when there will be received in Williamstown the remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams, Founder of the College, transferred from Lake George, where he fell in battle September 8, 1755. The remains are to have their final resting place in the Thompson Memorial Chapel and at the same time, the Memorial to all Williams men who have given their lives for their Country in the recent war will be unveiled and dedicated.

Impressive exercises are to attend the reception of the remains of Colonel Williams. They will be met outside the village limits by a military escort, and, placed under the Colors, will be brought to Field Memorial Park at the head of the Main street of Williamstown. There the procession, representative of the College and its graduates, marshaled by Colonel Archibald Hopkins, '62, of Washington, who served in the Civil War, and Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey, '05, of New York, who served in the Great War, will be in waiting. The march to the Chapel will follow. Exercises will there be conducted by the Reverend John S. Zelle, D.D., '87, of Troy, N. Y., and the Reverend John N. Lewis, '89, of Waterbury, Conn., both of whom saw active service in the Great War. The chaplains and alumni and students who were in service are to appear in uniform.

In this demonstration of loyalty to all for which Williams has stood in the national life, representatives of the Commonwealth and of the Nation will have part. Governor Coolidge and staff will be in attendance and also the foremost representatives of the army and navy of the United States. General Pershing and Admiral Sims have arranged to be in Williamstown at the time, unless unexpected official duties prevent.

At the head of the main aisle of the chapel, underneath a descriptive tablet sunk into the stone floor, the remains of Colonel Williams will be placed. As is fitting, the receptacle underneath has been built from the solid rock.

Above the inscribed panels on the chancel walls will appear this inscription in bronzed letters, sunk into the stone: In faithful remembrance of the Founder who fell in battle and of the Sons of Williams who gave their lives that the blessings of free government might endure.

First, in the centre panel will be the name of Colonel Williams, followed by the names of those who fell in the Civil War, with class and place of death of each. The other two panels will contain the names of those who died in the recent war. The National Colors, the College Battalion Colors, and the State Colors are to have place in this dignified Memorial.

Not only has Mrs. Thompson consented to this ennobling addition to the Chapel memorial of her husband, but it is her gift to the College.

Outline of the Ceremonies

The Procession attending the Remains of Colonel Ephraim Williams will form in two sections as follows:

Section 1. (1) Music; (2) National Colors; (3) Company M, 20th Regt., M. S. G.; (4) Chaplains; (5) Caisson bearing the Remains of the Founder; (6) Alumni Committee.

Section 11. (7) State, College and Colonial Colors; (8) Chief Marshals and Bugler; (9) President, Trustees, and Distinguished Guests of the College, and Williamstown Officials; (10) Faculty and Male Relatives of Williams Men killed

Vol. 34 JUNE 19, 1920 No. 21

At a meeting of the editorial board held on June 1 the following elections were made: Associate Editors—Herbert Maxwell Brune, Jr., 1922, of Baltimore, Md., and Harry Klock Schaffner, 1922, of Kansas City, Mo., members of the editorial staff—Grenville Strong Sewall, 1923, of Rye, N. Y., and David Jewett Tiffany 1923, of Lyme, Conn.

The accompanying letter from a member of the class of 1918 voices what seems to be the universal sentiment of alumni and undergraduates, that the past year has witnessed the successful recuperation of college activities from the diseased state into which they lapsed during the war. The capture of the Trophy 'of Trophies by the score of 17 1-2 points to 3 1-2 indicates the strength of athletics, and the successful revival of practically every non-athletic organization which was in existence in 1917 points to the fact that other activities have regained a pre-war status.

"All in Due Time"

The announcement of courses for the coming year issued recently by the faculty contains no startling innovations which might affect either one way or another the welfare of the student body; but there is one paragraph which may well cause the reader of past College Catalogs to smile skeptically, or even to make rather harsh remarks about the speed at which the faculty progresses towards fulfilling promised improvements.

For the past ten years the College Catalog has contained a most attractive announcement that "in due time" a system of "Honors Courses" is to be established under which a man of high standing in his classes is to be allowed greater freedom in choosing his courses. Just what "due time" amounts to is hard to determine, but ten years is a long period of time, and the progress which has been made towards the establishment of such a system has been nil, as far as the undergraduate body has been informed. The advantage of this system, and the justice and fairness of it to men who receive good marks is indubitable. Just what the obstacle is, which is preventing its establishment is unknown, unless it has been revealed in the mystery-shrouded processes of faculty meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unassigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the RECORD:

Dear Sir:—

The communication in your issue of May 28th from "A Williams Man" I have read with particular interest. It is undoubtedly true that a better system of choosing, not only our tennis team, but all our minor sport teams, would be of great benefit to the College. But I merely take this occasion to express a feeling that must surely be held by all the alumni who have followed to any extent the activities of the student body during the past year.

It has been a great pleasure to read from time to time the accounts of the work done by the Student Council and the Forum. The apparent interest in government and world affairs as fostered by the latter organization have amply justified its existence. From the Council has come a better system of selecting cheerleaders, the monitor question has been thrashed out, and recently the number and kind of undergraduate offices that can be held by one man has been limited. These are but a few of the constructive steps taken, as they come to my mind. The editorials in your paper have been an indication of the healthy spirit that seems to be permeating the collegelife.

Truly it has been a year of wholesome reconstruction for Williams undergraduate activities. The changes have not been radical or too drastic, but they represent a blending of constructive thought with old Williams traditions. The leaders of the student body this year have tried to leave Williams better than they found it. Their first years in college were unusually difficult and for this reason they deserve all the more, a most hearty Thank You from the College as a whole. 1920 is not only proving its worth to Williams but to the business and professional world which it is about to enter, and which needs today many more men of its type.

Sincerely yours,
An Eighteener.

To the Editor of the RECORD

Dear Sir:

In the last two issues of the RECORD there have appeared two communications by Williams men, Messrs. Floyd R. Smith '06 and Reginald A. Cook '17, the purpose of which were to commend Pollard '20 and Chapin '23 for their exceptional success in the recent new England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Tournament. In this communication I do not desire to take away any of the credit which is due to the undergraduates who made such a good record for the College, but I do wish to correct a wrong impression made by the two preceding communications.

The first communication neglected the fact that in 1916 Captain Richard S. Maynard and Richard B. Lockwood won the Intercollegiate doubles and that the former won the singles. The second communication made this correction, but neglected the fact that in 1915 C. F. Cutler won the singles and that he, paired with R. S. Maynard, took first place in the doubles. Therefore, the victory of Pollard and Chapin is neither the first nor the second since 1904, but rather the third and Cutler and Maynard deserve equal credit for the record which they made in 1915, and which happens to be the first championship won by Williams students since 1904.

Yours sincerely,
One Who Is Interested.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

1920 HOLDS ANNUAL CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Christopher L. Ward Presides at Ceremonies—Reception Is Held by President

Led by its two marshals, John Lind Carson and Edward Delorme Carson, the Class of 1920 left the Jesup Hall steps at 2.00 o'clock yesterday afternoon and proceeded to Grace Hall for the Class Day Exercises.

Addressing the class in Grace Hall, Christopher Longstreth Ward, Class Day President, spoke of the importance of the occasion, an occasion of vital interest and a time of transition from college life into the active world beyond. After the singing of Our Mother, Nelson Sherwin Bushnell, recited the Class Poem.

Proceeding to the south side of the Thompson Chapel the class sang Neath the Shadow of the Hills, after which Samuel Wagner Anderson delivered the Ivy Poem, followed by the planting of the ivy and the Ivy Oration by Stewart Winslow.

Seated on the Library Campus the class was next addressed by John Gray Reinhardt, who delivered the Library Oration. Following the singing of The Mountains by the entire class, John M. Foster and Arthur B. Perry delivered the Pipe Oration and the Class Oration respectively.

From the Library the class proceeded to the Berkshire Quadrangle where Walter P. Hedden gave an oration to the lower classes which concluded the exercises. After the exercises Dr. and Mrs. Garfield received the seniors and their guests in the president's house.

Reorganize Advisory Committee

At a recent meeting of the Advisory Committee held at the Williams Club, a complete reorganization of the Committee took place. The purpose of this committee is to advise the large number of men graduating from the college and who come to New York to enter business or to continue their educational work. Many of these men are strangers in the city and advice as to how to become associated with the political party of their choice, with good government organizations, with worth while welfare work, or with any other useful service.

Seldom, if ever, was there a time when the need was so great as now for the services of college trained men in these and similar activities. In the past Williams men have figured prominently in this work and it is the aim of the Committee to create interest in it and to help such graduates who desire aid. The Committee will also be glad to assist any of these men in getting a job.

Wesleyan Loses 25

Wesleyan University lost 25 men between its opening on March 15, on account of ineligibility. The majority were freshmen, and the faculty decided that lack of instruction in preparatory schools was the cause.

Funeral at Simmons College

Six hundred students and the entire faculty of Simmons College at Boston, Mass., attended the funeral of the college mascot, "Dammit", which was a little white bull dog.

High Average at North Dakota

The students of North Dakota Agricultural College made an all-institutional average in all classes for the first semester this year of 79.2 per cent. The average of all the women was 82.5 per cent., of the men 77.8 per cent. Fraternity men averaged 78.1 per cent, while non-fraternity men averaged one-half of one per cent lower. Sorority women averaged two per cent higher than non-sorority women.

INCREASE NOTED IN LIBRARY ATTENDANCE

Many Recent Acquisitions made Through Purchases and Presentation by Alumni

According to a report recently issued attendance at the college library during the past year has increased 55% over the figures for the year of 1918-1919, and 28% over the year 1916-1917, the last normal year on record. Many new acquisitions have been made and the library is better fitted than ever before to serve the student body.

The circulation of library books has increased 28% over the average number of books borrowed. Over 18,000 volumes have been loaned during the present college year, and of these, 10,991 were borrowed from Lawrence Hall, 2,581 from Goodrich Hall Reading Room, and 4,572 from the Griffin Hall Reading Room, making a total of 18,144 volumes. There were 7,479 books taken out by students, 2,583 by the Faculty, 1,874 by permanent borrowers, and 1,187 by transients. These users of the library total 13,078. On an average, thirteen books were loaned to each undergraduate during the year.

Few purchases of importance have been made during the past year partly due to the outstanding orders placed in 1914 and still unfilled. The files of German publications from 1916 on have been largely restored, and from the David A. Wells fund, about 139 volumes have been added to the library.

Several gifts of interest have been made to the library, including a donation by Professor Edward W. Morley '60 to the Chemistry Department of 322 volumes, principally on chemistry, although containing a few works on physics and geology. Professor Morley is also forwarding the current numbers of the Reports of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which he receives through his subscription to the Society. Dr. John B. Brainerd has presented a fine copy of Anthologi Veterum printed at Amsterdam in 1759, in memory of his son, Barron Brainerd '15, who won it as a prize from the Rice fund in 1915. Mr. R. E. Weeks '14 has presented a collection of clippings, maps, and pamphlets dealing with the World War.

A valuable addition to "Williamsiana" was made in the presentation, by Mr. E. H. Botsford '82, of the second and third books of the Records of the Society of Williams College. Professor S. F. Clark has presented the library with a book entitled The Record Book of the Lyceum of Natural History. Two excellently preserved views of the College were presented by Rev. Charles Whittier '56 including two lithographs, one of which, was used as a letter-head about 1840, while the other was included in the 1854 class album. Professor Milham presented the library with 12 practically complete volumes of the Williams Literary Monthly and editions of the Williams Record, almost complete, covering the last 12 years.

During the last 12 months, 2,734 volumes were added to the library exclusive of duplicates, of which 2,055 were purchased and 679 given by various donors. The total number of books at present in the library is 94,825.

Fatal Shooting at Dartmouth

Robert T. Meads, a Junior at Dartmouth College, shot and killed Henry E. Maroney, a Senior, last Thursday morning, following a quarrel over the theft of some liquor. Maroney was a prominent member of his class, being president of the Dartmouth Dramatic Society. Meads has entered a plea of self-defense.

Enrollment at Dartmouth Increases

Dartmouth has already closed its rolls to the incoming Freshman class. More than 1,000 applications have been received and of these less than 600 can be accepted. 2,000 new students desired admission, and next year's enrollment is estimated at approximately 1,900.

Thirteen Fraternities Entertain 175 Guests During Three-day Festivity

With the end of final examinations and the putting aside of thoughts of work and study, 175 fair guests descended upon the College last Monday for the annual spring houseparty. Thirteen of the fourteen fraternities joined in the festivities, which lasted from Monday through Thursday morning.

Several houses gave individual parties, while others joined in combinations. Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi joined together in the festivities, and Theta Delta Chi combined with Phi Sigma Kappa. Houseparties opened on Monday evening with dances at the following houses: Beta Theta Pi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi, and Theta Delta Chi, and Zeta Psi. Tuesday afternoon Williams Played Syracuse University in baseball on Weston Field, followed by a The Dansant at the Zeta Psi house. Dances were held on Tuesday evening at the following houses: Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa at the Taconic Golf Club, and Zeta Psi. On Wednesday afternoon The Dansant was held at the Chi Psi Lodge.

The festivities were terminated on Wednesday with the Senior Prom held in the Lasell gymnasium. Here an attractively decorated hall enhanced by a coffee room and tea garden set up along the northern face of the gymnasium, greeted the dancers. Walls, posts, and apparatus were festooned with fireproof bunting of light green and white, while rays of changing light were thrown upon the dancers at intervals. The dance orders, by Dempsey and Carroll, of New York City, were of blue antique leather with 1920 embossed in gold on the covers. ## CLASS OF 1914 PLANS FIRST WAR MEMORIAL

TO START LOAN LIBRARY

Fund of $1000 Being Raised to Buy Text-books—Canvass College for Books

Taking the lead among the classes in establishing war memorials, 1914 has decided to found a loan library of College text-books to be used free of charge by students who are in need of financial aid. The class which with seven deaths in Service, lost the greatest number of men of any Williams class, has voted to raise a fund of $1000 to $1500 to found the library.

At the 1914 class supper on March 3, at the Williams Club, New York City, William L. Crum suggested the plan for the memorial loan library, under the same general plan as that adopted at Yale, Smith and several other colleges. At a subsequent meeting a committee, consisting of Wyckoff, Stone and West was appointed to investigate the idea of a 1914 memorial in general and a memorial loan library in particular. The committee recommended the loan library and it was decided at the class supper on May to put the plan into effect.

Among those students who will be allowed the use of the library are scholarship men, recipients of the Alumni loan fund, and any whose cases may be passed upon by the Graduate Treasurer in consultation with the Student Self-Help Bureau. The 1914 committee intends to purchase this summer about 100 text-books, particularly for the freshman and sophomore courses, in order to start the library going. The acting librarian, Miss Price, has consented to take charge of the handling of the books, issuing them to such men as apply and receive proper credentials from the Graduate Treasurer. The library is to be placed in Goodrich Hall.

The plan is to collect as many good text-books as possible from the men here in College. Following is an extract from a letter from Mr. Stone to Secretary Withington: "We are raising the money for the maintenance of the library and the purchase of new books, but we will have to depend in a large measure on the generosity of the undergraduates in the matter of donating used texts at the end of each semester. The few dollars received from the sale of books to second-hand dealers would be far outweighed by the good done in helping some poor, deserving students." All books should be turned in at the office of the W. C. A., which is canvassing the various eating houses for used texts.

The class of 1914 is now being canvassed for money contributions and subscriptions are rapidly coming in. The entire amount is not as yet on hand, but enough money has been collected for a working basis. It is probable that at least $1000.00 will be paid in by the opening of College in the fall, but in any case, the library will open at that time.

The Andrews Memorial Library at Yale, upon which the 1914 Library is to be modeled, was established in 1893 by the gift of a fund of $1000. The income is devoted to the "maintenance of a library of text-books and books of reference to be loaned to students who have need to avoid the expense of purchasing books." Increased from time to time by unexpected parts of the income, the fund in 1919 amounted to $1,158.75, while the library itself contained over 2,500 live volumes, which during the past year have been loaned to over 200 Yale students.

and then gaining two easy outs on a fly to McLean and a grounder to Boynton. Boynton started off the fifth with another triple but was stranded on third when Finn, McLean, and Ward fled out to left, right, and center respectively. Things looked bad for Syracuse again in the sixth. Burger hit safely to left center and was safe at second on an attempted steal when Allen dropped the throw from Robertson. After Burrows had fanned, Hoyt and Mason both walked and Boynton came up. He ended all hopes for a score by hitting into a double play, Ingalls to Robertson to Coughlin.

With two out in the seventh Syracuse scored twice on the two home runs by Ackley and Brown. Fallon then fied out to deep center. Burrows got into a bad hole again in the eighth. Savage hit a slashing grounder which struck Burrows' leg and caromed off to Ward, who threw to first just too late to make the put-out. Hoyt juggled Coughlin's ground ball, and Allen filed the bases on a clever bunt. Burrows fanned Robertson, and Ingalls fied out to left, but Malone walked, forcing in a run. Ackley then hoisted a fly to McLean. In the last of the eighth Ingalls hit Burrows and walked Hoyt, but Mason fouled out, Burrows was caught at third when Boynton was safe on a fielder's choice, and Finn fied out to right. In the ninth Burrows fanned Brown, and Fallon hit safely over second base. Savage then fied to left, and the game ended when Hoyt threw Coughlin out at first.

GULIELMENSIAANS BASK 'NEATH SUMMER SUNS

MANY CRIMES REPORTED Purple Pilgrims Peregrinate Proudly 'pon Prodigious Prowling Parties

From the summits of the Sierras to the balmy beaches of Bar Harbor the intrepid sons of Colonel Ephraim fared forth last June in search of adventure and returned with renewed fortitude to chapel at 7.45 a. m. yesterday. Many are the terrible tales told of encounters with wild animals of prodigious proportions and dread denizens of the sea, including the well-known bathing girls of movie fame.

"Stu" Phillips, "Bugs" Burger, and "Bud" Heath ventured across the continent in a Ford. They were pursued from Anaconda, Mont., to Seattle by a motor cop, who was after them for playing havoc with a street lamp-post in the former city, and they had to sell their car to pay the fine of $25. After being refused work by all the respectable farmers on the Pacific Coast, they finally secured jobs mixing cement for the construction of a bridge at Santa Maria, Calif., from whence they made daily pilgrimages to the movie studios of the surrounding country, daz-zling all the stars with their new-found wealth.

"Mort" Banks went to Tulsa, Okla., to prospect for oil and incidentally to look for work. When interviewed by a Record reporter, "Mort" said, "I found lots of oil, but capital being scarce in Tulsa, I returned to Williamstown for the winter to secure the necessary financial backing."

The high cost of everything beginning with "I" drove many to hard labor who would otherwise probably have spent the summer replacing divots at Southampton. "Clint" Schelling and "Stan" Allison worked their way to South America, touching at Cuba on the way, but fortunately did not succumb permanently to the soft, languorous glances which must have followed them everywhere. The Lawders built furnaces in Utica. "Ed" Fargo and "Charlie" Praker sawed wood in a Minnesota lumber camp, and "Baldy" Underwood and "Shirley" Irwin got jobs on a boat to Antwerp, where they watched "Hal" Brown perform.

It is reported with horror at the Faculty Club that Professors Meurs and Dickerman have taken the awful step and embarked on the stormy seas of matrimony. Professor Licklider, after many turbulent summers in the wilds of countless continents, went to Oxford in search of "the word I want, gentlemen, the word I want." It is not known whether he has found it. Dean Howes summered at one of the noted watering places in Maine.

"Ty" Cobb penetrated into the great northwest to shoot moose, a fitting occupation, since he used to be so successful at that shooting game last year. "Dan" Brigham wrapped heavy hardware in Denver, between visits to Minneapolis, Minn., and Austin, Tex., while "Spike" Baxter sold gloves in Northampton.

The Adirondacks and Mt. Desert of course received their full quota of parlor pythons, although "Bill" Dana says he roped cattle at Eaton's ranch in Wyoming. "Huck" Finn spent his time alternating between Paul Smith's and the Lake Placid Club. "Dick" Rowse, "Ernie" Eaton, "Dave" Milton, and "Heinie" Terry were seen shaking a nasty foot at Bar Harbor.

Little or no information can be obtained from the other undergraduates, but rumors of considerably more than 2.75 strength have it that a number were found in Canada.

1921 "Guls" Still On Sale

Approximately 50 copies of the 1921 "Gul" are yet available for sale. Those desiring to do so may obtain volumes by communicating with Adams ex-'21 in Williamstown. The price of the present "Gul" is five dollars, which is a slight advance over the former price and is necessitated by the high cost of printing materials and labor.

W. C. A. TO GREET 1924

College Speakers Will Address Freshmen in Jesup Hall

Under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association, the annual Freshman reception will be held in Jesup Hall Saturday night at 8.00 o'clock. The first year men will be received in the reading room by Dr. and Mrs. Garfield, Dean and Mrs. Howes, and Professor and Mrs. Maxey, while the other members of the faculty have been invited to be present.

Following the reception, the freshmen will adjourn to the auditorium where President Garfield will address the class and officially welcome them to Williams College. Boynton '21 will speak on the athletic aspect of college life, Coach Brooks on the 1924 football team, Joslyn '21, on Gargyle, Thexton '21, on the college publications and Cap and Belts, and Hall '21, on the Forum and debating. President Noble of the W. C. A. will then address the meeting in the interests of the Christian Association and Finn '21, as chairman of the Interfraternity Council, will explain the rushing agreement and answer any questions regarding it. The first year men will then be instructed in the college cheers and songs.

After the speeches light refreshments will be served in the reading room on the main floor. The W. C. A. urges all the members of 1924 to use this opportunity of meeting their classmates and their instructors and of learning some of the Williams traditions.

CAMPUS RULES STAY UNCHANGED FOR 1924

Regulations Observed During Past Year Will Continue to Govern Freshmen

Members of the class of 1924 will be subject to the same campus regulations as the previous classes with the exception of the privilege of wearing army trousers, which was granted to the present sophomore class at the time of the old clothes movement. The rules governing the conduct of the freshmen on the campus are published in full below to insure familiarity with them on the part of the first year men.

1. Freshmen must not appear upon the street coatless or bareheaded, and must wear the regulation cap in Williamstown and North Adams until the Spring recess.

2. Freshmen must not smoke on the street at any time of the year.

3. Freshmen must not sit in the front rows in Lasell Gymnasium and Jesup Hall, nor in front rows or boxes at the theatres in North Adams unless accompanied by an upperclassman; they must occupy seats in the gallery at College meetings and smokers in Jesup Hall.

4. Freshmen must not wear purple in any form unless they have won varsity or class insignia, and then only on sweaters and jerseys.

5. Freshmen must not wear preparatory school insignia on caps, sweaters, or jerseys.

6. Freshmen must yield precedence to upperclassmen on the street and in trolley cars and upon entering and leaving all buildings.

7. Freshmen must not sit on Spring Street benches. Only seniors may sit on the Lab. fence.

8. Freshmen must not wear leather or fur coats.

9. Freshmen must not dance at the Greylock.

10. Freshmen must not wear knickerbockers. Freshmen and sophomores must not wear corduroy or noleskin trousers.

11. Freshmen must not sit in the center section of Walden's theatre unless accompanied by an upperclassman.

12. Freshmen and sophomores must not lead varsity cheers nor the singing of The Mountains.

RUSHING TO BE RUN ON SAME AGREEMENT

COUNCIL WILL MEET SOON

Harvard Game Reason for Postponement of Opening Date Until After October 9

Due to the fact that the date for the start of the rushing season, which was to be the fourth Saturday after the opening of College, is the same as that of the Harvard football game, the Interfraternity Council will hold a meeting the early part of next week to decide upon a new opening day of the 1921 rushing season. The dates for the first period will be sent through the hands of a committee of the Interfraternity Council and the dates for the other two periods will be passed on by the chairman of that body. In the first period, the dates will be so divided as to give each fraternity a fairly equal number of guests for each night so that no fraternity will be overcrowded on one night and have few visitors on other evenings.

The complete agreement as adopted by the Alumni Interfraternity Council and ratified and changed by the fourteen fraternities last year is as follows:

INTERFRATERNITY RUSHING AGREEMENT

1. I hereby agree upon my honor that previous to his final registration, I shall not bid or pledge any prospective first year man of Williams College or obtain from him any promise regarding future bidding or pledging. I also agree upon my honor that, during the period extending from two weeks before the opening of College until the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, I shall not communicate with any first year man except—(1) to transact usual College business; (2) to greet him or carry on with him brief non-fraternity conversation upon the street; (3) to carry on during the dates of the first two rushing periods conversations on non-fraternity matters.

2. This agreement is to be binding upon every undergraduate member of a Williams College fraternity, provided that it is signed by four-fifths of the undergraduate members of such fraternity, from the time of its signature until two months subsequent to the close of the rushing season for 1920.

3. Prospective students may be entertained at any time previous to two weeks before the opening of the College in the year of their entrance, but prior to such two weeks before the opening of College there shall be no bidding or pledging or promises of any nature made regarding possible future bidding or pledging.

4. After two weeks before the opening of College and up to the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, conversation with first year men shall be confined to transactions of the usual College business and greetings and brief non-fraternity conversations upon the street.

5. Rushing season shall be divided into three periods: A, B, and C. Period A shall begin with the dinner date of the fourth Saturday after the opening of College and shall extend through the second evening date of the Tuesday following. Period B shall begin with the dinner date of the following Wednesday and shall extend through the second evening date of the following Friday. Period C shall begin

FOUNDATIONS UNDER WAY

Blasting for New Library is Finished During Summer

Work on the new library has gone on steadily during the summer months in spite of numerous interruptions due to several strikes and even a break-down in one of the large steel plants supplying material. It is expected that before construction is halted by severe winter weather the entire foundations and other stone work will have been completed and that spring will see the active erection of the walls.

Blasting out of rock on the hillside continued until about Aug. 1, after which the rock was crushed and is now being used in the concrete foundations. Considerable delay was experienced in the middle of the summer due to strikes in the important granite and limestone quarries. After these labor difficulties were overcome the large steel plant furnishing most of metal used suffered a severe breakdown. Nevertheless, a carload of steel and five carloads of stone are on hand at present, while large quantities of bricks have been received to be used in the work of construction.

Present funds, consisting mainly of two legacies, are large enough to permit of construction only as far as the roof line, but it is hoped more funds will be available before the building has attained that stage.

FRESHMAN CLASS ONE OF LARGEST IN YEARS

Definite Registration Figures Lacking—1924 Likely to Total 190 Members

Although exact figures cannot yet be obtained, the membership of the incoming class of 1924 will probably be one of the largest in the history of the College. Results of the registration period ending last Thursday noon were not available on going to press, but 180 freshmen are known to have enrolled already in Hygiene classes.

The treasurer's office has also assigned rooms to 172 new men while 21 applications for rooms which have not yet been acted upon increase the total to 193. These figures although necessarily very incomplete show that the number of freshmen will pass the high water mark of 186 new men in 1909. The present registration will also be a great improvement over last year when only 151 new men were enrolled.

Indications are that the total of all classes will be above the average. According to information received two hours before the close of registration, 392 men had already been enrolled and at least 150 men were expected to register subsequently.

W. C. A. Cabinet in Conference

Meeting at Wilmington, Vt., from Monday evening, September 13, until the following Wednesday morning, the present cabinet of the Williams Christian Association held a series of conferences preparatory to the opening of College and formulated definite plans for the year's work which, if carried out, should mark a decided improvement in the work of the W. C. A. and considerable extension of the religious life and achievements of Williams. This preliminary conference is the first one to be held by any cabinet since 1915.

Change on Spring Street

Undergraduates returning to College have found several changes on Spring St. "Louis" Blean and "Gus" Bridgman, becoming tired of their own cooking, have sold out to their assistants. No one has commented much on the changes, because the prices are the same. However, "George" Rudnick is again rejoicing with the opening of College, and each freshman has discovered that he is also "my dear boy". At this time, it is said, "George" is celebrating the Jewish new year, which is said to account for the rise in furniture prices. We are now living in the year 5681.

53 MEN REPORT FOR FOOTBALL THIS YEAR

NINE VETERANS IN LINEUP

Practices This Week Have Been Confined to Light Work and Rudimentary Instruction

Formal practice for the football team began last Monday afternoon, when 35 men, including nine "W" men and the best of last year's freshman team, reported to Coach Brooks on Weston Field. Since that time the team has been put through stiff workouts, the emphasis being put on the fundamentals of the game, such as falling on the ball, tackling, blocking, starting, and forward passing.

The number of candidates has been steadily increasing since last Monday, 53 men reporting for practise yesterday afternoon, but Coach Brooks has announced that the squad will decrease considerably by the end of next week, when the first cut will occur. Although the loss of

CAPTAIN BOYNTON

Beebe, Fieser, Gilham, Krieger, and Mills, of last year's team, will be appreciably felt, there appears to be plenty of new material to fill these vacancies.

Of the line-men, Coddling, Fargo, Lasell, Joslyn and Smith seem to be far above their competitors, and in the backfield Captain Boynton is playing his usual brilliant game. Of the new men in the latter department of the game, Hoyt and Mallon are showing exceptional promise, and a great deal is expected of McLean, who was ineligible last season.

The nine veterans around whom Coach Brooks will build this year's team are B. Boynton, W. C. Burger, Coddling, Fargo, Lasell, Montgomery, Joslyn, Hibbard, and J. E. Wilson. Captain Boynton, quarterback on last year's team and on the undefeated eleven of three years ago, will undoubtedly be the star performer this season also. He was re-elected to the captaincy last year, and was chosen All-American quarterback by several athletic writers, including Grantland Rice. In the line, Coddling, Fargo, Lasell, and Joslyn are relied upon as the main defense, while Captain Boynton, Burger, Hibbard, and Montgomery will strengthen the backfield greatly.

In the two weeks that remain before the

DR. MERRILL TO PREACH

New York Divine Will Conduct Sunday Chapel Services

The Rev. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church, New York City, will preach at the morning chapel services next Sunday. Dr. Merrill graduated from Rutgers College in 1887, receiving the M. A. degree from the same institution in 1890. The same year he obtained the degree of B. D. from Union Theological Seminary and was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry. During the next five years he was pastor of Trinity Church, Chesnut Hill, Philadelphia, being called to the Sixth Church, Chicago, in 1895 where he was pastor until 1911. He then transferred to New York and has since served as pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church in that city.

Dr. Merrill has achieved several works in the field of literature. His books are: Faith Building, Faith and Sight, Footings for Faith, and Christian Internationalism. He will conduct the first W. C. A. meeting of the year in Jesup Hall Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

ALTER FOOTBALL RULES

Punt-out Abolished and Roughness Further Penalized

Several changes in the football rules have been effected since the season of 1919, chief among which are the abolition of the punt-out and further penalties for unnecessary roughness. The first-named rule provides that a team scoring a touchdown may try for the goal from directly in front of the goal posts, regardless of where the touchdown has been scored. In addition, penalties have been prescribed for unnecessarily roughing a man obviously out of the play, particularly a forward passer after he has thrown the pass. Other minor changes are that time is taken out on an uncompleted forward pass; that a player in making a shift must have both feet stationary on the ground before the play commences; and that a substitution is considered complete after the substitute has reported to the proper official, rather than after the next play.

Record Publishes Extra

First reports of the explosion partially destroying the New York offices of J. Pierpont Morgan and Co., and killing many persons in Wall Street were given to the College undergraduates and people of Williamstown in a special issue of the Williams Record on Thursday afternoon. Due to special wire service, news of the catastrophe appeared in the Record "Extra" several hours before it was given to the townspeople in any other form.

Last Chance for Freshman Caps

Freshmen caps will be on sale for the last time tomorrow afternoon from one to three p. m. in the managers' office in Jesup Hall. The purchase price is $1.30. This year's cap is of the customary skull variety with a red button in the centre.

Issue Call for Harriers

All members of the three upper classes desiring to compete for positions on the cross-country team will meet with Captain Crofts '21 at 4.00 o'clock this afternoon in the Lasell gymnasium. Although freshmen are not eligible for positions on the team, all those so desiring may report and train with the squad.

Seniors and Juniors to Elect

Members of the Senior class will meet in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock next Monday evening to elect class officers for the coming year. The Junior class will also meet at the same hour and place on Tuesday evening to elect officers.

To the Class of 1924

This column is always devoted in the first issue of the college year to the interests of the entering class, and it is particularly a pleasure this year to point out to 1924 the opportunities that are open to its members during the coming four years.

Last year saw almost complete recovery from the demoralization of college life and undergraduate activities brought by the war. The coming year offers to new men Williams as it was before the war, with all the opportunities for participation in the many pleasures and duties of William's men.

You will soon learn that there are many customs and traditions which are peculiar to this college, and which are as reverently obeyed as if they were the highest law. Most of them have been developed through many decades, some of them are more than a century old. Blind, unintelligent submission to tradition merely because it is tradition is never admirable, but you will soon find that most of the customs of which we speak have a real reason for their existence, and that obedience to their mandates will be a pleasure, not a burden.

A college is judged by the actions of its undergraduates and by the records of its alumni. Williams prides itself on both. To the class of 1924 is entrusted a share in the responsibility of preserving Williams standards and ideals so that we and the preceding classes may continue to be proud of Williams as the most-loved college in the country.

Follow the words of the song, and "keep our banners floating proudly".

To Build Army and Navy Club

Leading architects of the country will be asked to submit competitive drawings of the $3,000,000 clubhouse the Army and Navy Club of America is to build in New York in memory of the 3,500 officers who died in the war. The Memorial will be a national one, dedicated to the commissioned men in all branches of the service who made the supreme sacrifice.

Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin Howland Blasfield, Henry Bacon and Benjamin Morris with Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, president of the club form the committee appointed to select the design for the building.

FAMOUS PEDESTRIAN MAY GIVE TALK HERE WILL ARRIVE ON MONDAY

Martin K. Schermerhorn '65 a Firm Believer in Temperance and Outdoor Life

Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn, one of the most noted pedestrians of America, a graduate of Williams College of the class of 1865, and for many years connected with the Harvard College Cooperative Society, is expected to arrive at Williamstown on Monday, September 20, and, to use his own words, "to spare a week or two for my old pedestrian romps around Williamstown. I may deliver an address before the student body while here.

Mr. Schermerhorn has recently celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday as a nature loving pedestrian, author and lecturer. He has climbed the Alps several times and on numerous occasions has made the trip on foot from Rotterdam through the Black Forest, along the River Rhine, over the mountains of Switzerland and to the Lake of Como in Italy. He was born in the Hudson Valley in 1841 and in his youth spent much of his time in roaming over the beautiful Catskill Mountains in walks ranging from ten to thirty miles a day.

Mr. Schermerhorn is a firm believer in temperance in all things, in the out-of-door life as a remedy for all ills and complaints, and in "early to bed and early to rise," which he has made one of the guiding mottoes of his long life of activity. Mr. Schermerhorn has written numerous pamphlets on the outdoor life, in one of which he says "Once more let me say that I am writing this not to boast, but to incite readers to go and do likewise. Even the oldest may gather from my experience incitement to 'throw physic to the dogs' and get well and keep well by the strenuous out-of-door exercise of a genuine Nature-lover in connection with faithful observance of the rule of 'temperance in all things.'"

Speeches are to be delivered in many hotels in the Catskills by Mr. Schermerhorn on the trip he is about to start, his subject being, "Nature-loving Pedestrianism by an Octogenarian Pedestrian." He has offered to give this address before the students here but has not yet received a letter of acceptance. H. Addington Bruce, the author of many books and newspaper articles, has said of Mr. Schermerhorn, "One of the brightest, keenest, most delightful old men I know is Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn. You will find his name in 'Who's Who in America,' with a long record of beneficent activity as clergyman and author of numerous inspiring works.

"And in his seventy-ninth year he is both mentally and physically more energetic than many a man half his age. Ask him the secret of his perpetual youth and he will answer, 'I have kept young in body, mind and heart through communion with nature in daily walks.'"

"Of a radiant personality indeed is Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn. One has but to talk with him five minutes to feel exhaling from him the beneficent freshness which he has drawn from nature. I count it a real privilege to have known him these later years of his life.

"And the elixir of youth which he prescribes is one available to all. The old and young alike can learn to commune with nature in solitary walks.

"Walk for health. Walk for happiness. Walk for inspiration. This is the gist of Martin Kellogg Schermerhorn's advice to those who would keep young as he has kept young.

"And it is good advice."

At the Other End of the Wire

A TWIST of the wrist and electricity lights cities and towns, turns the wheels of industry, or affords conveniences to millions of people.

But let us follow the wire carrying this energy to its source and we find either a waterfall, a coal mine or an oil well.

Much of the supply of fuel in this country is being used up rapidly while the power of water is running to waste. For the rivers and streams of this country could, if properly harnessed, develop enough electric power to save 300,000,000 tons of coal annually.

By studying nature's forces—coal, oil and water—by applying them to machines, and finally by the perfection of apparatus to insure uninterrupted power service under varying conditions, the General Electric Company is serving to make electric power cheaper, more plentiful and reliable.

Retail vs Wholesale

(Reprinted from issue of May 21, 1920)

The corner grocery store is a neighborhood necessity. Situated as it is in the midst of the community, it acts in the capacity of a Service station, supplying the immediate needs of the people.

These needs range from a yeast cake to a weekly market list. A large number of the sales to any one person at any one time are considerably under $5.00, in contrast to the wholesaler's orders which run into the hundreds.

Retailing is selling in small quantities; wholesaling, in large quantities. The wholesaler sells either by mail or through the agency of road salesmen, thus doing away with the necessity of keeping up a prosperous looking establishment.

On the other hand, the retailer sells direct to the consumer, in small quantities. He must make his store a pleasant place to deal in; he must take the responsibility for the satisfaction of his customers; and he must keep his profits down to the lowest possible margin.

There is only one way in which he can render this manifold service and still keep his head above water,--namely, by increasing the NUMBER of his sales.

A greater VOLUME of business enables him to keep his margin of profit per sale very low. This in turn tends to lower prices.

Help him to help you--

Handbooks Come Out Saturday

Distribution of the Williams Handbooks for 1920-21 will take place Saturday. Printing and labor troubles have caused an unavoidable delay, making it impossible to have the books ready at the opening of College. Coan '21 is the editor of the present volume, the twenty-fourth edition, and has in general maintained the precedents of past issues. The principal changes are in the freshmen rules, the calendar, and in other similar articles which have been brought up-to-date.

THE CONDITION OF STREET RAILWAYS

The Commission appointed by President Wilson more than a year ago for the purpose of investigating the electric railways situation of the country, has returned its report. The Commission calls conditions by their proper names, and it says that the financial credit of the street railway industry has been lost, and that in many localities the railways are not performing their public function. This condition is ascribed to the increased costs of labor and material, early over-capitalization and financial mismanagement, in the past; public distrust and antagonism, failures of the fixed five cent fare to meet existing conditions, extensions into unprofitable territory in furtherance of real estate speculation, and failure of employers and employees to properly cooperate. The report estimates that from $175,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually will be required to properly carry out the future needs of the industry and it emphatically declares restoration of public confidence is one of the vital necessities of restored credit.

Assuming that the ailments of the street railway industry have been very clearly diagnosed, according to the above summary of conditions that are generally recognized, it is hard to understand how these utilities are going to be able to keep pace with the growth of their communities and the country, and raise the hundreds of billions of dollars that will be required as the years roll by, unless they actually regain public confidence, and get their affairs running along smooth and easy lines.

THREE PARTIES TO THE SITUATION

Managements must meet their duties to the public with the highest efficiency at the lowest cost; public supervision and control of electric railway properties must safeguard the public interest and protect the investors; and employees should have a proper wage and good working conditions, guaranteed by the right of the employees to deal collectively with their employers, through committees of their own selection, and finally "all labor disputes should be settled voluntarily or by arbitration and the award of such board should be final and binding on both parties." These are features in the report of the Federal Electric Railways Commission to the President.

The Commission finds that public ownership is, as a rule, undesirable, but legal obstacles against such a course should be removed in order that the system may be invoked in special instances. The mooted question of fares is discussed, and the Commission recommends that if, at a given rate of fare, more than a fair return of profit results, it should go neither to the private corporation nor to the city, but should be reflected back by the automatic reduction of the fare paid by car riders.

"Unless the usefulness of the electric railway is to be sacrificed," says the report, "public control must be flexible enough to enable them to secure sufficient revenue to pay the entire cost of service rendered, including the necessary cost of both capital and labor."

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE

The majority report of the anthracite coal commission added approximately $85,000,000 to the wages of the miners. A minority report suggested a further increase in the rate of pay, but very fairly stated that the majority report should "have the full practical acceptance" of the miners, in accordance with the obligation assumed when the method for obtaining the wage award was agreed upon. Thereupon an energetic group of labor leaders started in to repudiate the vote of the men direct from the mines who accepted the original proposition for settling their wage grievances, and they are now reminded by President Wilson that "by all the laws of honor upon which civilization rests, that (their) pledge should be fulfilled."

Thus again, disaster has been threatened the country, through cutting off the anthracite coal supply, after a plain business agreement within the industry was submitted to an investigation and determination of an official body—which gave the increases in wages that had been asked for.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

The term, "collective bargaining," means that wage-workers shall have the right to organize, and through their chosen representatives, make bargains with their employers concerning wages and other phases of their work. During the war this method of governing employment gained full official recognition, and former President Taft was chairman of the War Labor Board that put teeth into the enforcement of the principle in industry.

Railroad employers and wage-workers reached the progressive viewpoint that the Government should be taken into consideration as the logical protector of the public interest, and more than two million railroad men agreed with their employers to an adjustment of wage relations by the federal government. Other industries have been asking the Government to adjudicate their affairs, and through the plan of "collective bargaining," the process has been making rapid progress.

The coal miners have been persistent in their demands upon Washington, and the Government has been rendering the fullest assistance in settling the troubles that have arisen. However, it appears to be up to the coal miners to rid their organizations of anarchists, bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s, since that element is prominent in leadership among them. And public opinion has passed the point where it will sustain such leaders.

MOUNT HOLYOKE PLAYERS WILL APPEAR WEDNESDAY*Three One-Act Plays on Program of College Actresses in Grace Hall

For the benefit of Mount Holyoke's proposed $3,000,000 endowment fund, the Mount Holyoke Dramatic Club will present three one-act plays next Wednesday evening at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall. This performance, arranged under the direction of Professor Couch of the Mount Holyoke Department of Elocution, is one of a series in a short tour of western Massachusetts.

The three plays chosen represent widely differing types of the modern dramatic form. The first play, Suppressed Desires, has become well known in both amateur and professional circles during the past months. It is a humorous burlesque of modern applied psychology and the Freudian interpretation of dreams. Overtures, the second play, is a study of the contrast between real and conventional personality. Two cultured women, each secretly desirous of attaining a particular goal, meet at afternoon tea. Each succeeds in securing her aim in a correct social manner; but over each stands her primitive self, unshackled by convention, acting and talking true to her inmost nature. The last play, Carrots, is entirely different in character, the central figure being a small boy misunderstood by his mother. The humor, childish pathos, and uncanny comprehension which characterize the lad make him very real and appealing.

OPEN LOAN LIBRARY THROUGH 1914 FUND*IS CLASS WAR MEMORIAL*Textbooks Issued to Students in Need of Financial Aid—Used Volumes Wanted

In accordance with the war memorial plans published last June by the class of 1914, the "1914 Memorial Library," for the benefit of deserving students of Williams College, who are unable to pay for text books, was opened Thursday for the first time. The plan of the library is to purchase new text-books with the memorial fund of about $1,000 raised by the class of 1914, the first class to do this, and to loan these, together with old but usable texts contributed by the undergraduates, to those students who demonstrate their need of financial aid.

Books will be furnished gratuitously only to those students qualifying for scholarship aid in the regular college list, to those qualifying for loans from the Williams Club Fund or the Alumni Loan Fund, and to those who present a signed statement stating the need for such assistance and who receive the approval of the Graduate Treasurer. A library membership card will be issued by the Graduate Treasurer to those eligible, and the books will be given out by Miss Price, the librarian in charge, in Lawrence Hall. Students may borrow these books with the agreement (1), to take reasonable care of books borrowed, (2), to return books promptly, (3), to replace or pay for books not so returned, or books injured beyond ordinary wear, and (4) to accept such additional regulations as may be formulated for the best interests of the library.

A book-plate, containing the names of the seven men from the class of 1914 who died in the war, is in the course of preparation, and when ready will be placed in all books belonging to the memorial library. Although the chief source of supply for books is through the fund raised for that purpose, the Graduate Treasurer will be glad to receive contributions from those men who have old texts at hand. These must, however, be in a usable condition.

Any inquiries may be made at the office of Mr. E. H. Botsford '82, the graduate treasurer, at 15 Jesup Hall.

NEW MEN ON FACULTY*Eight New Appointments Made During the Past Summer

Several additions have been made to the Faculty during the summer to take care of the increased registration. The resignation of Dr. Viles as instructor in Spanish has also been announced, and his place will be taken by Senor Francisco Aguilera.

Among the most important of the new appointments is that of Assistant Professor Herbert L. Clark as Acting Professor of Biology during the sabbatical year of Professor Kellogg. The new instructors are Messrs. J. Roland Smith and Henry W. Taueush in English, and Mr. Clarence A. Tash in Physics. Mr. Paris B. Stockdale is a new assistant in Geology.

As announced last Spring, Dr. T. H. Proctor will take Dr. Hendel's place as instructor in Philosophy. Assistant Professor Johnson was made Assistant Dean and will attend to the work of the Registrar during Mr. Green's absence on his sabbatical year.

INTERCOLLEGIATES*CRIMSON IN HARD DRILL

Harvard's football drill began Wednesday with a brisk turn at the tackling dummies, a long session of individual position coaching, a half hour's running through plays by the three teams, and breaking-through drill. It will not be until next week that the varsity and scrub team squads will be sent against each other.

N. Y. U. LOOKS PROMISING

Coach Gargan of the New York University had his men out Wednesday afternoon for their second practice on Ohio Field. The squad was somewhat larger than on the first day and shows a wealth of experienced linemen with which to work.

RUTGERS HOLDS SCRIMMAGE

Under the coaching of Sanford, the first scrimmage of 1920 for the Rutgers football team was held Wednesday afternoon. Rutgers football prospects have received several setbacks on account of the ineligibility of experienced men and the failure of several to report for practice.

DARTMOUTH MAN SENTENCED

Robert G. Meads of Chicago, Ill., a student at Dartmouth College, was sentenced Wednesday to fifteen to twenty years at hard labor in the State Prison at Concord, upon plea of guilty to manslaughter in killing Henry E. Maroney of Medford, Mass., a fellow student, in a quarrel over liquor last June. Meads will be immediately committed to the prison to begin his sentence.

YALE COACHES PICK FIRST TEAM

Yale's football coaches yesterday picked two teams in the first lineup of the year, but there was no scrimmaging. Eddie Eagan, who played halfback in the early games of the last season and who has been in Europe with the American Olympic team, has returned to college and will report in the near future for the team. Allen will not return to college this year. He was considered the best end in Yale and was sure of a position on the team.

The first team picked by the coaches is as follows: Left end, Munger; left tackle, Walker; left guard, Acosta; center, Callahan; captain, right guard, Herr; right tackle, Dickens; right end, Dilworth; quarterback, Kempton; left halfback, Aldrich; right halfback, French; fullback, Webb.

All these men were on the varsity in 1919 with the exception of Webb, who played on the freshman team at that time.

COLUMBIA PRACTICE IS SECRET

Coach "Buck" O'Neill of Columbia University has ordered the football practice in the future to be held in secret because the fans have crowded the field and have so interfered with the players that the practices have been slowed up.

Yesterday the squad was divided into two sections and put through a stiff drill in tackling, line bucking and other rudimentary work, while the backs were given their first workout in running with the ball.

PENN VARSITY SCORES

In a spirited scrimmage the Penn varsity piled up three touchdowns on the scrubs during Wednesday's practice. "Pos" Miller went over the line twice and Rex Wray made the other tally. Brunner, last year's star back, was on the field, but is not officially back in college. Herman Harvey, halfback, will be out for a while with water on the knee. Christie, a freshman from Illinois, was placed on the scrubs to bolster up that combination.

H. H. BROWN '20 WINS 3000-METER LAURELS

VICTOR IN OLYMPIC RACE

Purple Track Star Wins A. A. U. 5000 Meter Championship in Boston Trials

Horace Hanlock Brown '20, captain of the Purple track team last year, became the 3000-meter champion of the world on August 25, when he took first place in that event at the Olympic games in Antwerp, Belgium. Besides capturing the 3000-meter laurels, Brown won the trials for the 5000-meter race at Boston on July 17, thus becoming the American Athletic Union titleholder in that event, and later took first and second places in two international track meets in France and England.

Brown's victory was the second achieved by a Williams man in the past twelve years, for in 1908 "Polly" Leavitt '07 won the hurdles in the Olympic games at Athens. Both Captain Crofts '21 and Coach Seeley received invitations to join the team of American athletes this summer, but both were unable to take part.

On July 17, running in the colors of the Boston A. A. in the Harvard Stadium at Cambridge, Mass., Brown covered the 5000-meter course in 15 minutes 26 seconds, thus winning the championship of the United States and qualifying for the Olympics. He qualified for the finals at Antwerp, but withdrew before completing the deciding race, which was won by Guillemot, of France. The 3000-meter team race, in which each contesting country entered seven runners, took place on August 25, and was won by the United States, with Brown breaking the tape in the time of 8 minutes 57 seconds.

After the close of the Olympics, the Purple track star entered the 5000-meter run at a triangular meet between the teams of the United States, France, and Sweden, held in the Pershing Stadium. Brown turned the tables on Guillemot, the Olympic champion, beating him out for first place. A few days later, in the meet between the United States and the British teams, he finished second in the same race to Ivan Dresser, formerly of Cornell, a team-mate in the Olympic games.

Brown returned to America a short time ago in company with most of the field and track stars who competed at Antwerp.

TOURNAMENT TO START

1924 to Hold Get-togethers

All members of the Freshman Class have been cordially invited to a series of "get-togethers" in the Jesup Hall Reading Room to be held under the auspices of the Deputations Committee of the W. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock beginning next Thursday evening and after that on every Wednesday evening until the opening of rushing season. The purpose of the meetings will be to enable the class to become organized as a unit and its members to become better acquainted with each other.

Entertainment will be furnished in the form of refreshments and music by an orchestra now being organized among members of the Freshman Class. Freshmen desiring to join the orchestra should inform Noble '21.

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD HOLDS FIRST PRACTICE

17 Candidates Report to Coach Seeley Friday—Novice Meet Will Be Held in Fall

Seventeen men besides Captain Crofts reported last Friday afternoon for the first practice run of the cross country squad this fall. Despite the loss of H. H. Brown '20 whose performances were the feature of last season, Coach Seeley is confident that he has the nucleus of a successful team.

Crofts '21, who was elected captain of the varsity track team for the coming year, has been appointed leader of the cross country team by Coach Seeley. On entering Williams in 1917, he gained a place on the freshman track team and the following Spring made the varsity. Since then he has been a consistent performer. For the last two years he has been a member of the varsity track, relay, and cross country teams. Last spring he was the third highest pointwinner on the track team, scoring a total of 23 points, and took fourth place in the Intercollegiate two mile championship at Philadelphia.

Coan, Kellogg '21, Adams, and Wolf '22, all letter men and veterans of last year's successful team, will undoubtedly give a good account of themselves. Faece and Jones '23, winners of last year's novice meet, are also very promising runners and should add considerable strength to the team. Coach Seeley is hopeful, however, that additional candidates will report for the squad in the near future.

As customary a novice cross country meet will be held this fall and valuable prizes will be offered to the winners. Freshman are especially urged to practice for this event.

At the present time Manager Banks '21 has arranged for but one dual meet in addition to the New England and Intercollegiate events. He hopes however to secure races with two additional colleges. The schedule to date is as follows:
Nov. 13 Wesleyan at Williamstown.
Nov. 20 N. E. I. C. A. A. Cross Country Meet at Boston.
Nov. 27 I. C. A. A. A. Cross Country Meet at New Haven.

1924 Baseball Squad Reports

First practice for the freshman baseball team was held last Thursday afternoon when nearly 25 first year men reported to Finn '21 on Weston Field. Workouts for the first year men will continue every afternoon in preparation for the annual three game Freshman-Sophomore series which will probably begin in the middle of this week.

To Elect Class Officers

Class officers and five representatives to the Student Council for the year 1920-21 will be elected at a meeting of the Senior Class in the Jesup Hall reading room at 7:30 o'clock tonight. On Tuesday evening at the same hour and place a Junior Class meeting will be held for the election of Class officers for the coming year and the two Junior representatives to the Student Council.

W. C. A. GREET'S 1924 AT ANNUAL RECEPTION

ENTIRE CLASS PRESENT

President Garfield and Under- Graduate Speakers Outline College Activities

Practically the entire class of 1924 were present at the annual freshman reception tendered by the Williams Christian Association last Saturday evening in Jesup Hall. After the customary informal introductions and the reception by President Garfield and about eight faculty members, assisted by their wives, several of the undergraduates gave short talks on various aspects of college life, explaining the different activities to the first year men.

Dr. Garfield made the first address of the evening. In pointing out the close relationship between the faculty and the students, in contrast with the state of affairs during his undergraduate life, he emphasized the fact that fellowship formed the keynote of the Williams social system. Dr. Garfield further urged every freshman to enter some branch of athletics, both for his own good and for that of the college.

Boynton '21, speaking on athletics, mentioned the importance of maintaining a satisfactory scholastic record in order to be eligible for teams, and pointed out the importance of interclass contests before the freshmen become eligible after mid-years. Joslyn '21 then outlined the purpose and history of the Gargoyle society and Thexton '21 spoke on each of the Williams publications and the Cap and Bells society, laying stress on the opportunities for practical training on both editorial and business boards. The Outing Club, the Forum, and the debating teams were taken up by Hall '21, and Noble '21 spoke on the choir and Musical Clubs and the W. C. A. He said that the latter organization had plans for more intensive work in college throughout the year, and for more extended service outside of Williamstown. Finn '21 concluded the talks by outlining the chief points in connection with the fraternity rushing agreement.

After the singing of The Mountains, the reception was closed with the serving of refreshments.

AMATEUR ACTRESSES TO APPEAR IN GRACE HALL

Mount Holyoke Students Will Present Three Plays Next Wednesday Evening

Three one-act plays will be presented next Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Grace Hall, by members of the Mount Holyoke Dramatic Club, for the benefit of Mount Holyoke's proposed $3,000,000 endowment fund. Professor Couch, of the Mount Holyoke Department of Elocution, is directing the performance, which is now touring western Massachusetts.

The three plays to be presented are entitled Suppressed Desires, Overtures, and Carrots. The first is a well-known humorous burlesque, while the second, a bit more serious in tone, is a study between real and conventional personality. Carrots, the last play, is the story of a small mis-

First Rushing Date To Be Set

An important meeting of the Interfraternity Council in Jesup Hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night has been called by Finn '21, chairman of that body, at which time a definite date will be set for the opening of the first period of the rushing season. The original intention of the Council was that Period A should begin on the fifth Saturday after the opening of College, but as the Harvard football game will be played at Cambridge on that day, the Council will choose a date soon after October 16 for the official opening of the rushing season. Until that time and during Periods A and B, the members of the three upperclasses will not be allowed to hold any conversation with freshmen concerning fraternities.

TEAM PRACTICING ON FUNDAMENTALS OF GAME

Coach Anxious for Undergrad- uate Attendance—Work to Speed Up This Week

Football practice up to the present time has been limited almost entirely to fundamentals, although the work will speed up considerably during the coming week. The squad will be cut to 40 some time within the next few days.

Most of the practice has consisted in falling on the ball, charging, blocking, tackling the dummy, and other rudimentary departments of the game. Light signal practice started last Wednesday and took up a considerable amount of the time during the remainder of the week. Three teams have been working out. Scrimmage will probably begin next Wednesday and Coach Brooks expects to hold a practice game between the first and second teams on Saturday afternoon. The first scheduled contest of the season will be played here with R. P. I. on October 2. Fortunately the squad has been hampered little by illness or injury so far, although Wilcox '22 is sick in the infirmary and will not be out for a week or 10 days.

Coach Brooks last night emphasized the importance of having the student body on hand for practice. He declared that he was particularly anxious for the undergraduates to turn out in order that they might learn the songs and cheers thoroughly before the season opens. Captain Boynton also said, "I am anxious for the men on the squad to keep a record of their cuts, so that we will not lose men on account of negligence this year."

Milk Supply Causes Epidemic

One of the sources of milk supply for the college and town has been condemned by the Local and State Boards of Health as the result of a small diphtheria epidemic which has broken out during the past few weeks. The first case appeared about three weeks ago and since then 25 or 30 cases have developed.

Up to the present time Wilcox '22 is the only person in the college to contract the disease and no further trouble is expected owing to the action taken by the Health Department against the milk supply which is believed to be the source of the epidemic.

College Notes

ex '21—Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Pullen of the engagement of their daughter, Esther, to Charles W. Van Deusen.

Sophomores interested in the competition for the business managership of Cap and Bells are requested to report Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the top floor of Jesup Hall.

J. N. Anderson, Bruce N. Campbell, Langmuir, and Romaine '23 have entered the competition for managership of football.

W. C. A. Committees will be appointed next Thursday evening. All applications should be turned in to Noble '21 at once.

1920 REGISTRATION BREAKS ALL RECORDS

576 MEN IN COLLEGE

List of Entering Class Still Incomplete Due to Short Time for Compiling

Registration up to Saturday afternoon reached a total of 550, the number being divided among the four classes as follows: 1921—101, 1922—121, 1923—137, and 1924—185. This number has been steadily increasing, however, until at the time of going to press 576 men have been enrolled at the registrar's office, and the figure is still necessarily incomplete.

There are a total of 199 new registrants, of which one is a junior, six are sophomores, and 192 are freshmen. This is one of the largest freshman classes which has ever entered Williams, and far surpasses the registration of any of the last few years. The freshman classes of 1916 and 1917 totalled 171, that of 1918 only 131, and that of last year reached 151.

The list of new registrants follows:

The Freshman Reception

Under the present rushing agreement, it is doubly hard for freshmen to obtain information concerning the various undergraduate activities. The W. C. A. reception last Saturday night lessened this difficulty to a great extent by introducing the entering class to these activities, and making sure that the information given was authoritative and correct. The W. C. A. Cabinet is also to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which the evening was conducted.

The only bad feature of an otherwise perfect evening, was the lamentably poor attendance of the faculty. This reception is always intended to give an opportunity to the freshmen to meet their future mentors. Yet the faculty, who so often lament the lack of intimate association between professors and students, presented a very small portion of its membership to meet the entering class.

The Need for Proper Publicity

The prospects for an excellent football season, and the possibility of a team which will make an unusual record, serve to bring home the inefficiency of the present system of press-agent service at Williams. Past events show that no matter how important events are that take place within the college, news thereof is often apt to escape all notice in the newspapers of the country.

Williams does not need publicity in order to secure larger registration, or in order to attract desirable men. The status of the college will continue to do that without a line in any newspaper. The fact remains, however, that publicity concerning the best things that Williams is doing will serve to impress the standing of the college upon the great majority of the newspaper-reading public as nothing else can.

The inefficiency of such press-agent service in the past has not been the fault of the men who have been engaged in newspaper correspondence as much as it has been the fault of the system. Newspaper work has always been on the basis of financial remuneration to the men who sent the news. There has been no honor attached to the position of press-agent. The result was, naturally enough, that no man felt impelled to do newspaper work unless he were paid for it. And if the newspaper did not pay well, no news was sent.

The need is now for a press-agent on a new basis, that of service to the college, instead of a group of men who send out only the news which they are paid for.

W. C. A. INAUGURATES NEW TYPE OF MEETING

Rev. W. P. Merrill Speaks Before First Half-hour Session on "Kind of Men We Need"

Rev. William P. Merrill, D.D., pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church in New York City, addressed the first of this year's series of W. C. A. Sunday evening meetings last night with a forceful appeal for the kind of men that the world stands in such need of at the present time. The meeting was of further significance in that it inaugurated the new policy of the W. C. A. for this year of holding short, snappy gatherings with a single opening hymn and then a brief but effective talk by some outstanding speaker, the entire session to consume approximately thirty minutes.

Realization of the tremendous want and needs of the world to-day was borne in upon Dr. Merrill during a recent two months' stay in various European countries. The one need which he believes takes precedence over all others is that of the right kind of people, the proper type of men to lead and direct others. This talk on the latter subject has also been given successfully at Cornell and several other large universities.

Analyzing this need for real men, Dr. Merrill points out six important qualities which comprise the essentials for this type of good citizen. In the first place skill and efficiency are of prime importance. The kind of men that can do things and do them superlatively well are invaluable in any country. There are opportunities for many but we are coming more and more to realize that there are very few capable of realizing them fully. The capacity to work hard and to cut off the things that do not count is also essential, although apparently not generally recognized as so. There appears to be a competition all over the world instead to see who can do the least work. There are, however, many things which seriously hinder efficiency or are simply neutral in effect which should be cut out. Enjoyments and recreations are not necessarily members of this class.

Resourcefulness forms a third essential quality and is intimately connected with skill and efficiency. No one knows what is going to happen in the world in the next few years, and the man who will succeed, therefore, is the one best qualified to meet any emergency. Theodore Roosevelt was one of the finest examples of this type of man. All of these serious qualities must be balanced by a happy spirit which makes life more worth living and enjoyable for oneself and others in the world. Courtesy, dramatic ability, and various musical and other gifts of entertainment come under this head and are of decided importance.

The capacity of rising above little distinctions forms the fifth quality. The present-day world is afflicted with various manifestations of this such as class distinctions, excessive nationalism, and similar troubles. Outstanding above all these other qualities because it makes the rest far more easily obtainable is the possibility

1920 FOOTBALL STARTS SATURDAY

Saturday will see the opening of the 1920 football season, when many of the strongest teams of the East play their first games, among which are the following: Harvard vs. Holy Cross at Cambridge, Pennsylvania vs. Delaware at Philadelphia, Brown vs. Rhode Island State at Providence, Syracuse vs. Hobart at Syracuse, and Pennsylvania State vs. Muhlenberg at State College. The season will be in full swing by the following Saturday, practically all of the eastern colleges either beginning their schedules or playing their second games on that day.

LINEMEN LEAD AS CAPTAINS

Linemen are in the majority as captains of college football teams in this section of the country, a list of 62 teams showing 39 line players against 23 back-field men. In the list are 13 ends, 13 tackles, six guards, seven centres, seven quarter-backs, nine half-backs, and seven full-backs. An unusual condition prevails in eastern football, that of having brothers captaining four of the leading eleven of the intercollegiate group. The Callahan brothers will lead the Yale and Princeton elevens, while the Robertson brothers have been chosen to captain the Syracuse and Dartmouth teams.

COLUMBIA TO HAVE RECORD YEAR

Columbia University will open its 167th academic year next Wednesday with the largest registration in the history of the institution. Enrollment began last Wednesday, and promises to put the university in the position of the largest institution of learning of its kind in the world. Many new courses have been added to the university's curriculum, improved methods of administration have been introduced, and a general expansion of university life, with regard to classroom, administration, and control, due largely to the experience of the war, has been mapped out.

PRINCETON LATE IN STARTING

iron material nearly two weeks behind that of most other Eastern football teams in respect to condition, for the Tigers have been on University Field only since Wednesday, and scrimmage is still well away in the offing. Head coach Roper is following the Princeton tradition that an early start means a stale team by the time of the Harvard and Yale games in November, and he and his staff are well satisfied with the way affairs are shaping.

SYRACUSE COACH FACES PROBLEM

Coach Meehan of the Syracuse University football team faces a unique problem in having a captain who is so valuable to the team that he can be used in any position along the line, and as yet, with the Hobart game but one week away, Meehan has come to no decision on the matter of where to place him. It is probable, however, that Captain Robertson will play end, filling the position which was left vacant when Schwarzer, one of Syracuse's most prominent athletes, graduated last Spring.

of a simple friendship with Christ, a very feasible and practical fact in modern life. In this latter connection the first requisite is the placing of one's own life under His spirit and influence and then the influencing of every one else with whom one comes in intimate contact. One should take the friend he knows best and show that there is something in Christ without which he is going to fail.

FOOTBALL SQUAD FAST WHIPPING INTO SHAPE

FIRST GAME ON OCTOBER 2

Scrimmages Feature Workouts This Week—Line-up Experiences Some Changes

Scrimmages on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week have rapidly developed the football squad into condition for the first game of the season to be played here against Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Saturday, October 2. Following these workouts Coach Brooks gave the squad a rest yesterday, confining practice to running down under punts and signal drill.

Although no definite line-up for either the first or second teams will be determined for some time, the veterans of last year's squad have been showing up well, while Fille, McLean and others of the new men are strong probabilities for births on the first eleven. Coach Brooks is still experimenting with various combinations, and changes and substitutions will probably continue even after the season has formally opened.

Joslyn has been shifted from left to right end during the scrimmages this week, and will very probably continue in that position. McLean has been playing with the first string eleven in the backfield, and if he continues in his present form will probably maintain this position. Coach Brooks has been giving some time to training H. S. Wilson as a punter, but as Captain Boynton was booting the ball into the corners from the center of the field this afternoon, the squad is far from being weak in that department.

In developing the team this year, Coach Brooks is considering victory over Amherst as the principal object of the season, and all other contests will be considered as training for this game.

In the scrimmages this week the following line-ups for first and second teams have been used, although frequent substitutions were made in order to give practice to all candidates:

TOURNAMENT OPENS

Large Number of Entrants Compete for Rockwood Cup

In accordance with the annual custom, the fall tennis tournament, open to all undergraduates, is being held on the College courts. On account of the exceptionally large number entering and because single matches must be completed first, it will probably be impossible to play off the doubles this fall. This will necessitate the continuance of the tournament next spring. The first rounds of the singles must be played off by this Saturday evening or defaulted.

The Rockwood cup, annually given in memory of Richard Burton Rockwood '16, and now on exhibition at "Cabe" Prindle's store, will be awarded to the victor in the single matches. A similar cup will be awarded next spring to the winners in the double matches.

No 1920-21 tennis team will be chosen this fall, although last year's team will hold occasional practice.

"Purple Cow" Board to Meet

There will be a meeting of the editorial board of the Purple Cow Friday night at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall to consider material for the October issue. All drawings, jokes and light verse must be in by that time. Men of all four classes are urged to enter the competition.

RUSHING DATES FIXED

October 17-24 Limits Set by Interfraternity Council

Owing to the fact that the date set for the Harvard football game at Cambridge, conflicted with the date set for rushing this fall, it was decided, at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall, to commence the rushing season one day later. The season, therefore, will start with the luncheon date on Sunday, October 17, instead of with the dinner date on Saturday, October 16, and end on Sunday evening, October 24.

At the same meeting an executive committee was appointed, consisting of Gray, Thexton, and Ufford '21, together with Finn and Irwin '21 as ex-officio members.

MT. HOLYOKE STUDENTS PRESENT THREE PLAYS

Large Audience Applauds Performance of Amateur Actresses in Grace Hall

Before a large audience of undergraduates and residents of Williamstown four students of Mt. Holyoke College presented three one-act plays in a masterly fashion last Wednesday evening in Grace Hall. The young ladies, who are giving their performance in numerous places for the benefit of the $3,000,000 endowment fund of their college, not only showed extraordinary dramatic ability but were surprisingly successful in interpreting male parts before an audience that was bound to detect the slightest flaw in such rôles.

The three plays presented were Carrots, Overtones, and Suppressed Desires. All three were well received, although perhaps the last two better than the first. Miss Agnes Wilson gave a most finished production of Carrots and the psycho-analysis fiend in Suppressed Desires. Miss Marion Richardson also deserves especial credit for her clever interpretation of the widely different rôles of a middle-aged man, a young woman, and a young man. Altogether the production was extraordinarily good.

"Handbook" Board Announced

Seven men have been chosen for the editorial board of the 1920-1921 Williams Handbook by Schauffler '22, editor-in-chief, and approved by the W. C. A. Cabinet. The board will also serve as the Publicity Committee for the W. C. A. during the present year. The members are as follows: Blake, Hurst, and Rose '22, Angevine, Bennett, Chapman, and Ward '23.

Meeting of "Lit" Board Monday

Members of the editorial board of the Literary Monthly will meet Monday night at 7.30 o'clock in Room 23, Jesup Hall, to consider material for the October issue. All freshmen, as well as upper-classmen, are urged to hand in stories, verses, essays and sketches at that time.

J. H. FINN TO CAPTAIN 1921 BASEBALL TEAM

CATCHER THREE YEARS

New Leader of Nine is Also Very Prominent in Several Non-Athletic Activities

John Hartney Finn '21, of Northampton, Mass., has been elected captain of the 1921 baseball team according to announcement made last Wednesday evening by the management.

During the past three years he has proved invaluable to the team and has gained the reputation of being one of the most dependable catchers in college baseball at the present time. Last year he had a batting average of .333 and a fielding average of .921. He is especially noted for his ability to hit safely in the pinches.

Finn prepared for Williams at the Northampton High School and the Williston Seminary. At the former he played on the baseball and basketball teams, being captain of the baseball team during his last two years besides holding several class offices. At the latter he was a member of the debating team.

During his freshman year at College he was a member of his class debating team and won a position on the varsity baseball team as catcher. In his sophomore year he was picked by the College to

Call for Healers

Members of the class of 1923 will be given their third opportunity to try out for positions on the editorial board of the Record in a two-months' competition starting next Thursday. All sophomores who are interested will meet the managing editor at the press room in Jesup Hall next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, when the details will be explained. A cut to about six will be made in approximately a month, and two men will be elected to the board at the end of the competition on December 9.

SOPHOMORES VICTORIOUS OVER 1924 IN BASEBALL

Score 13-8 in First Game of Underclass Series—Richmond '23 Pitches Well

Erratic pitching and a general lack of practice featured the first of the series of three underclass baseball games played last Wednesday afternoon on Weston Field, which resulted in a 13 to 8 victory for the Sophomores. Hoyt and Richmond, who relieved Holmes in the box in the first inning, were the individual stars of the 1923 team, while Acheson and Barnwell played well for the losers.

Holmes, who started the game for the Sophomores, easily retired the first two men to face him, but then became unable to find the plate and passed six men. Richmond was then shifted from first to the box, and Holmes took his place. The frame ended with seven runs to the credit of the Freshmen. Two tallies were scored by the Sophomores in their half of the inning through several passes and a hit by Hoyt.

One 1924 man crossed the plate in the second inning. The 1923 team utilized several bad throws, errors, and passes and scored seven runs in the last half of the second frame. Again in the third, the Sophomores gained three tallies through passes and a steal home by Richmond, and in the last of the fourth another run crossed the plate for the 1923 team.

Both teams were noticeably wild and in need of practice and the Freshman team showed the need of playing more together. The next game of the series will be at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on Weston Field.

The lineup was as follows:

1924		1923
Kellogg	lf	Chapin
Acheson	cf	Bixby
O'Brien	ss	Mallon
Stephenson	c	Stephenson
Carpenter	1b	Richmond, Holmes
Fink	rf	Monje
Gregory	p	Holmes, Richmond
Barnwell	3b	Ward
Krause, Buck	2b	Hoyt

Score—1923, 13; 1924, 8. Umpires—on balls, Cabe Prindle; on bases, Moses Seacor.

Sophomores Enter Competition

Sixteen sophomores have entered the competition for the business managership of Cap and Bells. Since work will begin almost immediately, all others interested in the competition are requested to give their names to Grant '22 at once. The list of men is as follows: Bixby, Burke, Byers, J. E. Crosby, Durfee, Fitcher, Mackie, McAneny, Mosher, Newton, Proctor, Scott, Taylor, Thacker, Webb, and Witcombe.

Junior Class To Meet

For the purpose of electing the manager of the 1922 class soccer team, the Junior class will meet next Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, in the Jesup Hall Reading Room.

Student Council Will Meet

The first meeting of the Student Council this year will be held Friday afternoon at 12.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall. All members of that body are urged to attend.

JOSLYN AND HURST TO HEAD UPPER CLASSES

SOPHOMORES ELECT HOLMES

Bullock, Carr, Baker, Fargo, Finn Noble, and Ufford Chosen to Fill Other 1921 Offices

Alan Wilson Joslyn, of Detroit, Mich., was elected president of the Senior class at a meeting held Monday evening in Jesup Hall while Arthur Lewis Hurst, of Glen Ridge, N. J., and Edwin Holmes of Englewood, N. J., were chosen to similar positions in the Junior and Sophomore classes at meetings held Tuesday and Thursday evenings respectively. Each class also elected a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer, as well as representatives on the Student Council and the Honor System Committee.

After receiving his secondary education at the Detroit Central High School, Joslyn entered Williams and during his sophomore year played on his class football team. He filled the position of end on last year's victorious varsity eleven. His first two years in College he was a member of the varsity track team and of the Junior class basketball team. At the end of the year he was the first man to be picked for Gargoyle. Joslyn has been chosen president of the Forum for the present year, vice-president of the W. C. A. and is on the Student Council. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity. The other officers elected by the class are as follows: vice-president—Hugh Bullock, of Denver, Col.; secretary—Robert Spencer Carr, of Toledo, Ohio; treasurer—John Conger Baker Jr., of Great Neck, L. I.; representatives on the Student Council—Hugh Bullock, of Denver, Col.; Edward Albert Fargo, Jr., of Evanston, Ill.; John Hartney Finn, of Northampton, Mass.; Charles Casper Noble, of Newton Highlands, Mass.; and Henry Mandeville Ufford, of Elmira, N. Y.

Hurst prepared for Williams at Phillips-Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., where he was a member of the Student Council, editor-in-chief of the Exonian, and class historian. During his freshman year at College he was a member of his class banquet committee, and early in the following year was elected vice-president of his class. During his Sophomore year he was also elected to the Record and the Gul boards, and served on the 1920 Smoker Committee, and as Chairman of the Sophomore Prom. Committee. For the present year Hurst is a member of the Student Council and of the Interfraternity Council. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity. At the meeting at which he was chosen, 1922 also elected these officers: vice-president—William Rittenhouse Richardson, of Jersey City, N. J.; secretary—Roger Preston, of Lexington, Mass.; treasurer—James Mellick Baker, of Great Neck, L. I.; representatives on the Student Council—Phillip Randall Blake, of Springfield, Mass.; Charles Nicholas Harder, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Honor System Committee—Dudley Brabner Wallace, of Springfield, Mass.; and Arthur Vreeland Youngman, of Montclair, N. J.

Holmes prepared for Williams at the Ridgefield School, Ridgefield, Conn., where he played on the football and baseball teams. During the fall of his freshman year in College he became a member of the College choir and played as half-back on the 1923 football team. In the spring of the same year he pitched for the varsity baseball team in addition to playing on his class team. Holmes is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. The remaining officers elected by the Sophomores were as follows: vice-president—Edwin Shuttlesworth, Jr., of Douglaston, L. I.; secretary—Geoffrey Rupert Bennett, of Toledo, Ohio; treasurer—Russell Crosby Clark, of New Brighton, N. Y.; representative on the Student Council—James Crawford Ward, of Kansas City, Mo.

Attendance at Football Practice

Coach Brooks' request for undergraduate attendance at football practice has met with a feeble response. The undergraduate body, aside from the inducement of loyalty to the team, which is sufficient, should appreciate the privilege of being allowed to witness daily practice. It is the custom of many coaches to make most practices secret, but Coach Brooks is making practice open to all undergraduates. Watching football practice is a pleasure, not a burden, and a large attendance will be a real encouragement to the men on the field.

Empty Promises

The present condition of the College tennis courts shows little evidence that the promises made last spring, after the dissatisfaction of the student body had been vigorously expressed through the columns of the Record and elsewhere, have been put into effect.

For several years the tennis courts have received such poor care that only a few of them have been fit for tournament play, and several were nothing but patches of weeds. Eight tennis courts for 500 students is not a large number; and when only four could be played on, there were waiting lines of from ten to thirty players every day during the good weather.

Fixing the responsibility for this neglect proved a difficult matter. The management disclaimed any blame on the ground that it could not maintain the courts properly with only the assistance of competitors, and with no help at all during the summer months. But the policy of the College has always been to leave the care of the courts to the tennis managers, wherefore nobody appeared eager to accept the "buck" which was thus passed, on perfectly valid grounds, by the management. And the "buck" has been floating around ever since.

It is about time for somebody to shoulder the responsibility, and accept the task of providing the undergraduate body with courts which are at least passable. The Record believes that this is not the management's job. The managers are supposed to care for the needs of the team, not of the student body.

If the courts are for the use of the College, both undergraduates and faculty, it is the business of the College to take care of them, and to hire men to prevent them from degenerating during the summer months into what looks like the "rough" on the Taconic Club golf course.

"HANDBOOK" APPEARS WITH MINOR CHANGES

Articles Reclassified and New Pictures Added—Volume is Bound in Black Leather

Innovations of a minor character mark the 1920-1921 Handbook, which owing to a delay at the binder's, made its appearance on the campus last Wednesday instead of at the beginning of the semester. As has been the custom in the last few years, the volume is bound in plain black leather, with "Williams, 1920-21" and the Williams seal stamped in gold on the cover.

Chief among the changes is the arrangement of articles which are grouped according to interest and the relations they bear to each other, such as those concerning the Student Council, the Honor System, and the No-Deal Agreement, in one group near the front of the volume, while the miscellaneous articles are placed together near the back. The entire rushing agreement again appears in the Handbook, and there are the usual features for the convenience of the freshmen, an enlarged directory being most noticeable among these.

Johannessen '20 has supplied an attractive new bookplate for the Handbook, and many new pictures make it unusually interesting. Chief among these is a new view of the Hopper, taken from the top of Mt. Greylock, a panoramic view of Williamstown, a view of the campus in winter-time, and new photographs of the Chapel, Grace Hall, Williams Hall, and the home of the President.

Howard R. Coan '21 was editor-in-chief and managing editor of the Handbook, and Arthur J. LaFave '22 was the business manager.

The Handbook was printed, as in former years, by the Excelsior Printing Company of North Adams.

ALUMNUS IN PULPIT

Rev. William L. Sawtelle '94 to Conduct Sunday Services

Reverend William L. Sawtelle of Scranton, Pa., will preach at the second chapel service of the year next Sunday morning. Mr. Sawtelle graduated from Williams in the class of 1894 and from Auburn Theological Seminary in the class of 1898. After holding several pastorates in New York, he was called to the Second Presbyterian Church of Troy, N. Y., where he remained for several years before accepting his present charge in one of the leading Presbyterian churches of Scranton. While at College he was a well known athlete, playing right guard on the varsity football team during the four years of his course.

Cross Country Team Practising

Although the first meet will not come, in all probability, for at least five weeks, the cross country team has been practising every day, confining itself for the most part to easy runs of about four miles. Yesterday, however, it covered half of the regular course in fast time. Crofts, captain of the varsity track team, is at present leading the workouts and a permanent captain will be announced later in the season. To date three runs are definitely scheduled but Manager Banks is completing the arrangements with at least two other colleges for dual meets which will probably come toward the end of October. Even should Syracuse again hold an invitation meet, Williams will not enter inasmuch as the team is already scheduled for two big runs, the New England and National Intercollegiate.

Chapel Choir is Selected

As a result of trials held last Tuesday evening in the Choir Room, the following men have been chosen as members of the regular and auxiliary choirs:

COLLEGE LIBRARY TO BE OF GEORGIAN STYLE

Total Capacity Will Be in Excess of 200,000 Volumes —Effect to Be Dignified

Located behind Hopkins Hall and the Chapel, the new College library building, for the past year under construction, will be of the Georgian style, following the precedent of Grace Hall and Williams Hall, and the material, as in those buildings, will be water struck brick with Bedford limestone trimmings. The contour of the land, falling off as it does to the east and north, allows the basement story to have full height windows on those sides, and enormously simplifies the lighting of the stack room.

The position of the Library, with its long axis perpendicular to Main Street, gives it two main facades and more or less controls the planning of the interior. On the ground floor there is an entrance on each of these sides. From the west entrance one goes through a small vestibule directly into the delivery room, and from the south door a wide corridor leads to the same place, passing on the right the offices and working rooms of the library staff and on the left a periodical room, coat room and new book room. The north wing is occupied by the main reading room, which runs up through two stories. Between the west door and the reading room is the Williamsiana Room where material relating to the history of the college and its founder is to be kept and made available for those interested. Behind the delivery room, to the east, is the stack, in eight tiers, with a total capacity in excess of 200,000 volumes; on either side of the stack is a staircase.

The south end of the building, above the first floor, is devoted to the Chapin collection. This is to be housed in a central exhibition room, with a smaller room at each end, and a mezzanine story over each of these smaller rooms, connected along one side of the large hall by an open passage somewhat like the small side galleries in Grace Hall. The upper end rooms are only separated from the main hall by open colonnades, this opening out the whole upper part of the space into a single unit. Beside these main rooms there will be a vault, closets, etc. The books will be housed in wall cases, and there will be ample wall space for the exhibition of prints, while still other material can be shown in vitrines in the main room.

The delivery room on the first floor is two stories high and is lighted from an open loggia which on the second floor runs along the west side of the building. This loggia is accessible from both stair halls. The north wing on this floor is occupied by the upper part of the main reading room. The stack of course continues up from the floor below. Aside from the upper part of the Chapin rooms which are not accessible from this floor, the third story is given up to ten seminar rooms, one small conference room and a toilet room.

The basement fully lighted on the north and east has unpacking and work rooms accessible from a service entrance on the east side. In addition are staff quarters, general toilet rooms, storage rooms, and a large unassigned space under the main reading room, available for future expansion.

The main rooms are to be treated with some wood panelling, and ornamental plaster ceilings. The general effect will be dignified but not over ornate; the designers have attempted throughout to express the dignity proper to a college library structure without any sacrifice of usefulness for its specific purpose.

12 Report for Managerships

Twelve sophomores have reported in the competition for assistant manager of tennis and golf. The competition will last until the election to be held the first week in June when two men will be chosen for the managerships. The man with the highest number of votes will be allowed his choice of the two managerships. Names of competitors can still be handed in to Manager Towne or Assistant Manager Loizeux. Following is the list of the competitors: Anderson, Ayers, Byers, Collins, Crosby, Helmar, Livingston, Magrath, Morse, Pring, Sellwood and Shepardson.

There will be an important meeting of the "Gul" board Friday evening at 7.15 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

GET-TOGETHER HELD

Majority of Freshmen Present at Successful Meeting

Approximately 145 members of 1924 attended the first of the freshmen get-togethers, which was held last Thursday evening in Jesup Hall, under the auspices of the Deputations Committee of the W. C. A.

After music by the newly organized freshman orchestra, which consists of J. Buckner, L. Buckner, Eisenberg, Greer, Hopkins, Klapproth, Olmsted, Stevenson, and Swann '24, Rounds '22 made a short speech welcoming the freshmen and explaining the purpose of the get-togethers. Banks, Ufford and Irwin '21 then lead the class in singing and cheering, after which McGrath '23 gave a performance consisting of sleight-of-hand tricks.

The freshman get-togethers, which were originated by the W. C. A. this year to enable the class to become organized as a unit and its members to become better acquainted with each other, and also as a means by which the freshman might become more familiar with the Williams songs and cheers, will be continued every Wednesday night until rushing season. The next one will be held next Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall, when an entirely new program will be presented.

TIGER SCRIMMAGING TO START

Coach Roper, of Princeton, has announced that the first scrimmaging of the year will take place tomorrow. Lately practice has been largely taken up with signal drill and a long period of tackling the dummy. In addition the ends and backs have been learning how to cover punts by going downfield under each other's kicks, while the line men spent their time shooting the bucking machine.

N. Y. U. LEARNS SIGNALS

New York University's football squad went through its daily practise last week under Coach Gargan. An innovation has been introduced this year at the N. Y. U. training table in the form of an informal talk during the meal and a blackboard lecture immediately afterward by which plays were illustrated and signals taught.

FOOTBALL MEETING IN NEW YORK

The annual meeting of the intercollegiate football committee, called for the purpose of interpreting the present gridiron rules, will be held this evening at the Biltmore Hotel. Walter Camp will preside. All intercollegiate coaches and football officials are expected to be present.

R. P. I. HOLDS INTRAMURAL MEET

Entries for the dual track meet to be held between the "R" men and the non-letter men of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Saturday closed to-day. The contest will be between all men who have already won their major letters and any such students, especially freshmen, who have varsity aspirations.

HARVARD VARSITY SHOWS POWER

Two of last year's football men, Babe Felton and Ralph Horween, have joined the Harvard coaching staff. As a result of several lively scrimmages during the week, the Crimson team is displaying great driving power, which is greatly encouraging the coaching staff.

CORNELL TEAM LOSES CAPTAIN

Cornell's football hopes received a severe setback this week when John Shuler, captain and fullback of the eleven, announced that he would not return to college owing to disappointment at having been placed on probation by the faculty last year. Coach Dolie has nevertheless picked four tentative teams from his large squad, with which he is holding daily practice.

CENTER COLLEGE COMING NORTH

The Center College football team of Danville, Ky., will meet the Harvard eleven at Cambridge October 23. The former team which is drawn from a college of not more than two hundred students was the cause of much interest to football critics since it included at least two choices for the mythical All-American eleven.

DARTMOUTH AT POLO GROUNDS

The Green eleven will meet Syracuse October 23 in its first major game of the season on the Polo Grounds in New York. The big battle of the season, however, is with Cornell. This contest also will be held at the Polo Grounds.

SYRACUSE TO BEGIN SEASON

Syracuse's new coach, John F. Meehan, will place his first team on the gridiron next Saturday afternoon when the Orange is expecting a hard battle with Hobart College. The remainder of the schedule will include the University of Pittsburgh, Dartmouth, W. and J., and Colgate.

ARMY ELEVEN HAS LIGHT PRACTICE

Up to last Wednesday evening the Army eleven at West Point was still continuing light practice without any semblance of scrimmage work.

COLUMBIA TO HAVE HEAVY TEAM

Coach O'Neill, of Columbia, has picked a tentative line-up to represent the Blue and White, averaging 181 pounds to the man. The average weight of the line is 188 pounds. Several serious injuries have hampered the development of the team, which promises, however, to be a great improvement over last year's eleven.

SEVERAL ELI REGULARS INJURED

Although Captain Callahan and two other regulars of the Yale varsity team are temporarily out of the game with injuries, the remainder of the squad is showing promise, having scored on the scrubs and second varsity in every scrimmage held during the past week.

COLGATE LOSES PROMISING GUARD

Stan Vore, one of Colgate's heaviest players, and a promising guard, was eliminated from the squad for the remainder of the season when he broke his collarbone in Monday's practice. This accident has further depleted the Maroon's already small squad of candidates.

NEW MATERIAL ON RUTGERS TEAM

Night practice featured the work of the Rutgers football squad in preparation for the first game against Ursinus tomorrow. Coach Sanford has had to fill six positions on the team with new material, and looks upon tomorrow's game as a test for his green eleven.

Dartmouth is Opened

Nearly 2000 students crowded Webster hall on Wednesday morning when President Ernest Martin Hopkins officially opened Dartmouth college for its 152d academic year. The college office reports the largest enrolment in history, over 1900, and living accommodations are stretched to the limit. Topliff hall, constructed to accommodate the anticipated heavy enrolment, is already filled with students, although workmen are not yet finished with the interior work.

Your Friends, Your Family

Did you ever stop to think just how much your family are interested in you, your college course, and your college?

Your letters home tell much; the "Record" will add to this.

Why don't you make them a present of a year's subscription to the "Record?"

And another phase of the same feeling that has prompted so many men to do this is that wherever the "Record" goes it carries the name of WILLIAMS with it.

YOU want people to know of Williams. The more widely this college is known, the larger will be the field from which each year a new freshman class is drawn.

A better freshman class each year means a better college.

What are you willing to do to make Williams better and bigger?

It will surely help a little to send the "Record" to your father or your mother; to that kid brother of yours or to your prep school, anywhere where people are interested in you and

NATIONAL BLANK BOOKS &amp; LOOSE LEAF DEVICES

THERE are few first-class Stationers who do not carry some National Blank Books. A great many dealers carry National products exclusively. You are taking no chances when you buy blank books from a dealer who features Nationals, because back of his personal reliability is the guarantee of the largest blank book factory in the world.

Promiscuous buying of Account Books results in loss of time, money and office efficiency. As Blank Books are the cornerstones of business, intelligent care should be used in their selection. National Blank Books are uniformly satisfactory.

UFFORD '21 CHAIRMAN OF STUDENT COUNCIL

Governing Body Holds Its First Meeting—Finn '21 Is Also Chosen Secretary

Henry Mandeville Ufford '21, of Elmhurst, N. Y., was elected chairman of the Student Council, and John Hartney Finn '21 secretary, at a meeting of that body last Friday afternoon in the Jesup Hall Reading Room.

Ufford prepared for Williams at Phillips Andover Academy, where he was editor of the Phillipian and a member of the soccer team. During his sophomore year at Williams he was a member of the Student Council, and also served as a member of his class banquet committee. Last year Ufford was a lieutenant in the college fire brigade, captain of his class soccer team as well as a member of the all-class soccer team, manager of his class basketball team, and a member of Pipe and Gull. He is a member of the W. C. A. cabinet, the Interfraternity Council, is head cheerleader and was recently appointed chairman of the No-Deal Committee. He is a member of the Kappa Beta Phi society and the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Finn received his preparatory education at the Northampton High School and the Williston Seminary. At the former he played on the baseball and basketball teams, being captain of the baseball team during his junior and senior years, besides holding several class offices. At the latter he was a member of the debating team. During his freshman year at Williams he was a member of his class debating team, and played in the position of catcher of the varsity baseball team. In his sophomore year, by a vote of the College, he won the cup presented by the Williams Store for the player who was most valuable to the varsity nine. He was a member of his class basketball team and of the All-Class five. Last year Finn was elected vice-president of his class and captain of his class basketball team, and again he was selected for the All-Class five. He was assistant manager of the varsity basketball team, and on May 30 was elected to Gargoyle.

This year he is chairman of the Interfraternity Council, manager of the varsity basketball team, and he was recently elected captain of the varsity baseball team. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Start Freshman Bible Class

President Garfield's Bible class for Freshmen held its first meeting of the current year in Jesup Hall after the morning chapel services yesterday. At the meeting, which was attended by more than 50 men, plans were announced for the term's study. Arrangements have been made by the W. C. A. to secure sufficient copies of Dr. Fosdick's "Manhood of the Master," so that a free copy may be given to each member of the class.

Track and Cross Country Squads Practicing Daily

Practically no change has been made in the work done by the cross country squad during the past week, the squad being put through an easy workout each day by Captain Crofts of the varsity track team. The varsity track squad has been called out in preparation for the Interclass and Handicap Meets which will be held this fall.

Men out for the distances and hurdles have been put through light workouts. Coach Seeley has requested all men who have ability with the discs or shot to begin training this week. He has also decided that the Handicap Meet will be held a week after the Interclass Meet, although the exact date for the latter has not as yet been decided upon. No further addition to the cross country schedule has been made up to the present time.

SOPHOMORES CLINCH UNDERCLASS SERIES

Freshmen Lose Second Game by 12-0 Score—Richmond '23 Effective on Mound

Completely outclassing the Freshmen both in the field and at bat, the Sophomores again won from 1924 by a 12-0 score on Weston Field last Saturday afternoon. By thus repeating their victory of last Wednesday the Sophomores victoriously ended the underclass series.

Eight hits by the Sophomores and frequent errors on the part of the 1924 team were responsible for the easy victory for the second-year men. Richmond, who pitched for 1923, allowed only four hits. Although the Sophomores found Gregory, the Freshman pitcher, for twice that number, most of their scores were unearned runs. In the third inning Stephenson '23, after a single through second base, made the complete circuit on errors, two other runs going in ahead of him.

Ward at third base played the best game for 1923, accepting all chances and getting a triple to left field in the fifth inning. Barnwell, playing the same position for the Freshman nine, showed up to the best advantage for the losers.

Darkness made it impossible to continue the game after the seventh inning. This necessity, however, only cut short the slaughter since it was only a question of how badly the Freshmen would be beaten after the third inning when the score stood 4-0 in favor of the 1923 team. The winners exhibited a surprisingly good brand of baseball throughout the contest, while the Freshman nine lacked team work and made costly errors time and again.

The line-up was as follows:
1924
Buck 2b
Fineke cf
O'Brien ss
Gregory p
Stephenson, Beggs rf
Carpenter 1b
Barnwell 3b
Kellogg c
Krause lf
Score—1923, 12; 1924, 0. Umpire—Cabe Prindle.

Progress in Tournament Result of Good Weather

Rapid progress has been made in the tennis tournament during the last week, due to the continued good weather. Rowse '22 and Blackmer '24 have both reached the third round.

Rowse has played two hard matches against J. M. Baker '22 and C. L. Taylor '21, defeating the former 7-5, 6-3 and the latter 2-6, 6-2, 15-13. Besides Chapin '23, last year's champion, Bullock '21, captain of the tennis team, and H. S. Prescott '22 are leading contenders. Fraker '21, who was runner-up last year, has had but little practice during the summer and is far from being in form. Chapin and Prescott have won their preliminary round matches with no trouble, but Fraker and Bullock have not yet played in the tournament.

PROF. PRATT SPEAKS AT W. C. A. MEETING

Gives Short Talk on Meaning of Word 'Saved'—Interesting Discussion Follows

Professor James B. Pratt addressed the second of this year's series of W. C. A. Sunday evening meetings last night treating the subject "What Jesus meant by Saved."

This has always been one of the pressing problems in the minds of earnest men. It was one of the great questions in Luther's time, but since those days few men have ever given the subject any earnest consideration.

"What has constituted this lack of interest?" asked Prof. Pratt. The mercenary instincts of the human race, the absorption in business and the subsequent lack of spiritual knowledge, and an incredible and uninterested attitude have tended to draw men's minds from the question.

"Salvation used to mean the final ascent of the soul to Heaven, a goal to be attained through the acceptance of the doctrines of the divinity of Christ, and a belief in the saving of souls. This was the popular notion, but long since have men stopped discussing this view.

"However, with the abandonment of this conception shall we say that salvation, one of the most characteristic doctrines of Christianity, Hinduism and Buddhism, is no longer necessary for us? This is impossible. We must arrive at a clearer understanding through a keener realization of what salvation means.

"Morality may have been what Jesus meant by salvation, but it is not the meaning which we associate with morality. Christ's conception of salvation was something more than the obeying of the ten commandments and the laws of the country. It was to Him the consecration not only of one's possessions but of one's life for humanity; to quote His words, "Take up thy cross and follow Me." Only when one has dedicated himself thus to the kingdom of God, has one in Christ's conception attained salvation."

TEST FOOTBALL SQUAD IN PRACTICE CONTEST

Coach Brooks Tries out Various Candidates in Hard Session Saturday Afternoon

SQUAD CUT DOWN TO 41

Passing Game is Used Effectively by Each Team—Weakness Shown in Defense

Coach Brooks wound up the week's football practice last Saturday afternoon with a full-length contest between the first and second teams, in which very good football was developed at times and also a number of weaknesses which must be remedied before any difficult games of the season are encountered. After the practice game a cut in the squad was announced, leaving 41 men for available material.

On account of the unusually hot weather the squad has not been able to make as good a showing as might otherwise be expected, and for this reason Friday's practice was confined to some tackling practice and considerable light work-out at catching and intercepting forward passes.

In Saturday's game the first team showed considerable ability at carrying the ball down the field without serious checks, partly due to imperfect opposition and partly to Boynton's customary large gains in spite of lack of good interference. The most serious defect which appeared, however, was in the center of the first team's line on the defense. With a line strengthened by Coach Brooks himself in the second half, the second team was able to tear off large gains through the center of the opposing eleven. By this method J. E. Wilson carried the ball through for a total distance of nearly forty yards in two consecutive plays, and the second team scored two touchdowns in this half, holding their opponents scoreless.

The first half, however, the first team had nearly everything its own way, scoring the opening touchdown within the first three minutes and adding four more before the end of the period. The chief feature was Captain Boynton's run for a touchdown through a broken field after catching Wilson's punt on his own 40-yard line. Another score was made possible by an accurate forward pass from Boynton on the 30-yard line to Joslyn on the 2-yard line. One of the touchdowns scored by the second team in the next period was also due to a pass from Mallon which sailed safely to Clark across the goal line.

The lineups for the first and second teams which started the practice game were as follows:

First Team		Second Team
Joslyn	r.e.	N. Burger
Fargo	r.t.	S. Phillips
Humes	r.g.	Kellers
Smith	c.	C. Boynton
Fulle	l.g.	Rubino
Laws	l.t.	Simons
Coddling	l.e.	H. E. Wilson
B. Boynton	q.b.	Richmond
W. Burger	r.h.b.	Montgomery
McLean	l.h.b.	J. E. Wilson
Hibbard	f.b.	Mallon

In addition to the above men Sewall and Chapman were substituted at right end during the game, Brooks at right tackle, Towne and Jones at right guard, Buxton at center, Phillips, Fraker, and Garvin at left end, and Monjo at right half back.

There will be two more scrimmages before the R. P. I. game, on Tuesday and Thursday of this week, and Coach Brooks is particularly anxious that the student body turn out in force and give the team good preliminary support. The following men have been retained for further practice on the varsity squad: B. Boynton, C. Boynton, Brigham, N. Burger, W. Burger, Buxton, Chapman, Clark, Coddling, Coleman, Eaton, Fargo, Fraker, Fulle, Garvin, Greene, Hibbard, Humes, Jones, Joslyn, Kellers, Lasell, Laws, McLean, Mallon, Monjo, Montgomery, Spencer Phillips, Stuart Phillips, Proctor, Richmond, Rubino, Sewall, Shuttleworth, Simons, Smith, Towne, Tyler, Wilcox, H. Wilson, J. Wilson.

For Better Cheering

The need for better cheering has been recognized for several years, culminating last spring in the reorganization of the system of selecting cheerleaders. The poor showing made by the undergraduate body last Saturday shows that there is still room for much improvement. We trust that the undergraduates will read carefully Mr. Ufford's communication and will act accordingly. The cheerleaders are doing their best, but they can accomplish little without the hearty support of the student body.

At the Cross-Roads

Williams College this year has the largest enrollment of its history. The capacity of the College dormitories has been exceeded to an extent which has necessitated the securing of rooms in the town for students who were unable to obtain dormitory accommodations. Many of the classes have been divided into five and six sections to include all the men who elected the courses of study affected without making the classes unwieldy for the instructors and unsatisfactory for the students. In some cases, even this expedient has been impossible, resulting in uncomfortably large class-room sections.

Neither the condition of extra-dormitory housing nor that of oversize and multiplied class-room divisions is wise or desirable. The former, by its enforced segregation of late arrivals, is detrimental to the fellowship which is a fundamental of college life. The latter works a hardship on the instructors who have extra divisions to handle, and equivalent hardship on those students who find themselves insulated from close contact with their preceptors by the wholesale bulk of their classes. Clearly and unquestionably, something should be done to alleviate the situation.

For a period of years, something like the existing state of affairs has been foreseen, and the question of whether or not Williams College should adhere to the small college type has been discussed by undergraduates and alumni; by faculty and trustees, by the men of Williams and the interested friends of Williams. This prophesied state of affairs is now upon us, importuning an answer to the question, "What limit, if any, shall be placed on the enrollment of Williams College?"

This question, we repeat, demands an answer, and that right soon. The RECORD cannot answer for all Williams men, but for itself, and, we believe, for the present undergraduate body and the majority of the faculty, it can reply. And this reply is, "The enrollment of the College should be limited to the number of men which the present dormitory equipment will comfortably house."

These are days of reconstruction for the world, for America, and for American institutions of every kind. "Progressive," "reactionary," "patriotic," "international," are the epithets which flood the forum of the nation's discussion. Rare is the man who knows what he wants and why he wants it, in these bolsheviked and campaigned times. Above all the bandying of words, the stating and the dodging of issues, however, we have undeniably, in the problem which now confronts those who guide the destinies of Williams, the conflict of machine-made education with hand-made education. It is the conflict of quantity production, with its ever-attendant slighting of details, against limited production, with its opportunities for individual finish and thoroughness of detail.

There are educations and educations. The value of a liberal education, which is synonymous with a Williams education, has been expounded too frequently and too thoroughly to require elaboration in these columns. The point to be brought home is that a liberal education—a Williams education—can best be accomplished in an institution of Williams size and Williams ideals. Consider some of the more salient features of the Williams type of education—athletic development for every student; personal acquaintance with every student by every student; personal friendship between student and instructor; individual attention in the class-room; the inculcation in the student of the high ideals and enduring traditions of the college. All of these and many others can, per se, be secured only in a small college. Increase in the size of the student body means a proportionate decrease in the strength of these elements.

The more ground that a given strength of influence must cover, the weaker that influence will be on a given portion of that ground and on the whole. To keep Williams influence concentrated, we believe that the college enrollment should be restricted to the present housing capacity of the dormitories. With expansion once undertaken, who shall say where it will end? Williams should be kept Williams, and should not be allowed to become a Harvard, a Cornell, or a Columbia. And by that statement, we mean no disrespect to those colleges—merely respect to Williams as it is today.

Standardization and commercialization have been developed to a very high degree, and, in the case of the minor things of life, justifiably so. In regard to the things that vitally matter, however, the carefully developed article, produced in small quantities and with every attention to detail and finish, still holds the admiration of people who know the best.

One of the most emphatic arguments of those who oppose limiting the size of Williams is the contention that restriction of enrollment will mean restriction of athletic achievement. Very well; let it. In its class, Williams stands among the best athletically, scholastically, and in every other way. Let those who want another class of college, another class of education, direct their steps to where they may find a college and an education of the desired variety. Williams does not need them. By all means, let us preserve the integrity of Williams and the integrity of Williams standards!

1922 has failed to observe this custom. Yesterday some of the juniors were in the center aisle even before the seniors had come out of their seats. It seems to the writer that this is a custom which the Student Council should enforce if 1922 has not enough regard for Williams traditions to learn the sufficiency of a "word to the wise."

A Senior

Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 24, 1920
To the Editor of the Williams Record:
Dear Sir:

During this week which terminates in the first football game of the season, there will be held on Weston Field two cheering practices; the first on Tuesday at five o'clock and the second at the same time on Thursday. These will be the last two opportunities for practice in cheering and singing previous to the game Saturday, and inasmuch as there are several new cheers and movements for all to learn, and inasmuch as the cheerleaders have heretofore done away with all unnecessary practice, we feel that every single man in college should at these times honor us with his presence and his hearty active support.

The cheerleaders now reigning are endeavoring in every way in their power to put the singing and cheering back on its feet but unless they have the support of each and every man will be able to do nothing.

Besides the presence and support of every man we have only one other request to make: i.e. that any one (be he senior, freshman or member of the faculty) having criticism or helpful suggestion to make in regard to the cheering take the matter up first of all with one of the cheerleaders to be acted upon as seems advisable. Criticisms which merely spreads among the college body and never reaches our ears does no good whatsoever and a great deal of harm.

We ask that one and all turn out Tuesday and give us a chance. Then if you are still unsatisfied and have done your best towards making the party a success, we shall be glad to have your ideas as to the trouble and its remedy.

For the Cheerleaders,
HENRY M. UFFORD, '21

Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 23, 1920
To the Editor of the Williams Record:
Dear Sir:

The question "What are Deputations" has been asked many times on the campus by members of all four classes. In the hope of enlightening many, it seems best to give an account of one of the many Deputations taken last year.

A party of six, representing the Williams Christian Association, left Williamstown one Saturday afternoon for a small town outside of North Adams. On arriving at this town they were met by one of the ministers and introduced to some of the people at whose houses they were to be guests during their stay. After supper they put on an entertainment, which consisted of a series of vaudeville acts, in the town hall. Sunday morning they took charge of the church services, one reading the scripture, another taking part of the sermon, etc. After church the men distributed themselves among the boys' Sunday School classes and talked to these boys on college subjects. The Deputation Team, as such parties are called, returned to Williamstown that afternoon.

This is a brief account of a week-end Deputation. The fundamental principal of these deputations is to bring a further knowledge of Christ and a deeper understanding of religions to these people who are, in a way isolated from the bigger principles and ideals of the world. Too often we think of Deputations as the mere putting on of a "show" for the amusement of these people. The object in putting on a "show" is to give us an opening, a chance to "get next to" the people. Sometimes we cannot stay for the Sunday work. In such cases we try to help these people by affording them amusement, a thing that they get very little of.

Soon an opportunity will be given for men to get into this work. We can use everybody. So don't miss this chance of making yourself useful. Sign up for Deputation Work in the W. C. A. this year.

Signed
GEORGE IRVING ROUNDS '22
Chairman of the Deputation Committee of the W. C. A.

Freshmen to Meet Wednesday

1924 will meet for the second freshman get-together next Wednesday night in Jesup Hall at 7.30. The freshman orchestra will play, and there will be the usual singing and cheering practice. Coach Seeley will explain the conditions of the freshman-sophomore track meet, and Coach Brooks and Captain Boynton have been asked to speak for the purpose of rousing enthusiasm in preparation for the R. P. I. game on Saturday. In the way of entertainment Kellogg and Rounds '22 will present a black face act. After the meeting refreshments will be served in the reading room.

College Football Scores

Following are the results of the college football games played last Saturday:

Syracuse 55, Hobart 7.
Boston University 0, Maine 0.
Penn. State 27, Mullenberg 7.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Few Veterans at Penn.

But three varsity men have returned to the University of Pennsylvania for this year's football team. The freshman team was unusually good last season and Coach Heisman expects to round out a first class eleven from the material on hand before the game with Bucknell next week.

Princeton to Meet Chicago

Princeton will play a football game for the first time next year with the University of Chicago. The Westerners have played in the past with Pennsylvania, Cornell, Brown, and West Point and have about broken even with the Eastern colleges, in the total number of games won. The first game of the series will be played at Princeton, N. J., October 22, 1921.

Yale Teams Scrimmage

Despite the heat, the Yale varsity and second teams held a half-hour scrimmage Saturday in which the regulars scored two touchdowns. Captain Callahan was able to participate in the practice although still suffering from his injured leg. Paul Crane of last year's team and Cochrane, a scrub fullback were injured, and will be unable to play again until late in the season. The varsity lineup was as follows: end, Calhoun and Dilworth; tackles, McKay and O'Brien; guards, Herr and Dean; center, Callahan (Captain); quarterback, Kempton; halfbacks, Aldrich and French; fullback, Cochrane and Boltwood.

Call for Healers

Members of the class of 1923 will be given their third opportunity to try out for positions on the editorial board of the Record in a two months' competition starting next Thursday. All sophomores who are interested will meet the managing editor in the press room in Jesup Hall tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock when the details of the competition will be explained. A cut to about six will be made in approximately a month, and two men will be elected to the board at the end of the competition on December 9.

Shake-up at Syracuse

Several changes were made in the Syracuse lineup both before and after the game with Hobart. Captain Harry Robertson has been changed from his position as center to end and played a fast game against Hobart. The varsity has been weakened by the failure of two men to appear for practice. Both Brown and Usher have not returned to college and Coach Meehan has been forced to shift his team because of it.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP TO RECENT GRADUATE

Christopher L. Ward, 1920, Among Students Lately Receiving Oxford Appointments
64 CHOSEN FROM 400
Former Gargoyle Head Was Also Editor-in-Chief of 'Record,' and Class Day President

Christopher Longstreth Ward, 1920, of Wilmington, Delaware, has been chosen a Rhodes scholar for the year 1921, according to a list of successful candidates just made public by Professor Frank Aydelotte of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, American Secretary of the Rhodes trustees. He expects to leave for Oxford in October, 1921 to take up his new studies.

Some 400 men applied for the Rhodes scholarships this year, of whom 64 were chosen, half of whom will begin their studies at Oxford next January, whereas the rest enter next October. The Rhodes scholarships were instituted by the provisions of the will of Cecil John Rhodes. The men selected enter the Junior and Senior classes at Oxford as candidates for any one of various degrees.

While at Williams Ward was very prominent in his class. He was Class Day President, President of the Senior Class, Chairman of the Interfraternity Council, Editor-in-Chief of the RECORD, a member of the Student Council, the Honor System Committee, the No-Deal Committee, the Gulltlemesian Board, Editor-in-Chief of the Hawthorn, and leader of the choir. He was a member of the Cercle Francais, Pipe and Quill, and of the Gargoyle Society and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

QUARTET TO APPEAR

Flonzaley Players Will Open the Thompson Course

Although only one entertainment has been definitely arranged on the 1920-21 program of the Thompson Course, it is reasonably expected that the performances of the coming year will equal the high standard of superiority maintained in the past. To date the only definite number of the Course is the concert by the Flonzaley Quartet on Thursday, November 11.

Professor Karl Weston, who has charge of making up the program so generously financed each year by Mrs. F. F. Thompson of New York City, has been in no haste to engage performers during the summer, on account of the difficulty of making final arrangements so far in advance. By waiting until later in the season, it is possible to select from a wider variety of entertainers and lecturers, many of whom do not begin touring this country until about the beginning of October or November.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Mauro Delano, son of the late Mr. Eugene Delano, '66, the justly famous Flonzaley Quartet will reappear at Williams on November 11. Eugene Delano, who had been a Trustee of the college since 1900 for six years gave the college the performances of this quartet. On account of the tremendous popularity that these artists have attained through their past performances here, Mr. Mauro Delano has provided for their return in memory of his father.

Further numbers for the program are in course of arrangement now, and will be announced as soon as dates have been assigned them.

1923 Meeting Postponed

Insufficient numbers caused the postponement of the sophomore class meeting scheduled for last Thursday night. The date for the next one has been set by President Holmes for next Monday night at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

Adelphic Union Arranges Triangular Debate Plans

Arrangements for the holding of the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams Triangular Debates during the early part of December was decided upon at a meeting of the Adelphic Union last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. In addition it was decided to enter upon negotiations with Harvard for a debate during the middle or latter part of January. The usual spring debate with Brown and Dartmouth will probably take place during the last week of March.

Trials for the first triangular debate will be announced shortly. As several debaters on last year's victorious teams have since graduated from College, an excellent opportunity is open for good new material. Freshmen will only be eligible for the spring debates.

FULLE WILL CAPTAIN 1921 SWIMMING TEAM

Elected at Meeting of Letter Men Tuesday to Fill Place Left by Truman '20

Frederick William Fulle, Jr., of Montclair, New Jersey, was elected captain of the swimming team for the season of 1920-21 at a meeting of the letter men held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. Fulle will fill the vacancy left by Truman '20 who did not return to College.

Fulle prepared for Williams at the Montclair Academy. He was a member of his class football team and manager of his class baseball team during his freshman year at Williams. The next two years he was elected secretary of his Class. In his Junior year he did very creditable work as a member of the varsity swimming team and this year is a member of the varsity football squad. He is a member of the Kappa Beta Phi Society and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL ELEVEN UNDER WAY

Tentative Schedule for Season Is Announced—Weight of Team Will be Heavy

Three games at Williamstown and one away from home will probably make up the freshman football schedule for this fall according to announcement made by Blake '22, assistant manager of football. The tentative schedule which has not yet been ratified is as follows:

Union Freshmen on October 9 at Williamstown
Albany Academy on October 16 at Williamstown
Wesleyan Freshmen on October 30 at Williamstown
Amherst Freshmen at Amherst, if a game can be arranged for November 6 or 13

College Subject Will Be Presented Sunday Night

"Some Aspects of College Religions and Worship" will be the subject of Dr. John S. Zelic's talk before the Williams Christian Association next Sunday evening. The meeting will last the customary half-hour from 7.30 to 8.00 o'clock, followed by an informal discussion for those interested.

Dr. Zelic is particularly well qualified to discuss this subject as he is in constant and intimate touch with a number of colleges and universities in addition to conducting work for young men in his own church. During the war he proved to be one of the most popular chaplains in the Service, acting in this capacity with the Ambulance and Field Hospital service of the 28th Division in France.

W. C. A. ENTERTAINS 1924 CLASS AGAIN

Second Get-Together Featured by Talks from Coaches of Track and Football

Speeches by Coaches Brooks and Seeley and a song and dance sketch by Kellogg and H. Rounds '22 featured a well attended get-together of the Freshman class held in Jesup Hall last Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. These meetings are being conducted weekly by the Deputation Committee of the W. C. A. and will continue until rushing season.

Following selections by a six-piece freshman orchestra, G. Rounds '22 introduced Mr. Seeley who spoke on the coming interclass track meet and on the general opportunity which the track team offers to every member of the freshman class. Coach Brooks then addressed the meeting and emphasized the point that it was the duty of the class to attend every cheering practice and every game, and that he wanted them to make it the policy of the class to back all the teams, whether class or varsity. He also spoke on the esprit de corps of the freshmen and urged them "to pull together and to believe that they were the best class that ever came to Williams." Only by so believing and by working to live up to it, Coach Brooks said, could they be the best class in the history of the College.

Both speakers agreed that an ineligible athlete was worthless to the College as far as athletics were concerned and they especially urged the class to maintain a passing grade in their studies. Hard work in the first two years will make the last two far more enjoyable and easier, said Coach Brooks.

Finn and Lasell '21 led the class in cheering and singing and Lasell spoke for a few minutes about the College songs, in which he called Amherst the best small college in choral singing. He said that this year more stress would be placed on the quality of the singing rather than on the quantity.

After the cheering, Kellogg and Rounds '22 presented a black-face song and dance sketch during which they sang two of the song hits from last year's Smoker, "Days of Eph," and "Girls' Lips." The freshmen were asked to begin now to write songs for this year's smoker. The meeting then adjourned downstairs where refreshments were served.

DR. ZELIE TO PREACH

Former Chaplain and Author to Conduct Sunday Services

The Rev. Dr. John S. Zelic, D.D., '87, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Troy, N. Y., will deliver the sermon at the morning service in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday. Dr. Zelic has preached at Williams regularly for some years.

After graduating from Williams in 1887 and receiving his B.D. degree from the Yale Divinity School in 1890, Dr. Zelic

PURPLE SQUAD READY FOR R. P. I. CONTEST

Holds Short Scrimmage in Preparation for Opening Game of Season Tomorrow

THREE STARS INELIGIBLE

Loss of Boland, Caldwell, and Sweet Cripples Line of Red and White

Williams will meet Leusselaer Polytechnic Institute in the first football game of the season on Weston Field at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In final preparation for the contest Coach Brooks put the squad through a short scrimmage yesterday afternoon in spite of the wet weather.

Of the new candidates on the Purple squad Fulle and Humes will probably start the game tomorrow at the two guard positions, and McLean will play in the backfield. Frequent substitutions will probably be made, however, because Coach Brooks wants to test out his material and give experience to as many men on the squad as possible. Although an easy victory is not contemplated, all those candidates who have shown any promise at all will probably have a chance to play if Williams succeeds in establishing any considerable lead early in the contest.

Hibbard and Burger, who together with Captain Boynton will complete the backfield, demonstrated their ability to carry the ball last year. If the wet weather results in a slow field preventing open play and forward passes, it will be gains through the line of scrimmage on which the Purple will have to depend for victory, and these men will be called on to do most of the offensive work.

Three first string players on the Red and White squad have been declared ineligible by the Faculty. These men have been the mainstays of the team for the past two years, and their loss has caused Coach Graham much concern. They are

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

H. S. Prescott '22 Already Holds Place in Fourth Round

Satisfactory progress was made this week in the fall tennis tournament for the Rockwood Cup in spite of rather unfavorable weather conditions. In singles play in the second round was completed whereas the drawings for the doubles event have been made, and matches may be played at any time.

H. S. Prescott '22 leads the field, having reached the fourth round by defeating Searles '21 6-0, 6-0 and overcoming Morse '23 in a closely played match by the score of 7-5, 14-12. Bullock '21, captain on the tennis team made his first appearance in the tournament by defeating Banks '21 6-2, 6-3.

The summary of this week's play follows:

Second Round—E. P. Taylor '21 defeated Mr. Howes, 6-2, 6-1; Rosenwald '22 defeated Baker '21 6-2, 6-4; Hastings '22 defeated Muckenaupt '22 6-1, 6-1; Brigham '21, defeated Dowd '24 6-2, 6-0; Buck '24 defeated Moody '24 6-3, 6-3; Youngman '22 defeated Pickard '24 6-2, 6-1; Hall '21 defeated Cutler '21 6-3, 6-2; Herron '24 defeated Mr. Galbraith 6-1, 6-2; McAneny '23 defeated Atwell '21 by default; Brune '22 defeated Pevin '24 6-4, 6-4; Ewing '22 defeated Allison '21 6-4, 6-4; Peckham '22 defeated Stephens '23 by default; Blunt '21 defeated Ullery '22 4-6, 6-4, 6-4; Searles '21 defeated Buston '22 by default; H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Carman '21 by default; Morse '23 defeated Wallace '22 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Cluett '24 defeated Mosher '23 6-3, 6-3.

Third Round—Morse '23 defeated Cluett '24 6-3, 6-3; H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Searles '21 6-0, 6-0.

Fourth Round—H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Morse '23 7-5, 14-12.

Weston Field will again be enlivened with a dash of color when the scarlet-clad warriors from Troy invade Williamstown tomorrow for the first football game of the season. We hope for a decisive victory tomorrow which will be the successful beginning of an even more successful season. We have before us a difficult schedule, but one which offers proportionately greater opportunity for glory. The Record extends its heartiest wishes to Captain Boynton and his team in tomorrow's contest and those that follow.

'How Will You Vote?'

There is undoubtedly little in either the caliber of the candidates or the issue-dodging platforms on which they are balancing themselves, to challenge the interest of the intelligent voter in the present presidential campaign. As one writer has put it, "We have to choose between six Murphy's and half-a-dozen Penroses." Or, as a Williams professor recently said, "When we have a good lawyer we make him a governor; when we get a poor printer, we elect him president."

True as these statements may be, one of the men whom the two leading political parties are endeavoring to cram down the throats of the American public will surely be elected next November to the highest office in the land. And the undergraduate who votes for one or the other without trying first to weigh carefully the qualifications of both, and thence to come to an intelligent decision, is evading his duties both as a citizen and as a college man.

The interest in political affairs exhibited on the campus this fall has been surprisingly feeble. No political clubs have been formed, no speakers secured; and discussion of "how to vote" seems to play a small part in conversation between members of the student body.

There are already too many voters in this country who think that the League of Nations is a scheme of Lloyd George's to annex this country to the British Empire, or that Franklin Roosevelt is ex-president of the United States. We trust that Williams College will not help to swell the numbers of this herd.

Cap and Bells

About 100 men, including approximately 50 freshmen and 50 upper-classmen, attended a meeting held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall for those interested in competing for parts in the performance to be given this year by Cap and Bells. Power '21, president of the organization, announced that owing to the large number of men competing, trials would be held in shifts at some future date.

Less football surplus, 1919 2,000.00

It was only by economy and watchfulness that the 1919-1920 Student tax was made to cover the requirements of the year. The entire amount was collected as assessed. Had there been any delinquents there would have been a deficit instead of the small balance. The estimate for 1920-21 based on conservative figures calls for an expenditure of $12,000. With reasonable care, the Graduate Treasurer believes that this budget will be sufficient, although the advance in transportation rates, cost of athletic supplies, and labor will tend to bring about a deficit, this will be offset to a certain extent by the increased enrollment and by the fact that the very expensive trip to Ithaca has been replaced by the Harvard trip. The gate receipts for the present season are relied upon to offset the heavy expense for the new equipment for the football team.

It will be noted that Field and Track greatly exceeded its budget of $2,000 and that the 1920-21 amount has been placed at $3,000. As this department involves the largest number of men, this seems to be a just increase. Similar increases in all departments would make the tax unbearable.

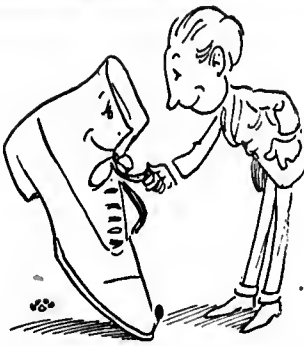

With these points in mind the Graduate Treasurer has announced the same tax rate as last year, $20 on each $100 of room rent with the usual reduction for scholarship men and total exemption for men actually working their way through college. The hearty co-operation of the entire undergraduate body is necessary to make this rate possible. Tax bills will be sent out soon after the first of October and prompt payment will enable us to meet current expenses.

E. Herbert Bolsjord, Graduate Treasurer

became the pastor of the Congregational Church, of Plymouth, Conn. He was pastor, in turn, of the Bolton Avenue Presbyterian Church, of Cleveland, Ohio, the First Reformed Church, of Schenectady, N. Y., and the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, of Plainfield, N. J., to which he was called in 1904, a year after receiving the degree of D.D. from his Alma Mater. He left Plainfield in 1917 to become an army chaplain, and served as chaplain of field hospitals and ambulances in the 2nd, 28th, and 79th Divisions abroad, as well as of Base Hospital, No. 30, A. E. F.

Dr. Zelig has written several books on religious topics, and is a contributor to The Independent and the Atlantic Monthly. He is chairman of the Alumni Committee of the Williams Christian Association.

Orchestra Will Be Formed

ing will be held directly after chapel Sunday morning in the choir room. All students of the College and the professors are eligible to compete, and Mr. Salter is particularly anxious to have a large number of freshmen report. There is a wealth of material in College for such an organization. The official college orchestra became inactive at the outbreak of the war and since then no effort has been made to revive it. As there is considerable demand at present for the orchestra, Mr. Salter has offered his services to assist in the reorganization. All men who attend the meeting should take their instruments with them. Clarinet players are especially needed.

'Cap and Bells' Trials Start

Trials for the eligibility list of Cap and Bells will be held this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. The contestants will report in five sections in accordance with the schedule posted on the Hopkins Hall bulletin board. No change in the schedule of the trials will be permitted and a man will not be given a second opportunity if he is absent from his first tryout. The members of last year's cast of Stop Thief and also Perry '21 and Loiseaux, Rosenwald, Terry and Zalles '22 are eligible without any trial. The try-outs for the freshmen will take place in about a week.

Freshman Football

Eleven Under Way

VanAlstyne '18, Carson '20, and Grout '22. Plenty of good material seems to be in evidence and according to present indications the team should average over 165 pounds. Many of the men have had experience in preparatory school football; and both line and backfield have veterans out for every position, although the backfield seems to have a shade better material than the line. Knight, one of the backs, has stood out especially because of his kicking ability.

Yesterday no outdoor practice was held owing to the rain, but the squad was given a short drill in the gymnasium on the fundamentals, and yesterday evening signal practice was held in the same place.

Golf Tournament Today

With the exceptionally large entry list of 50, the annual fall match play golf tournament opens today. Manager Gray '21 who has charge of the tourney, announces that all first round matches must be played before Wednesday, Oct. 6 and that a fee of fifty cents will be charged to cover the cost of a prize for the winner.

Matches may be played on any course agreed upon by the contestants. The tournament is a scratch affair, no handicaps being given. Although the drawings, now posted in Jesup Hall, were not available on going to press, the complete list of players is as follows:

Banks, Buckner, Carr, Cole, Hall, Kellogg, Milton, Mixer, Redfield, Roth, Seager, Searls, R. P. Towne '21, G. F. Baker, J. M. Baker, Brune, Bumstead, Burnham, Jeffreys, Loiseaux, Mendes, H. S. ### Football Squad Ready

For R. P. I. Contest

Sweet, right end, and Boland and Caldwell, guards. There is a ray of hope, however, in the fact that Eller will probably be eligible to fill his old position at quarter in the game tomorrow.

In a scrimmage last Wednesday afternoon the R. P. I. second team completely outplayed the varsity. Burns a transfer from Syracuse, making consistent gains at halfback for the scrubs. Holden ran the varsity team, Thompson being taken from the second team to fill his position at halfback. Lawler has been promoted to the first team to take Sweet's place, and Sparrow at left end is eligible and seems sure to hold his place. Shea, the fleet sprinter, also seems to have a sure berth at half.

Following are the line-ups of the two teams as they will probably face each other tomorrow afternoon:

SEN. W. M. CRANE DIES AT HIS HOME

Famous Trustee Succumbs After Long Illness Due to Brain Inflammation

WAS MASSACHUSETTS
GOVERNOR 1899-1902

Served in Senate from 1904 to 1913—On Republican National Committee

Winthrop Murray Crane, aged 67 years, United States senator from 1904 to 1913 governor of the state of Massachusetts from 1899 to 1902, and a trustee of Williams College since 1913, died from sleeping sickness due to inflammation of the brain at his home in Dalton at 4.00 o'clock Saturday morning. He had been ill since August 6 and his friends and family had long ceased to entertain much hope for his recovery.

For many years prior to his election as trustee, Senator Crane had been interested in the College, believing it one of the deserving institutions of his native county, and evincing his interest by generous gifts, many of them known only to the College officials. He was one of the chief contributors to various funds raised for the construction of dormitories and for increase of professor's salaries. He will long be remembered for these benefactions to the College, but longer still as a wise counselor and friend. His long experience in business affairs and his understanding of men gave peculiar value to his advice as a member of the board of trustees, and a few words from him quietly spoken carried more weight than much argument. His loss, therefore, will be deeply felt by all those connected with the College, since he was a true friend of the institution and willing at all times to give practical aid as well as wise counsel to any problem of moment.

Winthrop Murray Crane was born in Dalton, Mass., April 23, 1853, the son of Zenas Marshall and Louise (Laffin) Crane. His was a typical New England ancestry of the finest type and in many of his qualities his New England inheritance was strongly manifest. It was in 1799 that Zenas Crane, his grandfather, set out from Worcester to find a desirable paper mill site. At that time there were 15 paper mills in the New England states. The site in Dalton was selected in 1799, but the little "one vat" mill was not established until 1801, and was then called the "old Berkshire." Since this time, Senator Crane and his father and uncles have improved the original property, until the family now owns four large modern mills on the banks of the Housatonic River.

Mr. Crane was educated in the public schools, at Wesleyan Academy, and Wil-

FIX RUSHING PLANS

Interfraternity Council Must Have First Bids Early

Final plans for the 1920 rushing season were definitely arranged at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council in Jesup Hall last Friday evening. At the same time a small tax to cover the operating expenses of the Council was assessed each fraternity.

Bids for the first period of rushing will pass through the hands of the council and must be in not later than 7.30 p. m., Thursday, October 14. These dates will be arranged and mailed to the members of the Freshman Class by the following Saturday. Final bids for the third period will also pass through the hands of the council, which will place them in individual envelopes for each freshman. These envelopes may be secured from 9.00 to 10.30 a. m., Sunday, October 24, in Jesup Hall, and replies must be returned by 2.00 p. m. the same day to the various fraternity boxes which will also be in Jesup Hall.

ROOM FOR OPTIMISM IN COLLEGE RELIGION

Dr. John S. Zelig '87 Deplores
False Religious Exteriors in Talk before W. C. A.

"Great sympathy and deep searching are needed to find that deeper something known as true religion in the life of the average college man." Taking this thought as the theme for an informal talk at the W. C. A. meeting last Sunday evening, the Rev. Dr. John S. Zelig '87 analyzed the pose by which men of college age are apt to hide religious feelings.

Speakers come from afar only to be received by a pose which is in appearance almost an affront. When a prayer runs beyond the allotted time one man will start a wave of coughing which nearly causes the preacher to retire in embarrassment. Many students read during church thus making the implication that they are wasting their time. As the result of this attitude preachers have expressed the sentiment that it is hardly worth while to engage in college work.

On the other hand there is much that is fine and sincere which is taken in under this camouflage of seeming indifference. Is not the appearance merely a pose? In various individuals something will very often happen which uncovers the true feeling. Worship among students gives many great inspirations in spite of the obstacles on the surface.

Rough letters found on those lost in France show by their references that men in college have been deeply touched under this surface camouflage. On the whole one should feel the greatest optimism for college religion; for say what you will, religion in a college is in reality a great and pulsating thing.

Officers of the Student Fire Brigade numbering 62 and their respective posts have been announced by Chief Joslyn '21. Tomorrow evening a meeting for all officers will take place in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock.

Joslyn declared that it is extremely important for all the officers to be present at this meeting, as the various duties will be assigned and explained at that time. There are also blanks which must be filled out, telling of the condition of the various buildings. Careful inspection must be made of hose connections, fire extinguishers, fire escapes and exits, accumulation of waste material, and electric wiring in order to fill these blanks out properly. Team Piles up Huge Score of 63 to 6 in Opening Game with Weak Eleven

BOYNTON AND McLEAN
MAINSTAYS OF ATTACK

Former Gets Five Touchdowns and Three Goals—Holden
Intercepts Pass

Completely outclassing R. P. I. in every department of the game and scoring almost at will against the weak defense of the Red and White Williams started the 1920 football season with a 63 to 6 victory last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field. Fumbles marred the play of both teams, but in this respect the visitors were by far the worst offenders, losing the ball seven times.

Never since Williams defeated Vermont 73 to 11 in 1904, has a Purple eleven run up so large a score. From the first blast of the whistle to the close of the struggle it was Williams' game. The individual stars of the game were Captain Boynton, who scored five touchdowns, and McLean, who accounted for an additional two, but credit must also be given to the excellent work of the line and the fast backfield play of Richmond.

The mere fact that the Williams eleven was not held for downs during the entire game and only punted once shows clearly the power of the Purple attack. The team played straight football almost the entire time but when an aerial attack was attempted it proved equally effective, two of the touchdowns being a direct result of passes. Due to the good work of the ends, Joylyn in particular, and the accurate throwing of Captain Boynton, only two forward passes were incomplete. Another gratifying feature of the game was the placement kicking of Lasell who kicked five goals from touchdowns, a perfect percentage. He also captured the ball after a fumble and scored a touchdown. His work in the line however was noticeably weak. On the whole the eleven was unusually well drilled for an opening game and ran off plays with a precision which seems extremely promising.

For Rensselaer, Holden, the half back, was easily the star, playing an excellent offensive game. In the last quarter he intercepted a forward pass on his own 15 yard line and raced through a broken field of second string players for 80 yards, the longest single run of the game. Eller also played well in the backfield while Bourne scored the Red and White's touchdown.

TENNIS TEAM WINS

Van Schaack Island Team Loses
Five of Seven Matches

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 2—Williams defeated the Van Schaack Island Country Club tennis team here today by the score of 5-2 in a practice match held on the courts of Van Schaack Island Country Club. One match in the singles and one in the doubles were dropped to the Van Schaack Island team.

Rowse, playing number one, lost to James in straight sets 6-4, 7-5, in the fastest match of the afternoon. All the matches were slowed down, however, on account of the poor condition of the courts. In the singles matches Bullock defeated Puffer 6-4, 6-4; H. S. Prescott defeated Riddo 6-0, 6-2; and C. L. Taylor defeated Wachter 6-1, 6-0.

In the doubles Bullock and Rowse lost to James and Puffer 6-4, 5-7, 6-2; Prescott and Taylor defeated Wachter and Rowe 6-2, 6-2; and Youngman and Morse defeated Darling and Riddle 6-2, 6-3.

Winthrop Murray Crane

Williams men cannot but feel a deep sense of sorrow at the death of Senator Winthrop Murray Crane, trustee and devoted friend of the College for many years. Not only as a benefactor to Williams, but as an example of the highest type of American manhood, and as a rare political leader who was always actuated not by political expediency, but by the loftiest altruistic motives, must we mourn his loss.

In the words of President Garfield, "His loss will be deeply felt in many places and among widely different groups of men and his friendly ways and excellent judgment will be sadly missed, but the quality which will abide in the memory of all who knew him is that which made his understanding of men possible. He looked upon men unselfishly, dispassionately. He could therefore see with clear eyes as Franklin saw the play of prejudice, passion and error of opinion of other men and make due allowance for it. Yet he held firmly to his own high view of patriotism and of the duty we owe to the world in completing the work we have begun. In every relation Senator Crane was a fine example of an American citizen."

Following Williams' Lead

Amherst and Massachusetts Agricultural College, among other Eastern institutions, are investigating rushing systems used at other colleges, with a view to abolishing open rushing and adopting a method somewhat similar to that in force at Williams.

It should be gratifying to the men who have labored hard during past years to evolve a successful system of delayed rushing for Williams to know that other colleges are realizing the advantages of conducting rushing in this manner. The Williams system is by no means perfect, but it represents careful thought on the part of several college generations, and is undoubtedly preferable to the old "cut-throat" idea. We trust that future developments will continue to justify the hopes of those who have believed that Williams men are capable of supporting a system which depends for success upon honorable and sportsmanlike action by every fraternity man.

Modern Motive Might

MOUNTAINS, miles and minutes give way before electricity, the magic motive power. Properly applied, it drives giant locomotives across the continental divide, tows ocean liners through the Panama Canal, or propels huge ships.

Through good light, safe signals, and illuminated highways, it is making travel better and safer and also is increasing the usefulness of transportation methods on land, sea or in the air.

In short, electricity is revolutionizing transportation, making it quicker, safer, more economical and reliable in all sorts of weather.

And back of this development in electric transportation, in generating and transmitting apparatus as well as motive mechanisms, are the co-ordinated scientific, engineering and manufacturing resources of the General Electric Company, working to the end that electricity may better serve mankind.

Purple Machine Ploughs Through R. P. I. at Will

line, but after unsuccessful attempts to gain Rensselaer was obliged to punt. Boynton opened the Purple attack with a five yard gain around end. Off-tackle plays accounted for a first down. Burger plunged through guard for a short gain. After Hibbard and McLean had carried the ball within striking distance, Boynton ran around the opposing end and crossed the Rensselaer line for the first touchdown. Lasell kicked the goal.

Receiving Lasell's kick off, R. P. I. carried the ball back to her 37-yard line, but was forced to punt. Hibbard gained 10 yards and McLean an additional four. Receiving a pretty lateral pass Hibbard advanced the ball 18 yards. On an off-tackle play, Boynton netted eight more placing the pigskin on the 20-yard line. McLean now took the ball and broke through between tackle and guard for Williams second touchdown. Lasell again kicked the goal.

Another touchdown followed quickly when R. P. I. fumbled on the first play and Lasell scored from the 40-yard line. He then kicked the goal. The quarter ended with Williams in possession of the ball on its opponents' 40-yard line.

By steady gains through the line, Rensselaer made first down for the first time during the game. A costly fumble, however, and subsequent failure to gain forced Eller to kick. Receiving the ball in Purple territory, Williams launched a strong offensive. After eight and ten yard gains by Boynton and Richmond, who had been substituted for Hibbard, McLean broke through the Red and White defense for 28 yards. Boynton passed to Coddling for a 20 yard gain and then taking the ball from the 8-yard line crossed the goal on an off-tackle play. Lasell kicked the goal. When the quarter ended, Williams again held the ball in her opponent's territory.

Score: Williams—28, R. P. I.—0.

Second Half

The third quarter opened with a rush. Boynton receiving the kick-off on his 10-yard line and running the ball back to the center of the field. Richmond reached the 30-yard line by a dash around left end. Boynton gained 20 yards, but a line plunge failed. On the fifth play Boynton scored and subsequently kicked the goal.

Williams did not threaten again until the end of the quarter when Boynton carried a punt to the R. P. I. 28-yard line. Hibbard gained nine yards and Boynton made a long pass to Joslyn who scored the sixth touchdown. Boynton kicked the goal.

Eller received Fargo's kick-off, but punted when he failed to gain, after Hibbard had run the punt back ten yards. Boynton carried the ball to the 25-yard line. A short gain and a lateral pass to Richmond put the pigskin within 10 yards of the goal. Boynton crossed the Rensselaer goal line on a smash off tackle. Lasell kicked the goal.

Williams quickly scored again when R. P. I. fumbled and lost the ball. On the second play, Boynton passed to Burger at left end who juggled the ball, but McLean caught it before it touched the ground and scored easily. Lasell kicked the goal.

Following the kick-off, a blocked punt gave the ball to Williams on Rensselaer's 5-yard line. After an incomplete pass Boynton plunged through center for Williams' last touchdown.

R. P. I. made its score when Holden intercepted a forward pass near his own goal line and ran 70 yards through a broken field consisting entirely of second string players except Captain Boynton. On the fourth line plunge, Bourne crossed the Purple goal line and saved the visitors from a shut out. Eller failed to kick the goal. The game ended with R. P. I. in possession of the ball in Williams territory.

Score: Williams—63, R. P. I. 6.

Braham and Williston Seminary. He did not go to college. From the time he was seventeen years of age, he was associated in the family business of making paper, the direction of which has now fallen upon the shoulders of Mr. Crane's son, Winthrop Murray Crane, Jr.

In 1892, Mr. Crane became a member of the Republican National Committee and with the exception of the four years from 1900 to 1904, retained continuous membership in that body until he voluntarily resigned for the second time at the Chicago Convention last June. In 1896, he became a candidate for the lieutenant governorship of the state of Massachusetts. He won the election and served three terms under Governor Roger Wolcott. In 1899, he was elected governor and, being re-elected, served three terms.

When Senator George F. Hoar died in 1904, during the recess of Congress, John L. Bates, then governor, appointed Mr. Crane to the vacancy. When the state legislature convened in January, 1905, it promptly elected Mr. Crane to fill the remainder of the term, which expired two years later. He was subsequently re-elected for the full term following, and retired voluntarily at its expiration in 1913.

Harvard University, some years ago, conferred on Mr. Crane the degree of LL.D. in recognition of his services as governor of the state.

Mr. Crane was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary Benner, of Astoria, Long Island. They were married in 1880 and she died four years later, leaving him one son, Winthrop Murray Crane, Jr., now his successor in business. Twenty-two years later he married Miss Josephine Porter Boardman, youngest daughter of a prominent family of Cleveland and Washington. Mrs. Crane survives him with three children, Stephen, Bruce and Louise.

The funeral will be at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon at the Crane residence and will be public. During the hour preceding the services, the body will lie in state at the Dalton house. The burial in the Dalton cemetery will be private. President Harry A. Garfield, Mr. Bentley W. Warren, '85, and Mr. Alfred C. Chapin '69 expect to attend the funeral.

Instead of fewer cigarettes how about less Turkish?

SMOKERS are learning that straight Turkish cigarettes, as delicious as they are, are so rich that they soon tire the taste. They contain too much Turkish tobacco.

But smokers are learning also that instead of cutting down the number of cigarettes per day, they can cut down on the proportion of Turkish tobacco in each cigarette.

They can do this by switching to part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes.

However, many men find that ordinary Turkish Blends lack taste—they contain too little Turkish.

And so more and more smokers, as shown by sales-reports like that above are turning to Fatima. For Fatimas are part-Turkish—not all-Turkish like straight Turkish cigarettes. Yet they contain more Turkish than any other Turkish Blend.

ELEVEN WILL FACE GARNET TOMORROW

Purple Squad in Fine Shape for Second Contest of Year at Schenectady

UNION LOST TO WEST POINT LAST SATURDAY

Varsity's Opponents Also Beaten by Middlebury—Nine Veterans Back

With the first football game of the season now in the background, Coach Brooks has been devoting the practices of the past week to smoothing off some of the rough edges which appeared in the R. P. I. game and to rounding the team into shape for the contest with Union College tomorrow afternoon, at Schenectady, N. Y. Scrimmages have been held every day this week the varsity being matched at different times against the scrubs and against the freshman team.

No serious injuries having been incurred last Saturday, the team is in excellent condition for the game with Union, and the same line-up which started the game with R. P. I. will probably be used again tomorrow. In the practice scrimmages of the first four days this week, the team showed a decided improvement, especially in line plays. Of the new men, Richmond '22 and Shuttleworth '23, in the backfield and line respectively, seem to be showing up particularly well, and Burger '21, who was slightly injured in the R. P. I. game, has recovered and is reporting for practice. Coddington and Joslyn '21, who are still holding the end positions, have been doing fast work in that department.

In regard to the relative strength of the two teams little can be said by way of comparative scores thus early in the season. Union, however, has a slight advantage in having commenced its schedule one week earlier than Williams. The Union aggregation reported for the first practice of its season the morning of September 9, on Alexander Field, under the direction of Coach Perry E. Leary, a former Colgate player and a graduate in the class of 1915. Several players of former teams are back on the eleven, including Captain Gregory, nt guard, Goff, Jones, Murray, and Rinaldi, in the backfield, and Beekman, Hendrickson, Klein, and Sullivan in the line. Coach Leary has been devoting most of the practice to the development of speed in the backfield and in the line, the first few days being given over to passing and falling on the ball, starting and sprinting, going down under punts, tackling the dummy, hitting the line, and learning new plays.

On Saturday, September 25, Union lost its opening game to Middlebury College, by a score of 6-0. The touchdown was

UNION FRESHMEN TO OPEN SEASON HERE

1924 Team Will Meet Test Tomorrow—Little Known of Visiting Eleven

While the varsity is struggling against the Garnet in Schenectady, the freshman football eleven will make its debut against the Union first-year eleven next Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston field. Although little is known of the strength of the opposing team they are reported to have good material and will undoubtedly form a severe test for the 1924 combination.

First scrimmage with the varsity was held on Wednesday afternoon and while the first year men put up stiff opposition to their opponents, the line seemed to be of doubtful calibre, while the backfield appeared decidedly promising. Coach Van-Alstyne '21 is satisfied with the progress the freshmen have made in the two weeks that they have been out and is confident that they will round out in good shape and display considerable teamwork. Among the players who have shown up well in the first scrimmages are McKenne, at end, and Carpenter and Knight, in the backfield. The team contains a number of other good "prep" school players and is expected to develop a strong offense. The probable line-up for Saturday's game follows:

Williams	Union
Etheridge, lc	re, Nichtman
Barnewall, lt	rt, Van Vost
Robinson, lg	rg, Route
Barnes, c	c, Ghm
Johnson, rg	lg, Carpenter

Ufford '21 Chosen Head of Non-Athletic Council

Members of the non-athletic council, at a meeting of that body held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall, elected the following officers for the coming year: Ufford '21, president; Power '21, vice-president; and Moody '21 secretary. Budgets for the several non-self-supporting organizations in College were discussed, but action was deferred until the next meeting, following which the Council will be referred to the Student Council for the assessment of a non-athletic tax.

At the same meeting it was decided that each undergraduate organization provide for a sinking fund for the purpose of deferring any deficit which may occur. In this connection it was ruled that self-supporting organizations, such as undergraduate publications, should provide their own sinking funds from their profits, and that non-self-supporting bodies should provide sinking funds from the proceeds of the non-athletic tax.

Saturday, November 6, the date of the Williams-Hamilton football game was set as the day for the regular annual Freshman Peerade at a meeting of the Peerade Committee held in Jesup Hall last Monday evening. No details concerning the personnel or features of the spectacle have yet been determined, but the Committee is now working out plans which will be perfected and coordinated at a future meeting.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES ELECTS NEW MEMBER

Herbert J. Brown '85 Is Selected to Fill Vacancy—History Instructor Named

Election of Mr. Herbert J. Brown, Class of 1885, of Portland, Me., to fill one of the two vacancies now existing on the Board of Trustees, and the appointment of Mr. Clifford Chester Hubbard of Harvard University as an Instructor in Government and History, chiefly occupied the attention of the trustees at their regular October meeting held yesterday in Williamstown. All the trustees were present with the exception of Mr. Holden, Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Stetson.

It was directed at the meeting that a minute be prepared recognizing the great loss which has come to the country and to the college in the death of Winthrop Murray Crane, a member of the Board of Trustees. Suitable recognition of the death of Professor John Haskell Hewitt was also provided for.

Mr. Brown, the new trustee, is president of the Brown Corporation, a lumber and pulp concern doing business in Maine, New Hampshire, and Canada. Mr. Hubbard, the newly appointed instructor in Government and History, graduated from Brown University in 1908. After a period of years as high school instructor and principal, he took up graduate work at Harvard, where he recently received his M.A. degree. He will resume his post-graduate work after a year at Williams.

The Board considered the construction of a temporary field house on Cole Field, and referred the matter to the Committee on Grounds, Buildings, and Improvements, with power to act.

Start on Fire Prevention

Blanks to be filled out stating the condition of buildings from the point of view of safety from fire were given to the newly appointed second lieutenants of the College Fire Brigade at a meeting of that organization in Jesup Hall last Tuesday evening. It was announced by Fire Chief Joslyn '21 that a practice drill would be held in the near future.

PROFESSOR HEWITT DIES IN 85th YEAR

Popular Professor Emeritus Succumbs After Brief Illness Due to Indigestion

FUNERAL HELD THIS MORNING IN CHAPEL

Served as Williams Professor for 27 Years—Acted as President Also

Professor John Haskell Hewitt, LL.D., Garfield professor of ancient languages at Williams College from 1882 to 1909, at one time acting president of Williams, and since 1909 professor emeritus, died suddenly at one o'clock on Wednesday morning at his home in Williamstown. Professor Hewitt's health had been failing for several years, and death came at the age of 85 years, following an attack of indigestion.

Dr. Hewitt was born August 8, 1835, at Preston, Conn., a son of Charles and Eunice (Witter) Hewitt. He entered Yale College in 1855 and was graduated with distinction in the class of 1859. He graduated from the Yale Theological Seminary in 1863, and in 1867 received the degree of A.M. from Yale. In 1867 he became professor of the Latin language and literature at Olivet College in Michigan, holding that position until 1875, when he was elected professor of Latin and Greek at Lake Forest College, Illinois.

Dr. Hewitt remained at Lake Forest College until 1881, and spent the year 1882 in study abroad. In that same year he was called to Williams College as Garfield professor of ancient languages. In the year 1901 he was acting president of the college, and from 1903 to 1909 was Lawrence professor of the Greek language and literature, becoming professor emeritus in 1909. During this period Professor Hewitt received the degree of A.M. from Williams in 1888, and the degree of LL.D. from Union College in 1895.

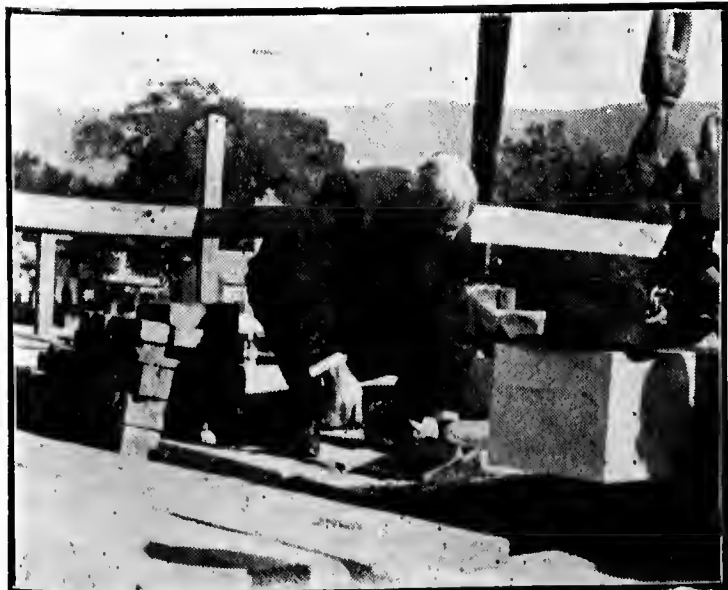

Dr. Hewitt was a member of the managing committee of the American School in Rome, a member of the executive committee of the American School in Athens, a member of the American Philological Association, and of the Archaeological Institute of America. He was also a member of the New England Classical Association, serving as president of that body from 1907 to 1909.

Professor Hewitt's funeral was held in the Williams College Chapel at eleven o'clock Friday morning. The services were conducted by the Rev. John S. Zehe '87, of Troy, New York, and by President Garfield. Burial took place in the Westlawn cemetery. College exercises from ten until twelve o'clock were omitted, to permit the attendance of the faculty and student body.

WILL SETTLE PLANS

Debate Representatives to Meet in Springfield Tomorrow

Tentative plans for the 1920-21 season of the debating team have been announced by Manager E. P. Tylor '21, the schedule to consist of four debates, two of which will be the annual triangular contests with Wesleyan and Amherst, and Brown and Dartmouth. Final arrangements for the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular debate will be made at a meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in the Hotel Kimball, Springfield, Mass. Friday, December 3 has been accepted as a probable date for this contest, when Amherst will send a team here, and Williams will meet Wesleyan in Middletown, Conn. Of the other two debates, one will be scheduled with Harvard at Cambridge and one with Union College if arrangements can be made. Atwell '21, manager of last year's championship team, will represent Williams at the meeting in Springfield tomorrow.

Great Oaks and Little Acorns

"Great oaks from little acorns grow," says the sage. We witnessed yesterday the planting of the cornerstone acorn which we hope to see sprout into a great spread of foliage in the form of our new College library. Lest we fall into the error of the amateur gardener and expect our tree to develop without further attention, let us remember, however, that the Oak is notorious for its slow growth, and will need expert care and constant watching if it is to put forth its branches in anything like the near future. The policy of "waiting for the snow to protect the workmen," as progress upon the library was characterized last spring, will not assist in the speedy progress of the acorn.

Williams Ghosts of Columbia

After cheering triumphantly over the Columbia team's 21-0 victory over Trinity last Saturday, the Columbia Spectator changes its tone when ghosts of last year's game against Williams begin to walk, and the editorial writer concludes rather shudderingly:

"One game does not make a season, to be sure, and we are loath to become unduly jubilant over the football team's success until Benny Boynton has brought his gang down from Williamstown and tried Columbia's mettle."

We trust that "Benny Boynton and his gang," when they arrive in New York October 30, will give the Spectator less cause than ever to become "jubilant."

"Mental Slumber at Williams"

The indifferent attitude of Williams undergraduates toward the coming presidential election, which was deplored in these columns a week ago, finds an echo in The Dartmouth of last Tuesday, which prints an editorial on the similar state of affairs at the New Hampshire college. Dartmouth seems to have, however, at least a movement on foot to start political clubs for the purpose of stimulating interest, whereas Williams cannot even boast this evidence of political intelligence.

The Dartmouth's editorial, which follows, applies with even greater force, sad to say, at Williams:

"Under the inspiring title 'Our Unrebellious Youth' the editors of the New York Times some weeks ago indulged in a long and enthusiastic eulogy of the ways of thinking and mental habits of the American college man as contrasted with his confreres on other continents. The authors of the editorial referred to had observed the fact, patent to even the most unobserving, that the undergraduate student in the United States was not at all excited over the numerous movements for reform and revolt disturbing the older parts of the world and our metropolitan centers in this country, but, on the contrary, appeared eminently satisfied with the existing order of things. The conclusion drawn by these writers was that the college man was complaisant because he had investigated the reasons given for rebellion, turned them over in his mind, discovered no glaring social injustices, and decided to agree with the old phrase that 'what is, is right.'

"Not long after the appearance of this article a gentleman with a name which led the reader to infer that his grandfather very probably had not been born in Boston wrote to the Times protesting vehemently against this conclusion. He declared that students in American universities were contented simply because they didn't think at all; that they were mentally asleep amidst the great issues of the day, and that their apathy was so great that they were incapable of giving any effective response or reaction to any progressive movement. This charge is one which cannot be belittled, whether or not complete assent or dissent be given to it. College students today may, perhaps, be as keenly alive to what is going on in the world about them as they were 50 or 100 years ago, but they most certainly do not reveal many traces of this mental activity.

According to one leading statesman, there was to be taken this year 'a great and solemn referendum' on the question of ratification of the Versailles Treaty and participation in the League of Nations. The politicians did not agree with this statesman, however, and so they placed before the people for their approval or disapproval two candidates who had never been known to have any decided opinion one way or another on the issue which was to play the leading part in the coming campaign. Perhaps the statesman was right and the politicians were wrong; anyhow, interest in the Presidential campaign has lagged alarmingly of late, and this lack of interest has been reflected in undergraduate circles in Hanover.

"The Dartmouth still believes that, however great the odds may appear in favor of one of the candidates, the outcome of the election is by no means certain. If the issue is not sharply divided, there are at least personal qualifications on which decision can, and must, be made. Surely there are some men in Dartmouth who enjoyed a hearty laugh when they read the statement of the editors of The New Republic regarding Senator Harding to the effect that 'Not in this generation has a more illiterate mind and a feebleness of intelligence reached so exalted a place.' Or perhaps there are others who agree with the frequent characterization of Governor Cox as 'a blustering demagogue in buoyant health.' We believe there are such men and we should like to see them express their firm convictions by participating in live political clubs, such as a movement already on foot is aiming to organize.

"The Dartmouth does not feel in a position to express a preference for any candidate, but will render the fullest possible publicity to the doing of any honest political organization whatsoever, in which undergraduates of the same political belief may come together. It is only by the formation and energetic support of such Republican, Democratic or even Socialist Clubs that Dartmouth undergraduates can refute the accusation that they are members of a group which is not contented and unrebelling but rather apathetic."

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN HASKELL HEWITT

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved advisor and friend, Dr. John Haskell Hewitt, a former acting president of the College, and an exponent in his own life of the most worthy ideals of Williams, Be it Resolved, that we, the Student Council of Williams College, in behalf of all Williams undergraduates, do hereby express our deep and universal sorrow at the loss of one whose lasting efforts have done so much for us as a body, and whose kindness has meant so much to us as individuals; and that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family whose greater grief we cannot but realize in feeling the burden of loss of our own share in his life; and

Be it further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be published in the Williams Record, and that a copy also be sent to the bereaved family.

Former Educator Will Preach Here on Sunday

Dr. Raymond Calkins, D.D., pastor of the Shepard Memorial (Congregational) Church of Cambridge, Mass., will occupy the pulpit at the morning service next Sunday. Dr. Calkins has had a successful career both as minister and teacher since his graduation from Harvard in 1890.

For some years a professor of modern languages at Grinnell College, Iowa, and an instructor in German at Harvard, Dr. Calkins' interests have always remained with college men. Before assuming his present pastorate in 1912, he held similar positions at the Pilgrim Memorial Church, Pittsfield, Mass., from 1897-1903, and at the State Street Church, Portland, Me., from 1903-1912. Bowdoin and Grinnell Colleges bestowed on him the D.D. degree in 1907 and 1914 respectively. Dr. Calkins has always maintained a youthful outlook in his various activities, and this coupled with his gifts as a thinker and a leader has given him a great influence among college men.

START W. C. A. PAPER

"Haystack Herald" Is Name of
New Journal in Hopkins

Under the auspices of the Foreign Mission Study Committee of the W. C. A., the first issue of a weekly bulletin entitled the Haystack Herald appeared last Monday on the bulletin board on the second floor of Hopkins Hall. By posting every Monday a collection of newspaper clippings on foreign subjects, the committee hopes to stimulate interest in missionary work in other lands.

The articles appearing in the Herald will be selected from various publications and newspapers and will be of a unique and varied character touching on all the phases of life on the other side of the world. An illustration of the general contents of the Herald is found in the following extracts from the description of a gold match in India appearing in last Monday's issue. "A match which aroused great interest was played at Tollypore during last week. The first hole, 359 yards, Mr. Manall led off with a low bumping shot to within 350 yards of the pin. Mr. Clare drove to the edge of the green.

Twenty minutes afterwards, the hole was halved in 14. At the eleventh Mr. Clare drove a divot 150 yards. Approaching the edge of the thirteenth green, Mr. Clare made the longest shot of the match. —The eighteenth hole, the longest of the course was halved in a strenuous 25."

The management of the new "publication" is in the hands of Schlessinger '21 and Count '22, who will be glad to receive contributions of an appropriate character.

During the week 25 first round matches were played off, and one second round match, that in which H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Roth '21 was also decided by a score of five and four.

Funeral of Sen. Crane Attended by Over 2000

Senator Winthrop Murray Crane, ex-Governor of Massachusetts and Trustee of the college, who died last Saturday morning, was buried Monday afternoon at his home in Dalton, Mass., over 2000 people from all walks of life assembling to pay homage to him. Representatives of the national and state governments, of the pulp and paper industry, in which Senator Crane had long been a leading figure, of the state judiciary and of various business and charitable enterprises, as well as hosts of personal friends and admirers, attended the service, which was very simple and dignified, in keeping with the Senator's life. President Garfield and several members of the Board of Trustees represented the College at the funeral.

Glee Club Personnel Chosen

Trials for positions on the Glee Club held this week have resulted in the election of 22 men to the personnel of that organization. Those who won regular positions on the club are as follows: first tenors—Wells '21, Brigham, Johnson, Olmsted, Richmond '22, and Wilson '24; second tenors—Dillingham '21, Lewis '22, Barton, Parkhill, and Power '21; first basses—Allen, Noble '21 (leader), Greene '23, Archer and McMillan '24; second basses—Combes '21, Chapman, Edson, Rowse '22, Patton and J. Buckner '24. Five men were chosen to auxiliary positions. They are as follows: first tenors—Wagner '21 and Rounds '23; first basses—Bennett '23 and Starr '24; second bass—Parker '24.

Hold First Council Meeting

Members of the Student Council met last Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall for the first meeting of that body this year. At this time permission was granted to the Williams Christian Association to canvas its members for the purpose of raising a fund of $500 for the benefit of the Canton Christian College.

At the same time it was voted to grant the Outing and Press Clubs on representative each on the non-athletic council, and to announce that all petitions for agencies for special trains to the Harvard and Columbia football games must be in the hands of the Student Council by next Tuesday.

N. Y. Men Must Register Now

Undergraduates living in New York should take cognizance of the fact that Saturday, October 9, is the last day on which persons having their legal residence in that state may register to vote in the national election, November 2. No date for residents in Massachusetts has yet been set, but a bulletin giving advance notice of such time will be posted in the Williamstown post-office several days before registration.

Tourney Nears Semi-Finals

As the fall college tennis tournament approaches the semi-finals, three decisive victories are to be added to the record. Rowse '22 defeated Hastings '22 by a score of 1-6, 10-8, and 9-7; Bullock '21 defeated Ewing '22, 6-4, 7-5; and E. P. Taylor '21 defeated Blackmer '24, 7-5, 7-5. All first round double matches must be played off by tomorrow night. The tournament will close on Saturday, October 16.

Orchestra Will Rehearse

Members of the newly formed College Orchestra will hold a rehearsal Sunday afternoon after chapel services in the Choir Room.

McGRATH ENTERTAINS

Freshman Get-together Learns Also of Peerade Plans

Entertainment for the third weekly Freshman get-together held in Jesup Hall last Wednesday evening was furnished chiefly by McGrath '23, appearing as a slight-of-hand artist. At the same time Banks '21, chairman of the Freshman Peerade committee, outlined the purpose and composition of the parade.

After several selections by the popular freshman orchestra, Belcher '21 rehearsed the class in cheering. Banks then explained the conditions of the annual peerade, and called on all men who had any ability along certain lines of entertainment to report to him after the meeting. He announced that each member of the class would be assessed one dollar to defray the expenses of the committee. McGrath's exhibition of black magic was skillfully presented and well received.

Rounds '22, chairman of the Deputations Committee of the W. C. A., under whose auspices the get-togethers are held, announced that the last gathering of the class before rushing season, to be held next Wednesday evening, would be featured by entertainment of a musical nature.

Marked Style Changes in Men's Clothes for Fall

Style changes for Fall as correctly interpreted by Society Brand Clothes will be heartily welcomed by undergraduates who pay particular heed to their appearance.

The long vent in the coat has gone. Vents in modish suits this Fall will be noticeably shorter.

Body contours have changed. The high waist line and the pinched-in effect have gone.

Coats hang with greater fullness from the shoulder. The result is a pleasing effect of unusual ease and smartness.

These are the distinctive style features that mark this season's models in Society Brand Clothes.

At a meeting of the sophomore class held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall, Henry B. Wightman, of New York City, was elected to represent the class on the honor system committee. At the same time William M. Partington, of Fall River, Mass., was elected manager of the class soccer team. As the only game which the football team will play this year will be with the freshmen, it was deemed inadvisable to elect a new football manager, and John N. Anderson, of Buffalo, N. Y., the manager of the team last year, was again elected to that position.

Captain X had taken with him a liberal supply of Pall Mall famous cigarettes (plain ends). By the time he landed they were gone.

Back in America once more the Captain came and gave us his idea,—a big idea. He suggested that we make Pall Mall cigarettes round in shape, loosely rolled and plain end—a cigarette that does not have to be tapped, squeezed or loosened, a cigarette with a free and easy draught.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED IN FIRST FALL GAME

Union 1924 Team Reverses Variety Result In Loosely Played Contest

FINAL SCORE IS 13 TO 7

Purple Cubs Lack Team Work And Ability At Open Field Running—Line Is Good

In a rather loosely played game the Williams freshman team was defeated by the Union first year men last Saturday afternoon, on Weston Field, by the score of 13 to 7. The play on both sides was marred by lack of team work, and the Williams yearlings were greatly handicapped by the loss of several of their best men at the last moment through ineligibility.

Throughout the entire game bad fumbles were evident. The Williams freshmen, although their line work was commendable, showed great lack of ability in open field running, while many of Union's gains were due to good interference. Johnston, of Williams, kicked off, and after the ball had seen-sawed back and forth for some minutes, Belling, the Union full-back, picked up a fumble and ran the length of the field for a touchdown and the first score of the game. The goal was missed. Perkins, of Williams, next made a substantial gain, but the ball was again lost, and Turner, the Union captain, scored a touchdown and kicked the goal, making the last score of the day for the visitors.

In the second quarter the Williams offensive became more aggressive and Johnston, picking up a fumble on the 15, yard mark, carried the ball across the Union line, Barnes kicking the goal.

The Williams line, in the third quarter, continued to hold, but Belling, of Union, finally got through and would have scored, but a touchdown was not allowed because a Williams man was taken out from the rear, and Union was penalized 15 yds. Neither goal, in the last quarter, was seriously threatened until Gregory, of Williams, on a comeback play, skirted right end for 35 yards, but fumbled when tackled behind the goal posts.

TRUSTEES MEET AND ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Attainments and Qualities of Byron Johnson Rees Are Commemorated

In order to express fittingly their sorrow upon the death of Professor Rees, the Trustees adopted at their meeting last Thursday the following resolution, and ordered it spread upon their minutes:

"Byron Johnson Rees was a scholar of rare accomplishments, a master in his chosen field of English, an inspiring and successful teacher. Joined to these scholastic attainments were spiritual qualities that left their indelible impress upon the life of this College. His unfailing industry, his modesty, the refining purity of his life, and his sane and wholesome outlook upon the world about him attracted in an extraordinary degree the friendship and affection of those with whom he came into contact, and exemplified before the student body ideals of Christian manhood that Williams has always sought to inculcate in her sons.

"As an expression of our grief and sense of personal loss in the passing of Professor Rees, and in recognition of his devoted service to this College and his inspiring influence in the classroom and upon the campus throughout the sixteen years of his life among us, this minute is placed upon the records of the Board."

Underclass Track Meet Will Be Held This Week

Seven events will form the schedule for the opening day of the annual Freshman-Sophomore track meet which begins at 4.15 o'clock this afternoon on Weston Field. As usual entries will be received until the events are actually run off and may be made with the officials on the field, as well as on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall.

The events which will be held today are the 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, mile run, high jump, shot put and discus throw. The remaining contests which will take place tomorrow are as follows: 220-yard dash, 120-yard low hurdles, 880-yard run, pole vault, broad jump, hammer throw.

All entrants are cautioned to appear promptly on time, as the events will be run off as scheduled without delay.

TRACK TEAM WORKING SLOWLY INTO SHAPE

Cross Country Trials Will Be Held Tuesday—Material Shows Promise

Informal track practice is being held every afternoon on Weston Field, and many of last year's "W" men are working out regularly, running with the sophomores and freshmen who are preparing for the freshman-sophomore meet. The cross-country squad is working hard in preparation for the fall meets, covering a course of from three to seven miles each afternoon.

Thus far, according to Coach Seeley, no man of outstanding ability have been discovered among the freshman runners, but there is a wealth of material from which to choose. The Freshman-Sophomore meet will be the first real crucial test of the worth of the freshman track men, and promises to bring to light several likely candidates for the team who are now playing freshman football. Among the members of last year's squad who are working out on the track each afternoon are Coughlin '21, McWhorter, P. Phillips, and Wallace '22, and Barnes and Chapin '23.

The distance men, including Captain Crofts, are running with the cross country squad. The prospects for the cross-country team look bright, since Captain Brown and Platt are the only members of last year's team lost by graduation. The squad at present is composed of Coan, Crofts and Kellogg '21, Adams, Dickenson Seaman, and Wolfe '22, and Fasse, Fitcher, C. F. Jones, and Webb '23. Trials will be held Tuesday afternoon when seven men will be picked. The tentative schedule for the cross-country team, which has been arranged by Manager Banks, but which has yet to be ratified by the Athletic Council, is as follows: October 30—Columbia at New York, November 6—Wesleyan at Williamstown, November 13—N. E. I. C. A. A. meet at Boston, and November 22—I. C. A. A. A. meet at New Haven. Manager Banks is negotiating for a meet with Massachusetts Agricultural College on October 23, but as yet has made no definite arrangements.

GOLF PLAY IS SLOW

Second Round Of Tournament Play Not Yet Finished

Play in the fall golf tournament is progressing rather slowly; and, although all second round matches were to be played off by yesterday evening, a number yet remain to be played. The results of the second round at the time of going to press were as follows:

G. F. Baker '22 defeated Shaw '23, 2 and 1; H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Roth '21 5 and 4; Rose '22 defeated Bixby '23, 8 and 6; Graves '23 defeated Carleton '24, 2 and 1; Anthony '23 defeated G. M. Baker '22, 3 and 2; Comstock '24 defeated Mr. Agard by default; Kaufman '23 defeated Jeffreys '22 one up.

ARMENIANS NEED AID FROM UNITED STATES

E. T. Perry '18, Former President of W. C. A., Speaks Before Sunday Meeting

IN NEAR EAST RELIEF WORK

Served A Year Under American Committee—Describes Conditions

Speaking at the regular meeting of the Williams Christian Association last night in Jesup Hall, Edward T. Perry '18, former president of the Christian Association and editor-in-chief of the RECORD, told of his experiences during a year's service with the American Relief Committee in the Near East. He laid particular emphasis on the need and privations of the Armenians and urged the necessity for further assistance from the American people.

Perry opened his address by discussing briefly the national traits of the Armenians whom he characterized as energetic, courageous, and thrifty. In this connection he pointed out that when the Kurds raided the Baku district, the inhabitants armed themselves as best they could and put up a vain but futile resistance against the lawless invaders in behalf of their women and children. Subsequently, the people of the district successfully repelled the invasion of the Turkish Nationalists army. These good qualities are however partially offset by certain faults inherent in Eastern people, chief of which is a low standard of honesty.

In telling more directly of his own experiences Perry said that on reaching the Caucasus in April 1919, he found the district terribly crowded with more than 300,000 Armenian refugees in a frightful condition, emaciated, and without sufficient means of sustenance. On his way to Igdir, his headquarters while in Russian Armenia, he found the roads lined with the bones not only of animals but also of human beings who had perished from exhaustion and starvation. In the fields also it was a common sight to see people literally grazing in the fields in a vain effort to gain nourishment.

Conditions at Igdir, which is a typical mud town in Armenia were even worse, dead bodies lying uncarcared for in the streets and the people themselves, but living skeletons. As a result of these frightful conditions one third of the people have perished while in certain towns war and hunger have carried away over 75 per cent of the population.

This gives merely an example of the vast work to be done. In the same district of Erivan, the capital of the new Armenian Republic, 30 American workers had cared for 10,000 orphans, housing and giving a vocational training to half this number and providing food and clothing for the rest. The hospitals had over 1,500 patients while thousands of patients were treated at the dispensaries. The American workers also had charge of soup kitchens which provided food for 52,000 people. The speaker pointed out that these were but local instances of the work done by the Near East Relief which is now providing for 100,000 orphans in Asia Minor, and by its timely aid has unquestionably saved the lives of over 500,000 Armenians. Such is the gratitude of these people that the President of Armenia has repeatedly declared "America has saved us from starvation."

Musical Vaudeville Will Entertain Get-Together

In the fourth and last of the freshman get-togethers, which will be held in Jesup Hall on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock under the auspices of the W. C. A., Greer, Hyde and Wallace '22 will offer the main attraction of the evening in the form of a vaudeville act consisting of stunts on various musical instruments. In case Thursday is Mountain Day, the entertainment will take place on Friday evening at the same time and place.

Special attention will be given to cheering practice in preparation for the Harvard football game next Saturday, and in this connection Boynton '21, captain of the football team, will have a few words to say to the Freshmen. In addition to this the various committee chairmen of the W. C. A. will explain the details of the work of their separate committees. Music will be furnished by the Freshman orchestra, and refreshments will be served.

WILLIAMS RECIPIENT OF GENEROUS GIFT

Sum of $25,000 is Donated to College Through Will of Late Sen. Crane

Under the terms of the will of the late Senator Winthrop Murray Crane, a former trustee of Williams College, who died recently at his home in Dalton, Williams receives a bequest of $25,000. This was made known last Friday, when the will was filed for probate by the Senator's attorney, Mr. J. F. Bacon.

Senator Crane's estate has been estimated at $15,000,000, and of this specific bequests to the amount of $4,582,000 were announced. In addition to numerous legacies made to individuals the will provides for specific public benefactions amounting to a total of $865,000. Upon the town of Dalton, birthplace and home of Senator Crane, was bestowed the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a community house, a like sum being given for its maintenance. Total bequests to Dalton amounted to $365,000, while four institutions of Pittsfield were endowed with $50,000 each.

Mr. Crane, who was for many years a trustee of the College, took a keen interest in the affairs and interests of Williams even before he was elected a trustee, and had shown this by frequent generous gifts, many of which were known only to the college authorities. So far as is known at the present time, Senator Crane's bequest was donated for no particular purpose, and will be added to the general fund.

New York Orchestra Coming

Tickets will be placed on sale at the College Bookstore by the local manager, James M. Chambers, on Saturday, October 30.

GARNET LOSES TO WILLIAMS 35 TO 0

Purple Eleven Outplayed During Half of Hard-Fought Game at Schenectady

VICTORY TRIUMPH FOR OPEN STYLE OF PLAY

Boynton's Passing and Headwork Feature—McLean Gains Consistently

Schenectady, N. Y., October 9—In a much more closely contested game than the score would seem to indicate, the Williams football team, using the open style of play, this afternoon defeated Union 35 to 0 in its second clash of the season. That the Purple was outplayed during the greater part of the first and third quarters is apparent from the fact that it made not a single first down in that time to the Garnet's seven and was five times forced to punt to safety, a method of defense resorted to but once by its opponents.

After the excellent football displayed by the Williams eleven against Rensselaer Polytechnic last week, the inability of its line to hold before the onslaughts of the home team and its frequent fumbles at critical points came as a decided disappointment. Throughout the whole of the first quarter the ball was in Williams' territory, being advanced at one time to the two-yard line, where the line stiffened and secured the ball on downs. Again in the third quarter the team was forced back to the three-yard line, and on another occasion after two fumbles had lost it several precious yards, was forced to punt from behind the goal line. The last threat to the Purple goal came in the final period when an attempted forward pass by Union was intercepted by Garvin on the Williams 14-yard line.

During the whole game, Williams made but eight first downs to Union's eleven, and punted seven times whereas Union was forced to kick but three times. Both sides attempted a great many forward passes, but in this department of the game the Purple showed its superiority, although its aerial attack did not have as great a success as against R. P. I. Nine completed passes netted 126 yards, whereas 11 were incomplete; Union gained 49 yards on four passes, failing to complete eight. Several of their opponent's passes were caught by each team. The game was marred by frequent penalties, most of them for off-sides, although an attempt to

PUBLISH ITINERARY OF "CAP AND BELLS"

Six Regular Performances Tentatively Scheduled During Christmas Trip

Plans for the Christmas trip of Cap and Bells call for a schedule of six performances in western New England and New York. Although the play to be produced has not yet been definitely chosen, Manager Wells '21 has arranged a tentative program, including several preliminary presentations.

The six cities at present on the dramatic club's itinerary are Albany, N. Y., Pittsfield and Springfield, Mass., East Orange, N. J., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Flushing, L. I. Preliminary performances are to be given in Greenfield, Mass., on November 27, at Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., on December 3, and at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., on December 4. Several of these engagements may yet be changed before the time of presentation.

The play to be given will be a comedy of high dramatic order, containing probably less business and more finished characterization than Stop Thief, which was presented last year. The cast of this year's production will contain fewer actors, promising keener competition for positions.

Apparent carelessness on the part of the Student Council seems to have all but destroyed any chance of running a special train to Harvard next Saturday. Applications for this agency are not due until tomorrow night, which means that preparations for securing the train cannot begin until Wednesday. This leaves the man who takes the agency four days in which to ascertain whether the requisite number of men willing to make the trip can be found, and to negotiate with the railroad. To properly arrange these details is at least a two weeks' job. Agitation for a special train for this trip was started when College opened. The Student Council elections were complete less than two weeks later. Yet the Council delayed for two weeks longer before taking any steps to complete business which should have been acted on at once.

Under a Bushel

Modesty is a virtue usually too little in evidence, but when it is carried so far that all the trophies Williams has ever won, including the Trophy of Trophies last year secured from Amherst, are carefully placed in a room on the second floor of Jesup Hall and that room kept constantly locked, it seems that the virtue is carried too far. Until the time of the fire in Jesup Hall in 1918, Williams glory was not thus hidden under a bushel. The Reading Room on the ground floor contained all the cups, banners, footballs, baseballs and basketballs that marked the progress of the teams whose pictures also hung on the wall. Just why all these things which certainly did not detract from the Reading Room and did much to increase pride in the teams of the past and to inspire the teams of the present should have been hidden away is a mystery to us. May we suggest that the Student Council investigate the matter and see that these Williams trophies are lodged where one does not need a guide and a key to find them.

Due to the fact that the funds available for the use of the Athletic Council have proved insufficient that body has decided that soccer cannot be recognized this year as a minor sport. It seems unfortunate that the followers of this sport, which is recognized by the majority of New England colleges, will not have an opportunity to engage in it this fall, but the money in the treasury of the Council has already been apportioned for other sports. Men in college who are interested in the existence of a soccer team have signified their willingness to pay half the expenses of their season's schedule, provided that the other half be assured by some interested alumnus. To repay these undergraduates for the sacrifice of time and money which they are willing to make, we trust that some one will be found who is able and willing to render this assistance.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD,
Dear Sir:—

Please let me commend and endorse your editorial in the issue of September 27th, entitled "At the Cross Roads." I believe that I speak for a large number of the Alumni in such endorsement. I am sure the majority of the graduates of Williams College want it to remain a small college in order that it may continue to fulfill the great service it has rendered up to this time, of putting its fine impress indelibly upon practically every man who goes through it. That it can not continue to do if the College gets too large. We have seen many of the other Colleges and Universities lose the power of doing just that thing because they got too large, and the expression of regret over the loss and of the want of any adequate compensation therefor, is commonly heard amongst their Alumni.

It goes without saying that we all have the most intense desire for the development of our College in the largest way along every line, but we can not "eat our cake and keep it." The great achievement of the College in the past has been the fine stamp it has put upon the men who have lived under its influence. If we lose that, we lose the greatest jewel in her crown, and it seems entirely clear that no compensation in the way of aggrandizement along more palpable and easily attainable lines can possibly make up for the loss.

It is hard to determine where the line must be drawn to assure ourselves of a size which will permit the continuance of this greatest achievement of Williams. I can understand a difference of views on that head. Let us all agree, however, on the underlying desideratum and address ourselves presently and sincerely to the solution of the minor question, with the firm and final assurance that Williams is to remain a small College and so to continue its great purpose of turning out cultured gentlemen.

Faithfully yours,
John T. Sheppard, 1917

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD,
Dear Sir:—

Your most timely editorial in a recent issue of the RECORD regarding the need of well directed publicity for Williams gives me the opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the views contained therein and of hoping that the RECORD will keep "hammering" until the desired results are obtained.

Since graduating from Williams I have lived in St. Louis and Kansas City, and at times have been deprived of the genuine pleasure and pride which should be part of a man's answer every time he replies to the question asking him what his college is. Most frequently my energetic reply, "Williams," is met with a blank look, or those who wish to be more polite say, "Oh, yes, Williams and Mary, or is it William Jewell?" Another man who wished to pay me an especially fine compliment said that he thought Williams was one of the best preparatory schools for Yale in the country. I could cite many cases like this which if nothing else, have kept me from becoming too egotistic concerning my A.B.

The most annoying part is that Amherst is about as well known out this way as the "big three"—Yale, Princeton, and Harvard.

This may seem a rather personal discussion of the question, but after all, are not such experiences as valuable as abstract discussion?

Enclosed is "Today's Football Games," from the Kansas City Star, one of the country's largest newspapers. I should like might well to know whom Williams is playing today, but will have to wait until my RECORD comes to find out. You will notice that the sons of Hiram, St. Ignatius, Hedding, Monmouth, Dickinson, and Albright are not in the same predicament. There is an occasional time, however, that I do read about my Alma Mater in the press when others care to mention it. For instance, next Saturday I shall probably read under a Cambridge, Mass., date-head that "The Crimson may have to extend itself a bit against Williams today."

Of course, the papers won't pay for Williams news—at least, not much—why should they? Williams College or Williams alumni should pay for it. Let the alumni form a publicity association, dues one dollar a year and employ someone as publicity director.

Yours very truly,
Karl H. Hodge, 1914

Garnet Loses To

Williams 35 to 0

sent Hibbard back into the game during the last quarter cost Williams 30 yards. During the first half at least, McLean was the only member of the Purple team who could be relied on to win any ground. In the second half, however, Boynton seemed to hit his stride, scoring three of the four touchdowns made in that period and kicking three goals. Lasell was equally accurate with his toe, making the other two points after touchdowns. Montgomery, who was substituted for McLean in the last quarter, was the only Williams man who was able to buck the Union line, carrying the ball three out of the four times that brought the first score in that period. Joslyn who played a consistent game at end also deserves credit for tackling the Garnet quarterback for a four-yard loss when Union had advanced the ball to the Williams three yard line, thus preventing what looked like an almost certain score.

For Union, Mosher, fullback, and Jones and Brucker, halfbacks, were able to gain through the Williams line almost at will. Time after time they caught the Purple by the same plays, going through the line for long gains, or working their way around the ends. Goff, quarterback, who was acting captain because injuries kept captain Gregory out of the lineup, was also rather successful at carrying the ball and made some very good passes.

First Quarter

Lasell kicked out of bounds twice and the ball was put in play on Union's 40-yard line. A penalty for offside cost Williams five yards; and Brucker and Mosher carried the ball through center for first down. Two more plays and another penalty gave the Garnet another first down. Brucker made five yards through center, but a penalty for offside nullified the gain. A forward to Beekman netted four more, but Brucker was able to make only six around left end and Williams took the ball. Boynton punted out of bounds, gaining only a yard by the transaction, and Union took the ball on the Williams 20-yard line. Goff and Mosher each gained, but a forward pass attempted on the last down was incomplete, and Williams took the ball. Boynton punted and Union ran it back to the Williams 40-yard line. Then began the march to the Williams line which, however, just escaped being crossed. Jones made two yards through the line, and a forward pass, Goff to Meyer, netted five more. A penalty of five yards gave Union first down. Gains around the right end, through center, and a 14-yard forward pass from Goff to Murray again gave the Garnet first down, this time on the Williams ten-yard line. By the fourth down Union still lacked two yards of crossing the line, and Boynton kicked out of danger. The Williams defense tightened and again held Union for downs, securing the ball on the 30-yard line. A slight gain by Boynton around left end, and seven yards by Hibbard through the line brought the ball to the Williams 45-yard line just as the first quarter ended.

Second Quarter

McLean started the second quarter with a rush by gaining 20 yards on two plays and Boynton and Burger advanced the ball another six. A penalty of 15 yards, however, and a fumble gave Union the ball on its 35-yard line. A fumble by the Garnet was recovered by Joslyn on its 42-yard line. McLean and Richmond, who went in for Hibbard, made first down, which was again secured by McLean with an 11-yard gain. A forward pass, Boynton to Coddling, netted 12 yards and placed the ball on the Union two-yard line. W. Burger went over for the first score of the game and Lasell kicked goal.

On the kickoff, Lasell sent the ball to the 20-yard line and Union was able to run it back but five yards. Jones made three yards through center and Brucker tore off 18 more for first down on the 42-yard line. A forward pass, Jones to Mosher, netted another 17, and Brucker gained two more yards. An attempted forward went to Joslyn, however, and Williams took the ball on her 21-yard line. Boynton punted, and Union returned the ball to her 39-yard line. A lateral pass, Goff to Brucker to Willetts, netted eight yards, but the next pass by Goff went into W. Burger's arms, and he was downed on the 50-yard line. A forward pass, Boynton to Richmond, gave the Purple 12 yards and another, Boynton to N. Burger, put the ball on the Union 17-yard line when the whistle ended the half. The score was 7 to 0 in Williams favor.

Third Quarter

Beekman kicked off to Boynton, who returned the ball to the Williams' 25-yard line. Richmond made six yards through center and in a spectacular broken-field run Boynton carried the ball to the Union 35-yard line. The next play he put it on the 28-yard line and a forward pass to Richmond gained four more yards. Goff intercepted the next forward pass, however, and carried the ball to the Union 44-yard line. On the next play he tore through to the Williams 47-yard line. Mosher and Brucker between them advanced the ball to the 29-yard line and first down found it on Williams 27-yard line. Mosher went through center for three yards, and Brucker tore off ten through the same place. Jones and Mosher made five yards more, but McLean intercepted an attempted forward pass, giving Williams the ball on the 12-yard line. On the next two plays Williams fumbled, recovering the ball on the eight and on the two-yard lines respectively. On the third attempt, Boynton got off a punt which Union returned to the 23-yard line. Brucker and Goff then ploughed through for first down on Williams' 12-yard line. Jones and Brucker then carried the ball to the three-yard line but on the next play Joslyn broke through and tackled Goff for a four-yard loss. Boynton punted, but the ball went out of bounds on the 40-yard line. A Union penalty helped the Purple to the extent of 15 yards but this advantage was offset when N. Burger was tackled for 10-yard loss. Boynton ran the ball up to the 34-yard line, but an eight-yard penalty was inflicted. On the next play Boynton regained most of this but was forced out of bounds on the 38-yard line. A pass, Boynton to Richmond, netted seven yards, and then McLean carried a beautiful pass over for the second touchdown. Lasell kicked goal, making the score 14 to 0 at the end of the third quarter.

Fourth Quarter

On the kickoff Lasell sent the ball behind the Union goal line and it was put in play on Union's 20-yard line. Jones and Murray were each tackled for a loss, and Murray punted out to Richmond, who was downed on the Union 42-yard line. Six attempts at a forward pass were made, the only successful ones to Richmond and Mallon gaining 17 and 15 yards respectively. Williams then had the ball on the 15-yard line with first downs. Montgomery, who had been put in early in the period, bucked the line for two five-yard gains which again gave Williams first down, this time on the 5-yard line. Boynton advanced the ball to the one-yard line, and on the next play Montgomery carried it over, Boynton kicking goal.

Boynton kicked off to the Union 11-yard line, but the ball was returned 22 yards, Union was penalized five yards and Jones gained but three. An incomplete pass followed a failure to gain any ground and Union tried to punt on fourth down. But the ball was passed over Goff's head, and N. Burger downed him on the one-yard line, from which point Boynton easily carried the ball over and then kicked goal.

Signing Your Name

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Boynton's next kickoff was returned to the 37-yard line and Jones made eight yards through center. Then Williams was penalized half the distance to her goal which gave Union the ball on Williams' 26-yard line. Mallory and Mosher advanced it to the 14-yard line, but Mallory was then tackled for a loss by Garvin, who on the next play intercepted a forward pass. Boynton carried the ball out to the 36-yard line and after Mallon had gained but three yards and two forward passes failed Boynton was forced to punt, giving Union the ball on its 32-yard line. After several unsuccessful attempts at forwards, Union was forced to punt giving the Purple the ball on its 43-yard line. A pass from Boynton to Mallon gained 16 yards and another from Mallon was caught by Boynton on the 18-yard line and carried over for the last touchdown. Boynton kicked goal. The final whistle blew after the next kickoff just as Williams had recovered the ball on the Union 25-yard line.

COMMUNICATIONTo the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD,
Dear Sir:—

The pendulum is swinging. Gradually national sentiment is drawing away from the former deep-rooted and earnest desire for a Republican president, almost at any cost. I say this not in triumph, but rather in sadness, in regret that the great Republican Party, which could produce such men as Lincoln, McKinley, and Roosevelt, should not have learned after eight years of hard experiences to pick men of worthy caliber as prospective leaders of the nation, and to choose broad-minded, clear-cut, and definite issues as the basis for putting these men into power.

Any study of the recent speeches of Senator Harding must lead any clear thinker and student of political conditions and facts to the inevitable conclusion that the Republican aspirant after presidential honors is nothing more than an illiterate, poorly-informed fence-straddler, a type common to the stock campaign orator genus. The platform which he is bound to support is ambiguous to the nth degree and apparently attempts that feat once ably described by a truly great Republican as trying to "fool some of the people all the time and all of the people some of the time." The final result can be forecast by any shrewd Yankee, not only from Illinois, but from Massachusetts or California as well.

Keen observers of political tendencies are rapidly coming to the conclusion that history is about to repeat itself. In 1916, up to within a month or two of the election, the entire country was morally certain that Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican nominee, would be our next president. Then the pendulum started swinging and the world knows the result. To-day, again, Harding optimists are over-confident, while small but unmistakable signs point to a slowly receding popular support and to the fact that the pendulum is once more in motion. One of the first real pushes along that line came last week when Herbert Parsons, one of the most influential and important of the New York Republican County Committeemen, came out with a decisive, clear-cut explanation of his sudden determination to support Governor Cox, a statement in which he declared his allegiance to the great fundamental Republican principles but completely repudiated Harding and his position of fence-straddling. The other prominent men in the Republican ranks, such as William Howard Taft and Elihu Root, are experiencing great difficulty at the present moment in reconciling their own high ideals for their party with the constantly changing and shifting position held by the ostensible head of the party.

A deluded Wilson is a dead issue to the American public, but a vacillating and ultra-medioere Harding is a very live and awful possibility, and I venture to predict that in the November election the citizenship of the nation will rebuke by an overwhelming vote the misguided actions of the 1920 Republican National Convention.

Perry added that in spite of tremendous work accomplished the Committee has been able to save only one half of the sufferers and said that the most difficult part of his work was to decide what lives to abandon in order to save the rest. Nevertheless the work must be carried on, for if America were to stop now nothing could keep the country from starving.

In conclusion he said that the greatest lesson he had derived from his work is that "little acts of helpfulness are the only thing which differentiate man from the animals."

Library Acquires 754 Books

Seven hundred and sixty-four volumes have been added to the College library during the summer months, bringing the total to 96,285. One of the most notable among these recent acquisitions is a choice set in 11 volumes covering the entire works of Alfred de Musset and including a biography. This set, bound in half-morocco leather with gilt edges, was purchased from the income of the Rockwood Memorial Fund, which was recently created by Mrs. Rockwood, in memory of her son, Richard Barton Rockwood '16, winner of the Benedict Prize in French in his freshman year. A suitable book-plate has been prepared for the set in accordance with the desires of the donor. Other additions worthy of comment are many French and German importations and bound volumes of periodicals.

COLLEGE NOTES

Under the auspices of the Mission Study Committee of the W. C. A. a motion picture film dealing with the subjects of labor conditions, fast day rites, and the architecture of pagodas in China will be shown at Walden's Theatre on Wednesday, October 13. The picture, which is an addition to the regular program, is part of the publicity campaign which is being carried on by the W. C. A. in the interest of foreign missions.

For the purpose of explaining the rushing agreement a meeting of the Freshman class was held last Friday evening in Jesup Hall. Finn '21 read the rules governing rushing, and answered all questions concerning them.

Twelve men, Allison, Baxter, Bixby, Chapman, Lyles, McAnemy, Mackay, Maxwell, Monjo, Olmsted, Parker, and Shuttleworth '23 have entered the competition for assistant manager of basketball

Too much Turkish tobacco, many smokers say, makes a cigarette too rich for a "steady diet." For example, notice the oily heaviness of straight Turkish cigarettes

Too little Turkish, on the other hand, "tastes thin" and "flat." This explains why so many smokers find the ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarette disappointing.

Just enough Turkish, then, is what most smokers want.

Just enough Turkish is what smokers get in Fatima.

For while Fatima contains less Turkish than straight Turkish cigarettes, it contains more Turkish than any other Turkish Blend.

It is this "balance" that accounts for Fatima's steady sales-leadership at so many prominent places. For example, see above.

1920 RUSHING SEASON TO COMMENCE SUNDAY

Fraternities Will Start Entertainment of First Year Men at Noon Date

MUST ACCEPT FIRST BIDS

Freshmen Must Also Secure Invitations for Period C in Jesup Hall

Sunday afternoon at 12.30 o'clock will mark the opening of the 1920 rushing season under the new rules for entertaining the freshmen. Invitations for Period A must be placed in the hands of Finn '21, chairman of the Interfraternity Council, not later than 7.30 o'clock Thursday evening and replies must be mailed to him by the members of the class of 1924 not later than 12.00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Rushing this year, which will consist of three periods as explained in a former issue of the Record, has been postponed to a later date than usual to allow the new men to become better acquainted with the College and its customs. Freshmen are not allowed to refuse any invitation in Period A, unless they refuse all. The replies to the bids must be mailed by the first year men before 12.00 o'clock on Friday afternoon for Period A, and before 3.00 o'clock Wednesday for Period B. The invitations for Period C will be given to the Freshmen in Jesup Hall on Sunday morning between 9.00 and 10.30 o'clock, and the first year men must return them to Jesup Hall before 2.00 o'clock that afternoon if they are to become effective.

Freshmen must be in their rooms shortly before six o'clock of each evening on which they have dinner dates. At the end of each date, if they have another invitation immediately following it, they will be called for at the fraternity house at which they are being entertained, by men from the house having the next date with them. Freshmen must also be in their rooms before any date unless they are at a fraternity house. On the printed card which will be sent to them with their dates on it, they will be requested to inscribe the number of their room or the fraternity house at which they will be immediately before the date in question. Members of fraternities, whether undergraduates or alumni, are not allowed to accompany freshmen to their rooms after a date.

Invitations for the freshmen must be placed in the hands of Finn '21 by the members of the various fraternities according to the following schedule: Period A—before 7.30 o'clock Thursday evening; Period B—before 11.00 o'clock Wednesday evening; and Period C—before 11.00 o'clock Saturday evening.

Attention of the first year men is especially called to the method of receiving and returning the invitations for the third period on Sunday, due to the fact that the postoffice will be closed on that day, and also to the following rules of the Rushing Agreement:

Article 11. "Any first year man breaking a pledge with any fraternity shall thereby render himself ineligible for any fraternity membership at Williams College for a period of six months following such break, and during that time shall not be

WILLIAMS FOOTBALL SQUAD FACING HARDEST CONTEST OF 1920 SEASON

SOPHOMORES WIN FROM 1924 IN ANNUAL MEET

Capture Eight Firsts and All Places in 120 High Hurdles and Broad Jump

FINAL SCORE 81 2-3 TO 44 1-3

Freshmen Hold Lead by 8 1-3 on Monday—Barnes, Chapin, and Olmsted High Scorers

All three places in the 120-yard high hurdles and the broad jump, and the first two places in the pole vault, the 220-yard dash, and the two-mile run, were large factors in netting the sophomores a victory over the freshmen last Monday and Tuesday afternoons, on Weston Field, by the score of 81 2-3 to 44 1-3. On Monday afternoon the sophomores had a lead of only 8 1-3 points, the score standing at that time 35 2-3 to 27 1-3, but on Tuesday the second year men forged ahead 29 more points, making a final lead of 37 1-3 points. Barnes, Chapin, and Olmsted were heavy point winners for the sophomores, and Picard and Wishard excelled for the freshmen. In the fourteen events 1923 took eight first, and 1924 six.

The best race of the meet was the two-mile run. Fasse '23 took the lead at the start and increased it to half a lap by the time he crossed the finish line. Fitchen '23 and Swan '24 were together at the last turn, but by a pretty sprint at the finish Fitchen managed to cross the tape a few inches ahead of his opponent. In the mile Fasse '23 and Picard '24 ran neck and neck almost the entire distance, but Picard, in the last hundred yards, forged ahead and won the race by a few feet. Pease '24 made a good start in the 440-yard dash and held his lead to the end.

The summary follows:

120-yard high hurdles—won by Barnes '23; second, Beal '23; third, Dewey '23; time 17 seconds.

100-yard dash—first heat won by Mosher '23; second, Mason '24; time, 11 1-5 seconds; second heat won by Olmsted '23; time 11 1-5 seconds; final heat won by Mosher '23; second, Olmsted '23; third, Dodge '24; time 10 4-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Pease '24; second, Stowers '23; third, Clason '24; time 55 1-5 seconds.

1 mile run—won by Picard '24; second, Fasse '23; third, Jones '23; time 4 minutes, 48 4-5 seconds.

High Jump—won by Barnes '23; tied for second, Chapin, Dewey '23, and Wishard '24; height 5 feet, 2 inches.

Shot put—won by Gregory '24; second, Hiss '23; third, Pease '24; distance 32 feet, 11 1-2 inches.

Presidential Straw Vote

A straw vote on the coming presidential election will be conducted by The Record Tuesday and Wednesday. At the same time all other members of the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association will conduct similar votes in all of the important eastern colleges. Results will be compiled at the headquarters of the Association and will be published in next Friday's issue. The polls will be open in Jesup Hall on both Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

CARPENTER ELECTED FRESHMAN PRESIDENT

1924 Chooses Knight, O'Brien, and Perkins for Remaining Three Offices

Keith Carpenter, of Chicago, Ill., was elected president of the freshman class at a meeting of that body held last Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. At the same time Henry Potter Knight of Philadelphia, Pa., was elected vice-president, Donald Clare O'Brien secretary, and George Fitch Perkins, of Jersey City, N. J., treasurer.

Carpenter prepared for Williams at the Taft School, Watertown, Conn., where he played for two years on the football team and for three years on the baseball team. He also played on the school hockey team, and was vice-president of the Upper Middle class and a member of the Senior Council.

Knight came to Williams from the St. James school, Hagerstown, Md. He played on the school football team for four years, and was captain of each organization during his senior year. He was also captain of the track team for two years, played on the baseball team for two years, and was a member of the debating team.

ALBANY ACADEMY WILL PLAY 1924 TEAM HERE

Freshman Eleven Still Handicapped by Loss of Six Men Through Ineligibility

LITTLE KNOWN OF OPPONENT

Yearling Team Has not Shown up As Well in Scrimmages this Week with Varsity

Handicapped by the loss of several reliable men, the freshman football team will meet Albany Academy in the second game of the season tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Otherwise the eleven will be in decidedly better shape than for last Saturday's defeat at the hands of the Union first year men.

During the scrimmages which have been held this week special attention has been paid to clean handling of the ball in order to correct the tendency to fumble which proved fatal to the freshmen last week. On Thursday afternoon 1924 faced the varsity but the showing made was far from strong, partially because injuries kept Pattison and Gregory out of the game. These men, however, are expected to be in condition to play tomorrow. Several changes have been made in the line-up. Coach Van Alstyne '19 expects to put Miller in place of Hoffman at quarterback while Perkins will shift places with Gregory the former playing fullback and the latter halfback. Taylor and O'Brien have shown up well in practice and may be substituted in the back-field. Little is known of the Albany Academy team except that it contains a number of experienced players, who are expected to put up strong opposition to the Purple freshmen.

Council Makes Final Plans

It was decided at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council in Jesup Hall last Monday evening that no regular forms would be used for sending invitations to Freshmen for the first period of the rushing season, but that each chapter would turn in to the Council a typewritten alphabetical list of the first year men whom they wish to entertain.

W. C. A. Suspends Services

On account of the rushing periods, the regular Sunday evening meetings of the W. C. A. for the next two weeks will be omitted. The mid-week Cabinet meeting will also be suspended this week.

PURPLE TO OPPOSE HARVARD SATURDAY

Varsity Will Face Crucial Test of Strength in Stadium at Cambridge

DECIDED ADVANTAGE TO HEAVY CRIMSON ELEVEN

Brooks Shifts Lineup to Remedy Weakness at Center in Union Game

In its first hard contest of the season the varsity football team will face the Crimson in the Harvard Stadium at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Because of a much more extended field for selection of candidates the advantage rests with Harvard whose football squad is about twice as large as the Purple's.

In the game with Union last Saturday the Williams eleven showed a decided weakness in the center of the line, the Garnet team gaining 15 first downs while the varsity made only eight. Coach Brooks has been trying out several new combinations during practice this week in an effort to remedy this weakness, and as a result it is possible that some changes in the regular line-up may be made for the game tomorrow. Jones has been playing part of the time at center, and Shuttleworth has been alternating with Lasell at left tackle. The only change made in the right side of the line, however has been the substitution of Vroman for Humes at right guard. Richmond has been doing brilliant work in the back-field not only in the practice scrimmages but also in the games against Union and R. P. L. McLean is sure to keep his place at left half-back, and in the contest with Union he rivaled Captain Boynton for the stellar role on the Purple eleven.

Coach Brooks will probably rely on an open game and forward passes for most of the ground gaining against the Crimson tomorrow. The superior weight of the Harvard line makes this method of attack more practical, and the great success which the varsity has had with forward passes in the first two games of the season indicates that an open game is responsible for more points scored than straight line plunging.

With no Casey to form the keystone around which to build his machine, Coach Fisher of Harvard has not been able to develop as strong a team this year as the one that defeated Yale last November. In the opening game of the season with Holy Cross on September 25 Harvard had great difficulty in securing the victory, winning out by the narrow margin of one field goal. When the Crimson eleven played Maine the following week, however, they met with practically no resistance and easily won by a 41 to 0 score. Coach Fisher used 30 players in the contest and the substitutes apparently had as easy a time as the first string men.

Last Saturday Harvard defeated Valparaiso by a 21 to 0 score without much difficulty, although no points were scored during the first two periods. The outstanding feature of the game was the attack of Churchill who made a brilliant

Freshmen Meet for Last of Get-Together Series

Immediately after the college meeting on Thursday night a majority of the class of 1924 met for the fourth and last of the freshman get-togethers. The chairmen of the various committees of the W. C. A. made very brief speeches explaining the work of their committees and asking for the support of the freshmen in this work. After music by the freshman orchestra, which has proved popular, Greer, Hyde, and Wallace '22 presented the main attraction of the evening, a banjo trio. An excellent program was given, which was intermingled with stunts on various musical instruments.

"Go East, Young Man!"

Williams plays tomorrow what is in many ways the most important football game of the season. The Purple enters the game with nothing to lose by defeat, but everything to gain through victory. When the team trots on the field to meet its Crimson opponents, it goes with the realization that every physical advantage must lie with the home team. There is, however, one equalizing factor. It is a factor, intangible, indescribable, yet nevertheless vitalizing—the Williams spirit.

Every man fighting in the line-up will be imbued with that strengthening tradition which so often has borne the Purple to victory across apparently insurmountable odds. But more than that is necessary. The team must know, in no unmistakable terms, that the same spirit pervades every loyal supporter in the stands behind it, and for this purpose the Williams side must be filled to overflowing with an enthusiastic cheering section.

At the time of going to press, a disappointingly small number of undergraduates had signified their intention of attending the game in Cambridge. The outcome of the Harvard contest may very likely hinge upon the backing given the Williams team by its supporters, and this fact applies equally to each succeeding game this fall. It is therefore essential for each undergraduate to make plans now, so far as possible, for a 100% attendance during the remainder of the season.

Some Work for That $150,000

With the wet-season approaching, it seems necessary once more to revert to the question of sidewalks on the campus that will keep the members of the College from wading through several inches of mud and water every time they go from building to building. The points that most need sidewalks to connect them are Main Street and Morgan Hall, by way of Clark Hall. That route is undoubtedly used by as many men every day as any other on the campus, yet it is nothing but a dirt hollow which serves effectually to hold all water and slush where one must walk through it or tear up the lawn. And even this latter process, albeit it has nearly doubled the width of the original sidewalk at the expense of the lawn, is rather ineffective. Surely some of the $150,000 donated last year for the maintenance of grounds might be used to satisfy this crying need.

NOVEL DEBATING PLAN CHOSEN FOR CONTESTS

Specific Subject for Triangular Debates Will Be Announced on Day Before Event

November 19 was set as the date for the annual Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular debate, at a meeting of representatives of the three colleges held in Springfield, Mass., last Saturday. The general topic to be discussed is the direct party primary system of nomination.

Contrary to the usual custom, the exact subject for debate will not be revealed to the contestants until 24 hours before the debate is to take place. The definite subject will be decided upon by Professor Holcombe of the Department of Political Science of Harvard University, who acted as judge at the Amherst-Williams debate at Amherst last year. Whether the subject to be announced concerns the primary system in municipal, state, or federal elections, or treats the subject in a general way, will make little difference in the preparation for the debate, as the points of dissimilarity are few.

This year the Amherst team will speak at Williamstown, and the Purple speakers will appear at Wesleyan. Wesleyan will meet Amherst at Amherst in the third encounter. Dates for trials for the debate, open to members of the three upper classes, will be announced by the Adelphi Union in the near future.

H. S. PRESCOTT AND CHAPIN IN FINALS

Will Meet on Courts This Afternoon—Rowse and Bullock Barely Lose

As a result of victories in the semi-final round of the tennis tournament yesterday afternoon, H. S. Prescott '22 and Chapin '23, present titleholder, will play for the singles championship of the college this afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. Prescott earned his final round brackets by defeating Captain Bullock '21 after five set, 6-0, 6-8, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, and Chapin disposed of Rowse '22 by the score of 1-6, 7-5, 6-4, 2-6, 6-0.

In reaching the semi-final round, Rowse had the hardest fight, winning over E. P. Taylor '21, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2. Bullock put out Herron '24 in the fourth round, 7-5, 6-2, and Prescott won from Greef '23, 8-6, 6-1. Chapin took his match from L. Buck '24 by default.

The results of the doubles matches played since Monday in the first round follow: Cobb '22 and Crosby '23 won by default; Olmsted and Coleman '22 won by default; Blackmer and Fickard '24 won from Irwin and Lohrke '21 by default; Buck and Blackmer '24 defeated Morse and Chapman '23, 7-5, 6-4; Brigham and Taylor '21 won by default; Chapin '23 and Rowse '22 won from Smidt and Greef '23 by default; Baker and Mendes '22 defeated Herron and Perin '24, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7; Carson and Humphries '21 won from Hall and Allen '21 by default. In the only second round matches played to date Mr. Bell and Mr. Shepard won from Bullock and Taylor '21 by default; Carson and Humphries '21 defeated Baker and Mendes '22, 7-5, 6-4.

'Cap and Bells' Play Chosen

Farquhar's comedy, The Beaux' Stratagem, is the play that has finally been chosen as the one which will be presented by Cap and Bells on the Christmas trip for this year. The author lived in the latter part of the seventeenth century, writing in the period of the Restoration; his play has been chosen because of its brilliant and sparkling dialogue and humorous situations.

Mr. Lang, who has again been selected to coach the organization, will arrive next Sunday and together with Professor Lieklider will proceed to cut and prepare the dialogue. The tryouts for the cast will take place Tuesday.

'Pipe and Quill' Elects

Thexton '21 was elected chairman of Pipe and Quill at the opening meeting of that society last Monday evening in St. Anthony Hall. At the same time Gray '21 was elected treasurer of the organization. Professor Maxey commenced the year's activities by reading a paper on "Stephen Leacock." After the discussion, the members of Pipe and Quill considered plans for the ensuing season.

Comedy to Feature "Cow"

Jokes and short verse, in unusual quantity, as well as a musical comedy entitled Well! Well! will characterize the October issue of the Purple Cow, due to appear about the middle of the month. The cover of this issue, the first one of the year, is by Becket '22. Drawings by Wasson '21, Becket '22, Britton and Hurley '23 are additional features.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Amherst Pledges 70% of 1924
With the close of the first period of rushing at Amherst, 130 members of the class of 1924 have been pledged to fraternities, and since the close of the period over 20 additional freshmen have been pledged. This is approximately 70% of the incoming class.

To Hold Classes for Workmen
Arrangements have been completed for the institution of classes for working-people to be conducted by Amherst College in Holyoke and Springfield. This is the first attempt in this country to work out a policy whereby a college, as such, offers its services for the education of labor. The instruction will be given by members of the Amherst College faculty. Classes will be limited to small groups, each of which will meet for one two hour period each week, probably in the evening. The various groups are to be self-administering, and each one is to select its own subject of study. Courses will be offered to working men and women in the following subjects: Industrial History, Current Economic Problems, Practical English, Social Problems as discussed in Modern Literature, and Fundamental Mathematics.

Cornell's Field to be Lighted
Cornell's football team will not be handicapped by short practice hours this season, as a system of flood lights for Schoellkopf Field has been announced, which will enable the team to work out in the early darkness coming with the return of standard time on October 31. Ten projectors, each throwing a powerful light through diffusion lenses, will be installed on either side of the field above the terraces.

Trinity Has Unique Fund
Trinity College has a unique fund, called the "sub-freshman" fund, which is collected each year by the Trinity College newspaper, The Tripod. The idea was started a year ago, and enables The Tripod to send copies of every issue to a number of prep schools which could not otherwise be included on the exchange list. Last year the paper was sent to about sixty schools as a means of advertising the college, and this year it will be sent to over eighty.

Long Trip for Dartmouth Clubs
Plans are being made for an extended western tour by the Dartmouth Musical Clubs this year. Negotiations have been started to stage concerts in Minneapolis, Minn.; and Omaha, Neb., and it is practically certain that appearances will be given in these two cities. In addition, concerts will be given in Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, and in several other cities which were visited last season.

Buffalo Championship in Golf Won by P. Hyde '14

Paul Hyde '14 won the golf championship of Buffalo last week by defeating Gardner, Yale '14, in the final round of the city golf championship tournament. The morning score was 79 for Hyde and 83 for Gardner, and 75 for Hyde and 74 for Gardner in the afternoon contest. Gardner easily outdrove the winner, but Hyde had a great advantage in the putting on the approaching department of the game.

BUDGETS APPROVED

Non-Athletic Council Also Decides Upon Student Tax

Budgets submitted by the Forum, the Press Club, the Outing Club, the Student Council, the W. C. A., and the Debating Society were approved by the Non-Athletic Council at a meeting last Tuesday evening. At the same time the council made two changes in the by-laws of the constitution of the board of governors.

Article Two of Section Five of the constitution was altered, stating that all self-supporting non-athletic activities should establish sinking funds as the Council may provide, and that all disbursements from these sinking funds must be made with the approval of the Council. It was further decided that the Non-Athletic Council should establish a sinking fund of its own of $500, to be obtained by a non-athletic tax, and that disbursements from this fund should be made with the approval of the board for the support of non-self-supporting organizations exceeding their budgets. The Student Council was authorized to add to its budget the expenses of the cheerleaders at the Harvard game. In conclusion, Mr. E. H. Botsford '82 was reappointed to the post of Graduate Treasurer.

MASS MEETING HELD

Coach Brooks Addresses Student Body about Cheering

Enthusiasm over the Harvard game ran high at a college mass meeting in Jesup Hall yesterday evening. Coach Brooks, in the only address of the evening, asked the students to give more loyal support to the football team than they had manifested at the cheering practices thus far, and to make any possible sacrifice in order to back up the eleven at Cambridge tomorrow.

In order to clear up misunderstandings concerning the special train service for the game, Ufford '21, who presided at the meeting, outlined the plans for the special. No special train will run to Boston in the morning, as there were not enough applicants, but a sleeper will leave South Station, Boston, at 11.30 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, arriving at Williamstown about 8.45 o'clock Sunday morning, in time for chapel and the opening rushing date.

DR. FITCH TO SPEAK

Pouplar Preacher Will Conduct Services on Sunday

The Rev. Albert Parker Fitch, D.D., who is one of the most popular ministers who visit Williams, will conduct the morning chapel services next Sunday.

Graduating from Harvard in the class 1900, Dr. Fitch received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from the Union Theological Seminary in 1903. In the same year he was ordained to the Congregational ministry and was assigned a pastorate at Flushing, Long Island. Two years later he was transferred to the Mount Vernon Church in Boston, and in 1909 became President of the Andover Theological Seminary. In the same year he was granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Amherst, and Williams conferred the same honor upon him in 1915. Since 1918 he has been Professor of Religion and Biblical Literature at Amherst.

Style rules us all

We may pretend indifference to style, but after all we feel comfortable when our clothes are in style, and a trifle self-conscious when they are not.

There are seasons of extremes and seasons of conservative styles. This is the year of easy, graceful lines rather than the form-fitting, militaristic models of last season. The waist line is lower—the vent is shorter—the coats hang freely from the shoulder.

This change is welcomed by every college man. He likes comfort with his style; and another thing—here is a coat that will not be noticeably passé next year.

You are sure of quality, of all-wool fabric and fine tailoring—you are confident of full value, and you have the endorsement of the greatest style authority in America when you invest in a suit of Society Brand Clothes.

'Phi Sigma Kappa' Wins Cup For Highest Scholarship

In recognition of its maintaining the highest scholarship record among the fourteen fraternities and the non fraternity group for the scholastic year of 1919-1920, the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity has been awarded the scholarship prize of a silver loving cup, donated by a member of the class of 1899. Of the total number of 15 per cent. were A's and 2 per cent. were E's. These figures show a gain of 1 per cent. in A's and a loss of 1 per cent. in E's over the record of the preceding year held by the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Second and third places are held by the non-fraternity group and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, respectively, the former having 15 per cent. A's and 5 per cent. E's, and the latter holding 10 per cent. A's and 3 per cent. E's.

In compiling the following list of ratings, the individual grades of each member of a fraternity formed the basis for determining the fraternity's rank.

1924 FOOTBALL TEAM GAINS FIRST VICTORY

Albany Academy Eleven Suffers
Decisive 28-0 Defeat on

TWO FORWARD PASSES SCORE

Work of McKean and Pattison Is Good—Captain Ives Stars for Visitors

In the second game of the season, the Williams freshman football team decisively defeated the Albany Academy eleven by a 28 to 0 score on Weston Field last Saturday afternoon. The 1924 men outweighed and outplayed their opponents, but were forced to exert themselves in the second half to gain through the plucky resistance of the visitors.

Johnston, the freshman captain, kicked off to Albany Academy. The visitors fumbled the ball and Pattison recovered it, giving the ball to the first year men on their 25-yard line. A forward pass, Pattison to McKean, placed the pigskin across the line and scored the first tally of the contest. Barnes kicked the goal. Johnston again kicked off and Albany Academy, after a few rushes, fumbled. Sinkler recovering the ball on our 30 yard line.

In the second quarter, the Freshmen continued their march down the field and Perkins crossed the line for the second score of the game. Barnes again kicked the goal. Albany Academy received the kickoff but was forced to kick. A gain by Miller netted 12 yards and another forward pass to McKean resulted in a touchdown for the Freshmen. The visitors received the ball and I. Ives broke loose for a long run until stopped by Miller. The half ended with the score 21 to 0 in favor of the Freshmen.

Better football was displayed by both sides in the third quarter and no score was made by either. In this period, I. Ives starred for the preparatory school team and Miller and O'Brien played well for 1924.

The final quarter opened with the ball on the visitor's ten yard line and Pattison

Tennis Tournament Won by Chapin '23 Last Friday

Closing the College singles tennis tournament by defeating Prescott '22, 6-1, 8-10, 7-5, 6-4, Chapin '23 won the singles tennis championship for the second consecutive year last Friday afternoon on the College courts. The Rockwood Memorial cup, given in honor of Richard Burton Rockwood '16, who was a member of the tennis team while at College, was thus annexed in the first fall tournament in which this cup has been offered.

The semi-finals of the tournament were played off Thursday afternoon, Prescott '22 defeating Bullock '21, 6-0, 6-8, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, and Rowse yielding to Chapin by a score of 1-6, 7-5, 6-4, 2-6, 6-0.

The playing which Chapin exhibited in the finals was somewhat erratic at times but interspersed with many streaks of brilliancy and skill. Except for the first set, which Chapin took 6-1, the scores were close, Prescott putting up a strong defense against the varied attacks and clever placements imposed by the victor.

The fourth rounds of the doubles matches in the tennis tournament must be played off by tonight or go by default. It is expected that the doubles tournament will be finished this week, haste being made in order to take advantage of the present good weather conditions.

Frosh Pee-rade Postponed

On account of the tentative football game between the 1924 eleven and the Amherst Freshman team the date for the Freshman Pee-rade has been postponed until Saturday, November 13. Complete plans for the features of the spectacle have not yet been made, although a professional Scotch band has already been engaged. Each member of the Freshman class will be taxed $1.50 to cover the expenses of the Pee-rade.

Pres. Garfield to Give Talk

President Harry A. Garfield will deliver an address on "Colonel Ephraim Williams, commander of the border forts" at the fall meeting of the Berkshire chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, to be held in North Adams next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

USE RUSHING SYSTEM ADOPTED LAST YEAR

Final Period Will Come Sunday Evening—Jesup Hall Is to Serve as Post Office

Beginning with the luncheon date at 12.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Williams fraternities entertained the members of the class of 1924 under a rushing system practically the same as that used for the first time last year. Owing to the fact that there may still be some misunderstanding as to the rules governing the succeeding periods an explanation will be given here.

The present period will extend through the evening date of next Wednesday, and period B will begin with the dinner date of next Thursday, to extend through the second evening date of next Saturday. Period C will begin with the dinner date of next Sunday and will close with the second evening date the same evening.

During period C, in contrast to the two preceding periods, fraternities will be permitted to bid and pledge new men. During the three periods, the day will be divided into the following rushing dates: week dates—dinner (6.00 to 7.30 o'clock); first evening date (7.30 to 8.45 o'clock); second evening date (8.45 to 10.00 o'clock); Sunday luncheon (12.30 to 2.00 o'clock); afternoon date (2.00 to 3.15 o'clock); dinner and evening dates as on week days.

In period A, each first year man was compelled to accept an invitation from each fraternity offering him one, but for period B he may accept not more than two invitations from every fraternity he pleases, and for period C he is free to accept whatever invitations he may choose. For the next two periods, first year men must mail their replies to invitations as follows: period B—before 3.00 o'clock next Thursday afternoon; period C—before 2.00 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. In period C, invitations to first year men will be distributed in Jesup Hall between the hours of 9.00 o'clock and 10.30 o'clock next Sunday morning. Each man will receive a sealed envelope containing whatever invitations may have been sent him, and each man will receive

WILLIAMS LOSES HARD-FOUGHT GAME TO HEAVY CRIMSON TEAM

Presidential Straw Poll

A straw vote on the coming presidential election will be conducted by The Record Tuesday and Wednesday. At the same time all other members of the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association will conduct similar votes in all of the important eastern colleges. Results will be compiled at the headquarters of the Association and will be published in next Friday's issue. The polls will be open in Jesup Hall on both Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

ACCLAIM BOYNTON AS 'A TEAM IN HIMSELF'

Sport Writers Comment Favorably on Fine Playing of Purple Leader

Despite the 38-0 victory which Harvard piled up against Williams in last Saturday's football game, the personal prowess and tremendous skill of the Purple defendant, Benny Boynton, was not only strongly felt by the Crimson line but the favorable comment of many sports reporters of the Eastern newspapers.

To quote the New York Tribune "Boynton was easily the most brilliant player on the field." This was the impression brought home to the 18,000 spectators who could see the Harvard team dazzled by the criss-crosses and forward passes operated by their formidable opponent. As the New York Herald states it, "chief interest centred in Benny Boynton, Walter Camp's All-American quarterback selection in 1917. It was the first time during his brilliant football career that the Williams star had received an opportunity to play against one of the Big Three. His individual efforts were all that could be expected."

According to the Boston Sunday Post, "Although the Harvardians piled up a big score, the game was redolent with thrills. Captain Benny Boynton was in the limelight throughout, running back kicks, heaving forward passes, sweeping around the ends and bringing down Harvard runners bound for the Williams goal. The doughty Berkshire leader meant business from start to finish. Early in the contest he tossed his headgear to the sidelines, regardless of danger, and from then on he was in every play that came anywhere near the Williams backfield.

It was this manifest individual superiority which prompted the Springfield Republican reporter to the statement that "Boynton played in such a way that he stood out as one of the best gridiron warriors of the day."

Boynton was a team in himself. He was the forward pass engineer. Frequently he started and finished the overhead play, first passing the ball to a half-back, who met him on the run and then eluding to one side to take the forward. He was the punter, the star in running back the few kicks that came his way, the ever-sure man in the secondary defense. Pulling down a line-breaker, the field general, the whole inspiration of the Williams team and in a sense the Williams team itself. He was the offense and much of the defense.

Seldom has one man been called upon for so much work and in the face of such odds as was Boynton to-day. Though not producing thrills, for the reason that his helpers were unequal to their serious burden, Benny, even without a long run or other noteworthy gain from scrimmage, save one forward pass, was one of the outstanding heroes of the day."

of 38-0 Despite Brilliant Playing of Boynton

PURPLE AERIAL ATTACK MEETS LITTLE SUCCESS

Fumbles and Intercepted Passes Prove Costly—No Scoring in First Quarter

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 16—Harvard's superior weight in both line and backfield, and the employment of twenty fresh substitutions by the Crimson team proved to be odds which were too great for the Williams team to overcome, and the Purple was forced down in defeat here today by a 38 to 0 score.

The Williams eleven, led by Captain Boynton, easily the star of the day, fought bravely to the last minute of play, and forced the big Crimson team to its capacity. Twice during the fatal third quarter, when Harvard scored 21 points, the Williams players, fighting an uphill battle, held their opponents for downs on the Williams 15 and 22 yard lines, and punted out of danger. Harvard was unable during the entire game to carry the ball from their own territory down the field for a score. Three touchdowns came as the result of intercepted forward passes, and two from fumbles, and in every case Harvard obtained the ball inside Williams territory.

Captain Boynton stood out as the foremost player of the day, passing, kicking, and running his team with a celerity unrivalled by the Harvard eleven. Forced to rely almost entirely upon the forward passing game, the Williams captain had little opportunity to run with the ball, but on several occasions eluded from two to four Crimson players who attempted to tackle him when he was getting off a forward pass.

McLean also played a stellar game, gaining through the Harvard line several times, and tackling well on the defence, and Coddington showed up well at end. For Harvard, Hamilton and Churchill were the outstanding players, gaining easily half of the ground for the Crimson.

The size of the score by no means indicates the closeness of the play. Harvard was forced to punt on innumerable occasions, and during the first half the ball was kept in Harvard's territory a large part of the time. Harvard's weight, and fresh substitutions in every position finally proved too great a handicap, however, and the Williams eleven, fighting to the end, was beaten in the last half by these two factors.

The game by plays follows:

First Period

Faxon of Harvard kicked off to Williams 25-yard line. Boynton threw a forward pass to McLean for 15 yards. Boynton gained half a yard, but his next pass went astray. McLean slipped through centre for five yards. Another pass went wide. Boynton then punted to Harvard's ten-yard line, where Bucell was downed in his tracks by Joslyn.

Owen's first rush brought Harvard to Williams' 20-yard line for a first down. He added five more through centre, Hamilton was thrown without a gain, and Humphrey punted to Williams' 35-yard line.

Boynton handled the catch cleanly. McLean was stopped by Gaston for a yard, but on the next play made nine before Owen dropped him. Another rush failed, so Boynton punted outside on Harvard's 10-yard line. Humphrey punted to Harvard's 45-yard line, but Williams was penalized for off side and the ball was Harvard's again for a first down on her 30-yard line.

Humphrey made nine yards and Owen

The Presidential Straw Ballot

The importance of a large vote in the straw ballot to be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday on the coming presidential election cannot be overemphasized. Not only that the results may represent the true opinion of the Williams undergraduate body, but in order that when the results of the ballot are printed Williams may make a good showing among other eastern colleges. Unless at least 500 votes are cast in this straw ballot, other colleges will have the visible proof that Williams men are uninterested in the most important political event in the country, and furthermore, that Williams men are not alive to the great issues which confront the United States today. If you wish this stigma to be attached to the College, stay away from the polls tomorrow and Wednesday!

Defining the Issue

The communication in the adjoining column voices typically the sentiments of a large part of the population of this country, namely, old-line Republicans who are so irrevocably opposed to any manifestation of Democratic activity, and are so firmly convinced that "the king can do no wrong"—if he be a Republican—that they will vote the Republican ticket no matter who the nominee is, and regardless of the issues at stake. Moreover, they are so convinced of Republican impeccability that they hasten to gaze upon the Republican candidate through rose-colored spectacles, and delude themselves into the belief that he is all that is perfect, merely because he is Republican.

In matters of politics THE RECORD aims to remain independent, but Mr. Banks' communication is so manifestly unfair to the Democratic candidate that we feel called upon, lest our readers mistake contentions for arguments and likewise delude themselves into the belief that Mr. Harding represents all that is admirable, and Mr. Cox all that is pernicious, to call their attention to the fact that no such sharp line can be drawn in the coming election.

We cannot agree with Mr. Banks that "Senator Harding is a fine upstanding American with an unimpeached and unimpeachable record in private and public life," and that "Gov. Cox has demonstrated that he is a ward politician of the lowest type and entirely unfit for the great office to which he aspires." There is no basis for any such comparison between the two candidates, as examinations of their political records and speeches will show, nor does Mr. Banks offer any facts to support these contentions.

Mr. Harding's record owes its exemption from impeachment chiefly to the fact that there is little in it either to impeach or admire; and the accusation that "Gov. Cox is a ward politician of the lowest type" is a mere statement, without proof. Mr. Banks evidently has in mind Gov. Cox's recent charges of a Republican "slush fund," the truth of which is still debatable, as many of the statements forced from Mr. Upham demonstrate.

It is not our purpose to place Gov. Cox on a pedestal, and sink Sen. Harding in the gutter, as Mr. Banks, reversing the positions, would do. THE RECORD believes that there is little in either candidate to excite the admiration of the intelligent voter, that both parties failed to nominate men of any great character or ability.

The thinking voter will have to make his decision by considering more than personalities of the candidates, or party affiliations. We must agree with the New York Times, that the coming election has resolved itself into "a great and solemn referendum" on the most important question that has ever faced this country, whether the United States shall enter The League of Nations, or shall maintain a policy of isolation from European affairs. Upon this issue alone the intelligent wielder of the ballot must take his stand.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Williams Record
Dear Sir:—

I wish to say very frankly that I did not like the editorial in your issue of October first entitled "How Will You Vote."

As a Williams graduate I felt that this did not represent the spirit of Williams and I was on the point of protesting at that time. The letter in the issue of October 11th, however, signed "A Cox Republican," cannot be ignored. It is unfortunate the writer did not sign his name as anonymous communications are not entitled to much consideration.

Williams is a typical American college of the old type, and has always stood and I think always will stand for the traditions and ideals of the country as the founders saw them.

The issue in the coming election is clearly drawn. It is between the preservation of the Constitution of the United States of America and a venture into a hybrid internationalism. It is between law and order and class domination.

Between the two candidates there can be no comparison. Senator Harding is a fine upstanding American with an unimpeached and unimpeachable record in private and public life. Gov. Cox has demonstrated that he is a ward politician of the lowest type and entirely unfit for the great office to which he aspires.

As Col. Harvey has put it, the difference between Harding and Cox is that between "a statesman and a cheap skate."

The Democratic administration has made a complete failure of both war and peace. Since the Armistice two years ago it has almost ceased to function except as to the squandering of money which still goes on just the same. Note Mr. Hoover's statements of Saturday last. This is a rich and prosperous country, but another four years of Democratic extravagance and incapacity would put us into bankruptcy.

We have had enough of one man Government. Let us get our feet on the ground and return to a Government "of the people, by the people and for the people."

If the "Cox Republican" will be good enough to send me his name and address I shall be glad to make him a small wager at the prevailing odds of about five or six to one that Senator Harding will be elected President of the United States on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November next.

Very sincerely yours,

Henry W. Banks, Jr.
Williams 1885

To the Editor of the Williams Record,
Dear Sir:—

In reply to the communication by Mr. Henry W. Banks, Jr., '85, I would like to say that the first part deserves refutation when, and only when, the author produces real arguments based upon facts and not mere speculations and idle Fourth-of-July oratory. In regard to the second and evidently much more important part of his argument, i.e., that his statements must be so because "I betcha," I accept with pleasure his offer and enclose herewith one dollar to be held by the Editor of the Record as stake-holder. I would suggest that Mr. Banks forward his six dollar wager to the same party.

registered a first on Harvard's 38-yard line. Owen kicked off 8 yards and Hamilton shoved through centre to Williams' 48-yard line for first down. Berger replaced Joslyn for Williams at end. Harvard was penalized 5 yards for offside, and McLean smeared Buell's pass at midfield.

Owen was thrown by McLean for a two-yard loss, and Humphrey regained three of the ten yards necessary for a first down. Humphrey's punt landed in Boynton's arms on Williams' 15-yard line. The ball was returned to Harvard at midfield on Boynton's kick. Hamilton ripped through centre for four yards and added three more. Owen made a first down for Harvard on Williams' 35-yard line.

Boynton threw Humphrey for a seven-yard loss on a fake kick play, Burger was injured when he felled Owen without a yard. Humphrey punted to Boynton on Williams' 10-yard line as the period ended. Score—Harvard 0, Williams 0.

Second Period

Boynton made a short punt from his 10-yard line to Owen on Williams' 33-yard line. The Harvard man fumbled and Boynton recovered for Williams. After McLean lost a yard, Boynton was thrown for two more by Gaston. Wilcox replaced Burger for Williams at end. Boynton's punt went outside on Williams' 45-yard line.

Humphrey twisted 24 yards to the 22-yard line. Owen plugged through for four and Hamilton was stopped on Williams' 11-yard line. Hamilton made first down four yards further on, Humphrey shot off tackle to the one-yard line. It took three more rushes, however, before Hamilton was pushed over for a touchdown. Faxon kicked the goal, making the score, Harvard, 7; Williams, 0.

Boynton ran Faxon's kickoff back fifteen yards to his own 25-yard line. Boynton's pass failed, but, not discouraged, he threw another to Hibbard, who made seven yards. McLean made first down on Williams' 25-yard line on another toss from Boynton. A thirty-five-yard pass by Boynton failed.

Boynton kicked to Harvard's 30-yard line, where Buell downed the ball. Owen ran twenty-five yards to midfield, but Harvard was holding and the Crimson was sent back to their 15-yard mark. Hamilton pierced left tackle for five yards.

McLean, in capturing Humphrey's punt on his 33-yard line, was tackled by Gaston. Boynton scooped in a pass from McLean for five yards. The next pass went wide. Boynton's to Richmond,

READ THE WANT ADS

A fact:

At nearly every hotel on the famous boardwalk at Atlantic City, Fatima is the largest-selling cigarette. And the same holds true for hundreds of other leading hotels throughout the country where, day-in and day-out, the demand is for "just enough Turkish."

Honest, now—have you found the right cigarette?

If you are the least bit doubtful, it is probably for one of two reasons:

Either your cigarette contains too much Turkish tobacco and is over-rich and heavy, or it contains too little Turkish and lacks taste.

The "right" cigarette should have less Turkish than those of the straight Turkish variety, but more Turkish than ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes. In other words, it should contain "just enough Turkish."

Judging from scores of sales-records such as the one above, most smokers find "just enough Turkish" in Fatima.

For while Fatimas do avoid the over-richness of straight Turkish cigarettes, yet they contain more Turkish than any other Turkish Blend. Rich, but not over-rich; that explains why Fatimas please the taste without tiring it.

You can prove this.

however, made first down at midfield. Owen intercepted Boynton's pass on Williams' 45-yard line.

A Harvard pass, Buell to Gaston, failed. After Harvard was penalized 5 yards, Owen regained the same distance, and Buell threw a beautiful pass to Kane, which gave Harvard first down on Williams' 29-yard line. Buell's pass fell short. On the next play he kicked a goal from the 35-yard line.

Faxon kicked off to Boynton, who ran the ball back 28 yards to his 43-yard line as the half ended.

Score—Harvard, 10, Williams 0.

Hamilton ran Boynton's kickoff back 26 yards to Harvard's 45-yard line. Owen and Hamilton between them made five yards in two rushes. Fitzgerald, captured a pass from Churchill and ran fifty yards, evading Boynton and giving Harvard a second touchdown. Faxon kicked the goal. Score—Harvard, 17; Williams, 0.

Boynton ran Faxon's kickoff back 23 yards to his 27-yard line. McLean fumbled on his 29-yard line, Kane recovering the ball for Harvard. Rushes by Owen and Churchill made the ten yards, which gave Harvard first down on the visitor's 19-yard line. Owen went through centre for four yards and duplicated this rush on the next play for first down seven yards from Williams' goal line.

Burger replaced Hibbard at fullback for Williams. Harvard's progress was momentarily stayed when a penalty of five yards was drawn, but Churchill gained the distance back. On the fourth down, Churchill broke around his left end for a touchdown, and Faxon kicked goal. Score: Harvard, 24; Williams, 0.

A Williams forward pass was intercepted on the 24-yard line. Crockett replaced Gaston at right end for Harvard. The Crimson, however, were unable to gain, losing the ball on downs on Williams' 15-yard line.

Boynton failing to make the necessary distance, punted to midfield. The ball was rushed back 10 yards. On the next play Churchill circled around the left end for 30 yards and a touchdown. Faxon kicked a goal. Score, Harvard 31, Williams 0.

McLean ran Faxon's kickoff back to Williams' 27-yard line. Tolbert knocked down Brinten's attempted forward pass and caught it before it touched the ground. Williams held Harvard for downs on their 28-yard line. Failing in one pass, Boynton made another attempt, which went to Garvin, who ran 24 yards before he was downed at midfield. The period ended then.

Score—Harvard 31, Williams 0.

Fourth Period

On the first play, Boynton fumbled, and Harvard recovered the ball on Harvard's 47-yard line. Two Harvard rushes failed to produce a yard, and Churchill's punt rolled across the goal line.

A forward pass, Mallon to Boynton, gave Williams 10 yards and first down on their 30-yard line.

Boynton was thrown for a 10-yard loss. Churchill spoiled a forward pass, and

Captain X In the Field

When you wanted a drink of water and couldn't get it—

When the chow was cold or hadn't come up—

When life was dreary and rain-soaked, too—

You had one friend that never failed you—

That soothing, comforting standby—a cigarette — and the popular cigarettes over there were round and smoked freely.

When Captain X found he couldn't replenish his supply of Pall Mall (plain ends) in the field, he began smoking the popular round cigarettes. Their shape gave him an idea.

Back in America once more the Captain came and gave us his idea,—a big idea. He suggested that we make Pall Mall cigarettes round in shape, loosely rolled—a cigarette that does not have to be tapped, squeezed or loosened, a cigarette with a free and easy draught.

A cigarette made from the famous Pall Mall blend of 42 Turkish tobaccos chosen for richness and delicacy of flavor.

In the new foil package with a patented opening tab.

HARD SCRIMMAGES ALL WEEK

Purple Faces Second Home Game
With Only Two Men Injured
After Harvard Test

Hartford, Conn. October 21 (By E. I. N. A.)—Trinity is all set for its clash with Captain Benny Boynton and his Williams eleven at Williamstown on Saturday. Coach Red Lamberton, former Princeton end and All-American man expressed himself as satisfied that the Blue and Gold eleven would hand Williams an unexpected jolt.

The Trinity team has been going rather poorly so far this season, but seems to have reached its stride now. The team opened the season with a 14 to 0 win over the Connecticut Aggies on September 25, when the heat was so excessive that no real football could be displayed. The Columbia game the following week showed up the weakness in the Trinity line, Columbia winning by a 21 to 0 score, in spite of several game stands by the Trinity team in the shadow of its own goal posts. The following week the team lost to Wesleyan, 20 to 0 in a very poorly played game. Last week the team played Bowdoin and was beaten in the last five minutes of play by a suddenly uncorked aerial attack by the Maine team.

In spite of the fact that the squad started practice on September 7 and was supposed to be in excellent condition, injuries have taken their toll of the team, the most serious being the loss of Nordlund and Black, end and guard, respectively, who both have water on the knee and will be unable to play against Williams. Fulaer, and Barry, substitute ends, have been injured this week and will not be able to play and Tansill, the other first string end, has an injured shoulder that may keep him out of the game Saturday. Breanna, who started the season at quarterback, is also on the sick list as the result of being in the way of a pot of tea which was overturned at the training table. On account of the shortage of ends, it is likely that Bolles will be shifted from half back to one of the wing positions and Ameluxen, star dash man on the track team, put in his place in the backfield.

Coach Brooks Optimistic

Although the Purple eleven received a severe battering at the hands of Harvard last week, Coach Brooks is extremely optimistic that the team will develop practically its full power when Williams meets Trinity tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Weston Field. "Except

TOURNEYS ADVANCE

Tennis Doubles and Golf Events Near Completion

With the last matches in the fourth round either to be played or defaulted by this afternoon, the fall golf tournament is within two rounds of completion. At the time of going to press, Secor '22 was the only player to have reached the semi-final round, defeating Rose '22 by the score of 4 and 3.

Other scores in the fourth round matches played during the week are as follows: Banks '21 defeated Carr '21, 6 and 5; C. F. Jones '23 defeated Cole '21, 2 and 1; Secor '22 defeated Graves '23, 5 and 3; Kaufman '22 defeated Redfield '21, 1 up (19 holes).

Three teams have entered the semi-final round of the doubles tennis tournament, two of them by default. In the only strenuously contested match, Mr. Shepard and Mr. Bell defeated Mr. Howes and Mr. Galbraith, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Chapin '23 and Rowso '22, and Carson and Humphries '21 advanced to the semi-finals without opposition.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK TO SING IN N. ADAMS

Famous Contralto to Give Recital Next Tuesday Night in Drury Auditorium

Music lovers of this section will be given a rare treat on Tuesday evening, October 26 at Drury Auditorium, when, under the direction of Charles W. Isbell, Mme. Schumann-Heink will appear in recital. The famous contralto will be assisted by Mr. George Morgan, baritone, and Miss Katharine Hoffmann, at the piano.

An interesting and varied program has been arranged. It will consist of five distinct groups, each representing a different period in the history of music. The first, to be rendered by the prima donna herself, contains two popular arias by Handel and Meyerbeer, together with an old familiar song of Bach's. In the second group there is but one composition, a slightly more elaborate aria sung by Mr. Morgan. The third consists of five well-known pieces by La Forge which Mme. Schumann-Heink will also render. The famous Pilgrim's Song by Tschaiikowsky, along with two other selections from Hahn and Lemaire, will constitute the fourth group in which Mr. Morgan will again be heard. The great contralto will then make her final appearance in the fifth group, when she will render three old-time favorites, namely: His Lullaby by Carrie Jacobs Bond, Deep River arranged by H. T. Burleigh, and an Indian Love Song from Lianeura.

This will be the first time in recent years that such a program has been presented in the Berkshires by one of the leading vocal artists of the world, and an enthusiastic audience is expected to attend the concert. Tickets are now on sale at the College Pharmacy and in North Adams.

The complete program, as it stands at present, is as follows:—

Two-Mile Event

STARRED HERE AS CAPTAIN

Picture of Brown Running for America in Olympics Has Just Arrived

World's champion of the 3000-meter course, English-American two-mile title holder, and winner of the 5000-meter event between the United States, Sweden and France, is the remarkable record of Horace Hallock Brown '20. In addition, he is the Intercollegiate two-mile champion of the United States and the holder of the American Athletic Union title for the 5000-meter race.

Last spring, Brown easily won the two-mile Intercollegiate championship at the meet held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Pa. After graduating from Williams, he entered the 5000-meter event at the American Athletic Union games at the Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass., and won the race on July 17 in 15 minutes 26 seconds, running under the colors of the Boston Athletic Association. This race qualified Brown for membership on the American Olympic team.

At Antwerp, Belgium, in the Olympic games, he qualified for the same event, but was unable to finish the race which was won by Guillemot of France. The picture of Brown running in the event has just been received by Mr. Seeley. On the next day, August 25, in the 3000-meter team race in which the contesting countries entered seven runners, each of whom ran the full distance, Brown was the first to breast the tape, winning for the United States in the fast time of 8 minutes and 57 seconds. After leaving Antwerp, Brown went to Paris where he won the 5000-meter event in the Triangular Meet between the United States, Sweden, and France. In this race, he defeated Guillemot, the winner of the same race at the Olympics. Later in the summer, he went to London and entered the two-mile grind in the dual meet between the United States and England. He again won his race, breaking the tape ahead of Ivan Dresser, formerly of Cornell and a team-mate at the Olympic games. The time for this event was 9 minutes 30 seconds and is three seconds slower than that made by Brown when he won the Intercollegiate last spring.

Before entering College, Brown graduated from the Bernardsville High School, Bernardsville, New Jersey, where he had no track experience or training. He came to Williams in 1915 and first appeared in track uniform at the Underclass Meet. In the spring of his freshman year, he won every event he entered in the dual meets

PERIOD B OF RUSHING ENDS TOMORROW NIGHT

Freshmen Must Place Replies in Jesup Hall Boxes by 2.00
O'clock Sunday

Period B of the rushing season was started yesterday evening with the dinner date at 6.00 o'clock and will continue until the end of the second evening date next Saturday night, making in all a total of nine dates for this period. Period C will begin with the dinner date next Sunday and will continue indefinitely, with bidding and pledging permitted.

Dates for each day of Period B are divided as during the week days of period A, into a dinner date (6.00 to 7.30 o'clock), a first evening date (7.30 to 8.45 o'clock), and a second evening date (8.45 to 10.00 o'clock). In period C there will be only three official dates: the dinner and first and second evening dates of next Sunday.

First year men will receive their invitations for period C in Jesup Hall between the hours of 9.00 and 10.00 o'clock next Sunday morning. As has been announced before in the Record, a sealed envelope containing the invitations will be given to each man; and each man will receive an envelope whether he has any invitations or not. Fourteen temporary mail-boxes have been placed in Jesup Hall, one for each fraternity, and first year men will place their replies to the invitations for period C in the respective boxes of the various fraternities by 2.00 o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

HARRIERS SELECTED

First Cross-Country Meet Will Be in New York Oct. 30

As a result of the cross-country trials held last Monday, the following men were tentatively selected for the team: Coan, Crofts, Kellogg '21, Adams, Seaman, Wolfe '22, Fasse, and C. F. Jones '23. No captain has yet been elected, although Crofts is temporarily acting in that capacity.

As Kellogg was unable to run in the trials, but would probably have placed, one extra man was tentatively chosen. Before the first meet the membership will be reduced to seven men. Five of these runners had experience last year, Captain Brown and Platt '20 being the only men lost by graduation.

Five attempts to schedule a dual run with five different colleges tomorrow were unsuccessful, as Dartmouth, Springfield, Middlebury, R. P. I., and M. A. C. were all unable to compete. The first contest will therefore be against Columbia, on the morning of October 30, over the Van-Cortlandt Park course, in New York City.

WILLIAMS VOTES 216
FOR HARDING, COX 71

Gives Affiliation as 242 Republicans to 33 Democrats—28
Vote Independently

Complete returns from seventeen colleges on the presidential straw ballot conducted by the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, received by special wire at the Record office just at press time give an overwhelming majority of votes to Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican candidate. Of 14,735 votes cast, the republican standard-bearer received 9,541, more than twice the number of 4,314 which Governor James M. Cox obtained, while both major candidates were far in the lead of Eugene M. Debs (socialist), Parley Christensen (farmer-labor), and Aaron Watkins (prohibition).

The Vote at Williams

Williams gave Harding as pronounced a lead as he received anywhere. The total College vote was 216 for Harding, 71 for Cox, 10 for Debs, and 6 for Christensen. Of the independent vote, 15 were in favor of the Democratic candidate, 12 for the Ohio senator, and one for Debs. Among the faculty, there were five independent voters who cast their ballots solidly for Cox. Also five professors who are normally Republican, voted for Cox. Twenty-four Republican men voted for the Democratic candidate from the student body, four Democrats cast their ballots for Harding, five Republicans were in favor of Christensen and eight favored Debs; while only one Democrat voted for the Socialist candidate.

Amherst Follows G. O. P.

Voting at Amherst was very similar to that at Williams. 364 students and 26 members of the faculty cast their ballots. As at the other colleges, the undergraduates were strongly Republican while the faculty upheld the Democrats. Among the students, 255 men voted for Harding, 87 for Cox, 11 for Debs, nine for Christensen, and 2 for the Prohibition candidate. The faculty balloted as follows: Cox, 19; Harding, 6; Christensen, one; Debs, none; Watkins, none.

Other Colleges Vote the Same

In the other fourteen colleges from which returns were available at the time of going to press, the story ran very much as it did here and at Amherst. Practically everywhere, the candidates stood in the following order: first, Harding (republican); second, Cox (democratic); third, (Continued on page 3 column 2)

DR. EDWARDS HERE

Well-Known Alumnus Will Conduct Sunday Service

Dr. F. Boyd Edwards, pastor of the Hillside Presbyterian Church of Orange, New Jersey, will conduct the Sunday services in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday. Dr. Edwards has spoken at Williams several times in the last few years, and has always had an interesting message to deliver.

Dr. Edwards graduated from Williams in the class of 1900, and from the Union Theological Seminary in 1904. During his college course he played for three years on the varsity football team. From 1904 to 1905, Dr. Edwards was assistant pastor of the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, of Brooklyn, and from 1908 to 1910 was pastor of the South Congregational Church of Brooklyn. In 1910 he accepted a call to his present charge, which he has held uninterruptedly since that time.

Is Williams Less Cosmopolitan?

Williams for many years has taken pride in its substantial enrollment from surprisingly wide-spread sections of the country. Its comparatively small registration has heretofore maintained a cosmopolitan aspect that has compared very favorably with that of much larger institutions, but it is at present showing signs of losing this trait to some extent.

The statistics appearing in another column of this issue illustrate strikingly the tendency mentioned above. It is a significant fact that New York, for instance, has very nearly as many students here as have the next three highest states together, while seven states are represented by nearly 90% of the student body. It is when these figures are compared with those of past years, however, that an unmistakable provincial drift becomes evident. In the short interval since 1919, five states have ceased to be represented, and nine other states have lost ground in actual numbers, despite a College registration considerably higher than that of a year ago. Among the latter are included states with important alumni centers, such as Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, and the District of Columbia. At the same time, there is some room for optimism in the gratifying increases from Ohio, Illinois, and Pennsylvania.

Yet some remedy must be found for the situation which will ensure a steadily increasing rather than decreasing territorial representation for Williams, if one of its best influences of the past is to be continued. Princeton for many years has maintained a committee composed of both alumni and undergraduates which has for its sole purpose the "boosting" of Princeton in all parts of the United States. When some section ceases to be properly represented, attention is concentrated there until the condition is remedied. For this purpose men are paid to give their entire time to the work. The plan in its entirety may be too pretentious for a college the size of Williams, but its general principles, at least, deserve consideration.

Treasurer's Notice

DISLIKES "WILSONISM"

To the Editor of The Williams Record,
Dear Sir:—

In view of the recent injection of political discussion into the columns of The Record permit me to offer a dissent from your editorial opinion expressed in the issue of the 18th inst. viz. "that the coming election has resolved itself into 'a great and solemn referendum' on the most important question that has ever faced this country, whether the United States shall enter the League of Nations, or shall maintain a policy of isolation from European affairs."

In the first place, the presentation of the antithesis of The League of Nations, by which is meant, of course, the Wilson League, as against the "policy of isolation from European affairs," is a mere bugaboo, a bogey-man meant to frighten "soft-minded" idealists to vote for Cox for fear the world will go to the bow-wows if the United States does not "go in" to the League.

Two things deserve consideration here. (1) The Wilson League is by no means the one and only possible device for promoting the peace of the world and preventing future wars: (some very eminent authorities claim that in fact it would tend to breed wars,) and (2), "isolation from European affairs" is quite a different thing from non-interference with European affairs, which the wise Republican candidate advocates, while Mr. Cox, who would bring pressure to bear upon Great Britain to right the wrongs of Ireland, does not. There is by no means the ominous alternative choice such as is obviously implied.

In the second place I beg to say that the question of a League of Nations, or its equivalent, is not likely to be the determining or most important factor in the great majority of electoral votes that seem to be quite assured to Mr. Harding. A more accurate statement would seem to be, in brief, the shortcomings of the present Administration, or—in a word—"Wilsonism."

Undoubtedly the people—that is, the majority—here as elsewhere throughout the world, want some kind of a league of nations that will promote peace and goodwill and prevent war, and they are bound to get it, but, save in more or less academic circles, throughout the country the more important issues which affect the general welfare of the average citizen and are more or less chargeable to the failure of the Administration at Washington largely overshadow the question of just what sort of arrangement is to be made to this end right now.

That the New York Times should continue to aid in this Democratic propaganda now more vigorously pushed than heretofore because of the failure of the previous senate charges to affect the public otherwise than as boomerangs, is only renewed evidence of the shallowness of its pretence of non-partisanship and does little harm except to those who are disposed to regard its dictum as an oracle.

Respectfully yours,

Sumner Satter.

"LEAGUE" IS NOT THE ISSUE

To the Editor of the Williams Record,
Dear Sir:—

The truth of your statement that the coming election has resolved itself into "a great and solemn referendum" on the question of our entrance into the League of Nations is open to serious doubt. I earnestly hope that the habit of muddled thinking of inability to distinguish between a league and the League, of desire to grasp at the first nostrum offered for the ills of the world is not the cause. All Democrats do not favor a policy of international cooperation; all Republicans do not oppose it. Even on the question of the present League we find the parties split. We have Mr. Taft and Mr. Homer Cummings, Senator Borah and Senator Reed. I believe that a majority of the men of Williams College favor a league of nations; I also believe that the majority are Republicans. It can not be denied that the interest of the United States in the whole subject has markedly cooled. No occasion less fitted to the decision of such a question than the presidential election could have been found. The subject of the League of Nations may afford

Debs (socialist); fourth, Christensen (farmer-labor); fifth, Watkins (prohibition).

One Supports Cox

At only one college, and that the southern institution of Richmond College, Richmond, Va., did the vote swing to the side of the Cox party. There the vote stood: Cox, 171; Harding, 32; Debs, 2; Watkins, 2; Christensen, none. The socialist vote was largest at Columbia University, totaling 172, and Harvard followed next with 110 voting for the "prison candidate." Prohibition and the farmer-labor party failed to draw much support anywhere.

Faculties Choose Cox

At Amherst, Colgate, Harvard and Williams, the only colleges from which detailed reports on the vote have been secured, the faculties supported Cox and the democratic ticket by substantial majorities. At Williams, twelve professors stood up for Cox, and but two gave their support to Harding, while one voted for Christensen.

The vote was conducted with a view to ascertaining, not only how each man intends to vote on next November 2, but also what his normal party affiliations are. Of the Williams voters, more republicans swung to Cox than the number of democrats who polled their ballots for Harding. The independent vote was about equally divided between the republicans and the democrats, with a vote or two left over for Debs.

A complete summary of the vote of students and faculty in Williams college follows:

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

for minor injuries and the loss of two backfield men," he declared today, "the team will be in excellent shape."

After last week's hard work, the team was given a let-up, but practice began in earnest on Tuesday and after stiff drills aiming to remove the palpable weakness shown by the line at Cambridge, two scrimmages were held in which the first eleven has shown up well against the scrubs.

Although the backfield will be handicapped by the loss of Hibbard, who has been put out of the game indefinitely by an injury to his knee, as well as the probable loss of McLean, Montgomery and Wilson have been playing an excellent game and will prove able substitutes. The injury to Joslyn's knee and ankle is responding favorably to treatment so that it now seems likely that he will start the game at the end position. Codding and Lasell, both of whom made a particularly good showing at Harvard will again appear at end and guard, respectively.

The probable line-up for Saturday's game follows:

Trinity		Williams
Bolles	le	Codding
Sinott	lt	Lasell
Wright	lg	Fulle
Kelley, Brill, Wallen	e	Smith
Johnson (Capt.)	rg	Laws
McAuley	rt	Fargo

Last week 28 different Harvard crews practised on the Charles River simultaneously. Of this number four were of the first squad, eight class crews, and sixteen freshman dormitory crews.

COMMUNICATION

fect our views of candidates, but to say that it is the issue, the paramount question, is nonsense. Are we to elect our next President on the issue of the Treaty of Versailles, pure and undiluted? Even Mr. Cox does not make that claim. It is, of course, more gratifying to the Democratic Party to take its stand on the toploftical moral question of peace for the world than of the "slush-fund" and the naive assumption that the only end of money is corruption.

If the line can not be drawn between the attitudes of the wet voters of the two parties, can it be drawn between the attitudes of the leaders, a line of the possibility of ratification? Elect Mr. Cox, and there will still be thirty-three Republican Senators who twice voted against ratification without the Lodge reservations. Will these men admit that a referendum has been held, and has gone against them, and that they must subordinate their convictions to the popular will? The League can not be passed as a party issue; to make it a party issue is to defeat it. This issue needs most of all a long rest; then it may recover from the blunders of its friends and the malice of its enemies.

There are other issues, issues on which the campaign will be decided. There is the Adamson Law, the settlement of the coal strike, the retention of Daniels and Burleson, the Esch-Cummings Bill, the whole subject of internal government and of political and industrial relations. The average man (if there be such) is far more harassed by high prices than by doubts about Fiume, and he will vote accordingly. It is not that the League of Nations is not important, extremely important. The fact is that the League is not, and should not be, the line of party distinction. Issues of internal politics, questions of merits of candidates and parties, are not so flattering to our moral vanity, but they are the issues to consider.

Have you read Mr. Root's speech?
Sincerely yours,
George B. Sears, '21

REPRESENT 26 STATES

Registration Shows Men Here From 5 Foreign Nations

Statistics received from the Dean's office show a total of 574 men now in college, as contrasted with 557 at the same time last year. Twenty-six states and five foreign countries are represented in this total.

The freshmen class, including a number of men who have been in college previous to this year, far exceeds any other in number, containing practically 100 more men than 1922, which ranks second in enrollment. An overwhelming majority of Williams men hail from New York, with Massachusetts a poor second. Seven states, Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oregon, and Washington, have one representative each. The foreign countries from which men have come to Williams are France, China, England, Hawaii, and Japan.

COLLEGE NOTES

Petitions for the agency for a special train to be run to New York City and return at the time of the Columbia game must be in the hands of the Student Council not later than tonight if they are to be considered by the Council.

Brigham '21 and Sayen '22 represented Williams at a meeting of the delegates of the various industries of the Berkshire Valley last Friday evening at Adams. The education of the foreign labor element was the object of the discussion. Mr. Edward Bohner, Secretary of the Associated Industries, and Mr. John Mahoney, State Supervisor of Education, spoke.

Professor Carroll Lewis Maxey has resigned as the secretary of the athletic council after a period of service extending over several years. His successor has not yet been appointed.

FOR YOUNG MEN AND MEN WHO STAY YOUNG

Men will look better
this season

This season's style is quite different; and many college men will be glad, because it is more comfortable and easy-looking than the soldier-like models of past seasons.

The new coats have a free swing from the shoulders—the waist line is lower and not shaped in—the vent is shorter and behaves better.

And remember there is art in the cut of a full coat. It must hang right when you sit or stand—when it's buttoned or unbuttoned—when your arms are up or down.

Art in design is what has made the Style reputation of Society Brand Clothes. And all-wool fabrics along with fine hand-tailoring hold these clothes to the lines of the design.

Copies of over 4000 photographs of all phases of undergraduate life at Harvard have been put on sale by the newly-organized Photo-Sales Department of the Harvard Crimson, the university daily. Most of the pictures have appeared during the past five years in either the daily paper or the pictorial supplement.

"Jack" Moakley, head track coach at Cornell, was recently presented with a purse of $575 by the citizens of Ithaca, N. Y., in appreciation of his work as chief coach of the Olympic team at Antwerp this summer.

The annual celebration of "Dartmouth Night" took place last Saturday at Hanover, N. H., with the customary parade and ceremonies. Over 3000 alumni and undergraduates gathered to do homage to their Alma Mater, while three alumni speakers urged the freshmen to remain loyal to Dartmouth traditions.

Professor Foye of the Wesleyan Geological Department conducted the annual excursion of the New England Geological Association through the Connecticut Valley region last week. About 25 professors and advanced students made up the party of exploration. Before his resignation as secretary of the association, Professor Cleland of Williams conducted the excursions.

Soccer has been added to the list of interfraternity athletics at Cornell. An interfraternity league has been formed, the winners of which are to receive free tickets to the Cornell-Pennsylvania game in Philadelphia on Thanksgiving Day.

Captain X at the Front

The Poilu fought on his "vin-ordinaire."

The Tommy on his tea.

But the Doughboy had to have his cigarette.

What he wanted was a cigarette with a free and easy draught, and that's what the round, loosely rolled, "canteen" cigarettes gave him. Their round shape meant a free and easy draught.

Captain X had taken with him a liberal supply of his favorite PALL MALL, plain ends, but found he could not replenish his supply at the front, so he began smoking the popular, round cigarettes. Their shape gave him an idea.

Back in America once more, the Captain came and gave us his idea—a big idea. He suggested that we make PALLMALL cigarettes round in shape, loosely rolled, —a cigarette that does not have to be tapped, squeezed or loosened, a cigarette with a free and easy draught.

A cigarette made from the famous PALL MALL blend of forty-two Turkish tobaccos, chosen for richness and delicacy of flavor.

FOURTEEN EVENTS INCLUDED

Expect Seniors to Furnish Close Competition—Entries Due
One Day Ahead

Seven events will form the schedule for the opening day of the annual interclass handicap track meet which begins this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Weston Field, and the other seven events will be held tomorrow afternoon at the same time. Owing to the fact that the meet will be held on a handicap basis, entries cannot be made on the field, but should be in the hands of Coach Seeley or Captain Crofts at least a day before the event in question is to occur.

All advance information concerning the outcome of the meet points toward a victory for the Junior team, with the Seniors a close second. Although having the advantage of greater experience on the track, 1921 is handicapped by having several men out for football who might otherwise place in the meet, whereas 1922 has a number of men who assure them of probably first places in the 100-yard dash, the low hurdles, the 440-yard dash, the high jump, discus throw, and the 220-yard dash. 1921, however, has fast men in the distances and is fairly sure of some places in the sprints.

The entries for events to be held to-day are as follows:

GRANT APPLICATIONS

Student Council Enters Petition Over Ineligibility

To transact minor business a meeting of the Student Council was called last Friday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Hyndman and Seager '21 were granted the privilege of taking charge of the special train to be run to and from New York for the Columbia game on November 6, and at the same time Crofts and Mixer '21 were given the contract to prepare the Williams calendar. A committee of four, Fargo '21, chairman, Blake '22, Holmes '23, and Carpenter '24 was appointed to draw up a petition to be submitted to the faculty to the effect that football men, who on account of warnings might be at that time ineligible, be permitted to take part in the game against Wesleyan on November 13.

Cross Country Team Will Be Captained By Kellogg

Hamilton H. Kellogg '21 was elected captain of the cross-country team for the present season at a meeting of the members of the team held last Saturday. He ran on track teams at Lawrenceville and Syracuse University before entering Williams. Kellogg entered Syracuse University from Lawrenceville School, where he was captain of the cross-country team, and ran the mile on the track team. During his freshman year at Syracuse he ran on his class cross-country and track teams. He transferred to Williams in his sophomore year, and ran the half-mile on the varsity track team in the spring of 1919. In his junior year he was a member of the varsity cross-country and relay teams, and again ran the half-mile on the track team. Kellogg is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

VARSITY WHITE-WASHES BLUE AND GOLD BY DECISIVE SCORE

Interviews by Dr. Holmes

According to his usual custom, preceding a communion service, Dr. Samuel VanVranken Holmes '83, of Buffalo, New York, will hold conferences with any undergraduate who wishes to talk to him on any matters, whether connected with college life or not. Dr. Holmes will arrive in Williamstown Thursday, October 28, and will have office hours in Jesup Hall where he will have interviews in the morning and afternoon. Any student wishing to talk with him can arrange an appointment by communicating with Hall '21. Dr. Holmes is a member of the Alumni Advisory Committee of the Williams Christian Association.

MUSICAL CLUBS PLAN CONCERTS FOR EASTER

Arrange Performances in Six Eastern Cities—Dances to Conclude Programs

Tentative plans for the main trip of the Combined Musical Clubs, which will take place during the spring recess, call for six concerts in various Eastern cities. In addition to this the Clubs will give an entertainment in Pittsfield or Northampton during some week-end in February.

Beginning with a concert at the Hotel Nonotuck, Holyoke, on Wednesday evening, April 6, the Musical Clubs will make their second stop on Thursday, April 7, at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston. From there the clubs will go to Hartford, Conn., where they will entertain at the Hartford Club on the following evening. Next on the schedule is the Montclair Country Club, Montclair, N. J., on Saturday the 9th. The Monday following will find the Clubs at East Orange, N. J., where a concert will be given at the Women's Club. The trip comes to an end on Tuesday, April 12, with an entertainment at the Plaza Hotel, New York City.

Rehearsals for the performance will probably begin this afternoon. The usual program will be followed, including popular songs by a double quartet, several classical pieces, and one or two bass solos. Following each performance a dance will be given by the alumni, and members of the east will be guests in the homes of alumni during the stop in each city.

FORUM WILL MEET

General Topic Will Be "Who to Vote For and Why"

In order to awaken interest among the student body in the approaching presidential election, the Forum will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall. The general topic will be "Who to vote for and why." It is intended to have the platforms of both parties thoroughly outlined and explained by the different speakers.

Professors T. C. Smith and Morton will deliver the principal addresses for the faculty, and Atwell '21 and Lyon '22 will speak as representatives of the undergraduate body. Each will dwell upon the candidacy of either Cox or Harding and will give reasons for his particular choice. The meeting will then be thrown open for political discussion in which it is hoped a large number of the faculty and undergraduates will take part.

Sophomore Class to Meet

There will be a meeting of the Sophomore class in Jesup Hall next Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock to elect a class basketball manager, a class debating manager, and a Sophomore Promenade Committee.

Despite Sick List Williams Rolls
Up Heavy 62-0 Total Over Plucky Trinity Team

BOYNTON RUNS WILD
GAINING 350 YARDS

Wilson, Montgomery and Richmond
Also Star—Team Scores
Without Captain

Although seriously crippled through injuries sustained in the Harvard game last week, Williams met the Trinity football team yesterday afternoon on Weston Field and emerged victorious by the decisive score of 62 to 0, the largest shut-out game score ever amassed by the Purple. Power in attack and excellent interference characterized Williams' play throughout the game, and the forward pass was used effectively several times, although most of the Purple's gains were made through line plays.

Williams used for the most part straight football. Teamwork was in evidence, and the line afforded the backs at all times almost faultless interference. Captain Boynton was easily the star of the day, making a total individual gain of 350 yards, including four long runs of 40, 50, 60 and 102 yards respectively, in the latter case receiving a dropkick two yards behind the goal and running the length of the field for a touchdown. Boynton also scored six of the Purple's nine touchdowns. J. E. Wilson made a good showing at half-back, was a deciding factor in the Williams offense throughout the game, and proved a reliable leader in the last period after Captain Boynton had retired to the bench from which he watched a Williams team play for the first time in his college career. Montgomery played well at full-back and showed unusual ability in line bucking. Richmond also played a good offensive game, receiving three forward passes during the first period for gains of 15, 20 and 10 yards respectively.

Only once during the game did the visitors seriously threaten the Williams goal, when in the first few minutes of the final quarter, Captain Boynton having kicked out to his 25-yard line, Trinity, launching an aerial attack of five successive and effective forward passes, made a substantial gain. Bleeker, at full back, played a good game for the Connecticut team, making most of Trinity's long gains, one being the longest run of the day for the visitors of 30 yards from kick-off in the second quarter. He gained ground regularly and proved a hard man to stop, once free.

The game by play follows:
First Period

Lasell kicked off to Trinity's 20-yard line where Bleeker was caught in his tracks. Murphy then went through center for three yards. Sinclair was next held to a

FIX SPECIAL TRAIN

Cars Will Be Run to and from Columbia Game

Arrangements are now being made to run special trains to and from New York for the Columbia game next Saturday by Hyndman and Seager '21, to whom this agency has been awarded by the Student Council. A guarantee of 125 men must be made to the railroad in order to run special trains or 50 men in order to run special cars on some regular train.

Going down to New York the train will probably leave here at 4.23 o'clock Thursday or Friday afternoons, Eastern Standard Time, arriving at the Grand Central Terminal at 10.10 o'clock. The return train is expected to leave the Grand Central Station about 2.00 o'clock Monday morning and will arrive in Williamstown in time for chapel.

Only Common Justice

The Record is in hearty accord with the sentiments expressed by Dr. Edwards in chapel yesterday morning. It is an easily demonstrated fact that the church should be and is a necessary element in the life of the community. There are individuals who have been able to do without it successfully, but a community, be it of college or larger size, finds it advantageous and essential, as Dr. Edwards so ably pointed out.

Nevertheless we must consider the fact that times are constantly changing. One would never consider at the present time attending church all day long, as our forefathers were accustomed to do. A multitude of activities, athletic and otherwise, has arisen within the last twenty years which necessarily interferes to some extent with regular chapel attendance. In this connection it seems hardly fair to penalize a student for utilizing his ability in such lines, yet the present system of very restricted cutting does exactly that thing.

The undergraduate body appreciates the value of the chapel services and is not striving to do away with them. It showed this last spring by voting overwhelmingly in favor of compulsory chapel. Common justice requires that some cognizance of their stand in the matter should be taken by the College authorities. Definite action should be taken toward liberalizing the present system. The Sunday vespers service is the most beautiful of the entire week, and it is noteworthy that the most outstanding men religiously in College are in favor of making it voluntary on that account. A far more refined and spiritual air would pervade such a service, were the men there of their own free choice.

FIRST 'COW' IS OUT

"Freshman Number" is of Average Quality—Jokes Good

In the guise of a "Freshman Number" the Purple Cow made its annual debut last Friday afternoon. Taken as a whole the issue is of average quality, although some of the features are bright and original.

The cover design is an interesting work in two colors by Byers '23. The issue contains a large number of drawings, including several by Wasson '21, Britton, and Hurley '23 who contributed substantially to this department of the number. Britton '23 was also responsible for a number of poetical selections. On the whole the honors are equally divided between the verse and the prose jokes and stories. Judging from initial efforts, Wetherbee '24 promises to become a regular contributor to the art department of the Cow.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of The WILLIAMS RECORD,
Please cancel my subscription and return check sent this morning for renewal.

Explanation, — see enclosed clipping from your issue of Oct. 11.

I can understand why one with the very obvious mentality of "A Cox Republican" can become enamored of the shifty candidate whose only equipment for the presidency appears to be a lower jaw mounted on "bawl" bearings and principles that are wet or dry according to location. I can also understand why the aforesaid "A. C. R.," possessing a mentality that can admire such a candidate, should desire to parade such admiration in public print. It is only in political controversy that such freaks find an opportunity to come to the surface from their wonted oblivion. But what I don't understand is why the management of the WILLIAMS RECORD inflicts such propaganda on its readers. I for one do not propose to have such a nuisance committed in my mail box a second time.

Very truly,

DR. GARFIELD TALKS

Describes Border Life in Colonial Days Before S. A. R.

Taking as his subject: "Colonel Ephraim Williams, Commander of the Border Forts," President Harry A. Garfield gave to members of the Berkshire Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, a vivid description of border life in the perilous colonial days. Dr. Garfield paid high tribute to the men who safeguarded the people of this section by command of the forts which extended from Fort Massachusetts, on the extreme west, over the Mohawk trail, down through Charlestown and the old Deerfield valley to the historic town of Deerfield.

For the purpose of reconstructing Fort Massachusetts, officials of the society have recently visited the site, and have located the exact lines of the old fort. The well used site that time was also found and some of the uprights in it were removed and brought to Williamstown, where they will be placed on exhibition in Lawrence Hall.

Col. Whittlesey For Cox

Lieutenant-Colonel Charles Whittlesey, '05, of Pittsfield, Mass., Commander of the famous American "lost battalion" in the world War, was the head of a party of League of Nations advocates to leave New York last night on a "proleague special" for a trans-continental trip to California. At the principal cities en route he will make speeches urging the election of Governor Cox as the surest means of ending the protracted controversy of the question that has become paramount in the coming presidential election.

Soccer Managers to Meet

Class soccer managers will meet tonight to discuss plans for the coming season and to make out a schedule for the inter-class series. Practice has been held every day last week on Cole Field and the Old Campus but no class teams have been chosen as yet.

The members of the winning team will receive their numerals and an all-class team will be picked at the end of the season. This team is unable to compete with other college elevens but undoubtedly games will be arranged with local teams as has been done in the past.

New Features in "Herald"

Next Wednesday a map on India will be shown, indicating the number of Williams men doing missionary work in that country, and on Wednesday materials will be posted showing views of Madras College, which was founded by Mr. Tracy, a Williams man, and which is situated just south of India.

A fact:

Here at Annapolis, as with Navy officers generally, Fatima is the largest-selling cigarette. This, and similar facts, show that smokers do discriminate—that, as between cigarettes containing too much, too little and just enough Turkish, the lasting preference is for Fatima, with "just enough Turkish."

Men often tire of too much Turkish

Comparatively few men can smoke straight Turkish cigarettes all day long and enjoy them.

That's because Turkish tobacco, like certain foods, is extremely rich. Too much of it takes all the zest out of smoking.

A great many men, on the other hand, find the ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarette disappointing. It lacks taste—doubtless because it contains too little Turkish.

It is not surprising, therefore, to find that more and more men are choosing Fatima. For Fatima with its generous proportion of Turkish tobacco—more than in any other Turkish Blend—retains that delicious Turkish taste while avoiding the over-richness of straight, all-Turkish cigarettes.

You will not tire of Fatimas.

1922 IS VICTORIOUS IN HANDICAP MEET

Winners Score 53 Points Out of Possible 117—Sophomores Second with 35

BECKET AND McWHORTER TOTAL HIGHEST SCORES

Kellogg '21, Olmsted '23, and Pickard '24 Lead Their Respective Classes in Scoring

Piling up a total of 53 points out of a possible 117, the Juniors easily ran away with the honors in the annual interclass handicap track meet held last Monday and Tuesday afternoons on Weston Field. 1923 came next with 35 points, while the Freshmen and Seniors scored 18 and 11 points respectively. Wholly disproportionate handicaps in the distance runs were responsible for the poor showing of the Seniors in those races.

Out of the thirteen events run off during the meet seven first places were taken outright by the winners and in one event a tie for first was made with 1923 and 1921. Becket '22 won the individual honors of the meet with a total of two first places, a second, and a tie for second to his credit. Next came McWhorter '22 with 13 points—two firsts and a second. Mendes '22 held third place in individual scoring with a first and second place.

Out of the 11 points scored by 1921 Kellogg was responsible for six and Coan for the other five; for the Sophomores Olmsted was the individual star with six points; and Pickard lead the Freshmen with five points won by a first in the half-mile.

A summary of the meet by events follows:

100-yard dash: first—McWhorter '22, scratch; second—Olmsted '23, 2 yards; third—Dodge '24, 3 yards. Time—10 1-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles: first—P. Phillips '22, scratch; second—Barnes '23, scratch; third—Dewey '23, 6 yards. Time—16 2-5 seconds.

1/4-mile run: first—Wehl '23, 200 yards; second—Adams '22, 200 yards; third—F. Jones '23, 150 yards. No time taken.

440-yard dash: first—Kellogg '21, scratch; second—Mendes '22, 5 yards; third—Snell '24, 10 yards. Time—53 seconds.

Shot put: first—Becket '22, 1 foot; second—Gregory '24, 6 inches; third—Hiss '23, 1 foot. Distance—34 feet, 2 1-2 inches.

Discus throw: first—Becket '22, scratch; second—Wishard '24, 2 feet; third—Gummev '22, 6 feet. Distance—103 feet, 10 inches.

High jump: tied for first place—Elliman and Wallace '22, Barnes and Parker '23, Sinkler and Wishard '24. Height—5 feet, 3 inches.

TO PLAY IN FINALS

Chapin and Rowse to Oppose Mr. Bell and Mr. Shepard

Closing the fall doubles Tennis Tournaments, the match for the College championship will be played off next Monday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock on the College courts. Chapin '23 and Rowse '22, who defeated Carson and Humphreys '21 last Saturday afternoon by the score of 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, will oppose Mr. Bell and Mr. Shepard, winners by default over Baker and Rose '22.

In the golf tournament only three of the four matches previous to the semi-finals have been played. H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Banks '21, 5 and 4, Kaufman '22 yielded to Comstock '24 by a score of 6 and 5, and Seer '22 defeated Rose '22, 4 and 3. The semi-finals must be played off about the first of next week in order that the final match may take place before weather conditions prohibit.

Dr. Holmes '83 to Conduct Sunday Morning Services

Rev. Samuel Van Vranken Holmes, D.D. '83, will occupy the pulpit at the morning service in the College chapel next Sunday, and will hold communion service at 5.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Dr. Holmes, who is pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Buffalo, has officiated at Williams services for many years.

After studying a year at the University of Berlin and later at the Princeton Theological Seminary, Dr. Holmes was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry in 1887. Williams conferred on him the M.A. degree in 1886 and that of D.D. in 1903. Before taking up his work in Buffalo in 1893, he held pastorates at Richfield Springs, N. Y., and in Washington, D. C.

1924 FOOTBALL TEAM TO OPPOSE WESLEYAN

Freshmen Strengthened by Return of Gregory and Knight to Line-up for Game

Strengthened by the return of Gregory and Knight to the line-up, the 1924 football team will face the Wesleyan freshman eleven in the third game of the season tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Coach VanAlstyne has made several changes in the line-up and expects to send a powerful team into the contest Saturday.

Scrimmages have been held daily during the week and special attention has been placed on the handling of the ball by the backs and ends. Three changes have been made in the line-up for tomorrow's game. Bigelow has been substituted at right guard for Robinson who was injured early in the week in the game between the freshmen and the first year men who are ineligible. Jayne will start the game at the other guard position in place of Cole. Gregory and Knight will fill the half-back positions and Miller will probably play quarterback. D. C. O'Brien has been playing very well in practice and may start the game in place of Miller, while Healy may also appear in the initial line-up. Hoffman, Mason and Taylor in the backfield and Cole and Comstock in the line have been playing well and will probably be substituted during the game.

The Wesleyan team has played no outside game thus far in the season and so little is known concerning their strength. The team is an unusually heavy one and outweighs the Wesleyan varsity, having an average weight for the eleven of about 170 pounds. The line-up for the game is far from definite but an approximate one is given below. The Wesleyan 1924 ends have not been chosen.

The probable line-ups are as follows: Williams 1924—Ethridge, Healy, left end; Sinkler, left tackle; Bigelow, left guard; Barnes, center; Jayne, right guard; Johnston, right tackle; McKean, right end; Miller, O'Brien, quarterback; Gregory, right halfback; Knight, left halfback; Perkins, fullback. Wesleyan 1924—LaCanke, left tackle; Olson, left guard; Seidler, center; Davis, right guard; Oviatt, right tackle; Strick, quarterback; Boswell, right halfback; Ely, left halfback; Scritting, fullback.

N. E. College Assn. Meets

President Harry A. Garfield and Professor Carroll L. Maxey will represent Williams at a meeting of the Association of New England Colleges to be held today and tomorrow at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. There will be 25 delegates, representing 14 colleges and universities in New England at the conference. The gathering will mark the 62nd annual meeting of the association. President Shanklin of Wesleyan University will preside over the meeting, and topics bearing on college administration and college life will be discussed.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WILL MEET COLUMBIA

First Race of the Season Will Be Held Tomorrow in Van Cortlandt Park

CROFTS IS EXPECTED TO WIN

Opposing Team Failed to Show Up Well in Syracuse Invitation Meet

In the first cross country run of the season the Williams septet will race Columbia tomorrow morning at 11.30 o'clock over the six mile Van Cortlandt Park course, New York City. As a result of the trials held ten days ago the team consists of Captain Kellogg, Coan, and Crofts '21, Seaman and Wolfe '22, Fasse and C. F. Jones '23, who together with Coach Seeley and Manager Banks left for New York today.

Although the team is without the services of Captain Brown who made such a splendid record as a member of the Olympic team this past summer, it seems to be better balanced this year than last. Crofts, who finished next to Brown in the runs last year is running better than ever and should probably lead Higgins of Columbia at the finish. Coan and Kellogg also have profited by the experience gained last year and should be found near Crofts on the last stretch. Wolfe is the only other veteran on the team, but of the new men Fasse promises to give the best account of himself. In the practice runs and trials he has paced Crofts until the final sprint and can be counted upon to give a good account of himself.

The course is three miles long and will be run over twice. From the start, which is on the football field in Van Cortlandt Park, the course leads south, paralleling Broadway for about one-third of a mile. Here the runners will pass under a railroad bridge, turn sharply to the right, and ascend a long, steep hill of about a 14% grade across the golf links. After this point the course is fairly easy except for the last mile where the path is a very rough climb and zigzags up and over a hill with a steep down grade.

Columbia has not announced the final makeup of her team but it is expected that Haskell, Higgins, Lowenkop, Schafer, and Turner, who ran in the Syracuse Invitation Meet, October 16, will be among the seven to run tomorrow. Of these, Higgins appears to be the best, since he finished sixth in this meet, with Turner, the nearest man on the Columbia team, in twenty-fourth place. After the meet the majority of sport writers credited Higgins with an exceptionally good race.

In the meet tomorrow, the first five men of each team to finish will be scored numerically in the order in which they cross the line, and the team having the lowest score wins.

Fraternity Elections: Beta Theta Pi—Blackmer '24; Kappa Alpha—MacMillan Robinson '24; Phi Delta Theta—Hunter '24; Theta Delta Chi—Derr '24.

To Explain Triangular Debate Details Monday

Details of the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular debate will be explained to all those who intend to try out for the debating team at a meeting to be held next Monday evening at 7.30 in the Jesup Hall reading room.

Trials for the debating team are to be held on November 16, at which time the competitors will be expected to argue on the topic of general debate, namely, "The Primary System." On November 15, the day before the trials, a specific phase of the subject will be assigned to each man who has signified his intention of speaking, thus allowing but 24 hours for final preparations. The triangular debate will be held sometime in early December.

DR. GARFIELD OUT IN SUPPORT OF GOV. COX

President One of Prominent Republicans to Bolt Party on League Issue

President Garfield, in a speech made last Wednesday at a luncheon given by the Rochester Chamber of Commerce in honor of the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, definitely announced his decision to support Governor Cox in the coming presidential election.

Dr. Garfield, who comes of a long family of Republicans, is one of many Republicans of prominence to bolt their party and declare for Cox and Roosevelt on the League of Nations issue. His decision was publicly announced last Wednesday by the Democratic National Committee.

In his Rochester speech he was quoted as follows: "We sent our sons across the seas to sacrifice if necessary their lives to accomplish certain great ends of world welfare. And among other things we told them that this war would be concluded by an agreement among nations that would render future wars improbable, if not impossible; an agreement with all that an agreement implies of national obligation and hearty cooperation within the limits of our constitutional requirements. And now we go about our business, and some are daring to say that we will not do our part, or that we will not promise to do so; that we must be allowed to do as we please, and that other nations must trust us to please to do the right thing when the crisis arises. If we insist upon taking this position we shall have failed miserably, and the failure will be a reflection upon the education of the men and women of this country."

Daylight Saving Ends Soon

The annual change from daylight saving time to standard time will take place at 2 a. m. on Monday morning, November 1. In accordance with an announcement from the Dean's office, dated October 27, all college exercises will be run on Eastern Standard time, beginning with daily chapel on Monday morning.

Honor System Body Elects

Cameron Parker Hall, '21, of New York City, was elected chairman of the Honor System Committee at a meeting of that body last Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall. At the same meeting Henry Booth Wightman, of New York City, was elected secretary.

Armenia Discussion Tuesday

Following E. T. Perry's talk on "Conditions in the Near East" there will be a meeting of all students interested in Armenia next Tuesday evening at 8.30 in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. "Near East Relief Handbooks" have been received and will be distributed. Posters and maps showing the country under consideration will be distributed under the direction of a committee formed of those interested. On the following week end outside speakers will present pictures and lectures on conditions in Armenia.

THROW TO WATCH COLUMBIA CONTEST

Standing Room Only Being Sold at South Field—250 Men Will Make Trip

BOTH TEAMS IN FINE SHAPE FOR STRUGGLE

Blue and White Eleven Has Won Three of Four Games—Big Shifts in Line-up

Headed by Coach Brooks, the Williams football squad of 25 men left Williams-town last night at 6.30 o'clock for New York, where it will meet Columbia tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on South Field. A large body of at least 250 undergraduates has already left Williamstown to witness the game, and according to reports received from New York late last night, standing room only was being sold at South Field yesterday afternoon.

Arriving in Albany, the members of the squad will make the remainder of the trip by way of the Hudson River night boat, and while in New York will make their headquarters at the Hotel Astor. The team held its last practice before the game this afternoon on South Field.

The Purple team is in excellent condition for the game, and with the exception of Hibbard, who is still on the sick list, all the first-string men who were kept out of the Trinity contest on account of injuries sustained in the Harvard game will be in the initial line-up tomorrow, including Joslyn and McLean, who will start at right end and right halfback respectively. Montgomery, however, who strained a shoulder muscle in last Saturday's contest, will not be able to play against Columbia, and W. C. Burger will take his place at the full-back position.

Coach Brooks has been putting the team through a strenuous workout during the past week. On Monday most of the practice was devoted to running back punts, forward passing, and tackling the dummy, while on Tuesday and Wednesday the varsity was matched against the scrubs. For the scrubs, Monjo and Wilson bucked exceptionally well, and on several occasions managed to penetrate the first line for substantial gains.

Columbia has thus far won three of its games and lost one, having defeated Trinity 21 to 0, New York University 14 to 7, Amherst 20 to 7, and having lost to Wesleyan last Saturday by the score of 10 to 0. The feature of the Trinity game came when Harris, of Columbia, hurled a 20-yard forward pass to Canapary, who sped ten more yards for a score, while in the Amherst game Eccles, on the first play in the third period, dashed around right end for seventy yards and a touchdown. ## START PRACTICE

Interclass Soccer Contests Will Be Held in November

Soccer practice has been in progress during the past week under the direction of Keegan '21, all-class soccer captain. No teams have as yet been chosen for even the preliminary lineups of the various classes, but regular class practice will start soon in preparation for the inter-class series beginning next Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock.

Acting on behalf of the class soccer managers, Brucker '21 has announced the following inter-class soccer schedule: Wednesday, Nov. 3—1921 vs. 1923 Thursday, Nov. 4—1923 vs. 1924 Friday, Nov. 5—1921 vs. 1923 Monday, Nov. 8—1922 vs. 1924 Tuesday, Nov. 9—1921 vs. 1924 Wednesday, Nov. 10—1922 vs. 1923 Thursday, Nov. 11—1921 vs. 1922 Friday, Nov. 12—1923 vs. 1924 Monday, Nov. 15—1921 vs. 1923 Tuesday, Nov. 16—1922 vs. 1924 Wednesday, Nov. 17—1921 vs. 1924 Thursday, Nov. 18—1922 vs. 1923.

Of Dangerous Significance

Last Tuesday evening the undergraduate body was presented with an opportunity of hearing intelligent comment on the presidential campaign by members of the faculty, and, by attending the meeting and participating in the discussion, of refuting the accusation that Williams men are uninterested in the great political issues before the country today.

Approximately 30 undergraduates were present. If this is an indication of the amount of political intelligence in the College, Williams may well hang its head, for it is recreant to its duty to the world of turning out graduates who are capable of fulfilling intelligently the duties of citizenship.

The fact that only a small number of men attended this particular meeting is in itself perhaps of little importance. But it is the significance of this event, together with the colossal ignorance of political issues which has been evinced by the majority of undergraduates this fall, that points to a situation which goes deeper, and is of real danger. The geographical isolation of Williamstown, and the conservatism and slight provincialism of the College have always provided a cause for mild amusement among observers from outside, and from occasional undergraduates or members of the faculty. But if this conservatism is to lead us into a reactionary, self-satisfied laissez faire attitude toward even the greatest issues of the day, and even to an absolute lack of interest in how these issues are to be decided, it is high time we did more than smile indulgently.

Class Meetings Postponed

Owing to insufficient attendance, the Senior and Junior class meetings scheduled for last Wednesday evening have been postponed until next week. The Seniors will meet on Monday at 7.30 o'clock to elect a class basketball manager and a Class Book board. No date has yet been set for the meeting of the Juniors, at which a class basketball manager will be elected.

1924 Bible Class Resumed

President Garfield will resume his weekly Bible class for Freshmen after chapel next Sunday morning. Previous to the interruption caused by rushing week, about 45 men attended the class, which is proving more interesting than ever before. Dr. Garfield's text is The Messiah of the Master, by Raymond E. Fosdick.

Edward F. Oakes, '16 of Canajoharie, has been appointed an instructor of English at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

COMMENDS CHEER LEADERS

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD, Sir:—

Williams' plucky fight against Harvard is to be complimented, but there was another feature of the game which I feel deserves the highest praise, and that was the work of the cheerleaders. The new method of the selection of cheerleaders seems to have worked out admirably, and I can truthfully state that it was the best cheerleading I have seen for several years. Others have said the same.

Very sincerely,
Hedwin H. Richardson '18

LEAGUE ISSUE INDORSED

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD, Sir:—

Although I have not the right of an alumnus to speak for Williams, unless it might be said by proxy, I would like to register my indorsement of your position on the League of Nations in opposition to Mr. Banks' criticism. The Williams spirit best showed itself in the splendid response to the call of the war. It would be a sad thing if the same spirit were not eagerly ready to meet the responsibilities that have grown out of the war and the call of humanity.

Yours truly,
E. J. Shriver.

DEPLORES MISREPRESENTATION

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD, Sir:—

Allow me to congratulate you on your excellent editorial in "The Record" under date of October 18th, and headed "Defining the Issue."

Opinions such as those advanced in the letter from a member of the Class of 1885, are valuable only insofar as they indicate on the part of the holder of such opinions, a partisan bias which can see absolutely no good in any act or any member of the chief opposing political party. And this is true whether they are expressed by Republicans or Democrats.

I fully believe that the great majority of the intelligent and sound-thinking electorate in America have come to the conclusion that in this presidential campaign the one outstanding and overwhelming issue is whether or not America shall enter the League of Nations; whether or not this country shall join forces with the nations of the world who have practically unanimously already joined this League which America and American spokesmen until party and political expediency evidently changed some of them, have so earnestly advocated.

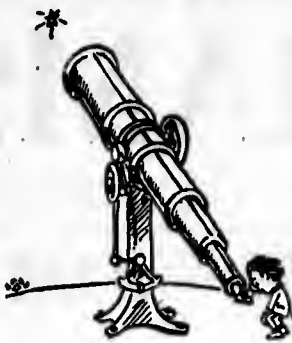

The question is simply whether America will adopt a policy of attempted isolation and provincialism, or take her rightful place among and not apart from the great nations of the world. I cannot see how she can or will do other than join the League of Nations and realize that we are living in a new era and one in which no country can successfully live unto itself alone. Germany was shown the folly of such an idea.

In conclusion may I respectfully suggest that as clear-thinking and intelligent Williams men, in taking up this matter of the League of Nations, we take heed that we inform ourselves personally concerning this famous document? There are far too many misrepresentations and specious arguments going the rounds for us to be misled into any such error as that the League will supersede our Constitution or like deliberate twistings of the truth. The Democratic candidate "is for going in," Senator Harding in his Des Moines address showed clearly he is "for staying out." The difference is plain. I favor going in.

Very truly yours,
J. Douglas M. Royal,
Class of 1914.

Omit Sunday Night Service

In view of the small number of men likely to be present on account of the Columbia game, the regular Sunday evening meeting of the Williams Christian Association will be omitted this week. Rev. S. V. V. Holmes, who was to have spoken, will hold personal conferences with men desirous of seeing him from 12.00 to 1.00 o'clock after chapel Sunday morning.

A North Dakota Stock Farm

SELECTED over forty years ago by the land commissioner of the Northern Pacific, whose position made essential a knowledge of all the country along the line of the railroad, the Helendale Stock Farm was chosen because of the splendid and varied features of its 2325 acres.

For the Investor

Who wants an active property engaged in directly supplying the needs of the country, Helendale presents possibilities in many ways unparalleled by other farm properties. Enhancement in the value of mid-western lands as our population increases will be strongly reflected here.

For the Sportsman

Who looks ahead to the time not so far distant when free access to private properties will become increasingly difficult—Helendale's acres and acres promise a bountiful supply of game. As a hunting club for a group there is here the factor which almost every such club lacks: for Helendale under competent management will return a fair net yield on the investment.

For the Farmer and Stockman

Helendale's past records of championship steers and acreage crop reports will demonstrate its exceptional value.

And—to all interested in the Property

A brief description:

Helendale is situated within easy striking distance of Fargo, the largest city of the state. The soil is unusually fertile—with running streams and spring fed ponds on all pasturage.

The farm buildings are large and modern. A store operated by the owners is an additional source of income and allows the purchase of supplies at wholesale.

FORUM OPENS SEASON
DISCUSSING POLITICS

Merits of Respective Candidates Are Considered by Faculty and Student Speakers

Discussion of the national political parties, their policies, and the characters of the candidates occupied the first Forum meeting of the year held in the auditorium of Jesup Hall last Tuesday evening. Professor T. C. Smith gave his reasons for voting for Governor Cox, and Professor Morton told why he would support Senator Harding in the election next Tuesday.

After being introduced by Lyon '22, Professor Smith began his address by stating that he would vote for Governor Cox, following this assertion with the reasons for his decision. The first part of his talk was delivered from the negative side. In this connection he gave three reasons for considering Senator Harding incapable of filling the position of the first executive officer of the country. His reasons were: (1) the absence of force and the qualities of leadership in the character of Senator Harding; (2) his tendencies strongly to favor the big business interests; (3) his foreign policy which will greatly augment the difficulties of the ratification by the United States of the League of Nations.

Professor Smith then went on to say that Governor Cox possessed the qualities that the Republican candidate lacked, and that his internal and external policies were the opposite of Senator Harding's. In closing, Professor Smith pointed out that the Republican argument against Article X of the League of Nations was more or less irrelevant, and that the interpretation put on it by Senator Lodge is much too extreme.

Professor Morton, who was the second speaker of the evening, declared himself in favor of Senator Harding. He developed his reasons for this decision from three angles, discussing (1) the parties; (2) the candidates; (3) their policies. In connection with the first point Professor Morton charged the Democratic administration with inefficiency since the armistice and declared that with the Republican party in power this evil would be remedied. He said in discussing points two and three that Senator Harding, if elected would call to his aid some of the keenest minds in the country, and declared that the League issue was a real menace.

Following these two talks the usual open discussion took place in which Allen, Atwell, and R. P. Towne '21 spoke in favor of Senator Harding, while Professor Clark and Thexton '21 supported Governor Cox.

To Give Reports on Game

Detailed reports of the Williams-Columbia football game and the scores of the other scheduled contests in intercollegiate football will be announced at the Williams '24-Wesleyan '24 game tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field.

For consideration of material for the November issue, there will be a meeting of the editorial board of the Literary Monthly on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Stories, verse and essays are solicited, and competitors desiring to contribute to this issue should place their contributions in the hands of members of the board before the time of meeting.

Why good students are not always successful men

In a certain art school it is said that no medal man has ever become a great artist. But it does not follow that poor students afterward make the biggest men.

Still this is true: Many good students are apt to miss the larger truths. Their very nearness to text-book and laboratory obscures their vision of the basic laws which clarify all science and indeed all life.

Studies are of value not so much as exercises in the details of technical lore, but as they help in the search for principles to use later in life.

Perhaps you will forget your calculus formulae and the skilful use of the ruling pen, but the ability to think straight and to co-ordinate thought with action—these are essential to your fullest development.

You may grow to the stature of an engineer who can sell, an engineer who can direct other men, an engineer who can build.

Think about your life that way, and keep this fact before you—

The electrical industry needs men who can see far and think straight.

Throng to watch

Columbia Contest

down. Last Saturday's game against Wesleyan having disclosed several weaknesses, Coach O'Neill, of Columbia has made a radical change in the varsity line-up. Scovil was moved back to his old place at tackle, displacing Callaway, while Pulleyn was given his former position at end. Scovil played a poor game at end against Wesleyan, but on previous occasions has put up an excellent game at tackle. Pulleyn showed his ability on a wing position when he went in last Saturday. Hineh has been shifted to the seconds in favor of Herman, while Walder is back on the varsity displacing Miller. Walder has been out of the last two games with a minor injury but may be expected to start against Williams.

The biggest change for Columbia, however, is the shift in the backfield. Eeles, whose poor choice of plays was partially responsible for the defeat last Saturday at the hands of Wesleyan, was sent to the seconds and Canapary has taken the quarter position. Moszezenski has been alternating with Thornton at left half while Burt is playing the other half. Applebaum, whose line plunging was the only encouraging feature of Columbia's attack last Saturday, is playing in the full-back position. There were no injuries of importance resulting from the Wesleyan game, and the team will be able to present almost its full strength tomorrow, although Harris, who has been playing a strong game all season at quarter, will be missing.

The line-ups for tomorrow, as given, will be as follows:

Williams	Columbia
Coddling, le	le, Pulleyn
Lasell, lt	lt, Modarelli
Fulle, lg	lg, Hineh
Smith, c	c, Kienninger (Capt.)

Society Brand Clothes

FOR YOUNG MEN AND MEN WHO STAY YOUNG

© A. D. & C., 1920

To the college man who has a pet clothing store

You have the right idea. Next to having a banker that trusts you, there is no better business than buying your things from a merchant who is worthy of all your confidence.

If you haven't a pet clothing store, look up the one where Society Brand Clothes are sold.

In the first place, it's a selected store. We were attracted by the merchant and he was attracted by the style, quality, and integrity of our clothes.

Like attracts like. That is a law.

Go to that store and ask to look at his Society Brand Clothes. Try on until you get the style you like, which you surely will in a matter of minutes.

Then remember this. Men are not disappointed in Society Brand Suits. They give a very peculiar and interesting satisfaction.

It is the satisfaction that comes from knowing—even before you walk into the store—that you are going to get something you will always be glad you bought. How's that?

Captain X had taken with him a liberal supply of Pall Mall famous cigarettes (plain ends). By the time he landed they were gone.

"Over There" he couldn't have a favorite brand. But the cigarettes he was lucky enough to get had one feature that gave him a big idea. They were round and smoked freely.

Back in America once more the Captain came and gave us his idea,—a big idea. He suggested that we make Pall Mall cigarettes round in shape, loosely rolled and plain end—a cigarette that does not have to be tapped, squeezed or loosened, a cigarette with a free and easy draught.

Higgins Breaks Record for Van Cortlandt Park Course by 2 1-5 Seconds

CRAMP FORCES CROFTS TO DROP OUT OF RACE

Coan, Fasce, Kellogg, Jones and Wolfe Finish Soon After First Two Men

New York, N. Y., Saturday, October 30.—In its first meet of the season, the Williams cross country septet this morning defeated Columbia 26 to 29 over the six-mile Van Cortlandt Park course, winning its victory by means of a better balanced team. With Crofts forced to drop out because of a cramp at the end of the first three-mile lap, Coan became the leading man on the Williams team and was the first of the visitors to reach the tape, being followed by Fasce, Captain Kellogg, Jones, and Wolfe in fourth, fifth, sixth, and eighth places respectively.

Captain Higgins of Columbia not only won the individual honors in the race but shattered all previous records for the famous Van Cortlandt Park Course by covering the six miles in 32 minutes, 24 3-5 seconds. This mark bettered by 2 1-5 seconds that made by Fred Faller, of Boston in the national A. A. U. championship run last year and lowered that of John Simmons, present intercollegiate champion, by 31 1-5 seconds. But even his sensational performance in what amounted to a race against time since he was never pressed by Turner, who took second place, failed to carry off the team prize. Williams finished five runners in the next six places making a score three points lower than that rolled up by the Blue and White.

PRESENTS 30 ANCIENT TABLETS TO LIBRARY

Collection Is Gift of Professor Edgar J. Banks—Dates Back to 2350 B. C.

Professor Edgar J. Banks has presented the College Library with a group of 30 ancient Babylonian inscribed clay tablets, which were placed on exhibition last week in the west wing of Lawrence Hall. The tablets, discovered by Arabs in various ruins of excavated Babylonian cities, formed part of a collection belonging to Professor Banks and were obtained from him through the efforts of Dean Howes.

The collection, formed to be as complete as possible, includes every type of tablet now available. Each tablet on exhibition in the Library has been numbered and to each has been appended a small card, setting forth in a few words the content of its inscriptions.

Most of the tablets were discovered in Babylon, Drehem or Jokha. The latter is the ruin of the ancient city of Umma in Central Babylonia which has been excavated thus far only by Arabs. Drehem was a suburb of Nippur where a receiving station for the temple of Bel was located in ancient times, and where the University of Pennsylvania has since carried on excavations.

Dates appearing on the tablets are all in the vicinity of 2350 B. C. The general method of reckoning dates was by counting from some important event or from the beginning of the reign of the king at that time. All of the tablets from Drehem and Jokha come from the early part of the Urdynasty of kings who governed Babylonia from Ur of the Chaldees, about 2400 to 2100 B. C.

One of the most interesting tablets in the collection is number 24 which is a very rare school-boy exercise book for the (Continued on page 4 column 4)

WESLEYAN FRESHMEN WIN CLOSE CONTEST

1924 Eleven Defeated by 7 to 0
Score on Blocked Kick in First Five Minutes

FRICKE'S END RUNS FEATURE

Gregory, McKean, and Knight Star for Purple—Williams Has Chances to Score

Scoring the only touchdown of the game in the first four minutes of play, the Wesleyan Freshmen netted a 7-0 victory over the Williams 1924 football team in the third game of the season last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field. Although the Williams Freshmen by repeated advances were able to place the ball within eleven yards of their opponents' goal in the last quarter, Wesleyan's heavy line proved too great a point of resistance, and an intercepted forward pass ruined all chances for a possible score.

The individual star for the Wesleyan Freshman eleven was Fricke, who, skillfully avoiding tackles, circled the ends for several material advances. Gregory and McKean showed up well for the Williams 1924 team, the former breaking through the heavy, opposing line for advances, and the latter effectually blocking several punts. Knight's work in the backfield was also commendable.

Captain Johnston of the Williams 1924 team kicked off to the Wesleyan Freshmen. Two forward passes placed the ball on Williams' 15-yard line but the Williams Freshmen recovered the ball by a fumble. A punt, blocked by Miller of Wesleyan, placed the ball in the hands of LaGanke, who easily crossed the line in the touchdown for the visitors. Captain Seriggins kicked the goal. Boynton increased his lead as the highest college scorer for the 1920 season by gaining six points in the Columbia game, making his total 90. ### BOYNTON STAR ON BOTH OFFENSE AND DEFENSE

Williams Makes Only Score of Second Half and Later Loses Chance to Win

New York, N. Y., Oct. 30.—In a game filled to the brim with spectacular action, the Williams football eleven was forced to bow before the attack of its heavier Columbia opponents here this afternoon by the close score of 20-14. Throughout the game the Purple team proved a dangerous menace, and for a time in the second half it had the ball deep in Columbia territory where a tie score or complete reversal of the ultimate verdict seemed probable.

Columbia's revenge for the decisive defeat of last year appeared to be due principally to its ability to carry the ball by line-plunging and short end rushes, thus registering a total of twenty first downs as compared with six for Williams. The Blue and White team, inspired by the unexpected return of its star quarterback, Harris, displayed by far the best brand of football it has shown this season, and bore witness to the efficacy of its recent training by Buck O'Neill, the former Syracuse coach.

The light Williams eleven showed unexpected strength when at bay before its own goal line, and on three occasions held for downs within the five-yard line, in one instance preventing a first down by the narrow margin of two inches.

Captain Boynton, although the leader of a lost cause, proved to be the individual hero of the afternoon, combining personal prowess with excellent generalship in managing his team. His sensational run of 60 yards for a touchdown was one of the most spectacular seen in New York this fall, as he barely escaped being thrown for a 10 yard loss, and then shook off or eluded six hard tackles, speeding through practically the entire Columbia team to the goal line. In addition Boynton showed some of the best punting he has displayed this season when he was forced to kick out of danger in today's game. Two kicks went for more than 40 yards while two more registered past the 50 mark. The Williams team showed much better ability than heretofore at covering punts, and in each case downed the Columbia runner practically in his tracks. Aside from the disastrous fumble in the first period McLean showed to advantage and succeeding in scoring one touchdown on a forward pass from Boynton. Richmond made considerable gains around end, while Burger did the best work at line-plunging. The line played well as a whole, but failed to hold their opponents successfully in mid-field, bracing only at the last moment. On five occasions Columbia made 1st down on its last try with less than a yard to spare.

Debating Team Trials Will Be Held Tonight

In order to explain the details of the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular debate to all those who intend to try out for the debating team, a meeting will be held this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room.

Trials for the debating team are to be held on November 16, at which time the competitors will be expected to argue on the topic of general debate, namely, "The Primary System." On November 15, the day before the trials, a specific phase of the subject will be assigned to each man who has signified his intention of speaking, thus allowing but 24 hours for final preparations. The triangular debate will be held sometime in early December.

'CROIX DE GUERRE' IS AWARDED M. A. L. CRU

French War Department Unable to Locate Instructor—Long Delay Follows

Albert L. Cru, called to Williams as Instructor in the French Department in 1908, has been recently awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French Government for bravery in action. The long delay in receiving the citation is due to the fact that the French War Department was unable to locate M. Cru when he transferred first to the British and later to the American armies.

The war record of M. Cru dated from the summer of 1914. During this time war was declared, and he was called to the colors on August 11. He joined the 75th Regiment of French Infantry at Romans in the Alpine region, and, proceeding to the front in Alsace, took part in several battles in the Vosges Mountains near St. Die. M. Cru won his decoration when wounded on September 24, 1914 while leading his squad against German positions in the Somme region between Chaulnes and Peronne. After the battle he was taken to the Red Cross hospital at Alencon in Normandy where he remained until March 15, 1915, when he was sent home on sick leave for two months. Service with the garrison at Romans as assistant military postmaster was followed by work in the Ypres sector as interpreter. In the following December he was transferred to the Arras sector, to the Somme sector during the great British advance, and later to the region of Ypres. After the Somme battle of August and September 1916, M. Cru was mentioned in divisional orders by the French and British headquarters.

At the end of the battle of Ypres in July 1917, he was called by the War Office with his brother M. J. N. Cru to join the American First Division at Goudrecourt, their training area in the Vosges, and until October, was engaged in the intensive training of American infantry. He then accompanied the First Division to the trenches in the Luneville sector in Lorraine where the Americans first met the Boche. M. Cru was then attached to the staff of Colonel McAlexander U.S.A. He was in this position until December when summoned to American Headquarters in Chaumont for instruction purposes. In January 1918 he was appointed head instructor with the grade of adjutant in the French Second Army School for officers attached to American units in the field.

After the signing of the armistice, M. Cru was called to Paris and attached to the French Foreign Office. When the Peace Conference began he was made (Continued on page 4, column 5)

Vol. 34 November, 1 1920 No. 35

It is with deep regret that the Record announces to its readers the details of the tragic accident on the Mohawk Trail last Saturday night, when a Williams freshman met his death and one of his class-mates was seriously injured. All connected with the College will unite in an expression of profound sympathy to the bereaved family.

The New Columbia

Instead of the group of "cynical fatalists," as the Columbia Spectator puts it, who filled the Columbia stands last year when "Benny Boynton" brought "his gang" to South Field, an enormous but well-organized throng of loyal supporters faced the Williams team last Saturday. Inspired by the power of that cheering, the Columbia eleven played a brilliant brand of football.

Perhaps it was only by comparison with the lusty-voiced multitude on the opposite side of the field that the Williams cheering sounded feeble. But the fact remains that last fall nearly the same Williams team won easily from much the same Columbia team; and last year the Williams cheering at South Field was unusually strong. This year it was decidedly not.

The cheering of Williams supporters at Cambridge two weeks ago brought praise from both friend and foe, and was much to be admired. Whether the unfortunate reversal of form last Saturday was due to Columbia's early score or to the distractions of the fair sex, it was inexcusable.

Let us keep it in mind that Amherst is a hard team to beat on Pratt Field, and if the Purple is to emerge victorious in the final and most important game of the season, it will need unified and enthusiastic support from the side-lines.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD
Sir:—

Please allow me to express my appreciation, and I may also say admiration, of the editorial in your issue of Oct. 18 headed "Defining the Issue."

It is a dignified and manly rebuke to recent contributors to your "Communications" column, two of whom are heard from alongside the above mentioned editorial.

The coming Presidential Election is the ninth at which I have been my privilege to cast a vote. Having never been a partisan, I have never, that I can recall, at any election voted a "straight ticket." At times when the issues have not been clearly defined, or when the differences in the platforms have been of the hair-splitting variety, I have cast my vote for the candidate, who, in character, record and ability, seemed to me the most desirable. At other times, when a principle has been involved, I have cast my vote with the party favoring my attitude towards that principle.

In the coming election I shall vote for the Electors of the Democratic party, first, because I feel that if I did not uphold my ideals by voting with the party which supports them I could not look an honest man in the face; and, second, because, from what I have been told by my disinterested friends who are personally acquainted with both Presidential candidates the standard-bearer of the Democratic party comes far closer to fitness for the exalted place he seeks than his Republican rival.

I thoroughly agree with your editorial remark as to the disappointing calibre of the leading candidates; in fact, I will go farther and say that the Democratic candidate for the Vice-presidency is the only one of the four who is not a "small town" man.

In writing above of my friends I have used the word "disinterested." By this I mean that they gave me their opinions from the view-point of fellow-townsmen, neighbors if you will, entirely aside from prejudice or political feeling.

One of my lamented classmates used to say, in friendly debate, "sarcasm's no argument." Likewise, I say wagers and abuse are not arguments. In the foregoing remarks I have offered no wager, and I trust what I have written cannot be construed as abuse.

Very truly yours,
William S. Cooper,
Williams, '84.

WORK OF RELIEF IN NEAR EAST STARTS

Hall '21 to Give Short Talk on Subject Tuesday at 7:30 O'- Clock in Jesup Hall

Tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room, a movement, prompted by the tradition which places Williams in the forefront as regards humanitarian work, will be inaugurated at a meeting of the men interested in the relief work in the Near East. C. P. Hall '21 will give a short talk; and posters and maps picturing the conditions in Armenia and Syria will be given out for distribution.

Announcement will be made in chapel Friday morning covering the activities being started, and an article by E. T. Perry '18 will appear in the next issue of the Record telling more concerning the relief work needed in the Near East. On Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall, Mr. Perry will deliver an address on the general situation in Armenia and Syria and will answer all questions which may arise concerning this work.

Several large signs about the work will be posted at the Hamilton football game next Saturday and a one reel moving picture will be shown with the regular pictures that evening at the Walden Theatre. The W. C. A. meeting Sunday evening in Jesup Hall will be addressed by Lady Anne Azgabetian, the wife of the famous Armenian general, and stereopticon slides will be shown, accompanied by explanations by Mr. Perry.

A North Dakota Stock Farm

SELECTED over forty years ago by the land commissioner of the Northern Pacific, whose position made essential a knowledge of all the country along the line of the railroad, the Helendale Stock Farm was chosen because of the splendid and varied features of its 2325 acres.

For the Investor

Who wants an active property engaged in directly supplying the needs of the country, Helendale presents possibilities in many ways unparalleled by other farm properties. Enhancement in the value of mid-western lands as our population increases will be strongly reflected here.

For the Sportsman

Who looks ahead to the time not so far distant when free access to private properties will become increasingly difficult—Helendale's acres and acres promise a bountiful supply of game. As a hunting club for a group there is here the factor which almost every such club lacks: for Helendale under competent management will return a fair net yield on the investment.

For the Farmer and Stockman

Helendale's past records of championship steers and acreage crop reports will demonstrate its exceptional value.

And—to all interested in the Property

A brief description:

Helendale is situated within easy striking distance of Fargo, the largest city of the state. The soil is unusually fertile—with running streams and spring fed ponds on all pasturage.

The farm buildings are large and modern. A store operated by the owners is an additional source of income and allows the purchase of supplies at wholesale.

Heavy Columbia Backfield Tears Through Purple Line

For Columbia most of the honors were earned by the line, which repeatedly opened up tremendous holes for the backs. Calloway's play was particularly effective. Brodell at the pivot position likewise played excellent football, and, in fact, the entire line did its best work of the entire season. In the backfield Canapary and Moszczenski were always quick to take advantage of the openings made by their forwards. There was a good deal of fumbling, but the Columbia backs were almost invariably lucky in recovering the ball.

Columbia was first to score, Pulley making the touchdown on a run around left end, after having recovered a fumble by McLean. This was when the game was ten minutes old. The second touchdown came in the second period. Applebaum carrying the ball for repeated gains and finally plunging through left guard on a one-yard buck that boosted the score to 13 for Columbia. Canapary, who had missed the first goal from touchdown when the leather hit the crossbar, was more successful on his second attempt. Boynton's thrilling run to a touchdown came later in the same period. A forward pass, Harris to Pulley, gave Columbia its third and final touchdown shortly before the half ended. A splendidly executed forward pass, Boynton to McLean, gave Williams her second touchdown in the middle of the second half. McLean had a clear field and ran 55 yards for the score.

First Quarter

Boynton made the first of his brilliant runs on the third play of the game, gaining twenty yards through left tackle. There was a fumble by Williams, but the ball was recovered on Columbia's 40-yard line. Boynton threw a forward pass to Richmond, but the latter was outside the boundary when he made the catch and the ball was brought back. Another forward pass grounded, and Boynton was forced to kick. Canapary, Harris, and Moszczenski then carried the ball to Williams' 45-yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. A criss-cross netted two yards for Williams, and a forward pass, Boynton to Richmond, gained twenty yards. A fumble by McLean proved disastrous to Williams. Pulley of Columbia recovered the ball and then rounded left end for a touchdown.

Scovil kicked off to Richmond, who ran back twenty-five yards before being spilled. Columbia was penalized for holding and Williams had the ball on Columbia's 40-yard line. After two attempts at forward passes had gone astray Laselle failed in an attempt at a goal from placement. Columbia fumbled on her 20 yard line, but the whistle had blown for an infraction of the rules and that saved her. Canapary, Harris and Moszczenski then took turns in carrying the ball for repeated gains. A forward pass, Harris to Canapary, was worth thirty-five yards to Columbia.

Columbia was in possession of the ball on Williams' 10-yard line. Johnstone was sent in in place of Burt and failed to gain. Williams recovered the ball on downs on her own 5-yard mark. Boynton punted out of danger as the first quarter came to an end.

Second Quarter

With Harris and Moszczenski carrying the ball most of the time, Columbia began a long march down the field, only to be halted in the shadow of Williams' goal posts. Boynton got away a fine kick. Applebaum then entered the game and made several gains of 5 and 6 yards. He was the principal instrument in carrying the ball to Williams' 5-yard line. Two more plunges and Applebaum had placed the leather within a yard of a score. With a yard to go, Applebaum went through left guard for the touchdown.

Scovil kicked off to Boynton on Williams' 10-yard line, and the Williams Captain ran back 15 yards. Burger added 5 more through centre, and then Boynton circled right end and ran 60 yards to a touchdown. Laselle kicked the goal. Harris and Moszczenski made substantial gains for Columbia after Laselle had kicked off, taking the ball to midfield. Harris made a perfect toss to Pulley and the latter scored a touchdown. The pass traveled 10 yards and Pulley's run measured 30 more. Canapary kicked the goal. McLean took Scovil's kick-off and

How Large is an Atom?

ATOMS are so infinitesimal that to be seen under the most powerful microscope one hundred million must be grouped. The atom used to be the smallest indivisible unit of matter. When the X-Rays and radium were discovered physicists found that they were dealing with smaller things than atoms—with particles they call "electrons."

Atoms are built up of electrons, just as the solar system is built up of sun and planets. Magnify the hydrogen atom, says Sir Oliver Lodge, to the size of a cathedral, and an electron, in comparison, will be no bigger than a bird-shot.

Not much substantial progress can be made in chemical and electrical industries unless the action of electrons is studied. For that reason the chemists and physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are as much concerned with the very constitution of matter as they are with the development of new inventions. They use the X-Ray tube as if it were a machine-gun; for by its means electrons are shot at targets in new ways so as to reveal more about the structure of matter.

As the result of such experiments, the X-Ray tube has been greatly improved and the vacuum tube, now so indispensable in radio communication, has been developed into a kind of trigger device for guiding electrons by radio waves.

Years may thus be spent in what seems to be merely a purely "theoretical" investigation. Yet nothing is so practical as a good theory. The whole structure of modern mechanical engineering is reared on Newton's laws of gravitation and motion—theories stated in the form of immutable propositions.

In the past the theories that resulted from purely scientific research usually came from the university laboratories, whereupon the industries applied them. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company conceive it as part of their task to explore the unknown in the same spirit, even though there may be no immediate commercial goal in view. Sooner or later the world profits by such research in pure science. Wireless communication, for example, was accomplished largely as the result of Herz's brilliant series of purely scientific experiments demonstrating the existence of wireless waves.

rushed the ball back to midfield as the half ended.

Third Quarter

Laselle kicked off for Williams as the second half opened, and Canapary rushed the ball back to his 30-yard line. Harris gained 15 yards around left end, Boynton making a fine tackle. Chiefly on good line plunging by Moszczenski, together with a 10-yard end run by Harris, Columbia took the leather to Williams's 5-yard line. There the Purple defense stiffened, and Williams took the ball on downs. For the remainder of the period the ball traveled back and forth near midfield.

Fourth Quarter

Williams had the ball on her own 20-yard line in the fourth period, when Richmond sprinted 15 yards around right end and before Brodil tackled him. Boynton then made a magnificent forward pass to McLean, who was clear of all pursuers when he made the catch, and galloped down the gridiron for a touchdown. Laselle kicked the goal and the score was 20 to 14, where it remained for the rest of the game. Both teams resorted to the forward pass on every possible occasion through the remainder of the battle, but most of them were incomplete. The ball was in midfield when the game ended.

Comstock '24 Dies

In Auto Accident

The six men left Williamstown for Northampton, Mass., about 6.00 o'clock Saturday evening. While descending on the other side of the Mohawk Trail about 200 yards west of the first stone bridge, the car skidded in the light covering of snow on the road, and crashing through a fence, plunged over a 150 foot embankment to the river bed below. Allen E. Moyee and George E. Pearce, both of Waltham, Mass., who were just passing at the time of the accident, were able to offer valuable aid in helping the men from the ravine, and summoning an ambulance from North Adams, which carried the men to the North Adams Hospital.

The Rev. Samuel V. V. Holmes conducted a short funeral service at Simmons' undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon, which was attended by the members of the Sigma Phi fraternity, to which Comstock was pledged. The body has been sent to Buffalo where the funeral will take place next Tuesday November 2.

Columbia Harriers*Downed By Purple

at the top of this first 14 percent climb, found Higgins, Crofts, Fasse, Coan, and Turner running in the order named and followed by the rest of the Williams team. Along the ridge the positions remained unchanged, but at the commencement on the down grade, most of it on Mosholu Avenue, Coan passed Fasse and Turner passed them both gradually cutting down Crofts' lead. At the top of Cemetery Hill he was nearly even and passed into second place at the foot of the hill when Crofts collapsed. Higgins reached the start in 15 minutes, 50 seconds and began the second lap well ahead of Turner and 65 seconds ahead of Coan, who was leading the Purple harriers. The fact, however, that the remainder of the Williams team was still ahead of the other Columbia Competitors kept the outcome of the run in doubt.

At the four-mile mark Higgins was out of sight and Turner had added slightly to his lead. Coan then started to lengthen out and cut down some of the distance during the last two miles crossing the line first for Williams about 200 yards in Turner's wake. His time for the course was 35 minutes, 14 1-5 seconds and the next three men on the Purple team finished at short intervals, Fasse in fourth place, Kellogg in fifth, and Jones in sixth. Harris the third Columbia man, came in seventh only a few yards ahead of Wolfe, the fifth member of the Williams team to qualify, but the places of the last two Columbia runners brought the Blue and White total up and gave Williams the team prize by a three-point margin.

The order of finish and time of the individual runners was as follows:

Wesleyan Freshmen Win Close Contest

1921 then kicked off to the Williams Freshmen who advanced irregularly to their opponents' 35-yard line. At this point O'Brien was substituted for Miller in the Williams team. Repeated punts on both sides were not effectua, in bringing the ball any nearer to either goal, and the first quarter ended with Williams in possession of the ball on their 40-yard line.

In the second quarter, Gregory made a considerable advance for the Williams Freshmen, but a necessary kick placed the ball in the hands of the opponents who advanced steadily toward the Williams goal. Here particularly was the strength of the visitors' line felt. Healy was substituted for McKean and the Wesleyan 1921 line was held back with difficulty. The half ended with the score 7-0 in favor of the Wesleyan Freshmen.

The third quarter was practically uneventful, neither team being able to make any decided gain. Fricke showed up particularly well in a difficult end run a few seconds before the third quarter ended.

The final quarter opened with the Wesleyan Freshmen in possession of the ball. A fumble placed it in the hands of the Williams eleven and Gregory opened a series of steady advances. In this quarter the Williams Freshmen put up by far the best fight. A forward pass put the ball on their opponents' 25-yard line. Several advances then brought the ball to the 11-yard line but a kick for field goal was blocked, Williams, however, recovering the ball on the 15-yard line. A forward pass was intercepted and the ball once in the possession of the visitors was carried to Williams 40-yard line. Kelly was substituted for Seudder in Wesleyan's line in the last three minutes of play. The game ended with Wesleyan in possession of the ball on Williams' 7-yard line.

The line-up and summary follow:

IT must be because they have not found the right cigarette.

The right cigarette should not contain too much Turkish, for "too much" makes a cigarette over-rich, even "heavy."

Nor should it contain too little Turkish for "too little" means lack of taste.

The right cigarette should have just enough Turkish. It should please the taste without tiring it.

Scores of sales-records, like the above, seem to prove that the only cigarette which does have just enough Turkish is Fatima.

Fatima contains more Turkish than any other Turkish Blend cigarette, yet it is noticeably free from the over-richness of straight, all-Turkish cigarettes.

Most smokers quit "shopping" when they find Fatima.

TENTATIVE SEASON SCHEDULE PLANNED

Arrangements for Baseball Season Includes 18 Games with Trip Through South

BASKETBALL FIVE WILL ENCOUNTER 10 TEAMS

Swimming Schedule Calls for Six Meets—Only One Contest Will Be at Home

Tentative schedules for the 1921 baseball, basketball, and swimming seasons have been announced by Managers Irwin and Finn '21 and assistant manager Harder '22 respectively. Although none of these schedules have been ratified as yet by the athletic council they will, in all probability, be accepted as submitted.

Eighteen games have thus far been arranged for the 1921 baseball season, with the probability of an added game at the end of the season with either Syracuse or Dartmouth. Manager Irwin, departing from the custom of recent years, has arranged for an extensive southern trip, the need of which was felt so keenly last year. The southern trip will be made during the Easter vacation, and six games will be played with leading southern universities.

The tentative schedule is as follows: Thursday, April 7—Georgetown at Georgetown, D. C.

Friday, April 8—United States Marine Corps (pending) at Paris Island, S. C.

Saturday, April 9—United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Monday, April 11—University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

Tuesday, April 12—University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Pa.

Wednesday, April 13—C. C. N. Y. or New York University at New York City.

Saturday, April 16—West Point at West Point, N. Y.

Saturday, April 23—Massachusetts Agricultural College at Williamstown.

Saturday, April 30—Lafayette at Williamstown.

Wednesday, May 4—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.

WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Chapin and Rowse Defeat Prof. Shepard and Dr. Bell

Chapin '23 and Rowse '22 won the college doubles championship by defeating Dr. Bell and Professor Shepard yesterday afternoon on the college courts. The match was one-sided with the exception of the second set, Chapin and Rowse winning in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

Owing to the cold weather and to the fact that the courts were still soft from recent rains, the play was for the most part slow and unexciting. The only real tennis displayed was in the second set when Dr. Bell and Professor Shepard led the winners by the score of 5-2, forcing them to speed up in order to win. Chapin, although not in his best form, played the most consistent game of the afternoon, playing his usual brilliant net game, whereas Rowse was steady at all times and scored many points on his long drives.

Fifteen Men Will Try Out For Debating Team

Fifteen men signified their intentions of trying out for the debating team at a meeting held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. At this time the details of the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular debate were explained. The contestants are as follows: Atwell, Balch, Coan, Finn, Hall, Kellogg, Schlesinger, C. L. Taylor, Jr., Thexton '21, Lyon, Montgomery, Rosenwald, Schauflier, Zalles '22, and Collins '23.

WILLIAMS CAPTAIN IS PICKED FOR STAR TEAM

Edwards Selects Boynton as His Choice for Quarterback on All-Time Eleven

Ben Lee Boynton, 1921, Williams football captain, has recently been accorded another honor in the football firmament. In naming his choices for positions on his mythical All-Time All-American eleven, "Big Bill" Edwards, one-time Princeton star and for twenty years closely associated with the gridiron, picked the Purple star for quarterback.

Edwards' selection was made in conjunction with the naming of All-Time teams by three other well-known football critics, Fielding H. Yost, Michigan coach, Glenn S. Warner, coach at Fittsburg, and John W. Heisman, the Pennsylvania mentor. The selections go back as far as 1888, when the great Yale guard, "Pudge" Heffelfinger, was in action, and of the 31 players nominated for this Hall of Fame, Boynton is the only representative playing on a college eleven today. In placing Boynton above such sterling quarterbacks as Huntington of Colgate, Eckersall of Chicago, and McMillan of Center, Mr. Edwards said, "Boynton of Williams is a newcomer to the field of fame, but I believe his work this year will prove that I am right. He was a wonder last season, brilliant in every department."

The All-Time All-American team chosen by Mr. Edwards, together with the players' colleges and the years in which they played, is as follows: Cochrane—Princeton (1896-1897) End Shevlin—Yale (1902-1905) End Hillebrand—Princeton (1897-1899) Tackle Graves—West Point (1901-1904) Tackle Glass—Yale (1902) Guard Brown—Yale (1897-1901) Guard Cruikshank—W. and J. (1914) Center Boynton—Williams (1917-1920)

Trimble—Princeton (1919) Halfback Thorpe—Carlisle (1908-1912) Halfback Mahan—Harvard (1913-1915) Fullback

TUG-OF-WAR DATE IS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Annual Classic Will Take Place Across Green River for 2 Out of 3 Pulls

Belcher '21, the chairman of the committee in charge of the annual Freshman-Sophomore tug-of-war, has announced that the historic event will take place on Friday afternoon, November 12, at 4.30 o'clock. As in past years Green River has been selected for the scene of the contest.

The rules governing the event are essentially the same as they were last year. The freshman class will assemble in front of Jesup Hall, and carry the rope to the river where they will assume their position on the east bank. The president of the Freshman class will wade the stream, bringing the rope to the second year men. Each class will be divided alphabetically into three sections, and the class winning two out of three pulls wins the contest. The losing class will then try to prevent the winners from carrying the rope back to the gymnasium. Final details of the tug-of-war will be announced by the committee in a few days.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF STARTS

Perry '18 Will Address Preliminary Meeting at 7.30 Tonight in Jesup Hall

MOVIES WILL DEPICT WORK

Lady Anne Azgapatian Will Be the Principal Speaker on Sunday Evening

In order to raise funds for the Near East Relief, which is working to provide relief and to assist in the repatriation, rehabilitation, and reestablishment of suffering and dependent people of the Near East and adjacent areas, a campaign for canvassing the College is on foot, under the leadership of E. T. Perry '18 and the Williams Christian Association. Perry will address all men interested in the subject at a preliminary meeting in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock this evening.

At a meeting held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall, plans were laid for the conduct of the campaign. The main feature will be two talks before a mass meeting next Sunday evening at the regular W. C. A. meeting in Jesup Hall, the first by Perry and the second by Lady Anne Azgapatian. (Continued on page 3, column 3)

1921 AND 1923 TAKE FIRST SOCCER GAMES

Two Decisive Victories Mark Opening of Interclass Series on Cole Field

Standing of the Teams
	Won	Lost	Pct.
1921	1	0	1.000
1923	1	0	1.000
1922	0	1	.000
1924	0	1	.000

Two decisive victories marked the opening of the interclass soccer series played on Cole Field this week. On Wednesday the Senior team easily overcame the Juniors by the score of 3-1, and the next day the Freshmen went down in defeat before the Sophomore eleven by a 4-0 score.

The first contest was featured by the excellent team play of the winners, although the playing in general was good for so early in the season. The Seniors penetrated their opponents' defense for two goals in the first period, Ufford and Cutler making the shots. A lucky shot by Dunn gave 1922 its lone tally early in the second half, and Keegan ended the scoring with the last goal for the winners.

The underclass contest showed an absolute lack of team-work on the part of the first year men, and only once was the Sophomores' goal in danger. The score was evenly divided, Witcombe and Serieye scoring in the first half, and Durfee and Greef counting in the closing period.

Mr. Fay Campbell, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will be in the offices of the W. C. ## 1924 TO MEET R. P. I. TEAM IN LAST CONTEST

Game Will Be Played at Troy Tomorrow—Changes Expected in Purple Line-up

In its third and last game of the season, the Williams freshman football team will meet the R. P. I. freshmen in Troy, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Little can be said as to the relative strength of the two teams at this time, but Coach Van Alstyne '21 has been putting his team through a strenuous workout this week, and the squad appears to be in excellent condition for the contest.

Daily practice this week has been devoted primarily to trying out new formations, perfecting old ones, and in rectifying errors which were evident in the Wesleyan game last Saturday. Hard scrimmages have been held, and yesterday part of the time was given over to practicing a defense against forward passes with a white ball.

The line-up tomorrow will be changed in only a few instances. Robinson will start at guard, Taylor will replace Perkins at full back, and Miller will go in at quarter for O'Brien. Etheridge, who sustained slight injuries in scrimmage this week, is now reporting for practice and will start the game at end tomorrow.

The line ups of the two teams, as given, follows:

Williams 1924	R. P. I. 1924
Etheridge, le	le, Earle
Sinkeler, lt	lt, Ruoss
Robinson, lg	lg, Knowell

CROSS COUNTRY MEN FACE WESLEYAN HERE

Stiff Opposition Is Expected from Strong Red and Black Team's Star Runners

In the second cross-country meet of the season the Williams team which defeated Columbia last Saturday will run against the Wesleyan harriers tomorrow afternoon over the regular College course. The place of Captain Kellogg, who will be unable to run tomorrow, will be taken by Adams '22, and the other members of the team will be Coan, Crofts, Fasse, C. F. Jones, and Seaman as in last Saturday's meet.

Wesleyan easily defeated Trinity by a 16 to 40 score over the latter's course last Saturday in the first meet which the Red and Black team has held this season. Captain Stimson, Foster, Stowe, and Johnson all of the Wesleyan team finished well ahead of the first Trinity runner. Foster and Johnson are both varsity two-milers on the Red and Black track team while Captain Stimson is a crack half-mile man.

Starting at the Lasell Gymnasium tomorrow, the course will lead up Main Street and towards the Taconic Golf Club, and will include one circuit of the track on Weston Field at the half distance. The finish will also be on Weston Field, and an attempt will be made to time the start so that the finish of the meet will come during the interval between halves of the Williams-Hamilton football game.

CLEVER BUFF AND BLUE ELEVEN HERE

"Concealed Ball" Attack Has Captured Three Out of Four Games This Fall

PURPLE LINE SHIFTED SLIGHTLY FOR CONTEST

Humes Returns to Guard with C. Boynton at Center—Same Backs to Start

Although practice this week has been unusually light, the Williams football eleven will face no easy struggle when it meets Hamilton at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. The Buff and Blue have had a particularly successful season this year as shown by their record of three victories and one defeat.

The Hamilton team is composed almost entirely of new men who have had little experience before this year, but it has made such great improvement and has had such a good record that its strength must not be underestimated. After three straight victories, the eleven met its first defeat last Saturday at the hands of Amherst. Although the victors won by the large score of 30 to 7, the Buff and Blue were by no means outclassed, but on the contrary the play of Captain Campbell was one of the features of the game. During the first quarter, Hamilton showed a strong offensive and their "concealed ball" attack bewildered the Amherst players.

The Hamilton team, however, suffered serious injuries in the Amherst game, losing among other players their star end Lawyer, who has proved to be the mainstay in the aerial attack of the eleven this year. His place will probably be taken by Reeder who has shown up well in practice. Kelley, Huntsman, and Polcous are also on the hospital list and will probably not appear in the visiting line-up.

The Blue and Buff started the season with a 7 to 0 victory over Alfred University in a game which was featured by their effective use of the forward pass. Next week they scored to touchdowns on the R. P. I. eleven, winning easily by the score of 13 to 7. They then defeated the strong N. Y. U. team 14 to 13. In this game they made the best showing of the year, for their opponents had previously yielded to Columbia only by a narrow margin and had held Wesleyan to a tie.

Practice for the Williams eleven has been seriously hindered this week by rainy weather and a slippery field. The team was given a rest on Monday, and Tuesday's practice consisted largely of signal drill and running down punts. The only scrimmage of the week was held on Thursday. Coach Brooks has made several shifts in the line as a result of the (Continued on page 3, column 1)

Y.; William Bentley Quaintance, Jr., of New York City and James Crawford Ward, Kansas City, Mo.

At a meeting of the Prom. Committee held immediately after the election, Britton was chosen chairman and Chapman treasurer of that body. At the same meeting an Auxiliary Committee was chosen as follows: Bennett, Bixby, Chapman, Collins, Hoffman, Humes, Monjo, Newton, Partington, and Shuttleworth.

Making Debating Popular

The system adopted by the debating teams this year is directed toward increasing the popular appeal of intercollegiate debates, which have in the past become cut and dried affairs in which the average student felt little interest. By making the debates of a more spontaneous nature, the result should be more an informal argument by men well versed in their subject, than a series of prepared declamations. This system is only an experiment at Williams, and time alone will tell whether it is a success or not. The debating teams are to be praised, however, for making this effort to give their contests a greater popular appeal. If they succeed in this aim they will have accomplished much in putting intercollegiate debating back on a secure footing, with much heartier support from the undergraduate body than it has received for many years.

For Mutual Benefit

Princeton and Dartmouth, among other colleges and universities, inaugurated last year a system of class-room committees which met with great success, and which the Record believes may well be adopted at Williams. Briefly, the system comprises a committee of two or three men in each course, the function of which body is to confer with the professor in regard to any changes which may be made in the manner of conducting the course, in order that the class may derive more value from it and may exhibit greater interest in what the professor may have to offer.

It often happens that a professor is absolutely ignorant of the manner in which his course is being received; and he may proceed on the assumption that his class is greatly interested, when its members have a dislike for the subject, merely because of the manner in which it is presented. When a course falls into this condition, it is a failure from every point of view. Just as every student desires that his courses shall not be dull, every professor also desires that he shall arouse in the members of his classes an interest which will prompt them to independent and spontaneous effort in assimilating knowledge. Lack of cooperation between professor and student, and the failure of one to understand the needs of the other, often makes this impossible.

Under this proposed system, we believe that it would be possible to avoid this difficulty. The day has passed when education is a system of pouring knowledge into students like pouring so much liquid into empty jars. Knowledge obtained by this mechanical method, which was employed for centuries, and which is still evident, unfortunately, in many of our modern educational institutions, is never permanent. Only that knowledge which a student obtains because he is made to feel the value of his study, can be of lasting benefit.

By this system of conference between student and professor, we believe it would be possible to attain, partially at least, to a condition wherein each student feels an interest in the course, and each professor is cognizant of the fact that he is presenting his material in a manner which appeals to those whom he is trying to instruct. Mutual benefit such as this, at the expense of very little effort in forming committees which will perform their duties in an intelligent manner, is undoubtedly desirable.

MISS SPINNEY WILL READ HERE NOV. 19

Well-Known Entertainer Has Appeared Before Select Audiences in Europe

Opening the series of entertainments of the Thompson Course, made possible each year through the generosity of Mrs. F. F. Thompson, of New York City, Miss Dorothea Spinney will appear in a repertoire of dramatic readings on Friday evening, November 19, at 8.15 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Auditorium.

Miss Spinney has appeared before large audiences in America and Europe, giving performances in Queen's Hall, London, before the classical societies of Harvard, Princeton and Yale, as well as before similar organizations in Oxford, Edinburgh and Manchester. In all her performances, the reader appears in costume before a setting of curtains. Miss Spinney's repertoire includes such selections as Euripides' Iphigenia in Tauris, The Trojan Women, The Hippolytus, and The Medea, Shakespeare's Hamlet, J. W. Barrie's Rosalind, and Robert Browning's The Ring and the Book.

Press opinions of American and Europe are unanimous in proclaiming her excellences of reading. The London Morning Post says: "Miss D. Spinney has a fine face, capable of intense expression; unusual clearness of articulation, a voice of considerable mobility; a rare sense of music and rhythm. The New York Evening Post describes her as having "deep sincerity, artistic restraint, and classic simplicity." The Argus of Melbourne, Australia, in praise of a performance given in that city, says "she held her audience enthralled from the opening passage."

A North Dakota Stock Farm

SELECTED over forty years ago by the land commissioner of the Northern Pacific, whose position made essential a knowledge of all the country along the line of the railroad, the Helendale Stock Farm was chosen because of the splendid and varied features of its 2325 acres.

For the Investor

Who wants an active property engaged in directly supplying the needs of the country, Helendale presents possibilities in many ways unparalleled by other farm properties. Enhancement in the value of mid-western lands as our population increases will be strongly reflected here.

For the Sportsman

Who looks ahead to the time not so far distant when free access to private properties will become increasingly difficult—Helendale's acres and acres promise a bountiful supply of game. As a hunting club for a group there is here the factor which almost every such club lacks: for Helendale under competent management will return a fair net yield on the investment.

For the Farmer and Stockman

Helendale's past records of championship steers and acreage crop reports will demonstrate its exceptional value.

And—to all interested in the Property

A brief description:

Helendale is situated within easy striking distance of Fargo, the largest city of the state. The soil is unusually fertile—with running streams and spring fed ponds on all pasturage.

The farm buildings are large and modern. A store operated by the owners is an additional source of income and allows the purchase of supplies at wholesale.

The team is now in excellent condition, having come through the Columbia game without any serious injury except for the loss of Shuttleworth who is out of the game with two broken ribs. Montgomery who has been on the injured list since the Trinity game, has been taking part in

Saturday, June 6—Wesleyan at Williamstown.

Manager Finn has scheduled ten games for the 1921 basketball season, six of which will be played in Williamstown, and the remaining four at West Point, N. Y., Middletown, Conn., Schenectady, N. Y., and Amherst, Mass., Dartmouth, Hamilton, and Syracuse, all of which were included in last year's schedule, have been omitted this year, and in their places games have been arranged with Harvard, the University of Rochester, and Stevens Institute of Technology.

The complete schedule is as follows:

Jan. 13—Colgate at Williamstown
Jan. 19—Wesleyan at Williamstown.
Jan. 22—Harvard at Williamstown.
Feb. 2—Stevens at Williamstown.
Feb. 12—Amherst at Williamstown.

Feb. 19—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.
Feb. 24—University of Rochester at Williamstown.
March 5—Union at Schenectady, N. Y.
March 12—Amherst at Amherst.

The swimming schedule for the 1921 season, as announced by assistant manager Harder includes six meets, all but one of which will take place away from Williamstown. In addition to the following schedule it is probable that either the entire Williams team or representatives from the team will compete in either the Intercollegiate Meet at New Haven, Conn., or in the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Boston in March or April.

Meets arranged to date are as follows:
Jan. 22—Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (place unsettled).

Feb. 19—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.
Feb. 25—Harvard at Boston.

petian, wife of General Azgapietian of the Armenian army, and herself a trained nurse. Perry, who has spoken before at Williams on the Armenian situation, will tell of his further experiences while doing relief work in that country. Lady Azgapietian, when serving with the Russian army on the Turkish front, received the silver medal of the Order of St. Stanislaus from the former Imperial Russian Government and was also decorated with the Gold Star by the Shah of Persia.

After the meeting, pledge cards will be distributed, and although no definite goal has been set, it is hoped that every man in college will avail himself of the opportunity to subscribe to the campaign. A one reel film depicting the work of the Near East Relief will be shown at Walden's Theater tomorrow evening. In addition to this, numerous posters and advertisements have been prominently displayed through the town in aid of the campaign.

During the war the Near East Relief was known as the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, and as such it carried on strictly neutral work among the needy Armenians, Syrians, Assyrians, and Greeks. During the past two years American generosity, through the Near East Relief, has saved hundreds of thousands of these Christians from actual starvation. President Chanjanian of Armenia has said, "America literally saved us from starvation." Owing to the present state of disorder throughout the entire Near East there is still a serious shortage of food, hospital supplies, clothing, and shelter. The Near East Relief is also making special endeavors to build up and educate the 110,000 helpless children.

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

PUBLISH CATALOGUE

33rd Edition of Graduates' Volume Has Just Appeared

Appearing for the first time since 1910, the General Catalogue of Graduates has just been published. This book lists the names of all graduates and officers of the administration since the foundation of the college in 1795.

This is the thirty-third edition of the catalogue, the first being published in 1799. The first 26 editions were in Latin at three year intervals until 1874; and in 1880 the first English edition appeared, to be followed by the issues of 1885, 1890, 1900, 1905, and 1910.

The general arrangement of the 1910 edition has been retained. Facsimiles of the will of Colonel Ephraim Williams and of the first general catalogue are also included. Men who have received the "Honorary Degree of Bachelor of Arts for War Service" are listed with their original classes, and after the names of the men on the honor roll of the Great War are brief notes telling the cause and place of death.

This edition was edited by John Adams Lowe '06, Assistant Librarian of the Public Library in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Lowe was College Librarian from 1911 to 1915 and assisted in editing the edition of 1910.

Dr. Cobb is the president of the Riverside Day Nursery, in New York, of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and of the trustees of the Utica Normal and Industrial Institute. In addition he holds the office of trustee at Vassar and Rutgers colleges.

Dr. Cobb is a contributor to several clerical magazines and the author of The Victories of Youth, published in 1900, and The Ships of Tarvish, published in 1909.

To Compete for Fellowships

Attention of the student body, especially Seniors, is called to the fact that the Society for the American Field Service Fellowships for French Universities is offering for open competition among American colleges and other suitably qualified candidates a number of fellowships. The purpose of the fellowships, which are not to exceed 25 in number, is to encourage advanced study and research in French Universities during 1921-22.

Each scholarship includes $200 and 10,000 francs in addition and is granted for one year, renewable for a second. The fellowships are awarded in any one of 30 departments including Archaeology, History of Art, Classical Languages and Literature. Men interested should see Professor Galbraith for additional information; all applications must be made before January 1, 1921.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

MANAGER ELECTIONS CHANGED

The Amherst student body at a recent meeting passed the following motion providing for the election of athletic managers: "Moved, that the election of all assistant managers of athletic teams, which in the past has been in the hands of the Student Association, be decided in the future by a group to be composed of the members of the student council, the manager, assistant manager, captain and coach of the athletic team concerned."

TO PUBLISH 'AMHERST BOOKS'

The Liberal College, by President Meiklejohn of Amherst has just been published and is now on sale at leading bookstores throughout the country. This is the first of a series of Amherst Books to be published and comprises a collection of the President's essays on the purpose and policy of a liberal college. Re-edited and correlated, these essays form a notable contribution to the solutions of the problems of a liberal college, and as such the book will be of great interest to all who are interested in cultural education.

N. Y. U. FUND PROGRESSES

Announcement that the New York University Endowment Fund had gone over the top for the first million dollars has been made by Davis S. Morse, Community Chairman of the Schenectady district of the Endowment Fund committee. Alumni and non-graduates are giving generous support to the University's campaign fund for $6,450,000.

Wallace to Lead 1922 Team

Dudley Brabner Wallace, 1922, of Springfield, Mass., was chosen to captain the Junior class soccer team at a meeting of members of the team held yesterday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

CORRECTION

Professor E. J. Banks did not donate to the College Library the 30 ancient Babylonian clay tablets, as was announced in the last issue of the RECORD. The College Library, out of its own fund and acting in behalf of the Department of Archaeology, bought for a considerable sum of money the books that now lie on exhibition in the west wing of the Library.

HOLD MEETING FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Lady Anne Azgapatian and E. T. Perry '18 Speak on Experiences in Armenia

ADDRESSES GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES OF W. C. A.

Audience Requested to Pledge Contributions—Canvass to Be Made This Week

Lady Anne Azgapatian and E. T. Perry '18 addressed a well-attended mass meeting of the W. C. A. last Sunday evening in Jesup Hall in the interests of raising funds to carry on the relief work in the Near East. After the speaking, the audience was requested to sign slips signifying the amount they were willing to contribute monthly to the aid of the Armenians, and a canvass will be made this week among the faculty and the student body to obtain additional funds for the work.

Perry opened his address with a short summary of the work in Armenia, in which he said that the American nation had saved a nation of a half-million people and that she must continue in this work. 540 American workers were in Armenia during the last years, 50 million dollars were sent to them from this country, and 7,000 tons of flour were supplied every month. In spite of this, the population was reduced one fourth in two years, and several places, the inhabitants lost 76% of their number through starvation. Perry illustrated his talk with stereopticon slides of the conditions in the Near East. He ended with an appeal for the American people to continue to feed the 24 mile table.

Lady Anne Azgapatian gave a brief history of the Armenian race, bringing out the points that they were the first nation to accept Christianity, that once their population was 50 million, but that the Turk had reduced it to 3 million. She also said that these losses were due to the tenacity of the Armenian race to cling to two ideals, faith in the Christian religion and in the cause of the Allies. She pictured Armenia as a guard, standing between the yellow and the white races, whom it was our duty to protect. She emphasized the fact that

1921 HEADS LEAGUE

Seniors Win Hard Fought Soccer
Contest with 1923 Team

Standing of the Teams
	Won	Lost	Pct.
1921	2	0	1.000
1923	1	1	.500
1922	0	1	.000
1924	0	1	.000

In the most closely-contested game of the season, the Senior soccer team defeated the Sophomore eleven 4 to 2 last Friday afternoon on Cole Field. The teamwork of both elevens was far better than any shown so far this season and at no period of the contest was the game one-sided.

Durfee and Serieye scored for the Sophomores in the first half and Allison and Cutler for the 1921 team. The first tally came early in the contest when the Seniors carried the ball into the 1923 territory and forced it through the goal. The Sophomores made their first tally on a pass from the side-line to the center of the field where Durfee shot the goal. At the end of the first half, each eleven had scored again. The 1921 defense held the Sophomores scoreless in the second half, while their forward line kept the ball in the territory of the underclassmen for the greater part of the period. Buckner and Cutler shot the goals for the Seniors. The contest ended with the score 4 to 2 in favor of the upperclassmen and the ball in their territory.

TUG-O-WAR FRIDAY

Sophomores and Freshmen Will Battle Over Green River

Next Friday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock the annual Freshman-Sophomore tug-o-war will take place over the icy waters of the Green River. The Freshmen will gather in front of Jesup Hall at 4.15 o'clock to carry the rope to the scene of the conflict; and the Sophomores will meet behind the Lasell Gymnasium and march down to the River from there.

The conflict will take place at the usual place, about 200 feet below the Main Street bridge. The classes will be divided alphabetically into three groups, two out of three pulls winning the contest. The other rules are as follows: The Freshmen will take the east bank of the River and the Sophomores the west bank. The winning class must carry the rope back to Jesup Hall in order to win the contest.

1924 DEFEATS R. P. I. ELEVEN BY 7-0 SCORE

Game Is Marred by Many Fumbles on Both Sides—McKean and Gregory Are Stars

In a game poorly played by both elevens the Freshman football team defeated the R. P. I. first year men by a 7 to 0 score in Troy last Saturday afternoon. The Rensselaer eleven was never dangerous but repeated fumbles by both sides prevented any frequent scoring by either team.

Henderson, the quarterback for the R. P. I. freshmen, was the outstanding player for the opponents. He carried the ball well himself but showed several errors in judgment in running his team.

For the Williams freshmen, McKean and Gregory were easily the stars. McKean outplayed the opposing team, recovered several fumbles and ran back kicks well. Gregory was particularly valuable in offense, making frequent substantial gains through the line. It was he who carried the ball across the goal line for the only tally of the contest.

In the beginning of the last period, the Williams freshman team got the ball on a fumble on the R. P. I. ten yard line, and carried it across the goal by straight line bucks. On the whole both teams played badly, each side fumbling often. The Williams freshmen, however, always had the advantage, and the R.P.I. team never succeeded in getting the ball inside our thirty yard line.

This contest wound up the season for the 1924 eleven. The line-ups follow:

WILLIAMS ELEVEN LEADS IN SCORING; CROSS COUNTRY MEN DOWN WESLEYAN

CROFTS BREAKS RECORD

Star Williams Runner Traverses
Grass Course in 26 Minutes and 56 4-5 Seconds

STIMSON OF WESLEYAN
SECOND AND COAN THIRD

Final Score of Dual Meet Is 24 to 32—Captain Kellogg
Unable to Run

In its second meet of the season, the Williams cross-country team defeated Wesleyan 24 to 32 last Saturday afternoon on the regular College course. Although Coan and Fasce, of Williams, and Captain Stimson, of Wesleyan, managed to keep up with him on the first lap as far as the Taconic Golf Club, Crofts forged ahead from that point on, and finished the course in 26 minutes, 56 4-5 seconds, bettering by 11 3-5 seconds the record made by H. H. Brown '20 of 27 minutes, 8 3-5 seconds.

The runners started on Main Street, in front of Lasell gymnasium at 2.45 o'clock, went up Main Street as far as the Greylock Hotel, and then south to the Taconic Golf Club. From this point the runners traversed the golf course and then turned in past the east side of Weston Field. After one lap around the track, the course was repeated as usual, except that in starting the second lap the runners, instead of going by way of Spring, Walden, and Hoxsey Streets, diagonaled up to the gymnasium, thus making the course about 75 yards shorter than in previous years.

From the start to as far as the Taconic Golf Club, Coan, Crofts, Fasce and Stimson were together, but at this point Crofts and Fasce stepped into the lead with Stimson and Coan in third and fourth places respectively. Coan, however, passed Stimson on the first big hill of the golf

Boynton is High Scorer

By amassing five touchdowns and three goals from touchdown in the game against Hamilton last Saturday, Captain Boynton firmly intrenched himself in the position of high scorer among the college elevens of the East. He added 33 points to his previous total of 90, making a total of 123 for the six games played to date. His nearest competitor, Kaw, of Cornell, failed to score on Saturday. French, of West Point, drew up to third place by making 21 points. The eight highest scorers are as follows:

Name	College	Total Score
Boynton	Williams	123
Kaw	Cornell	72
French	West Point	66
Way	Penn State	63
Kellogg	Syracuse	50
Horween	Harvard	49
Lightner	Penn State	48
Peck	Wesleyan	48

Williams Leads Scoring

Through its overwhelming victory on Saturday, Williams took the lead in scoring among the college elevens of the East. Although the opposition encountered by the Purple has not been so consistently severe as that of its nearest competitors, Penn State and West Virginia, a high offensive power has been developed which has surpassed all other eastern scoring records. Two southern teams have succeeded in outstripping Williams' record, Virginia Military Institute with 311 points and Centre College with 276. The ten highest eastern colleges with their scores follow:

Williams	256
Penn State	252
West Virginia	232
West Point	225
Georgetown	208
Cornell	197
Syracuse	180
Washington and Jefferson	178
Harvard	172
Lehigh	158

TURNER PRIZE WILL BE GIVEN THIS YEAR

In Memory of Turner '14 Who Received Posthumous Award of Congressional Medal

For the first time since its establishment the Turner prize in American History, given in memory of W. Bradford Turner 1914, whose heroic death on September 27, 1918 won the posthumous award of the Congressional Medal of Honor, will be awarded this year. The competition for the prize of $150 is open to men taking History 3-4, Government 1-2 (this year only) and to those who have completed those courses.

The subject of the essay must lie in the field of American history and must be chosen from a list prepared by the History department in order to insure uniformity in the scope of the essays. It is further, more the purpose of the department to require any competitor taking History 3-4, History 7 to History 9 to submit as his regular report in such course his essay for the Turner prize. Competitors who are not taking any of the above courses but have completed History 3-4 in the past or Government 1-2 this year must select their subject from the list prepared in connection with History 3-4. A student may submit a subject of his own choice if it meets the approval of the History Department.

Preparation of the essay must be according to the standards laid down in History 3-4 as to form, bibliography, references and use of source and other material. There is no prescribed length but investigation must be thorough. In awarding the prize more weight will be given to literary ability and historical insight shown than in the ordinary class reports. All essays must be submitted by May 15. No student may submit more than one essay but a student in History 3-4 may use either his first or second semester special report.

Houses to Give Dances

Indications are now that six fraternities will have informal houseparties on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12 and 13. With the exception of Phi Sigma Kappa, all the houses are having orchestras composed of undergraduates.

Chi Psi and Delta Kappa Epsilon will combine for dances on Friday evening, Saturday afternoon, and Saturday evening. Phi Delta Theta and Phi Gamma Delta expect to have dances on both Friday and Saturday evenings. Phi Sigma Kappa will have a dance on Saturday evening only, and Theta Delta Chi will have a tea dance on Saturday afternoon, but no dance in the evening.

CRUSH HAMILTON, 82-7

Purple Team Piles up Record Total—Big Gains by Boynton, Mallon and Richmond

BUFF AND BLUE ATTACK EARNS LONE TOUCHDOWN

'Concealed Ball' Plays Responsible for Score—Fight to End of Contest

Hamilton went down to defeat last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field by the overwhelming score of 82 to 7, which is believed to be the largest total a Williams team has ever piled up against any opponent. As a result Boynton is far ahead of his rivals in individual scoring for the year, and as a team the Purple ranks well to the forefront.

The game was characterized by the forward passing of both teams and the spectacular runs of Boynton and Richmond. Williams showed herself still weak in the line as in previous games, and Hamilton made several first downs through the Purple forwards by the use of her hidden ball formations. Interference proved to be better than that exhibited before this season, that given to Mallon in a 32 yard run for a touchdown in the opening of the third period being especially noticeable.

For the visitors Campbell was especially noticeable because of his running in an open field, although he seemed greatly handicapped by being hurt several times during the game. Scaver, who did the punting for the Buff and Blue, was completely outclassed by Boynton's efforts.

In this game a new combination appeared which should count greatly against Wesleyan and Amherst in the form of Mallon-to-Boynton and Boynton-to-Mallon passes. This play seemed good for at least 20 yards each time it was used and was responsible for several of the touchdowns. It was the first time Mallon has been able to play since the Harvard game and seems to indicate that he is in even better form than before his injury.

Winning the Amherst Game

With the end of the football season close at hand interest is, as usual, centered upon the outcome of the Wesleyan and Amherst games. There is every reason to believe that Williams has at least an even chance to emerge victorious from both contests, provided that the team is not handicapped by the loss of any of its members.

There seems to be no danger of this calamity for next week's game, exclusive of unavoidable injuries. For the Amherst game, however, the eleven faces the possible loss of three or four of its most important members on account of ineligibility, due to the fact that warnings appear five days previously. Such a loss will mean almost inevitable defeat in the most important athletic event of the year.

This is the first time that such a situation has appeared for many years, since the football season has usually been completed before the issuance of warnings. This year, however, it represents a real danger, but one which we hope it will be possible to avoid.

The administration has already refused to consider any action of leniency in allowing football men five days more of eligibility, in case any of them receive warnings in half or more of their courses. We realize, of course, that under the rules of the College this is the only course open to the administration, unless it is willing to make an exception in this case, in order to assist the College in accomplishing what is considered by the undergraduate body and a large part of the alumni the most important athletic feat of the year. If these men are barred, the administration will have all the law on its side.

The law, however, and especially strict construction of the law, without the consideration of circumstances, often works injustice. In this case it is not a question of enforcing the letter of the law, but of carrying into effect the fundamental purpose of the scholastic requirement. The object of making men ineligible if they are doing poor work in their courses is to compel them to devote their time to their studies, not to extra-curriculum activities. But to argue that during the five days from Nov. 15 to Nov. 20 it is imperative that any men whose scholastic standing is low must drop immediately their outside work, is ridiculous. The twenty or thirty hours that they may spend on football during this short period cannot make any appreciable difference in their final standing. The purpose of the ruling can just as effectively be fulfilled by making them ineligible on the latter date instead of the former.

There is no doubt but that the administration will have to depart slightly from strict construction of its laws, and perhaps defy that awful bugbear, precedent, in allowing these men to play. We believe that they can do so, however, without sacrificing any important principle, and can render a real service to the undergraduate body.

UNJUST CRITICISM

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD:
Sir:—

May I have the privilege of your columns to correct certain erroneous impressions regarding the Williams College Press Club that are current on the campus and to a lesser extent among the alumni? It seems only just in the face of the unmerciful damning of the Press Club and unfavorable comparisons made between the publicity it secures for Williams and that secured by Amherst that the following facts should be known. For her publicity, Amherst has a regular agent, employed at a salary of $3,000 a year for the sole purpose of disseminating in the newspapers of the country news of Amherst College. The Williams organization consists of seven undergraduates, who for the sake of serving the College and with very slight financial returns devote many hours a week to the sending out of Williams news to all the newspapers that can be persuaded to accept it, and to all the preparatory schools and home papers of men who attain prominence at Williams. Perhaps a consideration of these facts may result in a more just appreciation of the efforts of the Williams Press Club.

One word in regard to the omission from Sunday's Springfield Republican of any mention of the Williams-Hamilton football game, an omission for which the Press Club is heaped with bitter denunciation. The fault for this slip lies not with the Press Club but with the paper in question; the write-up of the game as it appeared in the Boston and Albany and some New York papers was telegraphed to the Republican at the same time as the article on the cross country run, and why that should have been printed and the article on the game omitted, only the editor of the Republican can answer.

Constructive criticism is always valuable to any organization or group of individuals, but wholesale condemnation without any knowledge of the facts is not only unfair but also discouraging to those who are devoting their best efforts to serving the College.

Yours truly,
Howard Radcliffe Coan,
Chairman of the Williams College Press Club.

Hold Meeting for Near East Relief

the Armenians were fighters and not beggars, that 250,000 of them had fought in the last war, even when offered their liberty if they would remain neutral.

"America is the one nation which has not Armenia upon her conscience," said Lady Anne in telling of the numerous occasions on which the European nations had betrayed her native land. 101 years ago the first American missionary arrived in Armenia, one of the results of the conference for which the Haystack Monument stands, and began to teach the people the American methods and the American ideals of liberty. As the outcome of this, the people began to resist the Turk in his ruthless manner of ruling the Armenians.

During the war, the Kaiser and the Sultan offered to give liberty to the Armenians if they would fight on their side or would remain neutral. When they refused, the young men ran away and enlisted in the armies of the Allies, leaving the old people and the children to face the Turk. These Armenian soldiers performed many notable deeds during the Great War, many of Duke Nicholas' victorious army was of this race and in the Foreign Legion which defended Verdun so bravely, of the 1,000 Armenians who entered the battle, but 34 came out alive and not seriously wounded.

In America, there are 200,000 Armenians among whom are numerous professors, doctors and prominent men. Lady Anne gave a list of a few of the great paintings, inventions, etc., which Armenians had produced. The first Russian constitution was drawn up by an Armenian and one of that race invented the process by which we guard our paper money.

Lady Anne finished her talk with a short summary of her own life. She was living in New York when the war broke out, and she and her husband went to Russia where she enlisted as a nurse, seeing service for two years on the front in the army of Duke Nicholas. She finally escaped after the Bolshevik revolt through Russia and, after suffering all varieties of hardships and sufferings, she finally arrived at Archangel, where she took a freight boat for America. Since arriving in this country, she has been engaged in raising money for the needs of her native land.

We've tried to time our next visit so you'll have your new Winter overcoat for the Amherst game, Saturday, November 20th.

At A. H. L. Bemis' all day next Monday and Tuesday, November 15th and 16th.

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register
How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Crush Hamilton 82-7

Williams and Hamilton in turn failed to gain much. Then Williams got the ball on a fumble. Boynton made 25 yards around left end. The next play failed to gain, and a pass, Boynton to Richmond, gained 40 yards for the first touchdown. Lasell kicked the goal.

Williams kicked off and, after being stopped for short gains twice, Hamilton punted. Boynton brought the ball to the 35 yard line. Monjo and McLean gained 30 yards and Boynton went over the line. Lasell failed to kick the goal.

The quarter ended without further scoring with the ball in the center of the field.

Second Quarter

Williams failed to gain and after an exchange of punts Coddling went over the line on the second of two long passes which netted 40 yards. Lasell kicked the goal. Williams kicked off. Hamilton went straight down the field to Williams' 12 yard line where the ball was lost on downs.

Then Boynton made 35 yards, Mallon 12, and a pass to Burger netted 17 more. Another pass, Boynton to Mallon, reached the four yard line and Boynton went over the line again. Mallon kicked the goal. Williams kicked off. Hamilton lost the ball on downs. A pass to Wilson made a touchdown after several long gains. Mallon kicked the goal. The half ended with the score 34 to 0.

Third Quarter

The second half opened with a runback of four yards by Clarke of Hamilton after the kickoff. Receiving a punt, Mallon went through left tackle for a touchdown, and Boynton kicked the goal. After Hamilton had lost the ball on downs, Boynton finished a series of plays with a 30 yard run for a touchdown, and kicked the goal. A Mallon-Boynton pass gained 28 yards, and Mallon made the eighth touchdown of the game on a short gain through center, Boynton kicking the goal. The quarter ended with Williams' ball on Hamilton's 11 yard line.

Fourth Quarter

On the first play, Boynton went around right end for a touchdown; no goal was kicked. The ball went monotonously up and down the field until Richmond intercepted a pass and tore 70 yards for a touchdown, and Lasell kicked the goal.

On Lasell's kickoff, Seaver went down the field for 15 yards, and began the downfield march for the only touchdown that Hamilton scored. Reader received a pass from Campbell, and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Seaver kicked the goal.

Boynton received the kickoff and was tackled on Hamilton's 22 yard line, and carried the ball over with two more plays. Lasell kicked the goal. Richmond, intercepting another pass, went over the line for the last touchdown, and Lasell kicked the last goal.

... and with college men

A fact:

Sales reports, carefully verified by undergraduates, show that at many of the leading colleges such as Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, and the University of Pennsylvania, the largest-selling cigarette is Fatima.

Contains more Turkish than any other "Turkish blend" cigarette

YOU don't want too much Turkish tobacco in your cigarette. "Too much" takes all the zest out of smoking; it tires your taste.

But you do want ENOUGH Turkish.

The extra large proportion of Turkish in Fatimas gives smokers that delicious Turkish taste. But blended with it is just the right selection of Domestic tobaccos, carefully proportioned to offset entirely that over-richness so characteristic of straight unmixed Turkish.

That is why so many men—eager to avoid the over-richness of straight Turkish cigarettes, yet hardly content with the "thin" taste of ordinary Turkish Blends—are choosing Fatima.

And the proof of this is in Fatima's leadership in sales at so many prominent places throughout the country.

HARRIERS ENTERED IN N. E. I. C. MEET

Williams Septet, Fresh from Victory Over Wesleyan, Will Face Real Test

FRANKLIN PARK COURSE SCENE OF TODAY'S RACE

M. I. T. Expected to Be Dangerous Opponent—Bates Won Maine Laurels

Boston, Nov. 13—In its third meet of the season the undefeated Williams septet is to compete in the annual New England Intercollegiate cross-country championship run this morning over the Franklin Park course here at 10.30 o'clock. Only twelve of the seventeen Colleges holding membership in the Association have entered teams, and the Purple runners are believed to have a fighting chance for the title.

The team entered by M. I. T. is expected to prove a formidable opponent, as its entries include MacMahon, who finished third in last year's intercollegiate. Bates College, however, with a score of 21 points, won the Maine Intercollegiate cross-country race last Saturday, being the first College ever to defeat the University of Maine in such a contest in the State. Maine was second with 65 points, Bowdoin third with 67 points, and Colby fourth with 75. R. P. Baker and R. S. Baker, of Bates, took the lead early in the race and ran shoulder to shoulder throughout the entire course. They crossed the line almost together, with the former about three inches in the lead and 150 yards ahead of Hart of Bowdoin, the third man. Six of the seven Bates runners finished in the first ten, and six of Maine's seven in the second ten. The time of the race was 27 minutes, 21 2-5 seconds, over the five-mile course.

The Williams entries are as follows: Adams, Coan, Crofts, Faser, Kellogg, Jones, and Wolfe. Each College may enter twenty men, but only seven may start the race, and only the first five of each team will be counted in the scoring, the team scoring the least number of points being the winner. The seven men of the Williams team who ran against and defeated Wesleyan last Saturday have been augmented by the return to work of Captain Kellogg. Crofts, who broke the record for the College course in the Wesleyan contest, is continuing to show excellent form and is expected to cross the line well up among the first men to finish.

The Franklin Park course is five miles in length. Although the hills are not as steep as those found in the Van Cortlandt Park course, in New York, the runners must run for a large part of the distance through sparsely and sometimes thickly wooded country.

The first seven entries of each college are as follows:

Bates:—Batten, R. P. Baker, R. S. Baker, Clifford, Kane, Kimball, Perkins.

TWO CLASSES ELECT

Adams '22 Is Chosen Treasurer—"Peerade" Plans Explained

Hartwell Borden Adams, of Fall River, was elected treasurer of the Junior Class last Tuesday evening at a meeting held in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. This was to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of J. M. Baker '22 the former treasurer from College.

At the same time the Freshman Class met in the auditorium and elected Linley Villars Dodge, of New York City, class basketball manager and Frank Troutman Balke, of Cincinnati, Ohio, manager of the class debating team. Appointments for the 1924 "Peerade" were announced at this meeting and the general program explained.

To Hold Novice Cross Country Meet Nov. 17

For all men interested in track, members of the Varsity being excluded, a novice cross country meet will be held next Wednesday afternoon, November 17. The course will be three miles in length, including a single circuit of the golf course and the Weston field track. Suitable prizes will be awarded, and freshmen are particularly requested to come out. If any contestants show up unusually well, they may be entered in the intercollegiate meet at New Haven on November 20.

FLONZALEY QUARTET WELL RECEIVED HERE

Famous Musicians Give Finely Contrasted Selections Before Large Audience

Appearing for the ninth time before the College, the Flonzaley Quartet presented a finely contrasted group of selections last evening in Grace Hall. Thanks for this genuine musical treat are due to Mr. Mauro Delano, son of the late Eugene Delano '66, through whose generosity the concert was given.

As an appropriate introduction to the tasteful program, the noted musicians commenced their concert by rendering Tschikowsky's adante funebre, expressive of warm, deep sorrow and human grief.

The Mozart quartet which followed was played with unusual clarity, tonal charm, and the unique grace which has ever characterized the playing of Mr. Betti and his associates. With all its infinite variety and delicately shaded expression, full range was given to the remarkable versatility and brilliant interpretive power of the players. Shumann's Quartet in A Major proved a pleasing contrast and provided a fitting closing to the program.

The instruments used by the Flonzaley Quartet are rare and antique type and have excited considerable interest in the world of music. They were collected by Mr. de Coppet and have been loaned to the four musicians in recognition of their success. The violins are especially of note, one being a Stradivarius and the other two having been made by the famous Guadagnini. The 'cello is also a very rare instrument, bearing the name of the maker, Testori.

OVER $1300 PLEDGED

Near East Relief Committee Reports Increasing Total

With the total figures as yet incomplete, the W. C. A. committee on the Near East Relief has already received pledges for an amount considerably over $1,300 as a result of the campaign, following the activity and mass meeting in behalf of the relief organization conducted last week by E. T. Perry '18 and Lady Anne Azgabetian. Hall '21, chairman of the follow-up committee of the W. C. A. has appointed a representative at each house to take charge of the collection of pledges.

The contributions reported do not include gifts from the faculty and the numerous townspeople who have joined in the campaign, and there are also several fraternity house contributions which have not yet been included in the total. Members of the W. C. A. committee expect to continue the work of soliciting pledges for some time, but at the close of the campaign, the following up and collecting of pledges will be turned over to the Near East Relief office in New York City.

To Discuss Chinese Students

Asst. Professor John P. Rice will speak on the subject of Chinese Students and the study of modern languages at a meeting of the Whitney Society next Monday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Faculty Club.

GIRLISH GALAXY GIVES GUESTS GREAT GASPS

Eastern Beauties in More Than Oriental Splendor to Grace Drab Weston Field

BABES BOUNCE BASHFULLY
Suspect Sophisticated Sophs of Similarly Shaking Seductive Snappy Silk Socks

Hide your houseparty girl! Conceal the chaperones! Prepare to gasp! The daintily beautiful spectacle which annually blinds the gaping populace is about to peep in all its resplendent beauty through the length and breadth of the village. The dear and tender Frosh, the flower of the country's youth, the hope of the nation, will sally forth from the sombre portals of Lasell Gymnasium at 1.15 o'clock today in the most resplendent Freshman Peerade which has brought forth the adverse criticism of the Faculty.

This galaxy of youth, after marching up Main Street, will then march down again and proceed to Weston Field, where a short, but exceedingly witty (not to say risqué) skit will be staged between the ladies for the benefit of friend and foe alike. Dame Rumor bath it that the extravaganza will be fairly teeming with clever impersonations and sly digs at certain members of the faculty and other "local characters." A solemn oath of secrecy has sealed the lips of the committee concerning most of the details of the performance, but information has reached the RECORD offices to the effect that numerous dancing girls, rivaling in grace, beauty and exposure the finest imported products from the Eastern finishing schools, will disport upon the green-sward of Weston Field.

But do not think that the tender babes alone will portray in the calcium light of pitiless publicity the pitfalls of sin shorn of their tinsel! Such will by no means be the situation, for a round dozen of the sophisticated sophs in the glorious noon of their pristine vigor will flavor the freshness of the spectacle with the salt of wisdom.

No performance will be given in front of that staid caravansary, the Greylock, but guarding their sweetest surprises till the last, the Peerade will about face immediately upon arrival at the head of Main Street, to retrace their steps to the Gym. At this juncture, according to ancient custom and time-honored tradition, the members of the three upper classes will fall in behind the performers and march down Main Street to the Gym, where the freshmen will fall out to prepare the final burst of glory, while those who have already acquired wisdom will continue on to Weston Field, headed by the Freshman Band.

Between the halves of the game the youngsters will reappear, and then our fair guests will do well to keep a canny eye on their escorts, because more wondrous dancing girls than ever came out of the East are scheduled to slide lithely onto the scene for the final skit.

Coach Brooks Has Drilled Squad All Week and Shifted Line-up for Today's Game

SUCCESS OF SEASON IS DEPENDENT ON CONTEST

Red and Black Team Has Defeated Trinity, Columbia, Rochester, R. I. S., and Amherst

In its seventh game of the season, the varsity football team will meet the undefeated Wesleyan eleven on Weston Field at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. This game, together with the contest with Amherst a week from today, will decide whether or not the season has been a success from the point of view of the Purple.

Wesleyan has not yet lost a game this season although N. Y. U. held the Middletown aggregation to a 13 to 13 tie. The teams which have bowed before the Red and Black this fall are Rhode Island State, which was defeated 20 to 0, Trinity which was downed by the same score, Columbia which was beaten 10 to 0 in a hard fought contest, Rochester which was more easily disposed of by a 20 to 0 score, and Amherst which went down in defeat 7 to 0 last Saturday. Of these teams the Purple has met only Trinity and Columbia. The former was swamped 62 to 0, a score three times as large as that made by Wesleyan against the same team, but Columbia defeated the varsity 21 to 14. Since the latter team is much stronger than the Trinity eleven, the advantage in today's contest would seem to be slightly in favor of the visitors. However, the large total score for the season which the varsity has already run up shows that the Purple has a strong offensive team.

Wesleyan Quarterback Dangerous

Peck, the Wesleyan quarterback, will probably be the most dangerous man to the varsity on the Red and Black eleven. Besides being a good ground gainer through the line he is a remarkable drop kicker, having scored 15 points in field goals already this season. Heiler and Newhall, at halfback and fullback respectively, are also aggressive offensive players. For the defense Captain Berlew at center is the mainstay of the Wesleyan line, although both Dowlin and Hubbell, the two guards, fill their positions with much credit.

In the backfield, Williams compares favorably with Wesleyan, the advantage resting with the Purple backs. Captain Boynton, Richmond, and McLean, are all good ground gainers and have already demonstrated time and again this season their ability to carry the ball for long gains.

POPULAR RECTOR HERE

Rev. George L. Richardson '88 Will Deliver Sunday Sermon

The Rev. George Lynde Richardson, D.D. '88, rector of the Diocesan Church of Saint Mary, of Philadelphia, Pa., will deliver the sermon at the morning service in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday. Dr. Richardson has preached regularly here for some years.

After graduating from Williams, Dr. Richardson attended the Seabury Theological Seminary at Saint Paul, Minn., where he was ordained an Episcopal Minister. In 1918, he was given the degree of Doctor of Divinity by his alma mater. Two years ago he was transferred from his pastorate at Saint Mary's Church, West Philadelphia, which he had held for a number of years, and was made rector of the Diocesan Church of Saint Mary.

The usual W. C. A. meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall with a speaker to be announced later.

Wiping the Slate Clean

Although the Amherst game is, of course, the most important football game of the season, a victory in today's contest is almost as much to be desired as the defeat of the Purple and White on Nov. 20. The sting of last year's game, when Wesleyan was the only eleven to cross the Williams goal line during the season, still rankles, and a thorough trouncing of the Red and Black this year will do much to even matters. It will be no easy accomplishment, however. The invaders from Middletown present a strong team, unbeaten this season, and the Purple will have its hands full. Captain Boynton and his men will have to play to their utmost and will need the heartiest support from the cheering section on Weston Field this afternoon.

A Holiday on November 20

Wesleyan will receive a holiday today, in order to allow a large number of undergraduates to attend the Wesleyan game. Amherst made the same arrangement last year on the day of the Amherst-Williams game. Other colleges and universities all over the country have followed this custom for years of abolishing or advancing Saturday classes on the day of an important athletic event. Yet the Williams faculty has never been willing to make this concession to the student body, even at the time of the Amherst football game, the most important contest of the year.

There has always been yearly agitation concerning this matter on the campus, but it is only by concerted action that the student body can expect to accomplish anything. The RECORD recommends to the Student Council that the faculty be petitioned at once to either declare a holiday on Nov. 20, or to advance all Saturday classes to Friday afternoon.

If this is done, we shall await the decision of the faculty with interest. That body has consistently turned a deaf ear to undergraduate requests during the last few years, even when the latter seemed to be all on the side of reason. We trust that in the present case they will be able to shake off the grasp of the monster "precedent" to a degree that will allow them to grant the undergraduate body this favor.

Cheerleader Issues Notice

In order to increase the volume of cheering at the Wesleyan game, head cheerleader Ufford '21 has issued a request that students bringing guests to the game this afternoon, should not occupy seats in the cheering section.

F. E. Painter Chosen to Head Senior Class Book

Fernald E. Painter, 1921, of Minneapolis, Minn., was elected Editor-in-Chief of the 1921 Class Book at a meeting of the board held last Thursday in Jesup Hall. At the same time Elliot E. Smeeth, Jr., 1921, was elected to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henth '21. Louis S. Irwin, 1921, was chosen photographic editor and Edward P. Taylor, 1921, was made business manager of the publication.

Painter prepared for Williams at the Central High School, Minneapolis. He is a member of the RECORD and "Gul" Boards and of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

JUNIORS TAKE THREE STRAIGHT AND LEAD

1922 Soccer Team Downs Seniors 5-0 and Moves Into First Place in League

Standing of the Teams
	Won	Lost	Pct.
1922	3	1	.750
1921	2	1	.666
1923	1	2	.333
1924	0	2	.000

By winning three straight victories this week, the junior soccer team has jumped into first place in the interclass series. The 1922 eleven now leads the senior team by a margin of one game.

The juniors defeated the freshmen Monday afternoon on Cole field by the score of 5 to 0. On Wednesday, they repeated by downing the sophomores 5 to 2. In this game, 1922 started with a rush, scoring four goals in the first five minutes of play. After this outburst, the game tightened up and the sophomores outplayed their opponents during the second half, scoring the only goal of the period.

The senior team lost their lead on Thursday by going down to a 5 to 0 defeat at the hands of 1922. As only nine men played for the seniors, the juniors had a decided advantage over their opponents. Wallace, who has been scoring consistently for 1922, accounted for two goals.

DISCUSS NATIONALISM BEFORE PHIL. UNION

Brucker is Chosen President and Finn and P. Phillips Are Other Officers

Nationalism was the subject of the paper read by Dr. Proctor at the first meeting of the Philosophical Union held last Monday evening in the Commons Room, Currier Hall. A warm discussion, enlivened by members of the Faculty, followed and added materially to the interest aroused by the speaker's clear and forceful presentation of his subject.

At the outset, Dr. Proctor insisted upon the difference between nationalism and patriotism and upon the fact that against the former only was his attack directed. Patriotism he considered a noble emotion, which implies love for one's own country, for the good in it, but a love that does not have the corollary of hatred for all other countries. Nationalism, on the other hand, he condemned as that spirit which places one's own nation above all other nations, merely because it is one's own nation, and at the same time despises and hates all other countries, blinding its victim to the fundamental likenesses because he is so absorbed in the inconsequential differences. Being, as he said, an incurable idealist, the speaker declared that he looked forward to the time when all unessential barriers between men, such as nationality, color, and class would be swept away by a realization of membership in one group—the human family.

Most of the opposition to the speaker attacked not the facts in the international situation as he outlined it, but the difficulty of realizing the state to which he looked forward. The discussion closed with a strong summary of the idealistic viewpoint by Professor Pratt.

At a brief business meeting, the following officers for the year were chosen: Brucker '21, president; Finn '21, vice-president; and P. Phillips '22, secretary-treasurer.

No matter which way you weigh the merits of our Winter overcoats, "money back" backs them.

Corresponding Secretary

To fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Beckwith '21, William Howard Prescott, 1922, of Cleveland, Ohio, was appointed corresponding secretary of the Williams Christian Association at a meeting of its officers last Thursday evening in Jesup Hall.

Prescott was elected to the editorial board of the RECORD in his sophomore year, is a member of the Cercle Francais, and is press agent of Cap and Bells. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

CONTORTIONIST HERE

Stan Stanley Entertains by Performing Muscular Stunts

Stan Stanley, for four years a professional contortionist with the Keith Vaudeville Circuit, entertained a sizeable gathering of undergraduates in Jesup Hall last Monday evening with various stunts of muscular control. During the recent war Mr. Stanley was abroad with the Canadian First Division for three years and eight months, part of this time being spent in giving performances before soldiers of the Allied armies.

His first group of feats consisted in stretching his arms, legs, and neck by a dislocation of the joints and a subsequent extension of the muscles. Then he demonstrated an expansion of the chest and abdominal muscles, being able to break two leather belts at once in the latter process. Later he showed how it was possible to break various grips by muscular expansion. His last few tricks illustrated his power of controlling the circulation of blood in different parts of the body.

'Cow' and 'Lit' to Appear Soon

Introducing several new contributors to the Literary Monthly and the Purple Cow, the November issues of these magazines will appear very soon. A large amount of verse and stories feature the forthcoming Monthly, and short jokes and verse predominate in the Cow.

The contents of the Literary Monthly are as follows:

The Monarchs—verse, Kenneth Phillips Britton; That Land of Jazz—story, Alfred Cary Schlesinger; Sonnet—verse, George Allen Mason; Safety First—story, Malcolm Campbell McMaster; Two Color Poems—verse, Kenneth Phillips Britton; Ernest Dowson—essay, John Edmund Moody; La Guene—verse, Kenneth Scott; The Call of Home—story, Paul Russell Fitch; Sanctum, J. E. M.

The cover of the Cow is by Wetherbee '24. Most of the drawings in the number, some of which are of full page size, are by Wasson '21, Becket '22, Britton, Hurley '23, and Merryweather '24.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

More than 300 students in Princeton university, mostly juniors who have enrolled in the economics courses, will have their photographs taken to be used in a card index by professors in Department of Economics. To help identify the students each instructor will bring to the recitation rooms a small box bearing cards, on which will be the name, seat number, and photograph of the students. This plan was used with marked success at Cornell in the Student Army Training courses during the war.

For the first time since football was reinstated as a major sport at Columbia five years ago, the Blue and White gridiron warriors will play an out of town game Saturday. Cornell will be played at Ithaca, and a large number of Columbia football followers are planning to make the trip. A special train will be run from New York to Ithaca on Friday afternoon.

The musical clubs of Columbia and Pennsylvania will stage a joint concert and dance similar to the recent Dartmouth Cornell affair, at the Hotel Astor, Friday evening, November 19, on the eve of the Penn-Columbia football game at the Polo grounds.

As a result of a meeting of the officers of the Amateur Radio Relay League at Worcester last Sunday plans are now under way for the development of a system of intercollegiate press reporting. It is expected that about one hundred words of college news will be sent from each college represented, and the reports will be published in the college newspaper. Because of its central location, Massachusetts Institute of Technology has been selected as the main station of the system.

Hockey Candidates Meet

FORMER GRIDIRON STAR
COACHES PURPLE TEAM

Brooks '13 Played on Williams Eleven but Won Lasting Fame at Colgate

Joseph W. Brooks ex-'13, Williams football coach, is completing his third year as a successful mentor for the Purple. Himself a former Williams gridiron star, he has since his return as coach established a record of 14 victories, two ties, and six defeats, including two triumphs over Amherst and an even break with Wesleyan.

Brooks was closely associated with the game throughout his scholastic and college career. He played tackle at the Polytechnic Preparatory School in Brooklyn, N. Y., and played on both class and varsity ty teams during his two years at Williams. The zenith of his football fame was reached in his three years' with the Colgate eleven, where he proved himself one of the greatest tackles in the country, and was Walter Camp's choice for the All-American team in 1913.

Whereas last season Brooks was assisted in his coaching by "Ted" Withington, former Harvard star, he has had the entire responsibility on his own hands this year, and in spite of this handicap he has won four out of the first six games. During the war he served for 22 months as captain in the 150th Machine Gun Company of the 42nd, or "Rainbow" Division, A. E. F.

WILLIAMS ELEVEN LEADS IN EASTERN
SCORING IN SPITE OF TWO DEFEATS

CAPTAIN IS REAL STAR

Field Generalship and Personal Prowess Make Boynton All-American Possibility

CHOSEN FOR ALL-TIME TEAM

Brilliant Quarterback Leads All Individual Scorers by Ample Margin of 51 Points

Although some weeks must pass before the selection of an All-American team, current comment indicates that Ben Boynton, Walter Camp's All-American quarterback selection for 1917, may receive the honor again this year. After almost every one of the Purple's game this fall, press writers from many of the leading metropolitan papers have remarked on the Williams quarterback's prowess.

As the New York Herald said after the Harvard game, "chief interest centered in Benny Boynton, Walter Camp's All-American quarterback selection in 1917. It was the first time during his brilliant football career that the Williams star had received an opportunity to play against one of the Big Three. His individual efforts were all that could be expected." According to the Boston Sunday Post, "Although the Harvardians piled up a big score, the game was redolent with thrills. Captain Benny Boynton was in the line-light throughout, running back kicks, heaving forward passes, sweeping around the ends, and bringing down Harvard runners bound for the Williams goal. The doughty Berkshire leader meant business from the start to the finish. Early in the contest he tossed his headgear to the sidelines, regardless of danger, and from then on he was in every play that came anywhere near the Williams backfield." The New York Tribune stated, "Boynton was easily the most brilliant player on the field."

The Harvard Crimson also paid tribute to Boynton's brilliancy in its comment on the game in the Stadium. It said, in part, that "as a field general and leader, Boynton gave one of the most inspiring exhibitions of football seen in any opponents of the University. There was nothing staged in his work—sleeves rolled up, head-gear off, he was at all times giving his best for his team. He was all over the field, on the defense, dashing in from a defensive half back's position to catch a Crimson back before he had crossed the line of scrimmage. He had a hand in almost every one of the 15 forward passes attempted, eight of which were completed—only one, however, for over ten yards' gain. If Walter Camp is looking this year for a rear field general, a man who acts in the game like a shepherd of his flock, he doesn't need to go any further than Boynton."

Captain Boynton was recently accorded another honor, when "Big Bill" Edwards, one-time Princeton star and for twenty years closely associated with the gridiron, in naming his choices for positions on his All-Time All-American eleven, picked the Williams star for quarterback. In placing Boynton above such stars in this position

Purple Total Highest

Through its overwhelming victory on Saturday, Williams took the lead in scoring among the college elevens of the East. Although the opposition encountered by the Purple has not been so consistently severe as that of its nearest competitors, Penn State and West Virginia, a high offensive power has been developed which has surpassed all other eastern scoring records. Two southern teams have succeeded in outstripping Williams' record, Virginia Military Institute with 311 points and Centre College with 289. The ten highest eastern colleges with their scores follow:

Williams	256
Penn State	252
West Virginia	232
West Point	225
Georgetown	208
Cornell	197
Syracuse	180
Washington and Jefferson	178

COACH BROOKS GIVES
INDIVIDUAL CRITICISMS

W. Burger and C. Boynton Receive Commendation for Finest Work in Defence

Coach Joe Brooks upon being interviewed for the Record, gave the following opinions of the various men on the Williams team:

Captain Ben Lee Boynton, 1921—"The greatest all round back I have ever seen. He is a very clever runner and defense man and is the most versatile player in the game today."

William Chapman Burger, 1922—"A strong line-plunger and receiver of passes. He is the best of the backs defensively and the most conscientious man on the team."

Horace Taft Mallon, 1923—"A clever open field runner, but handicapped by his lack of weight."

Donald McLean, 1920—"A good man at both receiving and throwing passes. He is very valuable in interference, although not so fast as Richmond."

Charles Stewart Richmond, 1922—"His strongest asset is speed and the ability to evade tacklers while going at full speed. He is very clever in forward passing and at times shows promise of being a valuable defence man."

John Wesley Coddling, Jr., 1920—"A hard playing end. He is not brilliant but is a very dependable man."

Norman Chapman Burger, 1920—"A particularly hard tackler, making with Coddling and Joslyn in ability."

Alan Wilson Joslyn, 1920—"A good worker and a steady player, but not as brilliant as last year."

Edward Albert Fargo, Jr., 1920—"He plays consistent steady football and is a very hard tackler."

John Whitin Lasell, 1920—"He has shown flashes of wonderful football at times and yet has not been quite up to his last year's standard. He covers punts well and is good on the defensive."

FACES TEST OF SEASON

Varsity's Success Will Depend on Result of Wesleyan and Amherst Contests

PURPLE COLORS LOWERED

Columbia and Harvard Puncture Light Line—Weaker Teams Scored on at Will

With a record of four overwhelming victories and two defeats, and standing forth as the highest point scoring team in the East, the Williams football team has successfully covered the first lap of the 1921 season, and stands ready to face its crucial test. The results of the Wesleyan and Amherst games will determine exactly to what degree of success Captain Boynton's eleven is to attain.

In defeating R. I. L., Union, Trinity, and Hamilton, the Purple eleven proved itself a powerful and versatile machine capable of bewildering its opponents by a variety of lateral and forward passes, while Captain Boynton and his speedy assistants in the backfield have exhibited a world of strength. Largely due to their brilliant work, Williams has already scored 256 points in the six games played. The defeats suffered at the hands of Harvard and Columbia may be attributed to the weakness of the line, which proved unable to withstand the constant attack of these far heavier opponents. Great credit, however, must be given to the plucky line-men, who held the powerful Crimson to 10 points during the first half of the game and who two weeks later, although badly shattered by their opponents' attack, three times gamely held Columbia for downs within the Purple's five yard line. Never before in the history of the College has a football team rolled up as many points against her opponents, never before has the Purple scored 82 points in a single game, as did the varsity against Hamilton last Saturday.

Williams opened the season by defeating R. I. L. 63 to 6 in an orgy of scoring which has proved typical of the entire season. Captain Boynton, who scored five touchdowns, and McLean, who accounted for two tallies, were the individual stars of the game. On the whole, the varsity proved unusually well drilled for an opening game and was able to run off plays with remarkable precision.

The Union game, played in Schenectady on Oct. 9, proved a much closer contest than the score of 35 to 0 in favor of Williams would seem to indicate. The Purple was outplayed in the first and third quarters, and Union, taking advantage of weakness in the line and fumbles, carried the ball at one time within two yards of the Williams goal. At the decisive points however, Captain Boynton launched a brilliant aerial and running attack which turned what might well have been a defeat into a triumph.

Williams met its first defeat at the hands of Harvard in Cambridge on Oct. 16, when the Crimson machine rolled up a score of 38 to 0, despite the brilliant playing of Boynton and the hard fought defense of his teammates. The superior weight in both line and backfield proved to be odds which were too great for the Williams team to overcome. Nonetheless, the latter, led by Captain Boynton, who was easily the star of the day, forced Harvard to its capacity. Twice during the third quarter, when Harvard scored 21 points, the Williams fighters held their opponents for downs within the 15 and 22 yard lines. Harvard was unable to carry the ball from its own territory down the field for a score. Three of the touchdowns were the result of intercepted forward passes and two came from fumbles.

In what seemed like a repetition of the R. I. L. game, the varsity defeated Trinity, Oct. 21, on Weston Field by the score of 62 to 0. Powerful driving power coupled with excellent interference and effective use of the forward pass were exhibited.

ASSISTANT MANAGER BLAKE

Captain Boynton ran wild, gaining a total of 350 yards and running 102 yards for a touchdown.

The Columbia game, in many respects, was the most disappointing of the season, for despite bright prospects of victory, Williams went down to defeat, 20 to 14. Columbia's victory was due largely to the ability of her backs to plow through the varsity line for small but consistent gains. Throughout the game, however, the Purple team proved a dangerous menace, and for a time in the second half had the ball deep in Columbia territory, where a tie score or a complete reversal of the ultimate verdict seemed probable. The Blue and White team seemed inspired by the return of their star quarterback, Harris, and displayed the best brand of football it has shown this season. The Williams line, however, showed unexpected strength when at bay before its own goal line, on three occasions holding its opponents for downs within five yards of a touchdown. As usual, Captain Boynton proved the individual star, his spectacular run of 65 yards for a touchdown being the outstanding feature of the game.

Williams defeated Hamilton last Saturday on Weston field by the score of 82 to 7, which is believed to be the largest total a Williams team has ever piled up against any opponent. The game was characterized by spectacular passes and spectacular runs by Boynton, Richmond, and Mallon, although Williams was bailed by her opponents "hidden ball" plays and proved weak in the line as in previous games. A decided improvement in interference, however, was a most encouraging feature of the game.

Red and Black Team Among Seven Which Have Failed to Fall Thus Far

FEW EXPERIENCED MEN AT START OF SEASON

Biggest Achievement Is Victory Over Columbia—Play Tie with N. Y. U.

Wesleyan holds the record this year of being one of the seven undefeated college football teams in the East, one game, however, that with New York University, having resulted in a 13 to 13 tie. The other undefeated teams are Penn State, Harvard, Princeton, Pittsburgh, Stevens Tech., and Boston College, but of these only Penn State and Boston College have not played tie games.

Wesleyan

Seasoned 'varsity material was lacking at the beginning of the present season, but with a squad of sixty men who had had considerable experience in football and three new coaches, prospects seemed good from the start for a winning team.

The season opened on October 2, with a game against Rhode Island State, Wesleyan being the victor 20 to 0. In this initial encounter the team showed up fairly well despite the lack of veterans. Captain Berlew distinguished himself as a defensive star, and Peck, Meyer, Newhall and Heuer showed promise of developing into an effective offensive combination.

Trinity met defeat on Andrus Field the following Saturday, the score being 20 to 0, due to two touchdowns by Newhall and two field goals by Peck. Inasmuch as Trinity had been practicing daily for a month and outweighed the Red and Black about fifteen pounds per man, this victory strengthened Wesleyan's hopes considerably.

The third game resulted in a 13-13 tie with the husky outfit from N. Y. U. Peck again was the star, kicking two more field goals. Forward passes were used with telling effect in this game.

Fighting with an aggressiveness that swept Columbia off its feet, the Red and Black surprised the New Yorkers on their own field on October 23 and administered a 10 to 0 defeat to the Blue and White supporters. Meyer and Heuer did especially commendable work here in carrying the ball. Peck kicked a field goal in the first few minutes, and Abbott secured the only touchdown in the last minute of play. The line showed up better in this than in any previous game.

On Saturday, October 30, the University of Rochester met defeat before that same smashing, driving attack that had swept all other opponents before it. Three touchdowns and two goals from touchdowns left the final score again 20 to 0 in favor of the Red and Black.

In the sixth game of the season Wesleyan defeated Amherst in the last quarter of a hard fought game by the score of 7 to 0.

The Wesleyan Squad

Heenan D. Berlew, '21, captain and center, prepared at the Wyoming Seminary, where he played center. Center on the freshman team, left halfback during his sophomore year, and center during the last two years, he is a most efficient captain and great defensive player. His ability to sense the plays of the opposing team is remarkable.

Charles T. Hubbell, Jr., '21, right tackle, was prepared at the Albany High School, where he played football for three years. At Wesleyan he held the position of center on the freshman team, and again on the 'varsity' in his sophomore and junior years. Hubbell has established a fine record this year at guard, his support counting a great deal towards Rochester's defeat.

Robert W. Parsons, '22, right tackle, has been on the 'varsity' three years, playing fullback his first and second years. He was graduated from Battin High School, Elizabeth, N. J., where he was fullback on the state championship team in 1917. Parsons is playing a very hard game both on defense and offense.

Joseph W. Haslowich, '21, right end, prepared at the Albany High School, where he played end in his senior year. He is a sure tackler, handles forwards well, and is considered one of the best ends in this part of New England.

Fred P. Dowlin, '22, left guard, prepared at Drury High School, North Adams, Mass., where he played center on the football team. Last year he transferred from M. I. T., and played tackle on the 'varsity' squad. This year he was shifted to guard, which position he now holds regularly.

Richard T. Stehr, '21, left end, prepared at the Hartford High School, where he played for four years, being captain in his senior year. This is his third year as end at Wesleyan. He is a hard worker, sure tackler and adept catcher of forwards.

Charles E. Butler, '22, left end, prepared also at Hartford High School, is playing his second year at end on the 'varsity'. He is very fast, an excellent tackler, and very good on defensive plays.

James K. Peck, '21, Wesleyan's star quarterback, was prepared at Scranton High School, Pa., where for three years he played quarterback, being captain in his senior year. As captain of his freshman eleven he played quarterback, and during the three following years has held down the same position on the 'varsity'. Without doubt, he is Wesleyan's most consistent ground gainer, besides having chalked up five field goals in four games.

Harry E. Laurson, '21, quarterback, prepared at the Phillips Exeter Academy and Tilton Seminary, where he showed up well as quarterback on the football team. Since coming to college he has played 'varsity' football three years, alternating at quarter and halfback positions, both of which he plays with considerable ability. His best gains are through the line, while his punts are generally of good length.

Henry Heuer, Jr., '21, the fleet Red and Black right halfback, was prepared at the North East High School, Philadelphia, and transferring here last year, made a berth on the squad as end. He was shifted to the halfback position this year, where thus far he has made fine gains around the end.

Leo J. Meyer, '21, left halfback, prepared at Wilbraham Academy, where he played for two years in the backfield. He is a fast man and excellent broken field runner. His playing this year has been little short of sensational.

Lyndon T. Abbott, '22, halfback, prepared at the East Orange High School, where he played in the backfield four years, being captain in his senior year. He was left halfback on his freshman team, but out of the game last year with a broken ankle. This year he plays full and halfback positions. Abbott is light, but an excellent broken field runner and good punter.

Elliot M. Newhall, '22, fullback, prepared at the Springfield High School, where he played end for two years. He earned his "W" on the S. A. T. C. team as end in his freshman year. This is his first year in the backfield, but he is hitting the line hard and is a most consistent ground gainer.

Theodore C. Steibert, '21, left tackle, prepared at the Albany High School, Albany, N. Y., where he played left-tackle for four years, being chosen captain in his senior year. He played left-tackle on the freshman team and has held down the same position on the varsity for the last three years. He is a hard fighter, and a strong man on the offense and defense.

FRESHMEN MAKE EVEN BREAK DURING SEASON

1924 Eleven Scores Victories Over Albany Academy and R. P. I. Freshmen

Two victories and two defeats marked the Freshman football season this year as a very mediocre one. The Amherst Freshmen were not played as was originally planned.

Union Freshmen were the first opponents of the Williams 1924 eleven. The game played on Weston Field, was disappointing and showed a great lack of teamwork on the part of the Williams first year men, resulting in a 13 to 7 victory for the Union eleven. This was caused to a great extent by the absence of six regulars from the team who had been declared ineligible on the morning of the game. The work of the line was good but the backs, with the exception of Gregory, were unable to make substantial gains. The playing of Gregory, McKean and Perkins featured the game for the Williams Freshmen.

In the second contest of the season on Oct. 16, the Freshmen decisively defeated the Albany Academy eleven by a 28-0 score on Weston Field. The Williams Freshmen outweighed and outplayed their opponents and showed a decided improvement over the first game. The first year men worked the forward pass for several long gains and easily made their distance through line-backs.

The Wesleyan Freshmen defeated the first year men on October 30 on Weston Field 7 to 0 by scoring a touchdown through a blocked kick in the first few minutes of the game. Wesleyan offered a string opposition to the Williams 1924 eleven and forced the playing for most of the contest. Gregory was the only Freshman back who was able to gain consistently through the Wesleyan line, while Knight carried the ball around the end for several advances.

The Williams Freshmen finished the season with a 7-0 victory over the R. P. I. 1924 eleven at Troy, New York. The playing of both sides was ragged and fumbles were frequent in the contest. The opposing team was never dangerous, but the Freshmen lost numerous opportunities to score through fumbles. The lone tally came in the last period when the Williams first year men got the ball and carried across the R. P. I. 1924 line by straight line backs. Gregory scored the touchdown. The opposing eleven was unable to carry the ball inside the thirty yard line of the Freshmen. McKean and Gregory were easily the stars for the Williams 1924 eleven, the former out-punted the R. P. I. kicker and was conspicuous in running back punts while Gregory was the most valuable man in the offense, making substantial gains through the Rensselaer line.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM IS BETTER BALANCED

Improvement Over 1919 Season Already Shown by Columbia and Wesleyan Meets

Although minus the services of Captain H. H. Brown who graduated last June, the cross country team this year has shown a better balance than that of 1919 and has already defeated two formidable opponents.

The schedule this fall has included only four meets, but the teams that the Purple barriers have faced have been a great deal stronger than the two with which dual meets were held the previous year. Instead of Massachusetts Agricultural College and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Manager Banks arranged meets with Columbia and Wesleyan Universities. The New England meet is on both schedules, but instead of the Syracuse Invitation meet which opened the 1919 season, the team will close the season by competing in the National Intercollegiate at New Haven on November 20.

MANAGER WINBROW

With four veterans, Coan, Crofts, Kellogg, and Wolfe and three new men, Fasse, Jones, and Seaman the team opened the season on October 30 against Columbia over the six-mile Van Cortlandt Park course, winning by a score of 26 to 29. In this race Captain Higgins of the Morningside team broke both the national and intercollegiate records for the course and Columbia also took second place. Crofts dropped out at the end of three miles, but with Coan coming in first for Williams in third place, followed by Fasse, Kellogg, Jones, and Wolfe in fourth, fifth, sixth, and eighth places, Williams made a lower team score than her opponents.

The Purple septet again lacked its full strength in the meet with Wesleyan over the five-mile home course on November 6 as Captain Kellogg did not run. His place was taken, however, by Adams, another member of last year's team who had had a bad ankle at the time of the trials, and the Red and Black was easily defeated 24 to 33. Crofts, running in splendid form, broke the record for the course, lowering it to 26 minutes, 56 seconds, and Captain Stinson of Wesleyan, who last spring took second in the New England Intercollegiate just nosed Coan out for second place. Fasse, Jones, and Adams finished in fifth, sixth, and ninth places respectively giving the Purple a nine point advantage over Wesleyan.

as Huntington, of Colgate, Eckersall of Chicago, and McMillan of Center. Mr. Edwards said, "Boynton of Williams is a newcomer to the field of fame, but I believe his work this year will prove that I am right. He was a wonder last season, brilliant in every department."

Boynton also has the honor thus far of having scored the highest number of points made by any individual this year. He has 124 points to his credit against his nearest competitor's 72. He is one of the best open field runners in the country, as has been shown by frequent long runs including one of 102 yards for a touchdown against Trinity, in which game he also made a total individual gain of 350 yards.

James Waltham Laws, 1923—"A hard consistent player. He is lacking in experience, but at times shows great promise."

Charles Albert Boynton, 1923—"The best defensive man on the team despite his lightness for the center position. He is also a very hard tackler."

Frederick William Fulle, Jr., 1920—"He was a little late in showing his real worth owing to lack of practice through not playing the game for several years. He is a dependable guard and is improving fast."

SOPHOMORES SWIM IN CHILLY GREEN RIVER

Freshman Class Pulls Rivals Into Freezing Stream in Annual Tug-of-War Classic

TWO PULLS DECIDE ISSUE

Attendance of 1923 Is Decidedly Disappointing—Short Scrap Follows Contest

In one of the coldest and most disappointing tug-o-wars ever held in Williams College, the class of 1924 easily pulled the few members of 1923 present through the icy waters of the Green River. The temperature at the time of the rope pull was 27 degrees Fahrenheit.

1923 gathered behind Insell Gymnasium about 40 strong, probably the smallest number of men proportionally, to represent a class in the annual event. The Freshmen assembled at Jesup Hall, practically the entire class being present. All the Freshmen football men were on hand, but the Sophomores were not excused from Varsity practice. The rule about dividing the classes alphabetically was dispensed with, although all the Freshmen were not able to get on the rope at the same time.

At about 4.25 o'clock, the first year men picked up the rope and carried it to the East bank of the Green River, accompanied by the usual songs and yells. The Sophomores followed in a body but did not hold the usual snake-dance. They took their places on the West bank of the stream a mere handful in comparison to the number of the first year men. The spectators assembled on the West bank and on the surrounding bluffs to watch the contest.

Recent rains had not affected the current of the river and the side on which the class of 1924 assembled was dry and offered a firm footing in comparison to former years. Carpenter, the Freshman president, boldly took the rope and plunging into the stream, waded across to the awaiting Sophomores. The Freshmen were only able to utilize half of their men on the rope because their number was far in excess of the number of men who were able to take hold of the hawser. The class of 1923 barely covered the corresponding length of the hawser.

Belcher '21, chairman of the Underclass Contest Committee, waded into the middle of the river with the starting gun. Both sides began to sway with the rope until the revolver was fired; then the rope stood motionless for about 20 seconds, both sides straining their utmost. Finally the Sophomores began to slide into the river, ever increasing their speed, until a third of the class was carried to the Freshman side of the stream.

The classes did not change sides after the first struggle, although many Freshmen received an unnecessary wetting in wading across the river and then returning. The second pull was hardly worthy of the name; the hands of the upperclassmen were so frozen from the coldness of

FASCINATING FROSH IN FOOLISH FROLIC

Entering Class Makes Debut Before Enthusiastic Throng
on Line of March

Brilliant and beautiful, soul-satisfying in its scintillating satire, precocious and prodigious, the Freshman Parade last Saturday was, however, relegated to oblivion by all previous pageants. Braving the boreal blasts in an ignominious march through the tortuous traffic of Williams-town, the far-famed Frosh made their daring and devilish debut before the awestruck eyes of admiring multitudes.

Issuing forth in radiant beauty from the gymnasium with unprecedented promptitude at 1.15 o'clock, the procession of youth and splendor marched up to the Greylock and then, like Mr. Dooley's army, marched back again, continuing thence to Weston Field. Old men and maidens there were in that motley array of youth and age, the washed and the unwashed, the clothed and the unclothed. Perchance here and there a sad, sophisticated sophomore might be desecrated, lending his dignified presence to the spectacle. A complete performance was scheduled to burst forth between the halves of the game, of a character callously calculated to appeal to the upperclass T. B. M.'s, but several of the important actors had left town or had succumbed to the cold, as the stormy north wind whistled through their filmy apparel.

First in the procession of wonders came a flaming sun chariot drawn by milk-white, prancing steeds. In this rode the inventive instigators of the entire entertainment, a fair and goodly band, led by no less a personage than the chairman, M. M. Banks himself. The cynosure of all eyes, he was surrounded by his comrades in crime, Messrs. Camp, Gay, Gray, Moody, and Power '21. By special dispensation J. P. Pollard and S. S. Hawes, of last year's committee, also rode in state. Rumor has it that two juvenile juniors, "Done" Rose and "George" Rounds, and one sedate sophomore, "Ken" Britton, also aided and abetted in the colossal undertaking. A motley mob of mildly melodious musicians meandered musically behind. This was the well-known Greylock Mills band. A large reward has been offered for the apprehension of any member of this organization found loose in Williamstown.

Boston, November 13—Against a very fast field of twelve colleges, the Williams cross-country team took fifth place this morning in the annual five mile championship run of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association held at Franklin Park. First place went to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with Bates second, Maine third, and Wesleyan fourth.

Individual honors were taken by Raymond Baker, of Bates, who won by only a few yards from McMahon, of M. I. T., covering the course in 29 minutes, 21 3-5 seconds. Crofts, who had had the lead half a mile from the finish, was unable to hold the sprint and trailed McMahon by only 1-5 of a second. Coan was the next man to finish for Williams, one minute 27 2-5 seconds behind the winner. The keenness of the competition is shown from the fact that 16 men placed within such a short time of the individual champion, whereas, at Columbia, the second man was nearly two and a half minutes behind the first man. Jones came in thirty-first, defeating Leath of New Hampshire State, who last year took second place. Captain Kellogg in forty-second and Wolfe in forty-fourth places completed the Williams scores. After its victories in the two dual meets, the showing of the Purple team was disappointing. Fawcett, who had been counted on for much, not being able to qualify. The septet undoubtedly had an off-day, yet on the other hand, it was running against 77 instead of against 49 other men as last year. Wesleyan nosed Williams out by hunching its last three men in 27th, 28th, and 29th places, whereas the last three Williams men were farther back.

The weather conditions were anything but favorable, with the thermometer at 20 degrees above zero and a stiff head on wind for more than half the course. Accordingly the time was more than a minute slower than the course record. At the end of the

Long Undeclared Here

With the completion of this year's home games, the varsity football team has passed through three seasons without suffering a defeat on Weston field. Williams was last beaten on the home field by Brown in 1916, the score being 20 to 0. Previous to that year the Purple received on an average at least one home defeat and in the disastrous season of 1915 was beaten on Weston Field by Union, Trinity and Amherst.

Williams Line Displays Improved Defense and Backfield—Plays as Unit

With a brilliant display of forward passes and spectacular open field running, varied in attack and stubborn on the defense, Williams achieved a 50 to 14 victory over Wesleyan last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field, and incidentally gave the undefeated eleven of the Red and Black the worst beating in the football history of the two colleges. Before a crowd of house-party guests, the Purple reaped revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of an ancient rival who proved powerless to resist the terrific onslaught of Captain Boynton coupled with his speedy half-back, Richmond, who scored three touchdowns and raced down the field for many long gains. Peek and Newhall were easily stars of the Wesleyan team. The former made the longest run of the game, breaking through the Purple line and backfield for 75 yards and a touchdown from a kickoff in the second quarter. Newhall plunged well through the line. On the whole the backfield was fast, but their defense crumbled before the unlooked for charging power of the Williams line coupled with the speedy attack of the varsity backs.

The Wesleyan team had trained for weeks to tackle Boynton and their defense was always concentrated against him. In spite of this opposition, Boynton amassed a total gain of 209 yards and time after time broke through for 10, 20, and 30 yard gains. Many times he was seen forcing his way through the attack of the whole Wesleyan line, shaking off tacklers and breaking through when apparently blocked. He showed his unequalled leadership in the selection of plays and many times caught his opponents off their guard by launching a forward pass or end run when least expected. On the defense he was a wall behind which the Red and White passed only once.

Even more sensational was the work of Richmond, who, with Boynton made a wonderful combination with the forward pass. During the second quarter, Boynton threw a long pass to Richmond who skirted right end and cutting across the field raced 55 yards for a touchdown. On a similar play Richmond again scored in the same quarter. He also made a gain of 28 yards on an intercepted forward pass. McLenn and Burger also teamed up well with Boynton, giving valuable interference, netting consistent gains and providing excellent secondary defense. Wilson also proved an aggressive line-plunger.

One of the most striking features of the game was the improvement in the Purple line which held far better than in any

Two-Thirds A. W. O. L.

One of the commonest topics of undergraduate conversation is lamentation over the disappearance of the cane rush and other underclass contests. When such expressions of regret are being made in the future, however, the class of 1923 will do well to remain discreetly silent. When only about forty men, less than a third of the class, appear at the only contest that remains, as was the case at the tug-o-war last Friday, there is slight indication of any enthusiasm on the part of the class for other contests in the future. The small number of sophomores who were present fought well, but were of course overcome by superior numbers. To them is due a great deal of credit for the plucky fight they made, but other members of the class have good reason to be heartily ashamed of themselves.

Holiday for Amherst Game?

Precedent still retains a firm and apparently unshaken hold upon the College administration. Although other institutions all over the country have well-established customs of abolishing classes on the day of the most important athletic event of the year, the possibility of such a concession being granted to Williams undergraduates appears still remote.

President Garfield, upon being interviewed for the Record, stated that a holiday would not be granted next Saturday in order to permit the entire student body to attend the Amherst game. In defense of this stand he said that he had understood at a recent meeting of representatives from New England colleges that Amherst had not abolished classes last year at this time for the Williams game, as had been previously stated in this column. Telephonic communication with Amherst last night, however, established the fact that not only were both classes and chapel done away with for the Williams game last year but a similar holiday was granted for the Amherst-Wesleyan game this year. Wesleyan in turn received a holiday for last Saturday's contest in Williamstown, as has been already pointed out.

The Record does not desire to urge this concession merely because other colleges have adopted similar policies, but it would like to have a fair consideration taken of the necessity for a local and particular application to this individual case. The reasonableness and justice of the request should be apparent to the administration and faculty, the majority of whom are Williams alumni.

On the Crest

In the years to come, as the close of each football season brings the annual visit of the Alumni, many will be the tales related of November 13, 1920, when Williams sent Wesleyan away defeated by the most decisive score in the history of gridiron battles between the two institutions. Whatever reasons may be advanced for the overwhelming victory, we are inclined to believe that the Purple team last Saturday showed for the first time its real latent power and was almost invincible, backed as it was, by the most determined and loyal cheering section seen at Weston Field in some time.

Nor is this all. In spite of an unusually hard schedule, "Little" Williams has accumulated the second highest total score in the East. We cannot help indulging in a few "might-have-beens." If Harvard or Columbia had played Williams Saturday, we believe that the scores "might have been" somewhat different. However, those two defeats seem of little consequence at this moment: enthusiasm runs riot in Williamstown, just as unmitigated gloom, we venture to say, reigns supreme in Middletown and Amherst.

And now for the Pratt Field jinx, that singular animal who is seldom bested. It must be remembered that comparative scores mean nothing and sometimes worse than nothing; in fact, it can be "proved" by making use of them that Williams is really 99 points better than Harvard. Amherst can be beaten on Pratt Field only if the team continues to play at its best and the undergraduates make the trip in force prepared to out-cheer their opponents.

Whether the Faculty suspends some or all classes next Saturday or decides not to allow any holiday, the entire student body must be on hand to back the team. "No excuse except matrimony or sudden death can be accepted," as one professor announces annually at the beginning of his courses. Depend upon it, the team will do its best; and if their support from the College is all that it should be, next Saturday is likely to bring another victory over Amherst.

And the Pratt Field jinx will be no more.

COLLEGE NOTES

Schaffler '22 represented the Williams Christian Association at the annual meeting of the Field Council of New England Colleges held last week in Kendall Green, Mass. The 13 institutions represented laid plans for the coming year in the various colleges and state associations, and elected Ross of M. I. T. and Schaffler of Williams representatives to the National Council from New England. McGown of Bowdoin was chosen chairman of the Field Council for the coming year and Schaffler secretary.

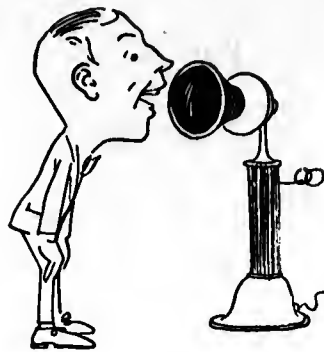

Major William B. Dwight, director of the Speakers' Bureau of the National Security League, will deliver an address on the platform and activities of the league in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock this evening. It is planned to organize a branch of the league in college and to elect officers for the coming year.

The following 19 freshmen have entered the competition for the assistant business managership of the Purple Cow: Bridges, Cushing, Degener, Etheridge, Fawcett, Gifford, Helfrich, Hunter, Kimball, Kincaid, McLean, Merrill, Perin, Prescott, deRochemont, Saunders, Swan, Teller, and Towne '24.

Boynton Still Leads

Adding a total of 12 points to his total, by scoring two touchdowns against Wesleyan last Saturday, Captain Boynton maintained his position as the highest individual scorer among the college elevens of the East. French, of West Point, came into second place with four touchdowns to his credit in Saturday's game. The highest scorers with their totals are as follows:

Name	College	Score
Boynton	Williams	135
French	West Point	94
Kaw	Cornell	72
Way	Penn State	69
Peck	Wesleyan	62
Kellogg	Syracuse	50

the water that they were barely able to grasp the rope. The rope immediately started on its journey to the Freshman side of the stream, and the Sophomores were helpless to prevent its progress.

This left the rope in the possession of the first year men on the farther bank from Jesup Hall. They carried the hawser around to 33 Main Street, where they formed in order, all taking hold of the rope.

In the meanwhile, the Sophomores had pushed a Ford across the road and were gathered on either side of it. With a shout, the underclassmen rush their opponents and completely carried them off their feet. They started their victorious course up the street. The little band of Sophomores offered a valiant resistance, breaking their way through the packed line of Freshmen, again and again forcing their way to the rope, only to be hurled headlong into the ditch by the overwhelming number of underclassmen. The contest was stopped only by the physical inability of the upperclassmen to return to the conflict. After the Freshmen had safely escorted the hawser to Jesup Hall, they held a snake-dance on Spring Street.

Fascinating Frosh in Foolish Frolic

As was fitting, the Faculty flourished foremost in the category of caricatures, those with baby carriages coming in for a large share of the attention. The President and Mack Sennett occupied a whole float, appearing in the interesting act of discovering "Cock-Eyed Pond." Mac-Sweeney and his friends of Irish freedom were a feature of the procession. The usual line of representation of New York plays followed. The ballet chorus drew much attention for its utter abandon in costume, if not for individual beauty and elegant charm. Unfortunately, the leading lady (she was a junior, we are told) struck for higher wages or rather shorter hours and left town. The management declares that if she expects to escape the result of its righteous wrath, she will find herself laboring under a grievous misapprehension. The ballet dancers froze their important limbs on Weston Field, so the entire scheduled performance was called off. The Williams Inn-situations received great applause, as did also Hi Walden's best bet and Prof. Smith with the little Smithereens. As usual, certain well-known mining-camps of the vicinity came in for their due share of razzing.
A Robinson was discovered in the class of 1924, and he was to be the central figure of the Vassar "Daisy Chain," but the chain was lost.

Some bashful Sophs, who were cordially invited to join in Saturday's Peerade, sent their regrets. As this is thought to be one of the first occurrences of such flagrant discourtesy, they will be summarily dealt with, it is rumored.

first mile Dougherty of Tufts, Crofts,
McMahon of M. I. T., and Leath of N. H.
S., were leading, with the rest of the field closely bunched behind. The half way mark showed little change and the leaders still had only a small margin. At the three and a half-mile mark, Leath dropped back, and Crofts and McMahon shifted the lead until about a half-mile from the finish.
Then Crofts forged ahead, but on the final stretch, Raymond Buker of Bates shot past, and McMahon jumped after him.
Crofts set out to overhaul the Tech runner and was within a few feet of accomplishing his purpose, when the finish was reached.
There was a 17-second gap until Dougherty of Tufts came across the line, but the next 13 men kept coming at close intervals.
The uncertainty of such runs was well illustrated in the case of New Hampshire State, which, with all members of last year's championship team back excepting one, yet came in after the Williams team, which in time followed Wesleyan, whom it had defeated last week.

The order of finish and times of the first

HOCKEY OUTLOOK GOOD

40 Men Out for Team—Four Vet- erans Back

Prospects for a successful hockey season seem very bright with a nucleus of four veterans from last year around which to build a team and a squad of about forty men who have signified their intention to come out for the team as soon as practice starts. If the weather is favorable this squad will begin work outside in the very near future and indoor shooting practice will start soon under the direction of Captain Irwin.

Captain Irwin '21, Becket and Rowse
'22, and Mackie '23 are the letter men available for the 1921 team. Freshmen will be eligible for the team after mid-year examinations and are urged to come out at the beginning of the season. Captain Irwin will coach the team and it is probable that Joe Peacock, a professional who has refereed many of the games during the last few years, will come down for a short while to help in getting things started.

Williams Loses First Place

First place on the eastern college football scoring list was taken by West Point as the result of a total of 90 points piled up in last Saturday's game against Bowdoin. Virginia Military Institute and Centre College of the southern teams still maintain their lead over the Purple team with 349 and

Wesleyan Crushed by Purple Steam Roller

game thus far and blocked almost all the Wesleyan line plays. The latter was unable to force its way past the 20 yard line except on forward passes. The excellent work of Coddling and Joslyn at end, both of whom turned fumbles by their opponents into touchdowns, illustrate aggressive spirit of the forwards.

The game by plays follows:

First Quarter

Lasell kicked off for Williams to Wesleyan's 20-yard line. The Red and White failed to make substantial gains through the Purple line and punted to McLean on his 30-yard line. Boynton and Richaond made gains through line for first down.
McLean and Boynton carried the ball for another first down. Williams punted to the five-yard and Wesleyan ran it back to the 45-yard line. Both sides failed to make substantial gains and each punted for fourth down. The quarter ended with the ball on the 30-yard line.

Second Quarter

Wesleyan failed to gain at the opening of the second period and punted to the 25-yard line. Richmond and Boynton made gains through center, and Boynton then kicked to the 40-yard line. Wesleyan made a slight gain and was held for downs.
Boynton kicked to Abbott on the 15-yard line and Joslyn tackled. The Wesleyan center on a kick formation passed the ball over Abbott's head. The fullback rushed back behind his goal line and fell on the ball, but it slipped from his grasp and Coddling pounced upon it scoring Williams' first touchdown. Lasell kicked the goal.

Lasell kicked off to Abbott on the 15-yard line. Wesleyan gained six yards through center and around end. Richmond tackled Wesleyan for a loss of six yards. Wesleyan then punted to the 50-yard line. Boynton threw a forward pass to Richmond for a gain of 20 yards.
Richmond made a spectacular run from the 32-yard line around Wesleyan's right end for a touchdown. Lasell again kicked goal.

Wesleyan failed to gain, following the kickoff. Williams pushed within striking distance by forward passes and Wilson made 12 yards on a trick formation through center. Boynton made a criss-cross run through tackles and guards for 10 yards and a touchdown. Again Lasell kicked goal, making the score 21 to 0.

Newhall ran 30 yards on Williams kickoff, but a forward pass was intercepted and the ball was Williams'. Boynton threw a forward to Richmond, who ran 5 yards through Wesleyan's backfield for the fourth touchdown. Lasell failed to kick goal. Score: Williams 27, Wesleyan 0.

Following Lasell's kickoff Berlew made a poor pass and the ball was fumbled.
Joslyn recovered the pigskin and dashed 20 yards for another touchdown. Lasell completed the score by again kicking goal.
Score, 34 to 0.

Here Wesleyan scored her first touchdown. Peek received the kickoff on his 25-yard line and made a spectacular run through the entire purple line, side-stepping Captain Boynton who missed the tackle for 75 yards and a touchdown.
Peek kicked goal.

Third Quarter

Boynton ran 30 yards on Wesleyan's kickoff and two minutes later ran 20 yards on a Wesleyan punt. Lasell then kicked placement goal from the 35-yard line. Score, 37 to 7.

After Wesleyan kicked off, Boynton threw a forward pass to Joslyn for a 35-yard gain. He then rushed through the line to the one-yard line, where Richmond ran through tackle for the sixth touchdown.

Lasell kicks over goal line. Neither Wesleyan nor Williams succeeded in making substantial gains following Lasell's kickoff. Richmond intercepted a forward pass for a 23-yard gain and Boynton's pass to Richmond netted a 26-yard gain.
The quarter ended with the ball on the 25-yard line.

Fourth Quarter

Boynton made a spectacular run of 30 yards for a touchdown early in the final period. No goal was kicked. Peek made a gain on kickoff. Newhall and Abbott made gains of 10 yards each through line.
Abbott then threw a forward pass to Peek, who ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Peek kicked goal.

Williams forced the ball to Wesleyan's 9-yard line. A forward pass on fourth down over the goal line failed. Wesleyan failed to gain. Boynton threw another forward pass to Joslyn for a 20-yard gain.

Williams fumbled and Wesleyan recovered.
Burger intercepted a forward pass. The game ended with the ball on the 40-yard line.

ENGLISH ACTRESS TO PRESENT TWO PLAYS

Miss Dorothea Spinney to Render Modern and Practical Drama in Thompson Course

Miss Dorothea Spinney, an English actress who has made a wide and unique reputation in this country and abroad, will present two plays, the Iphigenia in Tauris of Euripides, and J. W. Barrie's Rosalind, at 8.15 o'clock next Friday evening in Grace Hall, under the auspices of the Thompson Course. Miss Spinney gives a rendering of the Greek drama which is one of the most beautiful things to be seen or heard on any stage today.

Dorothea Spinney has appeared in Queen's Hall, Steinway Hall, England; Oxford, Edinburgh, Manchester, and Birmingham. She has also appeared before the student bodies of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Leland Stanford Universities, and in theatres, halls, and schools in New York and in the larger cities of America. American and English dramatic critics are practically unanimous in describing Miss Spinney as an actress of exceptional ability. One critic has said of her, "if you were blind it would be joy enough to hear her; if you were deaf, it would be joy enough to see her." The Nation, a year ago, said of Miss Spinney's performance in New York, "For real appreciation of Euripides one turns to Dorothea Spinney. Here is no loud trumpeted performance; it has no splendor of setting. Alone on a small stage she bears the dread exile of Iphigenia, wends the long way from fallen Troy to hopeless captivity, and makes Phaedra's death a living lie. It seems impossible for one person to give a satisfactory rendering of a Greek tragedy, but so vividly does she draw the characters that one forgets they are all being portrayed by one slight woman. More unusual than her character drawing is her Greek treatment of the impersonal chorus, with its delicate suggestion of rhythmic motion. A marvelous voice and speaking hands are largely responsible for Miss Spinney's success, but beyond these blessings are a fine intelligence and deep sincerity."

Percy Mackaye, the foremost playwright of America, writes "As a moving and exquisite achievement in the technique of the spoken and chanted word in poetry, Dorothea Spinney's performance is alone finely memorable. But it is far more than this, it is nobly and subtly imaginative. Quickened by primitive passion, it has also the lofty simplicity of its Greek theme." Another critic, writing for the Boston Transcript, says, "With trained mastery of the use of voice, gesture, and pose Miss Spinney never for a moment overworks an effect. As though born in the very spirit of the Greek art, which eschewed excess or accentuation of any kind that distorts proportion, harmony, and truth, Miss Spinney speaks and acts always "with measure." This results in the pose and the penetrating convincingness of truth in an inspiring exaltation without exaggeration. All comes off as simply and naturally as in real life, hence the intensity of appeal to the minds and hearts of her listeners. She rose to the occasion with power when consuming passion or the excitement of the occasion required. The driest of professors and toughest of critics were seen fervently employing their handkerchiefs when the lights went up."

Miss Spinney passed much of her girlhood in Stratford-on-Avon and has lived in literary and musical circles in England. She began to give Greek tragedies as an experiment, believing that one person, without interference of stage-settings or the movements of actors, could give a complete representation of the play. So successful has the experiment been that Miss Spinney has laid aside all other work to devote herself to this. She depends on no accessories but the Greek costume, the curtains and tapers.

More than two years ago Miss Spinney came to California from a tour in Australia, intending to go to England after a season in America. But when we entered the war it was not possible for her to get passage to England, and in the past two winters she has appeared before many audiences in this country, until America has come to know her almost as well as England does.

Pollard '20 Wins Tourney

Joseph Percival Pollard, '20, of Chicago, Illinois, recently was winner in a tennis tournament which was held under the auspices of the Harvard Union on the University Courts. Pollard, who played on the Williams tennis team for four years and was captain during his last two, entered Harvard Law School this fall.

There were 128 entries in the tournament from which Pollard emerged as the winner, and among those whom he defeated were several members of the Harvard tennis team. Pollard went through the tournament with comparative ease, being forced to extend himself in few matches.

Novice Meet Tomorrow

Contrary to the notice printed in the last issue of the Record the novice cross-country meet will be held on Tuesday, November 16, instead of on Wednesday, as was previously announced. Entries must be handed to Coach Seeley or Manager Banks as soon as possible. Any man who has not won his letter or who is not at the present time on the cross-country squad will be eligible to compete in the meet. The course to be run is the regular cross-country course, but the runners will cover only one lap instead of two, a total distance of about two and one half miles. The race will start from Lasell gymnasium at 4.20 sharp.

Debating Competition Starts

Competitors for the debating team will report to Manager Taylor tomorrow afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall at which time the subject for the trials will be given out. Professor Clarke is preparing the subject which will be some phase of the

All undergraduates with the exception of the Freshmen will be given an opportunity to compete. The actual trials will occur on Wednesday afternoon in Jesup Hall at 4.00 o'clock. So far 16 men have reported for the team, among them eight veterans of last year's teams.

BEAST INSTINCTS ARE DISCUSSED BY SPEAKER

Dr. George Lynde Richardson Assumes Optimistic Attitude Before W. C. A. Meeting

Optimism and faith in the power of man to triumph over the beast instinct in him was the keynote of the Rev. George Lynde Richardson's speech before the W. C. A. last Sunday evening. In accordance with the new policy of the Christian Association the meeting was short, lasting but twenty-five minutes, and consisting of one hymn, Dr. Richardson's address, and a prayer.

Dr. Richardson, who during his senior year at Williams was president of the W. C. A., opened his speech with a few brief reminiscences of the duties of that office in his time, when the head of the Association spoke at every meeting in place of outside speakers.

The text of the speech was taken from the book of Daniel, a book which was written two and one half centuries before Christ was born, at a time of terrible persecution of the Jews and of conflict among the various nations. In this time the courage of the Jews was kept alive by just such books as this, which were intended to strengthen their courage, hope, and faith by telling of men who had courage, hope, and faith, or by interpreting history in moral terms.

"The prophet who wrote the Book of Daniel saw that the powers of his day were beast powers, but in a vision he sees the time come when the power of the beast fails, and the innate virtues of man triumph over it. This book and passages, which radiates faith in the goodness and ability of man to triumph over the beast is one of the splendid inspiring parts of the Old Testament, and one which a man would do well to read in times of pessimism. The Greek philosophers and moralists of the time despaired of humanity, and of this power, but the Hebrew prophet saw in man something better, something divine, even in the face of the prevailing pessimism of his time.

"This conflict between the beast and the man is still going on. The powers which have ruled our world, while perhaps not actually beast powers, have stood for beast ideals. The best that is in men struggles against this, but in order really to be triumphant, each man must conquer the beast that is in himself. It is the aim of every system of education, of every church, to help men to become real men, to help the divine to conquer the beast.

"There is a distinction between the healthy and normal animal appetites such as hunger and thirst, and the so-called beast instinct, the instinct which leads men and nations to use the natural desires not for moral and spiritual ends but for selfish ends. Any instinct which is purely selfish is a beast instinct; there needs to be no idea of impurity connected with it. Normal ambition is a good thing. When this ambition becomes predatory, it becomes a beast instinct.

"Our literature is full of passages to show that we must give up to these beast instincts, but such assertions are untrue. Man need never give up. The same thing is true in international politics. We are told that it is impossible to use the principles of Christ in the dealings of nation with nation, to apply the principles of individual morality to national morality, but this also is untrue. The beast instinct in man and nation can be conquered when man and nation are their true selves, and live true to the best in them.

"In Jesus we see all the things done which he believed could be done. He represented man at his best, and it is the ideal which He gave us which we, as Christian men, are trying to follow and set up as an ideal for the world, in order that we may have a world of justice and right, instead of a world of snarling, quarrelling beasts."

In one way, at least, smoking is just like eating

THE more rich and delicious a certain food is, the more care people take to avoid eating too much of it—for instance, plum pudding or "sweets."

Similarly, many smokers avoid straight Turkish cigarettes because they are too rich. They contain too much Turkish.

But in turning to part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes, men often find a disappointing lack of taste, due to too little Turkish.

So naturally, men look for a cigarette containing just enough Turkish. And sooner or later, they "discover" Fatima.

They find that while Fatima contains less Turkish than do straight Turkish cigarettes, it contains more than any other Turkish Blend—in other words "just enough Turkish" to give them that delicious Turkish taste without any over-richness.

Try smoking "just enough Turkish."

WILLIAMS' RUNNERS
IN NATIONAL MEET

Cross Country Team Entered in Race Tomorrow Morning on New Haven Course

SEVENTEEN COLLEGES
WILL BE REPRESENTED

Cornell Expected to Win Contest—Crofts Is Contender for First Place

For the first time since 1914 the Purple Cross-country team will compete this fall in the National Intercollegiate event. The meet will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning on the Yale Course at New Haven, Conn.

Six college teams have been added to the list of contestants, bringing the total number at present to 17. The following institutions will be represented: Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Dartmouth, Penn., Penn State, Syracuse, Colby, Holy Cross, Lafayette, M. I. T., Maine, Columbia, Fordham, C. C. N. Y., and Williams. Of this number the following are newcomers this season: Colby, Fordham, Holy Cross, Maine, Penn State, and Williams.

In view of the comparatively poor showing made by the Purple team in the New England Intercollegiate title race last Saturday, and of the fact that the first five men to finish in the same contest last year are all entered again this fall, the chances for a favorable team score for Williams are slim. Crofts, however, has been reckoned as a possibility for the individual title, and is expected at any rate to finish close to the front.

Of the 17 colleges entered Cornell seems to be the favorite. They finished third in 1919, but their team is much stronger this fall than it was last year, and seems to be better balanced than any of the other entries.

There will be no change in the personnel of the team, which competed in the New England Intercollegiate, in the National title race tomorrow morning. The following seven men will run of which the first five will count in the team scoring: Coan, Crofts, Kellogg '21, Adams and Wolfe '22, and Fawcett and Jones '23.

FAVORABLE COMMENT
MADE ON LAST 'LIT'

Simple Dignity and Abundance of Ideas are Ascribed to Recent Issue

We are given access to the Literary Monthly through the Petrarchian portal of a sonnet to Laura, and would not climb up any other way. There is poetic feeling put forth in smoothly musical verse. Perhaps it was the need of a rhyme to bring the author to speak of hours as lovely things, a rather bold reification.

"The Quest of Gringeholm," rich in archaic expressions and exuberant imagery, takes us through a reminiscent dream-world to a nightmare catastrophe. The range of vocabulary is remarkable, the symbolism, as often in such tales, not to be "understood of the people." The author's reference to the "Valkyrien" suggests the homeland of his sublimated gruesomeness.

The poem "Silent Love" culminates in the second stanza, to which the other two form ascending and descending slopes. Were they on the same level, it would be on all poetry.

In "The Fallen Idol" we have a bit of well written moralizing on the movies. To the pure all things are pure only because of the antiseptic action of purity, not because there is no corruption to neutralize. After the audience has received its due castigation, the stage which caters to it deserves its share, though not

DRAMATIC READINGS TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Miss Dorothea Spinney Presents
'Iphigenia' of Euripides and Barrie's 'Rosalind'

Two plays widely differing in character, the Iphigenia in Tauris of Euripides and J. M. Barrie's Rosalind, will be presented by Miss Dorothea Spinney, the well-known English actress, as the second number of the Thompson Course at 8.15 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. Miss Spinney has made a wide and unique reputation as a dramatic reader in England, America, and Australia.

Practically unanimous commendation has greeted Miss Spinney wherever she has appeared. She has performed in Queen's Hall and Steinway Hall, England, and in Oxford, Edinburgh, Manchester, and Birmingham, as well as before the student bodies of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Leland Stanford Universities and innumerable schools throughout America. Perhaps the best part of her repertoire is that comprising the Greek tragedy, although in all her presentations "with trained mastery of the use of voice, gesture, and pose Miss Spinney never for a moment overworks an effect." One of the most typical criticisms made of her acting is, "If you were blind it would be joy enough to hear her; if you were deaf it would be joy enough to see her."

Miss Spinney passed much of her youth in Stratford-on-Avon, and has lived in literary and musical circles in England. She began to give Greek tragedies as an experiment, believing that one person, without interference of stage-settings or the movements of actors, could give a complete representation of the play. So successful has the experiment been that Miss Spinney has laid aside all other work to devote herself to this. She depends on no accessories but the Greek costume, the curtains and the taper.

Unable to return to England on account of the war, Miss Spinney has appeared before many audiences in America in the last two years, where both in classic guise and in more modern plays such as Hamlet and Rosalind she has become almost as well-known in this country as in her native land.

'CAP AND BELLS' WILL TAKE CHRISTMAS TRIP

Four Performances of Farquhar's
'Beaux Stratagem' Scheduled for New York Section

FINAL CAST IS ANNOUNCED

Play Is Full of Clever Situations and Dialogue—Mr. Lang
Again Coach

Farquhar's "Beaux Stratagem", a play with a highly dramatic plot full of clever dialogues with the elements of both comedy and farce, will be presented four times by Cap and Bells during the Christmas vacation with the possibility of a fifth performance in Pittsfield on December 18 before the trip.

George Farquhar, by birth and education an Irishman and by profession a soldier, wrote some half dozen plays, all of which were well-received, before undertaking the "Beaux Stratagem" which was to prove his last and greatest production. "Beaux Stratagem" has a plot based primarily upon the machinations of two adventurers who in the assumed roles of master and servant set up at village inn and place society roundabout in a flutter giving rise to a rapid succession of amusing and sensational incidents. The play as presented will contain three acts instead of five and has been carefully expurgated for the Cap and Bells production. The action never slackens for an instant and the moral given is a healthy one.

The story is eminently one of intrigue and adventure, and concerns the exploits of two soldiers of fortune, carefree gentlemen who seek the charms and caresses of matron and maid. The opening scene signals their arrival at the Inn in Litchfield, England. This tavern is the resort of highwaymen of whom the host is a secret member. The two gallants, Archer and Aimwell, attract the attention of Mrs. Sullen who is beset with a notorious drunkard for a husband. By intrigue and artifice the fortune-hunting gentlemen gain admittance to Mrs. Sullen's home, and while Archer makes desperate love to the hostess his fellow conspirator, Aimwell, falls sincerely and devotedly in love with Mrs. Sullen's sister-in-law, Dorinda.

But true love never did run smooth, and amid a series of highly amusing and exceedingly dramatic incidents the gang of highwaymen appear upon the scene. The lovers have been in the meantime repulsed by the ladies of the house and pregnant with failure are about to withdraw somewhat ingloriously, when by a rare stroke of luck the tables are turned. The highwaymen are suddenly confronted by the unsuccessful suitors to the ladies favors and in a dashing sword fight are captured red-handed.

The trend of favor once again agitates the ladies' breasts, and instead of denouncing their former lovers they acclaim them as veritable heroes. The unraveling of the plot is a scene of masterly construction, but must be withheld rather than spoil the prospective enjoyment of the audience. Mr. Albert Lang, who is responsible for the successes of "Twelfth Night", "Green

TRIANGULAR DEBATE
TEAMS ARE SELECTED

Annual Contests Will Be Dec. 3—
Interest Added by Only 24
Hour Preparation

As a result of the trials held last Tuesday afternoon in Jesup Hall, eight men have been chosen to represent Williams in the annual triangular debates with Amherst and Wesleyan, which will take place December 3. Those selected for the affirmative team are Hall '21, leader, Thexton '21, and Lyon '22, with Kellogg '21 as alternate, and the negative team consists of Schauffer '22, leader, Balch and C. L. Taylor, Jr., '21, with J. Montgomery '22 as alternate.

The exact subject for debate was not announced to the competitors until 24 hours before the trials themselves were held, at 4.00 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon in Jesup Hall. At that time each man was given an opportunity to speak for five minutes on the following subject, "Resolved, That the direct primary system is preferable to the nominating convention as a method of designating candidates for public office." The judges were Assistant Professors Bell, Clark, Dutton, and Long, and they selected three men and an alternate to uphold both the affirmative and negative sides of the coming debate. Only three of the men selected have had previous experience in varsity debating, Hall, Lyon, and Schauffer, all of whom represented Williams last year.

According to the new plan of debating suggested by Amherst this year, the exact subject for debate will be withheld until one day before the contest, as was done in the trials for the Williams team, although it will consist of some phase of the direct party primary system. The Williams affirmative team will meet Amherst in Grace Hall, whereas the negative will oppose Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn. The Amherst-Wesleyan encounter at Amherst, will complete the triangle. It is planned to allow nine minutes for all main speeches, and six minutes in rebuttal. None of the judges have yet been appointed, and their names will probably not be made public until a short time before the debate takes place.

Prof. Rice Lectures on China

Speaking on the subject of Chinese Students and the study of modern languages, Assistant Professor John P. Rice addressed the Whitney Society at a meeting of that body last Monday evening in the Faculty Club. Prof. Rice's personal experiences while teaching for one term at the College of Yale in China during his sabbatical year formed an interesting part of his lecture. An informal discussion of the subject followed.

Varsity Not Hampered by Injuries—Captain Boynton Plays
Last College Game

With its enviable record of five overwhelming victories, blemished only by an unexpected 20 to 14 defeat at the hands of Columbia, and an expected one of 38 to 0 at the hands of Harvard, the Williams football team takes the field a favorite by a small margin over Amherst when the two teams line up at 2.00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Pratt Field. In 1912, 1914, and 1916, in which years Williams invaded its rival's territory, Amherst bowed to scores of 12 to 0, 14 to 6, and 26 to 0, respectively, but, prior to the 1912 contest the Purple and White had won every Pratt Field game since 1900.

Since five of Amherst's games this year have been with teams which Williams also played, a comparison by scores is easy. Williams defeated Union 35 to 0, and Union suffered at the hands of Amherst by the same score. Trinity met defeat by Williams by the score of 62 to 0, while Amherst downed the same team 14 to 0. Columbia conquered Williams 20 to 14, while Amherst scored but seven points against Columbia's 20. Williams totaled 82 points to Hamilton's seven, and the same team was beaten by Amherst 50 to 7. Most significant, however, is the fact that Williams defeated Wesleyan last Saturday by the score of 50 to 14, while Amherst met defeat at the hands of the Red and Black by the score of 7 to 0. Comparisons, however, on the basis of scores, are weak at best, and it is safe to say that the victory next Saturday, no matter to whom it may go, will be a close one and one for which the victor will have to fight.

WILLIAMS LEADING IN
N. E. RED CROSS DRIVE

Committee Reports 74 per cent
Enrolled—Time Extended
Until Sunday

With 74 percent of the College enrolled in the Red Cross, as a result of the present drive conducted by the W. C. A., Williams now leads the New England colleges taking part in the campaign. Eight fraternities and one group of the neutral body have reported 100 percent enrollment.

The total subscriptions already secured had reached 424 on Thursday. Although it was announced that the drive was to close today, it will be continued until Sunday in order to give Williams and the other colleges which entered the campaign several days late, an equal opportunity with the 30 universities and colleges which are taking part in the subscription renewal competition. At present however the W. C. A. committeemen have been very successful and will continue their efforts to secure the enrollment of the entire student body. In order to canvass the neutral body more completely Milton '21 and Castle '22 have been added to the list of those conducting the drive. The average of Williams in the drive has been lowered by the fact that many of the students are already life members of the Red Cross. Chairman Balch '21 is endeavoring to make arrangements with the Boston Headquarters so that the life members will be added to the Williams percentage. These members are counted, however, in the percentage of the various groups in College.

Vol. 34 November 19, 1920 No. 40

In behalf of the undergraduate body the Record desires to express to the faculty its gratification at their decision to change the time of Saturday classes so as to allow all students to attend the Amherst game tomorrow. We consider that the arrangement was wisely chosen, giving as it does the desired opportunity without the loss of class-room work attendant upon a holiday.

We wish also to state at this time that due to error on the part of the Record reporter who interviewed President Garfield, the latter was misquoted in the last issue in regard to the custom at Amherst of allowing holidays for athletic contests. This inaccuracy led to a misunderstanding which gave the impression that Dr. Garfield had been misinformed concerning this matter, when such was not the case.

Beat Amherst

There is little need to impress upon Williams men the importance of tomorrow's game. Every undergraduate is well aware that upon success or failure in the Amherst game depends the success or failure of the season in the minds of Williams students and alumni, such is the force of tradition. Captain Boynton and his men will give their best to overcome the "Pratt Field jinx," and put the final stamp of achievement on the 1920 season. We are likewise confident that the large cheering section which will undoubtedly be present will give to the team their hearty and undivided support. If good cheering and enthusiastic support from the sidelines can assist in carrying the team to victory, let us be sure that that assistance will be theirs!

Correlation in Education

Present-day education is finding itself subjected to wide-spread criticism of every character from mild and helpful suggestions to the bitterest forms of invective. Few will deny that something is wrong, either with education or with the coming generation. Some declare that the good substantial ideas of the past have given place to vastly inferior notions; others state with equal force that the old methods are still in force but have become rusty and antiquated. The same and unbiased thinker will see that all are right to a greater or less degree and will say in defense of education that it is unquestionably handicapped by the increasingly material spirit of the times.

In all this quagmire of opinion it is refreshing to find already on trial a few recently presented suggestions that sound reasonable enough—notably the experiment of comprehensive examinations at Columbia. The most interesting, to our mind, of these plans to assist colleges such as Williams in their function of stamping culture upon the student is that of "Correlation in Education," which was brought forward a few days ago by a member of the Williams Faculty. The practical details of such a scheme would require considerable thought and discussion, but it is probable that in its working out a required senior course in "Correlation" would be created.

The main objections to the plan seem to be that it would take up time now used profitably in some other subject, that it would be difficult to find anyone capable of teaching it, that it would violate precedent, and that it would necessitate the elimination of all electives. On the other hand, correlation might be so vastly profitable that it would repay the time given to it. The decision of this question can be reached only after thorough investigation and consideration; perhaps, even, only by actual trial. Further, we are unwilling to believe that no man on the Williams Faculty has a sufficiently broad education to teach "Correlation I-2," nor do we consider that the mere violation of precedent should form a real obstacle.

As to the final objection, we see no reason why the elective system would have to be changed at all. There are certain salient facts which every cultured man should know, and it would not injure him to learn something about them in Correlation merely because he had not studied them previously in some elective.

In this day when everything must have a practical value, it is frequently charged that education is lacking in this important particular. Teachers quickly respond that education is valuable because it trains the mind. Why is it impossible to obtain in addition a more direct benefit from education? Is it not conceivable that this desirable end would be realized, if the various branches of study could only be knit together successfully, so that the college graduate might have at his fingertips the composite knowledge and achievements of the past? Just as there is at the end of each course a review for an examination which gathers up all the loose ends and shows the inter-relations of the various parts of the subject, so education as a whole needs some like course of correlation.

Correlation could intertwine the various departments of learning and art by means of history; literature, painting, sculpture, music, philosophy, science—all these could be connected by means of their intricate historical relations. Is the idea practicable; is it really workable? Under the present system of teaching, with recitations and examinations, it would be difficult to arouse interest, and interest would be a necessary factor in the success of the scheme. However, the course might consist entirely of lectures, with prizes offered for a competitive examination on general information at the end.

Our purpose has been merely to arouse interest in the idea of Correlation in Education. The plan appears to be sound; but only by careful consideration and thorough discussion can any decision be reached as to the advisability of putting it into effect.

"My first job was to build a shanty"

"WHEN I got out of school," said the old grad, "I went around all primed to discuss equilibrium of moments or to lay out a high tension system between New York and Chicago.

"But the first thing the boss set me at was to build a shanty. That had me stumped. It didn't seem fair. I'd never had a shanty course at college.

"Still I rolled my sleeves up and started in. At first the thing wouldn't 'jell' at all. The joints didn't stay put. The roof sagged in the middle.

"But I went over my plans and reasoned out the why and wherefore of the trouble on a common-sense basis. I stayed with that job till I had it licked.

"Then I suddenly realized that the biggest thing I had learned at college was not the bits of specific information, but something of much more importance which these had taught me—the ability to think."

SALE OF RESERVED SEATS

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD,
Sir:—

Many students who had hoped to secure reserved seats at the Amherst game were unable to obtain tickets. This was due to the fact that only a small proportion of the reserved tickets, which were sent to the manager from Amherst, were placed on sale Thursday afternoon, and those few were sold out within a very short time after the booth in Jesup Hall opened.

No blame can be attached to the manager for merely filling the subscriptions which he received in advance from various alumni. But for the manager to accept subscriptions and orders for tickets in advance from members of the student body before publicly placing the tickets on sale or, at least, without publicly announcing that he would accept subscriptions has worked a serious injustice, not only to those undergraduates who did not have an equal opportunity to secure tickets but also to numerous alumni who expected to secure tickets through their friends now in College.

A Victim.

Moody '21 Discusses Dowson

John Moody '21 read a short paper on the life and works of Ernest Dowson, an English naturalistic poet of the 19th century, at the second meeting of Pipe and Quill held last Tuesday evening at the Zeta Psi house. Williams Eleven is Slight Favorite for Amherst Game

hard from the initial kick-off up to the final whistle.

A record crowd is expected at Pratt Field tomorrow, and among other notables present will be Vice-President-Elect Coolidge. Since it is Amherst's centennial year, her alumni council, 300 strong, and the committee of 100, will be there in force. Many Williams alumni will also be present to see Ben Boynton's last intercollegiate football game, and from present indications the undergraduate body will be there en masse. New bleachers have been set up on Pratt Field so that a crowd of 3000 can be accommodated, but this number will in all probability be exceeded.

The Williams team emerged from its overwhelming victory over Wesleyan with a record of no injuries, and the schedule of preparation for the Amherst game tomorrow has not been an easy one. The first two days of this week were devoted to hard scrimmages, with the idea of eliminating weaknesses on the offensive which were revealed in the contest against the Red and Black. Until this last game the line had shown itself weak on the defense and caused many anxious minutes, even in such games as that against Union. But against Wesleyan the first trial of the combination of C. Boynton at center and Smith at guard worked well and will probably be used without change on Pratt Field. Last Tuesday night's fall of snow prevented the usual Wednesday scrimmage, but in spite of a muddy field, long signal drill was held all afternoon, and all the plays that the Purple will use against Amherst tomorrow were thoroughly practiced. About an hour was spent drilling the backs in handling punts, and the whole team in falling on the ball and in handling the wet pigskin. At 5.15 o'clock Coach Brooks called the players into the baseball cage where a defensive scrimmage against Amherst formations was held. The team left Williamstown this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock and will spend the night at the Hotel Nonotuck, in Holyoke.

Amherst, in the midst of a sleet storm, ran through nearly two hours of scrimmage last Wednesday afternoon. In order to keep from tearing up the field, which has been covered with hay, the squad worked in a limited space behind the bleachers.

Although nothing definite is known, it is expected that the Purple and White will rely for the most part on straight football for a large share of her offensive, but aerial attacks and trick formations will be on hand in case of need. Clark was used at guard during the greater part of the practice, but his back bothered him near the end, and it is still unknown whether he will play or not. Brisk and Wing seemed unhindered by the slippery ground, as both started easily and flashed around the ends with precision. After a brief session with the freshmen as opponents, the squad went through signal practice under the electric lights.

The probable line-ups of the two teams follow:

Favorable Comment

Made on Last 'Lit'

in the single case used as an example.

The sonnet to Bach, full-bodied and of rolling diction, is a noble tribute. It is heartening to find such enthusiasm for the master whom many find remote and austere. "Wise Men's Sons" is a realistic tale, told with power. The author bears somewhat heavily upon the sordid "significant detail." Is it not better art to suggest rather than describe so literally the repulsive?

In "The Francenias" is virile verse, poetic in description, substantial in thought. The close loses a little by the mixture of figures.

"The Long Traverse" is a tragic tale well told, carrying the reader along with its adventure, and with excellent descriptive passages.

The first stanza of "Last Leaves" is especially good, nor are the others far behind. Only the closing line leaves us wishing for something different.

The editor seems too modest about this number, which strikes the critic as a creditable issue, written in good English, free from cheap slang, with simple dignity, and not lacking in ideas. The "intelligent discussion of college affairs" need not interfere with the literary quality, but may well enhance it if subjects of vital interest are put in fitting form.

LIGHT BONFIRE

Student Body Cheers Eleven at Final Practice

Enthusiasm ran high at the final cheering practice before the Amherst game, which was held yesterday afternoon on Weston Field. A large percentage of the undergraduate body turned out to see the last practice of the 1920 season, which was significant in that it marks Captain Boynton's last appearance on Weston Field. A short cheering and singing practice was held from 4.15 to 5.00 o'clock, when the bonfire, which had been built by the Freshmen during the day, was lighted and the entire body including the members of the football squad gathered around it. Cheers were given for seniors on the squad, and then, as is customary, each member of the team threw some part of his football equipment into the fire before leaving the field for the final practice in the cage.

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. ## FORMER DIPLOMAT SPEAKS IN FORUM

Norman Hapgood, Recent U. S. Minister to Denmark, to Give Address Tonight

FAMOUS EDITOR AND AUTHOR

Has Headed "Collier's" and "Harper's"—Subject Is "The Next Administration"

Norman Hapgood, recently United States Minister to Denmark, will address the second Meeting of the Forum on "The Next Administration," in Jesup Hall at 8.00 o'clock this evening. The speaker has at different times, been editor of Collier's Weekly, and Harper's Weekly, and is also the author of several well known books.

Mr. Hapgood received his A.B. degree from Harvard in 1890, and his A.M. and L.L.B. degrees in 1893. From 1897 to 1902 he acted as dramatic critic for the Commercial Advertiser and Bookman, becoming editor of Collier's Weekly in 1903. He resigned this position in 1912, and the year following was made editor of Harper's Weekly, a position which he held until the merger of the latter magazine with the Independent in 1916. He was President of the League of Free Nations Association in February 1919 when President Wilson appointed him Minister to Denmark. Being vigorously opposed by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge because of his policy, recently adopted at Paris, of lifting the Russian blockade, and trading with the Cooperatives, and not wishing to increase friction in administrative circles, he declined a reappointment in December 1919.

He is the author of biographies of Abraham Lincoln, Daniel Webster, and George Washington, and also of a book, Industry and Progress, and is about to publish The Advancing Hour.

SEVEN PERFORMANCES IN THOMPSON COURSE

Hambourgh Trio, Ruth Draper, and Tony Sarg Among Entertainers Listed to Appear

Seven performances of prominent artists in various branches of entertainment will constitute the Thompson Course, a series of entertainments made possible each year through the generosity of Mrs. F. P. Thompson, of New York City. The first performance, dramatic readings by Miss Dorothea Spinney, has already been presented.

On January 13, the Hambourgh Trio, consisting of violin, cello, and piano, will present a musical program in Grace Hall. This company of players has met with much applause since their debut in America several years ago. In the fourth performance Miss Ruth Draper will present several monologues, January 20, in Jesup Hall. Miss Draper appeared in the Thompson Course in the winter of 1917, when her selections were very well received. Since that time she has appeared in Europe, and has met with much success.

Tony Sarg, well-known as illustrator of many books by Irvin Cobb and as a cartoonist, will offer his Marionettes for the approval of the audience. Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle will be the play of the evening. Arrangements are also being made for an entertainment in December, for the appearance of the Letz quartet of stringed instruments at some future date, and a seventh entertainment not as yet planned.

Hockey Practice to Start

UNDERCLASSMEN SET FOR ANNUAL CLASSIC

Football Game Will Be Staged on Weston Field Saturday—Result Doubtful

Preparations are being made by both 1923 and 1924 for the annual football game between the two under classes. The contest will take place on Weston Field at 2.30 o'clock on the Saturday following the Thanksgiving recess.

No practice has yet been held by the Sophomore squad which has been waiting for the end of the regular season and the release of those men who play on the varsity team. They will begin work this afternoon, however, under the direction of Captain Boynton of the varsity eleven. C. Boynton, captain of the 1923 team last year, has been again chosen to lead the team this season. It is impossible to name any definite line-up for the game next Saturday, but the following men will without doubt play at least a part of the contest: Boynton, Diekey, Garvin, Hohmes, Hoyt, Humes, S. Jones, Laws, Mallon, Monjo, Sewall, Shuttlesworth.

Coach Van Alstyne of the Freshman squad has been keeping his men steadily at work since the last outside game against the R. P. I. Freshmen two weeks ago. The line-up against the sophomores will probably be about the same as that which was used in the four outside games.

No safe prediction can be made concerning the outcome of the contest Saturday. While many of the Sophomores have greater football experience than the Freshmen, and the advantage of training on the varsity squad, the 1924 team will be strong on account of its coordination gained after a season's practice together.

Amherst Leads for Trophy

Amherst leads at present in points for the "Trophy of Trophies" by her victory over Williams in football last Saturday afternoon. Four points are assigned to football, which makes the score 4-0 in favor of Williams' rivals.

The "Trophy of Trophies," yearly awarded to that college which wins the larger number of points in all Williams-Amherst activities, is now on exhibition at Amherst by authorization of the Williams Student Council. Permanent possession of the silver plaque is gained by that institution which wins it three successive times.

Last year the Trophy was won by Williams with a score of 17½-3½, winning every event but swimming and dividing the points in basketball. Points are assigned as follows: Football 4, Baseball 4, Track 4, Basketball 3, Swimming 2, Tennis 2, Dehating and Golf one each

CROFTS PLACES THIRTEENTH

Romig of Penn State Breaks Record for Course—Rogers of Princeton Second

Williams finished seventh in the first National Intercollegiate Cross-country Championship Meet of America, held last Saturday morning at New Haven, Conn. Crofts '21 finished thirteenth in the field and lead the Purple harriers in their last meet of the season.

Cornell won the team honors of the meet with a total score of 55 points, their men finishing in 4th, 8th, 10th, 15th and 18th places. The individual winner of the race was John Romig, Captain of the Penn State team. He defeated Higgins of Columbia, who placed second, and Simmons of Syracuse, the favorites, setting up a new record of 33 minutes and 1 second for the course. Norman Brown, of Cornell brother of H. H. Brown '20, finished eighth.

Williams made a much better showing in this meet than in the New England Intercollegiate at Boston on Nov. 13, finishing seventh out of the 12 colleges entered. Crofts was the first Purple runner to cross the finish line, taking 13th place in a field of 79 men. The next Williams man to count was Coan '21 who was the 42nd harrier to finish. He was followed by Fauce and C. Jones '23 and Captain Kellogg '21 in 47th, 48th, and 56th places respectively, giving the Purple a team score of 206. Wolfe and Adams '22 completed the list of Williams entries with the 61st and 74th places.

Cornell with an evenly balanced team narrowly won the national title with a score of 55. Princeton came second with 56, and the runners of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, winners of the New England Intercollegiate title, took third place with 90 points. The other colleges in order of finish were: Penn State, 135; Yale, 148; Syracuse, 158; Williams, 206; Columbia, 217; Harvard, 220; Pennsylvania, 261; Dartmouth, 297; and the College of the City of New York, 238.

The first fifteen men to finish were: Romig, Penn State; Higgins, Columbia; Rogers, Princeton; McDermott, Cornell; MacMahon, M. I. T.; Watson, Syracuse; Swede, Princeton; N. Brown, Cornell; Siemens, Yale; R. E. Brown, Cornell; Forsman, Princeton; Martin, Princeton; Crofts, Williams; Crawford, Lafayette; and Irish, Cornell.

Boynton Ends in Lead

Aided by the inactivity of his nearest competitors, Captain Boynton increased his already tremendous lead among the individual scorers of the 1920 football season. The Williams quarterback completed the season with a total of 141 points to his credit, scoring 22 touchdowns and nine goals from touchdown. None of the next highest four men played on Saturday, giving Boynton a lead of 47 points over French of the Army, who occupies second place. The standing of the eight highest scorers with their colleges follows:

Boynton	Williams	141

ENTHUSIASM GREET'S DRAMATIC READINGS

Miss Dorothea Spinney Well Received by Large Audience in Jesup Hall

Miss Dorothea Spinney, the well-known English dramatic reader, appeared before a large and very enthusiastic audience in the second number of the Thompson Course last Friday evening in Jesup Hall. Giving a program which was widely diverse in character, Miss Spinney showed her ability to interpret almost contrasting parts and more than fulfilled the expectations aroused by her widely heralded and unique reputation in England and America as an actress ranking among the very first in interpretive ability.

Perhaps the best part of the program was that comprising the Greek tragedy, Iphigenia in Tauris by Euripides. The effect produced by the background of black and the orange-red dress modeled after the Greek vases of the red-figured type was very pleasing indeed. Miss Spinney gave a short résumé of the first part of the play before beginning her recital. Great praise should be given to her rendition of the chorus which was half sung and half recited. However, her greatest success in interpreting drama of this sort was illustrated in Iphigenia's recognition of her brother and the various emotions shown in this scene. Great restraint was exercised in the interpretations and Miss Spinney's voice proved to be of the finest quality for this work.

In the other part of the program J. M. Barrie's Rosalind was presented. This, in direct contrast with the Greek tragedy given previously, was illustrative of the wide scope of Miss Spinney's talent. It is written in a very light vein and was charmingly done with the greatest skill.

'Gul' Cover Design Drawn

Jeffreys '22 is originator of the cover design recently selected for the 1922 Gulielmianian. The cover, which will be made of Molloy cow-hide by the David J. Molloy Company, Chicago, has as its principal figure a study of the Clark Hall entrance doorway. Contracts for printing the book have been made with the Eagle Printing and Binding Company, Pittsfield; to the Electric City Company, Buffalo, has been granted the contract for engraving and half-tones.

All members of the student body, with the exception of those men that were exempted from payment of the athletic tax, will this week receive an assessment bill of $6.50, comprising the non-athletic tax for the aid of the non-self-supporting organizations, according to Finn '21, secretary of the Student Council.

COOLIDGE SEES CONTEST

Purple and White Eleven Scores Two Touchdowns After Williams Loses Captain

BOYNTON SCORES FIRST

Amherst Line Balances Williams Backfield—All Scoring in Final Period

Amherst, Nov. 20—Playing before 3000 students and alumni who taxed the capacity of the Pratt field stands and overflowed onto the sidelines, Amherst showed unexpected strength and defeated Williams here today by the score of 14 to 7. The superior charging ability of the Purple and White forwards was the greatest single factor in deciding the contest and keeping intact the "Pratt field jinx" in which the followers of Lord Jeffrey have placed their faith for three seasons.

Williams came to Amherst a strong favorite and the numerous Purple and White alumni, among them Gov. Coolidge, vice-president-elect of the United States, who had gathered on the occasion of Amherst's 100th anniversary, had little well-founded reason to expect that their team would be able to effectively resist the attack of the strong Purple backfield, led by Captain Boynton. Amherst's one chance for victory was to stop Boynton, and although the Purple leader made substantial gains at times, the Purple and White line quite unexpectedly prevented him from getting away for any of his long sensational runs. Williams also showed considerable strength on the defense, and it was only after the retirement of Boynton in the final period that Amherst was able to cross the Purple goal line.

Neither team was able to score during the first three periods. Williams threatened in the first quarter, marching down the field to Amherst's 14-yard line. Amherst held, and the placement kick which Lasell tried on fourth down was

LARGE ENROLLMENT IN RED CROSS DRIVE HERE

Membership Total Is 86 Per Cent of Student Body—Other Results Not Yet In

With an enrollment of 86% of the student body and a total sum of $469 pledged Williams closed its drive for membership in the American Red Cross yesterday afternoon. It is impossible to determine the standing of Williams among the other colleges as their results have not been made public as yet.

Ten of the fourteen fraternities subscribed 100% to the fund, and one group of the neutral body. The fraternities with perfect membership are: Beta Theta Pi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon, Sigma Phi, Theta Delta Chi, and Zeta Psi; and in addition the group of the neutral body eating at the Elms also has the record of having every man a member of the national organization. The enrollment among the members of fraternities was very good, all the houses having a high percentage, but the total percentage of the college was lowered by the lack of subscriptions among the neutral body, due undoubtedly to the difficulty in canvassing them on account of their lack of unity.

Four percent, or 23 men, of the total percentage of members for the College, are either life members, contributing members, or have responded to the roll call in some other town.

Justice to the Team

We feel that in no spirit of poor sportsmanship, but as a justification of Captain Boynton, and as a matter of information to the public, to include in these columns the following fact. After the conclusion of the Amherst-Williams game Murnane, Amherst fullback, stated to a Williams alumnus that Captain Boynton's protest which forced him out of the game, was valid, and that he (Murnane), fumbled the ball before the referee's whistle blew. The ball should, then have been in Williams' possession, and the Amherst touchdown and the loss of the Williams captain would have been avoided. We are confident that Referee Keegan called the play to the best of his ability, but the fact remains that Captain Boynton was removed and the game lost as the result of a grievous error on the part of an official.

A Regrettable Incident

The most regrettable incident of last Saturday's defeat was not the loss of the game, for the team fought hard against great odds, but the spiritless cheering and the failure to sing The Mountains after the game. In spite of the fact that almost the entire undergraduate body was present at the game, Williams was completely outcheered by Amherst, and the omission of The Mountains was a grievous error. Both features were the cause of much indignant criticism from Williams alumni who were present, and also from men from other Colleges. It is up to the cheerleaders and to the entire College body to see that a marked improvement is made in the future.

A Publicity Fund

Undoubtedly a great deal of unwarranted criticism has been directed at the Press Club, and but little attention has been given to the difficulties which it encounters. Many alumni as well as undergraduates have expressed the belief that Williams is not receiving the space it deserves in the columns of the daily newspapers or even the space that is given to other colleges of less importance. The reasons for this become apparent on examination of the systems in operation at some other institutions. Amherst employs a regular press agent at a large annual salary, as stated in a communication in this column a few weeks ago. Union has a Press Club which makes use of an alumni endowment fund to dispense free news, and the members receive no compensation. The University of Wisconsin publishes an official news bulletin, which is sent to practically all the papers in the country.

These are only a few of the plans operating at other colleges, and it will be noted that in each case the news is not charged for. The Williams Press Club, on the other hand, charges special correspondence rates for all the dispatches it sends and can, therefore, find fewer newspapers to accept them. The Press Club is obliged to sell its news in order to meet expenses and to pay the small dividends which encourage enough men to take up the work.

It does not seem that Williams will ever gain much-needed publicity unless news is offered to the papers free of charge. The alumni or the college authorities should establish a fund to pay the running expenses of an efficient news service. If this is done, we believe that membership in the Press Club could be made sufficient honor to procure the services of enough capable undergraduates. The plan seems to work successfully at other colleges, where the members of the club receive no pecuniary compensation. Here is an opportunity for those who have been criticizing the work of the Press Club to take the lead in securing such a fund.

blocked by Williams. Lasell recovered the ball near midfield but the chance to score was lost. Amherst took a decided brace in the next quarter, carrying the ball to the Purple's 10-yard line, losing it, however, when a forward pass over the goal line was incomplete. Williams carried off the honors in the third period, starting on a triumphant march down the field which terminated in Boynton's touchdown on the first play of the final quarter. Several minutes later, Card turned the tide of the game by intercepting one of Richmond's forward passes and running to Williams' 15-yard line before being overtaken by Fargo. With the ball on the 4-yard line, Murnane fumbled, the ball being recovered by C. Boynton. The referee refused to allow the play, however, claiming that he had blown the whistle before the fumble occurred. The decision was a difficult one, and Boynton protested strongly. Referee Keegan took exception to the protest and sent Boynton to the sidelines. On the next play, Zink went over for a touchdown and kicked the goal. After the kick-off, Williams, deprived of the services of Boynton, was unable to stop the rushes of Zink and Murnane, who, aided by a 15-yard forward pass from Zink to Wing, advanced the ball to Williams' 4-yard line. Zink made his second touchdown on the next play and kicked the goal.

Boynton, although unable to get away for any long runs, made many short gains through the line and around the ends. His forward passing was accurate and effective and his generalship was good at all times. Burger played a slashing game at fullback and his efforts were ably seconded by both McLean and Richmond. For Amherst, Zink, Wing, and Card were the most consistent ground gainers, whereas Leete and Clark starred in the line.

First period. Amherst won the toss and Captain Card chose to defend the west goal. Lasell kicked off to Card who was downed on Amherst's 25-yard line. Line plunges by Brisk and Zink failed to make first down, and Zink kicked to McLean who was downed in his tracks on Williams' 35-yard line. Richmond went off tackle for 8 yards, Burger failed to gain, and then Boynton made it first down by an 8-yard run around the end. Williams made two more successive first downs on line plunges, carrying the ball to Amherst's 14-yard line. Lasell attempted a placement on fourth down, but the kick was blocked by Williams. Lasell recovered it on Amherst's 42-yard line. Boynton was thrown for a 2-yard loss. Richmond lost 3 yards. Boynton made 10 yards through the line, and on the next play kicked over the goal line. The ball was then brought out to Amherst's 20-yard line. Wing made 35 yards around right end. Brisk ran out of bounds for no gain. Zink, Brisk, and Wing made 15 yards on consecutive line plunges. Fuller substituted for Laws, Laws for Lasell. Zink carried the ball to Williams' 20-yard line. Wing added six more. The quarter ended with the ball in Amherst's possession on Williams' 11-yard line, second down.

Zink broke away for 20 yards. Zink and Murnane gained 11 yards on line bucks. On fourth down, a forward pass, Zink to Wing, gained 15 yards. Monjo replaced Mallon. Zink went over for a touchdown. A fact:

At fashionable French Lick Springs Hotel, as at many other famous resorts, Fatima's sales exceed those of any other cigarette.

Sooner or later, men learn the difference between:

Too much Turkish
Too little Turkish
Just enough Turkish

IT'S a taste-difference, of course. Many men, for example, find that straight Turkish cigarettes are so rich that they tire the taste. They contain too much Turkish tobacco.

These men may then try a part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarette and find that it tastes "flat" and "thin"—due to too little Turkish.

Between these two extremes, more and more men are finding the happy medium in Fatima's "just enough Turkish" blend.

They are choosing Fatima because while it contains less Turkish than straight Turkish cigarettes, it contains more than any other Turkish Blend.

In other words, Fatima contains "just enough Turkish" tobacco and this, it seems from sales-facts like that shown above, is just what discriminating smokers want—just what you want.

SPEAKERS MEET IN TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Williams Meets Amherst in Grace Hall and Wesleyan at Middletown Friday

WILLIAMS NOW HOLDS CUP

Subject Will Be Withheld Until Day Before Speeches Are to Be Delivered

In the thirteenth annual debate of the Triangular League, Williams will face the Amherst debating team Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall. At the same time another Williams team will oppose the Wesleyan debaters in Middletown, Conn. Each home team will advocate the affirmative of some question which will not be announced to the speakers until Thursday afternoon.

Williams at present has possession of the cup which it won last year by defeating both Amherst and Wesleyan when intercollegiate debating was resumed after a lapse of two years during the War. Previous to that Williams won the cup in 1915, but a triple tie resulted the following season.

Cameron P. Hall, 1921, of New York City, Arthur L. Thexton, 1921, of Oak Park, Ill., and Hiram W. Lyon, 1922, of Buffalo, N. Y., with Hamilton H. Kellogg, 1921, of Skaneateles, N. Y., as alternate, will constitute the affirmative team which, in accordance with the usual custom, will represent the College in Grace Hall. Hall will captain the home team. The negative team which will go to Middletown to oppose Wesleyan will be composed of the following members: Harry K. Shaulder, 1922, of Kansas City, Mo., leader, Richard H. Balch, 1921, of Utica, N. Y., and Charles L. Taylor, Jr., 1921, of Hartford, Conn.

Only three members of the teams which will appear in the coming triangular debate have had previous experience in intercollegiate debating. Hall and Lyon took part in the two triangular debates which were held last year, the former speaking against Amherst and Dartmouth, while the latter debated with Wesleyan and Brown. Shaulder appeared on the team which defeated Amherst last fall. The remaining speakers will make their first appearance on the varsity. It is (Continued on page 5, column 2)

WILLIAMS PLAYERS ON LIST OF HIGH SCORERS

Captain Boynton Leads Field by Wide Margin—Two Others Among First 25

Three members of the Williams 1920 football team are included among the 25 highest scorers in the East. Captain Boynton leads the entire field by a wide margin of 50 points, having piled up 22 touchdowns and nine goals from touchdowns in eight games. Richmond, with seven touchdowns to his credit, stands 15th in the list, and Lasell ranks 17th, having scored one touchdown, one field goal, and 27 goals from touchdowns, the record among eastern goal-kickers. ## AGREEMENT RATIFIED

No-Deal Pact in Effect After Passage by Student Body

Ufford '21, chairman of the No-Deal Committee, has announced that the No-Deal Agreement has been ratified for the current college year, having been signed by more than four-fifths of the undergraduates in each fraternity and in the neutral body. In accordance with the rule which applies in this case, the force of the instrument will bear upon each member of the student body whether he has signed it or not.

The No-Deal Agreement, which is annually put before the College for ratification, applies to all nominations or elections to any undergraduate office. A "deal" is considered as any agreement, written, spoken, or tacitly understood, between two or more men or groups of men with the interest of aiding or hindering the nomination or election of any man for an undergraduate position.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR 'WILLIAMS IN THE WAR'

Committee of 15 Alumni Chosen To Give Aid in Compilation of Historical Data

Some time ago the Trustees of the College appointed Frederick T. Wood '98, President of the Williams Club of New York City, to supervise the compilation and publication of data pertaining to the war activities of Williams College and Williams men. The following men have been selected to serve as associate editors in the publication of this history: Marvin A. Chapman '03, Charles F. Hurd '10, Merrill N. Gates, John P. Loomis '11, Clifford H. Ayres '12, Henry W. Banks, '13, Herbert D. Jones, Paul B. West, William O. Wyckoff '14, George L. Hubbell, Jr. '15, Leonard D. Newborg '16, Charles J. Massinger, Jr. '17, James A. Edgar '18, Robert M. Becket '19, and John T. Mills, Jr. '20.

Thus far, according to the information obtained, approximately 2250 men performed war activities of some sort, including not only those who served in the military and naval forces, but those who served in the auxiliary organizations, such as the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A., and those who performed war work in civil capacities. To date approximately 1800 men have sent in their individual records, and about 1100 have forwarded their photographs. The publication of this interesting information will be greatly facilitated if all concerned will cooperate by sending in records and photographs, if they have not already done so. Photographs may be sent to Mr. Wood at 291 Madison Avenue, New York City, or to any of the associate editors of the publication. Blank forms for making out records may be obtained from any of the men above mentioned.

Lada, Concert Dancer, to Appear in North Adams

The well known concert dancer, Lada, will appear at 8.15 o'clock this evening in the Drury High School Auditorium, North Adams, under the direction of Charles W. Isbell. She will be assisted by Mme. Corlew, soprano, and the Pawling Instrumental Trio. The program of the evening's entertainment, which will be decidedly distinctive, will contain not only well known selections by Strauss, Handel and Beethoven, but a number of interpretative dances to music written by such composers as Tchaikovsky, Liszt, and Hathaway. Among the most interesting features of the program will be a Hungarian dance by Lada. She will also appear in a war dance by Skilton and in Beethoven's Minuet. Mme. Corlew will render Volse Triste, a composition by Sibyllus.

JOHN SHANAHAN WILL BE BASKETBALL COACH

Experienced North Adams Man to Supervise Purple Quintet in Coming Season

PRACTICE STARTS TODAY

Schedule Begins with Game Played Here Against Colgate Five On January 13

John Shanahan, of North Adams, has been engaged by the Athletic Association to coach the 1920-21 basketball team, the contract being signed last Saturday afternoon. Official practice for the coming season starts this afternoon, and the new coach will begin immediately to get the team in shape for the first game which is with Colgate on January 13.

Couch Shanahan has been closely associated with the game of basketball as player, coach, and official for over 20 years, and he is well known to followers of the sport throughout this section. He started his career as a member of the old "Hand in Hand" five, of North Adams, which won the city league championship in the early nineties. He was also a member of the crack F. M. T. A. five in the same city during the seasons of 1903 and 1904, which succeeded in defeating all comers of the independent class within a radius of 100 miles.

Shanahan first accepted a position as coach in 1908, and the next two years saw him in complete charge of the F. M. T. A. quintet in North Adams, when it was regarded as one of the fastest amateur teams in New England. For the past ten years his services have been in demand both as a coach and an official and he has officiated at numerous important games in the Berkshires.

He coached the Drury High School basketball teams of 1915 and 1920, turning out two of the strongest quintets that have ever represented the institution. He was also in charge of the Y. M. H. A. five in the capacity of coach two years ago; and during the 1920 season, he worked with the Catholic Boys' Club, city champions, when not busy with the Drury five.

Williams Second in Scoring

Williams came within two points of carrying off the high scoring honors among football teams of the East, being nosed out only by West Point. The Cadets piled up 315 points in nine games, whereas the Purple scored 313 in eight contests. No other eastern eleven even approached these totals, Penn State finishing third with a total of 259 points, 54 behind Williams. The final point totals of the ten leading eastern colleges follow:

West Point	315
Williams	313
Penn State	259
Cornell	231
Georgetown	221
Harvard	208
Washington and Jefferson	206
Syracuse	201
Dartmouth	199

START W. C. A. DRIVE

Ufford '21 Heads Committee for Enrolling New Members

A drive for the renewal of memberships in the W. C. A. is now under way under the direction of Ufford '21, chairman of the finance and membership committee of the association. One man has been assigned to canvass each fraternity house and three men will cover the neutral body.

The definite purpose of the drive is to get information as to the sort of Christian Association work in which each undergraduate may be interested. Opportunity is being given in this campaign to sign up for discussion groups on the world problems of Christianity. The W. C. A. is also, in this campaign, cooperating with the Faculty Committee on Student Employment in finding men who wish to secure work, and following this up by finding positions for these men. At the end of the drive, the lists will be rechecked so that no one will be omitted.

DISCUSS ENDURANCE IN W. C. A. MEETING

Rev. H. E. Adriance '83 Delivers Address—Analyzes Importance of Endurance

"We count them happy which endure" was taken as the text of the address of the Rev. H. E. Adriance '83, before the meeting of the W. C. A. last night in Jesup Hall. Dr. Adriance clearly analyzed the place of endurance in modern life.

Happiness is considered as material by most people in these times, according to the speaker, who claimed that if one were to step one hundred men in the city of New York and ask for a definition of the word happiness, the answer would have to do with the material end of life. This fact, according to Dr. Adriance, agrees with the quotation from the Book of James, which reads, "We count them happy which endure."

Endurance is the fundamental end of life, and men always do and should seek that which is durable, the speaker went on to show. Man seeks the durable in his character, just as he seeks it in the material things of his daily life. And this power of endurance in his character is shown by the way in which he attempts to accomplish things in his life and by the way in which he overcomes obstacles.

Dr. Elliott, of Harvard University, was quoted as saying that the critical period for fixing the character of a man was from his 13th to his 18th year and that usually by the time he entered college, his character had already been settled. By honor and purity, said Dr. Adriance, one commonly means the people who have endured. Endurance is demanded of men and the only way to obtain it is by training. As an example of this, the speaker mentioned the recent endurance test of the army horses when they were sent on a three hundred mile race, which was finally (Continued on page 5, column 2)

Mr. Salter Will Start New Series of Recitals

Following the custom of former years, Mr. Sumner Salter, college organist, will begin his series of Wednesday Recitals on the afternoon of December 1 at 4.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. This is the 198th performance of the kind that Mr. Salter has presented.

Seven numbers of varied authorship and type comprise the program for the initial recital which promises to be an excellent one. The program in full follows:

Prelude in E flat	Bach
Andante Con Moto (from "Unfinished Symphony")	Schubert
Scherzo in A	S. M. Rossini
Berceuse from "Jocelyn"	Godard
Colonial Days (from "Pilgrim Sweet")	S. A. Dunn
Melodie in E	Rachmaninoff
Tocata in F	Crawford

SUMMER INSTITUTE TO STUDY POLITICS

New Project Calls for Presence of Well-Known Educators in Williamstown

SUGGESTED BY DR. GARFIELD

Men of International Distinction Will Lecture—Invite Lord Robert Cecil

According to an announcement made this week by the College Administration, next summer will mark the opening at Williams of the Institute of Politics for eminent scholars and special students. This project, which was proposed by President Garfield and approved by the Board of Trustees in 1913, was not definitely arranged for until this year, due to war conditions.

According to the announcement, "it is proposed to bring together in Williamstown for a month or six weeks each summer, a selected company of eminent scholars and special students, to offer courses of lectures by men of national and international distinction, to organize round-table discussions by members of the institute, and to provide facilities for research and intensive instruction for students in special fields." The subject of the lectures for the summer of 1921 will be "International Relations," and this topic will be discussed by authorities of prominence. It is understood that Ambassador Davis, upon his recent return to his post in London, took with him an invitation to Lord Robert Cecil to participate in the initial session of the Institute.

The expenses of housing and paying the fees of the lecturers have been provided for through the generosity of an unnamed benefactor. This support will be given for the first three years of the existence of the Institute. The board of advisors is composed of the following eminent men: Ex-President William Howard Taft; Professor Archibald C. Coolidge, of the Harvard History Department; Professor John B. Moore, of the Columbia International Law and Diplomacy Department; President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia; Edwin A. Birge '73, President (Continued on page 5, column 2)

BASKETBALL SQUAD TO HAVE FOUR VETERANS

First Practice to Be Held This Afternoon—Interclass Series to Start Friday

Varsity basketball practice will start this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium and all men desiring to compete for the team should report to Coach Shanahan or Captain Beekwith '21 at that time. Manager Finn '21 has also announced a schedule of 12 interclass contests, to start next Friday afternoon.

Although handicapped by the loss of five of the players on last year's team, three letter men in addition to Captain Beekwith will be available for the coming season. Fargo, Boynton '21, and Wilson '22 played regularly in 1919, while Hyde '22 and Wightman '23 also appeared in the varsity line-up, although they did not take part in enough contests to win letters.

Play in the interclass basketball series will begin on Friday afternoon when 1921 meets 1922 and 1923 faces 1924 in the Lasell Gymnasium. The games are scheduled to start at 4.00 o'clock. The members of the team winning the series will be awarded their numerals as usual. The complete interclass schedule as announced by Manager Finn '21 follows:

Dec. 3—1921 vs. 1922; 1923 vs. 1924.
Dec. 4—1921 vs. 1923; 1922 vs. 1921.
Dec. 10—1921 vs. 1924; 1922 vs. 1923.
Dec. 17—1921 vs. 1922; 1923 vs. 1924.
Dec. 17—1921 vs. 1923; 1922 vs. 1924.

Reorganizing the 'Lit'

The plan for reorganization of the Literary Monthly, as set forth in an accompanying communication, comes as the result of the failure to secure adequate support for the present magazine. Whereas it seems regrettable that a magazine dedicated to the high literary ideals of the Literary Monthly should be forced to make such a change to obtain added popular appeal, we must also realize that if such a change is necessary to the life of the magazine, there is no choice but to make it. It will not be necessary, moreover, merely because of the incorporation of pictorial matter, to lower the standards of literary production. In fact, by cutting down the space devoted to this kind of material, it will be even possible to raise the standard by printing only the best available literary offerings.

Taking all of the facts of the case into consideration, we strongly support the Lit. board in its new resolution. If they are able to carry out intelligently and without the sacrifice of standards of quality the proposed change, they will not only save the magazine from a lingering death, but may give it a new life which will make it of greater influence and increased value in the future.

The Millennium Not Having Arrived--

In the accompanying column we print a communication which voices an opinion differing from a recent editorial, and charging the Record with maintaining a "crabbing" policy towards college activities. The difference in opinion is merely a matter of individual judgment. It was our opinion that the cheering at the Amherst game was feeble considering the importance of the occasion. This seemed also the opinion of a large number of undergraduates and alumni who were present, all of whom remarked upon the fact after the contest.

The direct charge against the Record is another matter. We consider that the writers of the communication are confusing "crabbing" and criticism. What they seem to desire is a laissez faire policy toward all that happens on the campus, praising all and criticizing none. It is just this kind of attitude in any community that makes for stagnation and decay. As long as everything is approved, and nothing disapproved, improvement will never be made. It is only by intelligent analysis and constructive suggestion that changes for the better can be effected. This is the function of the editorial columns of the Record, as it is of any critical journal. When situations are present which seem needful of improvement the Record aims to point out the defects and recommend methods of alteration. We believe that our readers will find that criticism is never made unless it is accompanied by constructive suggestions as to the manner in which the advocated changes shall be brought about.

The millennium has not yet arrived; this is Williamstown, not Utopia. Mistakes are still made by the best of men, and will undoubtedly continue to be made for quite a while. To assist in correcting these mistakes as far as possible by both giving and accepting criticism is the function not only of a newspaper, but of any intelligent individual.

As to that section of the communication which contains the plea that the Record should have notified the cheerleaders of the custom of singing "The Mountains" after the game, we regret that such action was not taken, but we are obliged to state that the Record is in no position to act as schoolmaster to instruct all undergraduate officials in the proper pursuance of their duties.

REV. FORT TO SPEAK

Will Address Students of Protestant Episcopal Church

In the interests of the nationwide campaign of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Rev. Horace Fort will address all undergraduate members of that church in the Jesup Hall Reading Room on Friday evening, December 3, at 7.15 o'clock. He will also hold personal conferences with any who may wish to see him on Saturday, December 4, in Jesup Hall.

Mr. Fort spoke before the W. C. A. last March on "Experiences in India During the War," along with James F. English of the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., in a meeting which was held to encourage Williams undergraduates to attend the annual Religious Conference of Eastern College Men.

Eight Alumni Engage in N. Y. C. Boys' Club Work

Eight Williams alumni are now actively engaged in the work of the Boys' Club of New York City, an organization devoted to the service of all boys of the East Side slums of the city. The chief aim of this Club is Americanization. It has a membership of 7000, an average nightly attendance of 1500, and for two weeks in the summer it takes care of 2100 boys in a summer camp. The names of the Williams alumni actively connected with the Club are: Clark Williams '92, Louis D. Downer '95, Merrill N. Gates '11, W. O. Wyckoff '14, J. A. Wright, Jr., '17, C. L. Quaintance and L. F. Wright '19, and John T. Mills, Jr., '20.

Prize For Best Essays

Under the direction of the Legal Reform Bureau of New York City, prizes aggregating $250 have been offered for the best original essays on the subject of "Loan Sharks and Their Remedy." The winning essays will be printed as pamphlets and sold by the bureau, the authors receiving 50% of the profits derived from their sale for three years after publication. Contributions should consist of from 1000 to 1200 words, and should be sent before January 15 to the Legal Reform Bureau for the Elimination of the Loan Shark Evil, Inc., 26 Cortland St., New York City.

New Herald Is Posted

Speaker Cancels Engagement

Signing Your Name

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

November 24, 1920

To the Editor of the Record:

Dear Sir:

At a recent meeting of the Literary Monthly board, the editors—after reading the single contribution submitted to the meeting—discussed the possibility of a change in the character and policy of the publication. For several years past, the "Lit." has been more or less moribund; the undergraduates, as a whole, have shown little interest either in reading the magazine or in contributing to it. This has, of course, been extremely disheartening to the board; in order to fill the pages of an issue, it has been necessary for the editors to do hack work, to write under pressure articles which, in the circumstances, can hardly be satisfactory to either author or reader. But the "Lit." has continued to exist, if only in the hope that at some future time there might be a revival of interest in creative writing among the students of Williams College.

At this time, however, a change is needed. We are approaching the point where, for lack of material, it will be almost impossible for publication to continue. Accordingly, the board submits the following plan to the attention of undergraduates and alumni:

We desire to incorporate with the Literary Monthly the features of a pictorial magazine. Such magazines have proved very successful in other colleges; they present in photographic form the events of interest taking place on the campus, such as athletic contests, winter carnivals and sporting events, unusual photographs of college buildings, pictures of "campus characters," etc. In brief, such a publication would amount to a pictorial history of the college. We should still leave room, however, for contributions of a literary character, as well as for articles of topical interest. But in this way our standards for acceptance would be raised. We need publish only the best of the contributions received, for approximately one half of our space would be taken by the photographic department.

Could Williams College support such a publication? We believe it could. The expenses would naturally be larger than those attendant on the "Lit.", but the new magazine would almost certainly gain a proportionately greater circulation. The pictorials in other colleges generally have more alumni on their subscription lists than any of the other publications can boast. Perhaps, in the preliminary work of organization, the Williams Pictorial might not be self-supporting, but after the first few months, at any rate, it should be a very profitable venture. A magazine of that nature would without the slightest doubt command more advertising, a larger circulation, and higher rates for advertisements and subscriptions than the Literary Monthly has ever been able to.

For this proposition the "Lit." board asks the expression of the undergraduates' approval or disapproval. We hope that the plan will be discussed by students and alumni, and that suggestions and criticism will be made to the present writer. If the sentiment of the College is favorable, we can take immediate and definite action on the matter, and present our case to the Non-Athletic Council and the Student Council with confidence in a successful outcome.

In brief, we propose by this plan to rescue the "Lit." from decay and at the same time to open a new field in the publications of Williams College.

Respectfully yours,
John E. Moody,
Chairman of the Literary Monthly.

To the Editor of THE RECORD:

The editorial appearing in your issue of November 22 under the heading of "A Regrettable Incident" seems to us to be a bit unfair to the loyal spirit of the cheering section at the Amherst game. You state that the cheering was "spiritless" and that Williams was "completely outcheered by Amherst." We disagree most heartily and take this opportunity to thank the undergraduate body for the splendid support they at all times gave the team and the cheerleaders. After the game several members of the team mentioned the fact to us that never have they had such loyal support as they received at the Amherst game and for proof of this we refer you to Captain Boynton. Even in defeat the Williams cheering section far outdid the best cheering of Amherst when winning and such a sentiment was expressed to us by one of the Amherst cheerleaders.

As to the failure to sing the "Mountains" after the game, we take full and entire blame. Our only excuse is that we were all ignorant of the custom. But even though we take the blame we feel that the writer of your editorial might have accomplished much more good had he taken it upon himself to notify the cheerleaders before "The Regrettable Incident" rather than waste so much ink on it afterwards.

And in closing may we suggest that some step be taken by the Record Board to cease filling the editorial columns with never-ending "crabbing" of whatever happens around the campus, and employ a little of this space in giving a well deserved boost to a few of the worthy things that are being done in our small world. If they should look ever so little, they will find that such things actually exist.

Very Sincerely,
H. M. Ufford, '21
S. C. Belcher, '21
D. M. Irwin, Jr., '21

Speakers Meet in Triangular Debate

planned to allow 10 minutes for each of the main speeches and an additional six minutes to each speaker in rebuttal.

The triangular debates this year will be held under a new system suggested by Amherst. In accordance with this plan, the exact subject to be discussed will be withheld until the day before the speeches are to be delivered. It is known, however, that the subject will be taken from some phase of the party primary question.

At 4.00 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Professor Holcomb, of Harvard University will telegraph to the three colleges the subject which will be debated upon on Friday evening. President Garfield will preside over the debate in Grace Hall and the judges will be the following: Professor Edward E. Day, of Harvard, Professor Malcolm Keir, of Dartmouth, and Mr. Richard Hooker, one of the editors of the Springfield Republican.

In preparation for Friday's contest, a practice debate will be held between the two teams this evening on the same topic as that which the competitors discussed at the trials two weeks ago. Professors Dutton, Clark, and Maxey, together with other members of the faculty, will act as judges. In order to assist both debating teams in preparing for the Triangular debate, the College Librarian collected and arranged all material available on the party primary question for the use of the members of the team.

won by an Arabian animal. The training of the horse and of its ancestors was responsible for the endurance shown by the winner.

"The best is reached only at a risk of the worst" was the test by which Dr. Adrianee determined the material of which a man was made. The test of endurance is the production of happiness and as an example the speaker mentioned Byron, lame and at odds with the world, and contrasted him with Scott, also lame but of a happy disposition. To endure, said Dr. Adrianee in conclusion, we must have faith in God and a strong character.

Relay Candidates Meet

Coach Seeley and Captain Crofts met candidates for the varsity and class relay teams last Tuesday afternoon in Linsell Gymnasium, to discuss plans for the coming season. Owing to the fact that it has not been definitely decided whether or not the Old Campus will be used for freshman soccer practice, the board track has not yet been erected. It is expected, however, that this will be done during the present week. Regular practice for the relay teams will begin on Monday, December 13, and will continue daily thereafter.

A fact:

Day in and day out, at the Pennsylvania R. R. Station, New York, the sales of Fatima exceed those of any other cigarette.

Two things might make you want to change your cigarette

FOR example, you might find straight Turkish cigarettes too rich for steady smoking, because of too much Turkish tobacco.

Or you might find ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes "thin" and "flat", because of too little Turkish.

In either case (should you decide to change) the logical choice would be a cigarette containing "just enough Turkish."

The only cigarette that contains less Turkish than the straight Turkish brands and more than any other Turkish Blend is Fatima.

This is the basis for Fatima's claim of "just enough Turkish."

And scores of sales facts such as the one shown above surely seem to justify Fatima's claim.

ORATORS CLASH IN TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Non-Partisan Direct Primaries Will Be Subject of Discussion Tonight

THREE VETERANS ON TEAM

Williams Team Meets Amherst In Grace Hall and Wesleyan at Middletown

Williams will oppose Amherst and Wesleyan at 8.00 o'clock this evening in Grace Hall and at Middletown, Conn., respectively, when the annual Triangular Debate between the three colleges will be held. The subject is as follows: "Resolved,—that all nominations for elective state offices should be made at non-partisan direct primaries."

Last year, the Williams debaters won both the contests and in 1915 also were victors in both debates. In 1916, the Purple won one and lost one. On the two years following no debates were held, so that the cup has been in Williamstown since 1916.

Tonight the Williams affirmative team will probably speak in the following order: Arthur L. Thexton '21, of Oak Park, Ill.; Cameron P. Hall '21, of New York City; and Hiram W. Lyon '22, of Buffalo, N. Y. The alternate is Hamilton H. Kellogg, '21, of Skaneateles, N. Y. Hall has been chosen to captain the affirmative team as he is the most experienced of the Williams affirmative debaters here. The Amherst team which will oppose these men is composed of Francis T. P. Plimpton '21, of New York City; Williams S. Clark '21, of Williams-town, Mass.; and Grant A. Goebel '22, of Rochester, N. Y. Goebel is the captain of the Purple and White debaters. President Garfield will act as presiding officer over the debate in Grace Hall and the judges will be: Professor Edward E. Day, of Harvard; Professor Malcolm Keir, of Dartmouth; and Mr. Richard Hooker, one of the editors of the Springfield Republican.

The Purple team which will debate at Middletown is composed of the following: Harry K. Schaffner '22, of Kansas City, Mo.; Richard H. Baleh '21, of Utica, N. Y.; Charles L. Taylor, Jr., '21, of Hartford, Conn.; and John R. Montgomery '22, of Hubbard Woods, Ill., alternate. The captain is Schaffner. The Wesleyan speakers who will uphold

VARSITY PRACTICES

Twenty Basketball Men Reported for Work Last Monday

Under the direction of Coach John Shanahan, varsity basketball practice started last Monday afternoon. Twenty men reported, and more candidates for the team are expected to come out after the interclass series is finished.

Among the candidates are Captain Beckwith, Fargo, '21, and J. E. Wilson '22, all of whom won letters last year. Boynton '21, will not report this year, but Richmond '22, who showed up well on the 1919 squad, reported last Wednesday and appears to be excellent material. Little can be said at present as to the probable strength of the team, but as soon as the interclass series is finished, which will be some time before the beginning of the Christmas recess, it is expected that much good material will be found among the first year men. The freshmen who, at present, appear to be doing particularly good work, are Blackmer and Kellogg, at the forward positions, and Corsa, Jayne, Johnson, Johnston, and Pease, at guard.

No scrimmages have been held as yet, and there probably will be none until the beginning of next week. During the entire week, Coach Shanahan has been drilling the men in passing and in the rudiments of the game. Regular practice will be held daily from 4.00 to 6.00 o'clock in the afternoon.

DR. BARBOUR HERE

Rochester Theological Seminary President to Preach

The Rev. Clarence A. Barbour, President of the Rochester Theological Seminary, will occupy the pulpit at the Sunday morning chapel service, December 5. He is well known to Williams men, having delivered addresses here frequently at various times during the past few years, including the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class last June.

Dr. Barbour graduated from Brown University in 1888 and from the Rochester Theological Seminary in 1891. Ten years later he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Rochester, and in 1909, a similar degree from Brown University. He was pastor of the Lake Avenue Baptist Church of Rochester, N. Y., for several years. Dr. Barbour was president of the New York State Society of Christian Endeavor in 1896 and vice-president of the Rochester Good Government Club from 1894 to 1902.

ALUMNUS WILL SPEAK AT W. C. A. MEETING

W. C. Augur '15 Will Give An Account of His Experiences in Canton, China

W. Russell Augur, '15, the representative of the Williams Christian Association in Canton Christian College, Canton, China, will address the regular meeting of the W. C. A. next Sunday evening. His address on the subject "Experiences in China" should be one of unusual interest to Williams men for many reasons, and it is hoped that there will be a record attendance at this meeting.

Prof. Augur, who has taught mathematics in Canton Christian College since his graduation from Williams in 1915, was unusually active in his class and in college affairs during the entire four years of his course. He is now studying in this country in preparation for further work in Canton, and has spoken at several of the colleges of the East. A. H. Holt, of the class of 1920, is carrying on Mr. Augur's work until his return to China, a fact which makes Mr. Augur's address of more than usual note.

Since 1915, Williams has given $500.00 each year to Canton Christian College. Mr. Augur will tell of the way in which this money is expended, and the work which is being done, through the aid of colleges and other organizations in this country, by Canton Christian College. Next spring the Williams Christian Association is going to conduct a campaign for money to aid in the work of the Y. M. C. A. of Soe Chow, China, and this will be an opportunity for undergraduates to hear of the type of work done by that organization and the nature of the aid required.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Augur will meet any member of the world problem study groups which are being conducted by the W. C. A. who are interested in opportunities for work in foreign mission fields, especially in the line of educational missions. Appointments for such interviews may be made with Noble or Schlesinger '21.

To Hold Novice Cross Country Meet Wednesday

Weather permitting, the annual Novice Cross Country Meet will take place at 4.20 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 8. Any man not on the varsity cross country team will be eligible for participation in the meet.

Prizes will be awarded for the first, second, and third places, and have been donated as follows through the generosity of Spring Street merchants: first prize, a silver pencil, by Cable Prindle; second prize, a necktie, by Nelson Domin; and third prize, a belt buckle, by Art Bastien.

The race will be over the regular course, but only once around it, plus a single lap of the Weston Field track. The total distance is about two and one-half miles.

WILLIAMS IS FIRST IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Enrollment Totals 86 Percent of Undergraduate Body—Brown Takes Second Place

COLLEGE TO GET BANNER

M. I. T. Leads in Total Number of Men to Join for Coming Year With 1165 Subscriptions

Williams gained first place among the 15 New England colleges which took part in the drive for the renewal of memberships in the American Red Cross and as a result of the excellent showing will receive a banner from the society. The campaign conducted by the W. C. A. secured an enrollment of 86 per cent of the college as compared with the record of 80 per cent made by Brown, which finished second.

A total of 492 members in the Red Cross was secured as a result of the campaign. This figure places Williams fourth in total number of subscriptions and well above several larger colleges and universities. The largest total membership, however, was secured at M. I. T. where 1165 students joined the society. The percentage there was, on the other hand, much lower, being only 38 per cent, which placed M. I. T. seventh among the colleges competing. Other colleges where a large enrollment was secured, are Brown, with a total of 772; the College of Business Administration at Boston University, with 600; and Dartmouth, with 545.

The Red Cross campaign was conducted here by a special committee of the W. C. A., consisting of representatives from each of the fraternity and eating houses, acting under the general direction of Chairman Baleh '21. Ten of the fourteen fraternities and one body of the neutrals subscribed 100 per cent to the fund.

Wellesley Goes 100 Per Cent

The drive conducted simultaneously at eight women's colleges was won by Wellesley, where the enrollment reached the figure of 1326, a 100 per cent record. The entire student body at Wheaton, consisting of 252 undergraduates, also enrolled.

The standing of the colleges in the Red Cross Drive follows:

TO DISCUSS PLANS

Student Council Will Hold Important Meeting Sunday

Consideration of plans submitted for approval by the Athletic and Non-Athletic Councils will occupy a major part of a meeting of the Student Council to be held next Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

Request has been made by the Athletic Council that men playing in varsity basketball or hockey games who have not as yet won the insignia of their respective sport be allowed to wear this insignia unofficially during the games. At the same time the recently formulated plans for the reorganization of the Literary Monthly will be submitted by the Non-Athletic Council for approval.

The Executive Committee of Preparatory School Business will also bring up for ratification plans on which they have been working. The agencies for the special trains at the Christmas Recess will also be awarded. Applications for these agencies must be in the hands of the student council by Sunday morning.

CLASS BASKETBALL SCHEDULE TO OPEN

1921 to Meet 1922 and 1923 to Meet 1924 in First Contests This Afternoon

Play in the interclass basketball series will start this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium, when 1921 will meet 1922, and 1923 will play 1924. Twelve games comprise this year's schedule, which will be completed on December 12.

Taylor '21, captain of the senior team, has announced the tentative lineup of his team as follows: forwards, Finn and Taylor; center, Gay; guards, Joslyn and Terry. Richmond has been elected captain of the junior five, which will probably line up with Hyde and Richmond in the forward positions, Bianchi at center, and Lyons and J. E. Wilson at guards.

Captains of the sophomore and freshman teams will be elected immediately before the games this afternoon. The 1923 quintet will start the game with Mallon and Wightman as forwards, Dewey at centre, and Boynton and Garvin as guards, with Pease, Hoeck, and Sewall as likely substitutes. It is only possible to guess at the lineup of the freshman team, but a five will be picked from the following candidates: forwards, Blackmer, Greer, Herron, and Kellogg; center, Jayne, Parkhill, and Shaw; guards, Corsa, Gregory, Johnson, Johnston, Olcott, Pease, and Webb.

All the teams are evenly matched, the team of the juniors, which won the championship in its first series, perhaps having a slight advantage. However, there are prospects of a hard fight for supremacy in the league.

W. C. A. Sends Deputation to Entertain at Andover

Under the plan of the W. C. A. to send a number of deputations to the prominent eastern preparatory schools, a group consisting of Noble, Ufford '21, Preston, and G. L. Rounds '22 visited Phillips-Andover Academy, Andover, last Sunday. The purpose of these trips is to spread publicity of Williams, and also to foster the religious organizations in these various institutions.

The meeting which the deputation to Andover took charge of was held under the auspices of the Society of Inquiry, the Christian Association of the school. The W. C. A. men were enthusiastically received by a very large audience. Ufford spoke on "Williams Ideals and Traditions," Noble took up the subject of "The College Man's Religion," Preston discussed "The Williams Christian Association," and Rounds spoke on "College Friendships."

NEW PUBLICATION TO REPLACE "LIT."

Will Assume Characteristics of Pictorial Publication and Topical Magazine

TO APPEAR DURING THE FEBRUARY HOUSEPARTY

Moody and Thexton '21 Editor-in-chief and Managing Editor Respectively

Opening up an entirely new field in Williams journalism, the board of the Literary Monthly at a meeting held last Tuesday evening laid plans for the organization of the Williams Graphic. The Graphic, a monthly magazine both pictorial and literary in character will take the place of the former "Lit" and will make its first appearance on the campus at the time of the February houseparty.

Action was taken by the Literary Monthly board in order to provide a more popular medium for the presentation of literary material than the present Monthly has proved to be. By printing the news of Williams in photographic form and at the same time maintaining a high literary standard, it was felt that the paper would arouse more widespread interest among both undergraduates and alumni. It is understood that the literary material of the new magazine, while being of high quality, will be of more general interest than has been the case with the "Lit."

The board of the Graphic will be nearly the same as that of the Literary Monthly, with the addition of a few new men in order to fit the increased scope of the magazine. John Edmund Moody '21, of New York City, will continue in the capacity of chairman, Arthur Louis Thexton '21 of Oak Park, Ill., and John Kinner Blitz '21 of Fort Wayne, Ind., were elected to the newly created positions of Managing Editor and Photographic Editor, respectively. Harry Mortimer Montgomery '22, of Evanston, Ill., Douglas Hall Rose '22, of Baltimore, Md., and Kenneth Phillips Britton '23, of Hartford, Conn., were elected to membership on the editorial board; and Chapman Gardner Elliott '22, of New York City and Robert Hargitt McGrath '23, of Cleveland, O., were chosen to the photographic department. The business department will remain essentially the same as that of the Literary Monthly, although one or two changes may occur. The editorial and photographic boards will therefore be constituted as follows: Moody '21, editor-in-chief; Thexton '21, managing editor; Blitz '21, photographic

TO HOLD TRIALS

Try-outs for Novice Swimming Meet Next Week

Preliminary trials for the annual novice swimming meet will take place next week on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons at 4.15 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. Finals will be held on Friday and Saturday afternoons at 4.15 and 2.00 o'clock respectively.

A silver cup awarded each year by Francis E. Bowker '08 will be presented to the individual who scores the most points in the meet. All undergraduates are eligible for the meet except those who have won varsity insignia, or those who have won first places in former years.

As it is the first opportunity to look over any material for the varsity team, a large number of entrants is hoped for. Men are especially needed in the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard swim, and the dive. But five letter men are now in college, which means that a number of places on the team are now vacant.

A complete list of events follows: plunge, dive, 40-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 40-yard breast stroke, 40-yard back stroke, and 220-yard swim.

No Place for Modesty

Even at this late date a great many Williams men have not yet sent in their war records and photographs to the editors of the "History of Williams in the War," which is being prepared under the supervision of Mr. Frederic T. Wood '98. Mr. Wood a few days ago gave out the following statement which speaks for itself:

"Williams men, as a whole, want to obtain a record of the part taken by Williams men in the war. The value of such a record obviously is measured by its completeness and accuracy. The promptness with which it may be assembled is directly proportionate to the cooperation which is received in getting the facts together. The personal modesty of men who did not see as much service as they desired should not restrain them from sending in the facts in regard to their own experiences.

"The record of the College and her sons in the war was admirable. It should be assembled in complete and proper form. This can only be accomplished by the help of everybody involved."

A moment's thought will make those men who have not yet sent in the required data realize that this is no place for false modesty.

Hockey for All

The excellent suggestion of "Sports for All," which was brought forward last year, resulted in the introduction of intramural basketball and baseball, with signal success. In view of the universal commendation of the plan, it has been proposed to extend the system to include hockey. That there would be a sufficient number interested is highly probable, since basketball and hockey would not require as many men as baseball and tennis in the spring.

Whether the idea is practicable, then, depends on the cost of building three or four rinks on Cole Field, and rough estimates from members of the hockey team indicate that this would probably not be prohibitive. It is almost superfluous to discuss the benefits which would ensue from intramural hockey: undergraduates would be enabled to embrace the opportunity which the climate allows of participation in one of the most healthful and invigorating of all sports; and the varsity team, with such a wealth of material, might soon be in the highest rank. Witness St. Paul's School, in Concord, N. H., which has three intramural clubs with six or seven hockey teams each, and which has beaten Princeton frequently. May the Athletic Council look into the matter with all dispatch and see if it is not possible to inaugurate intramural hockey in January.

The "Cow" Offends

The statements in an accompanying communication regarding the November number of The Purple Cow, while they are perhaps rather extreme, undoubtedly represent to some degree the sentiments of the average reader. This issue of the Cow does contain some rather questionable material. We do not believe that the editors intended deliberately to offend the sensibilities of their subscribers, but they were evidently somewhat careless in the inclusion of some portions of the contents. We regard the writer's mention of the matter of faculty control, however, as superfluous. We are confident that to call to the attention of the board of editors of the Cow the fact that the contents of the November number do not meet the approval of at least all of its readers will be sufficient to enforce the employment of more discretion in the future.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

AN APOLOGY

To the Editor of the Record:
Sir:

It seems pertinent at this time to call attention to certain matters relative to the Freshman Peccade.

The Committee desires to express sincere regret and admits to its own thoughtlessness in using in an unjust connection, the name of the wife of a faculty member, who for many years has shown a true loyalty to the College, and an interest in student activities which has gained the appreciation of the Committee and the other undergraduates.

A deplorable lack of spirit was shown by several members of the class of 1923. A number of Sophomores who had been requested to take part failed to respond to the summons of the Committee. Everyone knows who these men are, and their unwillingness to cooperate in maintaining a College tradition of long standing should be heartily condemned. They have through their action established a bad precedent, and created a situation distinctly unfair to the men in their own class who were loyal enough to appear.

The Committee also apologizes most heartily for the inclemency of the weather.

Very truly yours,
Morton M. Banks, '21, Chairman
(For the Committee).

CRITICISES NOVEMBER 'COW'

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir:

The publications of Williams College have repeatedly been criticized. Much of this criticism has been deserved and much undeserved. If those publications have noted any of this criticism whatsoever, they should have gleaned at least one salient demand in it—that the material printed should be as representative as possible of the college as whole. The editors of all Williams publications should have realized their duty and responsibility in this respect before accepting positions of such importance that the reputation of the college rests, in any measure, in their hands. If neither their own sense of right and responsibility nor the attitude of all those who have the interests of the college at heart can restrain the men who represent Williams in this way, at least one publication is unworthy of being an organ of the college.

The Purple Cow solicits subscriptions outside of the college body. The Purple Cow for November prints material much of which is of a decidedly questionable character and some of which would be out of place in a college smoker. Such an issue might be borne were it to remain in the confines of Williamstown, but when we consider that the Cow is sent to many of our families and friends to read, and incidentally to judge Williams by, we may well be ashamed of it. A reader might easily infer from it that the college is little less than a hotbed of filth and with the publication of a few similar issues Williams could quickly lose the reputation which we hope it possesses—that of a college of gentlemen.

It would be a prep school method to have a faculty board of censors, but if the person or persons responsible for an issue such as this November number of the Cow do not rapidly change their tactics, such a measure will be advisable and even necessary.

Orators Clash in Triangular Debate

the affirmative are: M. Davis 1924, H. E. Gurnee 1922, and J. P. Batdorm 1921 and the alternate is H. G. Simmons 1921. The judges at Middletown will be Professor G. W. Combs, of Worcester Polytechnic Institute; Professor Charles Sears Baldwin, of Barnard College; and Professor H. B. Huntington, of Brown University. Frank W. Nicolson, Dean of Wesleyan University, will preside.

Practice debates have been held on subjects allied to that of tonight which was not announced until the telegram from Professor Holcomb, of Harvard, was received at 4.00 o'clock yesterday afternoon. But three veterans will represent Williams tonight in the debate. Hall and Lyon took part in the two triangular contests last year and Schauder was a member of the team which was victorious over Amherst last fall. Ten minutes will be allowed for each speech and in addition each speaker will be given six minutes in rebuttal.

editor; Hyndman, Schlesinger, Withrow '21, Loiseaux, Montgomery, Rose, Simons '22, and Britton '23, editorial staff; Elliott '22 and McGrath '23, photographic staff.

The Graphic will contain four departments: editorial, contributing, photographic, and business. The competitions for the editorial department will be conducted on a basis of points awarded on all articles submitted, whether accepted or not, similar to competitions for the editorial board of the Record. Men will be elected to the contributing department upon the acceptance of five articles, at least one of which must be prose, as is the case with the Literary Monthly.

All freshmen or sophomores interested in trying for the editorial staff will meet in the Lit. office in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock next Wednesday evening, at which time the details of the competition will be explained to them. Articles from contributing candidates may be submitted any time.

Candidates for the photographic board of the new monthly will meet the Photographic Editor in the Record office in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, when their competition will be outlined to them. Two brief competitions will also be held in the near future for upper classmen; to fill a vacancy on the Senior board and another on the Junior board.

Besides the usual literary contributions, each issue will contain current news and reviews of activities as depicted by the camera. Short articles on topics of timely interest will add to the attractiveness of the magazine. The Literary Monthly will continue to be published as in the past until February, when the first number of the Graphic will appear, as a continuation of the "Lit." in altered form.

Athletic Tax Notice

420 men have paid their Athletic Assessment, and 20 men have been exempted as men working their way through college. This means that over 140 men have not, as yet, sent in their checks in payment of the tax. Notices have been sent to all fraternities and competitors have been given dormitory lists. It is very desirable that the books of the Athletic Association be ready for closing before the Christmas Recess, and men who have not paid are requested to do so as early as possible.

Cercle Francais Holds First Meeting of Year

Beginning its activities for the present college year, the Cercle Francais held its first meeting in the Currier Hall Commons Room last Tuesday evening. Prof. A. L. Cru, the first speaker of the evening, outlined the plans for the year.

Membership in the Cercle will be extended to all those who are interested in its work, and will not be bound down by academic standing, as has been the case heretofore. Plans are being made for the Club to join L'Alliance Francaise, an international federation of societies interested in the study of the literature, language, and art of France, of which it was a member before the war. Prof. J. N. Cru took up a further discussion of L'Alliance, and closed with a description of the great importance of French as the diplomatic language of the world.

The next meeting of the Cercle will be taken up by some form of literary discussion, and Professor Droppers has been asked to speak on his experiences in Greece during the war. Cards will be sent to all men in college eligible for membership in the Cercle, inviting them to be present.

Increase W. C. A. Membership

As a result of a campaign for membership started last Monday by the W. C. A., nearly 90 per cent. of the undergraduates have been enrolled up to the present time. Of these men, approximately 50 per cent. have signed up for special work.

To date, thirteen fraternities and the Commons Club have been heard from, and in order to increase the membership still more, a follow-up campaign will commence next Tuesday.

Correction

In the Williams-Wesleyan Special Football Number of the RECORD under the head of previous scores of Williams-Wesleyan games, the score for 1909 was incorrectly given as Williams 6, Wesleyan 7, instead of Williams 7, Wesleyan 6, as was really the case.

Sophomores Will Meet

Tomorrow evening a meeting of the Sophomore Class will be held at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall for the announcement of plans by the Sophomore Prom. Committee and the determination of a Prom. tax.

Class Soccer Teams Idle

Inelement weather has prevented the completion of the interclass soccer series. Unless the weather clears up sufficiently to permit the use of Cole Field, the remaining games will be postponed until next Spring.

FIRST ORGAN RECITAL HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Includes Famous Masters of the Old School and Also Present Day Artists

Rendering a varied program including the works of such famous masters of the old school as Bach and leading up to the present day artists such as Sergei Rachmaninoff, Mr. Sumner Salter appeared in his one hundred and ninety-eighth organ recital the first one of this season, last Wednesday afternoon in Grace Hall.

The first selection, Bach's Prelude in E flat reveals the composer at his most mature period of musical production. The stately dignity and breadth of scope of this composition discloses the power and majesty of music in the early eighteenth century and formed excellent contrast to the second selection, Andante con Moto, by Franz Schubert. This is taken from his Unfinished Symphony, which offers two movements regarded as the most beautiful of Schubert's symphonic writing, genuinely characteristic of the composer at his best. It is marked at times by intense sweetness and feeling. Climactic periods abound when the theme gains great volume and power, but there is a return to the main tone for a sweet and effective conclusion.

Scherzo by Samuel A. Rousseau is an expression of joyous gaiety in the light and fanciful style in vogue among French composers of the nineteenth century. The melody is sustained throughout the composition and approaches the sweetness of the human voice in its light, echoing vein.

Godard's Berceuse from "Jocelyn", perhaps the most famous composition in the program, is well adapted to the organ. The extreme tenderness of the theme, the sustained melody, and the harp accompaniment are admirably revealed by the various tones of the organ.

The music in Colonial Days (Pilgrim Suite), by M. Austin Dunn, portrays at the outset something of the stern and rugged character of the people of the early colonial period, passing over into a section of somewhat pastoral character, which is carried through an effective development to the return to the first theme for a close. This is the first of a set of three pieces inspired by the renewed interest in early colonial history in this tercentenary year.

Melodie in E by Sergei Rachmaninoff, one of the leading pianists and composers of today, is in the spirit of the Russian folk songs and ably reveals the spirit of the Russian peasant.

The last selection of the program, Toccata in F, by Thomas J. Crawford, is composed upon a lively figure for its principal theme, the restlessness of which is relieved by a middle section of a more quiet character. It is gay at times, forceful through the repetition of a strong melody, and powerful in its shadow effects.

Taft Alumni Organize Club

Robert Carr '21 was elected president and Richard E. Rowse '22 secretary and treasurer at the first meeting of the Taft Club last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. The purpose of the founders of this club is to bring the Taft graduates in Williams into closer connection with their former school. A banquet will be held once a year to which all the Taft undergraduates who are considering the possibility of entering Williams will be invited. In addition, Williams men will be sent to the reunions at Taft to spread among the undergraduates there the Williams spirit and to influence them to enter this college.

Dr. Horace Fort to Speak

Dr. Horace Fort will address all undergraduates belonging to the Protestant Episcopal Church this evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room at 7:15 o'clock in the interests of the nationwide campaign which is being conducted by that church. On Saturday, Dr. Fort will hold conferences with any who may wish to see him, in the Christian Association offices in Jesup Hall.

COLLEGE NOTES

Eleven sophomores have entered the competition for the assistant managership of the hockey and swimming teams. The list of competitors is as follows: Allen, Byers, Cornwall, Everts, Lyles, McKenzie, Quintence, Simons, Stowers, and Wallace '23.

Announcement has been made that a competition will be held by "Judge" for another "College Wits" number similar to that which was published last year. A Silver cup will be offered to the college whose undergraduates contribute the greatest proportion of the material published in the issue. Two cups will also be given to the individuals publishing the largest amount of literary and art material.

The following sophomores have entered the competition for the assistant stage and costume managership of Cap and Bells: Angevine, Ayer, Baucker, Byers, Dowd, and McGrath.

Robert Hargitt McGrath of Cleveland, Ohio, was elected photographic editor of the 1923 Guttenian at a meeting of the 1922 board in Jesup Hall last Wednesday afternoon.

At a meeting last Thursday evening in Jesup Hall, the Non-Athletic council recommended to the Student Council that the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Williams Literary Monthly be approved.

F. L. STETSON '67 DIES IN NEW YORK

Prominent Lawyer and Trustee of Williams Dead of Stroke
Suffered in 1918

NOTED FOR GIFTS AND DEVOTION TO COLLEGE

Donations Have Aggregated More Than Half Million—Funeral Tomorrow

Francis Lynde Stetson, '67, one of the most prominent lawyers of the country, a director of numerous corporations and a trustee of Williams College since 1890, died at his home in New York City yesterday afternoon as the result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered in 1918 and which has made him an invalid ever since. The funeral services will be held in New York Tuesday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock and a short service will probably be held in the Thompson Memorial Chapel on Wednesday afternoon before the interment in the College cemetery.

Mr. Stetson was possessed of a rare personality and kindness of disposition. His love of the College, his devotion to the College and his intimate knowledge of its concerns, as well as his broad experience, made him an invaluable advisor as a member of the board of Trustees. Although among the largest benefactors of the College, Mr. Stetson never sought to impose his will upon the board. His death will be sincerely felt by his associates and especially by the College to which he has proved himself to be a true friend, a wise counselor and a liberal benefactor.

Francis Lynde Stetson was born in Keeseville, Clinton County, New York, April 23, 1846, the son of Lemuel and Helen Hascall Stetson. His father was a member of Congress from 1843 to 1845. Mr. Stetson graduated from Williams in 1867 and received his LL.B. from Columbia in 1869. The next year he was awarded the degree of Master of Arts from Williams. He has also been given LL.D. degrees from Saint John's, Colgate, and Middlebury Colleges.

Mr. Stetson was admitted to the bar in New York City in 1869 and five years later formed the law firm of Stetson, Jennings, and Russell. His reputation as a lawyer was national. He has served as counsel for the United States Steel Corporation, the International Mercantile Marine Company, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the Southern Railroad Company, and the United States Rubber Company. Mr. Stetson was at one time the President and a Director of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. In addition he was a director of the Erie Railroad. (Continued on page 4, column 2)

WILL PRESENT PLAY

'Cap and Bells' Will Appear In

In addition to the four performances on its Christmas trip, Cap and Bells will present Enranger's Beau's Stratagem at the Drury High School Auditorium in North Adams on Wednesday evening, December 15. The play will also be given in Grace Hall on Thursday evening, February 3, during the mid-winter houseparty.

Arrangements have been completed by which Miller & Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., will supply the cast with costumes, while special wigs are being made by Deutschmann & Birnstein, of New York City. New shifts of scenery are being constructed under the supervision of G. I. Rounds '22, the stage manager of the Club.

Tickets are now on sale for the performances to be given during the Christmas trip, and these may be obtained from competitors or from Wells '21, or Grout '22 business managers of Cap and Bells. There will be dances after each performance with the exception of the first performance, in North Adams.

CAPT. BOYNTON CHOSEN FOR MYTHICAL TEAMS

Most of Sport Writers Mention
Williams Star for Quarterback Position

Practically all newspaper selections of All-American or All-Eastern football teams which have appeared since the close of the football season have mentioned Captain Boynton, if not as first choice for the quarterback position at least for second or third place. Among the sport-writers selecting Boynton as premier All-Eastern quarterback are Coach Glen S. Warner of Wisconsin University, Frank G. Menke, and Daniel Cory; the sporting editor of the Christian Science Monitor and William B. Hanna.

Ray McCarthy, writing in the New York Tribune, has picked Boynton for his third eleven, while Grantland Rice in the same publication makes the Purple captain his second selection for quarterback. According to the Tribune "Our selection is Don Lourie, the Princeton flash. . . Boynton of Williams and Rote of Lehigh were probably as good as the Nassau star in running with the ball." Frank G. Menke in the Knickerbocker Press throws away all reserve in making Boynton his All-Star selection. "Certainly, he writes, 'no quarterback in the East—or West—has shown such brilliancy as Benny Boynton of Williams; irresistible on attack, marvelous as a defense player, brainy, game, resourceful—altogether wonderful.'"

The Christian Science Monitor again chooses the Williams Star All-Eastern quarterback. "Boynton," writes the sporting editor, "is again placed at quarterback. The Williams captain played on a team which was not of championship quality and yet he starred in every game in which he took part. He also had the

WILLIAMS WINS TRIANGULAR CONTESTS FOR THIRD TIME

TO COMMENCE TRIALS

A Silver Cup Will Be Awarded to the Winner of the Meet

Preliminary trials for the annual novice swimming meet will commence at 4.15 o'clock this afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium pool. In addition tomorrow afternoon will be devoted to completing the preliminary events, and the finals will be held next Thursday and Friday afternoons.

A silver cup, presented each year by Mr. Francis E. Bowker '08, will be awarded to the winner of the meet. The number of men who have signed up for the various events is encouraging, but it is essential that all those who possibly can should enter the meet in order to furnish material for the varsity, which is particularly in need of contestants for the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard swim, and the dive. Every undergraduate who has not won his varsity insignia or who has not won a first place in any event in a previous meet is eligible to compete.

The events on the schedule for today, beginning at 4.15 o'clock, are the plunge, the 220-yard swim, the 40-yard dash, and the 40-yard breast stroke. The events slated for tomorrow afternoon include the 100-yard dash, the 40-yard back stroke, and the dive. Any preliminary events that may remain uncompleted by tomorrow will take place on Wednesday afternoon, at the same time.

AUGUR TELLS OF WORK AT COLLEGE IN CHINA

W. C. A. Hears W. Russell Augur
'15 Narrate Experiences as Teacher in Canton

Speaking at the regular meeting of the Williams Christian Association last night in Jesup Hall, W. Russell Augur '15, told of his work and experiences in the Canton Christian College, Canton, China, where he has been Professor of mathematics since his graduation from Williams. He emphasized the fact that the people of China have reached a point where they are ready and willing to embrace the benefits of Christianity, and assured his audience that any aid whether financial or personal that might be given to the Canton Christian College would not be wasted.

In beginning his talk, Mr. Augur said that missionary work is not carried on "to save the heathen," but that it is the result of a natural desire to share with others the blessings which we ourselves enjoy. He pointed out the fact that tall buildings and broad avenues are not what make this country beautiful but that it is the underlying power of Christianity, and that the true purpose of missionary work is to spread the advantages of its benefits among those who have not enjoyed them.

He then went on to show why China is a fertile field for such efforts, reminding his audience that China is now beginning to wake up just as Japan did a few years ago. He explained that the religions of the former country mean practically nothing to the people, and that now is the time to imprint the impressions of Christianity on their minds.

Mr. Augur proceeded with a description of the Chinese, their manners and customs, and their ready adaptability to the improvements and inventions of Occidental civilization. He said that the nature of the people is attractive to Americans, making work with them a pleasure, and he gave some examples of the disadvantages resulting from the absence of a strong central government there.

In telling of the life and development of the college, Mr. Augur stated that of the students who stayed two years or more at (Continued on page 4, column 4)

Debating Cup Becomes Perma-

Friday Victories

AUDIENCES APPROVE

24-HOUR PREPARATION

Purple Teams Win 2-1 Decisions of Judges in Middletown and at Home

By defeating both Amherst and Wesleyan last Friday evening in the annual triangular debates, on the direct non-partisan primary question, Williams won its third victory since 1915 and gained permanent possession of the cup offered for winning three championships in the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams triangular league. The first leg on the cup was won in 1915; it was retained in 1916 by a triple tie; a second leg was won last year and the cup was clinched by the victory Friday which also gives Williams one point toward the Trophy of Trophies.

In both cases the decision of the judges was two to one in favor of Williams, the affirmative team gaining the victory at home in Grace Hall and the negative triumphing over Wesleyan at Middletown. The Wesleyan negative team won a unanimous decision over Amherst at Amherst. These debates were conducted on a new system whereby the exact question for discussion was not announced to the debaters until 21 hours before the time when they were called upon to present their arguments, the purpose being to secure greater spontaneity and a better clash of arguments, and the Grace Hall audience expressed its approval by a show of hands. But despite this innovation, the attendance at Williamstown was rather small, contrasting sharply with the 250 people present at Middletown. The subject debated was worded as follows by Professor Holcomb of Harvard University: "Resolved, That all nominations for elective state offices should be made at non-partisan direct primaries."

The Debate at Williams

Williams was proclaimed victor over Amherst in the debate in Grace Hall by a two to one vote of the judges, Professor Edward E. Day of Harvard, Professor Malcolm Keir of Dartmouth, and Mr. Richard Hooker, publisher of the Springfield Republican. Dr. Garfield acted as presiding officer at the debate. The decision of the judges for affirmative was given because the Williams debaters presented more effective arguments, made a clearer and more effective refutation of their opponents contentions, supported their case more adequately by evidence based on experience, and showed a general superiority in address and speech.

Novice Cross Country Event to Include Half Usual Course

If weather permits, the annual Novice Cross Country Meet will take place Wednesday afternoon at 4.20 o'clock. Any man not on the varsity cross country team will be eligible to compete in this meet.

Three prizes have been donated through the generosity of Spring Street merchants: first prize, a silver pencil, by Cable Prindle; second prize, a necktie, by Nelson Domin; and third prize, a belt buckle, by Art Bastien. The race will be over a two and a half mile course, including the regular cross country course and a single lap around the Weston Field track.

Francis Lynde Stetson

Williams men will unite in mourning the loss of Francis Lynde Stetson, 1867, devoted friend and benefactor of the College, and a trustee for thirty years. Mr. Stetson's death will be deeply felt by all those who love Williams as he did; and he will be remembered, not only as one of our most distinguished alumni, and as one whose generosity and untiring efforts were directed toward the assistance of the College, but as an example of the finest type of American citizenship that Williams has ever produced.

A Daily Bulletin

The accompanying communication concerning the establishment of a daily bulletin to inform undergraduates concerning meetings, and to assist the administration in the dissemination of various announcements, should, we believe, commend itself favorably to everybody. The value of the plan is evident, and is fully outlined in Mr. Sayen's letter. It merely remains for some one to act upon the suggestion and get the business under way.

It would seem that the Record board is in a position to handle this more efficiently than any other organization, and unless the College administration wishes to conduct such a bulletin, the Record will undertake, as a matter of service to the College, to perform the necessary work. We feel, however, that the expense should be borne by the administration or by the undergraduates, as Mr. Sayen suggests, and we commend the matter to the faculty and to the Non-Athletic Council for consideration.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of THE RECORD:—

At regular intervals, complaints have appeared in these columns deploring the lack of attendance at certain college activities such as class meeting and pictures, board meetings, and numerous other affairs whose success depends upon the thoroughness with which the student body is informed of these events. The reason for this sparse attendance is not due to the seeming inertia of the student mind toward matters of this sort, but to the fact that a great number of students do not visit Hopkins Hall unless it is to attend classes or to answer a summons from the college office. As a consequence, notices posted in Hopkins Hall on the bulletin boards do not come within the cognizance of the entire student body.

Such notices as these have great news value, in that the success of the affair which they announce depends almost entirely upon the fact that all students know of the event. News demands publicity; publicity in the quickest, most direct and most thorough manner. Under existing living conditions here, it is exceedingly difficult for the administrative officers of the college and the managers of various student activities to give their notices the necessary publicity, due to a lack of speedy and dependable communication between themselves and the student body. The question naturally arises, "How can such a system of communication be established and maintained?"

The problems to be considered in answering this question are six in number:—
(1) When and where should the student be reached?

(2) What is a suitable medium for this publicity?

(3) What are the mechanical necessities entailed?

(4) How much labor is involved?

(5) The effect on other news mediums.

(6) What system of administration should be followed?

Discussing these questions more in detail:—

(1) Practically all the students can be reached at meal time, either in the fraternity houses, Commons Club, or the various boarding houses. The noon meal, therefore, inasmuch as it precedes the activities of the afternoon and evening, naturally suggests itself as the most appropriate time at which to reach all the students through the same channel. This is proved by the fact that managers of competitions, handicapped by a lack of communication with their competitors, spend from thirty to forty minutes phoning each one of them during the lunch hour. The medium, then, would accomplish its purpose if it were distributed, between the hours of 11.30 a. m. and 12.00 noon, to all points where students congregate during that time. In the fraternity houses it could be read aloud by the head of the house at the beginning of the meal; and in the Commons Club and eating houses, it could be posted for reference during the remainder of the day until the next issue appeared on the following day, at noon.

(2) An inexpensive, concise and handy medium would consist of a single sheet of mimeograph paper, upon which would appear the following head:—
THE WILLIAMS COLLEGE ADVISER
Williamstown, Mass.

Published daily (except Sunday) by the students of the college.

(3) The publication of such a sheet would entail the use of a mimeograph machine and the necessary stencil sheets.

(4) The labor involves the services of a stenographer to type the notices on the stencil and to manipulate the mimeograph machine. A messenger, probably obtained through the agency of the Student Self-Help Bureau, would be necessary to distribute the Adviser each day.

(5) The Record, of course, is the recognized medium of the college for news. The point of conflict between The Record and the Adviser is the announcement of various campus happenings. There would be little conflict, however, for the Adviser would not attempt to give a news write-up, but only the bare statement of the time, place and purpose of a meeting. Furthermore, The Record, being a semi-weekly publication, is not adequate for the dissemination of announcements of daily events.

(6) With regard to the administration of the Adviser, two suggestions offer themselves. First, it could be completely under the jurisdiction of the college office on the grounds that it is a measure tending towards greater efficiency in the distribution of administrative and college notices. These notices could be dropped in a box, specially provided for them in Hopkins Hall, not later than 11.15 a. m., and the rest of the work performed by members of the college office force. Under this plan, the Adviser would be financed by the college in the same way as the Yale Bulletin is financed by the Secretary of the University. The advisability of this plan of operation is contingent, however, on the conditions existing in the college office, and the attitude which the college officials would take in such a matter.

Second, The Adviser could be inaugurated as an official organ of the student body, financed and published as a self-supporting college activity, with headquarters in Jesup Hall. Under this plan The Adviser should not be an organization for profit through advertising, because, should the solicitation of advertisements be permitted, it would only add to a field already overburdened. Financial support could be gained through a nominal subscription charge to the houses and other centers posting the Adviser; and should this amount prove inadequate, an appeal could be made to the Non-Athletic Council.

The above idea is respectfully submitted to the college authorities, the student body and the alumni for consideration and constructive criticism.

Very truly yours,
Harrison K. Sayen '22.

Seniors to Elect Friday

Election of Senior Class Day officers will take place next Friday evening at a meeting of the Senior Class to be held in the Jesup Hall Reading Room at 7.30 o'clock. Plans are now being formulated for the entertainment of the class during the elections by an underclass orchestra.

Few Pay Non-Athletic Tax

At the present time only 155 men have paid their non-athletic tax, and as a result the non-athletic organizations are suffering from lack of funds. The managers in some cases have borrowed money for current expenses, and in others they have furnished it themselves. All undergraduates who have not yet paid this tax are therefore urged to do so before the beginning of the Christmas vacation.

Williams Wins Triangular Contests for Third Time

Skanateles, N. Y., was alternate. The Amherst team consisted of Francis T. P. Plimpton, 1921 of New York City, William S. Clark, 1921 of Williamstown, and Grant A. Goebel, 1922, captain, of Rochester, N. Y.

The Main Speeches

Thexton opened the case for Williams, after a brief introduction, by outlining the history of the caucus and the party convention as methods of nomination which have been found wanting and rejected by 43 out of 48 states on account of corruption, because they failed to fulfil the will of the people and defeated the principle of representation. Various systems of direct primaries replacing these methods have brought improvement in many cases and are sound in fundamental principle but have certain defects which only the non-partisan principle remedy. The affirmative non-partisan plan provides that on a petition signed by a comparatively small number of voters, a candidate's name can be put on the nominating ballot and submitted to all voters regardless of party on primary day. This a way is opened for the candidacy of any worthy man and at the same time the great mass of independent voters are not deprived of their voice.

In presenting the negative case Plimpton declared that the question was whether the non-partisan direct primary or some other method was the best way of nominating state officers. He stated that evidence condemns the non-partisan plan. Only one state, Minnesota has adopted it and is already considering abandoning it. With such an easy way open for placing names on the ballot, the number of candidates for nomination is so large that the voter finds before him a maze of meaningless names from which it is a physical impossibility to select a nominee without even the guide of knowing his party or principles. Thus position on the ballot and notoriety become determining factors. He concluded by stating that California has twice adopted the plan and in each case it has been rejected by a referendum.

In resuming the affirmative case for Williams, Lyon showed that the negative had pointed out faults which apply equally to partisan and non-partisan primaries and that hence the negative must fall back on the rejected convention system as an alternative. He denied the charge that the ballot would become cumbersome by introducing evidence to prove that the mere case of getting a name placed on the ballot takes away any honor which might attach to its appearance and, thus, the number of candidates is limited to three or four prominent aspirants. He emphasized the unfair restrictions which party primaries place on the independent voter and candidate alike, and showed that they create a political "closed shop" and legalize unnaturally the strength of political parties.

The importance of parties to good government was the principal point made by Clark, the second speaker of the negative. Due to our system of checks and balances they are necessary not only to national, but to state politics. The non-partisan primary destroys parties and hence brings chaos to government. It also opens the way to the demagogue. To support his contentions he quoted Ex-Judge Hughes to the effect that the abuses of parties must be remedied, not the parties destroyed.

In closing the affirmative case, Hall argued that the non-partisan primary does not destroy political parties but merely takes away excess power derived from legal sanction and gives the independent voter his share in the selection of candidates, thus substituting reason for blind partisanship in politics. He showed that the affirmative plan eliminates corruption and hence leads to better candidates, since they become responsible to the people rather than to the political machine or boss. In conclusion he gave a brief summary of the affirmative case.

Goebel concluded the negative argument by presenting a plan combining the party convention and the partisan direct primary which is intended to secure the advantages of both. Delegates are to be elected in a bon-fide manner to the convention which nominates its candidate and then submits his name to a party direct primary. This enables candidates to be thoroughly discussed and a platform to be adopted and yet forces the parties to nominate candidates approved by the people.

The Rebuttal

In rebuttal, Plimpton, declared that non-partisan primaries prevent the independent voter from knowing what candidates stand for.

In reply to the negative, Thexton minimized the importance of parties in state government. He also pointed out that the negative plan combines the disadvantages of both the convention and party direct primary and serves to entrench the party machine more strongly than ever.

Clark on the other hand contended that the non-partisan plan leads to candidates representing small minorities.

Lyon brought forward arguments to show that parties are not menaced by the proposed system. By citing the cases of several states where it is partially in effect he proved that the number of candidates is comparatively few.

In closing the case for the negative, Goebel added little to the argument but confined himself to reiterating the unwieldy size of the ballot, the alleged failure of the plan in Minnesota, and the fact that there is no guarantee of a responsible nomination.

In reply, Hall, disproved many of the negative arguments showing in brief that the negative had merely patched together two bad plans. Under the non-partisan scheme, not only is the independent voter able to select a candidate to represent the principles which he favors, but he also has a wider choice. He showed, finally, that the affirmative plan is actually in successful operation in seven states.

The Debate at Wesleyan

Middletown, Conn., Dec. 3—Williams defeated Wesleyan here to-night by a two to one decision of the judges before an audience of 250 people. A better attack with a more logical presentation of material and the presentation of a new solution characterized the debate of the winning negative team.

Those who represented Williams in the order of their speaking were: Richard H. Balch '21, of Utica, N. Y.; Charles L. Taylor, Jr., '21 of Hartford, Conn.; and Harry K. Schauler '22, of Kansas City, Mo., who acted as captain. The alternate was John R. Montgomery '22, of Hubbard Woods, Ill. The Wesleyan team was composed of the following speakers in order: Malvin E. Davis '24, of Noxon, Pa.; Herbert Gurnee '21, of Solley, Md.; and Jonathan T. Batdorf '21, of Reading, Pa., who acted as captain. The alternate was Henry A. Simmons '21, of Wellsboro, Pa.

Dean Frank W. Nicholson of Wesleyan acted as the presiding officer and the following men served as judges: Professor Zelotes W. Coombs of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Professor Charles S. Baldwin of Columbia University, and Professor Henry B. Huntington of Brown University.

The Main Speeches

In opening the debate Davis pointed out the fact that there are only two methods of nominating, by the nominating convention and by the direct primary. After showing the failure of the convention system he outlined the nonpartisan direct primary. Balch, the first speaker for the negative, admitted the contention of the affirmative that the convention system has proved unsatisfactory and went on to show that the non-partisan direct primary is contrary to the American ideals of representative nominations and bi-party responsibility.

Continuing the argument for the affirmative Gurnee showed that the direct primary is sounder in principle than the nominating convention, that it encourages more voters to participate, and that it is more responsible. The affirmative constantly attempted, although unsuccessfully, to force the negative into a defence of the convention system. The next negative speaker, Taylor, reiterated their stand on this subject and then proceeded to show the unsoundness of the direct primary in practice. The fundamental objection is the fact that it does not produce the quality of nominees which the country needs.

In concluding the main speeches for the affirmative Batdorf claimed four special advantages for the nonpartisan direct primary. It assures a majority, increases independent voting, makes the issue a state issue, and increases the interest of the voters. Schauler closed the argument for the negative, proving that nomination under the direct primary is generally by a small plurality, while the chances for corruption are greater, if possible, than under the convention system. He then brought forward the negative solution, the Hughes plan for a nominating party conference with the direct primary as a check in the hands of the people. This system eliminates the evils of both the other systems and combines the valuable principles.

The Rebuttal

Balch opened the rebuttal speeches by refuting the affirmative argument in regard to intelligent voting under their system by citing the instance of a dead man actually elected thus in Oil City, Pa. He also pointed out the trend away from the direct primary today, and spoke of New York State as an example of the corruption under that system. Davis replied for the affirmative by giving a single instance where boss control had been broken and further quoted figures on the lessened expense.

More figures showing a greatly increased expense under the direct primary system were quoted by Taylor, the next negative speaker. He also emphasized the fact that the direct primary system causes the man to seek the office and not the office the man as should be the case. The second affirmative speaker returned to the contention that the faults of the convention system are inherent but made no attack on the negative plan. He did attempt to show that the nonpartisan ballot is much simpler than the general present type.

Schauler, in closing the case for the negative, demolished the latter argument with examples and further showed the large amount of corruption in states using the direct primary. He showed that non-partisan direct primaries simply mean the abolition of the present American ideal of bi-party government, and then challenged the affirmative to disprove this and show any serious defects in the negative plan which they had thus far failed to attack. Batdorf concluded the debate by trying to show that the Hughes plan did combine the defects as well as the advantages of both the direct primary and nominating convention. He called it simply a beautiful dream which had not been proved practical.

Council Approves 'Graphic'

Plans submitted by the Non-Athletic Council for the reorganization of the Literary Monthly and the changing of the name of the publication to the Williams Graphic were approved by the Student Council at a meeting held in Jesup Hall yesterday evening and a resolution of sympathy to the family of Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson was drawn up.

Special train agencies for the Christmas recess were also awarded as follows: from Buffalo—Carson and D. Irwin '21; from New York City—Montgomery '21 and J. B. Williams '22; from Chicago and the west—Fargo '21.

Addresses Episcopalians

In the interests of the nationwide campaign of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Rev. Horace Fort addressed a small meeting of undergraduate members of that church in the Student Council Room in Jesup Hall on Friday evening.

The meeting was informal, and Dr. Fort spoke briefly, discussing the purposes for which money is being raised in the nationwide campaign; the Christianization and Americanization of the Indians on the reservations of the country and of the immigrants and foreign born in the great cities, and for the aid of the southern negro, mill-workers, and mountaineers, especially in the South Atlantic States. He ended his speech by a short discussion of the results which have followed the disillusionment caused by the war, suggesting possible cures.

the Chicago and Erie Railroad, the Niagara Development Company, the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad, and of the New York Botanical Gardens.

In 1890, Mr. Stetson was elected a trustee of Williams College and has held that position ever since, and at the time of his death, was the senior member of that body. The total gifts of Mr. Stetson to the College aggregate over a half million dollars. He remodeled and moved Griffin Hall to its present position, he built the South wing of Williams Hall, the Smedley Terrace, and moved the Observatory to its present situation. In addition, Mr. Stetson built Stetson Road and finished the work on Cole Field which was begun by Mr. E. Dimon Bird '97. In the drive by the College between 1913 and 1917 for a two-million general endowment fund, he contributed $100,000 and in 1902 and 1905, Mr. Stetson gave between $140,000 and $150,000 to increase the salaries of the professors. He also built the tennis courts and has given innumerable gifts to Williams.

Mr. Stetson had held the office of President of the General Theological Seminary in New York City and also President of the New York Bar Association. At one time, he was the Assistant Corporation Counsel of the City of New York. In recognition of his services, he was made a member of the Order of the Crown of Belgium. He was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa society and of the Century, University, Metropolitan, Tuscolo, Riding, Down Town, and National Clubs.

In 1873, Mr. Stetson married Miss Elizabeth Ruff, of Rahway, New Jersey. Mrs. Stetson has been dead for several years and left no children. The funeral will be at 4.00 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Incarnation in New York City, and the burial will be in the College cemetery at Williamstown. It is expected that a short service will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Chapel before the interment and all College exercises will be suspended at that time. Dr. Harry Garfield is to be one of the pall bearers, and Mr. Bentley W. Warren '85 will attend the funeral.

What Is Air?

BEFORE 1894 every chemist thought he knew what air is. "A mechanical mixture of moisture, nitrogen and oxygen, with traces of hydrogen and carbon dioxide," he would explain. There was so much oxygen and nitrogen in a given sample that he simply determined the amount of oxygen present and assumed the rest to be nitrogen.

One great English chemist, Lord Rayleigh, found that the nitrogen obtained from the air was never so pure as that obtained from some compound like ammonia. What was the "impurity"? In co-operation with another prominent chemist, Sir William Ramsay, it was discovered in an entirely new gas—"argon." Later came the discovery of other rare gases in the atmosphere. The air we breathe contains about a dozen gases and gaseous compounds.

This study of the air is an example of research in pure science. Rayleigh and Ramsay had no practical end in view—merely the discovery of new facts.

A few years ago the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company began to study the destruction of filaments in exhausted lamps in order to ascertain how this happened. It was a purely scientific undertaking. It was found that the filament evaporated—boiled away, like so much water.

Pressure will check boiling or evaporation. If the pressure within a boiler is very high, it will take more heat than ordinarily to boil the water. Would a gas under pressure prevent filaments from boiling away? If so, what gas? It must be a gas that will not combine chemically with the filament. The filament would burn in oxygen; hydrogen would conduct the heat away too rapidly. Nitrogen is a useful gas in this case. It does form a few compounds, however. Better still is argon. It forms no compounds at all.

Thus the modern, efficient, gas-filled lamp appeared, and so argon, which seemed the most useless gas in the world, found a practical application.

Discover new facts, and their practical application will take care of itself.

And the discovery of new facts is the primary purpose of the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.

Sometimes years must elapse before the practical application of a discovery becomes apparent, as in the case of argon; sometimes a practical application follows from the mere answering of a "theoretical" question, as in the case of a gas-filled lamp. But no substantial progress can be made unless research is conducted for the purpose of discovering new facts.

Capt. Boynton Chosen For Mythical Teams

honor of leading the scorers in the East for the season. His own open-field running was very good, he used fine generalship, kicked fairly well and was good at throwing the forward pass. Another brilliant quarterback was D. B. Lourie '22 of Princeton.

In the New York Herald, William B. Hanna gave the All-Eastern quarterback position to Lourie of Princeton, but named Boynton of Williams and Garrity of Princeton as leading half-backs. Straus of Penn. was picked as fullback. "This quartet," he declares, "can do it all, can run, can pass, kick, tear the line, and back up the line."

The Springfield Republican has made Boynton its second choice for the All-Eastern position, but has chosen him for a proposed Western Massachusetts eleven. In discussing his selections for this team the sporting editor declares, "The backfield men are hard to choose. Of course quarterback goes without dispute to Benny Boynton, perhaps the greatest modern football player in the real sense of the words that ever appeared in the section. He had been to Williams teams in the past few seasons what Jack Hubbard was to Amherst years ago, or Jim Thorpe to Carlisle.

True, Boynton was stopped cold in his big games, those with Harvard, where he had his golden opportunity to show his caliber but where he was halted by the weakness of his line, and with Amherst, where precisely the same thing took place. Whenever Boynton's line was equal to that of its opponent the great player tore off runs of 40, 60 and 80 yards times after time. He always punted well and his dropkicking was good for points whenever he got within speaking distance of the goal posts. He is an expert forward passer and he hits the line with terrific force. Boynton is through at Williams but Williams men will sing his praises for years."

Freshmen in Lead as Series Starts

that of their opponents, the Freshman basketball team chalked up two decisive victories in the opening games of the inter-class series. The Seniors and Sophomores are tied for second place with one victory and one defeat apiece, and the 1922 five has twice been overcome.

In the first contest of the series, 1921 overcame 1922 last Friday afternoon by a score of 15-8. The opening half ended with the count 5-4 in favor of the victors, who rallied in the next period winning by a safe margin. Finn and Taylor scored often for 1921, and honors were evenly divided among the losers.

In the second game of the afternoon the Freshman quintet played rings around the Sophomores, in spite of the individual brilliancy of Mallon and Wightman, each of whom scored twice for the losers. The final score was 18-11. Captain Blackmer was the outstanding star of the game, with three baskets to his credit, but Kellogg and Jayne also aided materially in the victory.

The Freshmen scored their second triumph against the weak 1922 five on Saturday afternoon, by the score of 18-8. Blackmer again played strongly for the winners, dropping in five baskets from the floor, and the whole yearling team played an unbeatable passing game. In spite of good individual material the Juniors were unable to combine in any plays, scoring only three times from the floor.

Showing improved form, 1923 took the Seniors into camp in the second game of the afternoon, winning by a 12-6 tally. The guarding of the Sophomores prevented the losers from getting near enough to the basket to make their shots effective, and better team-work furnished the winners with the necessary points to win.

A fact:

At the LaSalle, as well as the Edgewater Beach, Congress, Sherman and Auditorium hotels, Chicago, the sales of Fatima exceed those of any other cigarette.

How do men know when they've struck the right cigarette?

IN most cases, of course, it's when they find the one that tastes "just right."

Many men find that straight Turkish cigarettes are so rich that they tire the taste—because of too much Turkish tobacco. Others find that ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend Cigarettes taste "thin" and "flat"—because of too little Turkish.

Without realizing it, perhaps, what these men are looking for is "just enough Turkish."

And when a smoker at last switches to Fatima, he finds this. Because Fatima contains less Turkish than straight Turkish cigarettes; yet more Turkish than any other Turkish Blend.

Fatima's sales-leadership at so many prominent places, such as the one shown above, would seem to show that "just enough Turkish" is just what most men want.

And it's a fact that mighty few men ever switch from Fatima.

NEW ENDOWMENT GIVEN FOR ECONOMICS CHAIR

A. Parton Hepburn Makes Gift of $130,000 to Endow Economics Professorship

PART OF GENERAL FUND

Chairman of Chase National Bank Holds Honorary Degree From Williams

President Harry A. Garfield has announced the gift of about $130,000 for the endowment of the A. Barton Hepburn Professorship of Economics, by Mr. A. Barton Hepburn, chairman of the Advisory Board of the Chase National Bank of New York City, and the holder of an honorary degree from Williams College. This gift is to be added to the money now being raised towards the $1,000,000 endowment fund to increase the salaries of the professors.

Under the provisions of the gift, if the salary of the A. Barton Hepburn Professorship of Economics, as voted by the trustees, is less than the income received from this fund, the balance may be applied by the Board of Trustees of the College to increase the principle fund up to and including an income of $5,500 per annum, and any income in excess of this amount may, at the discretion of the trustees, be appropriated for the payment of other salaries.

Mr. Hepburn is not a graduate of Williams, but his son, Charles F. Hepburn is a member of the class of 1900. Mr. A. Barton Hepburn was born in Colton, N. Y., and received his degree of Bachelor of Arts from Middlebury College in 1871. Four years later, he was elected to the New York State Assembly and in 1880, he became Superintendent of the Banking Department of the State of New York. Eight years later he was made the Federal Bank Examiner for the state. From 1893 to 1897, he was President of the Third National Bank of New York City, vice-president of the National City Bank from 1897 to 1899 and President of the Chase National Bank, also of New York City, from 1899 to 1911. He was awarded an honorary degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1911 from both Columbia and Williams. At present, he is the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chase National Bank, and a director of the Bankers' Trust Company, the Columbia-Kniekerbocker Trust Company, the Fidelity Trust Company, the New York Life Insurance Company, the First National Bank and the First Security Company, all of which institutions are in New York. He is also a director of a large number of industrial corporations. Mr. Hepburn is a trustee of Middlebury College, a member of the New York Chamber of Commerce, and an Officer of the Legion of Honor of France.

Dr. Garfield has given the following for publication concerning the gift: "Mr. Hepburn's gift is to be used to endow the A. Barton Hepburn Professorship of Economics. In my last annual report, I stated that it was necessary immediately to bring the professors' salaries to a $5,000 basis, and that as soon as possible, the basis should be advanced to $5,500. To reach the $5,000 basis, I said that an additional endowment of $1,000,000 was necessary. Thereupon, the General Educational Board offered to contribute $200,000 on condition that the College raise the remaining $800,000. Now comes Mr. Hepburn with a gift of substantially one-sixth the latter amount." In the annual report of President Garfield, he stated that the following scale for the salaries of the professors was necessary: for professors, $5,000; for assistant professors, $3,000; and for instructors, $2,100. In addition he said that Williams should not be content to pay the senior professors less than $5,500 per annum. An increase of about 20% was voted to the officers of instruction for the year 1920-21 through gifts from the trustee of the Williams Loyalty Fund.

Prof. Maxcy Will Explain Callings Before W. C. A.

One of the most interesting W. C. A. meetings of the year will take place next Sunday evening when Professor Maxcy will give a short talk on "The Choice of a Calling," at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

Professor Maxcy is particularly fitted to give a talk of this kind through his experience as Dean of the College and consequent close touch with the solving of the problems of undergraduates and younger graduates in choosing their vocation.

FUNERAL OF TRUSTEE IS HELD WEDNESDAY

Body of Francis Lynde Stetson Brought to Williamstown for Final Burial

Following the ceremony which took place in New York last Tuesday, the funeral service for Francis Lynde Stetson was held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Thompson Memorial Chapel. Dr. Silver, pastor of the church of the Incarnation of New York City, conducted the services and President Garfield made the opening prayer.

Preceded by President Garfield and Dr. Silver, the body was carried into the chapel by six members of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, of which Mr. Stetson was a member. There followed behind members of the College Faculty and of the Board of Trustees, and friends and relatives of Mr. Stetson. Burial was in the College cemetery, and recitations were suspended during the afternoon to enable undergraduates and members of the Faculty to attend the services.

"Y" MAN WILL SPEAK

Jerome P. Davis to Discuss Bolshevism Before Forum

"Bolshevism in Russia and America" will be the topic of the second meeting of the Forum to be held at 7:45 o'clock next Monday evening in Jesup Hall. Mr. Jerome P. Davis, for two and a half years an acting senior secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in Russia during the war, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

During Mr. Davis' period of service he came in contact with all walks of Russian life, and is therefore an authority on Bolshevism in that country. He is now a Gilder Fellow at Columbia University in New York City. In his talk before the Forum he will point out the extent which Bolshevism has attained in America and the methods and means proposed for its extermination. After the principal address, the meeting will be thrown open to the audience for discussion.

CHANGE IN RULES

New Basketball Regulations Allow Resubstitution

One radical change in rules governing intercollegiate basketball was made recently at a session of the Intercollegiate Basketball League of America. The new ruling, whereby players taken from the game for any reason except for that of making four personal fouls may be returned later, is expected to have a far-reaching effect on the sport and will undoubtedly work well in practice.

This regulation, the purpose of which is to allow a coach to withdraw a tired player, give him the necessary rest, and then send him back into the game, will greatly affect the strategy of basketball, enabling a coach to shift and substitute players. In emergencies players of specialized ability may be sent into the game and withdrawn when they have served their particular purpose, just as a drop kicker is used in football.

NUMBER OF WARNINGS SHOWS SOME INCREASE

64 Per Cent of Undergraduates Receive Warnings—75 Men Become Ineligible

According to statistics issued this week by Assistant Dean Carl W. Johnson, 64% of the men in College received at least one warning in connection with the curriculum work this year. This figure shows an increase of 2% over last year, when 62% of the undergraduate body received warnings in November, 1919.

In the Senior class, 51 students were warned, 73 D and 19 E warnings being issued to members of 1921. This is 49% of the class, and an average of .88 warnings per student, showing that as far as warnings are concerned the scholarship of the Senior class was of a higher grade than that of any of the other three. In the Junior class, 77 men, or 61%, were warned; 117 D and 36 E warnings being given to the third year men, an average of 1.20 per student. 85 men, or 70% of the Sophomore class was warned. In this class, 129 D and 32 E warnings were recorded, an average of 1.32 warnings per student. In the class of 1921, 157 men, or 71%, received warnings. Figures for this class, which includes 29 men who failed to gain promotion, show that 246 D and 133 E warnings were issued, making an average for the class of 1.72 per freshman. The average number of warnings per student in the College as a whole is 1.37 in 1920 as against 1.31 in 1919.

Three or more warnings were received by 123 men, or 21% of the entire College body. Taken by classes, the figures are as follows: 1921—12 men or 11%; 1922—24 men or 19%; 1923—22 men or 18%; 1924—65 men or 30%.

E warnings, which denote failure at the time of issuing warnings, were distributed as follows, the figures showing the number of E's received by men in each class: 1921—13 men received one, and two received three; 1922—17 received one, eight received two, and one received three; 1923—14 received one, six received two, and two men received three; 1924—57 received one, 19 received two, six received three, and five received four. Thus, 101 men in College were failing in one subject at warning time, 33 were failing in two courses, 11 in three, and five in four.

The number of men rendered ineligible for regular varsity organizations, due to warnings, totaled 75 this year. By classes, there were 12 men, or 11% in 1921, 24 men, or 19% in 1922, 22 men, or 18% in 1923, and 17 men, or 59% in 1924. Attention is called to the fact that all first-year men are ineligible until after the mid-year examinations, so that the above figures for the Freshman class are based on the scholastic records of 29 men who failed promotion, and are classed as freshmen, although they entered with other classes. However, eligibility is required of freshmen who desire to participate in class activities other than intramural and of the 191 actual first-year students, 48 men, or 25%, were rendered ineligible by warnings.

ADDRESS PHIL. UNION ON MILITARY TRAINING

Brucker, Hinman, and Perry Take Up Various Aspects of Situation

"Military Training and Democracy" was the subject discussed at a meeting of the Philosophical Union last Tuesday evening in the Common Room. Papers treating various phases of the question were read by Brucker, Hinman and Perry '21.

Brucker '21 in discussing the subject, accepting the definition of democracy as a code of ethics, vindicated military training on the ground that while the aim of war is to kill, that of military training is decidedly different. It is essentially a system of national defense and as such has not the deteriorating effect on character which necessarily accompanies war. War, however, is a necessary evil. Military training merely prepares to meet this evil, and although it may be somewhat injurious to individual liberty, its effect on society as a whole is not incompatible with liberty.

Hinman defined democracy not as a form of government or social system, but rather as an attitude of life, which, as contrasted with many codes, recognizes the rights of others and admits the existence of other values beside that of self. Military training has as its essential aim the preparation of men to serve in battle! Thus military spirit hardens the individual so that he will be willing to attack with the bayonet. This is in violation of two fundamental repugnancies, namely the repugnance toward killing others, and against being killed. Military training aims to build up hatred which essentially contravenes the spirit of democracy.

Perry supported Hinman's position, stating that the question was largely one of definition of terms. If we accept the aim of military training as officially stated in military and naval manuals, there is little doubt that it is essentially inconsistent with the idea of democracy.

SOCIALISTS TO MEET

Intercollegiate Society Calls Conference in New York

The Intercollegiate Socialist Society is calling a conference on labor and radical movements to be held in New York City, December 29 and 30. The I. S. S. has this year adopted a new policy of bringing students into active touch with the problems of labor and is inviting all college organizations and individuals interested in social questions to take part in the conference.

The conference will open on Wednesday afternoon, December 29 at the Rand School of Social Science with an address by Arthur Gleason, the President. At subsequent meetings labor questions of general interest will be discussed and the delegates will speak on the work of their various organizations and any interesting radical or labor movements which have taken place at their colleges. Representatives of the socialist, communist, syndicalist, anarchist, and trade unions will briefly set forth their view points.

All men interested in the conference can obtain further information at the headquarters of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, Room 931, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

At the same time, schedules for the 1920-21 season of the basketball, hockey, and swimming teams were also ratified.

There are three changes in the football program, compared with previous schedules. Yale has been substituted for Harvard, and Bowdoin and Middlebury supplant Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and Trinity in next year's schedule. Oct. 8—Bowdoin at Williamstown. Oct. 15—Yale at New Haven, Conn. Oct. 22—Middlebury at Williamstown. Oct. 29—Columbia at New York.

Nov. 5—Union at Williamstown. Nov. 12—Amherst at Williamstown. Nov. 19—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.

Six games will be played in the Lasell Gymnasium and four will be played on opponent's courts in the 1920-21 basketball season. The season opens on January 13, when Colgate opposes Williams in the home Gymnasium. The schedule in full follows:

Jan. 13—Colgate at Williamstown. Jan. 19—Wesleyan at Williamstown. Jan. 22—Harvard at Williamstown.

The schedule for the hockey team was also accepted as submitted. The first game of the Williams seven is scheduled for December 18, when R. P. I. will come to Williamstown. There are nine games in all, four of which will be played on the Williams rink. The schedule is as follows: Dec. 18—R. P. I. at Williamstown. Jan. 12—Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Williamstown.

Jan. 14—M. I. T. at Boston. Jan. 15—Harvard at Boston.

Feb. 19—West Point at West Point, N. Y. Feb. 26—Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H.

Five meets comprise the schedule for the swimming team. The program was approved by the Council, with the exception of the Harvard meet which had been tentatively arranged for February 25. No men will be sent this year to either the National Intercollegiate, nor to the New England Intercollegiate Meet. The schedule as sanctioned follows: Jan. 22—R. P. I. at Troy, N. Y. Feb. 18—Amherst at Amherst. Feb. 19—Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn. Feb. 26—Brown at Providence, R. I. Mar. 4—Springfield Y. M. C. A. at Williamstown.

Vol. 34 December 10, 1920 No. 45

At a meeting of the Record Board held last evening in the Press Room, Jesup Hall, Harry Klock Schaffler, 1922, of Kansas City, Mo., was elected to the position of First Associate Editor, and Herbert Maxwell Brune, 1922, of Baltimore, Md., to the position of Second Associate Editor. These men will succeed to the positions of editor-in-chief and managing editor respectively.

At the same time Douglas Hall Rose II, 1922, of Baltimore, Md., was elected to the editorial staff to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Carlton Underwood, 1922. Two sophomores, Raymond Anthony, 1923, of Farmington, Conn., and John Carland Hilton, 1923, of Jersey City, N. J., were also elected to the editorial board as a result of the third competition from the class of 1923.

To 1921

The poor attendance at class meetings this fall indicates that unless there is a great change in spirit, there will be but few members of the senior class present this evening for the most important elections of the year. We trust, however, that this change will take place, for it will be a disgrace to 1921 if there is barely a quorum present to conduct as important a piece of business as the choice of class-day officers. These officers have come to be considered among the highest honors in College, and it is the duty of every senior to participate in the selection of men to fill them. It is to be hoped that 1921 will present this evening that very exceptional spectacle—a class meeting with an 100 per cent attendance.

Is Williams Spirit Lacking?

The last rites of honor were performed in the College Chapel last Wednesday afternoon in honor of Francis Lynde Stetson, Williams' greatest benefactor, yet less than one-tenth the student body was present to pay a final reverent tribute. When such a condition has come to pass, it becomes necessary to seriously take account of stock.

Alumni who were present for the funeral have gone back to New York and other Williams centers with the impression that the true Williams spirit is lacking in the present college generation. We can hardly blame them for spreading this opinion, particularly in view of Wednesday's exhibition, and the careless and apparently indifferent attitude of the undergraduates—it is to be hoped no worse an origin should be ascribed to it—can scarcely be too heartily deprecated. This recent opportunity for the display of real Williams loyalty is irretrievably lost, but partial reparation may be made through the treatment accorded other Williams graduates and friends in the future.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unassigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

December 8th, 1920

To the Editor of The Record,

Dear Sir:—

This afternoon the undergraduates were offered the opportunity to show their feeling for the College by paying the last mark of respect to one of its greatest benefactors. Only forty men, in addition to the members of his own fraternity, had enough feeling and loyalty to attend the short service in the Chapel. It is, of course, a disgrace to the College. The Record had published an account showing what a constant and generous helper he had been to Williams, so ignorance cannot be offered as an excuse. One cannot believe that it was an intentional slight to the memory of an alumnus by those now enjoying the results of his many gifts. Probably nine out of ten will say that they "didn't think." Do you realize that such a state is becoming well nigh chronic in the undergraduate body? It is an explanation of, but certainly not an excuse for, their actions or lack of action on many occasions. This is not a subject about which to "scold." It is now too late to set right this particular matter. It should not be allowed to pass, however, without calling the attention of those who did not attend the service to the position in which they have placed themselves and the College by their selfishness. Undoubtedly many have a real love and loyalty for the College who do not realize that this can be shown except by taking part in athletics or yelling on the sidelines. Living up to high ideals of service and citizenship both in College and afterwards is harder and much more to the point. This well rounded and useful type of life was well exemplified in that of Mr. Stetson. It is for this reason, as well as for his great generosity to the College, that all Williams men should show his memory every mark of affectionate respect.

NOVICE MEET HELD

Stowers '23 Wins Annual Cross Country Contest

In a fast and exciting finish, Stowers '23 won the annual Novice Cross Country meet over the regular course last Thursday afternoon, narrowly beating Webb '23 at the tape. The men ran over the regular course only once and ended with one lap of the Weston Field track for a total of two and one-half miles.

Eight men started the race: Brigham '21; Lyon, Merriam, and Seaman '22; Fitcher, Stowers and Webb '23; and Blair '24. All men who were not on the varsity cross country team were eligible to compete. Webb took the lead at the start and held it over the course until the last fifty yards, closely followed by Stowers and Seaman. The runners held this order across the golf links and until the last fifty yards had been reached when Stowers exhibited a strong reserve power and passed Webb who took second place. The other runners crossed the line in the following order: Seaman, Fitcher, Lyon, and Blair. Prizes were awarded by merchants on Spring Street as follows: first prize, a silver pencil, by Cable Prindle; second prize, a necktie, by Nelson Domin; third prize, a belt buckle, by Art Bastien.

Play in Interclass Series Will be Resumed To-day

Play for the interclass basketball championship will be resumed this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock, when the third series of games will be played in Lasell Gymnasium. The Seniors are scheduled to play the Freshmen, while the Junior and Sophomore fives clash after them.

At present the freshmen are in the lead by virtue of two clean-cut victories, and indications point to their winning the series. 1921 and 1923 have broken even in two games, and the juniors, though twice defeated, have a team of marked individual ability that is always dangerous.
The close of today's games marks the half-way point in the series.

New Endowment Given For Economics Chair

Under the will of the late Senator Winthrop Murray Crane, $25,000 was added to this fund and several other contributions have been made. The total of the needed $800,000 is expected to be raised in the near future. President Garfield has sent the following letter to all the Williams alumni, explaining the need for the money in addition to describing the generous gift of Mr. Hepburn:

December 6, 1920.

To the Alumni of Williams College:

The General Education Board recently offered the College $200,000 on condition that the College raise $800,000 more, the whole $1,000,000 to be used in payment of salaries. Already a generous gift has been received and credited toward the $800,000. A. Barton Hepburn, Chairman of the Advisory Board of the Chase National Bank of New York and one of our distinguished honorary sons, has transferred to us securities of the present market value of $130,000 and yielding an income in excess of $5,500, to endow the
A. Barton Hepburn Professorship of Economics. With this substantial beginning the sons of Williams may confidently expect to raise the balance of the $1,000,000 immediately needed for salaries.

This $1,000,000 will by no means furnish all the endowment necessary. It will not even enable the College to equal the higher salaries now paid by other institutions, nor to meet the increasing amounts which they are prepared to offer. It will however make possible salaries of $5,000 for our full professors and corresponding increases for others of the teaching force.

With this provided for, and with the annual contributions from the Loyalty Fund, already of such proved benefit and of still greater promise, it is hoped that the most pressing needs of the College may be met, until a further endowment of $2,000,000 may be available—or a total ultimate addition of $3,000,000, the same amount which Amherst has already nearly completed.

Such an endowment must in the near future be assured to maintain the cherished Williams traditions. The requirement that students shall reside for at least two years in college buildings and the policy of instruction in small divisions, which have created the intimate fellowship of Williams men with each other and with the Faculty, must be preserved. For the former, the Williams Hall quadrangle should be completed with suitable Commons and Dining Hall accommodations; for the latter, additional instructors are needed from time to time, while at all times the institution must be prepared to increase salaries to attract and retain men upon its Faculty of the high standard of those now here and of those others whose memories are dear to graduates of past classes.

H. A. GARFIELD,
President

Basketball Squad Progresses

With scrimmages held every afternoon under the careful direction of Coach Shanahan, the Varsity basketball squad is gradually rounding into shape for the season. At present no definite team has been picked and work has been devoted to testing the ability of the various players in their respective positions. In the daily scrimmages, Fargo '21, and Bianchi '22, centers; Hyde, Kellogg, and J. E. Wilson
'22, guards; Beckwith '21, and Wightman
'23, forwards, are opposing various other men in the squad, and Fargo, Wilson, and Wightman are showing up well in their respective positions. Practice will probably continue in this manner until the first game of the season, which is scheduled to take place here on January 13 against Colgate.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL

to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar.
The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examicompliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required

'CAP AND BELLS' TO GIVE PERFORMANCE

Will Present "Beaux Stratagem" for First Time in North
Adams Wednesday

BENEFIT FOR CIVIC CLUB

Power, Rose, Clark, and Zalles
Play Leading Roles—Cast
Is Well-Balanced

In preparation for the Christmas trip, Cap and Bells will give a performance of Farquhar's Beaux Stratagem next Wednesday evening at 8.15 o'clock in the Drury Auditorium, North Adams. The profits of the play will be given to the New Era Community Club of North Adams.

Assisted by the helpful criticism of several members of the Faculty in the English Department, Mr. Albert Lang has been successful in coaching the play so that it will be a true representation of the Restoration comedy. The costumes, which were furnished by Miller Co., of Philadelphia, are unusually good and should prove to be one of the features of the production. The wigs, purchased from Deutschmann & Birnstein, of New York, are no less striking. The scenery is simple, consisting of two sets of curtains which will be used for the two scenes in which the play is presented.

The play is so constructed that the prominence of the majority of the characters is about equally divided. Clark and Zalles '22 take the parts of Aimwell and Archer respectively, two soldiers of fortune, who having nearly exhausted their money, seek to retrieve their former station by marriages of wealth. Power '21 and Rose '22 as Dorinda and Mrs. Sullen are the subjects of their attentions. The role of Scrub, a humorous characterization of the country household servant, is taken by Youngman '22. Smith '22 takes the part of Boniface, the innkeeper, who has a separate calling of consorting with highwaymen. Cherry, daughter of Boniface and the cause of numerous amorous attentions on the part of Archer, is played by Baxter '23. The lines and situations are humorous throughout, and after much perplexity on the part of all concerned a happy conclusion is finally reached.

The entire cast is as follows:

Aimwell.....Clark '22
Archer.....Zalles '22
Sullen.....Cutler '21
Freeman.....McAneny '23
Paigard.....Terry '22

Prof. Droppers to Address 'Cercle Francais' Meeting

Professor Droppers will address the Cercle Francais at the next meeting which will be held next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. All men eligible for membership in the Cercle who wish to join are urged to be present at this meeting. The dues are fifty cents a year, and all active and prospective members are requested to be prepared to pay their annual dues at the meeting, in order to bring the accounts of the organization up to date.

To Interest Sub-Freshmen

In order to arouse interest in Williams among the boys attending high schools and private schools in Buffalo, N. Y., a committee has been appointed by the Alumni Association of Western New York, with Norman Duffield '13 as chairman. The regular monthly luncheon of the association was held on December 3 at the Ellicott Club of Buffalo, and 27 men attended.

Hockey Squad Has Indoor Practice for R. P. I. Game

With indoor practice held every afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium under the direction of Captain Irwin '21, the hockey team is being rounded into shape for the opening season. Trials for goal positions are under way at present, and Richmond '23 is showing excellent form in the tests. There is a squad of about 30 men, among which number are many of last year's team. According to the schedule the first game will be played against R. P. I. next Saturday in Williamstown.

CAMP PICKS BOYNTON FOR MYTHICAL ELEVEN

Williams Captain Is Chosen for Quarterback on Third All-American 1920 Team

Among the All-American elevens in which Captain Boynton has been chosen to fill the position of quarterback, is Walter Camp's choice for a third team which recently appeared in Collier's Weekly. For first and second elevens Mr. Camp selected Lourie of Princeton and McMillin of Centre respectively.

In regard to the material from which the teams were picked, and the difficulty in making a choice Mr. Camp is quoted as follows: "The All-America team of 1920 represents a far greater breadth of ability on the part of every one of its members than any team before selected."

From this it is easy to see that few indeed of the positions on the All-America team this year were made without a struggle. In criticizing the work of the three great quarterbacks of the season Mr. Camp says, "The quarter-back position goes, after much consideration, to Lourie of Princeton, because, as a climax to the rest of his work, his generalship, not only in former games, but in his final contest for the season, that with Yale, was almost unannounced in its accuracy in disclosing every weak point of his opponents. In all other points, McMillin and Boynton were quite on a par with him. In fact, McMillin upheld in a high degree the wonderful reputation he made last year, and both he and Boynton are exceptional assets to any team."

JUNIORS NOW SECOND IN INTERCLASS SERIES

Is Still Leading

Standing of the Teams
	Won	Lost	Pct.

1922	2	2	.500
1921	1	2	.333
1923	1	2	.333

In the two interclass basketball games played during the past week 1922 was twice victorious, defeating the Sophomores on Friday by a 14-13 score and the Seniors on Saturday by a 15-8 margin. As a result of these victories the Juniors are now in second place in the league standing.

In Friday's contest, the most exciting of the series, the result was uncertain up to the last moment of play, when a foul goal by Richmond and a missed foul by Garvin decided the issue in favor of the upperclassmen. The playing of both teams was wild during the opening period, but the more aggressive guarding of the Juniors gave them a 4-3 lead when half time was called. In the second half both teams played better passing games, keeping the score see-sawing up to 13-13, at which point Richmond's basket from the foul line clinched the victory. Lyon and Richmond played effectively for 1922, and Wightman starred for the losers.

Saturday's game was easier for the Juniors, in spite of the good work of Finn and Taylor, each of whom scored two baskets for the Seniors. Bianchi, with three baskets to his credit, contributed most to the victory, but Cobb was not far behind, scoring two field baskets and one from the foul line. Richmond and Johnson each added one basket for the Juniors' total of 15 points.

Varsity Basketball Squad Holds Daily Scrimmages

Regular basketball practice every afternoon under the direction of Coach Shannahan is gradually improving the play of the squad and rounding it into shape for the opening games of the season which will be played after the Christmas vacation. Although no team has been picked, scrimmages are being held daily, giving the players an opportunity to show their ability in various departments of the game.

Particular emphasis is being placed on perfecting the fundamentals of the game, as the late opening of the Williams season will give the varsity an unusually long time to perfect scrimmage play. Among the likely combinations are Fargo '21 and Bianchi at center. Captain Beckwith '21 and Wightman are playing well in the forward positions in the daily practice, while Hyde, Kellogg, and Wilson '22 seem the most likely defensive players on the squad.

INTEREST AND SERVICE VITAL IN ANY CALLING

These Points Are Emphasized by Prof. Maxcy Before Large
W. C. A. Meeting

Taking for his subject "The Choice of a Calling," Professor Maxcy addressed over 200 undergraduates yesterday evening in Jesup Hall, at the largest meeting of the W. C. A. held this year. The subject was of peculiar interest for, to use Professor Maxcy's own words, such a choice is "an experience which comes to every man, most vitally concerning those at the end of their senior year."

The fundamental questions facing the freshman at the beginning of his college career are "What courses shall I take?" and "How will my education benefit me in my after life?" The value of education comes in the broadening influence of taking a variety of courses. The great purpose of all education is to fit a man for any profession. To use the words of Cardinal Newman, "education develops one's judgment and gives the ability to go to the heart of a matter." Thus if we lay broad foundations we can build more easily in our callings or professions.

Each man should ask himself two questions in making this decision: "Will my choice be satisfactory to me?" and "What is the service I can render in my profession?" The really great man is the one who does the greatest service to his fellow men.

As the prime consideration each man must decide where his enthusiasms lie. If his enthusiasms are in a certain line, it is there that his profession lies and there that he can render the greatest service. If things such as financial considerations govern a man's decision, he will not make the greatest success of himself, for his heart is elsewhere. If his heart is in his work, competence and satisfaction are insured. If we are moved by our enthusiasms we will be far more in accordance with our own souls and ambitions. Yet these enthusiasms must of necessity be tempered by a fair consideration of our abilities.

To sum up the situation we see that the main considerations are not those of the pocketbook. If the deeper considerations are considered of primary importance in making the choice of a calling, the pocketbook and success will both take care of themselves.

More Needed for Special

Unless 25 more men sign up for the special to be run to New York, the fare will be raised to cover the loss of operating a train with less than 125 passengers. Tickets will be on sale in Jesup Hall on Thursday from 12.45 to 2.00 p. m., and from 7.15 to 8.00 p. m., and on Friday at the same hours.

Secretary of Y. M. C. A. in Russia to Address Forum

Mr. Jerome P. Davis, for two years an acting senior secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in Russia, will address the second meeting of the Forum, which will be held at 7.45 o'clock this evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. He will take as his subject "Bolshevism in Russia and America," and a fair-minded discussion of all sides of the Bolshevik question is expected.

All walks of Russian life have come under the scrutiny of this eminent speaker, and he is considered an authority on the Bolshevik situation in that country. He has written several magazine articles on the Russian question, which were widely circulated. Mr. Davis is at present a Cilder Fellow at Columbia University. In his address before the Forum, he will tell of the progress that Bolshevism has made in America, and the plans which have been made for the complete extermination of its doctrines. In accordance with the custom, the meeting will be thrown open for general discussion after the principal address of the meeting. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Improving the Voting System

The large attendance at the recent important senior class meeting was especially gratifying in view of the poor showing that has been made at other class gatherings this fall, and the celerity with which the elections were run off suggests that there is perhaps a remedy for the long-drawn out processes of elimination which have made class meetings extremely tiresome in the past.

The feature of the present system of election which makes it particularly dull is that of nominating by closed ballot, the result being that it requires a long time to count the votes on the first ballot, in order to determine the nominees. Whereas there is much to be said for this method, it is undoubtedly tedious, and the system of vocal nominations from the floor would save both trouble and time. There is also the advantage of the latter method that the man making the nomination could be allowed to state in a few brief sentences the qualifications of his candidate. This would in no way be an infraction of the No-Deal agreement, and would be of great value in Freshman elections particularly, where the nominees are always known to but few of the class. Opportunity would also be presented for the nomination of the capable man who is not prominent in light of his past accomplishments, a thing which is impossible under the present system.

There are undoubtedly objections to this method, but we believe that it should at least be seriously considered, both as an improvement in the better nominees that it might bring, and as a means of remedying the present non-attendance evil.

Next Year's Schedule

In spite of the two unexpected reversals at the hands of Columbia and Amherst the recent football season was thoroughly satisfactory in one respect at least—advertising value.

Undoubtedly the wide-spread publicity given to the Williams eleven was due mainly to the high-scoring records of the team as a whole, of Captain Boynton individually, and also largely to the game with Harvard. Within a short time the sentiment will probably be expressed that Williams should not again "go out of its class" in playing one of the strongest eastern teams. Those who maintain this view fail to realize that in such an encounter the smaller college has everything to gain and nothing to lose. It is no disgrace to be beaten by one of the so-called "Big Three," and it should be remembered that a detailed account of every game played in the Harvard Stadium or the Yale Bowl is published in almost every newspaper in the country.

Besides this, the financial returns from such a contest can be put to good use in the repairing and building of hockey rinks and tennis courts. In view of these reasons we urge the football management not to hesitate to arrange, if possible, an early-season game with Harvard, Yale, or Princeton.

CHEERING AT PRATT FIELD

To the Editor of the RECORD,
Sir:

May I ask you to insert in your columns my comment on the question that has been raised by editorial and letter in recent issues of your sheet concerning the lack of spirit shown at the late lamented football game on Pratt Field.

Williams-Amherst contests of all sorts have been lost in the past and will doubtless be lost in the future under circumstances that are far from satisfactory for one reason or another to one or both sides, and post-mortem criticism and explanation should be, I think, very guardedly expressed abroad, particularly in print, to avoid hard feeling and misunderstanding between two such keen but friendly rivals. After all, such defeats are quickly relegated to the "Lost" and "Won" columns as the next chance for revenge approaches. The essential thing from our point of view, I think, is that intangible but very real combination of feelings and observances which we call "Williams Spirit," on the field, on the campus, or among the alumni.

In justice to the cheering section itself on that day, I must say that I was so seated as not to be able to judge whether their efforts were "spiritless," and with their alumni back in force to help, Amherst certainly had good reason to out-cheer us by sheer lung power if by nothing else. I do believe, however, and every alumnus to whom I have spoken in that regard believes with me, that the omission of "The Mountains" after that hard defeat was absolutely inexcusable, and I do not admit the validity of the excuses raised by the three Seniors in their letter of the November 29th issue. In the first place, their plea of ignorance of the custom is weak-kneed, for was not substantially the same discussion carried on at great length in the RECORD last year, when, after our victory on Weston Field, the same sort of omission was made, and the same plea of ignorance following the war's interruption was advanced and accepted that time. Nor was there this year the excuse available that multitudes of house-party guests just had to be whisked off to various tea-dances so that no precious minutes might be lost cheering Amherst or the team or singing "The Mountains." And then again, must each succeeding group of cheerleaders await the promptings of the Editor of the RECORD, or of any other leader of student activity with his own business to attend to first, as the last sentence of the second paragraph of the defending letter would seem to indicate. The last paragraph of that same letter starts a counter-offensive that somehow seems to fail in its objective before the excellent reply of a later editorial.

With so many more or less valuable college customs abolished for better or for worse during the past few college generations, it is a pity if such an obvious, fundamental, revered, and symbolic institution as the singing of "The Mountains," with heads bared, in moments of defeat especially, should be dropped either through the indifference of the student body or through lack of initiative on the part of their chosen and responsible cheer and song leaders or through both working together.

Yours very truly
Charles H. Shons, 1912

Why do so many men "get off" straight Turkish cigarettes?

IT'S not always a matter of price. Many can afford straight Turkish cigarettes, expensive as they are.

The real reason is that straight Turkish cigarettes contain too much Turkish for steady smoking. They are over-rich—even heavy.

Men, for the most part, turn to part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes. And in a great many cases are disappointed. Why? Because the ordinary Turkish Blend contains too little Turkish—it lacks taste.

No doubt this explains Fatima's popularity with discriminating smokers.

For while Fatima does not contain too much Turkish, still it contains more than any other Turkish Blend—in other words "just enough Turkish" to please not tire, the taste.

HISTORY DATES FROM VERY EARLY PERIOD

Original Town Was Incorporated in 1761—Named for Prime Minister Wm. Pitt

The history of Pittsfield is an interesting one. The earliest settlement in what is now Berkshire County was made in Sheffield in 1725, and not for 16 years more was an attempt made to settle in the immediate vicinity of Pittsfield. In the spring of 1743 pioneers from Westfield began the work of clearing the land for settlement, but in the Fall news of the French and Indian Wars reached them and they wisely retired to safer territory. Most important of all the early settlers of Pittsfield was Col. William Williams, who from the time of settlement until the Revolution, held many of the most important offices in the town and county, and took a conspicuous part in the provincial wars. In 1761 Col. Williams was sent to Boston to petition the Legislature to create a new County to include the towns along the westerly border of the State. He also brought from the Plantation of the Poontoosuck a petition to be incorporated as a town. These petitions were granted, and on April 13, 1761, both acts of incorporation were passed. The new town was named Pittsfield for William Pitt, then Prime Minister of Great Britain, who had done much to bring peace and security to the outlying English settlements by waging successful war against the French and Indians.

In the wars between France and England their colonies and respective Indian allies also took part. In the year 1754 the territory now embraced in Berkshire had a population of about 1,500, and of the various towns, Pittsfield, the last to be settled, had the largest population. During the Colonial wars Pittsfield was defended by four forts, Fort Anson, Fort Goodrich, Fort Fairfield, and Fort Ashley.

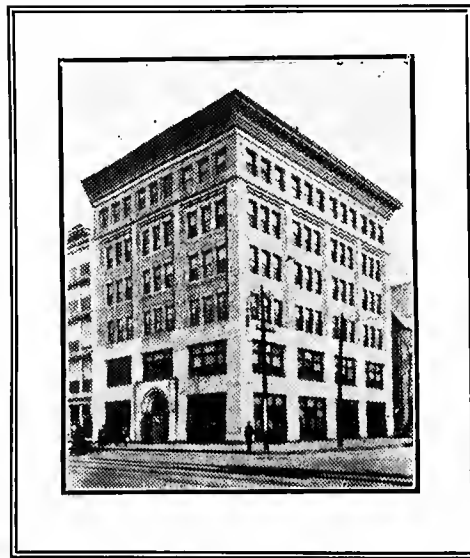

In 1772 the number of families living in Pittsfield was 138, and the total number of inhabitants about 882. Pittsfield organized a militia force prior to the Revolution, which played its part in the battles of Lexington, Ticonderoga, Bunker Hill, Bennington, Saratoga, and the first and second Canadian expeditions, and numerous other engagements and battles. Pittsfield militia made a brilliant and useful record, and the town was proud to honor its courageous and valiant sons.

Throughout the "War of 1812" Pittsfield was the center for gathering of troops from all Berkshire County. The two regiments of infantry, the 9th and 21st, in which the town was represented, were noted for service in the army of the

LABOR EARNS HIGH WAGES

City is Trading Center of Large Territory—Has General
Electric Plant

Pittsfield is the second largest city in Massachusetts west of the Connecticut River. Its population according to the 1920 census was 41,751, and it is growing steadily. It is the trading centre of a territory with a population of 150,000. Its skilled labor earns high wages. These two facts spell prosperity for the retail merchant, not for the summer season alone, but for all four seasons of the year. The volume of mercantile business is tremendous. The city has department stores not excelled in any city of its size on the continent. Its mercantile establishments cover all lines; its stores are modern, attractive and admirably conducted, and the stocks carried are in keeping with these conditions.

No city in New England of like size manufactures so great a variety of product. The goods made are staple and standard. Six continents are Pittsfield's markets.

The manufacturing plants are on the outskirts of the city, and in no way detract from its charm as a place of residence. The fine factory sites, close to the railroads, have not all been occupied. There are numerous good ones still available.

Pittsfield is the home of more than 100 manufacturing establishments, and some of them employ from 1000 to 7000 hands. Chief among them is the Pittsfield works of the General Electric Company. This concern's land holdings cover seventy-eight and one half acres. Its buildings give 1,324,639 square feet of floor space, which will be increased by 200,000 square feet upon the completion of new buildings in the process of erection. The plant represents an investment of more than $3,000,000, and its annual pay roll exceeds $4,000,000. The extensions of the plant now in process, mean that the number of hands will be increased from 7,000 to 8,000, and that the pay roll will be increased by more than half a million dollars. Its yearly output is valued at more than $16,000,000. It makes seventy-five percent of all the electric fans manufactured in this country. Its cooking devices have been standardized by the United States Government and are installed on 35 vessels of the United States navy. There are hotels in this country that have

PITTSFIELD ATTRACTS VISITORS IN SUMMER

Conveniences of City Combined

Berkshire Hills

HIGH IN MOTORISTS' FAVOR

City Has Excellent Hotel Faci-ties—Modern Highways to All Points

Located in the very heart of one of the most famous, charming and popular resort sections of America, the far famed Berkshire Hills, Pittsfield offers peculiar attractions to people seeking summer homes, either permanent or temporary. It is a city with an urban atmosphere where one finds all the conveniences and advantages of the modern municipality, combined with the restfulness and natural beauty of the country. For generations people from all sections have responded to the appeal of this delightful region and the surrounding hills are crowned with the residences of those who have found here the physical attributes which make for health and happiness.

The Berkshire region stands high in the favor of the motorist and they resort to it in great numbers. Pittsfield, with its fine hotels and garages, attracts this class of visitors to the number of many thousands. During the summer vacation period fully 16,000 automobile parties seek accommodations at the Pittsfield hotels and garages. They average at a very conservative estimate, five persons to each party, a total of 80,000 people and they come from all parts of the United States and Canada. It has been estimated, from careful figuration, that each person expends $5 per day, and based on this calculation, the visiting motorists during a season expend $400,000 in Pittsfield, no consideration of the expenditures made among the merchants, being included in these figures.

Within the boundaries of Pittsfield, and all about it, are hotels of the highest type of excellence and desirability. There are numerous high class boarding houses which supply excellent accommodations. Cottages for rental border the city's beautiful lakes, and are available in all sections of the city and adjacent territory. The Country Club of Pittsfield, readily accessible by trolley, with its fine golf course, its tennis courts, its beautiful lake and its superior club house accommodations, is open to temporary residents and transient visitors, under the customary restrictions. Pontoosuc and Onota lakes are near at hand and offer much in the way of recreation.

Highways of the best modern construction, radiate from Pittsfield to all parts of Berkshire and the surrounding region. The trolley system is comprehensive, and brings within easy reach, numerous points of historic interest and scenic beauty.

Pittsfield is a city of homes, pretentious homes, bungalow homes, artistic homes, inviting homes. That the people take pride in their homes is impressively indicated by the care bestowed upon them. Houses are maintained in fine condition, lawns are well kept, flowers are cultivated and the broad streets and avenues are bordered by fine old trees. There is a northern frontier. They won their brightest laurels in the series of conflicts and victories at Chippewa, Landy's Lane, Niagara Falls and Fort Erie.

Pittsfield showed itself to be mutually loyal throughout the Civil War. During the winter before the war the Allen Guards composed of volunteers and financed by Thomas Allen, had been formed. When the command from the governor came to discharge all volunteers not willing to fight the "Guard" voted unanimously to declare themselves ready to serve at a moment's notice. This company was the only one from Western Massachusetts ready to join the Eighth Regiment. They saw no active fighting but served as guards stationed at various points.

The 34th Massachusetts contained two companies raised at Pittsfield. No regiment fought more gallantly or suffered more keenly. It fought in the battles of Lynchburg, Winchester, Petersburg and several other important points.

no other heating or cooking devices than those supplied by this plant. More than half a million electric flat-irons have been shipped from the Pittsfield Works since this labor saving device has been perfected. The big punch in the plant punch more than 100,000 holes in sheets of iron every day. The combined horse power of the 2,000 transformers turned out every year amounts to more than 5,000,000. Approximately 20,000 electric motors of the smaller sizes are turned out annually with a combined horse power of at least 100,000. It is a liberal education to visit this great plant.

Pittsfield's second great industry is the Eaton, Crane & Pike Company, the largest manufacturers of fine stationery in the world—not in the United States alone, but in the world. Its triple plant includes buildings with an aggregate floor space of 269,000 square feet. It employs 1,000 hands and has 40 salesmen who carry its product to all parts of the United States and Canada, to Cuba, Mexico, South America, the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands. It has branch houses in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Denver and Toronto and its goods, every package bearing the words "Made in Berkshire," are on sale in practically every city and town in the United States and Canada. Its daily capacity is two car loads, and that means that 60,000 quires of fine writing paper and 1,500,000 envelopes to match, leave Pittsfield in the daily shipments of this great concern.

In both of these immense plants, every provision is made for the comfort and safety of the employees. The sanitary conditions are of the best, there is adequate ventilation, plenty of light and, so far as is possible, the temperature is kept at normal. There are rest rooms, hospital rooms with trained nurses in charge, benefit associations and other features which indicate the earnest wish of the employers to make working conditions enjoyable, comfortable and healthful.

In this city is located the Government mill which manufactures the distinctive papers upon which Uncle Sam prints his paper currency and government bonds. The Pontotoc Woolen Company manufactures the handsome rugs under which you sleep when traveling in Pullman cars, as well as fine suitings. The S. N. & C. Russell Manufacturing Co., James & E. H. Wilson's Taconic Mills, W. E. Tillotson Mfg. Co., and the Berkshire Woolen Co., also make fine suitings. Underwear is made by the Musgrove Knitting Co. Silk braids which are marketed in all parts of the country, are the product of A. H. Rice Co. The paper mill machinery made by E. D. Jones & Sons Co., is shipped to all parts of the world.

A partial list of the products of the Pittsfield industries, includes bank note paper, bond paper, ledger paper, letter paper and envelopes, automobile and steamer rugs, wool suitings, chinchilla worsteds, electric motors, transformers, fans, lamps, cooking and heating devices, cotton fabrics, underwear, blank books, paper boxes, brick, spark coils, wrenches, silk braid, brooms, mattresses, dies, rubber stamps, candies, cigars and a great variety of other articles.

Pittsfield banking facilities are entirely adequate to the needs of the community. There are eight banking institutions officered by public spirited and progressive men, and several of them stand high on the honor roll of the national reports. The per-capita deposit in the savings and co-operative banks is unusually high.

charm about Pittsfield that is Pittsfield's alone.

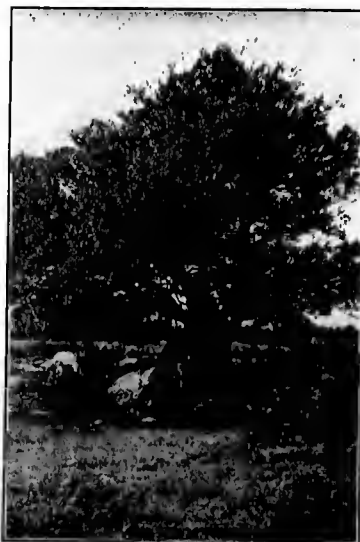

The summer visitor finds here congenial society and a wide diversity of amusements including motoring, driving, riding, golfing, boating, fishing, tennis, league baseball and theatrical attractions of the highest order.

No resort city in the country offers more in the way of attractive surroundings, agreeable living conditions and interesting diversions. Weather conditions are ideal and the man who comes here, will enjoy an experience to which he will look back with lasting delight.

Opportunities Are Rife For College Graduates

Pittsfield is a growing city with every opportunity for development, and as such offers unusual opportunities to college men who have yet to choose the place and the type of their life work. Its two great industries and numerous minor industries represent the last word in scientific development and modern efficiency, and present the conditions educated men are demanding in the present time.

As a prosperous, enterprising, growing city, Pittsfield demands the attention of men who are seeking a large field in which to put their energies to work, and offers them chances for advancement which could not be obtained in a larger but less progressive and more backward city.

As a result of the two interclass basketball games played during the past week the freshmen still lead the league, with a record of four victories and no defeats. The Juniors, who did not play, retained their position in second place owing to the defeats of 1921 and 1923 by the freshmen.

On Tuesday afternoon the freshmen defeated the seniors by the score of 18-7. The game was one-sided throughout, and there was never any doubt of the final result. Blackmer starred for the freshmen.

On Wednesday afternoon 1921 defeated 1923 in an even more unequal game by the score of 30-0. The sophomores were unable to score a point in the first half, but a rally in the second half against the freshman second team netted nine points. In both games the excellent team play of the freshmen appeared to best advantage, and their leadership of the league seems unquestioned.

This afternoon 1921 will face 1923, and 1922 will face 1924, while on Saturday afternoon 1921 will play 1924; and 1922 will meet 1923 in the last scheduled games of the series.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY DISCUSSES BOLSHEVISM

Mr. Jerome P. Davis Before Forum Attacks False Reports in American Press

Mr. Jerome P. Davis addressed the second meeting of the Forum last Monday evening in Jesup Hall on the subject "Bolshevism in Russia and America." Mr. Davis was for two years acting senior secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in Russia.

In opening his speech, Mr. Davis stressed the fact that Russia is 31 times as large as France and that 19 languages are spoken within her borders. For that reason, he said, it is very hard to get true reports of all of Russia. Mr. Davis first entered the kingdom of the Czar in 1916, and thus was able to see the graft and corruption that were present in the ministries of the government with the approval of the Czar. According to the speaker, the Russian workmen received $15 per month and worked about 13 hours a day. In the city of Moscow alone, 12,000 families were living on the average of several families in one room. At least 80% of the people in Russia could not read or write, due to the fact that the Czar's government stifled all education and discouraged thinking. Churches did not attempt to instruct the people for fear of saying something for which the government would hold them to account.

Hatred for the priests was caused by two things. The officers of the church were often secret agents of the Czar, and they were ruled by the landlords and were not allowed to express their own opinions. In describing the condition of the Russian soldier at this period, Mr. Davis said that a private received $25 per month, very poor food and not enough of it, while military units rarely went into battle with the whole force armed. One man out of every three carried a stick instead of a bayonet. The government removed all opportunity on the part of the soldiers to think and told the Y. M. C. A. welfare workers to help the officers if they wanted to help anybody. "The stage was set for the revolution," said Mr. Davis.

This regime of the Czar was swept away by the uprising which followed. Local soviets sprang into existence everywhere among the soldiers and workmen. These soviets were believed in by the people, who did not have great faith in the temporary government. The Jews played

This train will leave Williamstown at 4:30 o'clock and arrive in Albany before 7:00 o'clock, making connections with the Empire State Express which arrives in New York at 10:10.

All men desiring to take the train should sign up in Hopkins Hall before noon tomorrow; tickets will be placed on sale in Jesup Hall Sunday morning after chapel. It may also be of interest to note that the 5:23 o'clock train from Williamstown does not make connections with the Empire State Express, and that the latter train is the last train from Albany to New York arriving before Wednesday morning, December 22.

'CAP AND BELLS' GIVES INITIAL PERFORMANCE

Presents "The Beaux Stratagem" Successfully Before North Adams Audience

PLOT OFFERS DIFFICULTIES

Youngman and Smith Portray Male Parts Best—Baxter Excels in Feminine Acting

"The Beaux Stratagem" was well received last Wednesday when Cap and Bells made its initial bow for the 1920-1921 season in a benefit performance at the Drury High School, North Adams. Farquhar's comedy, although not without the faults of its time, proved a play of no small dramatic interest, full of clever dialogues and odd, but amusing situations.

The presentation of "The Beaux Stratagem" was indeed a difficult task. The play although possessing many quaint and interesting elements and a fund of witty scenes, possesses some of the drawbacks as well as the merits which go with Restoration drama. The cast overcame the handicap imposed by wordy parts and a somewhat fitful flow of action, and succeeded in presenting a thoroughly enjoyable and artistic as well as credible comedy.

Great credit must be given to Mr. Albert Lang not only for his skill in training the cast, but also for adopting and expurgating the text of the play for modern

200th ORGAN RECITAL PLAYED BY MR. SALTER

Mrs. Howes and Mrs. Bogardus Sing—Accompaniment by College Orchestra

Before an audience of nearly 300 people, Mr. Sumner Salter presented his 200th organ recital in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon. In addition to the organ solos, singing by Mrs. George E. Howes, Mrs. Rose Bogardus, and assistants, and accompaniment by the college orchestra made the recital one of the most successful of the series.

Mr. Salter opened the program with the Sonata in the style of Handel, by W. Wolstenholme, the introduction to which was rather too strenuous for the echoes in Grace Hall, although its large and nimble movements were quite effective. Unevenness characterized the orchestral accompaniment in the Pastoral Symphony from Handel's Messiah, but in the recitation "Then shall the eyes of the blind" and in the air "He shall feed His flock," Mrs. Howes's voice was charming, as was also that of Mrs. Bogardus in the air "Come unto Him." Three quiet tone-pieces on the birth of Christ followed: The Shepherds in the Field, The Three Wise Men

Senior Committees Chosen

Committees for the Senior Supper and the Senior Prom were chosen by the Class Day Committee this week. The Supper Committee is composed of Belcher, Hubbard, and Phillips '21. The 1921 Prom Committee elected Carr chairman; the following men compose the body: Burger, Cole, Dana, Eaton, Jones, Mixer, Patton, Richardson, E. P. Taylor, and Tyler '21.

1922 'GUL' WILL BE LARGER THAN BEFORE

Featured by Special Sections and Many More Illustrations—Price Is Reduced

Work on the 1922 Gulchmensian is progressing rapidly, and according to present plans the volume will be ready for delivery by May 15, the earliest date that it has ever appeared. The book will show distinct progress over volumes of past years through the introduction of several new, special features, and the employment of a large number of unusual drawings and other illustrations, which will make this volume the biggest yet produced.

The board of editors has promised to provide something new in the way of a surprise section as well as the inclusion of several other new and startling ideas, the exact nature of which they are not ready to disclose as yet. In place of the cloth covers which have been utilized in the last few years, the present volume will be provided with a durable artistic cover manufactured from cowhide through a new process by the Malloy Company of Chicago. The cover design, which will be imprinted in gold, is by Jeffries '22. Gloss white paper will be used, decorated by a panel effect somewhat similar to that of last year, and the printing will be black as usual. The type is the same as that of the 1921 volume.

Special colored inserts will be employed to mark the various sections of the book and afford contrast to the regular illustrations. Continuing the precedent set in previous years, other full page illustrations will be scattered through the book, and an unusually large section will be devoted specially to snapshots of college life and its exponents.

The burial of Ephraim Williams in the Chapel, the Williams Honor Roll, and the performance of Brown '20 in the Olympic Games will all receive special sections, while the football and other important athletic write-ups will be featured in a manner not attempted heretofore. A full page photograph of the New York Alumni Dinner and a review of the event will be included as usual. The general order of the book will be much the same as last year. Reviews of several activities never before recognized will be included whereas others that have lost their significance will be omitted.

Train Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the special train returning from New York will be on sale tonight in Jesup Hall from 7.15 to 8.30 o'clock and on Sunday morning after chapel. The price of an upper berth will be $11.50 and of a lower, $12.25. The train will leave New York on the morning of January 5 at 12.25 o'clock and will arrive in Williamstown in time for chapel that morning. The pullmans will be ready for occupancy in the Grand Central Station at 10.30 p. m. The cars of the specials from Chicago and Buffalo will be attached to this train at Albany.

J. M. Williams and Montgomery '22 have been awarded the agency for this special. By taking this train, men will be able to spend Tuesday evening in New York and return to Williamstown in time for chapel, which they cannot do by taking any other train.

College Receives Major Portion of Estate Through Will of Francis L. Stetson

DONOR WAS PROMINENT TRUSTEE MANY YEARS

Main Gift Made Practically Without Conditions—Provides 8 Scholarships

Williams College is the recipient of the residuary estate of the late Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson, formerly Senior trustee of the College, who died at his home in New York on December 5. The entire estate has been estimated at $2,500,000, and of this amount, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 will be given to the College under the terms of the will, which was filed for probate last Tuesday.

The gift to Williams College is expressed in the 27th section of the will. "All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate I give to the President and Trustees of Williams College (a corporation of Massachusetts), upon condition that it will forever maintain and keep in good order the Williams College Cemetery, including the graves and monument of my beloved wife and myself, Stetson Road, Lynde Lane, and the planting in connection therewith; and that therefrom it will pay all succession, transfer and inheritance taxes chargeable against every devise and bequest herein contained." To the residuary estate is to be added the sums of $25,000, $20,000, and $15,000 which are given to the trustees in trust to pay the income thereof to three beneficiaries mentioned under the will. In addition, $200,000 will accrue to the College on the death of Mrs. Elbridge L. Adams and which is given to her under the conditions of the above bequests. $300,000 more is placed in trust to pay the income to Mrs. Adams and will revert to the College if she shall fail to appoint a person in her will or if such appointee shall be unable to receive the money.

HOCKEY SCHEDULED TO BEGIN SATURDAY

R. P. I. to be Met in First Game of Year Provided Weather Conditions Permit

Weather permitting, Williams will face R. P. I. in the first hockey game of the 1920-1921 season on the Cole Field rink at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Since neither team has had any ice practice, nothing definite can be said concerning comparative strength or weakness, but from all pre-season appearances Williams will have an unusually strong team.

One of the largest squads of recent years reported to Captain Irwin for shooting practice over two weeks ago, and has been working each afternoon, at first in the gymnasium and then in the football cage, where two shooting platforms have been installed.

With six regulars from last year's team, several more men from last year's squad, and fine material in the freshman class, the prospects for the season are bright. Captain Irwin, Beckett, and Rowse won their letters last year, while Buell, Phelps, Mackie, and Stevenson each played in several games. In the shooting practice Brucker, R. Clark, G. Dewey, Mixer, and W. E. Richmond have been showing up well among the upperclassmen, and Barnwell, Bigelow, Carpenter, Pressprich, and Stevenson have stood out among the freshmen, and will undoubtedly make a hard fight for places on the team after midyears.

Our Debt to Mr. Stetson

Mr. Stetson's generous gift to the College under the terms of his will again places us in his debt. As he was during his lifetime a friend and benefactor to Williams, his kindness and help continue even after his death to make us grateful for all that he has done for the College today, and for the generations of Williams men to come.

Criminal Indifference

The poor attendance at the Forum Monday evening, when an exceptional opportunity was offered to hear authoritative discussion on a subject in which every intelligent man should be interested, was not only lamentable, but possesses a certain significance which it is impossible to overlook.

We are unwilling to believe that Williams men lack any desire to be well-informed concerning the questions which face the world today, but the apathy which has been apparent on the campus this fall in regard to political affairs must lead us, willy-nilly, to such a conclusion. During the presidential campaign there was some idle speculation in regard to the outcome of the election, but very little intelligent discussion of the issues at stake, in spite of the fact that a large number of undergraduates are registered voters. And with the election of Mr. Harding even this idle speculation ceased, and everybody settled comfortably back as if all the problems of the world had now been adequately settled. They have not. This country and all the countries of Europe now face conditions which are almost without parallel in history. There are forces at work in the world today which threaten to bring us to a crisis within a few years, when we shall face disaster to our institutions and to our governments, unless we are prepared to handle the situation intelligently. It is dinned into our ears from every side that the leadership of the nation lies in the hands of college men, that it is to college graduates that the future generation must look for guidance. If such be true, then we are not only cheating ourselves, but we are disloyal to our country, and to our fellow-men, if we neglect to prepare ourselves for the work that is before us.

The Forum is at present the only organization in College directed toward stimulating interest in political matters. It is the only organization which presents to the student body opportunities for securing information along this line. It is because of this fact that the miserable attendance last Monday is significant. An exceptional opportunity was offered, one which will not be duplicated in Williamstown every day, nor every month. Yet there was an attitude of complete indifference toward it.

We cannot too strongly commend the work that the Forum is trying to do. It is in every way admirable, and this year's officers are trying to make their meetings of real interest, and of real value. We trust that they will not be discouraged by the feeble response exhibited thus far, but will continue along the line which they have pursued, in the hopes that the value of their meetings will be appreciated to a fuller extent in time to come. There are men in Williams College now who will be offered the opportunities within a few years to perform great services to the world. For them to neglect now to prepare for the problems of the future which they must face, is nothing less than criminal.

Bishop Fiske to Address W. C. A. at Noon Meeting

Contrary to the usual custom, the regular meeting of the W. C. A. next Sunday, at which Bishop Fiske will speak, will be held in the Jesup Hall Auditorium at noon instead of at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The purpose of this change is to allow all those fraternity members who are having Christmas dinners Sunday evening to attend the meeting.

ALUMNI CLUBS FORM

Organizations Formed by Choate and Exeter Graduates

Two more preparatory school clubs, formed of alumni of Choate and Exeter, were organized at Williams during the past week. Both organizations were formed with objects similar to those of the other school clubs now existing, namely, to bind the alumni of the respective institutions now in Williams closer together, and to encourage more men to come to Williams.

Hibbard '21 was elected president of the Choate Club at a meeting held last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. At the same time, Burger '22 was chosen vice-president, and Lunt '23 was made secretary. It is planned to hold a banquet for members of the club in the near future. A meeting will be held soon for furthering the organization plans, and for approving a constitution which will be drawn up.

The Exeter alumni elected Underwood '22 president at their meeting which was held at 7:30 o'clock last evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. Cobb '22 was chosen vice-president, and Terry '22 was made secretary. Shortly after the Christmas recess a meeting will be held to discuss and approve a constitution for the club.

BISHOP TO SPEAK

Dr. Charles Fiske Will Conduct Services in Chapel

Bishop Charles Fiske of Syracuse, N. Y., will occupy the pulpit at the Sunday morning chapel service, December 19. He is well known to Williams men, having delivered addresses here frequently at various times during the past few years, and will speak at a meeting of the W. C. A. in Jesup Hall at noon next Sunday.

Bishop Fiske graduated from St. Stephen's College, Allendale, N. Y., in 1893, and received the degree of B.D. from the General Theological Seminary in 1896. In 1912 he was given the D.D. degree by St. Stephen's College, and LL.D. by Syracuse University in 1916. From 1897 to 1900 Dr. Fiske was rector at Westfield, N. J., and filled several other similar positions in Pennsylvania and Maryland until 1915, when he was consecrated Bishop Coadjutor of Central New York. Dr. Fiske is the author of: The Perils of Respectability, The Experiment of Faith, Back to Christ, The Faith by Which We Live, Sacrifice and Service, and The Religion of The Incarnation.

YOUTH paints in brilliant colors.
To older, dimmer eyes the wonder

In engineering, the sciences or whatever other work you take up, you will go far if youth means to you enthusiasm, faith in your ambitions, the spirit that exults in achieving what other men call impossible.

So while you plug away at those knotty problems in hydraulics or conic sections, keep an open mind to the larger issues—visions of great achievement through great service.

To the youthful Bell, as he experimented in the vibrating properties of eardrum and tuning-fork, came in fancy the clear tones of human speech pulsating over wires from far away. Without the vision he could not later have evolved the living fact.

You have a like opportunity now to think about your work in a broad way—and the bigger your purpose and your will to serve, the bigger your accomplishment.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary

Discusses Bolshevism

an important part in the soviets in direct opposition to their place under the Czar. This first period might well be called the "Honeymoon of the Russian Revolution."

Requests for an expression of the terms of peace and of the aims of the war were sent to the Allied powers, that the Russian soldier might know exactly what he was fighting for and that the desertions might cease. The Bolshevik revolution came before these requests were answered. The workmen wanted the economic and the political power, the peasants wanted the land, and the dissatisfaction with the government of Kerensky grew. The Bolsheviks were a small minority, but they grew with the dissatisfaction of the workmen and soldiers, who compose 97% of the population. In Petrograd, they seized the government with little bloodshed, but in Moscow there were several days of street fighting. They nationalized the banks and made it necessary to obtain an order from the Secretary of War in order to draw out deposits.

Workers Attempt Management

Factories were to be managed by the workmen under the Bolshevik regime, but they proved themselves unable to continue production and so lost the control. In speaking in this connection, Mr. Davis said that the Bolsheviks frequently changed their theories. They intended to establish one wage scale, but now they have 35 different classifications with the teachers in the first class. The manual workers have an eight-hour day, and the brain workers have but a six-hour day. Orders from the soviet are necessary to obtain anything. When the factory workers were dissatisfied with their food and other conditions, and deserted to the farms, the government militarized the workers in order to force them to remain at their positions and keep the factories going.

Education, according to the speaker, is now being spread, but the Marxian and other such theories are taught. In addition, the lack of supplies has caused a large amount of disease. Mr. Davis gave a short summary of the life of Lenin, the head of the present government, placing stress on the fact that his brother had been killed by the Czar, that he was of noble family, that he had been exiled twice and that for these reasons he opposed governments.

"Bolshevik" is the Russian word meaning majority. The Russians are a childish and uneducated people and were easily persuaded to try it. After all has been considered, said Mr. Davis, it really is a step in advance of the Czar's government.

Newspapers in this country have been spreading a false opinion of Russia after the Revolution, and such stories as the nationalization of women, the speaker branded as absolutely false. In the opinion of the speaker, which coincides with that of most of the educated Russians in this country, the best thing to do for Russia is to raise the blockade immediately and allow the Russian to work out his own salvation. "They have won the war test, and now, in peace, if they cannot produce, they will fail," said Mr. Davis.

Mr. Davis sees no Bolshevism in America. The Americans are an educated people with a share in the government and most of them do not know what Bolshevism means. Bolshevism springs from discontent and the cause of it must be removed. In explaining recent strikes, Mr. Davis asserted that 72% of the workers of the United States Steel Corporation worked for less than a comfort wage and that most of them worked from 11 to 13 hours a day. According to the speaker, the officials tried to call the strike Bolshevism because that was a term unpopular with the public. Mr. Davis said that the larger the injustice, the greater the Bolshevism. In the logging industry, there are more I. W. W.'s than in any other occupation, because the living conditions are of the poorest and there is great injustice to the workers. In the recent Red raids, Mr. Davis said that of the men he interviewed, but three percent had a kind thing done for them by Americans.

In speaking of the War, he said that 5,000 millionaires were the legacy of the struggle in America, and that 2,000 corporations made over 100% profit. He expressed the menace to America as lying in the money spirit, in the accumulation of wealth at the expense of the workers and the public. He ended his speech by saying that it is the duty of college men to give the United States a serving church, a serving state, and a serving economic system, and never to make financial remuneration their primary object.

An open discussion followed the meeting.

'Cap and Bells' Gives Initial Performance

production. The character of Scrub was practically created by Mr. Lang. The fact that this part, as acted by Youngman '22 was undoubtedly the most popular of the male actors is a sufficient attribute to his work.

Professor Weston, who assisted in preparing the text for dramatization, commented very favorably on the presentation in North Adams. He emphasized the importance of the play as a representative of the older type of comedy and also expressed confidence that the play would be well received by the alumni, who would be able to fully appreciate its artistic qualities.

The play is so constructed that there was little difference in the importance of the two leading male parts, Aimwell and Archer, acted by Clark and Zalles '22 respectively. These characters represent two soldiers of fortune who, having nearly exhausted their money seek to retrieve their former stations by lucrative marriages. Clark proved well fitted to delineate the somewhat haughty, prepossessing air of the master, whereas Zalles with suave, easy manner and fluent speech was even more apt in representing the brother adventurer, who in furtherance of their mutual designs, had assumed the guise of his servant. Smith '22 as Boniface proved a typical innkeeper and from the standpoint of pure acting deserves the highest honors. In popularity, however, he was surpassed by Youngman, who playing the part of Scrub, drew most of the hearty laughs from the audience.

Undoubtedly the best of the female actors was Baxter '23. As Cherry, the innkeeper's daughter, he received the amorous attentions of Archer in a bold and vivacious manner which contributed in a large measure to the success of the play. Power '21 and Rose '22 also proved well adapted for playing the leading female parts. As Dorinda and Mrs. Sullen they fell violently in love with the two adventurers and were finally won by their advances. Rose portrayed with admirable skill the character of a mistreated wife, angrily spurning in one scene her gruff husband and receiving graciously the attentions of Archer in the next. Power was really pretty to look at and might well have been taken for Dorinda's charming sister-in-law. His acting was particularly fine in the closing scenes of the play, where he characterized his part with unusual skill.

Among the less important, Atwell '21 portrayed Gibbet, the blustering highwayman impersonating an army officer. Terry '22 as Foigard, was clever in persistently pretending to be French despite his self-convicting brogue. Cutler '21 brought out strongly the gruff nature of Mr. Sullen, but otherwise his manner was a little stiff.

The entire cast follows:

Aimwell .....	Clark '22
Archer .....	Zalles '22
Sullen .....	Cutler '21
Freeman .....	McAneny '23
Foigard .....	Terry '22
Gibbet .....	Atwell '21
Hounslow .....	S. Phillips '22
Bagshot .....	Larkin '23
Boniface .....	N. P. Smith '22
Scrub .....	Youngman '22
Lady Bountiful .....	Loizeaux '22
Dorinda .....	Power '22
Mrs. Sullen .....	Rose '22
Gipsy .....	Bruce '22
Cherry .....	Baxter '23

Great Williams Benefactor Leaves $1,500,000 Bequest

Eight scholarships are provided under the terms of the will, as follows: "I give to the President and Trustees of Williams College at Williamstown, Mass., the sum of $100,000 for the establishment and maintenance of not more than eight scholarships to be awarded to worthy, faithful and competent students faithfully attending as undergraduates at Williams College, and coming from Clinton County, N. Y., preference being given to applicants in the following order: (1) Those from the City of Plattsburg, (2) from the town of Champlain, (3) from the town of Chazy, (4) from the town of Ausable, (5) from the town of Essex in Essex County; such scholarships to bear my name and to be awarded only to applicants whose qualifications as above stated shall be found to be sufficient in the opinion of the college Faculty to justify the award of such scholarship. Any unused income shall be added to the principle. If the applicants from the five places above named shall not be sufficient to exhaust the scholarships, the principle of the fund shall be increased accordingly. I intend to limit the operation of this fund to the youth of the North Country from which I and my parents came."

Mr. Stetson made many large bequests to private individuals and to numerous institutions and organizations, chiefly in New York City. In section 24 of the will, Mr. Stetson gave to the "Trustees of the Chapter of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity in Williams College" the sum of $25,000, and to the "Executive Council of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity" the amount of $10,000.

from the East, and Bethlehem. Mrs. Bogardus sang beautifully the immortal Ave Maria, ably accompanied by piano, violin, and organ. Christmas in Sicily, an old favorite, was effectively played, with a soft sound as of chimes in the background.

The two best numbers on the program followed. The first was Schubert's The Twenty-third Psalm, sung with remarkable harmony by Mrs. Bogardus, Mrs. Pike, and Miss Smith, sopranos, and Mrs. Howes, Miss Howes, and Miss Neyland, altos. Handel's Largo, always majestic and moving, was ably played by the orchestra and organ. O Sanctissimus, a fantasia by Friedrich Lux, closed the program in an interesting manner with its succession of contrasted light and heavy movements.

The entire program was ably rendered by Mr. Salter and his associates. The singing of the sextet was admirably fitted to the occasion and is a special feature of the Christmas recital. Christmas in Sicily was easily the best received selection of the program, although the vocal numbers were well appreciated.

game before he has had a chance to watch the work of the candidates on the ice. The actual lineup will thus remain indefinite until cold weather permits ice practice.

R. P. I. expects to have one of the strongest teams in its history. Eight men from last year's team have returned to college, and the lineup will be practically unchanged from that of last year. No practice of any kind has been held, however, and the lineup is thus necessarily indefinite, but the team will be picked from the following men: Captain Tierney, Armstrong, Barker, Cook, Lawler, MacIntyre, Morgan, and Ruther.

he has played for the last two years. With the conclusion of the football season he engaged in basketball, playing center on the varsity team. He was elected president of the Junior class and a member of the No-Deal committee in 1919, and has served for the past two years on the Student Council and Fire Brigade, being this year chosen a captain of the latter.

To form the nucleus of next year's squad Captain-elect Fargo will have eleven men who have this season been awarded football W's: Burger, Vronman, J. E. Wilson '22, Boynton, Garvin, Humes, Laws, Mallon, Monjo, Richmond, and Shuttleworth '23.

Although Fargo has played on the varsity for two years, his playing during the past season alone is sufficient recommendation for his election to the captaincy of next year's eleven. The confidence of the entire team was his all through the 1920 season, due to his rapid and accurate work in the position of right tackle. Playing consistently steady football, Fargo is undoubtedly the most able man in the line. He is an exceptionally hard tackler, charges hard, and is also a good man in making interference on plays through the line.

Fargo is a member of the Kappa Beta Phi and Gargoyles societies and of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

ELECT RICHARDSON '22 TO CLASS PRESIDENCY

Blake '22 Is Selected by Junior Class Also to Fill Vacant
Vice-Presidency

PROPOSE NO-DEAL CHANGE

Nominating Committee Appointed by President Is Suggested
Method of Choosing

William Rittenhouse Richardson, of Jersey City, N. J., and Philip Randall Blake, of Springfield, Mass., were elected president and vice-president respectively of the Junior Class at a meeting held in Jesup Hall last Monday evening. At the same time it was decided to change the method of nomination in class elections.

Richardson, who was elected to fill the office left vacant by the resignation of Arthur Lewis Hurst from College, is a graduate of Lincoln High School, in Jersey City. While there he was on the swimming and football teams and editor-in-chief of the school annual. During his sophomore year at Williams he was manager of the Class basketball team, and a member of the Auxiliary Prom Committee. He is a member of the varsity swimming team and was treasurer of his class during the spring term last year. This year he was elected vice-president of the Junior Class and is also Assistant Manager of Track. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Blake was elected treasurer of his Class in his Freshman year. The next year he was treasurer of the W. C. A., a member of the Student Council and Auxiliary Prom Committee, and received the second Benedict prize in Latin and Sophomore Honors. This year he is Assistant Manager of the football team, a member of the Student Council, the No-Deal Committee, the Interfraternity Council and the Guelphmension and Handbook Boards, and is a 2nd Lieutenant of the Fire Brigade. He is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

In addition the Class passed a motion that in the future class nominations be made by a nominating committee appointed by the President, with the addition of vocal nominations from the floor, instead of by a written ballot. This motion was referred to the No-Deal Committee for approval, but up to the present time no action has been taken by the Committee.

CERCLE ADDRESSED

Prof. Droppers Speaks on Value of French Language

At a meeting of the Cercle Francais in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall yesterday evening Professor Droppers spoke on the subject, "The Importance of the French Language." During the open discussion which followed his talk, Power '21, president of the organization, tendered his resignation and Conn '21 was elected to fill his place, while Kent '21 was made secretary to take the position left vacant by Conn.

Professor Droppers opened his talk by emphasizing the value of French as part of a liberal education such as that given at Williams, pointing out the fact that a knowledge of this language is absolutely essential in diplomatic circles. He then explained the absurdity of learning Esperanto, a language without traditions and literature and fully as hard to master as French. He also mentioned the growing popularity of Spanish, stating, however, that the latter language was far from attaining the universal importance of French. In closing, Professor Droppers reminded his audience that every branch of science contains important contributions written in the French language so that a knowledge of this tongue opens up a vast field of information to all those who are equipped to avail themselves of it.

COLLEGE NOTES

Freshman toques have arrived, and may be obtained at any time at "Cabe" Prindle's. Holmes and Roche '23 have been appointed agents for the hats, and have announced that the price is two dollars. The colors are blue and white, the 1924 official colors.

The following freshmen have entered the competition for second assistant business manager of the Graphic: Brayton, Bonyne, Chase, Foster, Jeffry, Lam, L. O'Brien, Osburne, and Patton.

For the purpose of forming a Lawrenceville Club, a meeting will be held in the Jesup Hall Reading Room Sunday morning after chapel of all the graduates of Lawrenceville.

Two Strong Rivals Break

Due to the inability of either team to set a date convenient to the other, Dartmouth and Brown will not clash on the gridiron in the 1921 football season. The relation between the two colleges was renewed several years ago after a lapse of ten years.

BASKETBALL TEAM IS ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Coach Shanahan Is Grounding Squad in Fundamentals of The Game

Under the direction of Coach Shanahan the varsity basketball team is rapidly rounding into excellent shape for the coming season. The squad is in the best of condition as a result of the hard scrimmages which are being held each afternoon, and excellent team play has developed.

During the past three weeks Coach Shanahan has been devoting his time mainly to the fundamentals of the game, shooting and passing, and after Christmas will begin work on the finer points of the game. Although all of the men who played on the squad last year have been showing up well in practice, the need of a fast second team is felt, since very few new candidates of promise reported this year. This difficulty, however, will be removed when the freshmen begin to practice with the varsity, as soon as the interclass series is concluded.

A tentative lineup has been chosen which has been tried out in scrimmage with good results. At present Captain Beckwith and Wightman are playing in the forward positions, Fargo at centre, and Wilson and Hyde are holding the guard positions. Captain Beckwith throughout the scrimmages has been shooting with all his old accuracy both from the field and from the foul line. Fargo has been rapidly rounding into shape, and will undoubtedly prove to be a great asset to the team, especially on the defense, where his strength and ranginess appear to best advantage. Wilson, playing a running guard, has probably been showing the most brilliant game of any of the members of the squad. He has been coming down the floor and scoring almost as often as the forwards, and yet has been covering his man well and showing excellent form in defense. Wightman has been playing a consistent and sometimes brilliant game, while, Hyde tends to be a bit erratic. Kellogg who has been alternating with Hyde, is also erratic, but should prove valuable with more practice.

Beginning on Monday, after the close of the interclass series, a number of freshmen will be asked to practice regularly with the squad, and will participate in the scrimmages. Coach Shanahan may decide to have the freshman team scrimmage at times with the varsity, although it is more probable that freshmen will play only as individuals. The team should be greatly strengthened by the addition of the freshmen after midyears, and there should be a hard fight for several of the positions.

CIRCULO HEARS TALK

Prof. Buffington Talks on Rise and Decline of Spain

Professor Buffington addressed the Circulo Espanol at its third meeting of the year yesterday evening in the Common Room of Currier Hall, taking as his subject "The Greatness and Decline of Spain."

Spain reached its period of greatest influence in the 16th century, the speaker stated. Previous to this period, development was retarded by geographical isolation and civil strife, which have made the Spanish a race somewhat aloof from the characteristics of other Europeans.

With startling suddenness Spain burst into world politics under Ferdinand and Isabella, who ascended the throne in 1469. Their chief accomplishments were the unification of Spain, the establishment of the religious Inquisition, the beginnings of interference in international affairs, and the all-important work of colonization in the New World.

Under Philip II, Spain was the dominant power of Europe. During the 17th century, however, decline set in rapidly, on account of the weakness of the monarchical government and the rising power of France, England, and the Netherlands. Although possessing more resources than its foes, Spain used them for military rather than economical purposes, thus sealing its own doom.

CARNIVAL IS PLANNED

Outing Club Has Invited Seven Colleges to Participate

Plans for the 1921 Winter Carnival, the second annual event of its kind ever held at Williams, are now being made by the Outing Club Council. February 3rd and 4th have been chosen as the dates for the event, and elaborate arrangements are in progress. Invitations have been extended to Dartmouth, Middlebury, McGill, University of Vermont, New Hampshire State and Colgate, and it is expected that at least 25 men from these colleges will take active part. A carnival committee has been appointed, of which the executive branch consists of the officers of the Outing Club. Joslyn '21 was placed in charge of the preparation of events and Richardson '22 in charge of the entertainment of visitors. The six men who show up best in this local carnival will be sent to Hanover to represent Williams in the Dartmouth Carnival.

At a recent meeting of the Council it was reported that the ski jump on Orchard Hill had been completed, from which it is expected that a sixty foot jump can be made. The membership in the club now numbers about 200 men, and preparations are being made for numerous hikes and extended trips.

1924 CHAMPIONS IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Freshmen Receive One Defeat at Hands of Seniors Who Win Second Position

1922 AND 1923 ARE TIED

Possibilities for Varsity are Revealed in Fast Games of Interclass Series

Standing of the Teams
	Won	Lost	Pct.
1924	5	1	.833
1921	3	3	.500
1922	2	4	.333
1923	2	4	.333

Despite a defeat at the hands of the 1921 team last Saturday afternoon, the Freshman quintet won the annual interclass basketball series by a safe margin, having held first place throughout the entire season. Four games played last Friday and Saturday afternoons resulted in the advancement of the Senior team to second place, and gave the Sophomore five a tie for third place with 1922, which, until the last games, was second in the league.

In the first game of Friday afternoon, 1921 defeated 1923, 14-10. The game was featured by excellent teamwork on both sides, and the result was in doubt to the last second of play. E. P. Taylor starred for the senior five by his frequent scoring, but on the Sophomore quintet, the honors were more evenly divided, four out of the five members of the team scoring at least once.

The Freshman five won its last victory of the series in the second Friday game, when the Junior team went down to an inglorious 24-6 defeat at the hands of the superior Freshman quintet. The third-year team seemed to have at least a fighting chance at half time, when the score was 9-3 in the Freshman's favor, but after the whistle had blown for the start of the second half, the game was one Freshman score after another, and every member of the team played hard and fast. Blackmer again starred for 1924.

On Saturday afternoon, play started with the Freshman-Senior game, which, with an 8-1 score, lost to the first year.

W. C. A. ACHIEVES REAL SUCCESS IN ITS WORK

Varied Lines of Endeavor Are Carried on This Fall by Nine Committees

In spite of the apparent handicap caused by the lack of a regular secretary, the Williams Christian Association has undergone a remarkable renaissance this fall and already achieved success in a large number of undertakings both within the College precincts and in the surrounding territory. Its policy has been to emphasize the spiritual life of the college, placing outside activities in an important but secondary position.

Chief credit for the success of the program thus far rests with Charles C. Noble '21, who, in addition to being president of the association, has assumed all the duties of a general secretary as well and devoted a large share of his time to the work. Under his leadership the W. C. A. Cabinet, including all the committee chairmen, has directed and carried out the detailed work of the association. The various committees have been made up from the student body, and range from 8 to 40 members in size. At the meeting of the Field Council of New England Colleges in November the work at Williams was characterized as the best of those from which reports were received for the fall term, and the Williams representative was elected secretary of the Field Council for the current year and one of the two

REV. FISKE SPEAKS AT W. C. A. MEETING

Bishop Gives Informal Talk on Divinity of Christ Before Special Gathering

Choosing for his subject "The Divinity of Christ as Expressed by the Doctrine of the Incarnation," Bishop Charles Fiske addressed the regular meeting of the W. C. A. which was held in Jesup Hall yesterday noon. Dr. Fiske, although he admitted that this was not a topic fitting for a sermon of the popular type, affirmed that it was one which should be seriously considered by every college man.

As an illustration of why Christ's coming on earth was a necessary part of God's plan for the development of the human race, Bishop Fiske told a fairy story about a young prince, who found that the only way in which he could prevent all the birds in the garden of the palace from being frozen to death, was to be made one of them through the magic power of his fairy god-mother. In just the same way, said Dr. Fiske, God found it necessary to assume human form in the being of Jesus Christ so that He might tell men of His love towards them, and of His realization of the sorrows and troubles of their lives upon earth. Because of this fact, the true heart of the Christian Religion centers more about the Christmas story than about the Cross of Calvary. Furthermore, Christ's life was given to mankind for an example to show them how they should live straight along in the line of duty even in the face of death, and to lead them on in the way of the life everlasting.

The message that the Christian Religion should bring to men, went on Bishop Fiske, concerning the life of Christ, is that it is the unveiling of the heart of God to mankind. Everyone is bound to run up against serious spiritual problems in his life, and it is this lesson of the life of the Saviour, which furnishes us something

Medals for Ex-Army Men

Victory medals will be distributed to ex-Army men at 7.30 o'clock this evening at the American Legion Rooms on Spring Street, over the Savings Bank. A representative of the Army Recruiting Service will issue the medals to all men who present certificates of service or discharge, and men who served in the S. A. T. C. will be vouchered for from the records of the Williams unit if they have not access to their service records.

The men who served in the Navy or Marine Corps can obtain their medals from any naval recruiting station. Attention is called to the fact that the medals will be given outright to men whose service records are sufficiently accurate and official.

DR. LICKLIDER GIVES HISTORY OF COMEDY

Farquhar Wrote "Beaux' Stratagem" in 1707 While on Sick Bed Close to Theatre

"The Beaux' Stratagem," by George Farquhar, is of particular interest to students of the drama because of its history and importance as one of the most well-known plays marking the end of the Restoration period. Dr. Licklider, Professor of the drama at Williams, has been kind enough to write a brief resume of the important circumstances pertaining to this year's Cap and Bells' production:

"George Farquhar (1677-1707), the author of The Beaux' Stratagem, is the last of the Restoration dramatists and the first of that distinguished Eighteenth Century School which culminates in Goldsmith and Sheridan. From Congreve and his kind Farquhar inherited a stage tradition of fine ladies, dashing beaux, smart servants, and elaborate intrigue; but to Goldsmith and Sheridan he bequeathed a fresher air, a wider range of comic interest, and a healthier moral tone.

"He led comedy out of the close atmosphere of the Restoration London drawing-room, into the country-house, the inn, and even the highway: he taught it to say goodbye to the fops and frail ladies, and introduced it to honest country-folk. His comedies smell of beer and cheese, but not of musk.

"The Beaux' Stratagem (1707), one of Farquhar's best plays, and certainly the most popular, was written during the author's last illness, and while the Haymarket Theatre thundered with applause of the play, the playwright lay dying in a wretched attic not far away. Since its

FRESHMEN ADDED TO BASKETBALL SQUAD

End of Interclass Series Releases Several First Year Men for Varsity

With the close of the interclass basketball series several members of the Freshman team will report this afternoon for the last varsity practice which will be held before the Christmas vacation.

On resuming practice in January Coach Shanahan will utilize the new material in scrimmages with the varsity players although the first year men will not be eligible until after the midyear examinations. The addition of the freshmen to the squad, however, should furnish strong resistance to the regular players. Among the new men who seem likely candidates are Blackmer, who starred consistently in the interclass series and Kellogg who showed good form. Pease and Jayne are also possibilities.

After Christmas, practice will begin in earnest in preparation for the first game of the season on January 13 with Colgate. Coach Shanahan expects to play special attention to the finer points of the game and may develop several new formations. Captain Beckwith and Wightman will probably open the season in the forward positions. Fargo is developing rapidly at center and, although a little inaccurate in shooting, is at present playing an excellent defensive game. Wilson has been showing up exceedingly well as running guard. He is fast on the offense in addition to being strong and aggressive in defense. At present there are several likely candidates for the other guard position. Hyde plays an excellent game at times, but has a tendency to be erratic. Kellogg is also promising and will probably alternate with Hyde in the position at guard.

Bishop Fiske Gives Talk

Bishop Charles Fiske, who conducted the service in the College Chapel yesterday morning gave an informal address to undergraduates belonging to the Episcopal Church in Jesup Hall in the evening. At the close of the meeting C. L. Taylor and Moody '21 were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the St. John's Society.

Bishop Fiske opened his talk with a description of his life as a layman before he thought of taking orders, and by drawing conclusions from his experiences as a young man, which he considered as typical, he pointed out very definite ways for an undergraduate to keep from losing hold of the spiritual side of his life without assuming a narrowly pious mental outlook. After the Bishop's address an informal discussion was held.

INITIAL PERFORMANCE FAVORABLY RECEIVED

Alumni to Act as Hosts for Men in Cast—Dancing Will Follow Each Play

Cap and Bells will present The Beaux' Stratagem, by George Farquhar, in New York and three neighboring cities in the course of the trip which will be taken during the Christmas holidays. The initial performance of the play was given with considerable success in North Adams last Wednesday evening, and with the cordial support which has been given by Williams alumni The Beaux' Stratagem should achieve a like success at each presentation.

The first performance will be given in East Orange, N. J., at the Woman's Club, on Tuesday, January 28, at 8.15 p. m. The members of the cast will assemble at the Club at 2.00 in the afternoon for a final rehearsal, after which they will meet their hosts of the evening, with whom they will have dinner. The tickets for the East Orange performance are $2.20 each, and may be obtained from the local manager, Mr. Durand H. Van Doren '14.

The members of the cast will assemble at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, St. Felix Street and Lafayette Ave., at 4.30 o'clock for a short rehearsal before the next performance. The Brooklyn presentation will be given for the benefit of the Faith Home for Incurables, and the local manager will be Mrs. Charles S. Burr, the chairman of the Board of Trustees of Faith Home. The tickets will cost $2.00, $1.50, and $1.00, and will include the regular dance which will be held after the performance in the Ball Room of the Academy of Music. The College Orchestra will furnish music for all of the dances which will be held after the performances.

The cast will assemble at 5.00 on

For the convenience of Williams students four special trains will be run before and after the Christmas recess. A special train will be run to Albany tomorrow afternoon, and specials will be run from New York, Chicago, and Buffalo after the vacation.

Blitz '21 has been awarded the agency for the special train to Albany, which will leave Williamstown at 4.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and will arrive in Albany before 7.00 o'clock, making connections with the Empire State Express, which arrives in New York at 10.10. Tickets for this train are $2.50 each, and will be on sale this evening in Jesup Hall from 7.15 to 8.05 o'clock.

J. M. Williams and Montgomery '22 have been awarded the agency for the special from New York. The train will leave New York on the morning of January 5 at 12.25 o'clock, and will arrive in Williamstown in time for chapel that morning. The pullmans will be ready for occupancy in the Grand Central Station at 10.30 p. m. The cars of the specials from Chicago and Buffalo will be attached to this train at Albany. Because of a new ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission this train must be paid for in advance at 5.30 o'clock on the afternoon of

Holiday Opportunities

As one of the greatest of all College institutions, the Christmas vacation, rolls around this year, greeted by its usual enthusiastic welcome, we are impelled to reiterate an admonition which has been made in these columns many times on similar occasions. The next two weeks will offer opportunities for judicious "advice" to sub-freshmen who are making plans about this time for college next fall. Williams has never, nor does it now, need advertising nor propaganda in order to continue its existence. But if we are to attract the quality of men that will sustain Williams standards in the future, we must do more than rest content in the assumption that they will come without efforts on our part. It is only through the work of loyal alumni and undergraduates that Williams can continue to draw desirable entrants. It is not necessary to shout from the house-tops, or to give vent to raucous cheers in the market-places, but it is well to remember that a few words of wisdom uttered at the right time to the right young man may be the means of augmenting both the quantity and the quality of the class of 1925.

The RECORD extends to you best wishes for a very merry Christmas and the happiest of New Years.

"The Beaux' Stratagem"

Cap and Bells, in presenting Farquhar's Beaux' Stratagem, is trying to do something more than stage a financial success. It is attempting to reproduce, in a really artistic way, a play which represents all that was best in the drama of the Restoration period. Great care has been taken to reproduce as faithfully as possible the eighteenth century atmosphere and manners, and the result is such as should be gratifying to every Williams man. We cannot too strongly urge that every alumnus and undergraduate who has the opportunity attend one of the performances of the Beaux' Stratagem during the holidays. By doing so he will not only gain an evening's pleasure for himself, but he will lend support to a Williams organization which is doing admirable work.

Cancel R. P. I. Hockey Game

On account of the poor condition of the ice on the Cole Field rink, the first game of the hockey season, scheduled for last Saturday afternoon with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, was cancelled. The first game will take place on January 12, against Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Williamstown.

PRINCIPAL ACTORS IN CAP AND BELLS

Two Seniors, Four Juniors, and One Sophomore Have Leading Roles in Winter Play

With the exception of one man, all who are taking leading roles in the Beaux' Stratagem this year have had experience in parts of importance in the play produced last year, Stop Thief. This fact has been of great assistance to Mr. Albert Lang in rapidly developing the action and has equipped the actors with a finish in which they were lacking last year.

Individual write-ups of the important members of the cast follow:

John Whittlescy Power, 1921 of Pittsfield, Mass., attended the Pittsfield High School, where he was a director of the athletic association and a member of the debating team. He was also on the school paper and was associate editor of the year-book. He entered Williams in the fall of 1918 and was elected assistant swimming manager in his sophomore year. This year he is president of Cap and Bells. Power is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Norman Proctor Smith, 1921, secured his secondary education at the Riverside School of Milwaukee where he was prominent in athletics. During his freshman year at Williams he played on his class football team. He has been a member of the varsity eleven for the past two years. Smith is a member of Pipe and Quill, and of the Kappa Beta Phi, and the Alpha Delta Phi fraternities.

Warren Cook Clark, 1922, of Springfield, attended the Central High School in preparation for College. He was a member of the school football team during his senior year, and also manager of the year-book. Last fall he played on his class football team. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Douglas Hall Rose, 1922, of Baltimore, Md., attended the Park School, Baltimore, Md., where he was a member of the Dramatic Society. He also played two years on the school basketball team, was chairman of the Honor System Committee, president of his class during his senior year, and editor of the year-book. Since entering College he has been elected to the 1922 Gulielmian board and recently to the RECORD board. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Arthur Vreeland Youngman, 1922, of Montclair, N. J., acted for two years with the dramatic club of the Montclair Academy, where he prepared for Williams. While at school, he was captain of the tennis team, editor-in-chief of the year-book and school paper, and vice-president of his class for three years. Youngman is now business manager of the 1922 Gulielmian. He is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

George E. Zalles, Jr., 1922, prepared for Williams at the Gilman Country School where he was prominent in dramatics and debating. He was also a member of the business staff of his school weekly paper, and an editor of the monthly publication. At College he was a member of the varsity debating team and of Cap and Bells last year. He is also a member of the Circulo Espanol, and of the Delta Sigma Rho society and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Harland William Baxter, 1923, prepared for Williams at the Northampton High School where he was prominent in dramatics and debating. He was a second lieutenant in his school military organization, an editor on his school paper, played the mandolin in the orchestra, and was a member of the glee club. At College he played in the cast of the College Smoker, "Days of Eph" last year, and was chanty men at the underclass rope-pull during his freshman year. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Periodical Managers Combine

For the purpose of securing efficient business administration for the publications included in its membership the managers of the WILLIAMS RECORD, the Purple Cow, and the Williams Graphic formed an organization called The Williams College Periodicals at a meeting last Saturday. R. P. Towne '21 was elected chairman of the body and Cole '21, secretary-treasurer. The members of the organization will be the managers and the assistant managers of the three publications mentioned above and are as follows: R. P. Towne, Cole, Coughlin '21, and Sayen, H. C. Smith, Jr., and Lyon '22.

men their position of undefeated champions, although they remained league victors by a considerable margin. The game started with a second string 1924 team, and these men, less accustomed to playing together than the regulars, could not withstand the united offense of the Senior team, although its defense seemed good at times. At half time, the score stood at 8-0 in the favor of 1921. The regular Freshman quintet, which was sent in in the second half, held the Seniors to their eight point score, and in addition gained two baskets.

1923 sent the 1922 team down to a 10-6 defeat in the final game of the series. The playing of both teams was decidedly loose, and the shooting was inaccurate. Mallon showed fast work for the winners, making two goals from the floor within less than two minutes. Although several varsity squad men are members on the 1922 five, their playing throughout the entire series has been a disappointment, and their work was not less so in the final game.

The Freshman team has showed the presence of considerable material on which the varsity basketball five, can draw after midyear examinations. Blackner seems to have the best knowledge of the theory and practice of the game, although Jayne, Johnston, and Kellogg have shown possibilities on the regular 1924 quintet, and Pease, Corsa, Herron, and Johnson seem to have ability worthy of development.

very real to pin our faith to in these moments when he is tempted to disbelieve in God's love towards men.

Contrary to popular belief, asserted Dr. Fiske, a man's conduct really does depend on what he believes, and it is a true conception of God which leads one to the right way of living. It is impossible to believe in the doctrine of human brotherhood or in the doctrine of the eternal fatherhood of God, without a firm belief in Christ.

In criticising the conception of religion in America at the present time, the speaker affirmed that it was considered usually in a sentimentally pious manner, and written about in vague moralizing phrases, never having the dogma upon which, in the end, all religion must be based. In the past, went on Dr. Fiske, faith in Jesus has been founded only on His teaching and miracles, but the only way in which one can really believe in His divinity is first by living closer to him, and then by a study of his character and personality in his gospels. As a result one will get a new conception

The ladies who sang with the regular Choir were Mrs. Agard, Mrs. Bogardus, Mrs. Bordman, Mrs. Pike, and Miss Florence Smith, sopranos; Mrs. Howes, Miss Howes, Miss Neyland, and Mrs. Wild, altos.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

ALL-FRESHMAN TEAM SELECTED

Composed for the most part of men from the first year football eleven at Yale and Harvard, the New York Herald has announced its choice for an All-Freshman team. The line-up is as follows: Ends—Lincoln of Yale, and Crosby of Harvard; tackles—Blair of Yale and Hatch of Dartmouth; guards—Melady of Princeton, Adams of Yale; center—Norris, Yale; halfbacks—Neidlinger of Yale and Zimmerman of Syracuse; quarterback—O'Hearn of Yale; fullback—Gierks, Harvard.

UNLIMITED CUTS AT VASSAR

In response to a request by the undergraduates of Vassar College, the faculty has agreed to give the system of voluntary attendance at classes, one year's trial. However, in the case of classes before and after week-ends and holidays no cuts will be allowed. Instructors will take the attendance as usual, but, with this new plan, warnings to students of the three upper classes who are not passing, will be abolished.

CORNELL FOOTBALL CAPTAIN ELECTED

W. S. Dodge of Cleveland, Ohio, has been elected to lead the Cornell varsity eleven through next year's season. The captain-elect has played on the varsity for two years as a tackle. He is six feet five inches tall and weighs well over 200 pounds. Cornell will lose only four of her varsity players next June.

Syracuse University will play 21 basketball games this season. Only three veterans reported for the teams at the first practice last Thursday although several of last year's substitutes and 23 new men have announced their intention of competing for positions on the team.

At the close of the first week in the Amherst College centenary $3,000,000 drive, it was announced that $2,150,000 had already been subscribed. Amherst alumni throughout the United States will be given an opportunity to make their offering to the college upon its 100th birthday next Commencement.

Under the direction of Coach Wachter, who last year drilled the Purple five, Harvard's reorganized basketball team is rapidly rounding into form. Coach Wachter is laying particular stress upon the necessity for knowing all the rules of the game, in order to do away with fouling.

Representatives of 11 colleges met in New York and ratified the newly organized Intercollegiate Boxing Association of America. Rules for intercollegiate boxing were drawn up, resembling very nearly those employed by the War Department in the training camps. All the delegates reported great gains in the popularity of boxing at their respective institutions.

By vote of the undergraduate body, Wesleyan University has abolished the practice of kidnapping in vogue at the time of underclass banquets. Strong opposition by the faculty on the ground of personal danger in the practice played a large part in its abolishment.

Cornell is sending a cross country team of nine men, captained by J.L. Dickinson, Jr., to England to race against a team composed of picked men from Oxford and Cambridge Universities. The meet will be held at Southampton on Thursday, December 30.

Thirteen prizes have been offered by benefactors of Cornell University to the University undergraduates for the best orations or essays on various literary subjects. The prizes range from $30 to $250, and the subjects embrace several languages.

A conference composed of the crew representatives of Princeton, Yale, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, and Harvard was recently held in New York City. The purpose of the conference was to settle matters pertaining to collegiate rowing, and by taking into account the obligations of the colleges concerned, to arrange a permanent schedule of races for the future which will conflict as little as possible with the plans of the various colleges. In previous years a great deal of confusion has resulted from the arrangement of various regattas without considering the schedules of all of the colleges. It is hoped that a schedule agreeable to all may be arranged.

Princeton has engaged Dr. Lewis Sugarman of Philadelphia, Pa. as Head Coach of the basketball team for the coming season. Dr. Sugarman has been associated with the game all his life, and during his five year control at the University of Pennsylvania he raised the Red and Blue team from comparative mediocrity to the title of Intercollegiate Champions.

Crap games on and near the university campus have been prohibited by the Senior Council at Syracuse. That body has also issued directions forbidding freshmen from wearing orange colors and high school pins or insignia.

Joseph H. Deering, for 16 years a well-known basketball official, has been engaged to coach the Columbia five this winter. Coach Deering made an enviable record as coach at the College of the City of New York, where for three successive years his team defeated the Intercollegiate Champions.

Ohio State University has launched a drive to raise $1,000,000 for a new stadium, to be one of the largest athletic fields in the country. Adjoining the stadium will be the new Ohio Field, a 92-acre plot of ground, intended to contain five football fields, 20 baseball diamonds, and scores of tennis courts.

More men are specializing in the field of English Literature at Harvard than in any other branch of study. According to figures recently made public, 363 students have chosen this subject. Among the more popular fields of concentration, Economics comes next with 311 men. Chemistry third with 290, Romance Languages fourth with 178, and History fifth with 126.

The University of Pennsylvania has withdrawn the rule that men holding college degrees may not play on the athletic teams of the colleges which they are at present attending. This allows men in the graduate and professional schools to play on any of the athletic teams of the University of Pennsylvania. The change will become effective January 1, 1921.

The University of Toronto maintained its place as the largest university in the British Empire with a registration this year of 5250 men.

SPRING STREET, WILLIAMSTOWN

W. C. A. Achieves Real Success in its Work

representatives from New England on the Student Department of the International Committee.

Principal emphasis has been placed upon the work of the College Religious Work committee. Nine discussion groups composed of five men each have been made up from members of the Cabinet and from some outstanding leaders in the Freshman class. Three or four other groups of a similar nature will be organized from the other classes after the Christmas vacation, with the purpose of bringing up problems of college life in the light of Christ's teachings. President Garfield's Freshman bible class has been largely attended. Fostick's "Manhood of the Master" being used as a text.

An innovation has been attempted successfully in the regular Sunday evening meetings by limiting them to 30 minutes, thus bringing out a considerably larger attendance. Among prominent speakers who have addressed the meetings are Dr. John S. Zelle, Rev. Dr. George Richardson, Prof. James B. Pratt, and several alumni and undergraduates.

New in the field of Williams publications is the "Haystack Herald," an organ created by the Mission Study committee to further interest in world problems preparatory to mission study classes. Stress has been laid upon the Williams tradition of foreign service. Three mission discussion groups have been formed to study the Near East, the Far East, and South America, and more groups will be formed as the need arises. A delegate was sent by the Mission Study committee to the Student Volunteer Conference in Hartford, Conn., and more men in College are being encouraged to become Student Volunteers.

The Near East Relief campaign was sponsored by this committee, Lady Anne Azgabetian and E. T. Perry '18, being secured to address the student body, and as a result over $2,000 was raised. In the Red Cross membership renewal drive Williams gained first place amongst New England colleges with an enrollment of 86 per cent of the College.

Five men have been teaching Sunday School weekly in North Adams under the auspices of the Community Religious work committee, while Clark Chapel has been supplied with two men each Sunday. In addition this committee has afforded Sunday supplies to many nearby churches.

One of the most interesting and successful pieces of work has been that done by the Boy's Work committee, which is carrying on two large and very prosperous boys' clubs in Williamstown. Seven Boy Scout troops have also been organized in the neighboring metropolis.

The Evangelical Deputations and Entertainment committee opened the year by conducting an enthusiastic Freshman Reception attended by practically the entire entering class, followed by a series of four weekly Freshman Get-togethers which were highly successful, even producing a first-rate orchestra. Later delegations have been sent to Wilmington, Vt., Pittsfield, Adams, Andover and Cushing Academies, and the Hotelkiss School. Considerable aid has likewise been rendered the Faculty self-help committee in locating needy men in College.

Handbooks were distributed to the Freshmen shortly after the opening of College by the Handbook and Publicity committee which in addition supervised the publicity given the W. C. A. in the Record as well as the printing of posters for various campaigns. An information bureau for the particular use of the class of 1924 was conducted in Jesup Hall until rushing season.

Plans for the remainder of the College year are very inclusive and wide-spread, and additions are constantly being made. In keeping with the avowed purpose of the association to promote the religious life of the College is one of the main projects, that of having several great religious speakers in Williamstown for four days next spring to conduct a series of meetings. It is also planned to have specialists in various activities here during January to lecture to the various committees on their own peculiar lines of endeavor. In addition to the $500 annually given to Canton Christian College to support the Williams representative there, the W. C. A. has felt that a larger work was necessary to tie the large mass of undergraduates up to some definite form of Christian giving. It therefore expects to have a plan ready by spring to present to the student body and interested alumni for the forming of a Williams-in-China, such a project to consist of the taking over eventually of all the Y. M. C. A. work in Soo-Chow, China, a city of over a million inhabitants.

CIGARETTES

—more proof of "just enough Turkish"

To be fashionable a cigarette need not be expensive. In fact, at most exclusive clubs and fine hotels the preference is for Fatima—a relatively inexpensive cigarette.

Fatima appeals to the discriminating smoker because, not only does its "just enough Turkish" blend lack the oily heaviness of expensive, straight, all-Turkish cigarettes, but it retains, at the same time, a smoothness and richness not to be found in any other Turkish blend cigarette.

PROMENADE WILL BE HELD ON FEBRUARY 4

Music to be Furnished by Bert Low's Orchestra—Dancing Until 6.00 o'clock

12 HOUSES HAVE DANCES

Representatives of Neighboring Colleges Entered in 2-Day Outing Club Carnival

Preparations for the Sophomore Promenade to be held in the Lasell Gymnasium on Friday evening, February 4, are now practically complete. During the mid-year recess also 12 of the 14 fraternities have already definitely decided to hold houseparties, and a winter carnival under the auspices of the Outing Club will take place February 3 and 4.

Music for the Sophomore Promenade will be furnished by nine pieces of Bert Low's Orchestra, of Boston. Beginning at 9 o'clock in the evening, the program dances, numbering 20, will last until 2.00 o'clock the following morning. At this time refreshments will be served in the Lasell Gymnasium after which the dancing will be informal and will continue until 6.00 o'clock. Favors for the ladies will take the form of leather vanity cases, and for the men they will be bill folders of the same material. The gymnasium will be decorated much as has been usual in past years. The admission price for couples will be $8.00 and for stags $6.00.

Of the fraternities, Chi Psi alone has definitely decided not to hold a houseparty while Psi Upsilon is still uncertain. Alpha Delta Phi, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi will give their parties in conjunction, and Zeta Psi will combine for that purpose with Delta Psi. Guests will arrive on Wednesday, February 2, and evening and afternoon dances will be held at the different houses during the first two days of the mid-year recess. The festivities will end with the Sophomore Promenade, and all guests must have departed by 6.00 o'clock Saturday evening, February 5.

The Outing Club is planning a winter carnival this year on a much larger scale than that which took place last winter. Competitors from several other Colleges and Universities have accepted invitations to take part in the contests which are to be of a varied and spectacular nature.

General Pew Will Speak

General William A. Pew will address the first of this year's series of Tuesday lectures to be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Physics Laboratory. He will take as the subject of his speech "Ephraim Williams." General Pew was in command of the Williams S. A. T. C. during 1918 and has, since that time, made a special study of the life and works of the Founder. Recently he discovered a new letter of Colonel Williams in Hatfield and other information which had previously been unknown. General Pew's book "Ephraim Williams, An Appreciation" has recently been published.

To Address W. C. A. Meeting

Charles Reynolds Brown D. D., Dean of the School of Divinity at Yale University, who will conduct the services in Chapel next Sunday morning, will speak before the W. C. A. at its regular meeting which is to be held in Jesup Hall, in the evening at 7.30 o'clock. Dean Brown has chosen "Religion as a Fundamental Interest in Life" for the subject of his address.

The speaker is considered to be one of the most popular men who appear each year before the W. C. A., and a large number of men have always attended the meetings at which he has spoken. He has written a book called The Main Points which is widely used by Christian Associations throughout the country.

Hockey Practice Resumed Indoors for Next Game

Indoor hockey practice was resumed yesterday afternoon and will be held daily from 3.00 to 5.00 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium under the direction of Captain Irwin. The weather has not permitted any practice on the rinks thus far, but it is hoped that the game scheduled with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College for next Wednesday in Williamstown can be played. The team is being rounded into shape as well as possible under the prevailing conditions.

HARD PRACTICE GIVEN TO BASKETBALL SQUAD

Purple Quintet to Oppose North Adams Y. M. C. A. Team Here Tomorrow and Monday

Long and vigorous scrimmages have featured the practice of the basketball squad since the return from vacation. Daily games have been played against the freshman team and the seconds.

Two practice games will be played in Lasell Gymnasium in preparation for the Colgate game January 13. Tomorrow at 4.15 o'clock the Purple will oppose the Y. M. C. A. five from North Adams and at 8.00 o'clock on Monday evening, the Varsity will meet the team of the Eagles Club, also from North Adams. Both these fives are heavier than the Williams team and have several prominent players in their lineups. The games will not be open to the public.

Coach Shanahan is well satisfied with the work of the squad in view of the fact that the Christmas recess made a large break in the practice. Captain Beckwith '21, Wilson '22 and Wightman '23 have shown themselves to be accurate and steady passers, and Fargo '22 has proven a valuable man on the offense. The lineup for the Colgate game will be chosen from these men and also from Bianchi, Hyde and Kellogg '22 and Garvin '23. Among the Freshmen who have joined the squad although they will not be eligible to play until after midyears, Blackmer, Johnson and Pease have played steady games and have offered strong opposition to the Varsity. Blackmer especially has been prominent both on the offense and on the defense.

TO PREACH SUNDAY

Dean Charles R. Brown of Yale To Hold Chapel Service

Services in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday morning will be conducted by the Rev. Charles R. Brown, D. D., Dean of the Yale Theological Seminary. Dean Brown will also address the meeting of the W. C. A. at 7.30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Dr. Brown, who has visited Williamstown regularly in past years and is one of the most popular of the visiting ministers, is a well known authority on Biblical literature, having made a trip through Egypt and Palestine in 1897 for the special purpose of studying the subject. He has delivered special lectures on the material gathered during that journey at Leland Stanford, Yale, Columbia, and Cornell Universities.

Prior to his acceptance of the position of Dean of the Yale Theological Seminary, Dr. Brown for fifteen years held the pastorate of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, Cal. Among the numerous books of which he is the author, the most noteworthy are: Cap and Gown, The Modern Man's Religion, and A Young Man's Affairs.

James Crate Larkin 1923 of Buffalo, N. Y. has been elected second assistant business manager of the Graphic.

Pictures of the three upper classes and the Freshman Parade will be on sale this evening at Jesup Hall.

HAMBURG TRIO WILL PLAY IN GRACE HALL

Well Known Musicians Will Give Concert in Second Number of Thompson Course

TRIO PRAISED BY PRESS

Violinist, Cellist and Pianist Have Studied With Masters in Foreign Lands

In the second number of the Thompson Course of Entertainments to be held during the college year, the Hamburg Trio will give a concert in Grace Hall on Thursday afternoon, January 13, at 4.15 o'clock. Messrs. Jan and Boris Hambourg, violinist and cellist respectively, and Senor Alberto Guerrero, the pianist, are all considered to be artists of high standing in the musical world.

Mr. Jan Hambourg was at one time a pupil of the great violinist Ysaye, and he has played before audiences in the principal cities of Europe, as well as in Australia, Canada, South Africa, and the United States. Senor Guerrero is a native of Chile, and for a number of years he has been prominent both as a composer and a pianist in Santiago. He has also toured the United States and Canada. Mr. Boris Hambourg, who like his brother Jan, is of Russian birth, has been a protegee of the great cellist Joachim. He has also appeared in Europe, Australia, South Africa, Canada, and the United States.

In commenting upon the work of the Trio the New York Tribune said "Mr. Guerrero is a pianist of no mean powers, and his sense of rhythm was especially incisive, while Mr. Boris Hambourg's tone was warm. The three musicians showed evidence of careful work together, and played with vigor and sincerity. The New York Herald criticised the work of the Trio in the following way, "Those who like music in time can always be depended upon to support any organization in which the musicianship of the members is as scholarly as that of the Hambourgs."

The program of the concert to be given in Grace Hall is as follows:

1. Sonata for Violin and Pianoforte in A Major, Opus 47, "Kreutzer"
1. Adagio sostenuto, presto
2. Andante con variazioni
3. Presto
- Mr. Jan Hambourg and Senor Guerrero
- II. Piano Soli
1. Waltz in A flat
2. Nocturne in F sharp major
3. Scherzo in C sharp minor
- Senor Guerrero

SOCIALIST LECTURER WILL ADDRESS FORUM

John Spargo to Talk on "Europe's Reconstruction Problem" in Next Meeting

John Spargo, well-known as a socialist lecturer, writer, and worker, will speak before the Forum on "Europe's Reconstruction Problem" in Jesup Hall on next Monday evening, January 10, at 7.45 o'clock. Mr. Spargo severed his active connection with the National Socialist Party in 1917, and since that time has devoted his attention to writing.

Mr. Spargo was born in Cornwall, England, and when only 18 years old, became identified with the cause of socialism in that country. Before leaving for America in 1901 he followed special courses of study at both Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

Soon after coming to this country, Mr. Spargo became very active in socialistic circles. Together with Samuel Gompers he founded the American Labor and Democracy in 1917, and he was also very influential earlier in the founding of the National Socialist Party in the United States, upon the executive committee of which he later served. He also was interested in various sorts of philanthropic work.

Mr. Spargo was attached to the U. S. Committee on Public Information in Italy in 1918, and was also appointed to be a member of the Industrial Conference in 1919 by President Wilson. At the present time he is living at Bennington, Vermont.

Among many other books which Mr. Spargo has written are the following: Forces that Make for Socialism in America, The Common Sense of Socialism, The Spiritual Significance of Modern Socialism, Marcian Socialism and Religion, Americanism and Social Democracy, and Bolshevism the Enemy of Political and Industrial Democracy.

TO HOLD TRIALS

To Choose Underclass Debaters Tonight and Tomorrow

Trials for the freshman and sophomore debating teams will be held this Friday and Saturday evenings respectively at 8.00 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. The subject for the trials, which in all probability will be used as the subject for the debate, is, "Resolved, that the Chinese Immigration Act should be extended to include Japanese." The freshmen will take the affirmative side of the question, the sophomores the negative. A committee of judges will pick the two teams from the speakers and the debate will be held at some date in the next two weeks which will be decided upon immediately after the trials.

Relay Team Starts Practice

Practice for the varsity and class relay teams began yesterday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on the board track behind Lasell Gymnasium. Negotiations regarding outside meets are now under way but the schedule is not yet ready for announcement.

Candidates for the class relay teams are requested by the management to begin training as soon as possible as the Interclass Meet will come in the very near future. Numerals will be awarded to the winning team.

CAP AND BELLS IN SUCCESSFUL PLAY

All Performances Are Attended by Large and Appreciative Audiences on Trip

'BEAUX' STRATAGEM' IS WELL RECEIVED

Play Presented in East Orange, Brooklyn, Flushing and at Plaza Hotel, N. Y.

Large and enthusiastic audiences greeted Cap and Bells production of The Beaux' Stratagem on its Christmas trip in New York and neighboring cities. Not a little of the success of the trip may be attributed to the hearty support and cooperation of the various alumni organizations and individuals who arranged all the local matters and even opened their homes to members of the cast.

In performing this Restoration comedy before a New York audience, Cap and Bells was making an experiment and taking a step in a new direction, but the great appreciation of it has more than justified the organization for its work. The play is one that is well worth while and the excellent way in which the various parts were rendered by all the members of the cast was highly praised by all who were able to see it during the trip.

The first performance was given in East Orange, at the Woman's Club, on the evening of Tuesday, December 28, before a large gathering of Williams men and their friends. Handicapped by the lack of rehearsals during the first week of vacation the action and speeches were not as smooth as they might have been, but the play advanced rapidly and was well received. Youngman '22, who took the part of Scrub, the humorous role of the family servant who does all jobs, was especially popular, performing the part with unusual finish. Throughout the four performances he remained the favorite, winning the audience with numerous clever touches that never failed to gain the laughter and applause of enthusiastic listeners.

Clark '22 and Zalles '22 in the parts of Aimwell and Archer respectively, the leading male roles, equally divided honors, portraying their characters with a dash and spirit which was well suited to the type of play. Power '21, as Dorinda, the subject of Aimwell's amorous attentions, made a charming young lady and was indeed deserving of her lover's attentions. Rose '22 took the part of Mrs. Sullen a discontented wife who has much to say, and his reading of the lines was well done. Probably the most real of the female characters was Baxter '23 as Cherry, daughter of the inn keeper, Boniface, played by Smith '22. Cutler '21, as Mr. Sullen, a country squire who never comes home "till four o'clock" in the morning, also deserves credit for his skillful reading of the part. Other members of the cast who equally contributed to the success of the play are: Atwell, '21, Brune, Loizeaux, S. Phillips, and Terry '22, Larkin and McAnemy '23.

A dance was given after the performance in East Orange, the music being furnished by the undergraduate orchestra led by Coleman '22. This orchestra accompanied Cap and Bells throughout the trip, playing before the performances, between the acts, and at all dances. Durand H. Van Doren '14 was the local manager for the East Orange performance.

The next evening, Wednesday, December 29, the play was given at the Brooklyn Academy of Music for the benefit of the Faith Home, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Charles Burr acted as local manager and due to her efforts an unusually large audience was present.

Before the performance at Flushing, L. I., on Thursday evening, a dinner was given to the members of the cast and the orchestra. A dance followed the performance in League Hall where the play

Cooperation Necessary

The publication of the Adviser which will begin next Monday must not be considered as a "cure-all" for the troubles which the College has experienced in the matter of announcements. Unless the administration office and the heads of the various undergraduate activities cooperate with the Record by handing in announcements promptly the venture will prove a failure. The cooperation of the fraternities and the eating houses in the distribution of the Adviser is another necessary factor in the success of the undertaking.

Opportunities for All

Hidden amongst a wide variety of other spring activities towards which students are already directing their thoughts and preparations, lie the rich and fertile fields of prize competitions which are, unfortunately, unknown and unappreciated by the large majority of the undergraduate body. Through endowments of alumni and others memorial funds, Williams is able to award some forty-seven prizes each collegiate year, totalling a monetary value of three thousand six hundred and seventy dollars. This is entirely exclusive and apart from the income from endowments for General Scholarships amounting to over nine thousand dollars annually.

A journey through the "Prize Competitions" section of the College catalogue will prove a revelation to nearly every undergraduate. Any man electing to spend time and trouble along lines only slightly removed from the worn track of classroom intellectual endeavor will find opportunities for rewards and honors awaiting him. With such high premiums placed on investments of intellect and time the Williams competitions for the forty-seven College prizes should bring out a large field of contestants each year.

In reality, college men should need no stimulation to direct their energies along special fields of intellectual work to which their talents and abilities should naturally turn. The sad fact is, however, that the initiating impetus along such lines of activities must be provided. Surely the College harbors the brains and requisites to make every prize competition a hotly contested game, and the addition of a pecuniary return should attract those to whom the honor of winning a prize does not make the game worth while.

The combination of College honor, of prize money, and of the resultant benefit to be derived from winning a prize makes the annual competitions a fine field for work and interests.

The Spirit Changes Not

One interesting side-light of the Christmas vacation has been the encountering of considerable adverse comment regarding the approaching cremation of the Literary Monthly and the Phoenix-like birth from its ashes of an uncertain quantity, the new Graphic. We are asked in indignant tones whether all love of real literature has died out in Williams College. Are the cultural traditions of well over a century entirely extinct?

The general run of such criticisms appears to be unfair in that it assumes that a change of name and the introduction of up-to-date features necessarily mean the destruction of the high literary merits and policy heretofore maintained. Old friends of the Lit are too prone to conclude hastily that the magazine has come to a sad end, that body and soul are alike extinct. As a matter of fact the fundamental and avowed purpose of the present board of editors is to carry on the old spirit in the new publication, enlivened and refreshed beyond all possibility of the very real extinction which the former did face. It will be the first duty of the Graphic to show that this purpose has been realized.

Still there remains the question: why was any change at all necessary? In attempting to answer this question, we must frankly face the present situation. Any one not wilfully blind to the facts must realize and admit that the tendency is away from cultural matters and towards material affairs with tangible returns. As was brought out admirably in the papers of a recent class in logic, undergraduate interest today is increasingly directed towards practical affairs. Other supplementary facts are found in the influence of the movies, involving more time than the average man admits even to himself, and the heavy drain on time and resources made by athletics and other growing outside activities. The chief cause for poor support of the Lit may be fairly traced, therefore, to the distinctly materialistic and practical trend of thought in the average individual, aided and abetted by actual lack of time for the encouraging of contemplative tastes. Innumerable reasons or apologies for this condition may be brought forward, but we remain still confronted by the fact that the cold world of reality is rushing us on regardless of any half-hearted resistance.

Full realization of this issue only raises a real challenge for the cultured man. It is not strange that materialism results in an age when the taste for luxuries is highly aroused and the gratification of the same is possible to a large extent for even the meanest laborer. The stemming of this tide from the intellectual to the material cannot be expected of that same laborer but must rest upon the shoulders of the college man. In this connection a word of warning to the new Graphic board might not be amiss. With such a challenge to face and with hundreds of alumni and friends of Williams anxiously awaiting the first issue, it will be an inexcusable blunder if plenty of material of a high literary nature is not included. The continued encouragement of such writing in this, a peculiarly cultural college, is particularly essential.

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?

Like a welcome guest or a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Cap and Bells in Successful Play

was given. Mrs. V. V. Woodruff was in charge of the local management.

The final performance was given in the ballroom of the Plaza Hotel, New York City, on the evening of Monday, January 3. The largest audience of the entire trip was present, so many in fact that it was necessary for some to stand. The play was enthusiastically received. At the dance that followed the ballroom was so crowded that it became necessary to open up an adjoining room. Paul P. Wrigley was the local manager and deserves considerable credit for arranging for this last performance.

Credit is likewise due to the officers of Cap and Bells who so carefully planned and conducted the trip: Power '21, president; Wells '21, manager; Grout '22, assistant manager; and Rounds '22, stage manager.

The first performance of the Beaux Stratagem in Williamstown will be given during the mid-winter houseparty. Several additional performances will probably be given in February in the nature of week end trips to various colleges.

HOCKEY SEASON OPENS AGAINST SPRINGFIELD

Neither Team Has Played Because of Weather—Good Practice is Held on Ice

TO USE COLE FIELD RINK

All Regulars of Last Year Play
Well in First Practice on Leake's Pond

Williams will face Springfield Y. M. C. A. College in the second scheduled hockey game of the 1921 season on the Cole Field rink at 4.15 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Williams was scheduled to play R. P. I. on Saturday, December 18, but the game was called off because of bad weather, so that this will be the first real test for the team.

Since neither team has played any games this season, nothing definite can be said concerning comparative strength or weakness, but from all appearances Williams will have an unusually strong team. One of the largest squads of recent years reported to Captain Irwin for shooting practice three weeks before the beginning of the Christmas recess, and this practice was held regularly in the cage and in the gymnasium up to the time when college closed.

The recent cold weather has brought the first ice of the year, and the team practiced on the ice for the first time last Saturday afternoon on Leake's pond. The showing made in this initial ice practice was very encouraging, and the prospects for the year seem bright. All the regulars from last year's squad have showed up well, Bigelow and J. Stevenson having stood out particularly among the freshmen, and will undoubtedly make a hard fight for places on the team after the mid-year examinations.

The Cole Field rink will be in shape for use by tomorrow, and all practices will be held there in the future. Although nothing definite can be announced as yet, it is probable that a hockey coach will be engaged in the near future, for more interest has been shown in hockey this year than in any of the past few years.

Springfield was scheduled to play a game with Massachusetts Agricultural College last Saturday, but the game was called off because of the poor condition of the ice. As is the case here, Springfield College has had practically no ice practice, and the lineup which will face Williams on Wednesday is still indefinite.

1923-1924 Debate To Be Held Next Friday Night

1923 will meet 1924 in the Annual Underclass debate which is to take place in Jesup Hall next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject which has been chosen for the debate is as follows: "Resolved, that the Chinese Exclusion Act should be extended to include the Japanese."

As a result of the Trials for the Sophomore team which were held last Friday evening, Carleton, Collins, and Sewall with Perkins as alternate, will defend the negative side of the question. The team which will uphold the affirmative side for the first year men is composed of Craig, Helfrich and Heron with Delke as alternate. Each man will be allowed six minutes for his main speech and three minutes for his rebuttal. Atwell '21, Schauffer and Perry '22 were the judges for the Sophomore Trial on Friday evening and Cole, Hall, and C. Taylor acted as judges for the Freshman trials on Saturday evening.

VARSITY FIVE WINS

Defeats North Adams "Y" Team
In Practice Game

In a practice game with the North Adams Y. M. C. A. five last Saturday afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium, the varsity basketball team emerged victors by the score of 16-10. Although the visiting five had previously been defeated by the Williams freshmen, 25-23, not until the last two minutes of the game was victory certain for the varsity.

Both teams showed well-developed team work, but the attack in both cases was slow in getting under way, accounting for the low score. The Y. M. C. A. players presented a five man defense that was hard to penetrate, but superior shooting and greater alacrity in following the ball decided the issue in favor of the Purple.

For the winners, Wightman distinguished himself by making three baskets and playing an excellent passing game. Wilson, at guard, and Hyde, who entered the game in place of Beckwith, each contributed two baskets, and were mainstays in the attack. Captain Beckwith and Fargo helped materially in the short quick passing game that Coach Shanahan has developed.

The work of E. Daly featured the visitors' play. He counted twice on long shots from the floor, and registered two more points from the foul line. His brother, J. Daly, played a strong game at guard, holding Beckwith scoreless and scoring one basket himself.

The line-up and summary follows:

Williams	North Adams Y. M. C. A.
Wightman	lf.	Francis
Beckwith, Hyde	rf.	E. Daly
Fargo, Bianchi	c.	Hicks
Kellogg, Garvin	lg.	J. Daly

JOHN SPARGO TO TALK AT MEETING TONIGHT

Socialist Lecturer Will Speak Before Forum on Problems
Caused by the War

"Europe's Reconstruction Problem" will be the topic of the talk to be given by John Spargo, the well-known socialist writer and lecturer, before the Forum this evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Since 1917, when he severed his active connection with the National Socialist Party, Mr. Spargo has devoted himself to writing on socialistic subjects.

He was born in Cornwall, England, and identified himself with the socialist cause in that country when only 18 years of age. Before leaving for America in 1901, he followed special courses of study along the same line at both Oxford and Cambridge Universities. Since 1901 he has been very active in the socialistic circles of this country. Together with Samuel Gompers Mr. Spargo founded the American Labor and Democracy in 1917; and he was also very influential in the earlier founding of the National Socialist Party in the United States, upon the executive committee of which he later served. He also is very interested in philanthropic work of various sorts.

In 1918 Mr. Spargo was attached to the U. S. Committee on Public Information in Italy, and was also appointed to be a member of the Industrial Conference in 1919 by President Wilson. At the present time he is in Europe.

DEAN BROWN SPEAKS AT W. C. A. MEETING

Head of Yale School of Theology Delivers Interesting Talk
On Religious Life

DISCUSSION FOLLOWS TALK

Numerous Questions of Audience Answered by Strong and Rapid Replies

"Religion has been more powerful in life than any other single factor" said Dean Brown of the Yale Theological School, at a meeting of the W. C. A. last evening in Jesup Hall. After a short talk on "Religion as a fundamental interest in life" he answered a number of written and oral questions which were asked by his auditors.

He pointed out that religion has been the inspiring motive and theme of all that is greatest in history, art, literature, and architecture. Such works as Dante's Inferno and Milton's Paradise Lost were the magnificent effort of the authors to portray the results of mortal evil. Michael Angelo, Ruben and Raphael not only received their inspiration from religion, but devoted their unexcelled talents to picture the spiritual. The finest music we find in the famous Oratorios. Handel's Messiah and Wagner's Parsifal were almost inspired. Thus music at its best takes religion as its theme.

In practical everyday life, declared Dean Brown, "A man who does not know about religion is just illiterate." We find the Bible, written nineteen hundred years ago, still in the lead as the world's best seller. But we can not learn religion from study alone. As a chemist must take his work into the laboratory, so one must take religion into the laboratory of life and actually try it out. Every man has his temptations, duties, and difficult situations to meet. Religion gives a man the added stamina necessary to stand up for what is right, is a guide to the greatest usefulness.

WEDNESDAY RECITAL

Compositions of the 19th Century
Will Predominate

In a program consisting for the most part of the works of nineteenth century composers, Mr. Sumner Salter will give his two hundred and first organ recital next Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. It is interesting to note that among the selections is a composition dedicated to Mr. Salter by Arthur Foote, one of the most distinguished American composers now living.

The favorites of all time, Bach, Mozart, and Rubenstein, are represented in the program, the choice from the latter's works being a selection from the famous Album of 24 Musical Portraits entitled "Kamennoi Ostrov." Finlandia, by Jean Sibelius, the noted Finnish composer, has made an unusually great national appeal in Russia, and has received much praise because of the patriotic enthusiasm bound up in the production.

The entire program is as follows:

Toccata and Adagio in C	J. S. Bach
Romanza	F. A. Mozart
Largo from the "New World" Symphony	Antonin Dvorak
Scherzo from Fifth Sonata	Alexandre Gailward
Oriental Sketch	Aethur Foote
Reve Angelique	Anton Rubenstein
Finlandia	Jean Sibelius

NOTED TRIO TO PLAY IN THOMPSON COURSE

Talented Musicians Will Render Varied Program on Cello
Violin and Piano

Messrs. Jan and Boris Hambourg and Senor Alberto Guerrero will appear in the second number of the Thompson Course next Thursday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. Senor Guerrero has a large reputation as a pianist and Jan and Boris Hambourg are well known as violinist and cellist respectively.

Mr. Jan Hambourg and his brother Boris are Russians and have studied under the foremost masters of their department of music. Mr. Boris Hambourg has been a pupil of the famous cellist Joachim and his brother has studied under the violinist Ysaye. Both have played to large audiences in Europe and have toured Australia, Canada, South Africa and the United States. Senor Guerrero was born in Chile and has gained a reputation as a composer and musician in Santiago.

The Hambourg Trio received the unstinted praise of the New York Tribune: "Mr. Guerrero, is a pianist of no mean powers, and his sense of rhythm was especially incisive, while Mr. Boris Hambourg's tone was warm. The three musicians showed evidence of careful work together, and played with vigor and sincerity." The New York Herald said of them, "Those who like music in time can always be depended upon to support any organization in which the musicianship of the members is as scholarly as that of the Hambourgs."

Following is a program of the concert:
I. Sonata for Violin and Pianoforte in A Major, Opus 47, "Kreutzer"

1. Adagio sostenuto, presto
2. Andante con variazioni	Beethoven
3. Presto
Mr. Jan Hambourg and Senor Guerrero
II. Piano Solo
1. Waltz in A flat
2. Nocturne in F sharp major
3. Scherzo in C sharp minor	Chopin
Senor Guerrero

TO MEET COLGATE IN OPENING GAME

Williams Basketball Team will Play in First Official Game of 1921 Season

MAROON TEAM VICTORS IN FIRST THREE GAMES

Four Men Who Have Won Letters
Previously Make Colgate Formidable Rival

In the opening game of the season the varsity basketball team will oppose the Colgate University five in the Lasell Gymnasium at 8.00 o'clock next Thursday evening. The visitors have already played three games of their regular schedule, winning each by safe margins, and are expected to present strong opposition to the Purple team.

Four of the five regular players on the Colgate squad are letter men and have played together during at least one previous season. Herman at right guard is the only new member of the team. Captain Anderson, who plays right forward, is in his third season and is easily the most brilliant offensive player on the Maroon quintet. In the three games which Colgate has played already this season he has been an important factor, with his accurate shooting, in the large scores which his team has been able to roll up.

In the game with Clarkson Institute of Technology at Elmhurst, N. Y., Colgate emerged the victor by a 38-24 score. In their second contest they defeated the Rensselaer five by the even more decisive margin of 59-26, and swamped Alfred College of Alfred, N. Y., in their third game by 77 points, the score being 85-8. In the game next Thursday evening, J. E. Wilson and Kellogg will probably start in the two guard positions, Fargo will play center, and Captain Beckwith and Wightman will be at right and left forward respectively. All of these men have played on the varsity in past years, Beckwith and Fargo being at the beginning of their third seasons as first string players.

Last Saturday afternoon the varsity played a practice game with the North Adams Y. M. C. A. team, defeating them 16-10, and will meet the same opponents again this afternoon. In the contest last Saturday the Purple team showed the results of Coach Shanahan's careful training, demonstrating promising team work for such an early date in the season. Wightman and Wilson were the mainstays in the offense, while Captain Beckwith did much to break up the attacks of the North Adams five.

The probable line-ups of the teams next Thursday will be as follows:

Williams	Colgate
Fargo	c	Moshier
Beckwith (Capt.)	rf	Anderson (Capt.)
Wightman	lf	Barnes
Wilson	rg	Linnahan
Kellogg	lg	Herman

General Pew to Speak at Opening Tuesday Lecture

General William A. Pew, former commander of the Williams S. A. T. C. and of the Second Summer Camp in 1918, will deliver the first of this year's series of Tuesday lectures tomorrow afternoon in the Physics Laboratory at 4.30 o'clock. The subject of his speech will be "Ephraim Williams," a topic upon which General Pew is a recognized authority.

For several years General Pew has made an exhaustive study of the Founder of Williams College. He is one of Ephraim Williams' most ardent admirers and was a great factor in the removing of the Founder's remains to Williamstown. He has brought to light much information previously unknown and very recently discovered a new letter of Colonel Williams in Hutfeld. General Pew is also the author of Ephraim Williams, An Appreciation, which was recently published.

"First Call"

The first competition for the RECORD from the class of 1924 begins Tuesday evening. It is the first opportunity which has been offered to members of the present Freshman class to become connected with the larger activity of the College, and as such it merits careful consideration.

In urging men to enter the competition, it should be pointed out that it is not an easy way to become interested in Williams organization, but on the contrary it is rather demanding, although never excessively so. The requirements necessary for entering the contest are practically negligible, and no particular previous training is necessary in order to succeed. Prior experience on prep school papers has often proved more of a hindrance than an aid.

Manifold advantages accrue through association with the RECORD. In the first place there is a sense of doing a real service for the College. Competitors are kept in close touch with the College and its activities and interests, while considerable personal training and experience are afforded the individual. One learns to do what he is instructed to do without inquiring how, to satisfactorily meet and settle new situations, to express himself simply and accurately; in a word, initiative, self reliance, and clear-thinking are developed. All freshmen interested in college activities and as yet undecided as to what form that interest will take owe it to themselves to attend the first meeting of competitors and learn the details and conditions of the competition.

Follow the Teams

This week marks the opening of the 1921 basketball and hockey seasons. Both sports are handicapped this year more than usual, facing hard schedules which include new teams of whose strength little is known. Lack of ice has interfered with the practice of the hockey team, but Captain Irwin is fortunate in having a large squad of candidates from which to pick a team. Basketball is starting the season with a new coach and with but two regulars from last year's five as a nucleus for a new team. Both squads face many difficulties and merit more than ever the unreserved support and cooperation of the undergraduate body.

Is Suffrage Responsible?

Nation-wide woman suffrage has been an actuality for less than a year and already the college world is witnessing a ferment which dwarfs by comparison any previous controversies. Hazing, inter-class struggles, student uprisings, and other similar incidents which were accustomed to assume the spot-light in the excitement line are now completely overlooked. Something worse has happened, the entrance of corrupting woman.

Amherst is woefully taking account of stock after a disastrous quarrel with the sister institution across the river, while Cornell is in the midst of a struggle against its Amazons which has succeeded in attracting very considerable interest from the Metropolitan press. Worse and more of it, the latest news that comes to us is that Fair Harvard has been entangled and securely bound by the wiles of Radcliffe. The New York Tribune in a thundering editorial has disclosed the awful, heart-rending truth that the afternoon tea, jam, and toast served in such tempting fashion at the Harvard Union are directly traceable, not, as we had always supposed, to the naturally lady-like mannerisms of the Crimson athletes, but to the baneful, yet seductive, influence of the "Harvard coeds," situated only "two blocks from the heart of the campus."

Rumor has not as yet linked the name of Williams with any such sad catastrophe, but an awful thought makes us pause. This fall, for the first time in its one hundred and twenty-seven years of history, Williams entered the list of co-educational institutions, awarding its first degree to a woman graduate. Has fate ordained us, too, or is it perhaps a premeditated plot to open a vulnerable spot for attacking the famed old Mistress of the Berkshire Hills? The firmest foundations are crumbling and crashing about our ears in these days of strife. It behooves every loyal Williams man to beware. If we have besought providence to spare Cornell and its race of heroes from feminine extinction or if we have even asked for the preservation of Harvard from entangling alliances, let us even more fervently ask like dispensations for ourselves, now that we know not what dangers may embrace us. Remember Homer's warning: Carthago delenda est—dux femina facti.

Issue Daily Bulletin

Copies of the Williams College Adviser, the new daily bulletin which is to be published by the RECORD, are to appear for the first time this noon. All notices for publication must be deposited in the boxes provided for that purpose either in Jesup Hall or Hopkins Hall before 11.00 o'clock of the morning on which they are to be printed. A representative from each fraternity house or eating house subscribing to the Adviser should call for the bulletin in the RECORD Business Office in Jesup Hall at 12.00 o'clock noon.

Cheerleaders Meet Tonight

All men who acted as cheerleaders during the last college year, and the juniors included in the following list, who have been chosen by the three major captains as candidates for this position, are requested to meet in Jesup Hall this evening at 7.30 o'clock. The two men who have been chosen as candidates for college singing leader are also asked to appear at this time. The list of new candidates is as follows: for cheerleaders—Adams, P. Blake, Burger, Loizeaux, Lyon, H. M. Montgomery, P. Phillips, S. Phillips, G. Rounds, Richardson, Secor, J. B. Wilson, Youngman, and Zalles; for singing leader—P. Brown and Richmond.

What Is Vacuum?

IF THE traffic policeman did not hold up his hand and control the automobiles and wagons and people there would be collisions, confusion, and but little progress in any direction. His business is to direct.

The physicist who tries to obtain a vacuum that is nearly perfect has a problem somewhat like that of the traffic policeman. Air is composed of molecules—billions and billions of them flying about in all directions and often colliding. The physicist's pump is designed to make the molecules travel in one direction—out through the exhaust. The molecules are much too small to be seen even with a microscope, but the pump jogs them along and at least starts them in the right direction.

A perfect vacuum would be one in which there is not a single free molecule.

For over forty years scientists have been trying to pump and jog and herd more molecules out of vessels. There are still in the best vacuum obtainable more molecules per cubic centimeter than there are people in the world, in other words, about two billion. Whenever a new jogging device is invented, it becomes possible to eject a few million more molecules.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have spent years in trying to drive more and more molecules of air from containers. The chief purpose has been to study the effects obtained, as, for example, the boiling away of metals in a vacuum.

This investigation of high vacua had unexpected results. It became possible to make better X-ray tubes—better because the X-rays could be controlled; to make the electron tubes now so essential in long-range wireless communication more efficient and trustworthy; and to develop an entirely new type of incandescent lamp, one which is filled with a gas and which gives more light than any of the older lamps.

No one can foretell what will be the outcome of research in pure science. New knowledge, new ideas inevitably are gained. And sooner or later this new knowledge, these new ideas find a practical application. For this reason the primary purpose of the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company is the broadening of human knowledge.

Dean Brown Speaks at W. C. A. Meeting

and furthermore furnishes comfort too in time of need.

At the close of his address, Dean Brown answered a number of questions on various topics. In answer to a query he defined religion as "The inner conscious bearing of man's nature toward one we call God and the expression of this in action." "Christianity is better than Buddhism because it works out better, presents a finer moral standard, and has a nobler conception of God." In reply to other questions he discussed the Bible as the Word of God, the work of Billy Sunday, and religion in business life.

In illustrating his conception of God he said that just as he considered his self as omnipresent and residing in his body, so he thought of God as omnipresent in the whole universe and manifesting himself everywhere. The meeting closed with a brief prayer.

AND WHEN I heard.
MOANS AND groans
I SAID "The wind."
AND TRIED to sleep.
I HEARD rappings.
AND SAID "Rats."
AND ROLLED over.
THEN I heard steps.
AND IN the light.
OF A dying moon.
A WHITE spook rose.
I WASN'T scared—much.
BUT DIDN'T feel like.
STARTING ANYTHING.
BUT THEN I caught.
JUST A faint whiff.
OF A familiar
AND DELICIOUS smell.
WHICH TIPPED me off.
SO I gave the ghost.
THE HORSE laugh.
AND SAID "Ed.
YOU FAT guys.
MAKE BUM ghosts.
BUT BEFORE you fade.
LEAVE WITH me one.
OF YOUR cigarettes.
THEY SATISFY."

THAT spicy, delicious aroma of fine tobaccos, both Turkish and Domestic, makes you almost hungry for the "satisfy-smoke." And there isn't a ghost of a chance you'll ever find its equal anywhere—for the Chesterfield blend is an exclusive blend. It can't be copied.

AUDIENCE IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Concert Numbers Are Received Best—Pianist Plays with Splendid Rhythm

Those who knew the international reputation of the Hambourg Trio and went to the concert with high expectations, were in no way disappointed with Thursday's performance. Perhaps nothing more need be said of this ensemble than the very high praise implied in the statement that they roused a Grace Hall audience to something like enthusiasm—and that in spite of the dead afternoon hours that precede dinner.

The enthusiasm was not, however, very noticeable at first. Even the artists felt something of the solemn sacred awe that pervades an afternoon assembly in Grace Hall before the lights are turned on and the sympathetic current begins to unite us into an audience. Mr. Jan Hambourg did his best from the outset to awaken qualities in me of which I was previously ignorant. "Yes, that is it—Not as I have thought and lived hitherto, but in this way must I live." Something of the kind seems to speak from my soul. "What new thing was I experiencing? I cannot say; but the consciousness of this indefinite state of mind made me happy. The music transported me into other worlds."

We listened to the Sonata hoping that it would help us to understand the great Russian puritan's attack on music as the arousing of indefinite emotions that never found outlet in appropriate actions. But we were not immediately transported—not even beyond the walls of Grace Hall. And then too, probably because of the peculiar acoustics of the hall, the soloist's tone lifted the damper from our spirits by his spirited attack on the opening movement of the Beethoven Sonata—but in

FORM ALUMNI BUREAU

Organize Intercollegiate Agency for Employment

Mr. O. D. Street '01 represented Williams at a meeting of men from 14 eastern colleges and universities held at the Harvard Club in New York city on November 15 for the purpose of discussing the possibility of establishing an Intercollegiate Employment Bureau. Among the colleges that sent representatives were Amherst, Columbia, Hamilton, Harvard, Princeton, Williams, and Yale.

Closer contact between industry and institutions of learning throughout the country would be the result of such a bureau if it were adopted. The plan would benefit the industries by giving them freer access to college trained men and it would help the colleges by drawing to them men who expect to enter business or industrial careers and who otherwise would not have attended college. According to Mr. Botsford, the plan, if adopted, would greatly aid the college men. He said of it, "Such a contact would result in a greatly increased demand for men of college and university training and would help prepare men most effectively for industrial careers. It would also be most advantageous to employers to have one central bureau which would put them in touch with all types of college men."

Mr. Street reported the matter to the Williams Club of New York City and $1,000 was subscribed to promote the project for the first year if it is undertaken. The second meeting of the organizers will be held at the Yale Club in New York City on the evening of January 18. Mr. E. H. Botsford '82 and Charles W. Whittlesey '05 will represent the College at this time.

Relay Team Will Enter Athletic Meet in Boston

With daily practice held at 4.15 o'clock every afternoon, the relay team is being rounded into shape for the Boston Athletic Association meet on the evening of February 5 in Boston. The team has not yet been picked for this event nor final preparations made, but it is certain that a quarter mile relay team will be sent. There are four men of last year's team back, Captain Crofts, Coddling, Kellogg '21 and Richmond '22, who will form the nucleus of this year's team.

TO START CAMPAIGN FOR STUDENT RELIEF

Desperate European Situation is to be Discussed at Mass Meeting Monday

Starting with an appeal at a College mass meeting which is to be held in Jesup Hall next Tuesday evening, January 17, at 7.45 o'clock and continuing for a week, a drive for the relief of the needy students in Europe will be conducted by Finn '21 and Richardson '22. The campaign, which is under the auspices of the American Relief Administration of which Mr. Herbert Hoover is chairman, has been started or is now being started in practically all the colleges in the country.

In defining the work which is hoped to be accomplished by this drive, Mr. Hoover has given the following message to all college students in America, "One hundred thousand of your fellow-students in Europe are greatly suffering this winter because they lack food, fuel, and clothing. For the future of Europe, these students should stay at their studies. You and I can make this possible. We need to assist each student, on the average, to the extent of $10.00, a total sum of $1,000,000."

Conditions among the faculties of the various colleges and universities are equally distressing. Both students and professors are forced to live upon two meals per day, both of which are scanty, and the clothing situation is even worse, many being obliged to go without overcoats, and few having any clothing which is not in rags.

The following colleges and universities have already held campaigns: The Teachers' College, of Columbia University, $8,000; Ohio Wesleyan University, $3,200; Rutgers College, $3,000; Vassar College, $2,000; Pennsylvania State University, $3,000; Colorado Agricultural College, $1,000; College of the City of New York, $1,500; Wesleyan University, $1,500; Detroit Junior College, $1,100; Princeton Theological Seminary, almost $4.00 per capita; Connecticut College for Women, $3.20 per capita.

ALUMNUS TO PREACH

Dr. Sewall '93 is Pastor of Rye
Presbyterian Church

Services in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday morning will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Charles G. Sewall '93, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Rye, N. Y. There will be a communion service at 5.30 o'clock, which will be conducted by the preacher of the morning.

Dr. Sewall was graduated from Williams with the class of 1893, and entered the Union Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1898. Before assuming his present position as pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Rye, he held the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Albany, N. Y. Dr. Sewall is a preacher familiar to all Williams men, for he speaks before the College body at least once every year.

Opportunity will be given for men to sign up for membership in the College Church. The W. C. A. office in Jesup Hall will be open for this purpose from 11.00 to 12.00 o'clock tomorrow morning and from 1.30 to 2.40 o'clock on Sunday.

RECONSTRUCTION MUST COMMENCE IN GERMANY

John Spargo Makes Thorough Analysis of Bolshevik Problem Before Forum

PROBLEM IS VERY GENERAL

Noted Socialist Lecturer Draws Conclusions from Own Personal Experiences

Addressing the Forum last Monday evening on the subject of "Europe's Reconstruction Problem," John Spargo, the well-known socialist lecturer and writer, declared that Bolshevism, the greatest menace to the world's progress, can best be destroyed by helping the German people to regain a firm economical position, and that the foremost task for Socialists all over the world is to save capitalism in order to prevent anarchy.

Mr. Spargo traveled through Russia, Austria, Germany, and France at the time of America's participation in the War, and was able to form first-hand opinions on the Question

Freshmen and Sophomores will meet in the annual underclass debate tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock in Jesup Hall, discussing the subject "Resolved, that the Chinese Immigration Act should be extended to include the Japanese."

The negative will be upheld by the Sophomore team, which, as a result of the trials held last Friday evening, will be composed of Carleton, Collins, and Sewall, with Perkins as alternate. The team which will argue the affirmative of the question for the first year men is made up of Craig, Helfrich, and Herron, with Balke as alternate. Each man will be allowed six minutes for his main speech and three minutes for rebuttal. Members of the Faculty and the debating team will act as judges of the debate.

Announce Engagement of Professor K. E. Weston

Mr. N. Henry Sabin, of Williamstown, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Ruth Sabin, to Professor Karl Ephraim Weston. Professor Weston is head of the Art Department and professor of the History of Art and Civilization. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Gargyle societies and of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Circulation of "Adviser" Rises to Twenty-Three

At the end of the first week, the Williams College Adviser has a daily circulation of 23, including all the fraternities and eating houses. It is urged that the head of each eating house read the Adviser during the mid-day meal in addition to posting it, and that the managers of all activities use it as the surest means of announcing games, competitions and so forth. The Adviser is a permanent institution and is designed to replace the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall.

GENERALSHIP OF "EPH" PROVED NOT AT FAULT

General William A. Pew Addresses
Tuesday Lecture Course on Founder's Death

General William A. Pew, formerly commander of the Williams S. A. T. C., opened the ninth series of the Tuesday Lecture course with an address on "Eph Williams, a Soldier" last Tuesday afternoon in the Physics Laboratory. The speaker has made a careful study of the life of the Founder and is a recognized authority on the subject.

General Pew described Colonel Williams as a large and athletic man who was a self-educated soldier, a strict disciplinarian and a thorough student of men. He carried his military books with him and drilled his officers and men with the aid of them. According to Dr. Fitch, the first president of Williams College, who collected documents and stories of contemporaries of the Founder, Colonel Williams was a kind and loving friend of his soldiers, and admired by them.

Ephraim Williams entered the army at the age of 30 and became the commander of the Western Massachusetts frontier. In 1755, he was sent by General Johnston from Fort Lyman to find a force of Frenchmen under General Desceun who had cut the road between this place and Fort William Henry. It is claimed that the Colonel was surprised on this expedition and defeated because he was unprepared, but General Pew proved that he was not only aware of the presence of the French but that he outmaneuvered his opponent. All of the higher officers of the regiment were killed in the skirmish, but the reports of other participants showed the carefulness of the leader.

Colonel Williams placed his troops in the correct formation on leaving the fort and he himself rode with the support of 100 men in advance of the main body of soldiers who were in the rear. The British Indians persuaded the French allies to withdraw from the battle, but

RECOMMEND INSIGNIA

Schools Committee Approved by Student Council

Among the measures acted upon at a meeting of the Student Council held in Jesup Hall last Wednesday evening were the ratification of the constitution of an undergraduate schools committee and the recommendation that Freshman football insignia should be awarded for participation in two outside games, since no under-class game was played.

The constitution of the Williams Undergraduate Schools Committee, modeled on that in use at Princeton, will be submitted to the College body for approval at a College meeting to be held in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock next Tuesday evening. At the same time efforts will be made by a committee consisting of Finn '21 and Richardson '22 to raise money for the Hoover European relief fund. A petition was sent to the Athletic Council recommending that all freshmen who played in at least two regular games last fall receive their class numerals. In addition, a 72-hour houseparty lasting from February 2 to 5 was sanctioned.

BASKETBALL FIVE LOSES FIRST GAME

Undeclared Colgate Team Displays
Clever Teamwork and Accurate Shooting

SCORE IS 25 TO 19
AT END OF CONTEST

Williams Five Shows Encouraging Strength in Defense
for Early Season

In the first basketball game of the 1921 season the varsity five was defeated 25 to 19 by the Colgate University team last night in the Lassel Gymnasium. A slight superiority in team work and greater accuracy in shooting on the part of the visitors was responsible for the defeat of the Purple quintet.

At the beginning of the game Williams seemed to have the advantage, scoring three baskets in rapid succession before Colgate was able to make a goal. The opposing team rallied, however, and ran up 13 points before the Purple could tally again. The pace was very fast but the Williams team seemed unable to get under its opponents' basket for short shots, and Captain Beckwith made several unsuccessful attempts at goals from the center of the floor. Near the end of the half Wilson scored again for the Purple while Captain Anderson dropped a basket for Colgate, making, with 2 goals from foul by Captain Beckwith, the score 15 to 10 in favor of the visitors when the whistle blew.

No substitutions were made on either side at the beginning of the second period. Williams opened this half also with a burst of speed. Kellogg scored two goals from the floor in the first few minutes of play after a foul shot by Captain Anderson of Colgate. The play became more rapid every minute, frequent scores being made by both sides. At about the middle of the half Fargo was retired from the game after four personal fouls and Bianchi took his place. Fargo was soon followed by

201st RECITAL HELD

Piece Dedicated to Mr. Salter is Well Received

Featured by a selection that was dedicated to Mr. Salter the 201st Organ Recital was given in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon, at 4.15 o'clock. The Oriental Sketch, by Arthur Foote, one of the most distinguished of American composers, was written for and dedicated to Mr. Salter to be played at the 100th recital.

Guilmant's Scherzo from Fifth Sonata is a bright and delicate piece which is notable because of its beauty of subject matter. This was the fourth number and was particularly well received. In contrast to the Scherzo was the concluding number, Finlandia, by Jean Sibelius. The spirit of freedom permeates the entire piece, increasing until it closes with an outburst of enthusiasm. This piece made such a national appeal that it was prohibited in Russia because of the spirit it aroused among liberal Russians. The program follows in detail:

Toeata and Adagio in C	J. S. Bach
Romanza	W. A. Mozart
Largo from the "New World" Symphony	Antonin Dvorak
Scherzo from Fifth Sonata	Alexandre Guilmant
Oriental Sketch	Arthur Foote
Reve Angelique	Anton Rubinstein
Finlandia	Jean Sibelius

Cancel Three Hockey Games

Poor ice conditions caused the cancellation of the hockey game scheduled with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College last Wednesday. Because it has been found impossible to use the Boston Arena rink for the games with M. I. T. and Harvard scheduled today and tomorrow, the Boston trip has also been cancelled.

Jobs for College Men

An article appearing in the news columns of this issue concerning the proposed establishment of an intercollegiate employment bureau should be of interest to all undergraduates, and particularly to members of the senior class. The number of college men who intend to enter business following graduation seems to be increasing every year, and in a large number of cases the graduate is entirely at a loss as to what line of work he will enter. On the other hand, business concerns all over the country are seeking yearly the services of college-trained men. The old-fashioned prejudice against the "College Boy" is rapidly disappearing as the need of trained men becomes more and more apparent, and the suggested plan, when thoroughly worked out, should prove of inestimable value to both employer and employee.

Opening the Season

Although the first basketball game of the season resulted in a defeat, we see no cause for discouragement in the outcome of the contest. It must be remembered that Colgate had already played three games, and that four of the five regulars on the visiting team were letter men and had played together in former years. Taking these two handicaps into consideration, the showing made by the Williams team is more than encouraging. The quintet which Coach Shanahan has built up largely from inexperienced material shows promise of developing into a formidable organization which should make a good record in the games to come.

Prom Tickets Put on Sale

Tickets for the Sophomore Prom., which will be held on Friday evening, February 4 at 9.00 o'clock, may be obtained in Jesup Hall on Sunday morning between 11.45 and 12.00 o'clock and between 7.15 and 8.00 o'clock Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. At this time, members of the faculty may obtain complimentary tickets for the Prom upon request. The committee has decided to offer these tickets as a means of encouraging the attendance of members of the Faculty and their wives at the Prom.

Reconstruction Must Commence in Germany

condition and the needs of Europe. In examining the condition of a country he was not content to visit the chief cities and administrative centers, but talked with the common people of the small towns and villages, who, he said, are always a better barometer of the true condition of the country.

Bolshevism, said Mr. Spargo, will fall of its own weight, unless the German people are driven to support its cause. Wherever he went in Russia, Poland, and Scandinavia, people of all classes told him that the increasing tide of refugees portended its failure before the end of the winter. The Soviet government, according to Gregory Krassin, Soviet Trade Commissioner, is obeyed only in the cities, which comprise 15% of the population. The peasants have been ruined by the economic collapse, and ignore the government, seeking only to escape to some other country. To illustrate the economic condition, Mr. Spargo said that every bit of construction has stopped; that 58,000 rubles, formerly worth $29,000 exchange on the market for 73 cents, and industrial implements such as hammers or scythes, are unobtainable, save those left by the Czar's regime. Even a license and the presence of a Bolshevik official is necessary to make a public address. The anti-Bolshevist council held at Paris this week is a sincere attempt by all the opposition forces of Russia to formulate a constructive national program for use when the Soviet falls. Peasants and old-time royalists alike dread such an eventuality, for they fear that anarchy is the only alternative to Bolshevism. Mr. Spargo, however, was firm in the belief that either the Paris council or the spontaneous formation of co-operative local unions for progress would give the Russian people some sort of government to lean on.

The new United States administration, said Mr. Spargo, must realize that this is not merely a Russian problem, but one actually affecting all Europe. In Austria, physical privations have literally set back the present generation of children for years, and left the entire country in utter hopelessness and stupor. The only hope for Austria to escape becoming a world parasite is to link it with southern Germany, said Mr. Spargo. Germany itself, in spite of a sense of bewilderment and an incomprehensible financial collapse, he found basically sound, and on this fact he founded his faith in Germany as the eventual savior of economic Europe. At present the German government is facing a deficit of 80,000,000,000 marks, and if Germany is saddled with this in addition to its just indemnities, it will be very likely to seek relief through Soviet leadership. In order to prevent such a powerful union, the United States and the Allies must consider Germany as a willing but insolvent creditor, extend credits if necessary, and give her every opportunity to become an efficient economic unit by getting to work. But he condemned the sentimental attitude that would free her from all reparations for the war she in large measure caused. Mr. Spargo was convinced that the German people had bid adieu to the Hohenzollerns and to militarism, and that they are now anxious to help stabilize Europe if given the chance. By dealing sensibly with them the United States can re-establish its prestige and isolate the cause of Bolshevism which just now seems alluring to Germany.

In closing, Mr. Spargo stated that his ideal of a socialist program is to save capitalism but to remodel it on a juster basis, and not, as the Bolsheviks would have it, to destroy capitalism and rebuild an entire new system. Remodelling is simpler than rebuilding, and leaves something better than anarchy to fall back on during the change from one system to another.

Cheerleading Practice Held

In order to give the competitors an idea of the work and get them started on cheers, a meeting of the cheerleaders was held last Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. The new men will not lead cheers until the second basketball game of the season which will take place January 19. The competitors who are members of the junior class are as follows: Adams, P. Brown, P. R. Blake, Burger, Loizeaux, Lyon, P. Phillips, S. Phillips, G. Rounds, Richmond, Richardson, Secor, J. E. Wilson, Youngman, Zalles, and H. M. Montgomery.

"Some college men would call me a failure"

"I GOT through in 1914, and I'm not president of my company yet," confessed the old grad. "We have a president, and what's more he seems pretty healthy."

"Now I see that I was expecting things to happen too quickly. Ambition is right and proper, but a man can't qualify as boss of the whole works till he gets a grip on the thousand and one details of his business. And that takes time, hard licks and maybe some hard knocks."

"But all this is nothing to get downhearted over. You'll come through these early years of training all right, as I did, if you have picked the right work and are in it heart and soul."

"At that, we engineers are lucky. If you don't believe it ask any lawyer or doctor what his first five years were like."

"That's the way I reasoned it out, and I decided to stick. I had chosen engineering not as a makeshift job, but as a life work that any man could be proud of. And if you can judge the future of this profession by its past and present, here's a game that is certainly worth the candle."

"So, while we are learning the ropes in our twenties let's keep an eye to our thirties and forties and fifties, when—if we've learned well enough—we will get our chance at the big problems we'd like to tackle now."

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Mosier, the Colgate center, and Hermann, who had been playing left guard shifted to center while Murphy was put in at his former position. During the last five minutes of play Hyde was substituted for Wightman. Although the varsity put up a stiff fight during this period, frequent inaccurate attempts at baskets prevented them from securing the lead again, and the contest ended with the score 25 to 19 in favor of Colgate.

Captain Anderson, who made three baskets from the floor and shot seven foul goals was easily the star player for the visitors, but there was no outstanding player on the Williams five, which showed the lack of practice of an opening game.

spite of this he did not wholly master us, or himself. Perhaps the trouble was that we expected too much from this sonata. This famous work has gained an added renown from Tolstoi's study in jealousy entitled The Kreutzer Sonata. To him it was indeed "the food of love." "Such works," he writes, "should only be played on certain important occasions only in cases where it is necessary that certain actions be provoked in correspondence with the music. But to provoke an energy which corresponds neither with the tune nor with the place and which expends itself in nothing, cannot but have injurious effects. brancy that gives the violin the power to "transport men into other worlds." There were times too when the piano overbore the other instrument and times when the pizzicato accompaniment seemed weak and ineffectual.

Even in the second movement we were at first much too conscious that there were two separate instruments playing. In one passage, perhaps, the composer is to be blamed for the feeling we had that the violin and piano did not really have much to do with each other. But with the variation of the andante movement the players definitely conquered their environment and from that moment the concert was a thrilling success. The Hambourg Trio's trilling was particularly clear, finished and beautiful, and the accompanist roused the sleeping soul of his piano and made it really sing to us. The Sonata closed with a presto movement played with remarkable vivacity.

Senor Guerrero played three selections from Chopin with brilliant tone and faultless execution. The Nocturne in F sharp Major, which Chopin wrote when dying (Continued on page 4, column 1) with consumption, was full of noble pathos. In contrast to this the Scherzo revealed the Chopin of more playful mood. Señor Guerrero was enthusiastically encoored and responded with Moskowstoy's Le Gangneur, which he performed with remarkably strong accents and in very rapid time.

The third member of the Trio, Mr. Boris Hambourg, played two cello solos. His tone and style were worthy of better music. Godard's Sur le Lac and Popper's Serenade are not noteworthy compositions but Mr. Hambourg made the most of them and of their contrasting effects. Perhaps they were chosen to exhibit the capabilities of his instrument. The Godard piece did, at any rate, remind us that the cello has four strings and that music can be written for all four instead of for the usual overworked two upper strings. The tone which Mr. Hambourg produced from the lowest string would justify any composer making use of this register. Such a tone on the C string, strong, resonant and varied in shading, is the final mark of cello virtuosity.

As an encore he played Reinsky's Korsakoff's Song of India. This was real cello music, broad, sonorous yet without mockish sentimentality. The repetition of the theme in the extreme upper notes was wonderfully done and we were held enthralled by the pure and ethereal harmonies which he produced.

The last number was Dvorak's Dumky

Trio (Opus 90). If we had heard all the solos we should have been greatly impressed with the concert but the Trio was so well done that we could have wished that the solos had been omitted and more concerted music given. If the artists were great as soloists they were much greater as a Trio. Their cooperation was perfect. The balance of tone between the three instruments was beyond praise. The Trio itself was indeed remarkable, with its changes of tempo and its wide varied style, and the execution was perfectly satisfying. We shall not soon forget the impression made on us of the lovely duet passages for the strings alone. At last we were transported into another world—a strange mystic slavonic world, in which materialism was all forgotten and a voice spoke to us of things which once we had possessed but now had almost lost.

while they were carrying out these orders of Ephraim Williams, the leader of the friendly Indians was killed and the battle started. Colonel Williams attacked the Canadians and was killed with the majority of his support. The main force did not enter the fight, due, it is claimed, to the cowardice of the leader in charge. The British forces were prepared for the battle, and any charge of their being surprised is false. This battle on September 8 is called the Bloody Morning Scout.

In closing, General Pew said that Colonel Williams bound his hastily raised troops together by his own personality. According to the speaker, Ephraim Williams was "the most promising soldier Massachusetts ever produced."

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

SCHOOLS COMMITTEE EFFECTS ORGANIZATION

Body Was Authorized, by Recent Action Taken at Student Council Meeting

CONSTITUTION DRAWN UP

Purpose Is to Spread Williams News Among Leading Preparatory Schools

In order to become more thoroughly organized for consideration of the plans and operations of the Undergraduate Schools Committee, a meeting of that body together with the presidents of the various school clubs, was held yesterday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock at the Kappa Alpha Lodge.

An executive council composed of the presidents of the various school clubs and the Undergraduate Schools Committee was proposed. The promotion of interest in the various preparatory schools through distributed literature, entertainment at College of preparatory school men, frequent visits of members of the Committee to their respective preparatory schools, and various other means of bringing men into a knowledge of the opportunities at Williams, was suggested.

The Williams Undergraduate Schools Committee was established at a recent meeting of the Student Council for the purpose of spreading news of Williams among the leading preparatory schools throughout the country.

The constitution of this body, as recently drawn up, is as follows: Article 1. This body shall be known as the Williams Undergraduate Schools Committee. Article 2. The purpose of this organization shall be to create and maintain interest in Williams College among the leading preparatory schools by means of supervised and conservative information. Article 3. All questions of policy shall be decided upon and enforced by this board. Article 4. The committee shall consist of the six senior representatives to the Student Council. Article 5. This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the committee, provided that a three days' notice be given to each member.

The by-laws of the body have been drawn up as follows: Article 1. The officers of the board shall be a president and a secretary-treasurer, to be elected at the first meeting of the college year. Article 2, Section 1. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at and call all meetings, and to exercise careful supervision over all the affairs of the committee. Section 2. It shall be the duty of the secretary-treasurer to keep a record of all the proceedings, to give due notice of the time and place of all meetings to each member of the committee, to have supervision over all the funds of the committee, (Continued on page 3, column 2)

WIN FIRST CONTEST

Hockey Team Scores 4 Goals Over Albany Country Club

Williams defeated the Albany Country Club hockey team last Saturday afternoon on their rink by a score of 4-0 in the first game of the season. The playing of the Purple septet was good considering their lack of practice, but they dribbled the puck too much and took too few shots at the goal. The condition of the ice was very good except around the edges. Clark and Becket were the stars for the Purple while Wheeler and Murray played a good game for the losing team. The play was slow, although the passing was very good at times. Following is the line-up of the Williams team: R. C. Clark '23, left wing; Rowse '22, right wing; Becket '22, center; Stevenson '23, rover; Irwin '21, right defense; Buell '22, left defense; and Richmond '23, goal; substitutions: Mixer '21 for Clark; Mackie '23 for Richmond; and G. Dewey '22 for Buell. The scores were made by Rowse, Clark and two by Becket.

Prof. Droppers Delivers Talk on Trip in Greece

Professor Droppers delivered an interesting lecture on his travels through Greece at a meeting of the Classical Society held last Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Currier Hall Common Room. Describing in considerable detail the various trips he made throughout Greece while he was United States minister to that country, the speaker explained the places of greatest interest to sightseers, and praised the work of the American School in their activities toward restoration. A general discussion followed the address.

IMPORTANT COLLEGE MEETING ON TUESDAY

To Vote on Procedure of Holding Class Elections—Relief Drive to Start

Three important measures will be laid before the College at the meeting of the undergraduate body to be held Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. A drive will be started for the relief of the needy students of Europe, the constitution of the Undergraduate Schools will be presented, and the method of procedure at class elections will be voted upon at that time.

As was announced in the last issue of the RECORD, a campaign will be conducted by Finn '21 and Richardson '22 on the behalf of the students of Europe under the auspices of the American Relief Administration of which Herbert Hoover is chairman. Similar drives have been or are now being held in practically every college and university throughout the country.

Elsewhere in the RECORD is the purpose and constitution of the new Undergraduate Schools Committee which received the approval of the Student Council last Wednesday evening. The approval of the College will be asked at the meeting tomorrow evening.

Tonight, the No-Deal Committee will consider the new method for class elections, and, if passed, will also be presented at the College meeting. This method is the result of a petition of the class of 1922 to the No-Deal Committee in which they asked for a nominating committee which, among other results, would save time in class meetings and thereby would increase the number of members who attend them. A sub-committee composed of Brucker, Roth, Schlesinger, C. Taylor, R. P. Towne and Ufford '21 was appointed to consider the matter and draw up a method of procedure. Following is the outlined plan:

Method of Procedure at Class Elections
1. Nominations for all class elections of class officers, managers, members of committees, and Class Day officers shall be made by a nominating committee.

2. The members of this committee shall be composed of five men, to be appointed by the class president not less than twenty-four hours previous to the holding of the election.

a. No man shall serve on this committee twice in succession, nor more than three times during the college year.

b. The names of the committees shall be entered on the class minutes.

3. The nominating committee shall submit to the class the names of at least two men—except in the case of Class Day poets and orators.

4. Nominations from the floor in addition to those nominated by the nominating committee shall be allowed.

5. A motion to close the nominations must be unanimous.

6. Names of nominees shall be dropped from the list if any man receives votes fewer in number than fifteen per cent of the number of voters present at the meeting.

7. Thereafter the man receiving the least number of votes shall be dropped from the list until a majority is cast for one of the candidates.

8. The first freshman class meeting of the year shall be conducted under the nomination by ballot system.

INTERCLASS DEBATE WON BY FRESHMEN

Sophomores Lose in Argument to Extend Chinese Exclusion Act to Japanese

CLOSE DECISION WAS MADE

1924 Shows Superior Ability in Discussing Question of Immigration

Before a small audience the Freshman Debating Team won a two to one decision over the 1923 speakers last Friday evening in Jesup Hall in the annual underclass debate. The winning team upheld the affirmative side of the following question: "Resolved, that the Chinese Exclusion Act should be extended to include the Japanese."

The freshman team was made up of Herron, Helfrich, Craig, and Balke, alternate, and Collins, Carleton, Sewall, and Thomson, alternate, were the sophomore speakers. J. R. Montgomery '22 presided at the debate, and Atwell, Balch '21, and Lyon '22 acted as judges.

Herron opened the case for the affirmative by pointing out how effectively the gold-rush of Chinese immigrants to California should be checked.

WILLIAMS WILL MEET AMHERST IN HOCKEY

Opponent Has Been Defeated by Dartmouth and M. A. C. in First Two Games

Williams will face Amherst in the second hockey game of the season on Pratt Field rink next Wednesday afternoon, January 19. As far as can be judged from indications up to the present time, the two teams will be very evenly matched, although there may be a slight advantage for the Purple and White in that they have already played two games.

Amherst lost the first contest of the season to Dartmouth by a score of 4 to 2, and was again humbled by M. A. C. last Wednesday by a score of 2 to 1. However, this is not such a sign of weakness as it might appear to be at first sight, for Dartmouth was able recently to vanquish King's College, last year's runner-up for the Canadian title, 5 to 2. On the other hand the Purple septet was able to beat the Albany Country Club team last Saturday by a score of 4 to 0, although the latter organization sometimes defeats the well known St. Nicholas team of New York City.

The probable lineup of the two teams for Wednesday's contest is as follows:

Williams	r.w.	Amherst
Rowse	r.w.	Titus
W. R. Stephenson	r.e.	R. A. Clark
Mixer or Clark	l.w.	Metcalf
Becket	l.e.	Davidson (Capt.)
Irwin (Capt.)	r.d.	Worcester
Clark or Buell	l.d.	Wilcox or Leete
Mackie or Richmond	g	Plimpton or Burgess

Boynton Is All-American Choice of Most Players

Boynton '21 is the All-American quarterback selection as the result of a canvass of some 300 college football teams, according to a recent issue of the Collegiate World. Since the close of the football season that publication has requested three hundred football managers to send in their teams' choices for the All-American eleven. Boynton proved the majority choice for quarterback. Among those mentioned as having played well during the season in New England are Joslyn, c. of Williams, Peek, qb., of Wesleyan, Wing, hb., and Clapp, t., of Amherst.

RUTH DRAPER TO GIVE SERIES OF MONOLOGUES

Thompson Course to Have Artist Who Has Been in England for Three Years

Miss Ruth Draper, one of the most talented monologists and impersonators in the country, will appear in the third number of the Thompson Course at 8.15 o'clock next Thursday evening in Jesup Hall. She has just returned to this country from England where she has been giving a series of entertainments since 1918.

Miss Draper is a staunch defender of the monologue as an element in the development of the English drama, and her own success in this field has had the effect of increasing its vogue to a considerable extent. Her skill in bringing the setting of her subject, without the use of properties, before the eyes of her audience is remarkable. Although she never has a determined program in advance of the performance, her impersonations of a Jew tailor, a French dressmaker, a charwoman, a debutante and other character studies of a very varied nature are highly realistic and entertaining.

English critics during her recent stay in England were unanimous in their praise and commendation of her work. The London Globe said in referring to her: "There are few, if any, reciters at present before the public who can rival Miss Ruth Draper in the art of Characterization. Her recital at the Aeolian Hall yesterday was a sheer delight, and for once a thoroughly good artist attracted an audience worthy of her merits. There were not enough seats to go around. Miss Draper's character studies were uncannily faithful and effective. In all that she did her work was vivid, charming and delightfully original; and her versatility was extraordinary."

The London Jewish Chronicle said: "The art of Miss Draper stands alone. To hold an audience enthralled for nearly two hours with this branch of dramatic art, without the aid of properties, music or scenery, is indeed a triumph. There is no doubt that her listeners would cheerfully have allowed Miss Draper to continue indefinitely."

The London Observer praised Miss Draper as follows: "She is a dramatic artist who can conjure up by her single voice the scenes and persons of a whole series of stage plays. She is a hit of the season, who never fails to move her audiences to enthusiasm, and admiration."

Program of 202nd Recital

Following is the program for Mr. Salter's 202nd organ recital, to be given at 4.15 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon in Grace Hall:

FORMIDABLE WESLEYAN FIVE WILL PLAY HERE

First Basketball Game This Year Between Triangular Rivals Is Set for Next Friday

DEFEATED HARVARD 33-31

Williams May Lose Services of Captain for Contest with Red and Black

Williams will face the strong Wesleyan quintet in the second varsity basketball game of the season next Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. Wesleyan began the season with two defeats but seems to have improved steadily and last Saturday defeated Harvard 33 to 31.

In the first game of the season with Stevens Institute on December 18 the Red and Black five was overwhelmed by the score of 49 to 18. Lack of teamwork seemed largely responsible for this one-sided defeat and this fault has been greatly remedied. On January 8 Wesleyan received her second defeat at the hands of Union with the very close score of 21 to 20. Great improvement was shown in both shooting and teamwork. Robertson, who plays one of the forward positions, in these games proved himself Wesleyan's most valuable offensive man and by his accurate shooting was personally responsible for a large part of the Red and Black scores. Capt. Hartman, at center, also played particularly well.

Around these two men a strong combination has been built up which defeated Ed. Wachter's pupils at Harvard last Saturday evening 33 to 31. In this game Robertson eaged four baskets from the foul line in the last few minutes of play overcoming a lead of two points which Harvard had maintained throughout almost the entire game.

Practically the same Williams lineup will be presented for the game next Friday as in the Colgate game with the possible exception of Cap. Beckwith, who has been suffering from a nervous breakdown and therefore may be unable to start the game. In this case Hyde and Wightman would fill the forward positions. Bianchi or Fargo will play center and J. E. Wilson and Kellogg will be the guards as in the Colgate game.

Progress has been made this week in overcoming the lack of teamwork and inaccuracy of shooting shown in the game with Colgate and in the practice game with the North Adams Y. M. C. A. on the previous Saturday. As the result of Coach Shumham's efforts in these few days it should be a much stronger quintet which will face the Red and Black five.

TO MEET PRINCETON

Debate Will Be Here in Addition to Triangular Contests

In addition to the annual triangular debate, with Brown and Dartmouth, the Adelphi Union has arranged a meeting of the Princeton and Williams team to be held at Williamstown on March 19. The subject for this debate will be the same one which will be used in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton contest, and it will be announced on February 21.

Plans are also being considered for a dual debate, the Purple affirmative team remaining at Williamstown and the negative men going to Princeton. In the event that this dual meeting can be arranged, Manager E. P. Taylor '21 is planning to secure a debate with some other university or college in that vicinity for Friday, March 18.

Hall '21 was elected representative of the Union at a meeting last Friday in Jesup Hall to attend a conference at Springfield next Saturday to complete plans for the annual spring triangular debate between Brown, Dartmouth and Williams. This debate will take place either the last week in March or the first in April.

Changing Election Methods

Several important proposals will come before the College body tomorrow night, foremost among which is the change in method of elections drawn up by the No-Deal Committee.

The value of the newly-organized Undergraduate Schools committee is too apparent to necessitate comment, and will undoubtedly be approved without dissent. The alteration in election methods is, however, a different matter. That the tiresome machinery of the present system is unsatisfactory is indubitable, but whether the proposed method will remedy present difficulties is a matter for serious consideration.

There are two outstanding weaknesses in the present system. In the first place, the procedure is always tedious and long drawn out, with the result that attendances have been so meager that it was often impossible to obtain a quorum. Secondly, class elections have too often resulted in games of "follow the leader," in which the same names are presented time after time, a large majority voting blindly for those men who have in some way attained prominence in the past. Ability and fitness for the office have been relegated to the background, and capable men are often never given the opportunity to show their talents.

The first of these difficulties we believe would be solved only in the elimination of the present first ballot to determine nominees. As long as nominations from the floor are allowed, a large number of names will be presented. The provision offered in another section of the Committee's report, that any name receiving less than fifteen per cent of the votes cast shall be dropped from the ballot, we consider valueless. Past experience in class elections bears witness to the fact that when the names have been brought down to a comparatively small number, five for instance, the number of votes cast for the various men differ only by small amounts. The proposed system would, then, work out in this manner. Two or three names would be presented by the nominating committee. Four or five more would be added by nominations from the floor, making a total of from six to eight names. On the next ballot, under the fifteen per cent rule, possibly two names would be dropped. And then, if past experience can be relied upon, it would be necessary to cast from three to five ballots more, one name being dropped each time, until a majority is reached. In some cases the committee nominees might be so apparently superior that an election would be a matter of only one or two ballots, but this would probably be an exceptional case.

The second objection to the system now in use, would, however, probably be to some degree corrected. The nominating committee would have the opportunity of presenting capable men, irrespective of their former prominence, and nominations from the floor would also pave the way for placing the names of obscure but able candidates before the class. Herein, we believe, lies the chief value of the proposed method.

Just how this system would function, is of course largely a matter of conjecture. It offers opportunity for improvement, but it also offers opportunity for abuse, and for the injection of undesirable elements of a political sort into class elections. It is neither all good nor all bad. But since the only way in which we can determine its value is to try it, the rational method of procedure seems to be to adopt it tentatively, until we find out what the results will be.

The RECORD believes that the plan should be considered carefully, and if it is decided that it possesses enough promise to warrant making a change, that it should be adopted tentatively, to remain in force only for a limited time. Under the light of past experience the undergraduate body would then be able to adopt it permanently or go back to the old system. No permanent change would need to be made, but the proposed system would be given a fair trial, and would either stand or fall on its own merits.

FRESHMEN WIN EASILY IN FIRST ENCOUNTER

Superior Team-Work and Shooting Defeats Union Freshmen in One-Sided Game

Piling up a score of 36 points to their opponents' 12, the Williams 1924 basketball team defeated the Union Freshmen last Saturday afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium in the first game of the season for the Purple team. After the first five minutes of play the outcome was never in doubt, the visitors being surpassed in every branch of the game.

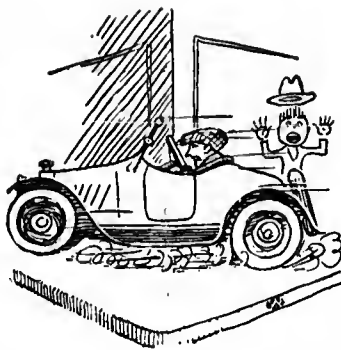

Captain Blackmer was the outstanding figure, making six baskets, and failing in only two out of 10 attempts at goals on fouls, thus making a total of 20 points to his credit.

At the opening of the game Captain Nitchmann started the scoring for the Union Freshmen. Two fouls on their side followed, from which the Williams team obtained one goal. A long shot by Johnston gave two more points to the Purple Freshmen, and two goals by Blackmer, and one by Jayne succeeded. Numerous fouls on both sides interrupted the playing in the first half and gave Captain Blackmer opportunity for seven consecutive goals from fouls. Andrews of Union was withdrawn and Brown substituted, the first half ending with a score of 22 to 8 points in favor of Williams 1924.

In the second half the Williams Freshmen made six baskets before their opponents could score a point. The playing was less rough and more free from fouls. Numerous substitutions were made by both teams in the last few minutes of play, but neither side gained any advantage. A final basket by Blackmer tripled the score of the Union team.

Interclass Debate Won by Freshmen

fornia was stopped by the Exclusion Act. Collins, the first negative speaker, admitted the necessity of curbing the Japanese laborers in California, but denied that total exclusion was the proper method.

Helfrich, resuming the affirmative argument, gave economic and political reasons why the Japanese should be excluded. He showed how they are able to underbid American workmen because their standard of living is much lower than the American's.

Carleton condemned total expulsion on the ground that it would violate the "open door" policy, that it would destroy one-tenth of the total trade of the United States, and that it would probably provoke war with Japan.

Craig concluded the affirmative argument by indicating the racial danger in treating the Japanese as equals in this country, while other races which have many more points in common with native Americans, are often shamefully treated.

Sewall concluded the main speeches by admitting all the affirmative had said about the undesirability and menace of the Japanese workers. He then outlined three plans for treating the question in preference to total exclusion. These were (1) to have individual states pass their own laws regulating Japanese immigration, (2) to make an agreement with Japan to make no restrictions on Japanese rights in America if the Japanese government would deny passports to all undesirable laborers, or (3) to submit the question to an impartial and neutral tribunal for settlement.

ADDRESSES W. C. A. ON MODERN SPIRITUALISM

Dr. Sewall Believes That Occult Phenomena Are Not Hostile to Christianity

In his speech before the W. C. A. on Sunday evening, Dr. Charles G. Sewall gave it as his opinion that Christians and Christianity should maintain towards spiritualism an attitude of neutrality which should be swayed towards one extreme or the other only as the evidence warranted.

We know little enough about spiritualism, but in all ages there has been a vast body of phenomena which may be called occult. The Greeks had their oracles; the Indian tribes had their medicine men; until a century ago the belief in witchcraft was general. With the development of modern science, and the better insight into the working of nature which has come with the years, a widespread attitude of scepticism has grown up. Scientific men looked askance, and said that all demonstrations of the so-called spirit world are believed in only because of the ignorance and superstition of the believers. But wholesale scepticism is as unscientific as wholesale belief. There is something mysterious and inexplicable, but entirely genuine in spiritualism.

Many good Christians look upon spiritualism with alarm and hostility; they believe that there is something dangerous in it. Dr. Sewall said that for himself he could see no reason for such an attitude. One of the chief doctrines of the Christian faith is that the spirit is immortal. If the claim of the spiritualists is true that the dead have at last found a way to communicate to those still on this earth their hopes and desires, there is no reason why Christianity should oppose it. It would only confirm the doctrine of immortality.

Another of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity is the doctrine of prayer, that people can actually communicate with God. If that be true, we already have one means of communication with a Being outside this world. It is not inconceivable that there may also be means of communication with other lesser spirits, and such a belief could in no way harm Christianity.

The lives of practical Christians will mean a great deal if we follow the example of Christ and devote our attention to our everyday lives and to improving them, maintaining towards spiritualism at the same time the attitude of respectful interest and of scientific investigation of undoubtedly genuine phenomena.

MISS RUTH DRAPER IN ENTERTAINMENT

Talented Impersonator Presents
Excellent Repertoire of Monologues

PERFORMANCE IS THIRD OF THOMPSON COURSE

Large Audience Witnesses Vivid Contrast and True Character
Presentation

Miss Ruth Draper presented a widely varied and well received repertoire of monologues last evening in Jesup Hall. Vivid contrast and true presentation of the characters marked the entertainment as one of a high rank.

"The French Dressmaker," in which a Parisian modiste receives customers, was the first monologue of the evening. The sketch was a humorous one, in which the dressmaker spoke poor English and made amusing frequent asides to an assistant in an outer office. A mother had brought her daughter to have some dresses fitted, and the modiste flatters the girl and the mother in a modulated voice, while her asides to the assistant are made in sharp French.

New York or Chicago was the scene of the next presentation, which was entitled "Three Generations of Jews." A grandmother with her daughter and granddaughter are appearing before a magistrate. The girl has supported her mother and grandmother for two years, and now wants to get married and go to the West. Her people are unable to support themselves without her aid and are appealing to the Judge to force her to remain at home. The characterizations of the 72 year old grandmother, the 42 year old paralyzed mother, and the young girl who works as a typist and who selfishly desires

SHOWS EXPRESSION

Mr. Salter's 202nd Recital One of Fine Musical Portrayal

Choosing the works of very famous composers for his program, Mr. Simmer Salter gave his 202nd weekly organ recital in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon. All the compositions demanded an ability for finished musical expression rather than a skilled technique.

Handel's Concerto in B flat which offers a splendid opportunity for the organ to interpret the music of all the better known instruments, was, on the whole, a little disappointing, due perhaps to the excellence of some of the numbers which followed it. The Ricercata by Palestrina was very interesting as a model of the old vocal style of writing of the 16th century.

The first movement of Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite was notable for its sparkling lyric qualities, and a sharp contrast to the majestic solemnity of the second movement which gave a faithful portrayal of a Norwegian funeral procession. "To the Evening Star" and the Pilgrims' Chorus from Wagner's opera Tannhauser were without doubt the most gorgeous spots on the program, and the interpretation of the feeling in these compositions was most finished. "Fiat Lux," the last number, was the only one which demanded exceptional technique, and it was extremely well done.

The complete program was as follows: Concerto VI, in B flat

George Frederick Handel
Ricercata Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina Gavotta Giovanni Battista Martini
Peer Gynt Suite

II. Ase's Death

Bullock Chosen Editor of Propaganda Pamphlet

Bullock '21 has been appointed editor of a Williams propaganda pamphlet which is to be sent to the leading preparatory schools of the country. The foundation of this paper is the first step which has been taken by the Undergraduate Schools Committee in their effort to spread the name of Williams broadcast over the country.

Many of the colleges and universities in the United States have taken similar steps to advertise their institutions, and Amherst has engaged a salaried press agent to take charge of her publicity work. Until this time, the entire publicity work at Williams has been handled by the Press Club, and the step of the Undergraduate Schools Committee will do much to relieve their work, and will allow the members of the Club to devote more time to work sent to the daily metropolitan newspapers.

Suitable material of any sort, such as photographs, old or new, of the College and surrounding country should be submitted to Bullock for inclusion in the pamphlet.

AMHERST IS DEFEATED IN FAST HOCKEY GAME

Williams Septet Invades Opponent's Territory and Wins
With 2-1 Score

In a fast and well played game the Williams hockey team defeated the Amherst seven on the College rink at Amherst last Wednesday afternoon by a 2 to 1 score. All three goals were made during the first half and the outcome of the contest was never certain before the final whistle blew.

For the Purple seven Richmond played a brilliant game at goal, successfully stopping repeated bombardments by the opposing team. Only once, when Davidson, the Amherst center, broke through the last man of the Williams defense, did he fail to stop the shots of the opposing players. Davidson was easily stellar player for the Amherst team.

During the first few seconds of play Becket shot the first goal for the Purple, and this score was soon followed by Davidson's successful attempt which followed as the result of a clever bit of team work and passing on the part of the Amherst team. In the final period, although the pace redoubled and both sides made frequent attempts at their opponents' goal, neither team was able to score after Clark's shot for Williams which came shortly before half time.

The line-ups of the two teams was as follows:

Williams	Amherst
Clark	Metcalf
Becket	Davidson
Stephenson	Wileox
Rowse	Titus
Buell	Clark
Irwin	Worster
Richmond	Plympton
Goals—Becket, Clark (W), Davidson.
Time of halves—20 minutes. Score—Williams 2, Amherst 1.

To Visit 6 Cities at Easter

Plans for the trip of the Musical Clubs during the Easter recess are now well under way. Concerts will be given in Springfield, Boston, Providence, R. I., Montclair, N. J., East Orange, N. J., and New York City. The regular program for the Mandolin Club is composed of the following selections: I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby by Clay, Maria Mari by di Capera, and the Norwegian Slumber Song by Gilden. In addition to this, a sextette, the composition of which has not been decided as yet, will render a program of popular music. Detailed plans for the Glee Club have not been definitely determined.

Sunday evening meetings, deputations, and cabinet meetings of the W. C. A. will be suspended for the next three weeks due to semester examinations.

FORMER MINISTER TO GREECE GIVES TALK

Professor Droppers Relates Numerous Interesting Experiences of European War

CARED FOR ALLIED AFFAIRS

High Praise Extended to Venizelos for His Efforts to Avoid War With Entente

"Venizelos is the most bitterly hated as well as the best liked man in Greece" declared Professor Droppers former Minister to Greece, in discussing "Modern Politics in Greece" at the second meeting of the Tuesday Lecture Course last Tuesday afternoon in Thompson Physical Laboratory.

During his stay in Greece from 1914 to 1916, Professor Droppers was intimately connected with the politics of that country and was able to describe from personal experience, the political conditions in that country. He emphasized above all that politics was not only the principal but, in too many cases, the sole occupation of the Greeks and pointed out that too much politics is a great danger. Conditions in Athens illustrate this fact. Everywhere one can see groups of people engaged in violent discussion. Newspapers filled with political comment come out at every hour.

During the first six months of the war the national sentiment was strongly in favor of the Allies, but with the later German victories this inclination was weakened by propaganda. The newspapers were bought up and bribed by an influential German, Baron Schenk.

Through the influence of Premier Venizelos, who has done more for Greece than any other man, his country maintained a friendly attitude toward the Allies. In fact, the King actually agreed to enter the war on the side of the Entente, but suddenly changed his decision. Venizelos resigned and the ministry fell into the hands of the pro-German men, who by taking advantage of several unfortunate military misunderstandings aroused much antagonism to the Allies, especially at Athens where rioting took place. The crisis was reached when an engagement between Greek and French troops occurred near that city. At this time a diplomatic rupture threatened and the allied legations removed to Saloniki, leaving their affairs in the hands of Mr. Droppers.

At the close of the War, Venizelos, who had set up a provisional pro-Ally government returned to Athens as Premier and remained there until recently when he was badly beaten in the election.

After his defeat he removed to France, for he is too bitterly hated by his enemies and the party of King Constantine, to make his position safe. He is, however, supported by the commercial and business interests of the country and is very popular among the people wherever he is known.

Quorum Lacking at Meeting

Since approximately only 130 men were present at the college meeting which had been called for Tuesday night, Ufford '21, the chairman of the Student Council, announced that owing to the lack of a quorum the meeting would have to be postponed. A meeting will be called soon after the mid-year examinations to take up the business of the postponed meeting.

Offer Prize to Author of Best One-Act Play

No further presentations of the Beau Stratagem after the houseparty performance on February 3, will be made by Cap and Bells in accordance with a decision reached at a meeting of the Corporation last Monday afternoon. Tentative plans were discussed for the presentation by the Society of a series of one-act plays during the month of March, and it was decided to offer a prize of $25 for the best original one-act play submitted by an undergraduate.

It is understood that in the event that any of the plays submitted in the contest are found available by the faculty committee of judges, the winning contribution will be included in the series. Present plans provide for performances in neighboring towns and cities, in addition to one or more performances for the college body. Plays for the contest should be handed to Power '21 on or before February 10.

Youngman '22 was elected delegate-at-large to the Board of Directors of the Corporation. Wells '21, manager of the organization, reported that the Christmas trip was a financial success.

HARVARD QUINTET TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Strong Crimson Team Has Won
Two Out of Four Games
This Season

Harvard will face Williams in the third game of the basketball season at 8.00 o'clock tomorrow evening in Lasell Gymnasium. In the light of past performances the Crimson is a slight favorite, having won two out of four games, whereas Williams has twice been defeated by close scores.

Since Captain Beckwith is still unable to play, the same team that faced Wesleyan will start against Harvard tomorrow. In an effort to improve the shooting which was so weak on Wednesday, Coach Shanahan drilled the players thoroughly yesterday and today in that department.

Harvard's season has been fairly successful to date, considering that the Crimson has resumed varsity basketball this year for the first time in many years. Coach Wachter's men have defeated Middlebury 35-25 and Tufts 53-22. However, they were overwhelmed by the strong Worcester Tech. five 43-21, and Wesleyan, which defeated Williams by a 20-15 score, barely overcame Harvard in the last minute of play, 33-31. Pallo and Fitts, the visiting forwards, have been heavy point scorers, making 43 points between them in the Tufts game, and Tyson at center has also figured in the offense. All but Captain Tolbert played together on the victorious Freshman team last year. Harvard will play Amherst at Amherst tonight in the first game of its trip through western Massachusetts.

The line-up of the two teams follows:

Williams	Harvard
Hyde	Pallo
Wightman	Fitts
Fargo	Tyson
Kellogg	Tolbert
Wilson	Feiring

Reginald William Pressprich, Jr., 1924, of Rye, N. Y., and Warren Irving Archer, 1924, of Lee, Mass., were elected class baseball manager and class singing leader, respectively, at a meeting of the Freshman Class held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. It was announced at this time that the class dues amounting to $2 for each person would be payable within two weeks, and, if unpaid at the end of that time each delinquent would be subject to a fine of $25 per diem. Scholarship men are required to pay only one-half of this sum, and men working their way through College are exempt from all payment.

WILLIAMS LOSES TO WESLEYAN FIVE

Superior Teamwork of Opponents Wins Exciting Game by 20 to 15 Score

TEAM IS HANDICAPPED BY ABSENCE OF BECKWITH

Robertson Scores 14 of Red and Black's Points—10 Goals
From Foul Line

Williams went down to defeat on account of the slightly superior teamwork and accuracy of the Wesleyan quintet by the score of 20 to 15 in the second varsity basketball game of the season last Wednesday evening in the Lasell Gymnasium. The loss of Captain Beckwith was greatly felt throughout the game, and to this cause may be attributed a large part of the difference between the two teams.

Robertson, the left forward for the Red and Black, was the individual star of the game; and, by the scoring of 10 goals from the foul line and two from the floor, he was personally responsible for 14 of Wesleyan's 20 points. For Williams, Hyde, who was substituting for Captain Beckwith, stood out particularly with seven fouls and one goal from the floor to his credit.

At the end of the first period the score stood eight to seven in Wesleyan's favor, and at no time was a lead of more than two points gained by either team. From the point of view of the average spectator the game was a very interesting one as the final outcome was always in doubt and the play was fast and aggressive.

Chance after chance to score was thrown away by both sides, keeping the play rather even but Williams let more opportunities slip by and played a little more raggedly than Wesleyan.

A tendency to go up in the air was displayed by the Purple quintet several times during the evening. It was at these crises

2 MEN IN PULPIT

Dr. Zelig and Dr. Stearly Will Preach During Exams

During the midyear examination period, the Rev. John S. Zelig '87 of Troy, N. Y., and Rt. Rev. Wilson R. Stearly of Newark, N. J. will conduct services in the Thompson Memorial Chapel on January 23 and 30, respectively. Both Dr. Zelig and the Rt. Rev. Dr. Stearly have preached at Williams in the past.

Dr. Zelig was graduated from Williams with an A.B. degree in 1887, and then entered Yale University, where he prepared for the Presbyterian ministry. He graduated from the Theological Seminary there in 1890, and also received an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Williams in 1904. He has held pastorates in many cities, and just previous to his installation in his present position as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy, N. Y., he held a similar position in Plainfield, N. J., for 12 years.

After several years of study in Paris and Berlin, Rev. Dr. Stearly entered the Union Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated with the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1889. In the same year he was ordained into the ministry of the Reformed Church, and soon afterwards accepted the pastorate in Cleveland, Ohio. He accepted a call to the rectorship of the Emmanuel Church in Cleveland after his ordainment into the Protestant Episcopal ministry in 1900. Dr. Stearly held this position until 1909, when he was called to the Church of Holy Apostles in Philadelphia, Pa. in 1909, and he was in charge of that parish until he was called to the pulpit of St. Luke's Church of Montclair, N. J. in 1912. In 1915, Dr. Stearly was chosen Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Newark, N. J., in which capacity he is now serving.

Service in Exam Marks

Through the kindness of the College administration the Adviser will be able to extend its service during the period of examinations to the daily publication of final grades for all men passing their examinations, provided there is no objection to this method on the part of the student body. In case there is any serious objection to be offered, immediate complaints will receive prompt attention at the RECORD office.

Inexcusable Indifference

The appearance of only 130 undergraduates at the College meeting last Tuesday, and the resultant postponement because of the failure to secure a quorum, was little short of a disgrace. No one can plead ignorance of the meeting. It was announced in the RECORD, in the Adviser, and from a multitude of bulletin boards all during the week previous. And, moreover, it was made clear at the same time that the meeting was important, that matters of vital interest were to come up for settlement by the student body. Yet only about a quarter of the number of enrolled men appeared.

It is possible every day to hear constant carping criticism from tongues otherwise silent, concerning the failure of the leaders of College activities, and the Student Council in particular, to "do anything." Yet on this occasion, when the Student Council and the No-Den! Committee had two very important proposals to present, both representing thought and constructive effort on the part of those in charge, the undergraduate body was not even interested enough to attend a meeting for the sake of accepting or rejecting these proposals. Such indifference is almost incredible. Nothing would bring a louder howl from the undergraduate than the suggestion that his student government be abolished. Yet when the representatives whom he has chosen on the governing body draw up something for his approval, he is too lazy to say "Yes" or "No."

The average college student is quick to condemn any action which savors of a reactionary spirit, yet it would be difficult to find a more effective method of retaining "things as they are" than is afforded by the procrastinating method of undergraduates who are unwilling to discuss and take definite action on important affairs. Another opportunity will be offered the College body shortly after mid-year exams to retrieve the present disgraceful indifference, and if the situation is not improved, the Student Council will certainly be justified in adopting stringent measures to impress a sense of personal responsibility on the individual undergraduate.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record:

Sir: This communication is not an appeal; it is the announcement of the intention of Cnp and Bells to institute a new policy. The interest which Williams undergraduates formerly took in dramatics does not seem to have revived since the war. The day was, so I am informed by alumni, when the selection of a cast was made difficult by the large number of applicants; at present, the chief difficulty is in securing any cast at all. Whatever may be the true cause of this situation, I prefer to place the responsibility on the fact that the undergraduates are not acquainted with the time-honored position that Cnp and Bells holds among Williams activities, with the unique opportunities that it offers, nor with the importance to which it attains as the chief tie between the alumnus and the undergraduate.

Organized in 1872, Cnp and Bells has built up and, on the whole, maintained through half a century a record, enviable as compared with other collegiate dramatic clubs. During the year 1918-1919 no production was undertaken on account of the war conditions and this interim left a gap in the ranks of the society as yet unfilled.

I do not propose to enumerate the definite advantages of taking an active interest and part in dramatics, but merely to call your attention to a new departure: this year, in accordance with the decision of the Corporation to extend the scope of the club's activities here in college, a series of one-act plays will be arranged for presentation in March. It is proposed to cast one of these exclusively in Freshmen, and to include as many Freshmen and Sophomores as possible in the casts of all. In order to further encourage and stimulate interest, a prize of twenty-five dollars will be awarded to any undergraduate, who writes the play best suited for presentation at this time.

Early in the second semester announcement will be made in regard to try-outs, for which no previous dramatic experience is necessary.

J. W. POWER, '21.

Miss Ruth Draper

in Entertainment

to lead her own life, were well done, the actions being as perfect in their effectiveness as the speeches.

In the third sketch, an English lady is portrayed as she shows her gardens to a visitor. The presentation was one of the most humorous of the evening and was featured by the imaginary names of the lady's flowers.

The fourth number of the evening was a scene in a railroad lunch room in the West. The girl at the lunch counter enters to take her shift and carries on a conversation with Buzz, the lunch boy, with whom she discusses her love affairs.
After several incidents in the lunch room, she receives the news by telephone that the Big Four train of her lover has been wrecked and that the injured are being brought to her station. She busies herself in the preparation for the wounded, while the thought of the fate of her lover is constantly before her mind. Finally Jerry appears, uninjured. The portrait of the girl, torn by her emotions, was very well presented, and the sketch was well received.

"In County Kerry" was a scene of an old Irish woman who tells some American tourists of the way in which she received the news of the death of her son who was killed at Gallipoli. The piece was of a serious nature, lightened here and there by a clever touch of humor on the part of the artist. "A Class in Greek Poise" was a sketch of physical training teacher instructing a group of corpulent ladies how to reduce. The language and actions of the teacher were cleverly imitated.

The last two numbers of the entertainment were entitled "Debutante" and "An English Debutante." In the former, the girl is portrayed as very coy and continually talking about nothing. This sketch is considered one of the best in Miss Draper's repertoire. The second was in contrast, the English girl appears at first superficial, but she eventually discloses to the male friend with whom she is talking, the serious effect the war has had on her.
Together, they remember old experiences and troubles which they had faced during the war. The mode of speaking and the actions of the two were sharply contrasted, and the difference in the depth of their respective characters was clearly brought out. As an encore, Miss Draper gave "The Scotch Immigrant at Ellis Island."

Williams Loses

to Wesleyan Five

that the loss of Captain Beckwith's leadership was most felt; for, although Hyde filled the left forward position very well, he did not have the experience and steady-ness needed at the critical moments.

Robertson, of the Red and Black, was the first man to score, making two baskets on fouls called soon after the game started.
Then Hyde scored a basket from the floor;
and during the rest of the period Robertson scored two more points from the foul line and four points from the floor, while Hyde made good five tries from the foul line.

In the second period the main scoring was done by Wilson, for the Purple, and Robison, for the Red and Black, each of whom made two baskets from the floor.
For some time during this period the score stood 15 to 13 in favor of Williams. Captain Hartman was then substituted for Moore, who had played the center position for Wesleyan during the greater part of the game, and in the rally that followed Wesleyan scored the five winning tallies.

The line-ups and summary follow:

WILLIAMS	WESLEYAN

Wightman, rf	Robison, rf

To Members of the Upper Classes

If you plan to enter Business upon graduation you will find the Nine Weeks' Summer Course in Accountancy and Business Administration—day sessions—which will begin at Pace Institute on July 6, especially suited to your needs.

The curriculum covers fundamentals of double-entry bookkeeping, accounting, economics, finance, organization, management, and law—all presented in their relation to the principles and procedures of Modern Business. If desired,

Signing Your Name

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Mr. Torres Discusses U. S.-Spanish Relations

Mr. Torres spoke before a meeting of the Circulo Espanol in the Commons Room, Currier Hall, yesterday evening, on the subject, "Spanish-American Relations." This was the first of a series of lectures which will be inaugurated by the Circulo Espanol to create more interest in Spanish art, history, and daily life.

Mr. Torres spoke of the lack of mutual understanding between the two Americas and of the necessity of bringing the two continents more closely together by promoting friendly relations between them. After discussing the reasons and the misfortune to all the countries involved of such a misunderstanding, Mr. Torres drew up the main conclusions of his speech as follows: "From a viewpoint which I hope can be called American without the use of either North or South as a qualifying adjective, I shall endeavor to outline the means by which the longed for understanding may be achieved."

Mr. Torres then made four suggestions as to how this might be accomplished, viz., by diffusing throughout the United States the culture of Spanish America, by carrying out the interchange of university professors, by sending as our diplomats only men who are well qualified for their positions, and by establishing intellectual communication between the two countries through the efforts of writers.

Writings of Gladden '59 Are Presented to Library

Mr. Robert H. Jeffrey '95 of Columbus, Ohio, recently presented to the College Library a complete set in 43 volumes of the writings of Dr. Washington Gladden '59, author of The Mountains, and one of Williams' most distinguished graduates.

Dr. Gladden's books represent a wide and varied scope, and it required two years of search and advertising to accumulate the complete list. In this work, Mr. Jeffrey was assisted by Mr. Stephen B. Davol '95. The volumes of the set are uniformly bound in green leather and marbled boards, and have been deposited with the writings of Williams men in the collection of memorabilia. Included in the gift is a Scrapbook entitled News and Editorial Comment on the Life and Death of Washington Gladden, D.D., presented by the Alumni Association of Central Ohio, and containing not only a record of the tributes paid to Dr. Gladden's memory at the time of his death, but also utterances of Dr. Gladden in his last year. Altogether Mr. Jeffrey's gift is an important addition to the literature and work of Williams men.

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1921

No. 5

STEVENS FIVE WILL PLAY PURPLE TONIGHT

Captain Beckwith Will Again Be Absent from Line-up of Williams Team

OPPONENTS ARE STRONG

Defeated Wesleyan, Delaware, and Haverford—Lost to Army and Princeton

Stevens Tech will face the Purple basketball team at 8.00 o'clock tonight in Lasell Gymnasium before a large crowd of Houseparty guests, in the fourth game of the season. Williams will again play without the services of Captain Beckwith, and as the visitors have one of the best teams of recent years, the outlook for a victory is slight.

The same team that faced Harvard will probably open tonight's game, Hyde and Wightman as forwards, Fargo at center, and Wilson and either Kellogg or C. Boynton in the guard positions. Practice has been held steadily through the examination period, with particular emphasis upon shooting from the floor, a department whose weakness was largely responsible for the loss of the Harvard game. Williams will have a slight advantage over its opponents, being favored by the smallness of the court, as Stevens depends chiefly upon a quick passing game for its effectiveness.

Wesleyan is the only team that has played both Stevens and Williams, and on the basis of comparative scores the Red and Gray holds a decided advantage, having defeated the Wesleyan five by a score of 46-18, whereas Williams lost to the same team 20-15. Stevens has fallen before the West Point five by a 42-28 score and before Princeton by 30-27, the latter game being hotly contested, but it has overwhelmed Delaware College and Haverford by scores of 35-25 and 43-15 respectively. Captain Egger, the star guard of the Stevens team, will probably be out of the line-up, but Higley and Kurtz are a dangerous pair of forwards, the former because of his aggressive play and scoring ability and the latter on account of his remarkable work on the foul line. Provost, Mueller, and Roth will probably complete the combination, which is fast and particularly skillful in handling passes.

The line-ups for the game will be as follows:

Williams	Stevens
Hyde	Kurtz
Wightman	Higley
Fargo	Provost
Kellogg,	Mueller,
C. Boynton	Egger
Wilson	Roth

DR. PROCTOR SPEAKS

Discusses Psychological Phases of War in Tuesday Lecture

Taking as his subject "Some Psychological Phases of the War," Dr. Thomas H. Proctor discussed the motives that led men to enter the army, the ideals that sustained them, and the effects of the war upon returned soldiers in the third number of the Tuesday Lecture Series in the Thompson Physical Laboratory on January 25.

The impulses that led men to enlist were classed by the speaker under three heads: the ordinary impulse, comprising a love of fighting and adventure to relieve the monotony of life; the intellectual impulse, or the call of duty either for self-glory or altruistic service; and the primitive impulse of fear, which forced conscripts into the army. In discussing the second topic, Dr. Proctor emphasized the importance of discipline as a sustaining influence, but declared that esprit de corps and comradeship also exercised control over the soldiers. As to the effects of the war on the returning soldiers, he stated that there has been a physical, mental and moral let-down and an exhaustion of feeling for the welfare of others which is exerting an evil influence on civilization.

Prof. Clark Describes Trip to Torres Strait

Prof. Hubert Clark devoted the fourth number of the Tuesday Lecture Series yesterday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory, to a description of his trip to Torres Strait in the South Sea Islands in 1913. The lecture was illustrated with lantern slides.

The purpose of the party of which he was a member was to study the corals and fish of that region. Prof. Clark exhibited a series of colored plates of the starfish he discovered, which he has included in one of his latest biological works. He described by word and picture the route of his journey, which started in San Francisco and included many of the islands lying between Australia and New Zealand, with headquarters established at Murray Island where the chief industries are deep-sea pearl fishing and the "trepane" trade, worth about a million dollars yearly.

TO GIVE PLAY DURING MID-WINTER VACATION

Cap and Bells to Present Final Performance of "Beaux Strata-gem" at Houseparty

Cap and Bells will give its last performance of the Beaux Stratagem before an audience composed mostly of Houseparty guests and their escorts tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall. The play, which was coached by Mr. Albert Lang, has been given five times, in North Adams, East Orange, Brooklyn, Flushing, and New York. It will not be presented on week-end trips as was done with Stop Thief last year, since the organization has decided to devote its energies to the production of several one-act plays.

For modern production the play has been simplified to there being only two scenes, which change from the Litchfield Inn to the country home of Lady Bountiful. Although the play has not been performed in America since 1841, many of the stage traditions and interpolations used by Garrick as well as those used at the Park Theatre of New York City when it was performed in this country have been retained.

The basis of the play rests in the attempt of two young gallants to recoup their lost fortunes by marriages of wealth. These two parts, Aimwell and Archer, are taken by Clark and Zalles '22 respectively and their attentions are directed toward Dorinda and Mrs. Sullen, roles acted by Power '21 and Rose '22. Boniface, a character part taken by N. Smith '22, is in charge of the Inn at which Aimwell and Archer have taken their quarters. Baxter '22 in the part of Cherry claims some of the attentions of Archer in several amusing scenes and also assists in saving the fair ladies from a robbery, planned by Boniface and carried out by three of his "brothers of the pad." Scrub, the family servant who does everything from "driving the coach" to "drawing beer," is the most humorous part in the play and is taken by Youngman '22. Although the action is somewhat slow in a few scenes, it gradually increases in the third act until heated words and a sword fight bring it to a climax, and a happy solution is found.

The names and parts of the complete cast follow:

SOPHOMORE PROM TO BRIGHTEN FESTIVITIES

Blue and White Bunting to Hide Walls of Lasell Gym from Gaze of Visitors

BEGINS AT 9.00 O'CLOCK

Committee Announces Proceeds to be Given to European Relief Council

Elaborate preparations have been made to provide a fitting reception for the members of the fairer sex who are to be guests at the Sophomore Promenade next Friday evening when the festivities start at 9.00 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium. Walls, posts, and apparatus will be draped and festooned with blue and white bunting; luxuriously furnished boxes for the fraternities will border the dancing floor; and the Gymnasium will be transformed into a veritable sanctum of Terpsichore.

A massive circular centerpiece suspended from the roof will throw a subdued glow of light over the whole scene; and rays of changing light will be thrown on the dancers from spotlights in the east end of the balcony. Along the south, east and west sides of the floor will be the boxes for the fraternities and their guests, cosily fitted up with divans and morris chairs. Bert Lowe with an orchestra of nine pieces will furnish the music.

W. C. A. PLANS VARIED PROGRAM FOR SPRING

Inspirational Conference and Williams-in-China Campaign
Are Chief Objectives

In order that the W. C. A. may work to better advantage in cooperating with the College body, arrangements have been made for the W. C. A. activities of the coming semester to include many interesting departures from the former programs. Addresses from prominent speakers in various branches of religious and educational work, an inspirational conference, reorganization of missionary and educational groups, and an enlargement of the regular routine of W. C. A. work are the principal points on the new program.

On April 22, 23, and 24, Sherwood Eddy, aided by several leaders in student Christian work, will hold an inspirational conference. A number of alumni will also assist in this conference, in which the association will offer Williams undergraduates an opportunity to hear from experienced Christian workers of today what Christianity means in College life.

The regular Sunday evening W. C. A. meetings will be continued through May. Such popular preachers as Albert Parker Fitch, Dr. Seerley, Dr. Sperry of Boston, and presidents of several of the best known

Faculty Members Court Giddy Muse Terpsichore

In preparation for the Sophomore Promenade to be held in the Lasell Gymnasium Friday evening, several members of the Faculty have been taking a series of lessons in modern dances under the tutelage of Miss Marjorie Howes. Instruction is being given in the shimmy, the toddle, the schottische, the polka, the Boston, and the latest New York creation known as the "T. C. teeter."

Special attention has been given to some of the more hopelessly awkward pupils during the intensive drill that has been carried on regularly for some time past in the basement of Grace Hall, and present indications are that "Promenade" will be an inadequate term to apply in description of the final and most spectacular event of the coming houseparty. Excellent music at the classes is furnished by "all the bands in the world played with a needle," while side splitting mirth is furnished by the pupils, who, to judge from the expressions of their faces, are in dead earnest about the matter. Among those who have been actually caught attending the classes are: Professors Doughty, Galbraith, Johnson, Shephard, T. C. Smith, Tensch, Wild, and Weston.

WILLIAMS WILL FACE AMHERST SEPTET HERE

Purple Is Slight Favorite Due to 2-1 Victory Over Rival Team in Early Game

Williams will face Amherst on Friday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock on the Cole Field rink, in the second hockey game of the 1921 season between the two rivals. Williams is a slight favorite because of her two to one victory over Amherst in the previous game, but inasmuch as Amherst has played three games since that time, while the Purple has been idle, all indications point to a close, fast contest.

Williams has been successful in the first two games of the season. The Purple septet in its first game defeated the fast Albany Country Club team by a score of 4-0, although the latter organization sometimes beats the well known St. Nicholas team of New York City, and boasts several well known college stars. The Amherst game was fast and well-played throughout, and the outcome of the contest was never certain until the final whistle blew. Clark and Richmond starred for Williams, while Captain Davidson was easily the stellar player for Amherst.

Although Amherst has lost six straight games, its strength must not be underestimated, for it has played strong teams and has been improving steadily with each new start. Amherst lost the first contest of the season to Dartmouth by the score of 4 to 2, and was humbled by M. A. C. by the score of 2-1. Amherst suffered a third defeat at the hands of Williams, and during the past week has been beaten by Springfield College, by the score of 2-1, by M. I. T. by another 2-1 score, and by Boston College. In all these games Captain Davidson has led the attack of his team with his brilliant playing, and will prove dangerous on Friday.

The Williams squad has been holding daily practice during the examination period, and under the direction of Captain Irwin has been improving steadily. In the two games already played Captain Irwin, Clark, and Richmond have played strong games, and should give a good account of themselves against Amherst.

The probable lineup of the two teams for Friday's contest is as follows:

Williams	Amherst
Clark	Iw
Becket	e
Stephenson	r
Rowse	rw
Buell	ld
Irwin	rd
Richmond, Mackie	g
	Plympton

HOUSEPARTY GUESTS WILL ARRIVE TODAY

Nearly 200 Couples Are Expected to Crowd Lasell Gymnasium for Sophomore Prom

ELABORATE PLANS MADE FOR WINTER FESTIVAL

Fraternities Will Hold Dances—Basketball, Dramatics, and Hockey Scheduled

Approximately 200 guests have invaded the Berkshires to grace the mid-Winter house parties which are being held by 12 fraternities. Elaborate preparations which have been made to provide a fitting reception for the visitors, will reach a proper culmination in the Sophomore Prom, on Friday evening, which promises to be the most successful in recent years.

Of the twelve fraternities which have invited guests, Alpha Delta Phi, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi are combining their entertainment. Zeta Psi, and Delta Psi are also, holding dances together, as are Beta Theta Pi and Phi Gamma Delta. The remaining houses, which are entertaining guests are Phi Delta Theta, Delta Upsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, Theta Delta Chi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The program of festivities will commence with the Stevens basketball game this evening, which will be followed by dancing at the Alpha Delta Phi, Zeta Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Upsilon, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Phi Sigma Kappa houses. On Thursday afternoon tea-dances will be held by Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Psi, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, and Theta Delta Chi. That evening Cap and Bells will present "The Beaux Stratagem" in Grace Hall and, subsequently, there will be dancing at the Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Psi, Phi Gamma Delta, Theta Delta Chi, and Delta Upsilon houses.

The program for Friday afternoon will include tea dances at the Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Delta Theta houses. The Sophomore Promenade will be held that evening in the Lasell Gymnasium.

Appended is a list of the house party guests with their home addresses in all cases where they could be secured.

BROWN '20 HONORED

Former Track Captain Named for All-American Track Team

As a result of his victory in the 3000-meter race at the Olympic Games last summer and his previous annexation of the intercollegiate two-mile championship at Philadelphia in the spring, H. H. Brown '20, captain of last year's track team, has been selected for the mythical All-American Athletic Team for 1920 by Secretary Frederick W. Rubien of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Mr. Rubien selected three teams to include the best representatives of the colleges, of the schools, and of the country at large. Brown, together with eight other athletes, has the distinction of being placed both on the All-American Athletic and the All-American College Teams. The list of men selected twice includes the following: Brown, Williams, two-mile run; Paddock, University of Southern California, 100 and 200-yard dashes; Eby, Pennsylvania, half-mile run; Thompson, Dartmouth, 120-yard hurdles; Wells, Leland Stanford, 220-yard hurdles; Landon, Yale, high jump; Butler, University of Dubuque, broad jump; Pope, University of Washington, discus throw; Bradley, University of Kansas, pentathlon.

Ave!

We tear the first sheet from our new calendar, and behold! The new month brings good tidings. With the regularity of daily chapel services, merchants' bills, and Dean's notices, that great Williams' institution, the houseparty, rolls 'round again. With a sigh of relief the College turns from the tedious routine of mid-year examinations to three days of frivolous festivity.

Let us not appear iconoclastic! Far from our wishes would it be to attack such a sacred Williams' custom. Surely it is a tradition that should be preserved at all costs. All too seldom is the dreary solitude of our Berkshire isolation lightened by the advent of the fair Phyllis. We do her homage! In fact, we might say "we welcome her with open arms." For the next three days the town is hers. On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!

Dean's Appointment

Dean Howe's announcement of a new system of appointments, to be put into effect during the next semester, will undoubtedly be welcomed by every undergraduate who has undergone the long waits made necessary under the old system. Hereafter a man will receive a summons naming the specific time at which he is to appear, the appointment being made with reference to his schedule, in order to avoid conflicts with classes. This will obviate the cumbersome delays which have been irksome to all concerned in the past.

We cannot too strongly commend this change, but it will be necessary, if the system is to be a success, to have the co-operation of every undergraduate. Carelessness in meeting appointments will cause such confusion that the Dean will be entirely justified in withdrawing the privilege which he has extended for the accommodation of the student body.

Carnival Is Called Off Due to Adverse Weather

On account of adverse weather conditions the winter sports carnival that had been planned by the Williams' Outing Club for tomorrow and Friday will not be held. Brucker '21 who was in charge of the arrangements telegraphed this morning to the prospective contestants from Dartmouth and Vermont that the meet had been called off.

Faculty Club Elects

Members of the Faculty Club recently held the annual election of officers of the organization who will serve in 1921. The results were as follows: Professor Morton, president; Assistant Professor Allen, vice-president; Assistant Professor Brinsmade, secretary; Assistant Professor Bell, treas.

PURPLE DEFEATED BY FAST HARVARD TEAM

Inaccuracy in Shooting by Both Teams Keeps Scoring Down Throughout Game

Williams' went down to defeat before the powerful Harvard basketball team on January 22 in Lasell Gymnasium by a score of 24-13. The playing was fast and rough at times, and the shooting of both sides was inaccurate, although the Purple five was weaker in this department of the game than their opponents.

Williams' started the game with several tries at the Crimson's basket, but was unable to tally. The Purple then lost the ball and Fitts of Harvard made a spectacular basket from the middle of the floor. Harvard scored again when Tyson, the Crimson center, caged a missed foul. The Purple again carried the ball to the Harvard territory, but all attempts at baskets failed. Fitts tallied from the middle of the court with a shot even more spectacular than his first. Tyson scored two more baskets before the first Williams' tally, one from scrimmage and the other from a missed foul. At this point, the Purple rallied and, in a five man offensive, scored three baskets, one by Kellogg from scrimmage, one by Wightman on a pass from Fargo, and the last one on a pass from Wightman to Wilson. Tyson ended the half, with two goals from scrimmage, making the score 16-6 in favor of the visitors.

In the opening of the second half, Fitts caged a basket after receiving a long pass from beneath the Purple goal. The Williams' quintet repeatedly during this period carried the ball by passing to the Crimson territory, but the Harvard defense proved too strong to penetrate and all attempts at the goal from the middle of the court failed. The next tally came on a shot by Wightman from scrimmage, and was followed by a long throw by Tyson for another Harvard score. Wilson then caged the ball on a long shot. Pallo scored from the center of the floor and Hyde made the last tally of the game from under the basket.

Tyson was the outstanding player of the game, making six of the ten Harvard baskets. The clever passing and playing of Pallo and Fitts, the Crimson pair of forwards, and the defense work of Captain Tolbert were also factors in the Harvard victory. For Williams, Wilson was easily the star of the team and held his opponent. Pallo, who had been the high scorer in the majority of the previous games, to one basket from the floor. Wilson was prominent on the offensive, scoring two baskets, and steady and dependable on the defensive. At times, the handling of the ball by the Purple quintet was very poor and the shooting was usually inaccurate, many apparently chance shots being attempted from the middle of the floor. This tendency to wildness was partially due to the absence of Captain Beekwith who is still in the infirmary.

The complete summary of the game follows:

Harvard	Williams'
Pallo, McLeish, l.f.	r.g. Wilson
Fitts, r.f.	l.g. Kellogg, Garvin
Tyson, Miller, c.	e. Fargo, (capt.)
Tolbert, (capt.), l.g.	r.f., Wightman
Feiring, Chase, r.g.	l.f., Hyde

Score—Williams' 13, Harvard 24; goal from floor—Fitts 3, Pallo, Tyson 6, Hyde, Kellogg, Wightman 2, Wilson 2; goals from fouls—Hyde 1 out of 5, Pallo 4 out of 10, Fitts 0 out of 2; referee—C. E. Stewart of Pittsfield; timekeepers—Chapin of Williams' and Hamilton of Harvard; scorers—Rounds of Williams' and Reed of Harvard; time of halves—20 minutes.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

According to an announcement recently made, the Harvard University Library has over two million volumes, making it the largest university library in the United States. Only two other American libraries exceed the number of volumes possessed by the Harvard institution, these being the Congressional Library at Washington and the New York City Public Library.

A two-day Outing Club carnival will be held by the members of that organization at the University of Vermont this year. The affair will be intercollegiate and among the institutions which will send representatives to compete are Dartmouth, McGill, Middlebury and Williams.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

An honor system, drawn up by the Woman's League, was voted down by a large majority of the members of the Student Council of the University of Cincinnati. The greatest opposition was shown by students of the engineering and medical schools.

Princeton's daily newspaper, the 'Princetonian,' has been compelled to reduce the size of its edition from six to four pages. It was found that the paper in its former size was difficult to handle at the press, and that it was too large for the daily news of the institution.

The non-fraternity group of Colgate University has organized a society for the purpose of taking part in college affairs. The new move has the approval of the faculty and the fraternities, due to the fact that the number of non-affiliated men in the college is on the increase.

T. A. D. Jones has accepted an appointment to coach the 1921 football team of Yale University. He coached the 1916 team at Yale which succeeded in defeating both Harvard and Princeton. His contract covers a period of five years.

A double-header with the University of Virginia will open Princeton's 1921 baseball schedule, which is now nearing completion. Manager Zabriskie has stated that 28 or 29 games will be played, and that the schedule will include a Southern trip.

More than 250 men have answered the call for crew candidates at Pennsylvania. Every eight will have a chance to row, as the various crews will be assigned special times to row each day. Seven experienced men are back from last year. Coach Wright expects to have all of the crews on the water by March 1. A new boathouse for the University is expected to be ready for use next fall.

Plans are now under way at Cornell to start an Honor System at the mid-year examinations. The action is being taken by the Student Committee, and quick results are expected, although it is felt that complete student control is essential to the success of the system.

The photographs for this issue comprise the basketball team, members of the hockey team, the board-track team in action, the Sophomore Prom. committee, last year's Winter carnival and several pictures of the general campus life. The cover design in black and white is by Nebolsine '22, and Herts '23.

W. C. A. Plans Varied Program for Spring

theological seminars will speak. Special speakers from the Faculty and others not positively secured as yet will address these meetings from time to time. A new system recently inaugurated by Dean Brown will be followed as often as possible at these meetings. After a fifteen minute talk, written questions will be passed to the speaker, who will spend the remainder of the time in answering these inquiries from the audience. In this way it is hoped to make these meetings as much like a religious forum as possible.

During the early part of March, the W. C. A. will present the proposition of supporting the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Soo Chow, China. Instead of making this missionary work purely educational, it is the desire of the W. C. A. to establish a Christian organization which will work on constructive Christian lines to virtually become a Williams Christian Association in China. The Missionary Study Committee, which has been holding successful classes during the past few weeks here in College, will start an active campaign to interest men in definite missionary work.

Dr. Seerley of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College will be the first of the series of speakers, and will address the College body on February 13 and 14 in two lectures, taking "Sex Problems of the College Man" as his general subject. During his stay in Williamstown, Dr. Seerley will hold personal conferences in Room 22 Jesup Hall with any men so desiring.

New discussion groups will be organized in the Junior and Sophomore classes during the next few weeks. There will be four groups in each class, where there has been heretofore only one. The College Religious Work Committee expects also to start a group for upper classmen in which the Bible will be studied from a literary as well as a religious point of view.

In connection with the Boys' Work, the W. C. A. will cooperate with the County Y. M. C. A. and the citizens of Williamstown to establish the boys' clubs in this vicinity on a permanent basis. It is hoped that leading citizens of Williamstown will take charge of this club in order that there may be a continuity of the work in spite of the change from year to year in the undergraduate organization. A constructive program will be carried out for the moral and physical development of the boys.

During the next semester the deputations committee will endeavor to enlarge considerably the scope of their work. Using the two deputation teams now active as a nucleus, a larger working unit will be built up from men who have indicated their desire to engage in any line of work offered in this branch. Freshmen as well as upper classmen who have not actually taken part in this line of activity will be given an opportunity to become members of the teams. Considerable work will be done in the Community House of the Renfrew Company in Adams.

The competition for the business managership of the Handbook has been put on a new basis. Only men who have need of pecuniary aid will be allowed to compete for the position, and all competitors must be approved by the Cabinet.

In carrying out these plans the Senior Advisory Committee will cooperate with the association cabinet. This committee, which was recently organized and held its first meeting on January 17, consists of the Senior members of the W. C. A. and one senior from each fraternity house and the Commons Club.

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

"They Never Come Back," the production of the Triangle Club of Princeton, which gained such success on the Christmas trip, will be presented four times during the midyear recess of the university. The trip will start on February 16 at Montclair, N. J., followed by performances at Plainfield, N. J., Boston, and New York City on the following three days.

Battery practice for baseball players at Yale will begin on January 31. The Yale team has a nucleus of seven 'Y' men who are veterans of the 1920 team.

Subscriptions are being taken at Dartmouth to build a memorial athletic field which will cost $36,000. The drive is the result of the inadequacy of the present athletic accommodations at Hanover, and it was decided to dedicate the new field to the 90 Dartmouth men who died in the World War.

Four teams have been added to Columbia's 1921 baseball schedule—Naval Academy, Army, Bowdoin, and the University of Virginia. The schedule this year will begin with Bowdoin at South Field, on March 1. Other teams on the list are Yale, Harvard, New York City College and New York University.

AMHERST DEFEATED AGAIN AT HOCKEY

General Excellence and Team-Work of Williams Septet Secures Victory

GAME CLOSES WITH 3-0 SCORE FOR HOME TEAM

Clark, Becket, and Rowse Are Each Responsible for One Tally

Outplaying their opponents from start to finish in a game which was fast despite the rather soft condition of the ice, the Williams hockey team defeated Amherst in the usual houseparty game by a score of 3 to 0 on Cole Field last Friday afternoon. As a result of the two hockey victories secured this season, Williams now has three points in the annual race for the Trophy of Trophies, while Amherst is leading with our points.

The first period opened with a slow of rough playing on both sides. Soon the Purple carried the puck into the losers' territory, and it was due only to the excellent guarding of Plimpton that tries by Becket and R. C. Clark were warded off. Then Davidson and R. A. Clark of Amherst, by a quick rush, carried the puck into the victors' domain. In a very short time the tide turned, and by a short, quick shot R. C. Clark scored the first goal for Williams. Richmond stopped a hard drive by Murnane, and Amherst had no further chance to score during the period. Up to this time Captain Davidson of the Purple and White septet, and Becket and Stephenson for the winners, were easily the individual stars.

With the already soft ice badly cut up by the skates of the players, long shooting became harder than ever during the second period. Within the first few minutes of play Stephenson broke loose for a quick drive, but was unable to shoot the puck through the visitors' defense. The play then swept back and forth from one goal to the other, the Williams team displaying rather wild shooting at times. A quick drive by the Purple and White was unsuccessful, and Becket carried the puck to the other end of the rink, only to be stopped by Amherst's defense. Two spurts of the Williams team and a counter attack by their opponents were again unsuccessful, and the period ended with the score unchanged.

Coombs Probable Choice For Next Baseball Coach

According to a recent announcement, it is probable that Jack Coombs, former star pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, and later of the Brooklyn Nationals, will coach the Williams baseball nine this season. Ira Thomas, whose contract has not yet expired, has requested that he be released from his agreement on account of business conditions. No official announcement has been made as yet by the authorities, but it is understood that negotiations have been practically completed.

'BEAUX' STRATAGEM IS WELL RECEIVED

Finish of Actors in Portraying Difficult Parts is Given Praise by Critic

After a successful tour during the Christmas holidays, Cap and Bells presented Farquhar's The Beaux' Stratagem on Thursday evening to an audience which would doubtless have been larger had the play been less worthy of the attention and enthusiastic support of every member of the College community. Apparently many fail to realize that Cap and Bells has rendered a great service to the College and increased its prestige abroad by producing in a most creditable manner a famous comedy of other days, instead of trying to imitate some recent Broadway success of obvious and futile appeal.

The Beaux' Stratagem is not only interesting from the point of view of dramatic history, but it abounds in clever situations and delightful lines, whose humor is perennial and rings as crisp and true today as in 1707, especially when interpreted with the intelligence and assurance of last Thursday evening's performance.

The uniformly high standard of interpretation and acting, as well as the clear diction reflect the greater credit on Mr. Albert Lang, under whose direction the play was produced. But it is to the credit of the actors alone that, many weeks after the first performance, they should retain the fine shadings of their training and act with a verve and enthusiasm to which the experience derived from repeated performances gave a mellowing assurance and finality which deserves the highest praise. Almost no hesitation or inaccuracies were noticeable, and the wide range of characterizations were well contrasted and individualized. Of the "character" parts the Inkeeper and the Priest were admirably portrayed by Smith '21, and Terry '22, while the loutish Scrub, as played by Youngman '22, was an especially clever and consistent impersonation.

Clark '22, as Attwell, a gentleman adventurer, gave a finished interpretation of a difficult role distinguished by courtly eighteenth century bearing, while Zalles '22, as Archer, his friend in the disguise of a valet, was the personification of reserved, worldly sophistication that justified the expectations of those who remembered his exceptionally good acting in last year's production.

Cutler '21 acted the part of Squire Sullen with excellent judgment and understanding of the character. Atwell '21, as Captain Gibbet with his "company," inspired a proper respect and awe for the profession of highwayman.

Baxter '23 was a delightfully coy and spontaneous soubrette, and his interpretation of Cherry received the enthusiastic applause of the houseparty audience. Power '21 and Rose '22, as Dorinda and Mrs. Sullen, respectively, were fair to look upon and agreeable to listen to, in itself a triumph for men in the roles of women. In addition, they brought to their respective roles of the injured wife and the jeune fille an air of real distinction.

Minor parts were adequately acted by Brune, Loiseau, and S. Phillips '22, and McAneny '23. The beautiful costumes were a joy to the eye, and the different scenes presented a series of tableaux of

TONY SARG TO OFFER PUPPET PERFORMANCES

Marionettes Will Act Tuesday Evening in Third Number of Thompson Course

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS

Afternoon Performance Is For Benefit of Wellesley and Smith Colleges

Tony Sarg's Marionettes will present "Rip Van Winkle" according to a version revised and puppetized by George Mitchell as the third number of the Thompson Course tomorrow evening at 8.15 o'clock in Grace Hall. Because of the miniature character of the actors the number of desirable seats is limited and as this will necessitate a curtailment in the size of the audience, it will be necessary to confine the attendance to members of the student body and faculty instead of having the entertainment of a locally public character.

In the afternoon at 4.00 o'clock, the Marionettes will present Thackeray's delightful story, "The Rose and the Ring." This afternoon performance will be open to the public and tickets will be on sale by graduates of Smith and Wellesley Colleges. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be devoted to the funds being raised by the alumnae of these colleges throughout the country.

Tony Sarg has revived an ancient and delightful art, which although familiar to the European theatergoer, has been entirely neglected in America. Already the efforts of his miniature performers have been greeted with enthusiasm in New York, Boston, and other large cities throughout the East. Tony Sarg's Marionettes are undoubtedly the most elaborate ever shown in this country. They are about two feet high, perfectly proportioned, and so skillfully jointed and weighted that they are capable of making almost all the movements of the living person, even to opening and closing their eyes and mouths. From sixteen to twenty two strings are required to operate each of the dolls. The puppets, stage, and scenic effects were designed and executed by Tony Sarg and Lilian Owen, together with several assistants. The Marionettes will act the two plays on a diminutive five foot stage fitted with artistic scenery and properties.

The charming and novel acting of the puppets has aroused much favorable press comment throughout the East. The Boston Evening Transcript declares that, "There are no marionettes even comparable to the marionettes of Tony Sarg. Even in Europe where puppets are an older and a riper pleasure of the theatre, experience and inquiry discover hardly any match to them. Mr. Sarg, himself, is both an imaginary and expert puppeteer; from him assistants take cue and spirit. They are numerous now—they operate hundreds of strings."

President To Entertain

George Barnes Secor, 1922 of Toledo, Ohio, was elected captain of the golf team at a meeting of the Golf Association held last Friday. In the Golf Tournament of last fall Secor showed his superiority in several encounters and will play Dean Howes, H. F. Prescott '22 and C. F. Jones '23.

PURPLE TAKES SECOND IN FAST RELAY RACE

Bowdoin Wins Triangular Contest from Williams and Brown by Scant Yard

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Finishing the Bowdoin-Brown-Williams relay race held here today under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association, Captain Goodwin of Bowdoin nosed out Richmond of Williams by a scant yard in three minutes and fifty seconds. Codding, Crofts, and Mendes held their positions so well in the first three laps that it soon became exclusively a Bowdoin-Williams affair, but Goodwin's superior speed could not be surpassed, and the Purple was forced to take second place.

The Brown runners had the pole at the start, and Cuddeback, running for the Brown and White took the first corner at good speed, staying off the sprinting starts of Codding of Williams and Palmer of Bowdoin. Palmer came up on the last lap, however, and although the three men came to the change of batons practically even, Turner of Bowdoin got away from the starting line slightly in the lead. On the first back stretch Murphy of Brown made a sudden jump, and it looked as if he would have the advantage, but he was held off, and thereafter the Brown and White did not have a chance.

It now became a contest between Williams and Bowdoin. The third runner for the Maine college started about a full stride ahead of Mendes of Williams. The fourth duel was similar, with Capt. Goodwin getting away by the same length ahead of Richmond. Several times Richmond was even with his opponents and it seemed as if he would eventually take the lead, but the veteran distancer proved his superior ability, and managed barely to surpass his rival. The nearest Providence man was 45 yards behind. The winning time was 3 minutes, 50 seconds.

The summary follows:

Bowdoin: Palmer, Turner, Hunt, Goodwin; Brown: Cuddeback, Murphy, Bengau, Farstall; Williams: Codding, Crofts, Mendes, Richmond. First, Bowdoin; second, Williams; third, Brown. Time—3 minutes, 50 seconds.

Need Missionary Teachers

Efforts on the part of the Protestant Episcopal church to maintain a high standard of instruction at St. John's University, Shanghai, China, are serious because of difficulties in securing teachers of physics, political economy, and English literature. Graduates of American Colleges qualified to teach these subjects are therefore in urgent demand. Transportation and good compensation are provided. Further information may be obtained from the Rev. A. D. Parsons, 281 Fourth Ave., New York City.

Hoppe to Give Exhibitions

Willie Hoppe, world champion billiardist and Charles T. Peterson, his partner will give an exhibition next Saturday evening at the Williamstown Opera House after the Amherst Basketball Game held at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon. The entertainment will consist of a lecture on Billiards by Peterson, a 250 point game between Hoppe and Peterson, and fancy shooting by the latter. Tickets will be on sale at Cabe Prindle's.

Prof. Pratt will read a paper on "Critical Realisms" at a meeting of the Philosophical Union to be held next Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock in the Commons Rooms.

WILLIAMS WINS IN EXTRA PERIOD GAME

Stevens Defeated by Single Goal in Exciting Game by Close Score of 23-21

PURPLE IMPROVES IN SCORING DEPARTMENT

Both Teams Handicapped by Loss of Respective Captains from Line-Ups

Winning by a field goal shot by Wightman in an extra five-minute period, the Purple defeated Stevens Tech by the score of 23-21 last Wednesday evening before a large houseparty audience in the Lasell Gymnasium in the fastest and most exciting basketball game of the season.

At the end of the first period the score stood 11-5 in favor of Williams, largely because of the efforts of Hyde who scored two field goals and three fouls for the Purple from the left forward position. In the second period the Red and Gray players rallied and piled up a total of 16 points, bringing the score to a 21-21 tie at the end of the regular periods agreed upon for the game. A short conference was held and it was decided to play an extra five-minute period, with the result that Williams won a victory on a field goal shot by Wightman.

The game was a great improvement over the previous efforts of the Purple players this season, as both the floor work and the shooting showed up to much better advantage. Both teams were greatly handicapped by the absence of their respective captains from the line-ups. Stevens might also be said to have been handicapped by the smallness of the floor; but in spite of this, the victory for Williams came as something of a surprise, for the Red and Gray was generally conceded to have an edge on the Purple when judged by the comparative scores of the two teams.

Hyde was the individual star of the game with a total of 15 points to his credit; and Kurtz, of Stevens, came next in scoring ability with a total of eight points. The floor work of Wilson also showed up to very good advantage; but the main strength of the Purple lay in their improved shooting ability, while the Red and Gray quintet seemed to rely especially on long shots from near the center of the floor, in which they were very accurate.

The line-ups of the respective teams and summary of the game are as follows:

Williams	Stevens Tech.
Hyde	L.F. Kurtz
Wightman	R.F. Higley

Reciprocal Action

RECIPROCAL: Mutual; done by each to the other.—Webster's Dictionary.

With President Garfield's request for reciprocal action and cooperation in the matter of chapel services, we are heartily in accord. There is nothing that we consider more desirable than some change in the present chapel system to rescue it from its present miserable condition. This need has come to be realized by every one concerned, and we believe that the student body feels strongly enough on the subject to be willing to give all possible cooperation to effect an improvement.

On the part of the undergraduates this reciprocation should of course take the form of an altered attitude toward chapel services. But to insist on this change in attitude without first making any change in the service is putting the cart before the horse. To change the effects it is first necessary to change the causes. And the cause of the present unsatisfactory attitude of the attendants upon chapel is the form in which the services are offered.

The failure of the present chapel system is admirably presented in Mr. Noble's essay in the current issue of The Graphic. As he says, "the daily services are unattractive, hollow, superficial and uninspiring . . ." Moreover, the remedies which Mr. Noble advocates fit the situation well. "In short, more cuts, one service on Sunday, a college pastor worthy of the name, a new form of service and . . . the service held later in the morning; all these changes, and what I should call improvements would raise the required chapel system in Williams College from the rut into which it apparently has fallen."

With the exception of the acquisition of a college pastor, all these changes have been advocated in these columns before. Last spring the college body expressed their approval of them in a straw vote. Yet the authorities have not only taken no action in this regard, but have expressed complete indifference toward the matter. By authorities we mean the Board of Trustees, for it is under their jurisdiction that the affair falls. The faculty, in close contact with the situation, have realized for some time the necessity of alteration, and are at least to some extent in sympathy with undergraduate sentiment. But the Trustees have ignored the matter completely.

In two weeks the Board of Trustees meets in New York City to transact business. Will they again fail even to consider the chapel question?

Plans for Triangular Debate Are Completed

Definite plans for the annual Brown-Dartmouth-Williams triangular debate were made on January 22, when Hall '21, captain of the Williams team, met representatives of the other colleges at Springfield. The contest will be held on Thursday evening, April 21, and the question will be "Resolved: That Great Britain should grant full and complete independence to all Ireland."

At each college, a home team will uphold the negative side of the question, and Brown will oppose Williams at the contest here. The Williams affirmative debaters will speak at Dartmouth, and the latter will send a representation to Brown. In accordance with the usual custom, each speaker will be allowed ten minutes to set forth his main arguments, and six minutes for rebuttal. Last year's debate was won by Williams.

A dual debate with Colgate in the latter part of March is still under consideration, and as soon as definite plans can be made, try-outs will be held for the team. Freshmen will be eligible for places in the lineup.

204th RECITAL HELD

Compositions by Artists of Old Schools Well Received

Choosing selections which formed a very well balanced program, Mr. Sumner Salter gave his 204th organ recital in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon. Several strongly contrasted compositions by men of the older school were especially well received.

The Toccata and Fugue in D minor by Bach contained dramatic elements mixed in its generally light and rippling theme. Schumann's Traumerie and Romanze, well known for their sweet and pleasing melodies, were striking from their close proximity to the preceding number. The Scherzo Pastorale by Federlein was a triumph of echo effects, and the execution of its most delicate passages was most masterful, while Schubert's Serenade, with its familiar and haunting melody was easily one of the most, if not the most, beautiful number of the program. Evening Bells and Cradle Song by Macfarlane, in spite of its being a modern composition offered ample opportunity for musical expression of a finished kind rather than for a mere excellence of technique.

The complete program was as follows:
Toccata and Fugue in D minor

J. S. Bach

Traumerie

Robert Schumann

Romanze

G. H. Federlein

Scherzo Pastorale

By the Sea

Franz Schubert

Serenade

Funeral March and Seraphic Song

Alexandre Guilmant

Evening Bells and Cradle Song

Will C. Macfarlane

Allegro from Symphony 1

COLLEGE NOTE

Competitors for the Sophomore Relay Team will meet Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock.

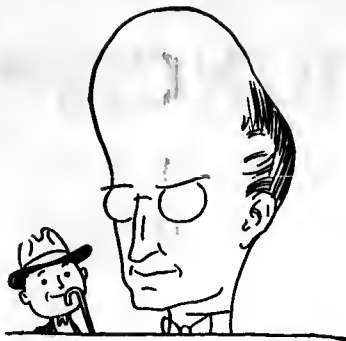

Election of the class singing leader and a baseball manager will be the business before the Junior Class at a meeting next Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock.

Andover has cancelled the basketball game which was scheduled to be played on March 12 with the Williams 1924 team.

In order not to conflict with the appearance of Tony Sarg's Marionettes at 4 o'clock in Grace Hall the Tuesday Lecture Course for this week has been cancelled.

Four Sophomores and six Freshmen have been retained in the competition for the editorial staff of the Graphic. Bennett, Fitch, Lyles, H. T. Perkins '23; Carter, Helfrich, Mason, McLean, Mc-Masters and Moody '24. Two Sophomores and three Freshmen will be elected to the board in April.

Amherst's swimming squad is practicing hard in preparation for the meet with Harvard at the Platt Natatorium, on February 22. Captain Whitcomb is expected to win the 220-yard swim.

This being a thinking age, we need only remind college men that price is never a test of cheapness.

"Play up, play up and play the game!"

"AS I get to know more about life in general and the electrical industry in particular, I like to think of everything as a game," said the old grad. "You've got to keep your eye on the ball and your mind alert for the main chance."

"Not long ago I tackled a job that nearly threw me. It called for some pretty heavy arm work but mostly head work, before I broke down the obstacles and made my goal."

"Right now the hurrahs from the grandstand are ringing in my ears—by which I mean that the boss said in his extravagant way, 'Good!'"

"I know what helped me to turn the trick. Back at college I put in some hard licks on the football field, and that training to think fast in a pinch and to keep plugging with the odds against me certainly stood by me when I graduated from football togs to overalls at the electrical works."

"So I'd like to offer this experience of mine as evidence on a disputed question, 'Is taking part in athletics a waste of time?'"

"Certainly you want first of all to get your math and your lab down pat. But to my way of thinking physical work will help you master them, because it leads to good health and a clear mind—a combination you can't beat."

"Start out in business with this capital and you'll find it backing you at every stage of the game, helping you to fight your way through and work out in a practical way your highest ambitions."

try for a goal, and for some time the play was centered in the home team's territory. Suddenly Becket shot out, and after carrying the puck almost the entire length of the rink, scored the second goal for Williams. Strong rushes by Amherst were successfully foiled and soon the play returned to the vicinity of the Purple and White goal. Here Rowse made the final tally for the winners. Maciek was substituted for Richmond at goal, and shortly afterward stopped shots made by Worcester and Davidson. Wilcox was taken out and Murnane replaced at left wing. After a very spirited show of playing on both sides, the game ended with the score 3 to 0 in favor of Williams.

The lineup was as follows:

Williams	Amherst
Rowse	l.w. Murnane, Metcalf
Becket	c Davidson (Capt.)
Stephenson	r R. A. Clark
Clark	r.w. Sylvester
Irwin (Capt.)	p Metcalf, Wilcox
Buell	c.p. Worcester
Richmond, Maciek g	Plimpton

MARIONETTES ACHIEVE REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Tony Sarg's Production of 'The Rose and the Ring' and 'Rip Van Winkle' Praised

UNIQUE NUMBER OF COURSE

Afternoon Performance Given As Benefit for Wellesley and Smith Endowments

In the most interesting and unique number of the Thompson Course, Charles E. Searle presented Tony Sarg's Marionettes last Tuesday evening in Grace Hall for the College and in the afternoon, for the benefit of the Smith and Wellesley endowment funds. The perfect proportioning of the figures and the stage setting and the surprising agility and grace of the puppets marked the performance as one of unusual merit.

Thackeray's only fairy story, "The Rose and the Ring," was puppetized for the afternoon entertainment. The plot hinges on the magical qualities of the rose and of the Ring, which frequently changes hands and which takes with it a beautiful face. The sudden transformation of the homely Countess Gruffamuff into a handsome woman was one of the most clever parts of the play.

In the evening performance, Washington Irving's "Rip Van Winkle" was presented in a changed and modified form. The characters were portrayed with even more finish and smoothness than at the earlier entertainment. In the presentation of the animals, the horse and lion of the afternoon and the dog, the parrot and pig of the evening, Tony Sarg proved his masterful skill and ability.

Rip Van Winkle is represented as a lazy and easily taken-in character, and, as in the book, willing to help anybody but

DR. SEERLEY WILL GIVE TWO SPEECHES

Subject 'Manhood—A Constructive Treatment of Sex' Will be Discussed

Continuing its program of interesting and diversified meetings during the present year, the W. C. A. will present at its regular meeting next Sunday evening Dr. P. M. Seerley, of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, who will lecture on the subject, "Manhood—A Constructive Treatment of Sex." Dr. Seerley will continue his lecture on Monday afternoon at 4.15 p. m. in Jesup Hall, and opportunities for personal conferences will likewise be offered all that day.

Two meetings have been arranged to permit of the entire student body hearing Dr. Seerley's complete lectures on the subject. Speaking recently before M. I. T. he was so popular that it was necessary to arrange for five lectures on the same day in order to reach the large student body there. Dr. Seerley has spoken at practically all the New England colleges, and wherever he has appeared a second meeting has been necessary on the following day in order to satisfy the demand for his second and concluding lecture.

In presenting his subject Dr. Seerley does not convey the usual book information but treats the question in a manner which has brought universally favorable comment. Dr. Seerley is well qualified to speak on his subject, being generally recognized as the best hygienic authority in the country today. He is at present dean of the Y. M. C. A. college and professor of hygiene and psychology. His experience in the army Y. M. C. A. covered twenty-six months, and he is now further serving under the student department of the International Y. M. C. A. as a lecturer in colleges on sex education. In addition to his connection with the Y. M. C. A. College, Dr. Seerley has studied at the University of Louisiana, the University of Vermont, and the Sorbonne in Paris.

Two Speakers to Debate Socialism Before Forum

David Berendeg, Professor of Socialism at the Rand School for Social Science, and Mr. Peter Collins, well-known Knights of Columbus speaker, will debate next Monday evening in Jesup Hall at 8.00 o'clock under the auspices of the Forum. The subject will be as follows, "Resolved: That the economic program of socialism is superior to the present economic system."

Professor Berendeg was candidate for state senator of New York on the ticket of the Socialist party in the last campaign, and a member of the state executive committee of the Socialistic party. Peter Collins is known nationally as a debater against the Socialists and has engaged in numerous contests with them.

PURPLE HOCKEY TEAM WILL MEET COLUMBIA

Williams Will be Handicapped by Use of Six Man Team Due to Small Rink

Williams will face Columbia in hockey this afternoon at 3.15 o'clock at the 181st Street Ice Palace in New York City. The Columbia team, which has met Yale and Pennsylvania is a strong one, and the game will be a severe test for the Williams sextet.

Williams starts the game with a record of three straight victories, and with a lineup unweakened through ineligibility. Stephenson '23 was the only first string man lost by mid-year examinations, but this loss is neutralized by the eligibility of Crosby '23, and Stephenson '24, both of whom will make the trip to Columbia. Stephenson '24 will start the game in place of Clark at right wing.

Although there are no comparative scores by which to judge the two teams, the game should be close. Columbia will have the advantage in that six rather than seven man teams will be used, the position of rover being dropped out. In recent years the six man team has become more and more popular and is better suited to small rinks such as that to be used in New York City. Notwithstanding the fact that Williams has thus far played only seven man teams, the Purple should not be materially weakened by this fact, for the squad has been preparing for the Columbia game by daily hard practices in which a six man aggregation has been used.

The Williams team is undoubtedly one of the strongest of recent years, and has steadily improved in each of its three contests. In the first game of the season Williams defeated the strong Albany Country Club seven by a score of 4-0, and Amherst has bowed twice before the

SCRAP BOOK BOUND

Miss Osborne Records Newspaper Reports of Dr. Garfield

Press articles and comments and cartoons on the fuel administration of Dr. H. A. Garfield from 1917-1920 have been carefully collected and mounted by Miss Lucy E. Osborne, cataloguer of the College Library, in a large scrap book which may now be seen in one of the alcoves off the rotunda of Lawrence Hall. Three years ago Miss Osborne commenced collecting everything that appeared in the press of the country concerning Dr. Garfield as fuel administrator and has just finished mounting the articles and cartoons in a very attractive book of about 200 pages.

The book, with its complete summary of the opinion of the press on the work that suddenly put the president of Williams so prominently before the public eye and also with a full set of the posters issued by the fuel administration, forms a most valuable addition to the collection of Williamsiana where it will be deposited as soon as undergraduates and the faculty have had a chance to see it.

CRITIC PRAISES FIRST NUMBER OF 'GRAPHIC'

Successor to 'Literary Monthly' Contains Unusual Amount of Good Material

PUBLICATION IS SUCCESS

Reviewer is Impressed by Poetic and Prose Ability Shown in Initial Issue

Impressive in appearance, attractively printed in large type on thick paper, illustrated with photographs, volume one, number one of the Graphic and Literary Monthly is a success and justifies the enterprise of its editors. And it has not only kept the old name in its title, but has also produced articles of a literary quality above the average, so that thus far cultured apprehensions are not confirmed. Why sources that refused to flow for the Lit. have been successfully tapped for the Graphic is left for us to divine. Mr. Hyndman thinks the output of native talent to be mostly engulphed in the vortex of the courses in literature. Can one not use the same products, or some of them, both for the class and the Graphic? If not, there is no way but to invite one's genius, "Aladdin-like," by the use of the lamp, not of the bottle.

Mr. Withrow's poems are rich and full-bodied, have breadth and dignity, and their choice language and sonorous harmony are in the best English tradition, with more than a touch of the grand manner. We have here real talent. Mr. Britton matches it with stanzas full of color and music, oriental in suggestion according with the theme. With such poems in a college publication it is not yet to lament decay.

Mr. Mason's vivid though somewhat crude manuscript of a suicide does not convince as an account of reality, but is convincing enough if intended as the hallucination of a madman.

In the Phi Beta Kappa vs. the "W," Mr. Britton shows unvoiced sympathy with the sons of the key and that as yet unclassified product of civilization known as the professor. One type of the genus, at least, will always survive because fitted to the environment,—the type that loves to teach, and loves his subject, and cares not for salary except for so much as meets the modest needs of his family, relieves from worry and sets the mind free for the intellectual life. Such envied not the "W," (which he sometimes possesses himself), but finds his comfort and his earthly immortality in his intellectual offspring, the boys of the key.

Alarm Clock Religion tackles an ancient problem hopefully, and which must ever be tackled anew, since the reforms of one generation are already routine again for the next. Happy the college possessing a man who can conduct chapel six or seven times a week with four-minute talks and not fall into routine, not fail in inspiration, year in year out! Meanwhile we have only selections from the Bible, hymns from

Vote Will be Taken on Proposed Plan for Conducting all Class Elections

Tuesday, February 15th is the date set for the next meeting of the undergraduate body of the College. Two very important matters are scheduled to be decided at this meeting, and it is necessary that every undergraduate be present.

In the first place, a vote will be taken on the procedure of holding class elections. The general outline of the new plan as submitted by the class of 1922 is as follows: 1. Nominations for all class elections of class officers, managers, members of committees, and Class Day officers shall be made by a nominating committee. —2. This committee shall be composed of five men, to be appointed by the class president not less than twenty-four hours previous to the holding of the election.

(a) No man shall serve on this committee twice in succession, nor more than three times during the college year. (b) The names of the committees shall be entered on the class minutes.—3. The nominating committee shall submit to the class the names of at least two men—except in the case of Class Day poets and orators.—4. Nominations from the floor in addition to those made by the nominating committee shall be allowed.—5. A motion to close the nominations must be unanimous.—6. Names of nominees shall be dropped from the list if any man receives votes fewer in number than fifteen percent of the number of voters present at the meeting.—7. Thereafter the man receiving the least number of votes shall be dropped from the list until a majority is cast for one of the candidates.—8. The first freshman class meeting of the year shall be conducted under the nomination by ballot system.

The other matter to be brought before the College will be the presentation of the constitution of the Undergraduate Schools Committee for ratification. This constitution as recently drawn up was printed in the January 17 issue of the Record.

BOSTON DIVINE HERE

Dr. Frothingham to Preach in Chapel Sunday Morning

Chapel services next Sunday morning in the Thompson Memorial Chapel will be conducted by the Rt. Reverend Paul R. Frothingham, D.D., of Boston, Mass.

Dr. Frothingham was born at Jamaica Plain, in 1864. In 1886 he graduated from Harvard and later received his D.D. degree from this university. From 1889 to 1900 he was minister of the First Congregational Society, in New Bedford; and since 1900 he has served as minister of the Arlington St. Church in Boston. Dr. Frothingham has also been a preacher at Harvard University for many years. He is a trustee of the Perkins Institute and the Massachusetts School for the Blind and is president of the Massachusetts Circumcision Society.

Among his works as an author on theological subjects are William Ellery Channing, His Messages from the Spirit, The Temple of Virtue, A Confusion of Tongues and We Believe.

WILLIAMS QUINTET TO PLAY AMHERST

Comparative Scores Favor Purple in First Game of Series Between Rivals

CAPTAIN BECKWITH IS ONCE MORE IN LINE-UP

Freshmen Eligible for Positions Should Increase Reserve Strength of Team

Williams will oppose Amherst in the first of the two basketball games scheduled between the two colleges this season, at 8.00 o'clock this evening in the Lasell Gymnasium. Neither team seems to possess any marked advantage as both have proved rather unsuccessful in their early season contests, each winning only one game.

Comparative scores give Williams a slight edge over her rival but this is more than offset by the greater experience of the Purple and White. Both teams met defeat from Wesleyan and Harvard but in neither case were the winners able to run up so large an actual score or margin over the Williams five as over the Amherst aggregation. The recent victory of the Purple over Stevens is another encouraging feature.

Amherst opened the season with three regulars of last year's team, Captain Palmer, Card, and Snider, who form the nucleus about which the quintet is formed. In the opening game of the present season the Purple and White quintet proved far from strong, losing to Hamilton 24 to 7 in the initial contest. Defeats followed at the hands of Harvard, Wesleyan and Springfield by the scores of 15 to 24, 12 to 23, and 38 to 25 respectively. In these contests Amherst

GIVE BROOKS MEDAL TO W. C. BURGER '22

Unanimous Vote of Committee Awards Football Honor to Strong Halfback

William Chapman Burger '22 of Wallingford, Conn., has been selected as the second recipient of the Brooks Memorial Medal by the unanimous vote of the committee of award composed of Professor Wild, Coach Brooks, and Manager Dana. The first award of the medal was made last year to Captain Ben Lee Boynton, 1921.

This medal is given yearly in memory of Captain Belvidere Brooks, 1910, who was killed at Villesavoye, France, on August 21, 1918, while serving with the 308th Infantry. It is to be presented each year as soon as convenient after the football season to that member of the football team whose work shall have been the greatest credit to the College. Further conditions are that no man shall receive the medal more than once and that the recipient is to be selected by a committee composed of the chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics, the football coach, and the football manager.

Burger has played on the football team for two years in the position of halfback. During his sophomore year he was captain of his class football and baseball teams and was elected assistant manager of the varsity basketball team. He served as a member of the Sophomore auxiliary promenade committee and of the Sophomore class banquet committee. This year he was also made a lieutenant of the fire brigade. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

When interviewed before the Williams-Wesleyan game last November Coach Brooks gave the following opinion of Burger's playing: "He is a very strong line-plunger and receiver of passes and is the best of the backs defensively besides being the most conscientious man on the team."

Vol. 34 February 11, 1921 No. 56

One of the chief advantages urged in favor of a small college over a large, and a very real one, is the opportunity given for the forming of closer relations between students and faculty. The advantage of small classes, enabling faculty and undergraduates to know each other in the classroom, has always existed at Williams, but the meetings outside of curriculum hours have been less frequent so that every means to that end is particularly welcome. Such an opportunity was offered in a delightful way in the two receptions given this week by Dr. and Mrs. Garfield to all the students, receptions at which those present were able to meet and learn to know, informally and socially, those who otherwise might be known only under class room conditions. And the large number who were present clearly showed their appreciation and enjoyment of the opportunity.

Tony Sarg's Marionettes

The delightful entertainment last Tuesday by the most ingenious and skillfully directed marionettes of the English-speaking world made those who were fortunate enough to attend realize with renewed force the generosity of Mrs. Thompson in making possible such a rare treat for the undergraduate body. To Professor Weston also are due the thanks of the College for his successful efforts in bringing to Williamstown entertainments of uniformly high calibre.

The matter of the compulsory chapel services has been agitating the student body for a long time, especially since a straw vote conducted last spring revealed a large majority in favor of an increased number of cuts and of making the Sunday vesper service voluntary. The suggestion of other means towards the same end of giving the services a real inspirational and religious value was made by Mr. Noble in the first number of the Graphic and the fact that the problem is being seriously considered by the authorities was shown yesterday morning by the President's announcement in regard to the selection of well-known and popular hymns. The Trustees are well aware of the undergraduate attitude but it seems to us that at their next meeting, the Student Council should present the case to them and try to secure the necessary action.

Name Smoker Committee

Chairman Banks of the College Smoker Committee has announced the personnel of that body as follows: Banks, Moody, Power '21; W. D. Coleman, Lucdeke, H. M. Montgomery, G. I. Rounds '22; Britton, Baxter '23; and Dodge '24. There will be an important meeting of the committee next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Musical Clubs office in Jesup Hall.

Alumnus Will Fill Vacancy in Faculty

William L. Crum '14 has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the mathematics department left by the decision of Professor Hardy to travel in Europe. Professor Hardy will sail within a month for England, and expects to travel in Europe for several months, returning in time to resume his work here next fall.

Mr. Crum, who holds the rank of an assistant professor, continued his studies at Yale after his graduation from Williams in 1914, and received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from that institution where he has been teaching in the mathematics department since completing his studies.

Williams Quintet to Play Amherst

showed decided strength in basket-shooting, but the team's floorwork was unusually weak. Card showed up particularly well in the forward position, while Snider proved the mainstay of the defense.

Amherst won its first victory over M. A. C. 22 to 21, the scoring on both sides being principally from the foul line. Since then Amherst has played two games in New York, losing to Pratt Institute 44 to 39 and to C. C. N. Y. 42 to 20. In the second contest the Massachusetts men were outclassed by the finished game of their opponents.

Since the Stevens game several freshmen have become eligible for the Williams team and should add considerable strength and give it better balance. Blackmer, who showed up excellently in the interclass series, will probably play at forward with Captain Beckwith, who has been out of the last two games on account of illness. Although Beckwith is likely to start tonight, he may be relieved by Hyde or Wightman before the end of the contest. Boynton and Wilson, who proved a strong combination against Stevens, will again constitute the Purple defense. Fargo will start at center but may be shifted to guard to make room for Johnson, a new addition to the squad. The team will find itself for the first time this season supplied with an adequate reserve of substitutes of equal calibre with the regulars. Coach Shanahan will thus be able to shift and reinforce the line-up during the game in a manner which has hitherto been impossible.

During last week's practice special attention has been devoted to developing the potential strength which the team showed for the first time in defeating Stevens.

The probable line-up is as follows:

Williams	Amherst
Beckwith (Capt.) lf	Card
Blackmer rf	Hill
Fargo c	Lee
Wilson rg	Palmer (Capt.)
Boynton lg	Snider

Purple Hockey Team Will Meet Columbia

Purple skaters by scores of 2-1 and 3-0. Especially in the second Amherst game did the team show its all around strength, forcing the play from start to finish. The Williams seven showed superior team play and general excellence which would point to a hard game at Columbia. In the three games which have been played thus far the offensive ability of Becket at centre and the brilliance of the defensive work of Buell and Richmond has stood out.

The Columbia team, however, is strong, and has a great advantage in having a coach. Columbia has played Yale and Pennsylvania, and although she lost both games, she has undoubtedly met opponents of greater ability than has Williams. The Blue and White bowed to Yale in the first game of the season by the one sided score of 7-1, in one of the most spectacular games played in New York thus far this season. In this game the inexperience of the Columbia aggregation was fatal, in spite of a plucky fight. Columbia yielded to Penn. in the second game, played on a rink double the size of that at 181st St. The game which ended 2-1 was closely contested throughout, both goals for Penn. being made in the first period of play. Captain Anderson at cover point featured the Penn. game by his brilliant playing, while Rollins and Walker starred in the Yale game.

The lineup of the two teams will be as follows:

Williams	Columbia
Rowse lw	Rivet
Becket c	Rollins
J. A. Stephenson rw	Walker
Irwin rd	Anderson
Buell ld	Squires
Richmond g	Kopper

Two Receptions Are Held by President Garfield

President and Mrs. Harry A. Garfield gave a reception at their home on last Wednesday evening for the two upper classes, and one on last Thursday evening for the two lower classes. Members of the Faculty and their wives assisted in receiving the guests, and refreshments were served. Dr. and Mrs. Garfield have in the past held a reception for members of the Freshman class, but this was discontinued during the past few years. The reception held last Wednesday and Thursday evenings, however, is the first opportunity that members of all four classes have had to meet the Faculty informally, and from the large number of men present on both occasions, the entertainment seemed to be greatly appreciated. Dr. and Mrs. Garfield will also be at home on Sunday afternoons during February and March.

Marionettes Achieve Remarkable Success

himself. In the opening scene, Derrick Van Bummel, the schoolmaster, and Nicholas Vedder, the Innkeeper, are playing cards outside the Inn. A Spanish sailor, a stranger to the original story, enters with a parrot, Profanity, who frequently interrupts his master's sad tale by screaming, "Oh! What a liar you are." The Spaniard sings a sea song and dances for the onlookers. He then trades his parrot for the pig of the easy-going Rip and passes out of the story. Rip sits at the Inn, discussing his wife with the schoolmaster, until she arrives. Dame Van Winkle was very well drawn and true to the original version of the quarrelsome wife. She takes her husband home with her, where, as usual, they quarrel. The parrot is brought by a small boy and, when the wrathful wife learns that Rip has traded her pig for a parrot, she orders him to leave the house with his dog, Wolf. Judith, the daughter, begs the Mother to allow Rip to remain and not to drive him out in the storm. Peals of puppet thunder and flashes of miniature lightning can be seen and heard, but the Dame is unrelenting and Rip leaves the house after a very well executed scene with his daughter.

Once in the mountains, Rip shoots a rabbit, but Wolf, his dog, becomes frightened and runs away. Rip finds a cave in the tiny mountain and enters it. Shadowy figures appear, but he is engrossed in gathering gold with which the cave is lined. Hendrick Hudson and his crew have found him in their secret cave, and plan to prevent Rip ever telling of its existence. Rip hears a voice calling to him and goes to the assistance of a small man carrying a keg from a peculiar ship which sails across the back of the miniature stage. Rip Van Winkle drinks and falls asleep upon the mountain while fairy forms float over his head.

Twenty years later, Rip VanWinkle wakes up, stiff and creaking in every joint, with a long white beard and a rusty gun. The scene then shifts to the Inn where three men are playing Christmas carols. Nicholas Vedder takes them around back, and Derrick Van Bummel, a Colonel in the Revolutionary War come on the stage, followed by the husband of Rip's daughter. They discuss old times and finally they too go to the back of the building. Accompanied by much barking of dogs, Rip Van Winkle enters, still believing that he went to sleep yesterday. He enters the Inn, tells his story, and is laughed at by his old companions. His daughter Judith comes into the Inn, and at first fails to recognize her father. At length she knows him, and the tiny curtain falls on the two, happy in the restoration.

During the presentation of both performances, not a single one of the myriad strings became tangled and confused. The puppets acted their parts perfectly, danced, sang, smoked, talked, and swore like real people and moved across the stage with a steadiness unbelievable.

On account of the interference of the examination period, announcement has been made that the time limit for the Cap and Bells one-act play-writing contest has been extended until February 24. All contributions should be given Power '21, in accordance with the rules outlined in a previous issue of The Record.

Nine sophomores have entered the competition for the assistant managership of the Combined Musical Clubs. The list includes S. A. Anderson, Angevine, Baxter, Barnes, B. N. Campbell, Hilton, McAneny, Shepardson and Vercoe. At the end of the competition about May 1 one man will be chosen Assistant Business Manager and the second man will become Assistant Press Agent.

How is a Wireless Message Received?

EVERY incandescent lamp has a filament. Mount a metal plate on a wire in the lamp near the filament. A current leaps the space between the filament and the plate when the filament glows.

Edison first observed this phenomenon in 1883. Hence it was called the "Edison effect."

Scientists long studied the "effect" but they could not explain it satisfactorily. Now, after years of experimenting with Crookes tubes, X-ray tubes and radium, it is known that the current that leaps across is a stream of "electrons"—exceedingly minute particles negatively charged with electricity.

These electrons play an important part in wireless communication. When a wire grid is interposed between the filament and the plate and charged positively, the plate is aided in drawing electrons across; but when the grid is charged negatively it drives back the electrons. A very small charge applied to the grid, as small as that received from a feeble wireless wave, is enough to vary the electron stream.

So the grid in the tube enables a faint wireless impulse to control the very much greater amount of energy in the flow of electrons, and so radio signals too weak to be perceived by other means become perceptible by the effects that they produce. Just as the movement of a throttle controls a great locomotive in motion, so a wireless wave, by means of the grid, affects the powerful electron stream.

All this followed from studying the mysterious "Edison effect"—a purely scientific discovery.

No one can foresee what results will follow from research in pure science. Sooner or later the world must benefit practically from the discovery of new facts.

For this reason the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are concerned as much with investigations in pure science as they are with the improvement of industrial processes and products. They, too, have studied the "Edison effect" scientifically. The result has been a new form of electron tube, known as the "pliotron", a type of X-ray tube free from the vagaries of the old tube; and the "kennetron", which is called by electrical engineers a "rectifier" because it has the property of changing an alternating into a direct current.

All these improvements followed because the Research Laboratories try to discover the "how" of things. Pure science always justifies itself.

TWO BANQUETS GIVEN

Class of 1885 and Michigan Alumni Hold Dinners

Two alumni banquets have been held recently, the first by the class of '85, in New York City, and the second by the Michigan Alumni Association in Detroit. President Harry A. Garfield addressed the annual banquet of the latter organization, which was held on January 12 at the University Club of Detroit. A committee was chosen to serve in an advisory capacity to the men in the local high schools who are preparing to enter Williams. Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, W. R. Stocking '05; vice-president, E. G. Wasey '02; secretary-treasurer, B. C. Eaton '15.

Among the 22 members of the class of '85 present at the 21st annual banquet which was held on Friday evening, January 12 at the University Club in New York City were President Garfield, Mr. Bentley W. Warren, and Mr. Henry W. Banks. The members of this class presented the College with $25,000 at the last commencement to pay for one of the entries of Williams Hall.

JACK COOMBS TO COACH BASEBALL

Pitcher for Athletics During Ten Seasons Will Take Place of Ira Thomas

BATTERY MEN ARE TO START PRACTICE TODAY

Coombs Will Reach Williamstown February 26th to Prepare for Southern Trip

Announcement has been made by the Athletic Association that John W. Coombs of Palestine, Texas, former big-league pitcher, has accepted the contract as coach of this season's baseball team. The release of Ira Thomas, whose contract will not expire until next July, has been granted at his own request, due to the pressure of other business.

Coombs will arrive in Williamstown Saturday, February 26, or the following Monday to take charge of the squad. He has telegraphed the request that battery men be called out at once and that all others be ready by the time of his arrival. In response to the telegram, Captain Finn has issued a call for all battery men to report today, and has notified candidates for other positions to be ready next Monday. Weather conditions will probably prevent considerable outdoor practice before the spring recess, but the extensive Southern trip which the squad will take at that time should put the team in shape for the first game on the regular schedule which is against the U. S. Military Academy nine at West Point, N. Y., on April 16.

Jack Coombs is a graduate of Colby University. During the ten years, 1905 to 1915, he was one of the star pitchers for the Philadelphia Athletics, and during his last years with that team he was the mainstay of "Connie Mack's" famous pennant winning machine. After 1915 Coombs went to the Brooklyn Nationals where he did very effective work during several seasons, and last year, although he did not play himself, he coached the pitching staff of the Detroit Americans.

During the three consecutive seasons, 1909, 1910, 1911, in which the Athletics won the World's Series, Coombs was the principal factor in bringing victory to the Philadelphia team. In 1910, when the Athletics were contesting the championship of the world with the Chicago Cubs, (Continued on page 4, column 1)

'MANHOOD' SUBJECT OF TALK TO W. C. A.

Dr. Seerley of Springfield Y. M. C. A. College Speaks Again This Afternoon

Dr. F. M. Seerley of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College addressed a well attended meeting of the Williams Christian Association last evening in Jesup Hall on the subject, "Manhood—A Constructive Treatment of Sex." The speaker will give another lecture this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in Jesup Hall and will make appointments with any students desiring to see him during the day.

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," was taken as the text of the speech which Dr. Seerley illustrated by drawings on the blackboard. The speaker emphasized the two methods of conveying impressions to the brain, through the blood and through the sense organs. The brain affects all the actions of the body, and the man is determined in his outward relations by the impressions on his brain. According to the speaker, mental abuse is more common and as injurious as physical abuse. Dr. Seerley ended his address with a description of manhood, which he said, could only be attained by a pure life. After the speech, Dr. Seerley answered individual questions. The subject for the lecture this evening will be, "Womanhood."

McGill University Wins Annual Winter Carnival

McGill University, of Montreal, won the annual intercollegiate ski and snowshoe meet held at Hanover last Friday and Saturday, with a total of 37 points against 25 for Dartmouth, five for Vermont, four for Middlebury, and one for Williams. Individual honors for the meet were won by Carleton, of Dartmouth with first place in the ski obstacle race, the ski jump, and second place in the general proficiency contest.

Five men were sent up from Williams under the leadership of President Brueker of the Outing Club. The only man to score, however, was Greene '23, who received a third place in the obstacle ski race on Friday afternoon.

ALUMNI REUNION TO TAKE PLACE FEB. 25

Speakers of National Importance Will be Present at Dinner at Waldorf-Astoria

Arrangements are under way for the annual midwinter Alumni Reunion which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City on Friday evening, February 25. Committees have been appointed to take charge of the plans for the banquet, which promises to be the most successful held in many years.

Bainbridge Colby '90 will be the principal speaker at the dinner. Judge Charles C. Nott '90 will act as toastmaster, and among the other speakers will be President Harry A. Garfield; Major Stanley Washburn '01, a member of the Root Commission to Russia; and Chester S. Lord, Managing Editor of the New York Sun, president of the Lotus Club, and son of Rev. E. Lord, the oldest living graduate. As usual, the silver Reunion Cup will be awarded to the class having the best attendance, based on the percentage of the class present and the distance traveled by each man. This cup will be presented by Francis S. Hutchins '00 and has been won by the class of 1914 for three consecutive years, and by 1917 every year since its graduation.

The committee on Arrangements is composed of Bird '97, chairman, Hutchins '00, Wyckoff '14 and Moffat '16. The dinner will cost $7 per cover for men graduated in or before 1910 and $5 for those of later classes. Williams '92 is chairman of the committee on Program and is assisted by Masten '76, Nott '90, Mills '93, Chapman '03, and Wood '16. The committee on Decorations is composed of Mygatt '00, chairman, Dearborn '13, Wyckoff '14, and Jacobs '16. The music will be arranged for by Peabody '15, assisted by Safford '92, Sutton '93, Hutchins '00, Chapman '03, and Austrian '14. The publicity has been handled by a committee made up of Hamilton '10, chairman, Mills, '93, Berking '02, Riggs '02, Chapman '03, Dana '11 and Clancy '07. An attempt will be made to break the record set by Amherst several years ago when 1012 men attended a reunion. The printing has been under the direction of Ayres '12, chairman, Bird '97, Berking '02, Hardy '17, and Fillebrown, '19.

TO DEBATE TONIGHT

David Berenberg and Peter Collins to Clash on Socialism

David Berenberg, Professor of Socialism at the Rand School for Social Science, and Mr. Peter Collins, well-known Knights of Columbus speaker, will debate this evening in Jesup Hall at 8.00 o'clock under the auspices of the Forum. The subject for the debate will be as follows: "Resolved, That the economic program of socialism is superior to the present economic system."

Professor Berenberg was a candidate for state senator of New York on the ticket of the socialist party in the last campaign. Peter Collins is known nationally as a debater against the Socialists, and has engaged in numerous contests with them.

PURPLE HOCKEY TEAM IS AGAIN VICTORIOUS

Defeats Columbia by Large Score of 5 to 1 at 181st St. Ice Palace in New York

BECKET STAR OF CONTEST

Shoots Three Goals and Carries Puck Well During Successful Second Period

Superior speed and teamwork gave the victory to Williams last Friday evening when the Purple hockey team defeated Columbia by the score of 5 to 1 before a large crowd of alumni at the 181st Street Ice Palace, New York City. By winning its fourth victory in a fast and well played game the varsity again maintained the season's record of unbroken success.

The feature of the game was the excellent passing and dribbling of the Williams team, by virtue of which the Columbia players were clearly outclassed for the greater part of the contest. All the scoring on both sides came in the first two periods, the remainder of the game being marked by the stubborn defense of both sides.

In the opening period the home team started with a rush. Anderson, the Columbia captain, playing at coverpoint, made their first and only tally by caging a long shot from center which Richmond was unable to intercept. At all other times the Purple goal successfully stopped the bombardment of the opposing team.

There was no more scoring for either team until the second period when the Williams sextet flashed a systematic attack which netted the Purple its total score of five points. In this powerful drive Becket proved the star, not only carrying the puck down the ice but a counting for three goals by pretty shooting. Rowse and Clark, who substituted for Stephenson also made tallies in this period. The success of the Williams players was due largely to good teamwork, which was used to great advantage. Short passes before the goal line and formations for carrying the puck out from behind the goal proved effective.

During the last period Williams played a defensive game and made no further goals. So effective was the work of the winners that Columbia did not score or even seriously threaten, during the remainder of the game.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

Williams	Columbia
Stephenson	Iw
Becket	e
Rowse	rw
Buell	ld
Irwin (Capt.)	rd
Richmond	g
	Kopper

Goals—For Williams, Becket (3), Clark Rowse. For Columbia, Anderson. Time Three Periods of fifteen minutes each. Referee—Peacock of Williams. Umpire—Noonan of Fordham.

Freshman Trials for Cap and Bells Will Be Held

All members of the freshman class with dramatic aspirations, regardless of whether they have attended previous trials or not, will be given the opportunity to try out for Cap and Bells tomorrow afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

In four or five weeks the production of three one act plays written by undergraduates will be undertaken and possibly one by Bernard Shaw and one by some alumnus of the College. Opportunity will be given to freshmen to procure places on the casts of all of these and the cast of one, Pyramus and Thisbe, will be composed entirely of freshmen.

PURPLE HOCKEY TEAM TO PLAY DARTMOUTH

Williams Has Won Four Straight Games—Seven-Man Team Will Be Used

Williams will face Dartmouth in the fifth hockey game of the season on Wednesday at 4.15 o'clock on the Cole Field Rink. The Purple has proved its strength by four straight victories, but Dartmouth is the most formidable adversary on this year's schedule, and a hard, fast contest should result.

Comparative scores make the outcome even more uncertain. Williams beat Amherst at Amherst by a 2-1 score, and at Williamstown by a 3-0 score, in a game in which the superiority of the Purple was clearly demonstrated. Dartmouth defeated Amherst by the score of 4-2 in a game characterized by the Amherst Student as "hard-fought throughout." However, this was the first game of the season for Dartmouth, who since that time has played several strong teams and shown decided power.

The Williams team showed its strength by the unexpectedly one-sided victory over Columbia by a 5-1 score. The Purple skaters have exhibited marked improvement at each start, and this can easily be traced through the two Amherst games and the Columbia game, in all of which the scoring power has steadily increased. If this improvement continues in proportion, the outlook for the Dartmouth game is very favorable, especially since the contest will take place on the home rink. In all the games played thus far, the offensive play of Becket has stood out prominently, especially at Columbia where he was responsible for three of the five goals. Captain Irwin, Buell, and Richmond make up a formidable defensive combination, while the general excellence of the entire Williams team in passing and dribbling has been a regular feature.

Dartmouth opened its season by a 4-2 victory over Amherst in an exciting game. In the second contest Dartmouth beat the (Continued on page 4, column 1)

COLLEGE WILL MEET

To Vote on New Plan for Choosing Class Officers

Next Tuesday evening a very important meeting of the undergraduate body of the College will be held at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Auditorium for the consideration of the new procedure of holding class elections which has been submitted by the Junior Class and the ratification of the constitution of the Undergraduate Schools Committee. In addition a Hoover Relief Drive will be launched under the chairmanship of Richardson '22.

Lately there has been trouble in getting a sufficient number of men to attend the College meetings, and, owing to the importance of the business to be brought up next Tuesday evening, Ufford '21, chairman of the Student Council, has requested that everybody not only make it a point to be present but to be informed on the business of the evening which is outlined in detail in the issues of the Record for January 17 and February 11.

WILLIAMS DEFEATS AMHERST 34 TO 21

Improvements in Team-work and Shooting Shown by Purple Basketball Team

GAME IS CLOSE UNTIL LAST MINUTE OF PLAY

Hyde Leads in Scoring by Making Five Goals from Floor—Played One Half

Williams took the lead in the race for the Trophy of Trophies by a decisive victory over the Amherst basketball team last Friday evening in Lassell Gymnasium by a 34 to 21 score. The playing of both quintets was fast and clean, but the Purple five showed better teamwork and unexpected accuracy in shooting baskets at the crucial moments.

For the Williams team, the work of Blackmer and Hyde was a feature of the game. Their passing was fast and accurate and their shooting was of a grade superior to that shown in former contests. Wilson and C. Boynton were steady and dependable as guards and were largely responsible for keeping down the Amherst score. Card, Palmer and Nail were the individual stars for the Purple and White aggregation. Their passing was well executed, but the superior guarding of the Williams quintet prevented many tries at the basket from close range.

Williams employed a live-man defense and a system of short passes and shots from near the basket. Few long attempts were made at the basket. Amherst tried many shots from the middle of the floor and comparatively few from under the basket, due partly to their coaching and partly to the Williams defense. Coach Shanahan has developed a strong quintet and the result of his careful training has been shown in the last two games with Stevens and Amherst.

First Half

Captain Palmer of Amherst scored the first basket of the game on a long shot from the middle of the floor in the first few minutes of play. Fargo then caged the ball for the first Purple score on a short throw, which was followed by two baskets by Blackmer. Card succeeded in scoring for the opposing team, and Boynton tallied (Continued on page 4, column 2)

SWIMMING TEAM TO OPEN SEASON FRIDAY

Contest Will Take Place at Amherst—Line-up of Purple Undecided as Yet

Preparations are under way for the first swimming meet of the 1921 season scheduled with Amherst on Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock at Amherst. The final choice of the Williams team has not yet been made, and the entries of the Amherst team have not been received at this time.

Captain Fulle '21 is at present ill in the infirmary, but it is hoped that he will be able to be out again tomorrow, although he may be too weak from his illness for any competition. However, his event, the plunge, is being handled very capably by S. Jones '23, who last year placed second in the intercollegiate at Boston. Miller '22, and McKenzie '23, ineligible of last year, are once more available for competition, the former taking care of the 100-yard, and the latter the 50-yard dashes. In the latter event Sanford '24 has been doing good work, and Wilcox '22 and Olmsted '24 will probably compete in the 220-yard swim.

The Amherst team has been showing up well in their meets up to date, and Captain Whitecomb and Damon are expected to offer considerable opposition in the 50, 100, and 220-yard races. Davis and Henry have been performing well in the plunge, developing considerably by diligent practice.

Vol. 34 February 14, 1921 No. 57

On Tuesday evening the College body will be offered an opportunity to retrieve the inexcusably disgraceful exhibition made on January 18, when a College meeting was postponed because of the failure to secure a quorum. At that time only about one-fourth of the Student body appeared, in spite of the fact that matters vitally affecting the undergraduates were to appear for consideration.

In regard to the action of the College body on the proposals to be made, the Record makes the same recommendations as were made at that time. The No-Deal committee has already adopted the Record's recommendation of a tentative approval of the plan for changing class election methods, and we therefore consider an affirmative vote on this proposition desirable.

The Necessity for Action

The failure of the Board of Trustees last spring to attribute to the agitation of the chapel question the slightest importance was a disappointment to all those who were interested in bringing about a consideration of an insistently unsatisfactory state of affairs. The present conditions in chapel attendance are, beyond a doubt, deplorable. It requires only a mediocre intelligence to realize that some remedy must be applied.

Compulsory Chapel in its present form has never been an eminently popular institution, but never before has there been such universal dissatisfaction with its operation. To whatever element we may attribute the present attitude, we must face squarely the fact that the average student regards what purports to be a religious service with little less than loathing. That the resultant effects are detrimental to real religious faith and church attendance can hardly be questioned. We again call our readers' attention to Mr. Noble's remarks on the subject: "The daily services are unattractive, hollow, superficial, and uninspiring."

Moreover, the remedies which Mr. Noble advocates fit the situation well: "In short, more cuts, one service on Sunday, a college pastor worthy of the name, a new form of service, and . . . the service held later in the morning; all these changes, and what I should call improvements, would raise the required chapel system in Williams College from the rut into which it has apparently fallen."

And again we ask, "In the face of the circumstances will the Board of Trustees persist in ignoring the question?"

It would seem strange that the noise of last spring's wide-spread agitation should have failed to reach the ears of most of the Trustees, but evidently it did not. If this is the case, more definite action must be taken to call the matter to their attention. The Student Council, as official representative of the undergraduate body, must take the responsibility.

The Trustees are to meet in the near future to transact business. At that time the Student Council should present to them the situation and should request that specific remedies be applied.

What action the Trustees will then take, is a matter of speculation, but whatever they do, we shall at least have had the satisfaction of having laid the case before the proper authorities adequately and in due form. If any solution is ever to be arrived at, definite action is necessary. The presentation of the case to the Trustees by the Student Council is the most definite action that can be performed.

FRESHMAN DELINQUENCY

To the Editor of the WILLIAMS RECORD,
May I have the use of a little space in your columns to call the attention of members of the freshman class to the important Williams tradition which gives them the privilege of ringing the Goodrich Hall bell after every important victory won by a Williams team? Until Friday night, it would have seemed incredible that any class should have been here a whole semester without knowing anything of the custom, but to judge from the amount of persuasion necessary to get any members of 1924 into the Goodrich Hall tower after the splendid victory over Amherst, such was the lamentable state of affairs. We sincerely hope that this notice will suffice and that, in the event of future victories, the Freshmen will not be so ignorant or so lacking in enthusiasm as to require the efforts of a senior to make them ring out the joyful news.

Yours truly,
H. RADCLIFFE COAN 1921.

206th RECITAL HELD

Selections by Composers of Five Nations Form Program

Representative selections of English, French, Polish, Italian, and German composers will form the program of Mr. Salter's 206th Organ Recital, which will be given in Grace Hall next Wednesday afternoon, February 16, at 4.15 o'clock. All of the compositions are of the style of the modern school.

One of the most notable numbers on the program is La Sposalia by the great German musician, Franz Liszt. It is one of a group of seven pieces which were written from the impressions of the composer during his travels in Italy. Another very interesting selection is Fantaisie Rustique by the blind English organist, Wolstenholme. It is of a distinctly original character and it shows the deep poetic feeling of the composer to very good advantage.

The entire program is as follows:

1. Prelude—moderato maestoso
2. Toccata
3. Meditation—elegie
4. Marche solennelle Felix Borowski
Scherzo in G minor M. Enrico Bossi
La Sposalia Franz Liszt
Fantaisie Rustique W. Wolstenholme
Toccata from Symphonie V Charles M. Widor

IMPORTANT GAME OF SEASON WEDNESDAY

Purple Line-up Doubtful on Eve of Contest with Successful Army Quintet

Playing its first game away from home, Williams' basketball team will face the redoubtable West Point five on the latter's court at West Point, N. Y. at 3.00 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. The contest promises to be the most interesting of the year, for Williams has just struck its best stride and the Army has had a powerful and winning team ever since the opening of the season early in December.

The Purple will be handicapped chiefly by the size of the West Point floor, which is far larger than that on which the team has played its first five games. In order to accustom the men to a wide passing game Coach Shanahan held practice this afternoon on the court of the Drury High School in North Adams. The entire squad of 12 men were present, and had a chance to develop the open attack necessary to defeat West Point, and at the same time Coach Shanahan tried out various combinations of players, in order to benefit as fully as possible from the new supply of men who joined the squad at mid-years.

Wednesday's line-up will depend on the result of practice today. Captain Beckwith will probably start in his position of left forward, although Hyde may be substituted for him at any time, as in the game with Amherst. Blackmer and Wightman can both hold down the other forward position, permitting the substitution of one for the other. Johnston, who has displayed ability both at jumping and shooting, may receive the center assignment, so that Fargo can be used either as center or guard. It is probable that Wilson and Boynton will open the game in the guard positions.

After losing the three opening games of the season, Williams has steadily improved, defeating Stevens 23-21 and overcoming Amherst 34-21. Only two teams have met both the Purple and West Point, and on the basis of comparative scores the Cadets hold the advantage, having beaten Stevens 42-28, and having outplayed Wesleyan, who narrowly defeated Williams, by a score of 32-18.

The probable line-ups of the two teams follow:

WILLIAMS	WEST POINT
Beckwith, Hyde	L.F. Vichules
Blackmer, Wightman	R.F. French
Fargo, Johnston	C. Smythe
C. Boynton	L.G. Pfeiffer
Wilson	R.G. Kessler

Purple Hockey Team to Play Dartmouth

King's College septet, of Windsor, Nova Scotia, by a 5-2 score in a brilliant and hard-fought game, in which the excellent defensive work of the Hanover aggregation was notable. Dartmouth took a fierce contest from the strong M. A. C. team by a 3-2 score, two overtime periods being necessary to decide the issue. Boston College gave the Green a 4-0 beating, when the Dartmouth forwards found it impossible to pass Urban, all-American football star, at goal. The Dartmouth septet again bowed to Harvard by the one-sided score of 5-0, in a game in which the outcome seemed obvious from the start.

The probable line up of the two teams on Wednesday is as follows:

Williams		Dartmouth
Rowse	lw	Ross
Clark	rw	Sands
Becket	c	Perry
Stephenson	r	Rothschild
Buell	cp	Foster
Irwin	p	Dorney
Richmond	g	Neidlinger

Jack Coombs to Coach Baseball

Coombs pitched three of the five games that were played and won them all. This remarkable record has probably never been equalled in the entire history of professional baseball.

Active experience in coaching which Coombs gained with the Detroit team last year will doubtless be of great value to the Williams squad inasmuch as its most serious weakness is in this department.

Recommendations Announced

Williams Defeats

Amherst 34 to 21

for Williams. Hill and Lee added four points to the Amherst score, and Beekwith made his first tally for Williams, giving the Purple a margin of one basket. Snider and Blackmer each scored from the foul line and then Blackmer made his third basket. Palmer scored the last basket in the half. Score at half-time: Williams 13, Amherst 11.

Second Half

Amherst opened the half with a sharp rally and scored three baskets, two by Card and one by Nail who had been substituted for Hill at right forward. Williams then added eight points to the Purple score and regained the lead through baskets by Blackmer, Boynton and two by Hyde. Snider caged the ball on a difficult shot, Wilson scored for Williams, and Nail lowered the Purple lead to one basket. This marked the end of the scoring of the Purple and White aggregation, while the Williams quintet ran up 11 more points. Blackmer scored from the foul line, Hyde made a shot from scrimmage and Boynton caged the ball after clever passing with Wilson. Johnston was substituted for Fargo for Williams and Stewart for Lee, Wood for Snider and Seyler for Card on the Purple and White team. Boynton made another tally from scrimmage and Hyde ended the game by caging two attempts at the basket.

The complete summary follows:

WILLIAMS AMHERST
Beekwith, Captain, Hyde, I. f.

Blackmer, r. f. l. g. Snider, Wood
Fargo, Johnston, e. e. Lee, Stewart
C. Boynton, r. g. l. f. Card, Seyler
Wilson, l. g. r. f. Hill, Nail

Score, Williams 34, Amherst 21. Goals from floor, Hyde 5, C. Boynton 4, Blackmer 4, Card 3, Nail 2, Palmer 2, Beekwith, Fargo, Wilson, Hill, Lee, and Snider. Goals from fouls, Blackmer 2, Snider. Referee—C. C. Stewart. Timekeeper—A. Chapin. Scorers—H. M. Rounds for Williams and Soule for Amherst. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Billiard Champions Here

Under the auspices of the Williams Store, Willie Hoppe and Charles H. Peterson, world renowned billiard champions, gave exhibitions last Saturday afternoon and evening at the Opera House. Hoppe, who is acknowledged by all to be master of the art of billiards, ran 119 in the afternoon performance and displayed wonderful form during both exhibitions.

Peterson's part of the entertainment was devoted to demonstrating a number of trick shots, which he carried off almost without a hitch. He holds the reputation for being able to make any shot conceivable in billiards, and in his exhibitions he demonstrated many novel plays. A large audience witnessed both performances.

IMPROVED TEAM WILL MEET WESLEYAN AGAIN

Strength of Williams Basketball Quintet Increased Since Defeat by 20-15 Score

CLOSE GAME IS EXPECTED

Both Wesleyan and Purple Have Lost to Army—Scores Favor Purple

Williams will face Wesleyan in basketball for the second time this season tomorrow evening at 8.15 in Fayerweather gymnasium, Middletown. Although the Purple was beaten by a narrow margin in the first game, comparative scores since that time give Wesleyan no advantage, and the game promises to be one of the hardest of the season for both teams.

In the first Wesleyan game Williams was handicapped by the loss of Captain Beckwith, and the freshmen were not as yet eligible to play on the varsity. Notwithstanding this, the game was close throughout, the final score being 20-15. Since that time both teams have played Amherst and West Point.

Wesleyan beat Amherst in rather easy fashion by the score of 42-23, playing on Amherst's court. Williams beat Amherst in Williamstown by 34-21 score, in a game in which the Purple did not exhibit its best form until the second half. The comparison favors Wesleyan, but in this game Blackmer was playing for the first time and the resulting new combination was as yet inexperienced, and it was Captain Beckwith's first contest after his return from the infirmary.

Both Williams and Wesleyan played West Point at West Point, the former on February 16, the latter on February 27. West Point beat Wesleyan 32-18, when the Red and Black found themselves lost because of the size of the floor. The Army beat Williams by a score of 36-26, when the Purple was unable to get started in the first half, making no scores from the field. Williams staged a strong come-back in the second half, scoring 23 points in an exciting rally. In this period Blackmer and Captain Beckwith worked together well, and may be expected to do a large part of the scoring at Wesleyan.

In addition to the West Point and the Amherst games, Wesleyan has played Yale and Springfield College, losing the first game by a 28-20 score, and winning the second 30-21. In all the games thus far, Robertson, who made 10 out of 10 tries from the foul line in the Williams

DR. SEERLEY GIVES ANOTHER LECTURE

Dean of Springfield Y. M. C. A. Speaks on "Womanhood" in W. C. A. Meeting

Dr. F. M. Seerley of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College gave a second lecture under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association in Jesup Hall last Monday afternoon. The subject of the address was "Womanhood."

In his previous speech Dr. Seerley outlined the effects of the wrong kind of thinking on the sex problem, and presented a solution for its cure. In his lecture on Monday Dr. Seerley attacked the attitude of the present day towards women, emphasizing the fact that all womanhood is sacred by its very nature. The speaker derided a double standard for men and women, characterizing it as impossible. He maintained that the only way to understand womanhood was to study it intimately, and clearly presented the facts as facts, drawing few conclusions therefrom, and permitting the members of the audience to arrive at their own opinion. In conclusion Dr. Seerley again struck the keynote of his address with the sentence, "Sex is the most sacred thing in human life, and it must be thought of and treated as such."

Start Baseball Practice with Daily Battery Drill

Battery practice for the baseball team has been held in the cage every afternoon this week under the direction of Patton '21. The men have been given easy work-outs and slow pitching. Coach Coombes will arrive in Williamstown tomorrow and will start practice for the spring trip for the entire squad next Monday. Captain Finn is still in the infirmary and it is not certain when he will be able to join the squad.

SWIMMING TEAM WILL OPEN SCHEDULE TODAY

Amherst and Wesleyan Are Strong Opponents of Inexperienced Williams Team

Amherst and Wesleyan will be the opponents of the Purple swimming team in the first two meets of the year to be held this week on Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock at Amherst and on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at Middletown, Conn., respectively. To date Amherst has had an undefeated team with victories over Harvard, Springfield College, M. I. T. and Lehigh to its credit; and Wesleyan has defeated Harvard but has succumbed to M. I. T. and to Yale.

Both Amherst and Wesleyan seem to be particularly strong in the dashes when judged by their previous meets this year. In Capt. Whitecomb and Damon, Amherst seems to be well assured of points in these events and Williams, of Wesleyan, also seems to be a very consistent point winner. Two of the three letter men on the Purple team, Captain Fulle and Jones, are "plunge men" and Wilcox is the only other man with former experience on the team, so an accurate comparison cannot be made between Williams and her opponents.

The only basis for a comparison between Wesleyan and Amherst is the fact that Amherst defeated Harvard 43 to 10 and Wesleyan defeated Harvard 41 to 12 on January 22 and 21 respectively. On February 5 the Red and Black lost to M. I. T. by the score of 36 to 17, and on February 7 to Yale 47 to 7. The Blue and White, however, defeated Springfield on January 28 and M. I. T. on February 4 by very close scores. And on last Saturday Amherst defeated Lehigh by the overwhelming score of 41 to 12 in a meet in which Damon and Captain Whitecomb lowered all the sprint records for the Amherst tank. So it can be said that Friday will give approximately the hardest opposition of the season to Williams.

Under the direction of Captain Fulle the candidates for the Purple team have been practicing all week in the tank in the Lussell Gymnasium, and as a result the following men have been picked for the Amherst-Wesleyan trip: Captain Fulle, Luedke, Miller, Wilcox '22, S. Jones, Larkin, Webb '23, Olmsted, McKenzie, and Sanford '24. Aside from the three letter men, Captain Fulle, Jones, and Wilcox, not many of the men have had much experience; Miller and McKenzie, the respective winners of the novice meets last year and this year have been showing up very well in practice.

In both meets a list of six events has been decided upon as follows: plunge, dive, 40-yard swim, 100-yard swim, 220-yard swim, and a four man relay race.

College Awarded Honor Flag

Williams is the recipient of an honor flag presented by the Red Cross for the highest percentage of enrollments in the New England Division in the recent "fourth roll call" of the Red Cross. Williams secured an enrollment of 89% of the undergraduates as compared to Brown, the next in rank, with an enrollment of 80%. The banner now hangs in the lower corridor of Jesup Hall.

PROF. CLELAND GIVES TALK ON OIL PROBLEM

Speaks at Fifth Number of Tuesday Lecture Course on "Oil and Oil Investments"

Taking as his subject, "Oil and Oil Investments," Professor Cleland addressed the fifth number of the Tuesday lecture course in the Physics Laboratory last Tuesday afternoon. The speaker carefully described the formation of oil and the methods used by promoters to sell it.

Professor Cleland opened his lecture by giving illustrations of the letters sent out by the oil promoters, and he described the attitude of an even chance gamble with which most people view the oil companies. In reality, however, according to the speaker, the small oil company has only one chance in 100 or even in 1000 to succeed. Professor Cleland told about trips which he had taken in the oil regions and about the actual living conditions of the people who do the work. The oil worker is one of the most poorly treated and his conditions are of the worst kind.

Accumulations of oil occur, according to the speaker, in porous sand stone and lime stone, if the stone has been domed, and a hollow is present in which it can gather. The fluid settles according to specific gravity, water on the bottom oil next, and the gas on the top. But this domed arrangement of the stone is not easy to recognize for it is usually covered by a thick layer of soil or some other rock. The task of the oil geologist is to find these deposits, and the large companies employ many such to investigate possible wells. It is a possibility and frequently a probability, said Professor Cleland, to drill between two old wells and get to fail to strike oil in this new well, for the oil is not in a continuous stream, but lies in pockets. In addition to the wells discovered by the geologists, and the average one is found in this manner, deposits of oil may be discovered by accidental drilling, or the presence of the fluid may be shown by gas or by oil seeping out of the rock.

Oil pools are not of great size and frequently run dry in six months. 19,000 acres is considered a very large deposit. The large oil companies are able to make more profits from their produce because of pipe lines, tank cars and the other means of transportation which the smaller companies are unable to buy. This is another reason why the small organizations have such a slight chance for success. These smaller companies are of two kinds, the honest ones, which really believe in their project but which usually fail through lack of capital in employing geologists and in drilling, as the cost of drilling an oil well is about $60,000; and the dishonest ones, which generally "play safe,"

These positions were left vacant by the resignation from College of Henry P. Knight and George F. Perkins. At the same time, Frank Troutman Balke, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was elected to represent the Freshman class on the Honor System Committee.

FORUM HOLDS JOINT DEBATE ON SOCIALISM

Mr. Collins and Prof. Berenberg Speak For and Against Private Property Rights

Meeting in a lively and interesting joint debate last Monday evening under the auspices of the Forum, Professor David Berenberg of the Rand School of Social Science, and Mr. Peter Collins, well-known Knights of Columbus speaker, presented the arguments for and against the Socialistic regime. This is the first time that the Forum has staged a debate between outside speakers, and the innovation proved a notable success.

The affirmative side of the subject, "Resolved, that the economic program of socialism is superior to the present economic program," was supported by Professor Berenberg. In opening his address, he defined socialism as "public ownership and democratic control of the socially necessary industries." With this as a basis, he showed that it has already been found necessary for the government to regulate working conditions. Socialists assert that this movement should be extended to ownership. "Historically, private property is the result of bare-faced robbery or accumulative exploitation. The capitalist makes his profit by withholding from the workers part of the product of their labor. Thus the present system is an injustice to the working people." Overproduction and the economic breakdown in Europe are the results of the failure of a system which is based on the struggle for private gain. With the workers running industry the country would attain industrial as well as political democracy.

Speaking as a working man and the representative of labor unions, Mr. Collins attacked socialism from various angles charging that the soap box orator was trying to deceive the working man by the use of high sounding phrases. He denied that socialism was merely an economic program, declaring it really to be an insidious attempt to overthrow the existing government. Posing as a workingman's movement, it was, he showed, neither conceived nor supported by the laboring class, who realize the valuable service rendered by the capitalist. "The doctrine," he declared, "is a menace to civilization and democracy. Socialists do not believe in despotism, but Russia, the Socialist Republic, is the worst of all despotisms. Russia is socialist in action." Labor recognizes private property as a necessary and natural right. It believes that it must work in harmony with capital. The socialist, although deprecating class struggle secretly fosters it. Socialism is not the friend of labor, but its worst enemy, Mr. Collins asserted.

To Discuss Chapel Question

In place of the usual religious service, the weekly meeting of the W. C. A., which will be held on Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Auditorium, will be devoted to an open forum on the chapel question. President H. A. Garfield will preside over the meeting, and it is probable that both faculty and undergraduate speakers will address the audience.

BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATED BY ARMY

Varsity Is Unable to Equal Big Score Made by West Point during First Half

RALLY IN LAST PERIOD
MAKES SCORE 36 TO 26

Captain Beckwith Is Mainstay of Williams Attack—French and Bonnet Star for Cadets

West Point, N. Y., February 16—Playing its first game of the season away from home, the Williams basketball team lost to the Army here this afternoon by a score of 36-26. Handicapped by the large court, the Purple team failed to strike its stride until the second half, too late to overcome West Point's initial period lead of 18 points.

Captain Beckwith was the individual star for Williams, making nine points although he did not enter the game until the second half. Blackmer also played well, making the best record of the afternoon from the foul line. Williams' weakness on the defense was manifested in the opening half when the West Point forwards shot nine goals from the floor. For the Army, French and Bonnet were decidedly the stars, being responsible between them for 30 of the victors' 36 tallies.

In the first half Williams was lost on the large floor, trying for over half the period to get possession of the ball, while the opposing forwards scored repeatedly. Numerous fouls were called, but as French made good only eight out of 20 attempts and the Purple shooters dropped in the same number of free throws, neither side gained in this department. Bonnet and French did all the scoring for the Cadets in this period, the former with five field baskets and the latter with four from the field and three from foul, amounting in all to 21 points.

In the first few minutes Williams tried ineffectually to capture the ball, and the few shots attempted all went wide. Bonnet started West Point's whirlwind attack with two baskets, and French scored two more. Repeated fouls slowed up the game, but in the intervals of play the two Army forwards continued their effective work, French closing the period with two pretty goals. Williams' entire score at half time consisted of two foul goals by Wightman and one by Blackmer, who was substituted for Wightman near the close of the period.

ALUMNI REUNION TO BE HELD FEB. 25th

Annual Banquet Will be Given at Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City

Final arrangements have been made for the annual Midwinter Alumni Reunion which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City on Friday evening, February 25. Reports from the committees in charge indicate that the banquet will be attended by an unusually large number of graduates.

The notable feature of the program will be the presence of Bainbridge Colby '90 who will be the principal speaker of the evening. Judge Charles C. Nott '90 will act as toastmaster. Among the other speakers will be President Harry A. Garfield, Chester S. Lord, Managing Editor of the New York Sun, president of the Lotus Club, and son of the Rev. E. Lord '43, the oldest living graduate. An address will also be given by Major Stanley Washburn '01, who was a member of the Root Commission to Russia.

As usual, the silver reunion cup will be presented to the class having the best attendance. The cost of the dinner will be $7 for men graduated in or before 1910 and $5 for members of later classes.

And Concerning Chapel--

We again impress on the minds of our readers, and especially the Student Council, the fact that in about two weeks the Trustees will meet in New York. And again we recommend that the Student Council place before them a concise statement of the chapel situation, accompanied by definite requests for remedies to be applied in the near future. In this way and in no other shall we be able to secure action of any kind on a problem which requires immediate settlement.

In this connection we also call the undergraduates' attention to the W. C. A. meeting Sunday evening, when an open forum, under the direction of President Garfield, will be held on the chapel question. Several members of the faculty have already agreed to express their views on the subject, and it is to be hoped that every undergraduate who has an opinion on the matter will be present to air it.

Ineligibility Rules

At the same time that the chapel question comes before the Trustees they will have the opportunity to consider another grievance of the undergraduate body. At the present time the rules of ineligibility because of certain peculiarities of construction, work unfairness to all members of organizations who are forced to live up to their provisions.

Under the rules as they stand at present there are two periods during the semester at which a man may become ineligible, but there is only one time when he may regain his eligibility. At the beginning of each semester deficiency in scholastic standing makes a man ineligible for the entire semester. And, although he may be eligible at this time, he may again lose his standing at warning time if his rating is not of a certain quality. On the other hand, if he is ineligible at the beginning of the semester, he is not allowed the opportunity to become eligible at warning time.

This state of affairs is plainly unjust to all whom it affects. There seems no reason why it should not work both ways. If there are to be two periods during which ineligibility may be imposed, there should be the same number during which the undergraduate, by regaining a sufficiently high scholastic standing, may have the penalty removed.

The Record is heartily in sympathy with strict enforcement of scholastic requirements for participation in undergraduate activities, but believes that these rules should at least be equitable. The present inequality has no doubt, come about through the gradual development and frequent changes in the character of the rules, and was not deliberate on the part of the devisers. Nevertheless, this injustice exists at the present time and should, we believe, be removed.

This technical defect, for it is undoubtedly only that, will have to be presented to the Trustees clearly and in due form to command their consideration. We therefore present this matter to the Student Council and advise that it be included in any report they may make to the Board.

COLLEGE VOTES TO CHANGE ELECTIONS

Ratification of Constitution of Undergraduate School Committee Made

Ratification of the proposed change in the methods of holding class elections was made by the vote of the student body at a College meeting held in Jesup Hall last Tuesday evening. At the same time the constitution of the new Undergraduate Schools Committee was adopted and the European Relief drive was begun.

After the reading of the constitution of the Undergraduates Schools Committee, Joslyn '21 spoke briefly on the way in which the plan would operate. The six senior members of the Student Council will control all measures regarding policy and expenditures. Working in conjunction with them there will be a committee composed of the presidents of the various school clubs in order that they may offer suggestions of a local character. At least one and probably two deputations will be sent each year to the more prominent schools, and literature concerning the College will be distributed. The purpose of the organization is not to increase the number of men coming to College, but to encourage the best man graduating from the schools to come to Williams.

Following the adoption of this constitution the matter of changing the procedure in class elections was brought up. One amendment to the plan as previously published in the Record was made and accepted. This was to the effect that the decision as to the success or failure of the plan should not be left to the No-Deal Committee to make in June of this year, but should be placed before the student body at a College meeting previous to the first football game next October.

Bullock '21 opened the drive for subscriptions to the European Relief Fund by giving the statistics on the number of children orphaned by the war who are today starving to death. He appealed to every one who could afford it to give five dollars "and every one else, whether he could afford it or not, to give two dollars." Subscription cards were distributed at the various fraternities and eating houses yesterday where men have been appointed to have them filled out and collect the money pledged.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the Mountains.

DR. FOSBROKE HERE

Dean of General Theological Seminary to Preach

Dean Hughell E. Fosbroke, D.D., of the General Theological Seminary, Chelsea Square, New York City, will conduct the morning service in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday. Dr. Fosbroke has preached at Williams several times in past years.

An Englishman by birth, Dr. Fosbroke studied for two years at Harvard University, and has spent most of his time as a school teacher. He was ordained into the Protestant Episcopal ministry, and on February 1, 1917 became Dean of the General Theological Seminary, a position he has held uninterruptedly since that time. Inasmuch as Dr. Fosbroke will be unable to remain, the weekly meeting of the Williams Christian Association has been cancelled.

game, has excelled with his foul shooting and shooting from the floor.

After losing the first three games of the season, Williams has steadily improved, defeating Stevens 23-21, overcoming Amherst 34-21, and losing to West Point only after a strong fight in the second half. The team was much strengthened by the acquisition of the freshmen players after midyears, and Coach Shanahan may start any one of several combinations in the Wesleyan game.

The probable lineup of the two teams for Saturday night is as follows:

Williams		Wesleyan
Beckwith,	l.f.	Robertson
Hyde
Blackmer,	r.f.	Robison
Wightman
Fargo,	c	Hartman
Johnston
C. Boynton	l.g.	Hosdowich

but which are organized for dishonest purposes.

Wells become dry in a short time, from six months to three years, or possibly longer, and, according to the speaker, the average production in the United States for one year was four and a half barrels of oil for every well. The future of the oil industry is evident. All the present oil reserves will be exhausted within the next 20 years at the most. But oil is being produced here from oil shale, stones which give oil and which cannot be exhausted. Some of these shale rocks produce one or two barrels of oil for each ton treated, others do not yield as much, and the most profitable ones run as high as 200 barrels for each ton of shale. The shale contains a gum which, when heated, produces gasoline and kerosene and allied products. In the future, according to Professor Cleland, people will receive circulars from oil companies producing oil from this shale, and many will lose their money as they have in oil wells. Professor Cleland concluded his lecture by reading ten reasons why the stock of small oil companies should not be bought.

TO PLAY WEST POINT*Undeclared Hockey Team To Oppose Cadets Tomorrow

With a record of four victories out of four games played, the varsity hockey team will oppose the West Point septet at 2.00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at West Point. On account of the unfavorable weather conditions no practice has been held this week, and it may be necessary to call off this game on short notice as in the case of that scheduled with Dartmouth on last Wednesday.

In the practice and games played up to the time when both were necessarily discontinued, the Purple skaters showed marked progress in both offensive and defensive play. Becket '22 has shown up well in the former department, and Captain Irwin '21, Buell '22, and Richmond '23 have made up a formidable defensive combination.

The men who will make the trip to West Point are Capt. Irwin, Brucker '21, Becket, Buell, Rowse '22, Clark, Mackie, Richmond '23, and Stephenson '24.

Carnival to Be Held at Vermont

Representatives from the Williams winter carnival which will be held on Monday, and Tuesday, February 21 and 22, at the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vt. Intercollegiate winter sports will be held on the afternoons of both days, and in addition there will be an alumni reunion for graduates of the University.

Interclass Relay Captains

Class relay captains have been chosen, as already announced, for the annual interclass relay which will be held next Friday and Saturday, February 25 and 26, at 4.15 o'clock on the board track. Crofts
'21, Richmond '22, Stowers '23, and Etheridge '24 will lead the teams of their respective classes, but no announcement has been made of the teams.

Hockey Game Cancelled

Owing to a sudden thaw and the resultant poor ice the hockey management was forced to cancel the Dartmouth hockey game which was to be played in Williamstown last Wednesday afternoon.

At the urging of Mr. Herbert Hoover for the colleges in America to aid in the campaign for the relief of 3,500,000 starving children in Europe Harvard has opened a drive, of a week's duration, which will be under the direction of chairmen in each of the four classes. Mr. Hoover states in his message that there are 100,000 college students in Europe who are in great want. $1,000,000 is needed, he says, to relieve their wants.

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Plans for Senior Class Book Nearing Completion

Royal purple and gold will be the colors for the cover of the Senior Class book, according to the decision reached at a meeting of the Class Book Committee last Tuesday evening. Questionnaires will be sent out this week to all members of 1921, who are requested to return their replies as soon as possible. Photographs of seniors must be in before March 1 if they are to be included in the book. Men who have not seen Kinsman about their photographs should do so at once. No radical changes will be made in this year's book which will contain between 175 and 200 pages. It was not decided to whom the book will be dedicated.

Application for admission to the University of Pennsylvania in February, at the beginning of the new semester, have been more numerous than ever. The facilities of the College, the Wharton School, and the School of Education are already overtaxed. As there will be only a comparatively small number of men who will leave at mid-years, it will be necessary to turn down a great many applicants.

Jackson L. Cannell '19, the captain and quarterback of the Dartmouth varsity eleven during his senior year, has been appointed as coach of the Green and White team for the 1921 season. Cannell is probably the youngest mentor of any who have been connected with the elevens of large colleges, but he has had eight years playing experience, one of which was when he played on the team of the First Naval District, during the war.

Established 1851

WILLIAM P. RUDD

President of the Board of Trustees

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

The annual circular, giving full information, may be had on application to the Registrar.

Basketball Team

Defeated by Army

The tables were completely reversed in the second half, with West Point on the defensive and Williams holding the upper hand throughout. Captain Beckwith went in for Hyde and Johnston took Fargo's place. Beckwith carried the ball down the floor consistently and caged four baskets, some of them on long shots. Blackmer and Johnston each succeeded in tallying twice, and the former completed four out of six tries from the penalty line. The scoring of the Purple was completed by Wilson, who put up a powerful defense in this period. Although Williams amassed 23 points against 15 for West Point in the second half, the previous lead was too great to surmount.

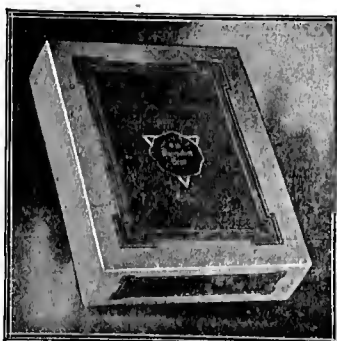

The first scoring of the second half resulted from a free throw by French, but Johnson quickly retaliated with Williams' first basket from the floor. Beckwith then caged a shot from mid-court and Blackmer continued the attack from under the basket. After another tally by Beckwith, Smythe and Bonnett scored for the Cadets. Williams' final rally, consisting of fouls by Blackmer and field goals by Johnston, Wilson, Beckwith and Blackmer proved insufficient to pull down West Point's lead, and the game.

The summary of the game follows:

Williams	West Point
Hyde, Beckwith	1 f. Bonnett
Wightman,	r. f. French
Blackmer
Fargo, Johnston	c. Stork, Whitson
Wilson	l. g. Lawson, Smythe
C. Boynton	r. g. Kessler

Score—Williams, 26; West Point, 36.
Field baskets—Beckwith 4, Blackmer 2, Johnston 2, Wilson 1; Bonnett 7, French 6, Smythe 1. Foul goals—Hyde 1, Beckwith 1, Wightman 2, Blackmer 4; French 8. Time of periods—20 minutes.
Referee—Thorpe. Umpire—Mooney.

The following schedule for the football season of 1921 has been approved by the Student Council of Amherst College:

SWIMMERS DEFEATED IN TWO DUAL MEETS

Inexperienced Williams Team Is Unable to Take Lead in Important Events

JONES SCORES TEN POINTS

Purple Plunger Establishes New Record for Wesleyan Natatorium

On its first trip of the year, the Williams swimming team fell before both Amherst and Wesleyan last Friday and Saturday. The Purple and White was an easy victor in the Pratt Natatorium by a score of 37-16, but Wesleyan triumphed in a closer meet the following afternoon in the Fayerweather Gymnasium, Middletown, Conn., the score standing 33-20.

In spite of the dual defeat, the work of the team was encouraging. Hampered by lack of practice and sufficient coaching, and by the weakness of Captain Fulle owing to a protracted stay in the hospital just before the trip, Williams nevertheless was a dangerous contender, winning unexpected victories in several events. The work of Jones was the feature of the trip, for he not only won the plunge in both contests, but broke the Wesleyan tank record by going 60 feet in 25 seconds. His plunge of 72 feet at Amherst was the longest made there in many years. Miller and McKenzie were the only other men to win a first place for Williams, the former capturing the 100-yard dash at Amherst, and the latter carrying off the 40-yard dash against Wesleyan.

Amherst had no difficulty in winning by a 37-16 score on Friday evening, taking first place in every event except the plunge and the 100-yard dash. The Purple and White relay team won handsily in 1 minute, 47 3-5 seconds. Webb took second place for the Purple in the fancy dive. Williams won the 100-yard dash in 1 minute, 3 1-5 seconds, Miller taking first and Larkin third. Jones won the plunge in sensational style, but Captain Fulle was in no condition and failed to place. Olmsted, who placed third in the 220-yard swim, and McKenzie, who was third in the 50-yard dash, completed the scoring for the visitors.

The summary of the meet follows:
Relay race—won by Amherst (Spear, Whitecomb, Barker, and Dannon); 1 minute, 47 3-5 seconds.

Fancy dive—won by Dwer (A); second, Webb (W); third, Bailey (A).

207th ORGAN RECITAL

Selections By American Musicians Will Predominate

Selections from American composers will feature the two hundred and seventh organ recital to be given by Mr. Salter in Grace Hall next Wednesday at 4.15 o'clock. Of the eight musicians, all but two, Edward Alexander MacDowell and I. V. Flagler, are still living.

"The Garden of Iram" by R. Spaulding Sloughton, the Worcester, Mass., composer, is the middle movement of a Persian suite in which Oriental color is portrayed. The work was inspired by "The Rubaiyat" of Omar Khayyam, Iram being a garden planted by King Shaddad and now sunk somewhere in Arabia. "Variations on an American Air" by I. V. Flagler is based on "The Old Folks at Home" by Stephen Foster which has become an American classic as a folk-song.

The complete program is as follows:
Overture in B minor James H. Rogers
Improvisation, from Suite in D Arthur Foote

The Garden of Iram

R. Spaulding Sloughton

Will o' the Wisp

Gordon Balch Nevins

The Swan

To a Water-Lily

Baseball Coach to Begin Regular Practice Monday

All candidates for the baseball team will be called out one week from today, when regular practice for the coming season will begin. Jack Coombs, the new coach, is unable to leave for Williamstown until after February 23, but will probably arrive here sometime during the latter part of this week. Battery practice will continue throughout this week in the cage, under the direction of Captain Finn.

FAST ROCHESTER FIVE TO FACE PURPLE HERE

New York Team Has Won Five Of Ten Contests—Last Home Game of Season

In the eighth game of the season the varsity basketball team will face the University of Rochester live in Lasell Gymnasium at 8.00 o'clock next Thursday evening. The visitors have not yet played any of the same opponents as the Purple so that no direct statement can be made concerning the comparative strength of the two teams, but since Rochester has won half of ten games played while Williams was victorious in only two out of seven the advantage would seem to lie with the former quintet.

In two contests with R. P. I. the Rochester team won and lost one, and divided honors with Hamilton also. Besides these two victories and two defeats the varsity's opponents next Thursday have won from Dartmouth, Hobart and Clarkson Institute of Technology, and were defeated by Yale, Syracuse, and Union. Both Wesleyan and Amherst are on their schedule but they do not play these two teams until later in the season.

Rochester's strongest asset is its defensive game. Captain Merson at right guard and W. Green at left are easily the two most brilliant players on the visiting team while F. Green at left forward has done most of the scoring.

In the game next Thursday the Williams line-up will probably be the same as it has been during the last two contests. Captain Beekwith and Wightman will start in the two forward positions, and Wilson and Boynton will guard with Fargo opening the game at center. During the contest Hyde, Blackmer, and Johnson will possibly go in as substitutes at center and the two forward positions. The line-ups of the two teams as they will face each other next Thursday follows:

Williams		Rochester
Beekwith (Capt.)	lf	F. Green
Wightman	rf	Chambers
Fargo	c	Bartlett
Wilson	lg	W. Green
Boynton	rg	Metson (Capt.)

Phi Beta Kappa Elects Six Men in Class of 1921

Six seniors were elected to membership in the Williams chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at a meeting of the society held last Saturday, completing the quota of men from the class of 1921. Including the seven men elected last year, Coan, Dunn, Kent, Schlesinger, Scott, Searles, and C. L. Taylor '21, the active chapter now consists of 12 men, since W. H. Noble graduated from College last June.

The new members are as follows:

PURPLE DEFEATS WEST POINT IN SLOW GAME

Clark Scores Deciding Goal In Overtime Contest—Fifth Straight Victory

West Point, N. Y., February 19—Continuing its unbroken record of victories, the Williams hockey team defeated West Point by the score of 3 to 2 in an overtime game this afternoon on the Lusk Reservoir. This latest success makes the fifth which the thus far undefeated Purple septet has won this season.

On account of the warm weather and the consequent poor condition of the ice, team work was impossible and the game resolved largely into a contest of individual play. Shush, however, prevented either team from carrying the puck down the rink, as well as making passing utterly impossible.

In the opening period Williams started with a rush carrying the puck immediately into the Army territory and threatening their goal. Within the first minute of play Clark scored on a short shot which goal tender Kastner was unable to stop. Later in the same half, O'Shea scored the first goal for West Point.

Although the same ragged play which marked the first half persisted, Williams had decidedly the better of the later part of the game keeping the puck consistently near the Army goal and taking the lead when Rowse scored. West Point tied the score near the close of the game and it was necessary to play two extra periods of five minutes each. In the last two minutes of play Clark shot the third goal winning the game for Williams.

The line-up of both teams follows:

Army		Williams
Michelet	rw	Rowse
O'Shea	r	Beckett
Marinelli	c	Stevenson
Grant	lw	Clark
O'Connell	rd	Irwin
Stout	ld	Buell
Kastner	g	Richmond

Goals—For Williams, Clark (2), Rowse. For Army, O'Shea (2). Substitutions—Williams, Mackey for Richmond. Army, Vandenberg for Michelet, Stephens for Grant. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Next Issue of Purple Cow Will Appear Soon

Containing an average amount of illustrations and literary material the February issue of the Purple Cow will be ready for distribution in about two weeks. The cover is by Hurley '23, and long prose articles have been contributed by H. M. Montgomery and Wallace '22. Shorter articles of this kind are by Stanley '21, Cobb '22, Britton, Hilton, and Romaine '23. Becket '22, Byers, Hurley, and Muschenheim '23 have made most of the drawings.

UNDERTAKE TO RAISE HOOVER RELIEF QUOTA

Faculty and Undergraduates Canvassed for Subscriptions To National Drive

Pledge cards have been distributed to the various fraternities and eating houses during the past week in connection with the drive now being conducted by the European Relief Council of the European Relief Fund of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, in an effort to collect $33,000,000 in America. The Williams Committee which has charge of the raising of the money in the College is composed of Richardson, Secor '22 and Bennett '23.

Men have been appointed to take charge of the distribution of the pledge cards at the different houses and the collecting of the pledges. The pledge cards are due today and the money must be handed in by March 5, according to the committee. Thus far, $197.44 has been collected and it is impossible to estimate how much has been pledged.

This drive is being conducted in all the other colleges, and Williams is late in starting. Wesleyan has collected $1400 in this connection, and it is urgent that the Williams quota be collected as soon as possible. In addition to the appeal to the undergraduates, letters have been sent to the faculty asking for contributions.

Of the $33,000,000 which the national committee expects to collect, $23,000,000 will be spent on food for the needy children of Europe and $10,000,000 on medicine, doctors, etc. The children to be helped have been divided into four classes according to their degree of starvation, the fourth or last class is practically starving to death and will receive assistance first. When they are raised to the third class, the committee hopes to raise this entire group to the level of the second division and hence until all are well fed. All the children of Europe from which the future Continental state will be formed are included in this movement.

To Lecture on Socialism

Professor Doughty will speak on the subject "Some Socialistic Fallacies" in the sixth number of the Tuesday Lecture Course tomorrow afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory.

Relay Team Will Oppose Brown and Northeastern

Williams will oppose Brown and Northeastern in a one-mile relay race tomorrow afternoon in the American Legion Track Meet at the East Amory, Boston. Although Williams easily defeated Brown in the Boston Athletic Association relay on February 5, the Brown team has been considerably strengthened and Williams is but slightly the favorite. Northeastern University defeated Boston University in a dual relay several weeks ago, but there has been no opportunity of comparing them with Williams.

As a result of the time trials held Saturday afternoon, Coddington, Crofts, Kellogg '21, and Richmond '22, with Mendes '22 as alternate, were selected to represent the Purple in the relay. P. Phillips '22 was chosen to compete in the 50-yard high hurdles and in the 50-yard dash.

SECOND GAME WON BY RED AND BLACK

Purple Outscores Wesleyan From Floor—Robertson Wins Game With 15 Foul Baskets

BLACKMER IS HIGHEST SCORER FOR WILLIAMS

Final Score is 29-25—Outcome Uncertain After Williams Cuts Down Big Lead

Middletown, Conn., February 19—Williams lost the second game of the season with Wesleyan to the Red and Black quintet here this evening in the Fayerweather gymnasium, by the score of 29 to 25 largely through the accurate shooting of Robertson, left forward for the home five, who made good fifteen out of seventeen tries from the foul line besides scoring two baskets from the floor. The game throughout was a very fast one and the outcome was doubtful to the last.

Wesleyan opened the game with a flourish getting a substantial lead before the Purple quintet got started, but by the end of the first period the score was evened up to a one point lead, 16 to 15 in favor of Wesleyan. In the second half Williams forged ahead for a time until the score stood 25 to 22 and then a basket by Hartman and two fouls by Robertson turned the tables. With three minutes left to play Wesleyan thus gained a twopoint lead making the score 27 to 25. The Purple players seemed unable to break through the Red and Black defense and just before the finish Robertson cinched the result with another basket from the floor.

Taken as a whole the teams were very evenly matched as Williams scored nine baskets from the floor as compared to seven made by Wesleyan. As in the previous game Robertson was the individual star with nineteen points to his credit, while Hartman and Hoshowich each made four of the points for the Red and Black. For Williams Blackmer was the heaviest scorer with a total of 15 points, seven fouls and four goals from the floor. For the first time since his nervous breakdown Captain Beekwith was able to play for practically the entire game and he added another six points to the Purple score with three field goals to his credit. Wilson also scored two baskets from the floor and showed up particularly well by his guarding.

The game was characterized by its fast playing and the fact that during the last (Continued on page 2, column 2)

Vol. 34 February 21, 1921 No. 59

The arrival of Coach Coombs during the coming week should bring joy to the hearts of every baseball enthusiast in the undergraduate body, for his selection as mentor of this season's nine presages, we believe, a successful year. His wide experience, both as player and coach, and especially his ability in the pitching department of the game cannot but accomplish much toward turning out a good team this spring.

Public Opinion

It may be said of the W. C. A. meeting yesterday evening that the opinions expressed on the chapel questions were so many and varied that it was impossible to accurately determine the sentiment of the undergraduate body, or to draw any definite conclusions. It is true that the opinions were varied and often conflicting, but they had one point in common. With one or two exceptions they were all based on the fact that the present chapel service is unsatisfactory, and that steps should be taken to effect improvement.

This universal feeling of dissatisfaction has at least the significance that adverse criticism of the chapel system is not restricted to a few men, but is shared by the majority of undergraduates. Moreover, sentiment on the whole was directed not toward the abolishment of required chapel, but toward the improvement of the service. The Record believes that this improvement can be made through the application of remedies which have many times been suggested in these columns, namely, an increased number of cuts, one service on Sunday, chapel later in the day, and a new form of service.

Last evening's meeting does not prove the validity of these remedies; that can be done conclusively only by experiment. But it has, we repeat, this value: It gives tangible evidence that the present chapel system is considered by the student body a failure, that it is not fulfilling its function in developing the undergraduate's spiritual life. And this sentiment was expressed with such strength and such conviction that it must not be disregarded.

Will the Trustees take action on February 25?

Debate Trials to Be Held

Trials for the team which will debate Colgate on March 18 will take place at 4.00 p. m. on Monday, February 28th, in Jesup Hall. Men who desire to try out for the team should hand their names to Hall '21 as soon as possible. The subject for the debate will be: "Resolved: That the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines, constitutionality conceded." Each speaker will be allowed five minutes in which to present his argument. The necessary material has been placed in the Lawrence Hall library.

Sophomores to Vote on Managership Candidates

For the purpose of nominating five candidates for the second assistant managership of football, and six candidates for the second assistant managerships of swimming and hockey, from the lists of men in these two competitions, the Sophomore class will meet at 7.30 o'clock on Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall. At a later time the College body will vote on the names of these nominees.

The recommendations in football as announced by Manager Dana in the order of merit are as follows: Group I—Ward, Wightman, Britton, Bowen, Clark, Anderson; Group II—Stowers, Partington, Dowd, Campbell, Romaine. The hockey and swimming recommendations have not as yet been made.

Second Game Won by Red and Black

part both teams seemed to rely on long shots for their scoring as their respective defenses tightened up. Robertson and Hartman showed up very well in this respect. The feature of the game, however, was a basket made by Captain Beckwith from three-quarters of the length of the floor in the first half. In the second half J. Kellogg was substituted for Beckwith for a time, putting three freshman on the floor for the Purple at the same time.

A summary of the game and the line-ups of the two teams are as follows:

Williams	Wesleyan
Beckwith, J. Kellogg l.f.	Robertson
Blackmer r.f.	Robison
Johnston c.	Hartman
Wilson l.g.	Hosdowich
C. Boynton r.g.	King

Final score: Wesleyan 29, Williams 25. Goals from the floor: Wesleyan—Robertson 2, Robison 2, Hartman 2, Hosdowich; Williams—Blackmer 4, Beckwith 3, Wilson 2. Goals from fouls: Wesleyan—Robertson 15 out of 17; Williams—Blackmer 7 out of 10. Referee, Dr. Time-keeper, W. Burger. Time of periods, 20 minutes.

Swimmers Defeated in Two Dual Meets

50-yard dash—won by Damon (A); second, Barker (A); third, McKenzie (W); time, 25 seconds.

220-yard swim—won by Whitecomb (A); second, Reed (A); third, Olmsted (W); time, 2 minutes, 47 seconds.

Plunge—won by Jones (W); second, Henry (A); third, Davis (A); distance, 72 feet.

100-yard dash—won by Miller (W); second, Myers (A); third, Larkin (W); time, 1 minute, 3 1-5 seconds.

Wesleyan had a much harder time defeating the Purple on Saturday afternoon. Had Williams won the relay race the decision would have been reversed, but the Red and Black swimmers managed to nose out the Purple quartet by a scant two yards, giving them a lead that was never threatened, and establishing a new record for the 160-yard course. Jones again furnished the sensation by breaking the pool record in the plunge, covering the 60-foot distance in 25 seconds. Captain Williams of Wesleyan broke the pool record in the 220-yard swim, established by himself two years ago, by 1-5 second. McKenzie sprang a surprise by running away with the 40-yard dash, leading Sanford of Williams who finished second. Olmsted made a better showing in the 220-yard swim than on the previous night, finishing second in this event. Williams' remaining points were scored by Webb, who again took second in the fancy dive, and Larkin, who once more finished third in the 100-yard swim.

The summary of the meet follows:
Relay race—won by Wesleyan (Hannan, Sutherland, Berrien, Williams); time, 1 minute, 24 1-5 seconds.

Fancy dive—won by Morgan (Wes); second, Webb (W); third, Foster (Wes). 40-yard dash—won by McKenzie (W); second, Sanford (W); third, Hannan (Wes); time, 21 3-5 seconds.

220-yard swim—won by Williams (Wes); second, Olmsted (W); third, Johnson (Wes); time, 2 minutes, 48 1-5 seconds.

Plunge—won by Jones (W); second, Southwick (Wes); third, Cibbud (Wes); distance, 65 feet; time, 25 seconds.

100-yard dash—won by Williams (Wes); second, Berrien (Wes); third, Larkin (W); time, 1 minute, 1 1-5 seconds.

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

"CHAPEL QUESTION" SUBJECT OF MEETING

Suggestions for Improvement are Made by Both Faculty and Undergraduates

Widely varied discussion on the chapel question was brought forth at the open forum on the subject held last evening in place of the regular meeting of the W. C. A. The gathering was attended by many members of the faculty, and alumni and undergraduate bodies.

President Garfield, who presided over the discussion, in the opening address emphasized the necessity of religion in college life as being a fundamental principle of democracy. Dr. Garfield expressed keen regret at the general criticism of the form of service, and said that the great need of the college was for more reverence and more prayer in the deepest sense of the terms. He denied the possibility of obtaining a college pastor capable of instilling variety into daily chapel services, and stated that the attitude of the student must be coordinate with the spirit of the service.

Thexton '21 said that chapel, in its present state, failed to develop religion and spiritual life, thus supporting the statements of Wyckoff '14 on the subject. The latter also claimed that after continual attendance on daily chapel, a man is most likely to be 'fed up on religion.'

Schlesinger '21 deplored the existence of compulsory chapel, stating that men needed to do religious duties on their own initiative. Moody '21 cited the rule of the college requiring regular and reverent attendance on the part of all members of the faculty and students, and concluded that the small attendance of the faculty at morning service was adequate proof of the poor quality of the exercises. Dana, '11 an alumnus, asked to what use the additional cuts, if more be allowed, would be applied. He supported 'alarm-clock religion' as a means of obtaining community spirit. He declared that voluntary chapel was out of the question, since it had failed to work successfully in other colleges.

Atwell '21 claimed that the attitude of freshmen was good until they noticed the general attitude of members of the other classes, and then all changed to conform to the usual state of indifference. Dena Howes deplored the spirit of the college in leaving classes when the instructor failed to arrive within five minutes of the hour, and the overwhelming vote of the college for 7.50 chapel. He also questioned the use of time ordinarily devoted to chapel, if more cuts were allowed. Professor Long stated that he personally would be willing to try chapel at a later hour if he thought that an improvement could be accomplished.

Wagner '20 advocated a four minute talk at each service, and several plans were offered, with minor changes, for the improvement of the service.

President Garfield, in the closing address said that all suggestions offered would receive careful consideration. He added that the question of improvement in the quality of services would be especially considered.

The Franklin Simon Men's Exhibit Postponed Till March 16th For Your Benefit

In order to get and give the full benefit of changed market conditions in the cost of all items of men's apparel, we have purposely postponed our formal exhibit to College Men until March 16th.

It would have meant more business to us to have held the Exhibit immediately.

But it will mean more business to us in the long run to put your pocket before ours. The postponement is for your benefit and we recommend you to Wait!!

COUNCIL TO PRESENT CHAPEL SUGGESTIONS

To Recommend Services Later in Day and Changed Eligibility Rules to Trustees

ALUMNI REUNION TONIGHT

Will Take Place at Waldorf-As-toria—Trustees Will Meet
This Afternoon

Ufford '21 will present recommendations of the Student Council on the Chapel question at the meeting of the Board of College Trustees which will be held this afternoon at the Williams Club. At the same time he will tender an additional petition for a change in the rules for athletic eligibility.

This action was authorized at a meeting of the Student Council last Monday evening when that body suggested that the time of holding daily chapel services should be changed from 7.50 o'clock to 9.45 or 10.00 o'clock in the morning, and that the number of Sunday chapel cuts should be increased to four. Further recommendation was made that men should be allowed to become eligible as well as ineligible at the time when warnings are issued and that an advisory committee of the Trustees be appointed to act with the Student Council. Committee reports and routine business will also be brought before the Trustees.

In the evening the annual reunion dinner for Williams men will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria under the auspices of the Williams Club. This event promises to be a success unequalled in recent years.

President Max B. Berking '02, of the Williams Club, is chairman of a general committee of about one hundred and fifty representative men from the various classes which has charge of the banquet. Elaborate preparations have been made for one of the best and largest reunions Williams has ever had and a large number of the undergraduates and the faculty are expected to be present. Committees on Arrangements, Program and Decorations have been active for some time and the stage has been set for a most entertaining evening.

Bainbridge Colby '90 will be the principal speaker, and Judge Charles C. Nott '90 will act as toastmaster. President Harry A. Garfield, Major Stanley Washburn '01, a member of the Root Commission to Russia, and Chester S. Lord, Managing Editor of the New York Sun, president of the Lotus Club and son of Rev. Edward Lord, the oldest living graduate of the College, will be among the other speakers of the evening.

CANDIDATES CALLED

Baseball Squad Will Report Monday—Coach Expected Soon

Candidates for the varsity baseball team will report to Captain Finn '21 on Monday afternoon. As yet it is not known definitely when Coach Coombs will arrive in town, but he is expected in the course of the next few days.

For the last two weeks battery practice has been held in the cage under the direction of Captain Finn and Patton '21. At present there are twelve candidates for pitcher and four or five for catcher. Although the work thus far has been of a light nature, several men are already showing good form. Holmes '23, a member of last year's nine, is rounding into shape and is at present the most promising pitcher. Patton '21, a veteran of three seasons, is also showing up well. Among the freshmen, Pease is doing good work. In the catching department, R. H. Smith '23 appears second to Captain Finn who will regularly fill the position behind the plate.

Hardie ex-'22 has accepted a position with the Guarantee Trust Company, of New York City.

Purple Cow Will Hold Annual Election Tuesday

Election of two freshmen competitors to the board, and of members of the present Junior Board to the positions of editor-in-chief, exchange editor, and art editor will take place at a meeting of the Purple Cow staff in Jesup Hall next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. At the same time material for the March issue, the last to be published by the 1921 board, will be considered.

HOOVER DINNER TO BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY

Students and Townspeople Will Attend Banquet for Relief Fund

In connection with the nation-wide drive which is now being conducted by the European Relief Council for the European Relief Fund, a Hoover dinner will be held in Lasell gymnasium on Tuesday, March 1. President Garfield is the chairman of a large committee of arrangements, which includes representatives from the churches of Williamstown, the college faculty, and the undergraduate body.

The dinner will be a typical "Hoover dinner," like those held throughout the country for the benefit of the same fund. At such dinners only the regular relief "ration" is served—a bowl of rice, three ounces of bread, and a cup of cocoa—so that the diners may realize the actual food conditions in starving Europe and China. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover have been invited to be present, and will be in Williamstown for the event if possible.

The price of tickets for this dinner will be only fifty cents. These tickets will be placed on sale in practically all the stores of Williamstown, or may be purchased at the door. All receipts from the sale of tickets and at the door will be evenly divided between the European Relief Fund and the Chinese Famine Fund. These funds are devoted to feeding the starving children of Europe and China. All additional contributions, over and above the door and ticket receipts, will also be evenly divided as specified unless the contributor indicates a preference, in which case the contribution will go towards the fund indicated.

WILLIAMS IS SECOND IN TRIANGULAR RACE

Holy Cross Wins by Four Yards in Fast Time—Advantage
Lost by Fall

Boston, Mass., Feb. 22—Williams took second place in the relay race between Boston University, Holy Cross, and Williams, held here this afternoon as part of the American Legion annual games. Despite an unlucky fall on the part of Coddling, the first Purple runner, the Williams team was bested by but a scant four yards at the tape, Holy Cross winning in the fast time of 2 minutes and 56 seconds.

In addition to the relay team Williams was represented by Kellogg '21 and P. Phillips '22 in individual events, the 880-yard run and the 40-yard high hurdles respectively. Kellogg started with a fairly large handicap in the largest field entered in any event of the day, more than 50 men lining up for the start. By the fourth lap he had attained fourth place, but on rounding the last corner was forced off of the track and thus disqualified. Phillips was likewise unsuccessful in the 40-yard high hurdles, failing even to place in a fast heat won by Frank Loomis of Chicago, world's champion in the 440-yard hurdles.

Holy Cross drew the pole in the relay race, Williams being forced to take the outside position. In spite of this disadvantage of position Coddling took the lead for Williams at the first corner and held it until the last corner where his rubber soled shoes slipped on the board track and caused his fall. Although he recovered himself promptly, Mullen of Holy Cross was able to hand over to the next man an 8-yard advantage.

Kellogg, the second runner for the Purple, about held his own, failing to gain on the Holy Cross runner, but maintaining a safe lead over the Boston University entrant who trailed throughout the race. Crofts, running against the Holy Cross captain and New England 880-yard champion, King, was likewise unable to decrease the 8-yard handicap he had received from Kellogg, and handed over the baton to Richmond, the Purple anchor man, with approximately the same distance to make up. The final race between Dignam, the crack Holy Cross quarter-miler, and Richmond was the best event of the race, the latter man making up four yards in a desperate final spurt which brought him to within a scant four yards of victory. Boston University finished a poor third, some 35 yards behind.

Freshman Game with Sheffield High Cancelled

Owing to the inability of the visiting team to arrive in time for an afternoon contest, the basketball game between the Freshmen quintet and the team of the Sheffield High School scheduled for last Thursday afternoon in Lasell Gymnasium was cancelled.

HOCKEY TEAM MEETS DARTMOUTH TOMORROW

Williams Team Will Attempt to Close Undefeated Season Against Green

Williams will face Dartmouth in the fifth hockey game of the season tomorrow at Hanover in the second scheduled game between the two colleges, the first having been cancelled because of poor ice. The Purple has a clear record thus far, with four straight victories to its credit, but Dartmouth is probably the most formidable opponent on this year's schedule, and the fastest contest of the season should result.

Both Dartmouth and Williams have defeated the Amherst team, the former in the opening game of the year by the score of 4-2 and the latter by the scores of 2-1 and 3-0. On the other hand, the Dartmouth team has lost to Boston College 4-0 and to Harvard 5-0 in one-sided games. In addition to the Amherst victory they have won from King's College, 5-2, and from M. A. C., by a 3-2 score, two overtime periods being necessary to decide the issue in the latter game. Because of poor ice a game with Yale was cancelled in the middle of the second period without either having scored.

The continued improvement of the Purple team with an easy victory over Columbia makes the outlook very promising in spite of the fact that the game is being played on a strange rink.

The line-up of the two teams will probably be as follows:

Williams		Dartmouth
Rowse	lw	Ross
Clark	rw	Sands
Becket	c	Perry
Stephenson	r	Rothschild
Buell	cp	Foster
Irwin	p	Dorney
Richmond	g	Neidlinger

INTRAMURAL SERIES BEGINS TOMORROW

Sixteen Teams Divided into Two Leagues are to Contend for Silver Cup

Play in both leagues of the intramural basketball series will begin tomorrow afternoon with four games in Lasell Gymnasium. Each team will be charged an entrance fee of $1.50 to defray the expense of a silver cup which will be presented to the winner by the Basketball Association.

As in previous years any undergraduate who has not won the varsity insignia in basketball will be eligible to take part in the games. All contests in League A will take place on Saturdays between 2.00 and 4.00 o'clock, and between 4.00 and 5.00 o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays. League B games will come on Saturdays from 4.00 until 6.00 o'clock, and between 5.00 and 6.00 o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays.

The Leagues each consisting of eight teams, have been made up as follows: League A—Beta Theta Pi, Commons Club, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon, Sigma Phi, and Zeta Psi; League B—Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon, Delta Psi, Faculty, Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Delta Theta.

No games have been scheduled between tomorrow and next Saturday. Tomorrow's schedule is as follows: 2.00 o'clock—Beta Theta Pi vs. Commons Club and Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Gamma Delta; 3.00 o'clock—Delta Psi vs. Theta Delta Chi and Delta Upsilon vs. Faculty.

RAGGED GAME WON BY PURPLE 28-18

Rochester Five Falls Behind in First Half and Is Unable to Cut Down Lead

BLACKMER AND CAPTAIN
BECKWITH LEAD SCORING

Varsity Holds Advantage of Superior Passing and Teamwork Throughout

After gaining a substantial lead early in the contest the varsity basketball team defeated the University of Rochester five in the Lasell Gymnasium last night by a 28 to 18 score. The play was ragged on both sides during the greater part of the game, although the advantage of superior passing and team-work rested decidedly with the Purple.

In the first half minute of play Wilson scored the first goal of the game, and the ball remained most of the time during the first few minutes in Rochester territory. Blackmer and Johnston both scored baskets from the floor and the former dropped in a goal from the foul line before F. Green made the first count for the visiting team. At this point the pace quickened somewhat with the Purple completely outplaying Rochester. After the latter's second goal, made by Bartlett, Boynton, Beckwith and Wilson each scored in quick succession, giving the varsity a safe lead which was never endangered by the opposing team. Beckwith's second goal and Merzon's long shot were the only other tallies during the first period, making the score at half time 15 to 6 in favor of the Purple.

Williams increased her lead at the beginning of the second half when both Beckwith and Blackmer scored, but after two substitutions Rochester rallied and made six points before the varsity was able to count again. After this flash, however, both teams slackened their pace considerably and the play was frequently interrupted by the referee's whistle. The game ended with the score 28 to 18 in favor of the varsity.

Captain Beckwith and Blackmer starred for the varsity, while Bartlett and Merzon did the most effective work for the losing team. Besides making four baskets from the floor, Blackmer gained four points from the foul line, making him high scorer for the game. Beckwith and Bartlett

DR. FITCH TO PREACH

Popular Amherst Professor Will Occupy Pulpit Sunday

Albert Parker Fitch, D.D., Professor of the History of Religion and Biblical Literature at Amherst, will conduct the morning service in the Chapel next Sunday, February 27. Dr. Fitch is well known to all Williams men and is considered to be one of the most popular of the preachers who come before the undergraduate body each year.

Graduating from Harvard University in 1900, Dr. Fitch entered the Union Theological Seminary, and in 1903 received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from that institution. He was also ordained to the Congregational ministry during the same year. His first pastorate was at Flushing, L. I., where he stayed until 1905, when he was called to the Mount Vernon Church in Boston. In 1909 Dr. Fitch was elected President of the Andover Theological Seminary, a position which he held until he was called to Amherst in 1918, to fill the professorship which he now occupies. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Amherst in 1909, and from Williams in 1914. He is the author of: The College Course and the Preparation for Life; Can the Church Survive in the Changing Order?; and Religion and the Undergraduate.

News Editor This Issue—J. K. Blitz

Vol. 34 February 25, 1921 No. 60

In order to allay the fears of any of our readers who may have feared that the heinous crime of infinitive splitting which was committed in these columns in the last issue points to a degradation of the condition of THE RECORD we hasten to assure them that the error was entirely typographical, and is not a further indication of the decadence of the youthful generation.

The Hoover Dinner

The Hoover dinner to be held next week hardly needs to be recommended to the attention of the College. It is a worthy endeavor to assist in a valuable cause, and should certainly receive the support of all concerned. The majority of eating houses have already agreed not to serve dinner Tuesday evening, and it is to be expected that all the others will take similar action.

Today's Decision

The College will undoubtedly await eagerly the news of the Trustee's action on the recommendations of the Student Council to be presented to them today by Ufford '21. With the decision of the Council in regard to the chapel question THE RECORD is heartily in accord. The changing of the time of the service will obviate, we believe, the necessity of an increase in daily cuts, and will at the same time perform the function of a larger number of cuts in remedying the present situation.

Last year's vote, the opinions expressed at last Sunday's W. C. A. meeting, and finally this action on the part of the Student Council, all point to the fact that this question is one in which no group of individuals, but a large majority of the student body is vitally interested. The recommendation of the Council requests action on a problem which vexes not merely that body, but every Williams undergraduate. In view of this fact, we sincerely hope that the Trustees will not ignore the situation. By doing so they will be doing an injustice to every man who is earnestly seeking a solution of the present difficulty. It is impossible to foretell what their decision will be, but in any case it is earnestly to be desired that they will give the facts of the case their careful and unprejudiced consideration.

The Student Council's inclusion in their recommendation of the change in eligibility rules suggested in these columns is also of importance, although it affects a smaller number of men. We look for favorable action on this point, since it appears to be little more than a technical defect which needed to be called to the attention of those in authority.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Williams RECORD—Sir:—

It is a self-evident fact that it is an impossibility for the Library to carry on a just administration of reserve books without the cooperation of the student body. That carelessness and irresponsibility on the part of borrowers amount to a not inconsiderable item in postal notices annually, is an unimportant matter in comparison with the inconvenience caused to students and the irritation of an apparently inefficient system.

A book is placed on reserve with the intention that it will be available for general use during all hours of the day. The student who fails to return a reserve book when the Library opens in the morning is cheating a fellow student of his fair share of the use of that particular book.

All students must be acquainted with the current regulation, "A reserve book may be withdrawn at 10.00 o'clock, and becomes due at 8.00 o'clock the following morning." That this regulation may be effectively carried out, it has been considered necessary to inaugurate a penalty, "Any student failing to return a reserve book at 8.00 o'clock will forfeit his privilege of drawing a reserve book out overnight for the period of one month from that date."

Christine Price,
Librarian in Charge

ATTACKS SOCIALISTIC FALLACIES IN LECTURE

Professor Doughty Assails Doctrines of Marx and Spargo in Tuesday Course

"Socialistic Fallacies" was the subject of a paper by Professor Doughty in the sixth number of the Tuesday Lecture Series on last Tuesday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. The socialistic theories and doctrines as set forth by Marx and Spargo, both eminent authorities on socialism, were the object of Professor Doughty's attack, and by analysis and practical applications many of the assertions of these men were shown to be false and without justification.

Professor Doughty opened his lecture by stating Marx's doctrine that Labor alone produces wealth. By employing specific examples, it was shown that this doctrine can be true only under frontier or pioneer conditions; that everywhere else it must necessarily be false, since capital is also essential to the production of wealth. Since this fact is true, Labor, although it is entitled to the full value of the product of its own labor, is not entitled to the full value of the product of the industry, since it is not the sole element but a cooperator in the production. Therefore, Professor Doughty pointed out, since Labor should not feel itself justified in demanding more than the value of the product of its labor, it is not entitled to the difference between the value of its product and the value of the product of the industry, which difference, on this basis of division, belongs to the owners of the capital involved. For these reasons Labor can base no claim to the product of the industry after it has received its own just compensation, because the necessary capital would not be present if there were no prospect of material reward for its services.

In the second part of his lecture, Professor Doughty opposed Spargo's theory that there are no absolute property rights. According to Mr. Spargo all property, however personal it may seem to the average individual, is in reality common and may be claimed by whomever so desires. He bases these claims on the fact that a railroad corporation, for instance, has the power to take possession of personal property for the extension of its lines when adequate compensation is made to the original owner, although that owner may be opposed to the transaction. But, Professor Doughty pointed out, in this case the step is taken for the common good of all people; but the socialist's claims on the other hand promote only his own personal interests.

'COW' BOARD TO CLASH WITH RECORD STAFF

Basketball Game Promises to be Brilliant and Spectacular Event

One of the biggest and most spectacular events of this year's brilliant athletic season will be presented to the public gaze in Lasell Gymnasium Thursday afternoon, March 3, at 4.15 o'clock, when a basketball game will be staged between the members of the Purple Cow Board and the editorial staff of THE RECORD. The exact line-up of the quintets has not been made public, but it has been definitely agreed that any man holding membership on both boards, will be allowed to play on one side only. The reason for this is obvious.

Popular betting favors the athletic erities because of their closer and more or less intimate connection with the pastime, but not a few undergraduates and members of the faculty are willing to uphold even to the extent of their wads, the "awkward but willing" humorists, trusting in their lack of knowledge of the finer points of the game. In order to prevent the use of ringers, all men elected to the board of either of these popular publications after the printing of this notice will be prohibited from playing, but it is rumored that both sides are dickering for the services of a certain well known town character. The referee is expected to be an active member of the "Lit" board, and the timekeeper will belong to the Deutscher Verein. The scorekeeper will be the president of the Poetry Circle. It is urged that members of the Varsity attend the game in preparation for future contests. The faculty will attend in force to see the chapel agitators in action.

Prof. Fitch to Speak to W.C.A.

Prof. Albert Parker Fitch, of Amherst College, will speak on the subject of "Religion and Morality" at the weekly meeting of the Williams Christian Association at 7.30 o'clock next Sunday evening in Jesup Hall. Dr. Fitch has repeatedly proved himself one of the most popular preachers and talkers to visit Williams, and he had notable success in treating the same subject he is to discuss in two recent talks at Brown University.

The meeting will be run in the usual manner, allowing the speaker a half hour, after which any of the audience may write out questions on slips of paper, which Dr. Fitch will answer informally. Dr. Fitch's long experience as a teacher of theology at Amherst and his winning personality give promise of an interesting meeting.

'Graphic' Competition Open

All freshmen and sophomores desiring to enter the second competition for the photographic board of the Graphic will meet in the Graphic office in Jesup Hall next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. This competition will last until June and will not affect the standings of men already out for the photographic board. All competitors of both competitions are to be present at the time mentioned above.

WILL HOLD CARNIVAL

McGill, Winner at Dartmouth, to be Host—Williams Entered

Six men left last night for Montreal to represent Williams in the annual winter carnival of McGill University, which will be held today and tomorrow. The team was picked as a result of the trials held last Tuesday under the auspices of the Outing Club.

Schlesinger '21 was the largest individual scorer in the trials, with 11 points to his credit, and Baker '21 was second with eight. Other point-winners and the number of points scored were as follows: Elliot '22, Greene '23, six; Jones '21, five; W. S. Crosby '23, four; Rowse '22, three; Preston, Dunn '22, one.

Williams will be represented by a team composed of Baker, Brucker, Jones, Schlesinger '21, Elliot '22, and Greene '23. These men have been entered in events as follows: ski relay race—Brucker, Elliot, Greene, and Schlesinger; ski dash—Elliot and Greene; snowshoe dash and cross-country—Baker and Jones; ski obstacle race—Elliot and Greene; ski cross-country—Elliot, Greene, and Schlesinger; ski-jumping and proficiency contests—Brucker and Schlesinger.

McGill recently won the Dartmouth Winter Carnival, defeating the team of the host college, 37-25. In this festival, Williams scored one point, when Greene '23, a member of the team which is representing the Purple at McGill, placed third in the obstacle ski-race.

Coughlin '21 has resigned from College. L. Bryant Freeman '21 has been appointed assistant in the Department of Chemistry according to an announcement of the Dean's office.

Signing Your Name

WHEN you sign your name on a hotel register

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Hoover Dinner to be Held Next Tuesday

The expenses of the dinner are to be borne by private subscription. Mrs. Reuther has provided the rice and cocoa, the College donates the Gymnasium and all table arrangements, and other necessities have likewise been given. The several clergymen of the town are co-operating in every way. Mrs. French will donate a series of posters, which will be on exhibition and for sale at various places in the village.

The undergraduate body will assist in every way possible. All fraternities are expected to suspend dinner on that night, urging their members to attend the banquet. The music will be furnished by Coleman's orchestra, and a quartet composed of Noble '21, Chapman, Lewis, and Richmond '22 will sing. A call for volunteer waiters will be made at some nearby date to assist in serving the dinner. The announcement of the result of the college campaign to raise money for the Hoover Relief Fund will be made at this time.

Mr. Dana, a member of the New York Committee for European Relief, was present at the meeting of the committee on Monday, and through him the dinner will be provided with a speaker from the New York National Committee.

The committee has made the following statement: "Every member of the entire community is urged to be present at this community affair. Although many have already contributed to the two funds, this occasion will serve to symbolize our interest in the enterprise, to make us realize the situation abroad, and to increase our community interest in affairs at home."

The following persons make up President's committee, and may be consulted for details of the affair:

General Chairman, President Garfield; Clerical group: Father Teahan, Father Potvin, the Rev. R. H. Washburne, the Rev. W. S. Boardman, the Rev. Mr. MacMaster, the Rev. J. F. Carter; Ladies' group: Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Droppers, Mrs. French, Mrs. Carter; Student group: Jarrett '21, Richardson '22, Bennett '23; Table Committee: Messrs. Hoyt and Smedley; Publicity Committee: Dr. Adriance, Postmaster Dempsey, Messrs. Mears, Rice, J. R. Smith, W. B. Clark, and A. H. Lisklider.

BROWN TEAM IS NEXT SWIMMING OPPONENT

Small Chance of Victory Against Team Undeclared Through Two Seasons

With but slight chances for a victory, the swimming team will meet the Brown University men tomorrow evening in the Colgate-Hoyt Pool, Providence, R. I., in the third meet of the season. For the past two seasons the Brown team has not tasted defeat.

Williams has been handicapped all season by lack of facilities for practice, and consequently was no match for Amherst and Wesleyan, who defeated the Purple swimmers last week by scores of 37-16 and 33-20 respectively. Brown is recognized as one of the strongest teams in the country, and has included among its victims this year Harvard, Springfield, M. I. T., Wesleyan and Dartmouth. Against Wesleyan, the Brunonians piled up a score of 40-13, taking first place in every event.

D. H. Jones, a freshman, is the individual star of the Brown team. He has broken the Providence pool record in the 50 and 100-yard dashes, doing them in 25.2-5 and 57 seconds respectively, and has hung up consistently good records in the 220-yard swim. Captain FitzGibbon has been a steady point-winner in the 50-yard dash and the 220-yard swim, and Whitehouse has taken first place in diving in nearly every meet.

The same men will make the trip that swim against Amherst and Wesleyan. The entries for the different events will probably be as follows:

Relay: McKenzie, Miller, Luedeke, Sanford (W); Adams, Almy, Whitehouse, FitzGibbon (B).

50-yard dash: McKenzie, Sanford (W); Adams, FitzGibbon (B).

100-yard dash: Miller, Larkin (W); Jones, Staples (B).

Dive: Webb, Rounds (W); Dawson, Whitehouse (B).

220-yard swim: Olmsted, Wilcox (W); Jones, FitzGibbon, Johnstone (B).

Plunge: Fuller, Jones (W); Perkins, Gorman (B).

AMERICANS FEATURED

Foreign Composers Absent From 207th Recital Program

Playing a program consisting entirely of the works of American composers, Mr. Sumner Salter gave his 207th weekly organ recital in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon. With two exceptions only the selections were all by men who are living today.

An "Overture in B minor" by James H. Rogers, the first number, was mellow in some places and helter-skelter in others, but withal, interesting. "The Garden of Iram" was especially charming, and the feeling of the mysticism of the Orient which was at all times present, gave testimony to the genius of the composer.

MaeDowell's "To a Water Lily" was undoubtedly the most widely known number. Its true melodic charm and the feeling of primitive nature both of which are so characteristic of the composer, were very well interpreted. "Echo Bells" by Brewer was most beautiful, and the harmony of the bells with the main theme produced an effect which can be portrayed only by the organ. The last number was a series of varying accompaniments to the old southern melody, "The Old Folks at Home," arranged by Flagler. It was very interesting and tuneful.

The program was as follows:
Overture in B minor James H. Rogers
Improvisation, from Suite in D

The Garden of Iram R. S. Stoughton
Will o' the Wisp Gordon B. Nevin
The Swan Charles A. Stebbins
To a Water Lily Edward A. MaeDowell
Echo Bells John H. Brewer
Variations on an American Air I. V. Flagler

Choose Chorus for Smoker

Barton, Foster, and Keek '24; show girls—Brigham '22, Bloedel, McGrath '23, Barker, Canby, and Hunter '24; chorus men—Brandeis, Buxton, S. T. Coleman '22, Eaton, Hoek and Partington '23. Members of the east have not yet been chosen. The performance probably will be held on April 29 in the Jesup Hall Auditorium.

College Body Will Vote for Assistant Managers

Balloting for the election of second assistant managers of football, hockey and swimming will take place next Wednesday, March 2, in Jesup Hall. Five men were nominated from the list of recommendations for the former position at a meeting of the Sophomore Class in Jesup Hall last Wednesday evening, and at the same time six candidates for the two minor manager-ships were named.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the football election will become Second Assistant Football Manager, and the winner in the other election will have his choice of either the hockey or the swimming managership, the alternate position going to the candidate with the second highest number of votes.

The names of the candidates, in the order of merit as published by the respective managements and approved by the class of 1923, are as follows: Football—Ward, Wightman, Britton, Clark, Partington; Hockey and swimming—Mosher, Byers, Simmons, Cornwall, Stowers, Quaintance.

COLLEGE NOTE

Write-ups for all seniors for the 1921 Senior Class Book must be turned in to the editors by March 10 if they are to appear in the issue. The write-ups should include a brief and personal resume of the personal characteristics and college activities of the man and should be written by some friend who can qualify as an accurate historian.

Prizes Offered for Essays

Three prizes amounting to $2,000 have been offered by the Francis D. Pollak Foundation for Economic Research for the best essay handed in before December 31, 1921, on any one of the following subjects: "Causes of Unemployment and Remedies," "The Part Money Plays in Economic Theory," and "Conditions Which Determine How Much the Consumer Gets for His Dollar." Competition for the first prize of $1000 is open to any one, but the second and third prizes will be awarded only to college or high school undergraduates. W. B. Donham, of Harvard, Irving Fisher, of Yale and W. C. Mitchell, of the National Bureau of Economic Research will be the judges. Further information may be had from Dr. W. T. Foster, Newton 58, Mass.

Circulation Is Increased

According to recent estimations made by the business department of the Graphic, the circulation of that publication has already nearly trebled that of its predecessor, the Literary Monthly, with a total of almost 600 subscriptions. More than 3000 letters have been sent to alumni all over the country, urging them to subscribe and many of the alumni associations have sent subscriptions to preparatory schools in their vicinity following the precedent set by the Alumni Association of Cincinnati in sending the Graphic to seven neighboring schools.

Due to the conflict with the Rochester basketball game, the meeting of Pipe and Quill has been postponed from last night until next Monday evening.

THOMAS GREEN TO SPEAK AT DINNER

Hoover 'Banquet' for Relief Fund to be Held in Gymnasium Tomorrow Evening

LARGE ATTENDANCE OF STUDENTS IS EXPECTED

Regular Ration of Rice, Bread, and Cocoa to be Served for 50 Cents

With every prospect of a large attendance and interesting speeches, the Hoover dinner, which will be held tomorrow evening at 6.30 o'clock in the Lasell Gymnasium, promises to be an unqualified success. On account of the illness of President Garfield, Professor Maxey will preside at the event.

The principal address of the evening will be made by Dr. Thomas Green, director of the Speakers' Bureau of the European Relief Council. He will appear as spokesman of the nationwide campaign in the place of Mr. Herbert Hoover, who the local committee at first hoped would be able to attend. Dr. Green is a writer and speaker of wide reputation, having been a special lecturer for such organizations as the American Peace Society, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the Army Y. M. C. A., and the American Red Cross. He was also pastor of several important western churches, when actively engaged in the ministry, and is an associate editor of Hampton's Magazine. He has written several books on war subjects. Among his numerous works are The War Trust, The Burden of the Nations, and War Facts and Peace. He was also a delegate to the American Peace Conference in 1910.

Other speakers will include the Rev. Joseph H. Twichell of North Adams, who served during the War as chaplain of the 303 Field Artillery on the St. Mihiel front. He will speak on "Our Obligations." Dr. Vanderpool Adriance will make a plea for the "Starving Children." In discussing "Williams-in-China" Noble '21, President of the W. C. A. will make the opening address. (Continued on page 3, column 4)

'RECORD' AND SPORTIVE 'COW' WILL LOCK HORNS

Myriads Expect to Witness Mammoth Struggle Between Wit and Beauty

Strict training has been ordered for the players of both the Cow and the Record basketball teams in preparation for the athletic classic of the winter season which will be presented to the admiring public in Lasell Gymnasium at 4.15 o'clock on Thursday. It is a matter of conjecture whether the College authorities will allow either of the quintets to establish a training table, or what kind of insignia will be awarded the participants in the contest.

Distinguishing uniforms will be worn by the members of the two teams. The art department of the Cow will design the costumes of the humorists, which are expected to show a varied and astonishing grace, unique in composition and startling in their color combinations. The uniforms of the Record board will be more uniform and will be determined strictly by precedent in truly Record style. A quartered cow's head will embellish the breasts of the followers of Her Ladyship, with horns rampant. The Record cheering section will be seated in the center bleacher under the motto: "Verity and Precedent." When the Record five emerges upon the floor, this section will rise and sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" as adapted from the original Finnish of Handle. Due to the impossibility of discovering an active member of the Lit board, an effort will be made to have Hank Mann himself referee the contest.

COACH "JACK" COOMBS

COACH COOMBS BEGINS DAILY BASEBALL DRILL

Famous Pitcher Will Direct Nine Throughout Difficult 1921 Season

Following the arrival of John W. Coombs, former big-league pitcher and coach for the 1921 season, all candidates for the baseball team were called out for the first regular practice this afternoon. Battery drill under the direction of Captain Finn has been held during the past two weeks.

In spite of the adverse weather conditions which will probably prevent much outdoor practice before the spring recess and the difficult schedule, Coombs is optimistic for the final outcome of the season. As soon as possible a division into squads will be made so that the limited area of the cage may be used to the best advantage. In this way the coach hopes to be able to give the individual attention to members of the nine necessary in preparation for the Southern trip when six games will be played.

Active on the diamond for many years, Coombs has contributed greatly to the success of several teams. During the ten years, 1905 to 1915, he was one of the star pitchers for the Philadelphia Athletics, and during his last years with that team he was in large part responsible for the success of the World's Champion team for the three consecutive years, 1909, 1910, and 1911. In 1910 when the Athletics were contesting the championship of the world with the Chicago Cubs, he won all three games in which he pitched, a record that is not known to have been equalled. Subsequently he has played with the Brooklyn Nationals and coached the pitching staff of the Detroit Americans.

In addition to his service with big-league teams, Coombs has also had experience with college teams. During the years when he was a student at Colby University, from which he graduated, he was a varsity pitcher of unusual ability and drew the attention of "Connie Mack." For one season he served as coach for another college nine, the Rice Institute, Huston, Texas. His exceptional ability in directing this team through a successful season makes the prospects most favorable for the difficult schedule ahead of the Purple.

Dr. Licklider to Give Talk

In connection with the world-wide celebration of the 100th anniversary of the death of John Keats, Dr. A. H. Licklider will deliver the regular Tuesday lecture tomorrow afternoon in the Physics Laboratory upon the subject, "Making Literature Safe for Democracy," dwelling considerably upon the ideas of Keats. To accommodate those who wish to attend the Hoover Dinner the lecture will begin at 4.15 instead of 4.30.

SEPTET LOSES LAST CONTEST OF SEASON

Dartmouth Administers First Defeat to Purple Hockey Team by Score of 6 to 4

BOWER'S WORK FEATURES

Makes Three Goals for Green and Skates Brilliantly—Richmond Stars at Goal

In the last game of the season Williams was defeated by the Dartmouth hockey team at Hanover last Saturday afternoon by the score of 6-4. Up to this time the Purple septet had maintained a victorious record but prospects for a championship team were blasted by last Saturday's game.

Bower, at cover point for Dartmouth, was the individual star of the game scoring three goals and being conspicuous at all times by virtue of his skating ability which was greatly favored by the good ice and long narrow Hanover rink. Captain Rothschild at center, also showed up very well for Dartmouth with two goals to his credit. For Williams Richmond was the individual star by reason of his brilliant work in guarding the Purple goal. Captain Irwin and Becket also showed very dependable work throughout the game.

At the beginning of the first period the advantage seemed to be with Dartmouth because of the well planned attack worked up as the result of good coaching. The puck was kept down near the Purple goal the greater part of the time and only the quick work of Richmond held the score down. The first goal was made by Captain Rothschild, of Dartmouth, and this was closely followed by another made by Bower, also of Dartmouth. Towards the end of the period the first Purple tally was made by Clark, bringing the score to 2-1.

In the second period the Williams defense began to break up the attack which had bothered it at the beginning of the game and goals were scored by Bower, Becket, and Stephenson, bringing the score to a 3-3 tie at the end of the period. The teams seemed very evenly matched in the last period and for a time no score was made. (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Competition Opens

The competition for the position of 2nd Assistant Business Manager of the Record will commence next Friday. All those wishing to enter the competition, or interested in learning its details will report in the Record Business Office at 7.30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The competition is one which gives particularly good experience to all wishing to enter a future business life. It is urged that men with or without talent try out. The position once secured entails considerable responsibility and, if properly handled, financial remuneration. Men earning their way through College can therefore make the position an agreeable means of assistance.

INTERCLASS RELAYS ARE WON BY JUNIORS

Championship Taken for Second Successive Year by Fast 1922 Class Team

For the second successive year the 1922 relay team captured the interclass championship title on the board track last Saturday afternoon by defeating the Sophomore team. On the previous afternoon 1922 had defeated 1921 and 1923 had won from 1924 in the upper and underclass races.

Individual brilliancy was displayed in all the races, but the Juniors had a better balanced quartet than the Sophomores. Mendes opened up a good lead for his team in both races, and the sprinting of Richmond, who ran as anchor-man, left no doubt as to the outcome. Stowers did some pretty running for the Sophomores, winning his first race by a splendid burst of speed, and barely failing to overtake Richmond in the last lap of Saturday's race. The four teams lined up as follows: 1921—Coddling, Coan, Kellogg, Crofts (captain); 1922—Mendes, Wolfe, P. Phillips, Richmond (captain); 1923—Olmsted, Fasse, Webb, Brown, Stowers (captain); 1924—Dodge, Wishard, Swan, Etheridge (captain).

In the opening race on Friday between the Sophomores and Freshmen, the outcome was in doubt until the last lap, when Stowers cut down Etheridge's slight lead and sprinted in 15 yards ahead of the freshman leader. Olmsted led at the start, but Wishard, running second for the losers, closed the gap and permitted Swan to establish a lead which was maintained until the final sprint by Stowers.

The result of the second race was never in doubt as Coddling slipped and fell on the first lap, giving Mendes a lead of 25 yards. The seniors tried desperately to reduce this distance, but even Crofts' final effort was insufficient, and Richmond was an easy winner.

The championship race on Saturday was close, with the advantage resting throughout with 1922. Mendes drew away from Olmsted, leading him by 8 yards at the exchange of batons. Fasse cut down the lead to a few yards, but Phillips had no trouble in outdistancing Brown, the third runner, giving the junior anchor man a handy lead. Stowers pressed Richmond hard on the last lap, but the latter had more reserve power and sprinted away from his rival at the finish. Each man ran two and a half laps making the total distance 1463 yards. The time was 3 minutes, 4 seconds.

Chapel Situation to be Investigated—Plan to Create Director of Athletics

BANQUET HAS RECORD

ATTENDANCE OF 1,000

Colby Urges That College Remain Small—Judge Nott Acts as Toastmaster

New York City, Feb. 25—Definite action on the chapel question was promised at the annual winter meeting of the Board of Trustees held this afternoon at the Williams Club in the appointment of a committee for the purpose of investigating this and allied matters affecting the undergraduate body. This committee will make a report to the Board at the May 30 meeting, at which time it is expected that steps will be taken to bring about a solution of the difficulty in regard to chapel services.

At the same time two new members were elected to the Board to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of the late Winthrop Murray Crane and Francis Lynde Stetson, and provision was made for the establishment of a Director of Athletics. This officer will have charge of Cole Field, the Outing Club, physical examinations, and all related matters.

Judge C. C. Nott '90 acted as toastmaster at the Alumni Banquet which was held this evening at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and which probably set a new record for attendance at 1,000. The Silver Reminon Cup for the class having the best attendance based on the percentage of the class present and the distance traveled by each man, was awarded by Francis S. Hutchins '00 to the class of 1869.

PRINCETON COUNCIL MAY URGE DISMISSAL

Granted Extraordinary Judicial Powers—Great Stride for Student Government

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 27—In granting last week to the senior council of Princeton University, which is the student governing board, the power to recommend the dismissal from the University of any man proved by it to be hurting the good name or the moral tone of Princeton, the faculty of this institution took what is thought to be the greatest stride toward student self-government ever tried by an American university of the first rank.

The decision of the faculty provides that the senior council need furnish no evidence to justify its action to the faculty, but shall give a fair trial to any man accused of conduct or actions detrimental to Princeton morals or prestige. A three-quarters majority of the council, which consists of fifteen men, is necessary to convict, and a convicted man has the right of appeal to the discipline committee of the faculty.

The new disciplinary functions of the senior council arose from the success of the honor system at Princeton, under which cases of cheating in examinations have been practically eradicated in the 28 years of its existence. It has been found that the punishments meted out by the undergraduate honor system committee have been more severe than penalties imposed by the faculty, and for this reason the faculty had no hesitation in granting to the undergraduates the responsibility of keeping Princeton morals and the good name of Princeton intact.

We call to the attention of the members of 1924 the opportunity offered in the competition for the Business Managership of the Record which opens this week. This competition stands almost in a class by itself in the particular training it offers to the college man who intends after graduation to enter business. It requires close application and a large amount of intensive effort but the reward is correspondingly great. The financial remuneration should prove another inconsiderable attraction to the man who needs money to complete his college education, and the experience he will derive from the work will undoubtedly be of value to him in business life.

Mutual Understanding

In spite of the fact that nothing was done to settle immediately the Chapel Difficulty the promise of definite action on the part of the Trustees should at least be a cause for hope to all those who earnestly seek a solution of the problem.

We had considered that the necessity of alteration in the present system had been definitely enough presented to obviate the necessity of further investigation, but it is easy to understand the Trustees' desire fully to understand the situation for themselves.

If the committee appointed for this purpose is to accomplish anything really worth while, however, it will be necessary for them to have the cooperation of all those interested, and to take advantage of the cooperation to make a sympathetic study of conditions. If they can do this they may be able to accomplish more than merely solve the Chapel difficulty.

They may be able to set up a new system of coordination of the effort of the undergraduate and the authorities in regard to all matters affecting the College. We have always considered it lamentable that there should exist between the undergraduate and the faculty or the undergraduate and the Trustees, any spirit of antagonism. There is no reason for its existence. Trustees, faculty, undergraduates—all are working for the same end, the betterment of Williams, and it is due only to misunderstanding that conflict arises. On the part of the student body this takes the form of dilatation against what they consider a tyrannical attitude on the part of those in authority, on the part of the latter it consists of an attitude of intolerance in regard to undergraduate ideas. The result is that when a disciplinary measure is imposed the student body becomes immediately indignant without considering the reasons underlying its establishment. Similarly, when the student body makes a request, the authorities discount in advance the value of a suggestion emanating from what they consider such an unintelligent source.

Both of these attitudes are unnatural and unnecessary. And the predicament which results is detrimental to every improvement in conditions which may be suggested by either group.

We know of nothing more desirable than the establishment of a more sympathetic attitude between the undergraduate and the man in authority. If the committee appointed to investigate the chapel situation can contribute anything towards building up such a sentiment of mutual understanding, they will have accomplished something which will be far-reaching in its result.

BROWN SWIMMING TEAM VICTORIOUS

Williams Tank Men Overwhelmed by Score of 44-9 in Pool at Providence

Providence, R. I., Feb. 26—In the third meet of the season, the Brown swimming team overwhelmed Williams here this evening by the score of 44 to 9. The defeat, however, was largely to be expected as Brown has one of the fastest teams in the country and has gone through two seasons without a defeat.

The outstanding feature of the meet was the work of Jones who won the 100-yard dash for Brown in the fast time of 56 3-5 seconds, thus breaking the tank record and bettering the intercollegiate mark of last year by one-fifth of a second. In winning the only first place for Williams in the plunge, Jones '23 gave a pretty exhibition easily outclassing his opponents and making a distance of 70 feet as compared with 64 feet planged by Gorman for Brown. Miller, Olmsted, Sanford and Webb with a third place each scored the only other points for Williams.

The summary of the meet follows:
50-yard dash—won by Adams (B); second, Whitehouse (B); third, Sanford (W); time 26 1-5 seconds.

100-yard dash—won by Jones (B); second, Staples (B); third, Miller (W); time 53 3-5 seconds.

200-yard swim—won by Staples (B); second, Mozet (B); third, Olmsted (W); time 2 minutes 53 4-5 seconds.

Plunge—won by Jones (W); second, Gorman (B); third, Perkins (B); distance 70 feet, time 1 minute.

Fancy dive—won by Dawson (B); second, Whitehouse (B); third, Webb (W).

Relay race—won by Brown (Adams, Almy, Whitehouse, Fitzgibbons); time, 1 minute and 48 seconds.

GARFIELD HONORED

President is Awarded D.S.M. for War Services

Dr. Harry Augustus Garfield, President of Williams College and former Federal Fuel Administrator, was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal last Saturday by the War Department. In making the award Secretary Baker stated that the medal was conferred upon Dr. Garfield "for exceptionally valuable services to the government as Federal Fuel Administrator during the War."

The first notification that Dr. Garfield who is still confined to his bed as a result of a slight illness, received of the honor conferred upon him, was from the Sunday newspapers. As yet he has received no official report.

Dr. Garfield was appointed to the position of Fuel Administrator by President Wilson on August 23, 1917, and served in that capacity throughout the War. During that time he was obliged by prevailing conditions to regulate the prices of coal, and to see that the necessary industries and homes had the first claim on the supply. To accomplish this he was forced to take many stringent measures such as the shutting down of places of amusement and of useless industries in certain parts of the country.

Trustees Appoint Committee; Alumni Dinner Well Attended

which twelve members of the Board were present including Mr. Willard Hoyt. The first object of interest to be brought to the attention of the members was the chapel question which was presented by Uford '21, representing the Student Council. He proposed a change in the time of the chapel service from 7.50 o'clock to 9.45 o'clock and an increase in the number of Sunday excused absences to four, but these changes were not presented as a definite proposal. The Trustees did not take any definite action on the suggestions of the Student Council, but appointed a committee composed of Dr. Garfield '85, Mr. F. H. Mills '93, Mr. Bentley Warren '85, Mr. Clark Williams '92, and Mr. Frederick Wood '98. This committee will be a permanent one, but the members may be changed, and will be required to make two or three trips a year to the College in order to establish a closer relationship between the board of Trustees whom they will represent and the student body. This committee will make a report on the chapel situation and as soon as definite action shall have been taken by the undergraduates on the chapel question, the Trustees will take this into consideration and will take definite action with regard to the number of excused absences and the other matters related to the chapel situation, at the annual meeting of the Board on May 30.

To make every graduate of Williams "physically as well as mentally perfect" is the aim of the second step taken by the board. A Director of Athletics will be appointed who shall have charge of the Infirmary, Cole Field, and the Outing Club, and who will have a seat on the Athletic Council. He will also make a physical examination of every man in College, and every man found to be deficient in any way will be compelled to participate in some form of physical activity and to become a candidate for some athletic team. The man to be appointed to this position has not as yet been chosen.

William P. Sidley '89, of Chicago, Ill., a temporary member of the board, was elected to permanent membership and Quincy Bent '01, of Bethlehem, Pa., vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was chosen to become a member to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Stetson.

Bainbridge Colby '90, Secretary of State, was the principal speaker at the banquet of the alumni held this evening at the Waldorf-Astoria. Judge Charles C. Nott '90, toastmaster, presented Mr. Bentley Warren who made the first address of the evening. The speaker outlined the result of the Trustees' meeting, and explained the importance of the new features proposed. The second speech was made by Mr. Frederick Wood, former president of the Williams Club of New York City. He spoke of the plan of the Athletic Supervisor which the Trustees had proposed and stated that the College Trustees were going to take up athletics aggressively. Judge Nott next introduced Mr. Chester Lord, an alumnus of Hamilton College, and son of the Rev. Edward Lord '43, the oldest living graduate who will be 100 years old on March 29. The speaker was formerly managing editor of the New York Sun and president of the Lotus Club of New York City. He reviewed the events of his father's period at College, the Victorian era, and brought his account down to the present day, showing the changes which have occurred.

The final speech of the evening was made by Mr. Bainbridge Colby '90. He expressed his appreciation at being able to attend the meeting, and discussed the different views of Williams, that of the Williams man and that of the stranger. Mr. Colby complimented the College on her ability to remain small and urged Williams men not to follow the false gods of bigness, but to be content to have Williams remain as a center of true culture. "Williams is a distinguished college," said the secretary. "She has not allowed her head to be turned by the momentary popularity of theories and viewpoints which were irreconcilable with her ancient nouncement of a project which the Christian Association will present to the College in the near future. W. M. Clark of Williamstown, who served in the American Red Cross at Riga, will tell from personal experience of "Relief Work in Russia."

Music during the dinner will be furnished by Coleman's orchestra, and a quartet composed of Noble '21, Chapman, Lewis, and Richmond '22 will sing. In order to raise additional funds, Mrs. French has donated six artistic pastel posters which were drawn especially for the occasion and which are now on exhibition at various places in town. These posters will be auctioned off at the dinner. The undergraduate body is assisting in every way possible. All fraternities will suspend dinner on that night, urging their members to attend the banquet and a call for volunteer waiters to assist in serving the dinner will be made. Announcement of the result of the college campaign to raise money for the Hoover Relief Fund will be made at the banquet.

Like other "Hoover Dinners," which are being held throughout the country, the regular relief ration consisting of a bowl of rice, three ounces of bread, and a cup of cocoa will be served. The price of tickets, which will be on sale at almost all the local stores, will be 50 cents and the money raised will be entirely devoted to the relief fund as the cost of the dinner has been provided for by subscription. The rice and cocoa have been donated by Mrs. Ruether and the College has allowed the use of the Gymnasium and furnished the table arrangement. All receipts will be equally divided between the European Relief Fund and the China Famine Fund. Additional voluntary contributions will be similarly divided unless the contributor indicates a preference in which case the gift will go as indicated.

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and—hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences. The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

Then for the first time since he has been at Williams Becket was ruled off the ice on a charge of tripping; and in the minute interval when only six men composed the Purple team Bower scored for Dartmouth. Becket returned to the game and Clark evened up the score. On the same charge Becket was ruled off the ice again. In this interval Calder and Rothschild scored two more goals for Dartmouth making the final score 6-4.

The summary of the game and lineups of the teams are as follows:

and serene objectives. Williams has loved culture when culture has been out of fashion. She has not sought to be large, but rather to restrict her size, fighting a losing fight, I fear, against the tendency of time and development to expand her classes.

During the banquet, songs of Williams and of the different classes were sung between the speeches. S. Phillips and Ufford '21 were the only undergraduates present at the affair, but Frazier and Holmes ex-'21 also attended. The delegations representing the classes of 1920, 1919, and 1918 were large.

McGill University won the annual McGill winter Carnival, held in Montreal, Canada, last Friday and Saturday, with a total of 46 points. Its nearest opponent was Dartmouth, with 14 points, while Middlebury, Vermont, and Williams scored a lone point each. Brueker '21 made the one point for Williams in the efficiency test. The team sent to Montreal by the Outing Club consisted of Baker, Brueker, Jones and Schlesinger '21, and Elliot '22.

$1,000 PROMISED AT HOOVER DINNER

Principal Address Made by Dr.
Thomas E. Green, of European Relief Council

AUCTION OF POSTERS
OF DRIVE NETS $250

Dr. Adriance and Rev. Mr. Twichell
Speak at Meeting—Describe European Conditions

Approximately $1,000 was raised at the Hoover dinner held last Tuesday evening in Lasell Gymnasium under the auspices of the local committee of the European Relief Council, which was attended by nearly 500 students, professors and townspeople and at which the usual cup of cocoa, biscuit, and portion of goulash, rations similar to those which are being given to the children abroad, were served. An empty chair was placed upon the platform, symbolic of the absent guest, the starving child of Europe, for whose benefit the meal was served.

After the meal had been eaten, Professor Carroll L. Maxey, presiding over the meeting in the absence of Dr. Garfield who is still confined to his home by illness, introduced Mr. Hart who auctioned off the posters which were designed for the drive by Mrs. French. The first placard was sold to Judge Tenney for $15, the second, to Brigham '22 for $10; the next, to the Kappa Alpha fraternity for $20; the next to the Sophomore Prom Committee for $100, the fifth to the Delta Upsilon fraternity for $50; and the last to the Purple Cow board for $55, making a total of $250.

Dr. Adriance made the first address of the evening on the comparative conditions of the American and European children; Dr. Twichell spoke next on the duty to our fallen soldiers, and Dr. Green, of the Relief Council, delivered the principal address on the starving children of Europe, giving statistics concerning the number who need food and the results of the war upon these innocent non-combatants.

BECKET '22 CHOSEN TO CAPTAIN HOCKEY

High Scorer for Recent Season Will Have Good Material to Start Year

Alan Lamplough Becket of East Orange, New Jersey, was elected captain of the hockey team for the 1921-1922 season at a meeting of the letter men held last Monday noon in Lasell Gymnasium. Becket has been a member of the hockey team for the past two years, and during the season just past, started in practically every game, besides being the highest individual scorer for the season.

Becket prepared for Williams at the East Orange High School, East Orange, N. J., where he was a member of the baseball and track teams during the entire four years of his course, and played on the hockey team in his last two years. In his senior year, 1918, he was president of the New Jersey Athletic Association.

Becket played halfback on the football team during his sophomore year, but was prevented from playing through the 1921 season because he could not spare the time from his work. He has been a member of the track team for the past two years, and was at the same time a member of the baseball squad. Becket has recently been elected Art Editor of the Purple Cow.

The prospects for a successful team next year are of the brightest. The only man lost through graduation will be Captain Irwin, and with the material from next year's freshmen class from which to pick, the team which has just closed an unusually successful season should, under the leadership of Captain Becket, be even stronger next year.

Announce Personnel of Team to Debate Colgate

Baleh, Conn and Hall '21, with Craig '24 as alternate, were chosen for the affirmative, and Atwell and C. Taylor '21 and Helfrich '24, with John Bennett '24 as alternate, for the negative team, as a result of the trials held last Wednesday afternoon for the Colgate debate, which will be held on March 18, the Purple affirmative debaters remaining here and the negative team going to Troy, New York, or some upstate city. The subject for the debate will be, "Resolved, that the Federal government should own and operate the coal mines in the United States." By mutual consent, the constitutionality of the question will be waived.

WALLACE ELECTED TO HEAD NEW 'COW' BOARD

Montgomery Chosen Managing Editor and Becket Will Lead Art Department

Dudley Brabner Wallace, '22 of Springfield, Mass., was elected editor-in-chief of the Purple Cow at a meeting held last Tuesday evening. At the same time Harry Mortimer Montgomery, Jr., of Evanston, Ill., was elected to the newly created managing editorship of the publication and Alan Lamplough Becket of East Orange, N. J., to the art editorship.

Wallace prepared for Williams at the Central High School, Springfield where he was business manager of the school paper and a member of the soccer team. Since coming to Williams, he has been a member of the varsity track and swimming teams. He is a member of the Honor System Committee and for the last two years has captained his class soccer team. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Montgomery prepared at the Evanston High School where he played on the football team, was manager of the school track team, and was associate editor of the school publication.

While at Williams he has played two years on the varsity football team, as well as being a member of the freshman football team in his first year in college and manager of the freshman basketball team. He was also treasurer of the 1920 Smoker Committee, and is a varsity cheerleader, and member of the Press Club and Graphic board. He is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. Becket, the art editor, has just been elected captain of the hockey team.

COLBY TO ENTER LAW

Will Form Partnership With Ex-President Wilson

Ex-President Wilson will enter into a law partnership with Mr. Bainbridge Colby, Williams 1890, his retiring secretary of state, in the near future. After his graduation from Williams, Mr. Colby entered the Columbia University Law School, from which he was graduated in 1892.

No definite announcement has been made as to the character of the practice that the new firm will engage in, although it is presumed that the general nature of the business will be international law and collateral work. The announcement that offices would be opened in New York and Washington seem to indicate that Mr. Colby will be in charge of the former office, and that the ex-President will be at the head of the office in the Capital city.

Some surprise is expressed at the announcement that Mr. Wilson will engage in law practice, for although he was graduated from the University of Virginia Law School, his work has consisted almost entirely of teaching in various colleges and universities, and he has figured in political life, both as governor of New Jersey and as chief executive of the country. Mr. Colby has always, on the other hand, been identified with law ever since his graduation from law school in 1892.

HARD GAME EXPECTED WITH UNION TOMORROW

Purple Team Will Meet One of Strongest Teams on Schedule for Season

DOWNED WESLEYAN TWICE

Comparative Scores Point to Defeat Unless Williams Has Gained in Strength

Williams will face the fast Union quintet in basketball at Schenectady tomorrow evening in what is expected to be one of the hardest contests of the year. The Garnet has an exceptionally strong team this year, having won all but three out of the fourteen games which have been played to date.

From the very beginning of the season Union has been an almost constant winner. In a southern training trip of five games at the beginning of the season, all were victories with the single exception of the Navy game. Soon afterward the game with N. Y. U. was lost by a 22-18 score. Wesleyan was defeated by the score of 21-20 and Rochester by the score of 27-21, making a basis of comparison which would put the Garnet ahead of the Purple, whose two games with the Red and Black were both defeats. The third defeat suffered by Union occurred on a Rochester-Buffalo trip and was probably caused by the fact that several members of the team were handicapped by recent illness.

Union's strongest asset is the passing game with the emphasis particularly laid on fast floor work and short passes. Captain Jones at center, is probably the most dependable and experienced man on the team. Rinaldi and Schwartz, making up the defense, are also veterans and were particularly well spoken of in newspaper accounts following the game with N. Y. U. The most brilliant player on the team is Brucker, at right forward, whose style of play closely resembles that of Robertson of Wesleyan.

The Williams line-up will probably be the same as in the last few games. Captain Beckwith and Blackmer will start in the two forward positions, Johnston or Fargo at center, and Wilson and C. Boynton in the guard positions. Hyde and Wightman will probably be substituted during the game.

The probable line-ups of the two teams will be as follows:

Williams	Union
Beckwith (Capt.), If	Wilbur
Hyde
Blackmer, rf	Brucker
Wightman
Fargo, Johnston c	Jones (Capt.)
Wilson lg	Schwartz
C. Boynton rg	Rinaldi

BIG SQUAD REPORTS TO COOMBS IN CAGE

New System of Individual Practice Adopted by Coach—62 Men Start Work

In response to the call for candidates 62 men reported to the baseball cage last Monday afternoon when, under the direction of Coach Jack Coombs and Captain Finn, baseball practice was begun in earnest. The squad is one of the largest which has reported in recent years and exactly equals that of last year.

In view of the fact that the squad is made up largely of inexperienced men, a new system of practice has been adopted. In order to give the candidates individual assistance practice is held from 9.00 o'clock in the morning until 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon. Hours for practice are assigned to the players according to their class schedules, and the list of candidates with the assigned hours is posted in the Gymnasium. The coach has been giving special attention to the pitchers, who have already been showing improvement. At present, however, he is not in a position to judge the merit of the other players and will be able to tell little until the men begin outdoor work-outs in their regular positions. Early outdoor practice, however, would mean much towards the development of the team. The squad will go into strict training on Monday.

As the team has less experienced material this year than usual, special efforts will be made to develop new men. Among last year's veterans are Holmes and Patton, pitchers, and Captain Finn for the catching position with R. W. Smith as a substitute. Hoyt and Ward are also available for the infield. There is some promising material among the freshmen, and further additions to the squad are expected at the close of the basketball season on March 12.

LIBRARY ADVANCING

Walls up to Second Story Already on All Sides

Work on the new library has gone ahead very rapidly in the past few months because of the extreme clemency of the weather. On the north side, the entire wall is nearly completed and on the entire library the walls are up to the second story.

In the interior very little can of course be accomplished as yet, but the partitioning walls are now going up and one can get a very good idea of how the floor plan and room arrangement is going to be when completed. On the outside, the construction work has reached a point where the architectural beauty of the building is beginning to be in evidence.

The fact that the building program has gone ahead so rapidly is due to resourcefulness of the contractors as well as the mildness of the winter. During the few cold spells of the year work has been carried on as well as possible by the use of fires to keep the mortar from freezing. The north wall was erected first as a partial protection to the workmen engaged in other parts of the building; and various other devices have been resorted to in order to progress according to schedule.

WARD IS ELECTED FOOTBALL MANAGER

Wins Majority of Votes Cast on First Ballot—Has Won Insignia in Two Sports

MOSHER AND STOWERS
WIN MINOR POSITIONS

Hockey and Swimming Managers Determined on Fifth and Fourth Ballots

Undergraduate balloting last Wednesday resulted in the election of James Crawford Ward, 1923, of Kansas City, Mo., on the first ballot to the position of second assistant manager of football. Of the 384 votes cast Ward received 195 on the first count, a majority of three over the number required for election.

In the hockey and swimming managership elections, Alfred Clark Mosher, 1923, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Clifford Heald Stowers of South Weymouth, received first and second choice of positions respectively. The same number of votes as for the football managership were cast in this election, Mosher gaining a majority of 40 votes for the first choice of positions on the fifth ballot. The No-Deal Committee then recounted the ballots with Mosher eliminated, and Stowers secured the position of swimming manager with a majority of 12 votes over the number necessary for election on the fourth ballot.

Ward prepared for College at the Country Day School in Kansas City where, during his senior year, he was president of his class and captain of the baseball team. In the spring of his freshman year at Williams he played on the varsity baseball and golf teams, representing the College in the Intercollegiate tournament in the latter sport. This year he has been chosen by his class as its representative on the Student Council, was elected to the Sophomore Prom Committee, and is a member of the Handbook board. He is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

WILL NOT ATTEND CEREMONIES TODAY

President Garfield Unable to Go to Washington to Receive
D. S. M. in Person

Due to his confinement by illness, President Garfield was unable to attend the Presidential Inauguration ceremonies at Washington today to receive his distinguished service medal in person. Dr. Garfield wrote to Secretary Baker that he would be unable to come to Washington, and asked that the medal be forwarded to Williamstown.

Enclosed in a letter from Secretary Baker to President Garfield was the official citation of the award, which is as follows:

HARRY A. GARFIELD

"For meritorious and distinguished service in a position of great responsibility."

During the progress of the war, by his conduct of the Fuel Administration, he stimulated the production, conserved the use, and supervised the distribution of those supplies of fuel necessary for the support of the armies of the United States, the maintenance of industry, the production of war supplies, and the health and well-being of the civil population upon which the successful prosecution of military activities depended."

This medal is awarded by the direction of the President of the United States.

Dr. Garfield was appointed to the position of Fuel Administrator by President Wilson on August 23, 1917 and served in that capacity throughout the duration of the war. During his term of office he was obliged by prevailing conditions to take many stringent measures for conserving the national fuel supply.

The Hockey Season

Congratulations are due the hockey team for its excellent record during the past season, and especially for the service it has performed in establishing hockey as a prominent sport. Until this year hockey has been forced to occupy a back seat among athletics, and many have been the lamentations among both undergraduates and alumni that the sport should have been forced to accept such ignominy. Under the handicaps of no coach and a temporary rink, this year's team has, however, seemingly achieved the impossible. By establishing a record of six victories and but one defeat, facing strong teams, it has accomplished much in bringing to hockey the recognition it deserves.

Mutual Understanding

The editorial appearing the last issue entitled "Mutual Understanding" seems to have caused confusion in the minds of some of our readers, and has been construed by several as a severe criticism of the relations between the faculty and students of Williams College. We regret that such a meaning should have been conveyed. Our purpose was not to infer that there exists any unusual spirit of antagonism between professor and undergraduate at Williams, as contrasted with other colleges. On the other hand, we are convinced that the relations here are more friendly than at the large majority of institutions.

The antagonism that we spoke of is nothing of a local character. It is a mistaken tradition that has grown up through many years, that there is a sharp dividing line drawn at the front of the desk, that professor and student are not members of the same species, and that there can never be sympathy between them. To a large extent this feeling has been eliminated, and the realization is dawning upon us that the professor shares with the undergraduate desires for improving the College. It is upon this that we wish to place emphasis. Just in so far as this new idea has taken hold, has cooperation and consequent advancement been made possible, and it is a plea for the further development of this spirit that we are making.

Correction

Several errors were made in the article of last issue concerning the meeting of the Board of Trustees, which we take advantage of this opportunity to correct. The question of chapel services was referred not to the newly-created committee on undergraduate relations, but to the executive committee, and the report will be made on May 5 instead of May 30. The personnel of the former committee was incorrectly stated. This body is to be appointed by President Garfield, and its membership has not as yet been announced.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

URGES "W" SOCIETY

To the Editor of the Williams Record:
Sir: Athletics of a high standard are eagerly desired by every Williams man. We have already heard some "W" men express a wish for the existence of an organization in which collectively and as a body they could get behind a movement for the advancement of a higher standard in Williams athletics. Individually every Varsity man has some ideas for improvement, progress, and construction in the athletics of the college, but as some of them have already pointed out, there is in existence at present no organization at the meetings of which they can submit and talk over together their constructive ideas and suggestions. While we are fully aware that there is apt to exist a detrimental tendency for over-organization in a small college, we nevertheless feel there is always a welcome place for any organization that will be a vigorous and whole-hearted promoter of the traditional spirit and ideals of the College. In that we feel that "W" men have a keener interest in, and a more intimate knowledge of, athletics, we believe that they should organize for advancement and cooperation in the athletics of the College. There are many ways by which such a society could subscribe to the betterment of the athletic policy of Williams. For instance, by encouraging more men to become candidates for the varsity teams, by advising and cooperating with the proper authorities in the appointment of coaches and the awarding of insignia, by stimulating a more healthy sentiment among the graduates and undergraduates alike, by endeavoring to bring about a more cordial athletic relationship between Williams and the more important colleges. These are just a few possible suggestions around which such an organization could be built.

The expediency of such an organization is proved by the thriving Varsity Clubs at Columbia, University of Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale among the larger universities, and Colgate, Lafayette, and R. P. I. among the smaller institutions. In all cases these Varsity Clubs have done all and more than was promised for them. The purpose of submitting this communication is to take advantage of the medium the Record affords for sounding the sentiment of both the alumni and undergraduates of Williams, particularly the "W" men past and present, as to whether the formation of a Varsity or "W" society would meet with their approval.

TANK MEN TO MEET SPRINGFIELD TEAM

Visitors Slightly Favored in Contest Today—Dive Replaced by Breast Stroke

Almost evenly matched with its opponent by comparative scores, the Williams swimming team will meet the tank men of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College in Lasell Gymnasium this afternoon at 4.00 o'clock. Neither team has won a victory this season up to the present time.

Amherst's mermen who were able to defeat the Purple team by a score of 37 to 16, also conquered Springfield, but not by such a large margin, the final result standing 28 to 25. In this respect, the outcome of today's contest would seem to favor the visitors slightly. However, Brown's swimmers who overcame the Williams team by the very decisive score of 44 to 9, also vanquished Springfield 46 to 7. This small difference would not seem to go very far to counteract the much larger difference shown in the two previous comparative scores. The visiting mermen received their third defeat at the hands of Yale, 48 to 5, but because of the excellence of the Eli team this year, such a result was only to be expected. Wesleyan's meet with the Purple, won by the former, 33 to 20, showed up the varsity swimmers in a much more favorable light, when pitted against a team of somewhat equal strength.

Due to the fact that there is no board in the tank, the dive has been replaced by a breast stroke in which event J. R. Montgomery, Jr., '22 and Olmsted '24 represent the Purple. In all other respects the lineup of the varsity team will be the same as in the meet with Brown.

The entries of both teams will probably be as follows:

Relay—McKenzie, Miller, Luedke, Sanford, (W); C. Buckema, J. Buckema, Eastwood, Nichols, (S).

50-yard Wash—McKenzie, Sanford, (W) J. Buckema, Nichols (S).

100-yard dash—Miller, Larkin, (W); Eastwood, (S).

220-yard swim—Olmsted, Wilcox, (W); C. Buckema, (S).

Plunge—Fulle, Jones, (W); Aldrich, (S).

Breast Stroke—Olmsted, Montgomery, (W).

KEATS CENTENARY IS OBSERVED IN LECTURE

Dr. Licklider Speaks on Making Literature Safe for Democracy

In commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the death of John Keats, the English poet, Assistant Professor Licklider addressed the seventh meeting of the Tuesday Lecture Course on "Making Literature Safe for Democracy" in the Thompson Physical Laboratory last Tuesday afternoon. Keats's mission in life, said the speaker, was continually to make literature more acceptable through the worship of absolute beauty, an attempt in which the environment of "respectability" in which he lived always opposed him.

Mr. Licklider defined democracy in literature as "the tastes of the majority." All through time there have been two forces diametrically opposed on the question of art and literature, the "respectable majority," who are influenced by personal, material and temporal objections to beauty in art, and the "intelligent minority," who treasure the mystery, the awe, and the eternal qualities of true beauty.

In a world of materialism, said the speaker, Keats fought for absolute beauty. He maintained that "beauty is truth, truth beauty" and that "the first in beauty shall be first in might." The type of literature Keats stood for tries to represent moral laws and not to codify them, to express beauty and not to defend it. Opposed to this view is that of the literary Philistines, which seeks to domesticate literature to the point of "respectability," without realizing the fundamental difference between respectability and morality.

"Literature has always tried to make its greatest figures 'safe for democracy,'" said Mr. Licklider. The story of Cleopatra, though not relatively "nice," is fundamentally beautiful in its depiction of the force of true love, but numerous writers have retold the story in such a way that the smug senses of the Victorians might not be shocked. The story of Queen Guinevere has been rendered "safe" by Dryden, Tennyson and others, and even the beautiful story of Tristan and Isolde has been safely domesticated and modernized by Arnold.

"Democracy will accept beauty only when it feels that it is safe and comfortable," concluded Mr. Licklider. "It will become open, liberal-minded and spiritual only when it sees the good rather than the respectable. Let the true artist consider first of all the beauty of the world and of the human spirit, for that beauty is truth."

The big or little company—which?

WHEN the talk turns to where should a fellow start work, a question arises on which college men naturally take sides.

"You'll be buried in the big company," say some. "Everything is red tape and departments working against each other."

"Your little company never gets you anywhere," others assert. "The bigger the company the bigger your opportunity."

And that seems true—but in a different sense. Not physical size but bigness of purpose should be our standard for judging an industrial organization just as it is for judging a man.

Where will you find this company with a vision?

Whether its plant covers a hundred acres or is only a dingy shop up three flights is on the face of it no indication of what you want to know—is such and such a company more concerned with developing men and ideas than boosting profits at the expense of service?

You must look deeper. What is the organization's standing in the industry? What do its customers say? What do its competitors say?

There are industries and there are companies which offer you every opportunity to grow. Spiritually they are as big and broad as the earnest man hopes to build himself. If you are that kind of man you will be satisfied with a company of no lower standards.

Conversely, if you are working for such a big-souled company, the very fact will argue that you yourself are a man worth while. For in business as in social life a man is known by the company he picks.

Declares at Alumni Banquet That
Is Credit to College

GIVES IDEAL FOR FUTURE

Urges 'Distinction' Rather Than
'Bigness' As Aim for Williams to Choose

Delivering the principal address on the occasion of the annual Williams Dinner, Bainbridge Colby '90, Secretary of State during the last year of the Wilson administration, made clear to the hundreds of Williams men present the prominent position which Williams holds among educational institutions. In this connection, the distinguished alumnus pointed out that "Williams has loved culture, when culture has been out of fashion," and that "she has sought to preserve the cool and delightful atmosphere of academic studies when the utilitarians and the pragmatists seem to have carried the day."

Great enthusiasm marked the address of Mr. Colby. In every sense of the word, it was an out and out, concise statement of the position which Williams has always held and the ideals which Williams men have learned to regard as worth while. Back of it all was the salient and strengthening fact that the words of Mr. Colby expressed the earnest convictions of a man who, thirty years away from the shadow of the "purple hills," has yet kept in close touch with his Alma Mater amid all the press of the nation's affairs.

The speaker opened his talk with the statement that there are two eminently views of Williams College to be considered—the opinion of it held by Williams men and the opinion held by outsiders. Speaking of the latter question first, Mr. Colby said:

"I think we can say without offense or misconception that people in general think well of Williams College. They recognize its long and consistent service to very definite—I would almost say intentionally restricted—ideals, the ideals of gentlemanly character and scholarly at-

PROFESSOR H. L. CLARK SPEAKS BEFORE W. C. A.

Emphasizes Importance of Science as Means of Progressive Revelation

Emphasizing the importance of science as a means of progressive revelation, Professor H. L. Clark discussed the subject of "Evolution and Revelation," at a meeting of the W. C. A. yesterday evening in Jesup Hall.

The speaker pointed out that the scientific attitude was supported by St. Paul when he advised, "Despise not prophesying, prove all things, hold fast to what is good." "The charge is made," Professor Clark said, "that science has destroyed authority in religion. In reality it has done more than this: it has shown that the only way to get truth is to search for it. In the past, emphasis has been laid on the importance of an authority in religion which can give dogmatic answers to all vital questions. The emphasis has since been shifted and today lies on evidence as the test of truth. This transition marks a real advance in knowledge."

Speaking further on the subject, Professor Clark declared, "Science teaches us that many questions have no definite answer. Although man has always wanted to have definite knowledge of immortality, the best answer available is merely the result of weighing the evidence we have on hand. Many, of course, hold the word of the Bible on all questions as final, but this view is now largely discarded. I cannot believe in the literal story of the

SPRINGFIELD WINNER IN EXCITING CONTEST

Defeats Williams Swimming Team
By One Point—Olmsted Wins
Two First Places

In the fourth swimming meet of the season, the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College narrowly shut out Williams by the score of 27 to 26 last Friday afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium pool. The Purple swimmers captured first places in three events as compared with their opponents two, but the latter won the relay race, giving them the meet.

Both teams proved exceptionally evenly matched in the sprints, the Springfield swimmers winning first place merely by a hand in the 40 and 100-yard dashes. In both these events, however, Williams took second place. Jones '23 of Williams starred in the plunge, making the entire length of the pool in 45 seconds. His teammate, Carleton '24, took second place with a plunge of 58 feet. Olmsted '24 was the high scorer of the meet, winning first places in the 220-yard swim and the 40-yard breast stroke.

The summary of the meet follows:
Relay race—won by Springfield (C. Buckema, J. Buckema, Eastwood, Nichols), time, 1 minute, 32 and 1-5 seconds.

Plunge—won by Jones (W); second, Carleton (W); third, Noverine (S); distance, 64 feet, time 44 seconds.

220-yard dash—won by Olmsted (W); second, C. Buckema (S); third, Noverine (S); time, 2 minutes, 57 seconds.

40-yard dash—won by J. Buckema (S); second, Sniford (W); third, McKenzie (W); time, 21 and 1-5 seconds.

40-yard breaststroke—won by Olmsted (W); second, Moore (S); third, C. Buckema (S); time, 31 and 2-5 seconds.

100-yard dash—won by Eastwood (S); second, Larkin (W); third, Miller (W); time, 1 minute, 3 and 4-5 seconds.

Letter to the College from Coach Jack Coombs

To the Students of Williams College:

Being unable to come into personal contact with each student, I desire, through the columns of the Record, to solicit the aid of every man in Williams College. I learn that, heretofore, the members of the team have not adhered to the training rules. This year I trust that such a condition will not exist. Training begins today. I have requested each man upon my squad to refrain from smoking, to eat wholesome food, and to obtain plenty of sleep.

It should be considered an honor among all college men to represent their alma mater upon the athletic field. Oftentimes, however, a man with ability desires to follow his own inclinations. He believes that he is necessary to the team and that training rules do not apply to him. I know that such a condition does not wilfully exist among our men. If it does, every one interested in the success of the team should make it a personal matter with this particular man.

I insist that every man upon my squad, beginning today, MUST TRAIN. That means no lee-way for anyone. I want to feel absolutely sure that every man will enter a contest with an absolutely clear conscience. I want you, as students, to have a feeling of confidence in each and every one of them as your representatives on the diamond. If they fail to deliver when called upon to perform a certain duty, do not criticize them, but say to yourselves, as I shall say to myself, "They did their best." Encourage each man to train, criticize him if he does not, help him if he is having trouble with his studies, encourage him to be far above the passing mark in his courses, and keep temptation from him. Do all of these things and you will have done your part.

During any hour of the day or night I will be ready to assist any man in any possible manner; I will be as earnest as possible upon the athletic field; I will teach the game as experience has taught it to me. All of us doing our part, together with diligent work by the men, can bring us nothing but a winning combination and a successful baseball season.

With many thanks in advance for your consideration and cooperation, I am
Very sincerely,
John W. Coombs.

FUNDS INSUFFICIENT TO COMPLETE LIBRARY

Further Sum Must Be Appropriated Before Work On Interior Is Started

Due to the inability of President Garfield to attend the recent meeting of the Trustees in New York, the matter of the appropriation of funds for the completion of the new library was not discussed. The present sum which has been allowed for the building will be sufficient to finish the walls and roof, and to make the edifice water- and weather-proof, but work on the interior will not be started until an additional amount has been appropriated.

As was printed in a former issue of the Record, the library is of the Georgian style of architecture, similar to the type of Grace and Williams Halls. It is located behind Hopkins Hall and the Thompson Memorial Chapel, next to the residence of Mr. Seeley, with its long axis perpendicular to Main Street. The entrances are on the south and west sides.

Rooms devoted to reading, periodicals, and librarian's work, in addition to the book-stacks, which will have a capacity for 200,000 volumes, and the Williamsiana Room, where all records and documents concerning the history of the founder and the College, will be located upon the first floor. The second floor will contain additional books, closets, exhibition rooms, and the Chapin collection. In the third story will be ten seminar rooms and one conference chamber. Extra space for storage, unpacking, and the work of librarians will be placed in the basement.

It is expected that the interior of the edifice will be of wood panelling with ornamental plaster ceilings, giving a dignified but not ornate appearance to the building. The designers have aimed to express a dignity worthy of a college library without the sacrifice of any usefulness for its specific purposes.

President Garfield to Speak

President Harry A. Garfield will speak before the eighth meeting of the series of Tuesday Lectures which will take place in the Thompson Physical Laboratory tomorrow afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. Dr. Garfield has chosen for the subject of his address, "Notes and Comments from the Fuel Administration Reports." He will take up only certain parts of these reports which have not been printed as yet, and because of his intimate knowledge of the entire subject, the lecture should prove to be one of great interest.

HARD FOUGHT GAME WON BY UNION FIVE

Unusual Number of Fouls Responsible for 26-21 Defeat on Big Floor

SPURT IN LAST MINUTE
DASHES WILLIAMS HOPES

Varsity Scores 18 Points From Floor—Beckwith Throws
Four Baskets

Schenectady, N. Y., Mar. 5—Handicapped by the unfamiliarity of a large floor, and by the large number of fouls called on the Purple players, Williams was nosed out by Union here tonight, 26 to 21. The game was hard-fought from start to finish, and the outcome was in doubt until the last minute of play, when Union made a spurt that netted the victory.

Drohen's skill from the foul line was the greatest single factor in deciding the result. Williams scored 18 points from the floor to the Garnet's 14, but a total of 18 fouls made by the Purple players gave Drohen the opportunity to tally twelve points more on free throws. Nine fouls were called on the home team, out of which Blackmer succeeded in scoring only three points.

Drohen also scored two baskets from the floor, making him high scorer with 16 points. Jones was another stellar player for the Garnet, proving the mainstay of the defense and breaking up the Purple attack on several occasions.

For Williams, Captain Beckwith was the outstanding figure, scoring four times from the floor. Three of his shots were from near the middle of the court and the fourth was a difficult shot from the side following a long dribble down the floor. Blackmer scored three field baskets in addition to the three points on fouls, and was high scorer for the Williams team with nine points.

The home team started with a rush, and after Captain Beckwith had shot his first basket, rolled up a six-point lead which it was able to retain until the end of the half. Frequent fouls marred the game, and

The project of a "W" society proposed in the communication in our last issue is at least deserving of consideration. As the letter points out, the thriving existence of similar organizations at other colleges lends strength to the belief that there is a place open for such a club. We shall welcome suggestions and criticism from both alumni and undergraduates as to the advisability of the formation of a society of this nature at Williams.

Coach Coombs' Letter

We trust that every undergraduate will not only read, but will give careful attention to the words of Coach Coombs in the accompanying letter. The part that every member of the student body, whether he is an athlete or not, can play in turning out a successful team cannot be over-emphasized. That a team can never be strong unless its members keep rigid training is a fact well known to any man who has had intimate connection with athletics of any kind, and we trust that Coach Coombs' appeal for cooperation in this and other matters will fall on fertile ground. In his words: "All of us doing our part, together with diligent work by the men, can bring us nothing but a winning combination and a successful baseball season."

"Let Williams Content Itself with Being Fine"

The words of Mr. Colby, which are given in part in the news columns of this issue, should appeal to all Williams men. They express forcibly and beautifully the sentiments which come often to every man who has learned to love Williams and all that Williams stands for.

Mr. Colby does more, however, than praise the achievements of the past. He expresses ideals for the present College generation, and for future generations to live up to.

"Just as we preach a high standard of aspiration and endeavor, let Williams College preserve a fastidious and distinctive standard of judgment and appraisal. Let whoever will be big. Let Williams content itself with being fine."

There is something in these words which should arouse more than feelings of self-satisfaction. Here is a goal to strive for, an ideal the attainment of which every Williams man may do well to adopt as his duty.

With only seven games played to date, of the twelve scheduled in the intramural basketball series, Delta Upsilon has the only team with two victories to its credit. Play in all the contests has been characteristically lacking in team work and steadiness, and often rough.

The Commons Club, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi stand tied at the top of League A, each with one game to its credit. Two teams, Delta Upsilon, and Phi Delta Theta are tied for first place in League B, each having gained a single victory.

The results of last Saturday's games were as follows:

League A—Kappa Alpha defeated Beta Theta Pi, 8 to 6; Sigma Phi won from Zeta Psi, 8 to 6; and the games between Phi Gamma Delta and the Commons Club, and Phi Sigma Kappa and Psi Upsilon were postponed.

League B—Delta Upsilon won from Delta Psi, 26 to 2; Phi Delta Theta defeated Delta Kappa Epsilon 13 to 8; and the games between Alpha Delta Phi and Chi Psi, and the Faculty and Theta Delta Chi were postponed.

What Is Air Pressure?

THE air is composed of molecules. They constantly bombard you from all sides. A thousand taps by a thousand knuckles will close a barn door. The taps as a whole constitute a push. So the constant bombardment of the air molecules constitutes a push. At sea-level the air molecules push against every square inch of you with a total pressure of nearly fifteen pounds.

Pressure, then, is merely a matter of bombarding molecules.

When you boil water you make its molecules fly off. The water molecules collide with the air molecules. It takes a higher temperature to boil water at sea-level than on Pike's Peak. Why? Because there are more bombarding molecules at sea-level—more pressure.

Take away all the air pressure and you have a perfect vacuum. A perfect vacuum has never been created. In the best vacuum obtainable there are still over two billion molecules of air per cubic centimeter, or about as many as there are people on the whole earth.

Heat a substance in a vacuum and you may discover properties not revealed under ordinary pressure. A new field for scientific exploration is opened.

Into this field the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have penetrated. Thus one of the chemists in the Research Laboratories studied the disintegration of heated metals in highly exhausted bulbs. What happened to the glowing filament of a lamp, for example? The glass blackened. But why? He discovered that the metal distilled in the vacuum depositing on the glass.

This was research in pure science—research in what may be called the chemistry and physics of high vacua. It was undertaken to answer a question. It ended in the discovery of a method of filling lamp bulbs with an inert gas under pressure so that the filament would not evaporate so readily. Thus the efficient gas-filled lamp of today grew out of a purely scientific inquiry.

So, unforeseen, practical benefits often result when research is broadly applied.

Hard Fought Game

Won By Union Five

Drohen scored seven times on free tries in this period. The half ended: Union 15, Williams 9.

The Williams team showed an improvement at the beginning of the second half, and after the first three minutes brought the score to a tie, 16-16. After another goal from foul by Drohen, Beckwith scored his third long shot, putting Williams in the lead, 18-17, for the only time during the game. The contest was nip and tuck from this time until the last two minutes, when the combined attack of Jones and Wilbur netted the points that won the game. Fargo was substituted for Johnston, who was forced out of the game on four personal fouls, shortly after the middle of the half.

tainment. They think it is a good college for the 'average' boy, and I do not say 'average' with any thought of disparagement of the average boy. It is a fine thing to be the average boy, and I think most men would readily commute the possibility of being supra-average if they were sure of being up to average. What I mean is the boy who knows a little of life, but not much; who leaves home for college but is often homesick, who is a combination of half-suspected power and terrifying self-doubt and mistrust of his capacities.

"The college is in truth an alma mater. It is solicitous. It is patient. It is watchful and protective, and when you have become in truth her son, she clasps you to her breast for all time. Williams College has not suffered from the indifference of the world or from its poor opinion. It is well regarded, and deservedly so."

But it was the opinion of their Alma Mater which is held by Williams men that was emphasized the more heavily, doubtless in consideration of the nature of the occasion and the audience. In the words of the former Secretary of State:

"But what do we think of Williams College? This is the point of my brief remarks tonight. This is much more important, to my way of looking at the subject, than what other people think of us. What ideal have we erected in our minds which we hope the college to realize? What relation to life would we have the college sustain? Who are the guardians of its aims, the trustees of its future, the source of its impetus and direction unless it be ourselves?"

"Williams is a distinguished college. Men of other colleges with a generosity that moves us, will say this. She has not allowed her head to be turned by the momentary popularity of theories and viewpoints which were irreconcilable with her ancient and serene objectives. Williams has loved culture, when culture has been out of fashion. She has sought to preserve the cool and delightful atmosphere of academic studies when the utilitarians and the pragmatists seemed to have enrired the day. She has not sought to be large but rather to restrict her size, fighting a losing fight, I fear, against the tendency of time and development to expand her classes.

"In other words, she has sought to be distinctive. And why is not distinction her true aim and function?"

"I am speaking of the distinction that springs from conduct and purpose; of the distinction that feeds upon its own high purpose, its sacrifices, its constancy. What is the formula of this distinction? Is it anything more than the combination of disinterestedness and courage? It loses nothing because it is not acclaimed. Recognition and celebration are alike irrelevant to it. It is itself. It needs no support. It claims no reward. This is in truth distinction.

"What finer thing for a seat of learning, nestling in the rugged hills of Massachusetts, inheriting the austere and simple traditions of New England, than to constitute itself the guardian, the discoverer, the custodian of distinction in this sense? Let Williams College search out from among its graduates her humble and unrewarded son who is leading a distinguished life in this true sense. Let us not be content to chronicle our victories on the playing fields, our growth in attendance, our gain in income and endowment, gratifying and vital as these may be in their proper sphere, and within their proper bounds. Who are our men of learning? Let us not be ignorant of that. Who are our men of unselfish and useful lives? Let us not wait until some outsider tells us. Who are our men of original power and daring resolves? Let us be the first to know.

"Just as we preach a high standard of aspiration and endeavor, let Williams College preserve a fastidious and distinctive standard of judgment and appraisal. Let whoever will be big. Let Williams content herself with being fine."

NEW SCHOLARSHIP IS CREATED AS MEMORIAL

Mrs. W. L. Tyler Presents Gift of $10,000 Insurance Policy in Honor of Her Son

ALUMNUS KILLED IN FRANCE

John C. Tyler '15 Lost Life in Night Raid—Was Considered
Best U. S. Bomber

To perpetuate the memory of her son, John Cowperthwaite Tyler '15, who lost his life in October, 1918, while with the American Expeditionary forces in France, Mrs. W. L. Tyler, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has founded a scholarship which is to be awarded for the first time next September. Under the terms of the scholarship, the beneficiary is to receive the income of the gift, which will eventually amount to approximately $600 a year.

The scholarship will be known as the John Cowperthwaite Tyler Scholarship, and will be awarded annually. The fund established for it is the $10,000 insurance policy which Tyler carried with the government at the time of his death. Owing to the fact that the principal is not all payable at one time, the scholarship, which is the interest on this sum, will not reach the full amount of $600 for several years. Under the terms of the scholarship, the beneficiary is to be named by the donor each year, with the provision that, failing nomination by Mrs. Tyler, the College shall name the recipient.

The gratitude of the College has been expressed by Mr. Hoyt in a letter to Mrs. Tyler, which says, "I am sure you know how grateful we are for your gift. I always think of your boy as typifying the best of all that the college stands for, and we are proud of him and his memory. The gift, coming as it does, will serve to

1922 GULIELMENSIA
WILL APPEAR MAY 15

Volume to Contain Many Feature
Articles Including 35 Page
Humorous Department

In recognition of the gratitude which Williams owes to the late trustee and benefactor, Mr. Francis Lynde Stetson, 1867, the 1922 Gulielmsonian, which has just gone to press, will be dedicated to his memory. It will probably be placed on sale on May 15.

This year's "Gul" will be the largest and undoubtedly one of the finest ever published. In addition to containing 408 pages, 70 more than the total of any past number, it will contain five full page color illustrations which will divide the book into its principle sections. The cover will be of brown malloy leather artistically decorated with the design of the Clark Hall entry way, printed in relief, as the central figure.

In addition to unusual size and completeness, the "Gul" will contain many novel features which have not been hitherto attempted. An eight page section will be devoted to the ceremonies attending the return of the Founder and the burial of his remains in the Thompson Memorial Chapel. Special interest will be attached to the achievements of Williams in the Olympic games which were held last summer at Antwerp. As usual, the book will contain a full account of College athletics during the past year, but particular emphasis will be laid on the Football section which will be enlarged to eight pages. Numerous views and individual cuts of all forms of athletic activity will be included. Another novel section will be devoted to aviation but perhaps the most unique feature of the 1922 "Gul" will be the humorous section. This department will contain 35 pages and in it the Board hopes to portray truly conditions at Williams.

Second Issue of 'Graphic'
Expected to Appear Soon

Containing almost twice as much material in both the editorial and photographic departments, as appeared in the first issue, the second issue of the Graphic will be ready for distribution next Monday. A story by Gilbert Page Simons entitled The Immutable Feminine and a group of pictures of the five most beautiful college chapels in America are included among the features of the number. In addition to these things, the issue has six full pages of cuts, three illustrated articles, and a large quantity of miscellaneous photographs of general interest.

REPORTS ON WORK OF FUEL ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Garfield Presents Facts on Organization and Achievements of Bureau

President Garfield delivered one of the most interesting numbers of the Tuesday Lecture Course last Tuesday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory, when in the eighth number of the course he talked on "Notes and Comments on the Report of the Fuel Administration." Coming from the former head of that branch of war-time activity, his remarks were of peculiar authority and interest.

In pursuing his subject, Dr. Garfield disregarded the official report of the Fuel Administration which is in process of publication, and spoke from his own personal point of view as Fuel Administrator from 1917 to 1919. He discussed his administration on the basis of organization, accomplishments, governmental co-operation, difficulties encountered, and lessons learned.

The Fuel Administration, said Dr. Garfield, began in August 1917, with no organization whatever. Its growth and consequent sphere of activity grew so rapidly that in a short time its personnel included 1600 workers in Washington itself and about 4000 throughout the country. Although the United States Government was unstinted in its appropriations of money, the Fuel Administration spent less than $5,000,000 in the two years of its existence.

A regular business hierarchy was adopted, centering around three Directors-General who reported daily to Dr. Garfield. Every official in this organization prepared his own report and delivered it to his immediate superior, the complete history of the department finally being collated by present Dean George E. Howes, Dr. Garfield's secretary. In order to insure efficiency Dr. Garfield had his entire department investigated by trained inspectors of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company.

The chief accomplishments of the administration concerned the production and distribution of coal and the regulation of prices. During the war the United States produced more coal than ever before, although the workers were more inexperienced. At the time of the armistice there were 63,000,000 ton of coal stocked in the country, 2 3/4 times the amount on

PHILLIPS '22 LEADS IN LEHMAN CUP MEET

Scores 12 Points in First Three Events, Taking One First and Two Thirds

RACES CLOSELY CONTESTED

Wishard '24 and Hiss '23 Hold
Second and Third Places
Respectively

With three of the ten events completed, Phillips '22 holds the lead in individual scoring in the Lehman Cup Track Meet which was begun yesterday afternoon on the board track. The leader has amassed 12 points, and is followed by Wishard '24 with seven and a half points and Hiss '23 who has won six points.

Yesterday's events comprised the first heat in the 35-yard dash, the 40-yard low hurdles, the shot put, and the preliminaries of the 440-yard dash. Close competition developed in every event, the 35-yard dash being the most difficult to decide. Coddling '21 was awarded the decision in this race, barely nosing out Mendes '22 and Phillips '22, while McWhorter '22 and Richmond '22 finished fourth and fifth respectively.

The preliminary heats of the 440-yard dash furnished some good running especially in the second heat where Stowers '23 defeated Richmond and Mendes after trailing them through almost the entire course. Crofts '21 showed the way to Coddling and Coan '21 in the first heat.

In the 40-yard low hurdles Phillips was an easy winner, followed in order by Barnes '23, Beal '23, Mason '24 and Wishard '24. Wishard took first place in the shot put with a heave of 32 feet 9 inches. Hiss was second with 32 feet 3 inches, and Phillips took third with 31 feet 10 inches.

The individual point scores and summary of yesterday's events are as follows: Phillips '22, 12; Wishard '24, 7 1/2; Hiss '23, 6; Coddling '21, 5; Mendes '22, 4; Richmond '22, 3 1/2; Barnes '23, 3; McWhorter '22, 2; Beal '23, 2; Mason '24, 1.

35-yard dash (first heat)—won by Coddling '21; Mendes '22, second; Phillips '22, third; McWhorter '22, fourth; Richmond '22, fifth; time, 4 seconds.

40-yard low hurdles—won by Phillips '22; Barnes '23, second; Beal '23, third; Mason '24, fourth; Wishard '24, fifth; time, 5 1/5 seconds.

Shot put—(1 point for every 6 inches over 29 feet)—Wishard '24, 32 feet 9 inches; Hiss '23, 32 feet 3 inches; Phillips '22, 31 feet 10 inches; Richmond '22, 30 feet 9 inches; McWhorter '22, 29 feet 11 1/2 inches; Mendes '22, 29 feet 7 inches.

The order of events for this afternoon and rating of points will be as follows: 35-yard dash, second heat (5, 3, 2, 1, 1-2); 40-yard high hurdles (5, 3, 2, 1, 1-2); 880-yard run (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); high jump (one point for every inch over 4 feet 6 inches).

The order of events for this afternoon and rating of points will be as follows: 35-yard dash, second heat (5, 3, 2, 1, 1-2); 40-yard high hurdles (5, 3, 2, 1, 1-2); 880-yard run (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); high jump (one point for every inch over 4 feet 6 inches).

PURPLE WILL OPPOSE RENSSELAER SWIMMERS

Reorganized Williams Team Expected to Win Last Contest at Troy Tomorrow

In the last meet of the season, the Williams swimming team will oppose Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in the class of 1887 Gymnasium, Troy, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Although no comparative scores are available for predicting the outcome of the meet, due to the fact that R. P. I. has met teams that the Williams swimmers have opposed, times made by the teams in meets this year seem to give a slight advantage to the Purple.

Due to the absence of Miller '22 and the inability of Fulle '21, captain of the team, to compete, several changes of importance have been made in the lineup of the Williams mermen. The reorganized relay team will be composed of Luedeke and Wallace '22, McKenzie '23, and Sanford '24. Luedeke will swim in the 50-yard dash in place of Sanford, who will replace Miller in the 100-yard dash. The diving contest, which was omitted in the Springfield meet, will be resumed for this contest, and Williams will probably be represented by Webb '23 in this event. E. J. Carleton '24 will plunge in place of Fulle, and Jones will plunge as usual.

Tentative lineups of the two teams are as follows:

Relay—Luedeke, Wallace, McKenzie, Sanford (W); Getman, Lindholm, Ruchdeschel, Winquitt, (R. P. I.)

50-yard dash—Luedeke, McKenzie, (W); Lindholm (R. P. I.)

100-yard dash—Larkin, Sanford, (W); Lindholm (R. P. I.)

220-yard swim—Olmsted, Wilcox, (W); Getman (R. P. I.)

Plunge—E. J. Carleton, Jones, (W); Dumont (R. P. I.)

Fancy Dive—Webb '23 (W)

Purple Line-up Unchanged on Eve of Second Game in Competition for Trophy

In the final contest of the schedule Williams will face Amherst in the second of the two basketball games scheduled between the two Colleges this season in Pratt Gymnasium at Amherst at 8.00 o'clock tomorrow evening. In view of the decided superiority which the varsity showed over their opponents in the first contest on February 11, the advantage would seem to lie distinctly with the Purple.

Since the two teams met earlier in the season both have defeated the University of Rochester five by decisive scores, Williams winning from the New York team 28 to 18 while Amherst defeated them by a 37 to 24 score. Although the varsity has been beaten by the strong West Point and Union teams in the last two contests, its team work and passing is on the whole better than at the time of the first game with the Purple and White. Amherst, on the other hand, was recently overwhelmed by the Wesleyan quintet by a 28 to 11 score.

Nail and Snider of the Amherst team have done the most brilliant work on offense and defense, respectively, for the Purple and White this season, being in the order named the two highest scorers on the Amherst squad. Captain Fahner at center and Card in the other forward position have also been reliable men and steady

DENIES EXISTENCE OF BOTH SPACE AND TIME

Prof. Garrett Droppers Reads Learned Paper at Meeting of Phil. Union

Denying the actual existence of both space and time, Professor Garrett Droppers addressed a meeting of the Philosophical Union which was held in the Currier Hall Common Room last Tuesday evening. The paper upon which the speaker based his subject, "Space and Time" was a revision of a thesis which he prepared while studying under the well known philosopher, Williams James, at Harvard.

Using as an analogy the fact that darkness is nothing more than an absence of light, Dr. Droppers maintained that space is only in reality the absence of matter. Time, he spoke of as, the negation of motion; the merest abstraction which remains after an impression. In this way he declared himself in favor of the physicist theory that the world is made up of matter and motion as opposed to the beliefs of two great philosophers, Kant and Schopenhauer which are to the effect that space and time are forms of thought through which the world is viewed.

Enlarging upon the discussion of time, the speaker defined the past as a presupposed basis upon which the present rests, and the future as merely the opportunity for the action of the will. Our conception of space, Professor Droppers went on to say, is due also to a reaction of our will.

Dr. Droppers defined immortality as being not space, but on the other hand a steady growth of activity. Because immortality does not involve a succession of actions, but rather a succession of activity, time and space, declared the speaker, have no vital bearing upon it.

At the close of the meeting an informal discussion of the subject took place.

The Tyler Scholarship

A fitting memorial is the "John Cowperthwaite Tyler Scholarship," recently founded by Mrs. W. L. Tyler, mother of the alumnus who gave his life in the war. The thanks of all Williams men are due for this generous gift, which will keep ever fresh and vivid in the memory of the College the sacrifice of those whose names appear on the Roll of Honor—names which can never be forgotten.

"In the Spring—"

If the crack of bat on ball, or should we say "the wallop of the hickory on the horsehide," may be taken as an indication, spring has penetrated into the Arctic fastnesses earlier than usual. May the good weather continue, for with one of the greatest players and finest men in baseball as coach, and with a team determined to wipe out the bitter memories of last year, a reasonable allowance of sunshine is all that is needed to assure us that our Caseys will not strike out.

Our New Contemporary

The Williams Graphic, which will shortly make its second appearance on the campus, was received at its debut in a manner that justified the hopes of its most ardent promoters. Those persons who expressed regret on the discontinuance of the only literary medium of a traditionally liberal college have found in the new publication better selections of writing than the undergraduate body has produced for years. A new field of photography, appealing to all, and enhancing the value of the literary contents, has been thrown open and presents large opportunities.

Proofs of the welcome reception of the new monthly are found in the doubling of the number of subscriptions of the old Lit within two months and the encouraging attitude taken by the alumni. Congratulations are due to the men who have achieved this success in the face of handicaps and prejudice.

March 'Purple Cow' to Appear

Prose and verse contributions for the March issue of the Purple Cow are by Wallace '22, Britton, Hilton, Romaine '23 and Mason and Moody '24. The more noteworthy drawings and sketches are by Wasson '21, Becket '22, and Hurley and Muschenheim '23. The March issue is the last to be edited by the present board, and it is intended that it shall be one of the largest and best of the year.

SPEAKER TO DISCUSS EUROPEAN EXPANSION

George H. Allen, of Bureau of University Travel, to Address
Forum Next Monday

George H. Allen, of the Bureau of University Travel, of Newton, will address the Forum next Monday evening in Jesup Hall on "Some Fallacies and Facts about European Expansion." During the War, Mr. Allen was chief translator of the Military Intelligence Division of the General Staff, with headquarters in Washington, and has since been engaged as editor-in-chief of a history of the European War.

Mr. Allen will aim to present a somewhat original interpretation of the conditions and prospects of European Expansion and the causes that will influence it in the future. He bases his ideas on economic data which are generally overlooked in predictions in connection with this subject.

For three years, Mr. Allen lived abroad as a student of the affairs and conditions of the different countries and races. Upon his return to this country, he became a member of the faculty of the University of Cincinnati, where he was located for eight years. In 1911 he resigned to become the Berlin representative of the Bureau of University Travel, with which he is at present associated.

John Fitch to Address W. C. A. on Social Work

Mr. John A. Fitch, of the New York School of Social Work, will deliver an informal talk on helpfulness in modern industry at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall, under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the W. C. A. In the afternoon Mr. Fitch will be available for conference with any men interested in the industrial courses and opportunities offered by the New York School of Social Work.

The meeting will be of especial value to those men who intend to engage in the work of the Educational Committee next year or who contemplate taking up some form of social service later on. Mr. Fitch, by reason of his practical experience with the School of Social Work, knows the different opportunities for service in industrial circles, and his talk ought to prove a valuable guide to men looking for such opportunities.

209th Recital Takes Place

Mr. Sumner Selter gave his 209th Organ Recital last Wednesday afternoon in Grace Hall. The program which was of an unusually entertaining character ranging from the bold, vigorous Prelude by Bach to the unique and fanciful Sketches of the City by Nevin is as follows:

Include Javelin and Discus

Crofts '21 represented Williams at a meeting of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America, held last Saturday in the Columbia University Club in New York City. The principal business accomplished was the addition to the list of events of the discus and javelin throws. These are to be added to the meet held in the spring of 1922, and until then the new ruling does not go into effect. It was decided that the Intercollegiate this year should be held May 28, in the Harvard Stadium, where Williams will enter a team. Eighteen colleges were represented at the meeting.

The Yale polo team won the deciding game in its series with the University of Pennsylvania on March 5 by a score of 8-1-2 to 3. Each team had previously won one game.

We're due to arrive at A. H. L. Bemis' next Monday, March 14th.

There all day Monday and Tuesday, March 14th and 15th.

How do you Feel?

Confident or Uncertain?
Delighted or Doubtful?
Like a welcome guest or
a homeless stranger?

From all over the country people return again and again to the Lenox and the Brunswick. They are our friends. Though some of them from far away signed the register the first time with the vague "try anything once" air, they have been our friends ever since. We like to think it's because they are confident that upstairs and down they will find pleasant, restful surroundings with cheerful adept service—and hospitality in the midst of excellent hotel conveniences.

The sheer pleasure of mingling with joyous throngs is always here.

point winners. The players mentioned together with Phelps at left guard will probably start against the Purple tomorrow night.

Couch Shamahan will probably use the same combination against Amherst as he has employed during the last several games, starting either Johnston or Fargo at center with Wilson and Boynton playing guard while Captain Beckwith and Blackmer will fill the two forward positions. This line-up affords the possibility of several changes without weakening the team so that fresh men may be put into the game at any time, and it is in fact expected that several substitutions will be made during the contest.

The line-up of the two teams as they will face each other tomorrow night follows:

Williams		Amherst
Beckwith (Capt.)	rf	Nail
Blackmer	lf	Card
Johnston, Fargo	c	Palmer (Capt.)
Boynton	rg	Snider
Wilson	lg	Phelps

TO CONDUCT SERVICES

Dr. O. S. Davis, President of Chicago Seminary, to Preach

Services in the Thompson Memorial Chapel next Sunday morning will be conducted by Rev. Ozora Stearns Davis, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary. Dr. Davis is a well-known theologian who held several pastorates in New England churches before being elected to his present office in Chicago.

In 1894 Dr. Davis received his A.B. degree from Dartmouth. Two years later he completed a graduate course at the University of Leipzig with the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. In 1906 he received a D.D. from Iowa College and soon afterward from Dartmouth. He was ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1896 and since April, 1909, has been President of the Chicago Theological Seminary. Dr. Davis is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society and the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Among the books on theological subjects which he has written are the following: John Robinson, The Pilgrim Party, Using the Bible in Public Address, Meeting the Master, The Gospel in the Light of the Great War.

Colgate University has planned an Easter trip through 11 cities of New York and the middle west for its musical clubs, beginning on March 25 and lasting until April 9. exemplify in the institution the ideals he represented. I trust that the beneficiaries of it will keep its source in mind, and find in its foundation the true achievement of what it represents."

John C. Tyler entered Williams in 1910, a graduate of the Polytechnical Preparatory School of Brooklyn. While in college he played on the football team for three years, was a member of the Honor System Committee, and of the Psi Upsilon fraternity. After his graduation from Williams he entered M. I. T., where he finished his course two years later. Soon after the declaration of war, he enlisted in the Aviation Branch of the American Army, and was for sometime stationed at Boston. After preliminary instruction in this country he was selected as one of the ten men from his section to go to France for intensive training. In France he rose to the position of Squadron Commander, the only American to attain this rank, and was rated by one of his superior officers as the best American bombing pilot on the Western front. Early in October, 1918, he lost his life in a night bombing raid when his small squadron was hopelessly outnumbered by German battleplanes.

The ALBANY LAW SCHOOL has adopted a course of study leading to the degree of LL.B. extending over a period of three years. The instruction is of a practical character intended to fit the student for the bar examinations and for practice at the bar. The extension of the course, however, gives larger opportunity for attention to the history and theory of the law than was possible in two years.

Students who are qualified to enter advanced classes may do so upon passing a satisfactory entrance examination. In such case they will, on compliance with the requirements as to attendance and examination, receive certificates of attendance, as required by the rules with reference to admission to the bar.

Reports on Work of Fuel Administration

hand when the Fuel Administration commenced functioning. The problem of just distribution was solved by the zoning system, which compelled the railroads to deliver the coal wherever the Administration felt it would do the most good. Dr. Garfield pointed out that the Fuel Administration lowered the retail price of coal as agreed upon by operators and workers from $3.00 to $2.62 per ton.

Co-operation between different departments was negligible until the government took control of the railroads, said Dr. Garfield. The Food and Fuel Administrations and the privately owned roads were continually at odds, until at the suggestion of Mr. Bentley W. Warren '85 all the roads were run under the direction of the federal government, resulting in less friction and consequently better service. Dr. Garfield estimated that the Fuel Administration saved the government several hundred millions of dollars.

Referring to figures published by the United States Department of Labor, Dr. Garfield explained the fluctuations in the price of coal from 1914 through 1920. He showed that immediately after the Fuel Administration closed its offices in the summer of 1920 there was a sharp rise in the price of coal, traceable only to the operators, since every other commodity on the market experienced a decline in price at that time.

Dr. Garfield closed by outlining his plan for the proper handling of the fuel problem. He suggested that the Secretary of Commerce should be guided by an Advisory Commission representing both operators and mine-workers, who should consider all complaints and make recommendations to the President and Congress. In this way the United States Government would have expert advice to rely upon, and the public would always have the correct facts before its eyes.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Five cities will compose the Syracuse University Musical clubs tour during the Easter recess, lasting from March 28 through April 1. The itinerary includes Oneida, Utica, Binghamton, Elmira, all in New York, and Williamsport, Pa.

The annual midwinter trip of the Dartmouth Outing Club was held last week, 22 men taking part. An attempt was made to climb Mt. Washington on skis, and other points of interest in the Presidential Range were visited.

By defeating R. P. I. and Syracuse in the last two meets of the year, the Amherst swimming team completed its second undefeated season, and ran up a string of 15 consecutive victories. Almost every college team in New England is included on its list of victims.

Plans have been announced for the construction of four new dormitories and a school of architecture at Princeton, the work to be begun this spring. The dormitories will accommodate 400 students, bringing the number of men residing on the campus to 1700.

On account of a large deficit last year, tuition at Harvard has been raised from $200 to $250 beginning with next year. The Law School and the Graduate School of Education are the only departments of the university in which the tuition will not be raised.

Center College avenged its defeat at the hands of the Harvard football team last fall by trouncing the crimson basketball five on March 7 by a score of 41-36. Coach Waechter's men played an excellent game, but their defense was unable to cope with the attack of the Kentuckians.

Eight Contests Tomorrow

Eight games are scheduled for tomorrow in the intramural league. At present Delta Upsilon is the only team which has won two games, and five teams, Kappa Alpha, Commons Club, Sigma Phi, Phi Delta Theta, and Delta Psi have each been victorious once. The schedule for Saturday is as follows: 2.00—Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, and Kappa Alpha vs. Commons Club; 3.00—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Sigma Phi, and Psi Upsilon vs. Zeta Psi; 4.00—Alpha Delta Phi vs. Delta Kappa Epsilon and Chi Psi vs. Delta Upsilon; 5.00—Delta Psi vs. Faculty Club, and Theta Delta Chi vs. Delta Psi.

Repeating his last year's victory, Charles S. Richmond 1922 of Chatham, N. J., has won first place in the 21st annual Lehman Cup Track Meet held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week, whatever may be the outcome of the 440-yard dash, of which the final heat is to be run this afternoon. Second place in the meet is now held by McWhorter '22 but a first place by Crofts '21 or a first or second place by Mendes '22 in the remaining race will give one of them the cup for the second highest scorer.

Richmond, with 32 1-2 points has more than a ten-point margin over the nearest rival who is qualified for the 440-yard dash. He stood fifth at the end of the first day's competition but secured the points necessary to win first place in the meet by winning the potato race and securing points in the high jump, 35-yard dash, 880-yard and mile runs held Friday and Saturday afternoons. The versatility of the winner is shown by the fact that he won points in seven of the ten events already held and is qualified for the 440-yard dash today. The hurdles and pole vault are the only contests in which he did not place.

Friday's events comprised the second heat of the 35-yard dash, the 40-yard high hurdles, the 880-yard run, and the high jump. McWhorter '22 won the 35-yard dash, narrowly defeating Coddling '21. Phillips '22 easily won the 40-yard high hurdles, while Crofts '21 had no great difficulty in taking first place in the 880-yard run, second place in this event going to Richmond '22, while Coan '21, Fasse '23, and Adams '22, followed in the order named.

McWhorter '22 won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 5 inches, Mendes '22 just failing to reach this mark, and taking second place with 5 feet 4 inches. Since one point was given for every inch over 4 feet 6 inches, nine men earned points in this event.

WILLIAMS SWIMMERS LOSE TO R. P. I. TEAM

Jones Breaks Plunge Record of Troy Pool—Sanford Wins
100-Yard Race

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute defeated the Williams swimming team at Troy last Saturday by a 34 to 19 score in the last meet of the season for the Purple swimmers. The Purple team appears to owe its five defeats to lack of balance, having on the one hand several stars who have consistently won first places, but on the other hand lacking the ability to take the second and third places which are necessary for a winning combination.

Jones '23 won the plunge with 73 1-2 feet, breaking the tank record by two feet which was set last year by Olmsted '20. Sanford '24 took first place in the 100-yard swim with Larkin '23, third. The only other Williams men to place were Webb '23, who was second in the dive; Olmsted '24 and Wilcox '22, who took second and third, respectively, in the 220-yard race; and MacKenzie '23 who finished third in the 50-yard dash.

Getman, of R. P. I., winner of the 220 yard race, is also champion of that event for the Panama Canal Zone, and experienced little difficulty in winning from the Purple swimmers. The time in the (Continued on page 3, column 3)

COLGATE AND WILLIAMS WILL MEET IN DEBATE

Federal Ownership of Coal Mines Is Subject—Contests Here and in Troy Friday

"Resolved, that the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States, constitutionality waived," will be the subject of a debate between Colgate and Williams next Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. There will be two debates held at this time, one in Grace Hall, and the other at the High School Auditorium in Troy, N. Y.

The Williams negative team will uphold their argument in Grace Hall, Atwell, C. L. Taylor, Jr. '21, and Helfrich '24, with Bennett '24 as alternate, comprising the personnel. Balch, Coan, and Hall '21, with Craig '24 as alternate, will comprise the affirmative team which will meet the Colgate negative debaters in Troy. The members of the Colgate teams to appear in Troy and Williamstown have not been announced as yet.

All of the upperclass members of the two Williams teams have received experience in former intercollegiate debates and as regular members of their respective teams have never been defeated. Atwell '21 was captain of his team in the triangular debate with Amherst and Wesleyan in the fall of 1919, and was also a debater in the Brown-Dartmouth-Williams triangular contest of last spring. Balch, Taylor and Hall '21 were victorious in the Amherst-Wesleyan-Williams contest of last fall. It was as alternate in the debate with Dartmouth and Brown in the spring of 1917, and as a regular member of the team opposing Dartmouth and Brown in last spring's debate, that Coan '21 gained his experience.

The judges for the debate in Williamstown will be Professor Arthur Adams, of Trinity College, Professor Z. W. Coombs, of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, and Professor Edward E. Hale, of Union College. President Garfield will be the presiding officer of the evening. The judges who will be at Troy have not as yet been announced.

Moody, Withrow '21, Hurley and Barnes '23 were contributors to the recently issued "College Wits" number of Judge.

Press Club Notice

For the first time since the war, a competition for the Press Club will be held among the sophomores, beginning tonight and ending May 21. Three men will be elected at that time to take the place of the retiring senior members, Balch, Blitz, and Coan '21. The competition will consist in writing assigned articles, to be sent to the newspapers, and the results are to be determined entirely on a numerical basis, the three men having the highest number of inches appearing in the daily papers being the men selected.

SQUAD NOW OUTDOORS

Practice Game Shows Promise of Good Material for Team

Outdoor practice has been held by the baseball squad during the last part of the past week and a five-inning game was played on Saturday between the first and second teams, resulting in a victory for the former. The work of the infield especially was very promising and it is hoped that by the time of the Spring trip, if the present good weather continues, a strong nine will be in shape.

Cobb '22 pitched the practice game for the first team, while Captain Finn was at the receiving end of the battery. Richmond '23 played first base, Hoyt '23, (Continued on page 4, column 2)

and Has No Difficulty in Winning 34 to 19

TROPHY SCORE NOW EVEN
DUE TO SECOND VICTORY

Blackmer Makes Twenty Points in Final Game—Wilson Cages
Four Baskets

Trophy of Trophies

As a result of the second Williams-Amherst basketball game, the points for the Trophy of Trophies are now even, 6-6. Williams is credited with three points for basketball, two for hockey, and one for debating. Amherst has won football and swimming credits, which are four and two points respectively.

Amherst, Mass., March 12—Excelling in every department of the sport, the Williams basketball team overwhelmed the Amherst five in the Pratt Gymnasium here this evening by the score of 34 to 19. The visitors obtained a substantial lead in the first few minutes of play and maintained it throughout the game.

Blackmer was the individual star for Williams, scoring 20 of the Purple's 34 points. He succeeded in getting free time and time again in the corner of the court and, receiving the ball from Beckwith, scored on short shots from under the basket. Wilson also played a good game, scoring four baskets to his opponent's two. Captain Beckwith kept his men together well, the Williams team-play being excellent during most of the game. None of the Amherst players was particularly conspicuous although Nail was the high scorer with seven points to his credit.

Williams alternated its attack against both sides of the court and down the middle. Wilson and Boynton were effective as a running guard offense. The passing was extremely good, the ball being taken into the Amherst territory most of the time. Amherst endeavored to play a back court game and work a delayed dribble, but failed to make most of her shots good. The referee was very strict, nineteen fouls being called on the Amherst team to twelve on the Purple. Four Amherst players and one Williams man were put off the court for personal fouls.

Williams started the game with a rush, scoring eleven points on three fouls and (Continued on page 4, column 2)

PURPLE FACES R. P. I. AND HAMILTON IN RACE

Williams Enters Team in Open Meet in State Armory at Albany Tonight

Williams will face Hamilton College and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in a medley relay race, which is the feature of an open track meet to be held Monday evening in the State Armory, Albany, in connection with the indoor championships of the Adirondack Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of America. In addition to the relay race Williams will have several entries in the open events.

The relay race is run with four-man teams, the first man running 220 yards, the second 440 yards, the third 880 yards, and the last one mile. Although the team and the order in which they will run has not been definitely decided as yet, the following men have been entered for the relay, and will probably run in the order named: Coddling, Mendes, Richmond, and Crofts, with Stowers as alternate.

In addition to the relay event, Coan and Fasse will be entered in the 1000 yard run, and Mendes in the 300 yard dash, while in case Coddling is replaced by Stowers in the relay race, he will also be entered in (Continued on page 3, column 4)

LETZ QUARTET WILL PLAY HERE TOMORROW

Prominent and Popular Musical Organization to Appear in Thompson Course

Few musical organizations have attained such prominence and popularity in a short time as has the Letz Quartet, which will appear here in the fifth number of the Thompson Course at 8:15 o'clock in the Grace Hall Auditorium tomorrow evening. The Letz players, who are entering their fourth season, form one of the premier string quartets of the country and have appeared this winter before most of the leading schools and colleges of the East.

Mr. Letz, the founder and leader of the quartet, was for several years the concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and later the second violin of the famous Kneisel Quartet. In his associates he has been fortunate in obtaining men not only of great individual skill, but also of wide experience in the rarely difficult field of ensemble playing. Mr. Letz, who plays first violin, is also well-known as a soloist with the leading American orchestras of New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, and other cities.

Sandor Harmati, the second violin, was first introduced in New York by David Popper, the composer-cellist, with whom he appeared for several seasons. Edward Kreiner, player of the viola, is a native of Poland, who studied with Henri Marteau in Berlin and later became a member of the Marteau Quartet, one of the most famous organizations of its kind on the continent, with which he toured extensively through the principal musical centers of Europe. Lajos Shuk, 'cello, who joined the quartet for the first time this season, has been soloist with leading orchestras in Berlin, Prague, and Budapest, and has even given recitals in such remote places as Constantinople and Sofia.

The repertoire of the Letz Quartet includes not only the masterpieces of the classic and romantic schools, but also the most worthy contributions of modern composers. Mr. Letz spent the past summer in Europe and brought back a number of new works of unusual interest, which (Continued on page 3, column 2)

The Breach Widened

If the members of the faculty scoffed at the idea of any antagonism, any lack of sympathy between undergraduate and professor, which was mentioned in these columns a short time ago, they can now rest easy! For if it did not exist before, they have created it in the minds of a large number of students by the ruling on weekend dances.

Under present regulations the status is now that only two houseparties a year are to be allowed. This undoubtedly puts Williams in a class by itself. To our knowledge there is not another college or university of importance in this section of the country, or in any other, where social activities are restricted to two parties in the College year. There may be exceptions to this generalization, but at least at Amherst, Wesleyan, Yale, Union, Colgate, and Hamilton, to mention a few cases, week-end dances are approved by the authorities and are considered a part of the social life of the institutions.

Moreover, this action seems inconsistent. With its right hand the faculty dispenses lamentations at the frequency with which undergraduates leave Williamstown over the week-ends, and with its left it clamps down such restrictions that to find any legitimate amusements the student is forced to leave town. Either that or he must resort to the dubious attractions of neighboring mill-towns, or still more dubious "stag-parties." Does the faculty consider the latter type of diversion preferable to dances held under the auspices of fraternities, at which friends and families of the undergraduates are entertained?

It seems almost ridiculous to think that the members of the faculty, college men themselves, should take such action to kill such social life as dances afford. The geographical isolation of Williamstown has always been a source of regret in this regard, and even the faculty have been heard to lament the fact that the result was a consequent lack of social activity.

That the faculty recognizes the necessity of the social element in every-day life seems to be evinced by the fact that several dances have already been held by that body this year and at least one more is planned. Is it not possible that dances are as valuable and enjoyable to members of the student body as they are to members of the faculty?

We believe that there should at least be some modification made in the ruling.
Parties which extend over two days undoubtedly do interfere with the work in the four classes on Saturday morning.
That is, if a fraternity should give three dances a year, there would be three days out of approximately 250 on which the members of that fraternity would be poorly prepared. Admitting that this is a terrible evil, however, there is still this possibility open. Dances might be allowed on Saturdays, when there are no classes to be prepared for the following day, and the parties might be regulated as they are at Amherst, extending through the afternoon and evening. This is difficult for a College in such a place as Williamstown, without the advantage of neighboring women's colleges, but it would at least be something, and it is difficult to see how such dances would be "incompatible with obligations to regular college work."

As the ruling now stands, at any rate, it is little short of "prep-schoolish," as it has become styled. If we are to have the cooperation and mutual understanding that we have pleaded for previously in these columns, some other plan of campaign than that represented by the sudden and summary abolishment of fraternity dances will have to be adopted.

The Basketball Season

Ending with a burst of glory in which Amherst was decisively defeated for the second time, and the score of the Trophy of Trophies brought to a tie, the basketball team has completed what is, in many respects a highly successful season. Coach Shanahan, Captain Beckwith, and all members of the team are to be complimented on the work they have done. Starting with a scarcity of material, Coach Shanahan had a hard task before him in developing a strong team, and the work he has done is highly creditable. To him are due the hearty thanks of the student body for his labors during the past few months.

Managerial Elections

The accompanying communication from members of the sophomore class introduces again a question which has often been discussed. This time the proposal is particularly forceful in that it is made by sophomores themselves.

Both proposals made in the letter are, we believe, valuable suggestions. The adoption of either would improve the present system. Of the two, we consider the second preferable, for it would eliminate even more thoroughly the case of the man who works hard throughout the competition when he has, in fact, no chance whatever of finally receiving the position.
If the preliminary voting is done by the class in a careful manner, only those men will be passed who are of such caliber that they have at least a fair chance in the College elections to follow. And, at the same time, the advantage of voting on only those men who receive the highest recommendations would be retained.
Moreover, this system is in successful operation at several colleges already, including Princeton and Dartmouth.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

SUGGEST ELECTION CHANGE

Editor-in-Chief of the Record:

Sir:
In the recent election of assistant managers of football, hockey, and swimming, it was noticed that, due to the vote of the Sophomore class, one man, whose recommendation was among the highest was put out of the running, and his name did not appear on the ballots presented to the college body. In other cases, men whose recommendations were high were replaced by men whose averages were lower.

This means that the voting of the Sophomore class was principally on the basis of popularity, and, in the case of at least one man, was obviously unfair.

The ballots used in the college election held the names of the candidates in the order of their recommendations; and it was noted that a large number of individuals cast their vote in this order. This shows that the college, as a whole, picks the men with the highest recommendations, those who more truly deserve the position—while the Sophomore class picks those who are most popular. It may be argued that the members of the Sophomore class are the more fitted to choose the men in their class best calculated to represent the college in the position of manager, but we feel that it is unfair to out a man out of the competition simply because he is not as popular as someone else, especially when, by virtue of the work he has done, he better deserves the office than some other man.

Therefore, we should like to suggest either of two remedies. First: let the college body, in electing assistant managers, vote on the five men receiving the highest recommendations of the committee, thus doing away with the Sophomore class vote on these names, or, second:
let the Sophomores pass upon the names of the competitors at the beginning of the competition; let these men, chosen by the class, be the ones who do the work during the competition, and have the college

Williams won the basketball game against Amherst last Saturday night, but I wonder how many of the Freshman class are as yet aware of the fact. Certainly any evidence of the fact is noticeable by its absence. A 34-19 victory over Amherst is indeed good news worthy to be announced by the prolonged ringing of bells, required by ancient custom. The failure to do so is not to be lightly pardoned, particularly in view of more careless laxness in similar instances during the last year. Are the Freshman President and class officers completely exonerated, or is it beneath the dignity of the Student Council to notice such minor details as the preservation of college spirit in all its forms at Williams?

OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

Editor of the Williams Record:
Dear Sir:—

In the news columns of this issue is a notice to all sophomores interested in the work of the Press Club to report this evening in order to have the rules of the competition for membership on the board explained. But I wish to take this opportunity of presenting to all members of the Sophomore class the opportunity for service offered by this organization, which, though little known, seems to a good many of us to be of real importance to Williams.
Just now this may seem like an exaggerated statement because it is only this year that a serious attempt has been made to raise the Press Club from a group of men writing for three or four well-paying newspapers, to an organization whose aim is to give Williams the widest publicity possible in the newspapers and preparatory school papers of the country. But we feel that some progress has been made and we appeal for men to continue the work in the spirit of service to Williams with which it has been started this year. So far at least, membership on the board can offer little more than an opportunity for real service. The remuneration, with but five of the eighteen papers that receive regular service paying for news, and with the outlay involved for paper and postage and notices to preparatory schools of activities of their alumni at Williams, is negligible. Of course there is the hope that as the organization yields greater and greater service to Williams it will come to receive the recognition it deserves among undergraduate activities. But we sincerely trust that this opportunity for real service, even with practically no financial remuneration and with recognition on the campus as only a possibility of the future, will bring forth good men, capable of doing the work well and of making material progress toward the ideal of the present board.

Three teams, Commons Club, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi, are tied for the lead in League A, each having won one game, while Delta Upsilon is tied with Phi Delta Theta in League B, with a record of three victories and no defeats, as a result of the past week's play in the intramural League. The characteristic low scores and rough play have prevailed in practically every game.

Progress in both leagues has been unusually slow owing to the large number of games which have been postponed but with the increased opportunities for play afforded by the close of the varsity season, progress should be rapid from now on. Only four games have been played during the past week, three in League B and one in League A.

The results of the week's games were as follows:

League A—Zeta Psi beat Psi Upsilon,
6 to 4.

League B—Delta Upsilon beat Chi Psi,
14 to 4; Theta Delta Chi beat the Faculty Club, 13 to 3; the Faculty Club beat
Delta Psi 6 to 5.

In the latter part of the half the Purple slumped but Amherst failed to take advantage. The Amherst passing was poor throughout the half, which ended, Williams 19—Amherst 10.

The game slowed up somewhat in the second half, but Williams was able to maintain the lead it had built up in the game without much effort. Pease was substituted for Boynton when the latter was put off the court for four personal fouls. Before the half ended, four Amherst men had been ruled off for the same reason. Amherst started a rally toward the end of the half with four freshmen playing but they were able to secure only two baskets before the whistle blew.

Commenting on the work of the team after the game, Coach Shanahan said: "The men on the team played a heady brand of basketball and carried a victory over Amherst. I want to thank the men who came out for the team, the managers and the assistants, and the college body in general for the whole-hearted support they have given me in turning out a winning combination. In spite of the fact that we lost the first three games at home, the students have never wavered in their support of the team and I feel deeply indebted to all concerned. It has been a pleasure to work with the players and I have enjoyed the company of the men in College. There have been no unpleasant memories connected with my service as coach and I have indeed enjoyed every moment of my time spent in Williamstown."

Monjo and H. Melon '23 and Hank '22 composed the outfield. Boynton '21 will join the squad in the near future and will

Peanuts
Laddie Boy
The H. C. L. and Hammers
Artichoke Propaganda
By Arthur Hasbeen.

The action of the peanut trust recently (as exclusively announced in Williamstown's papers) is plainly indicative of the fact that there is a coalition between England and Japan to run the industries of the United States. We are not sure just what the peanut trust did, but we are sure that such a coalition exists. Anyway, Mr. Wurst says so, and he pays my salary.

Does the American people realize this terrible danger that threatens the homes of all 100% Americans such as You, Me, and Mr. Wurst? Already we see advertised Jap-a-Lee, and English mutton chops. These are a part of a far-reaching plot to down most of us in that deadly Jap fluid Jap-a-Lee, and knock the rest of us over the heads with mutton chops.

Yesterday Mr. Harding played golf. And while the president enjoyed himself on the links, Laddie Boy, his faithful dog, lay on the White House Steps and watched for the return of his master. Think of this touching spectacle of affection and faithfulness! Did President Wilson have a dog that waited for him while he played golf? Not if President Wilson had had a dog that would have waited for him while he played golf, we undoubtedly would have had a better treaty at Versailles. This is a searching psychological truth that J. Arthur Hasbeen, have ferreted out because of the master intellect for which Mr. Wurst pays me $1,000,000,000,000 a year. (I am undoubtedly the greatest journalist in the country—Adv.)

Yesterday a woman killed her husband with a hammer. Think of such a terrible state of affairs. What's the world coming to when a wife will deliberately kill her husband with a hammer? It is an other example of what the high cost of living is doing to the nation. If prices were as low as they were in England, the wife which we were led to England, she would not have committed this crime. The world has had a bad day, money is

White Opposing Yokes on Shirt Front—More News Received
By International News Service

London, March 17.—It is reported that Saint Patrick's Day is being celebrated in the city of Pettygrub today in honor of the great Russian hero whose birthday is being universally celebrated in all civilized countries as well as in Russia, and the report states that vodka is flowing like the beard of Bytynix, the great leader of the Soviet forces.

Port Kaiti, leader of the Bolshevik hoards, retired from his position early this morning, and it is said that his army is in pursuit, though far outnumbered by their commander. The embargo on razors is still in effect, a circumstance that is in favor of the Bolsheviks, for the normal Russian beard is the same color as the ground, making it an effective camouflage. It is said that an army of Whites is opposing the Yokes on the Shirt Front, though the casualties of what is said to be a stiff encounter have not been received. Lists of men killed in January, 1919, have just been received at the War office, and the delay is attributed to the fact that the names of the men killed were so long that it took 24 men over two weeks to tabulate the names of 200 soldiers.

The following radiogram was received from our special correspondent, Serge Pantley, who is attempting to follow one of the armies: "I don't know who I'm with or where we are going or why, but it is reported that we are winning." Since the dispatch failed to give any indication

COLLEAGUES HYPHENATED DISAGREE ON GUM

By International News Service

Washington, D. C., March 17, 1921.—In an interview granted especially to the Record-American representative this afternoon, Congressman Twiddledeedee, of Missouri, declared emphatically that the solution of the weighty problems now facing the country depends upon the appropriation of $11,111,111.11 for the providing of free chewing gum for male white citizens over fifty-two years of age. Such an appropriation, in the opinion of Congressman Twiddledeedee, would not only relieve the present industrial unrest by furnishing employment for the thousands of sugar-sprinklers now out of work, but would also strengthen the maxillary muscles of persons on the verge of senile maxillary weakness, thus enabling them to give more forcible verbal advice toward

OYSTER TRIANGLE SLIPPERY CASE FOR POLICE

Mystery, deep and unfathomable, lurid with the fires of unrestrained passion, and shrouded in the smoke of intrigue among the upper echelons of society, is today baffling the keen intellects of the local authorities as the result of the discovery in a lonely and unfrequented spot of the dead body of a beautiful young woman, a blonde, about 28 years of age, whose identity bids fair to remain one of the unsolved secrets of the annals of criminology.

Death was caused by a compound fracture of the rhododendron brought about with a blow from a handsomely embroidered filigree soup spoon, of antique Chinese design, found not far from the corpse in a pool of blood which had ensanguined the landscape for several miles around.

The gruesome find was made at about 2:39:27 a. m. by passengers who had just arrived on the Boston-San Francisco express due here at 9:30 p. m. The homicide, fratricide, patricide, matricide, suicide, inside, and outside squads, together with officers of the Salvation Army, were despatched to the scene of the crime with the utmost speed, under the able command of Detective George Whyne, acknowledged to be one of the unmastered minds of the defective universe. Investigation with microscopes and seismographs the footprints leading away from the body disclosed the startling facts that the beautiful unknown had seven gold teeth, and that she had been stricken down in the course of a midnight rendezvous by the man she loved and trusted, while that man was under the influence of liquor and jealousy of a rival suitor.

Further investigation revealed that the murderer was a man slightly past middle age, of virile, athletic build; that he moved with quick, birdlike movements; that he possessed artistic taste, and that he abhorred moving pictures. Detective Whyne, although he went so far as to claim knowledge of the identity of the jealous suitor, was unwilling to give his name to the representatives of the press, fearing mob violence at the hands of infuriated friends of the murdered woman. Neither would the great expert say who was the woman's friend until after he had indulged in a period of profound meditation at a late hour on the steps of a prominent locality.

CLUES DISCOVERED
Several clues of paramount importance were brought to light by a thorough search of the ground nowhere near which the body was located. First and foremost of these is a treatise entitled The Home-Life of the Cape Cod Oyster. The book is expected to form an important link in the testimony, as the fly-leaf bears the inscription, "To Ruby, from ———." Additional writing in code appears on the inside sheets in a female hand.

REVOLUTION CONVULS ITALY

Rome, March 18.—Revolution has broken out in the southern part of the country, according to recent reports received from reliable sources, which state that the cause of the revolution was the government's failure to force the arms of the revolutionaries to Italy through the entire length of the country. In a noble attempt to prevent the officials of the government from attempting to excuse their results by declaring that it was impossible to force more than a yard of a mile of free verse to the people, with their natural wit, are supposed to have sent the officials, stating that they were willing to undergo a shorter standard length, but it is alleged that the officials of the government were obstinate.

D'Annunzio, believing that mightier than the sword, read of a mile of free verse to the multitude who were invading the safety in Venice streets. He looked at him, it is said, and the up of the address impressed D'Annunzio some fear for his in the mob made an attempt to handle on the pistol, and the hanging him by a rope of the food

White Opposing Yokes on Shirts Front—More News Received

London, March 17—It is reported that Saint Patrick's Day is being celebrated in the city of Pettygrab today in honor of the great Russian hero whose birthday is being universally celebrated in all civilized countries as well as in Russia, and the report states that vodka is flowing like the beard of Bytynin, the great leader of the Soviet forces.

YESTERDAY TRIANGLE SLIPPERY CASE FOR POLICE
Mystery, deep and unfathomable, lurid with the fires of unrequited passion, and shrouded in the smoke of intrigue among the upper echelons of society, is today baffling the keen intellects of the local authorities as the result of the discovery in a lonely and unfrequented spot of the dead body of a beautiful young woman, a blonde, about 38 years of age, whose identity bids fair to remain one of the unsolved secrets of criminology.

"X" Marks the Sequestered and Unfrequented Spot Where the Body of the Beautiful Unknown Was Discovered

Death was caused by a compound fracture of the rhododendron brought about with a blow from a handsomely embroidered filigree soup spoon, of antique Chinese design, found not far from the corpse in a pool of blood which had engorged the landscape for several miles around.

The gruesome find was made at about 2:30 a. m. by passengers who had just arrived on the Boston-San Francisco express due here at 9:30 p. m. The homicide, fratricide, patricide, matricide, suicide, inside, and outside squads, together with officers of the Salvation Army, were despatched to the scene of the crime with the utmost speed, under the able command of Detective George Whyte, acknowledged to be one of the untrained minds of the defective universe. Investigation with microscopes and seismographs of the footprints leading away from the body disclosed the startling fact that the beautiful unknown had seven gold teeth, and that she had been stricken down in the course of a midnight rendezvous by the man she loved and trusted, while that man was under the influence of licentious and jealousy of a rival swain.

Further investigation revealed that the murderer was a man slightly past middle age, of virile, athletic build; that he moved with quick, birdlike movements, that he possessed artistic taste, and that he abhorred moving pictures. Detective Whyte, although he went so far as to claim knowledge of the identity of the jealous suitor, was unwilling to give his name to the representatives of the press, fearing mob violence at the hands of infuriated friends of the murdered woman. Neither would he give any information as to the woman's friends until after he had indulged in a period of profound meditation at a late hour on the steps of a prominent hotel.

CLUES DISCOVERED
Several clues of paramount importance were brought to light by a thorough search of the ground nowhere near which the body was located. First and foremost of these is a treatise entitled The Home Life of the Cape Cod Oyster. The book is expected to form an important link in the testimony as the By-leaf bears the inscription, "To Ruby, from —" the name of the donor being indecipherable. Additional writing in code appears on the inside sheets in a female hand. A personal reconnaissance by a Record-American reporter brought to light the

Yesterday Mr. Harding played golf, while the president enjoyed himself on the links, Laddie Boy, his faithful dog, lay on the White House steps and watched for the return of his master. Think of this touching spectacle of affection and faithfulness! Did President Wilson have a dog that waited for him while he played golf? No! If President Wilson had had a dog that would have waited for him while he played golf, we undoubtedly would have had a better treaty at Versailles. This is a searching psychological truth that J. Arthur Hasboun, have ferreted out because of the master intellect for which Mr. Wurst pays me $1,000,000,000,000 a year. (I am undoubtedly the greatest journalist in the country.—Adv.)

Yesterday a woman killed her husband with a hammer. Think of such a terrible state of affairs. What is the world coming to when a wife will deliberately kill her husband with a hammer? It is another example of what the high cost of living is doing to the nation. If prices were as low as they were before the war, we would not have committed the crime. We would not have had a woman buy a revolver for $10.00, and then use it to kill her husband. This is a terrible example of what the high cost of living is doing to the nation. If prices were as low as they were before the war, we would not have committed the crime. We would not have had a woman buy a revolver for $10.00, and then use it to kill her husband. This is a terrible example of what the high cost of living is doing to the nation.

FLAGS FLY FREELY FROM WHITE HOUSE
Washington, March 17—Secretary of State Hoge and Secretary of War Weeks stated that a signal victory was gained by the administration when Mrs. Warren G. Harding, the first lady of the United States, in a spirited bridge game held in the Executive Mansion today, came off an easy winner, suffering only the negligible loss of a square yard or so of epidermis and a fistful of hair. The casualties were sustained when the visiting ladies claimed that Mrs. Harding had stacked the deck.

COLLEAGUES HYPHENATED DISAGREE ON GUM
By International News Service
Washington, D. C., March 17, 1921—In an interview granted especially to the Record-American representative this afternoon, Congressman Twiddledee, of Missouri, declared emphatically that the solution of the weighty problems now facing the country depends upon the appropriation of $1,111,111,111.11 for the providing of free chewing gum for male white citizens over fifty-two years of age. Such an appropriation, in the opinion of Congressman Twiddledee, would not only relieve the present industrial unrest by furnishing employment for the thousands of sugar-sprinklers now out of work, but would also strengthen the maxillary muscles of persons on the verge of senility, whose place of concealment has not yet been discovered.

AMERICAN SIGNS
By International News Service
Brookfield, Conn., March 17, 1921—William Handout Wurst, of this city, the notorious Red White and Blue publisher, has been forced to take out naturalization papers by the Village Council of New York, U. S. A., in accordance with a newly-adopted street-cleaning policy of that village. The announcement comes as a distinct blow to his many proof-readers, head-writers, sign-painters, news-carriers and truck-drivers, who were closely connected with him during his heyday, and also to his friends, whose place of concealment has not yet been discovered.

four goals from the floor before the Amherst team got started. Blackmer, Johnston and Wilson were responsible for the field baskets, the last scoring a beautiful shot from the center of the court. In the latter part of the half the Purple-shingled Amherst failed to take advantage of the Amherst passing was poor throughout the half, which ended, Williams 19, Amherst 10.

The game showed up somewhat in the second half, but Williams was able to maintain the lead it acquired early in the game without much effort. Pease was substituted for Boynton when the latter was put off the court for four personal fouls. Before the half ended, four Amherst men had been ruled off for the same reason. Amherst started a rally toward the end of the half with four freshmen playing but they were able to score only two baskets before the whistle blew.

Commenting on the work of the team after the game, Coach Shannahan said: "The men on the team played a heady brand of basketball and earned a victory over Amherst. I want to thank the men who came out for the team, the managers and the assistants, and the college body in general for the wholehearted support they have given me in turning out a winning combination. In spite of the fact that we lost the first three games at home, the students have never wavered in their support of the team and I feel deeply indebted to all concerned. It has been a pleasure to work with the players and I have enjoyed the company of the men in College. There have been no unpleasant incidents connected with my service as coach and I have indeed enjoyed every moment of my time spent in Williamstown."

more than 20 people have been killed in London during the past week, an example of the relentless oppression of Erin by England. 99 of these people died from pneumonia poisoning from artichokes canned by England. What could be more conclusive proof that England is carrying on a hidden warfare to wipe out every man, woman and child in Ireland? Think of this: the artichoke propaganda, which penetrates even to the farthest of the sun of artichokes! Further proof that this poisoning was deliberate is found in the fact that a correspondent for the Revolutionary News Service discovered through the highest source that it was alleged to have been said that some one in authority was thought to have made the statement that a rumor had reached his ears that the cans themselves were of English manufacture, and that an official of the English foreign office was said to have been seen walking down the street near the factory in 1917. What could be more conclusive? This is sure proof that Mr. William Handout Wurst is a great man.

Peanuts
Laddie Boy
The H. C. L. and Hammers
Artichoke Propaganda

By Arthur Hasbeen

The action of the peanut trust recently (as exclusively announced in William Handout Wurst's papers) is plainly indicative of the fact that there is a coalition between England and Japan to run the industries of the United States. We are not sure just what the peanut trust did, but we are sure that such a coalition exists. Anyway, Mr. Wurst says so, and he pays my salary.

Does the American people realize this terrible danger that threatens the houses of all 100% Americans such as You, Me, and Mr. Wurst? Already we see advertised Jap-a-Lac, and English mutton chops! These are a part of a far-reaching plot to drown most of us in this daily Jap fluid Jap-a-Lac, and knock the rest of us over the heads with mutton chops.

Yesterday Mr. Harding played golf. And while the president enjoyed himself on the links, Laddie Boy, his faithful dog, lay on the White House steps and watched for the return of his master. Think of this touching spectacle of affection and faithfulness! Did President Wilson have a dog that waited for him while he played golf? No! If President Wilson had had a dog that would have waited for him while he played golf, we undoubtedly would have had a better treaty at Versailles. This is a searching psychological survey of the casualties of what is said to be a stiff encounter have not been received. Lists of men killed in January, 1919, have just been received at the War office, and the delay is attributed to the fact that the names of the men killed were so long that it took 24 men over two weeks to tabulate the names of 200 soldiers.

The following radiogram was received from our special correspondent, Serge Fantsky, who is attempting to follow one of the armies: "I don't know who I'm with or where we are going or why, but it is reported that we are winning." Since the dispatch failed to give any indication as to where it was sent from, it is impossible to state exactly what part of the country the army is stationed in, but it is probable that the troops are not far from where they were at this time last month.

REVOLUTION CONVULSES ITALY

By Revolutionary News Service

Rome, March 18—Revolution has broken out in the southern part of Italy, according to recent reports received from reliable sources, which state that the cause of the revolution was the failure of the government to force the Anagninatus Spaghetti Spinners of Italy to bore holes through the entire length of the product. In a noble attempt to prevent disturbance, the officials of the government attempted to accuse their insubordination by declaring that it was impossible to bore through more than a yard and a half of the national dish. The representatives of the people, with their natural sense of wit, are supposed to have sent a reply to the officials, stating that they would be willing to undergo a shortening of the standard length, but it is alleged that the government was obstinate.

D'Annunzio, believing that the pen is mightier than the sword, read off a quartet of a mile of free verse to the assembled multitude who were waving the flags of Safety in Venice streets. The crowds perched at him, it is said, making the hearing of the address impossible, and causing D'Annunzio some fear for his life. Men in the mob made an attempt to lay violent hands on the patriot, and threatened to hang him by a rope of the food he was des-

CHORUS GIRL CALLS BROWN EDITOR "OILCAN" INDIGNANT OVER HIS EXPOSE OF MODERN FEMALE

Providence, R. I.—March 17. (Special to the RECORD-AMERICAN.) Threatened with blackmail, Hira Hall, editor-in-chief of the Brown Daily Herald, and author of a widely circulated expose of the immorality of modern day girls, was removed to the college infirmary today, it is reported, suffering from a nervous breakdown. His dazzling expose was brilliantly answered in a letter from Sara Showall, a chorus girl in the employ of the "Pretty Baby Revue" company.

"WHAT AN OILCAN," EXCLAIMS SARA

Miss Showall, when interviewed by a representative of the RECORD-AMERICAN, is alleged to have said "What an oilcan he turned out to be. I always liked Hira before I went up to his frat houseparty, and then he had the nerve to publish all my innermost secrets. Well, I'll fix him."

"It was this way. I met him at the station, and he being as drunk as usual, immediately tried to kiss me." "Did you let him?" queried the reporter. "What! In front of all the people—I should say not. That's the whole point. He's jealous because he saw everybody kissing their girls. I can't tell you all about the actions that he tried to carry off. I'm sure that not even one of the Worst papers would ever think of publishing it."

Miss Showall is alleged to have upheld her stand on blackmailing the young man, on the basis that his story ruined the proposition she had for opening a chain of corset-checking stands, one or more in every college town.

HALL'S MOTHER INTERVIEWED

As soon as the report of the sensational action of the chorus girl was received by the RECORD-AMERICAN, a reporter was dispatched to Hingham, Massachusetts, where the mother of the accused lives. She was prostrated with grief at the terrible exposure of the actions of her son, and said that she would immediately send a competent governess to Providence to see that her angel child was kept in a straight path, if not in a straight jacket.

"Hira was always a model boy," said Mrs. Hall between spells of weeping, "and I took pride in the fact that he always went to bed at nine o'clock. He was president of the Christian Endeavor at church, and all the ladies thought that he was the nicest boy in the parish. I cannot understand what is wrong with him since he went to college. I will probably take him out at once, that is, if he doesn't promise to be good."

squares on the Mohawk Trail, about six miles from here. Immediately upon receipt of this report, a RECORD-AMERICAN reporter was assigned to measure the distances from this city for five miles in every direction with a yardstick, in an attempt to find out the exact point that this bump magnate is trying to purchase. At last reports, the press representative had measured in the direction of Williamstown, and found that Mission Park was the limit of the five-mile radius. Despite the fact that this location is not exactly on the Mohawk Trail, revolution is said to be arising among the townfolk of Williamstown, who declare that they will protest any intrusion upon their traditional spooning grounds.

trunks of the dead woman, which could not be opened without the aid of a tinsmith, who has been summoned from Canfield. It is believed that the trunks will be found to contain two things intimately connected with the golden-haired victim whose mortal remains now adorn an undertaker's slab. One of these should be her diary, according to Hoylo, and the other might be almost anything, possibly a packet of love letters, tied in magenta ribbon and perfumed with eau de kerosene. Both articles will contribute materially to the identification of the murdered girl.

STATE COUNTS ON BOOK TO HELP
It is about the book on the oysters that the State will center its conduct of the prosecution. A careful study of the code writing on its inside pages has revealed that the young woman had been very much impressed with the chronic nervousness of bivalves. On one page is a sentence stating that she had decided to devote her life to the uplift of the poor creatures, for the reason that they have always received such raw treatment.

LOVER'S QUARREL BELIEVED
Only one witness has thus far been called before the police. He was Shorwood O'Saickerman whose testimony was disappointing, inasmuch as he was expected to be of great assistance on account of his accurate knowledge of the Apache language, but none of the investigators could understand his peculiar mode of speech.

It seems certain, however, that a lover's quarrel, growing out of the favor shown the mysterious "X" on second of his consideration for oysters, led to the murder of the young woman by the man who had unwittingly destroyed his own happiness by giving the girl of his life the book which was to close her heart to him and open it to his rival. This is on the hypothesis that Robert Astor Whyte is conducting the case, in which additional features are expected hourly to disclose themselves, that being the only way in which they will ever be disclosed.

It is reported on reliable authority that the daily murder train in Oxcow has been increased to 20, due to the fact that refugees from the interior have experienced difficulty in obtaining comfortable beds in the city. White bread was quoted at three kopeks per loaf in all markets today in the capital, but there is none to be had. People are seen everywhere waiting to get some when it does arrive. The German Red Army Whyte is organizing, recruited from the pickpockets in German prisons, are doing noble work, and are carrying off everything in sight, it is reported.

LOCAL TAXI MAGNATE Baffles Physician

Spartanmouth, N. H., March 17—Doctors are greatly interested in the development of a strange case of brachycephalus septuaginta from which a local taxi magnate, E. D. Groody, is now suffering. The aged man sustained a severe cut on his right hand while shaving a corn with a razor two days ago and blood poisoning set in. The fact that Mr. Groody, who is a veteran of the Great War, has a cork arm from his shoulder to his elbow makes the sad case all the more interesting and affords the attending physicians great latitude in experimenting with modern cures without causing the patient any additional pain. Dr. Ethereal Radiance has charge of the case.

ADVOCATES WOOD AS RAIL FUEL

Gasspilled Tells How To Conserve On Rail Expenses

Declaring that better results could be obtained, Dr. Tarry Gasspilled president of the Williams Theological Seminary and former United States Fuel Administrator, advocated the government control of railroads in his annual appearance before the school here today. He urged that all coal be placed in the hands of the Secretary of Commerce, and that the overflow be placed in the manual appendages of the Secretary of Agriculture, according to reports received at the RECORD-AMERICAN office late today.

Coal could be easily conserved, Dr. Gasspilled is said to have said, by forcing all railroads to burn wood. Another method recommended for the conservation of fuel supplies was that the speed of all trains be limited to seven miles per hour. A RECORD-AMERICAN representative who interviewed an official of the Boston and Maine railroad, declared that the official said that his railway was in favor of the movement and would cooperate fully in the event that Dr. Gasspilled's advice was carried out. The official added that he doubted whether the B. and M. would be greatly affected if the new regulation should go into effect, and his sentiments were backed up by all residents in the vicinity of the line.

President Gasspilled said, it is understood from reliable sources, that the railroads were not nearly as badly run as it is commonly believed. His audience gave his assent, declaring that conditions were worse than reported. The meeting closed with the singing of "I've Been Working on the Railroad," led by the speaker, and closely followed by the superintendent of the College Heating Plant.

TUGBOAT IN MYSTERY WRECK

By International News Service

Somewhere in Canada—March 17—The tugboat "Roscoe Arbuckle" has been reported aground in Green River, a small stream in one of the mountain provinces of Canada, and the captain is at a loss for an explanation as to how his ship was steered into the stream, due to the fact that the river is entirely surrounded by mountains. Mutiny has broken out in the crew, and the men are said to be rapidly walking ashore.

It was feared at first that the weight of the cargo caused the boat to be marooned on a bar, but further investigation showed that the annual hatch of doughnuts, which was stored in bins in the starboard coal-bunker had lowered the waterline of the ship to such an extent that navigation was impossible. The cook was immediately fired (overboard), and no further mishaps in this vicinity are predicted due to the fact that the cook's head is said to be stuck fast in the muddy bottom of the stream, with his legs in such a position as to give an effective warning of the shallowness of the water to all passing vessels.

the conduct of the administration. "And advice," concluded Congressman Twiddledee, "is what the administration most needs, for that is what the administration has nothing else but of."

DENIES COLLEAGUE'S STATEMENT
Taking violent exception to the statement of his colleague, Congressman Twiddledee, in regard to an appropriation for free chewing gum, Congressman Twiddledee today asserted that the situation can be saved only by an immediate stoppage of the importation of pignolia nuts. In advocating this step, Congressman Twiddledee said that pignolia nuts are non-essentials, as Missouri produces all the nuts needed in this country; and that, as the use of pignolia nuts produces thirst, it will be necessary, inside of the next five million years, to increase the nation's water supply by drawing on the Mississippi River. This would so far deplete that stream as to bring Missouri into direct contact with the United States. "Such a catastrophe is not to be thought of," declared Congressman Twiddledee, "as it is not provided for in the Versailles treaty, and no mention of Missouri and Borneo is made in the Monroe Doctrine."

DUMFREAK TO ENFORCE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Captain Dumfreak, local sleuth and keeper of the bloodhounds, has declared his intention of enforcing all of the Ten Commandments within the limits of Williamsstown. ## DROPEARS TO ABSTAIN FROM FOOD AND DRINK

As a practical demonstration of his theory concerning the unruliness of space and time, Prof. Dropears of Williams College has announced his intention of abstaining from all food and drink for an indefinite period. Local scientists and undertakers are interested in the experiment.

UNDERSIZED BRICKS USED

Reports coming out of the local jail indicate that a scandal has been committed in connection with the recent announcement that the bricks for the new Williamstown Institute Library, which are being designed and executed in the local town refrigerator, are 3-19 of an inch too short per capita.

All the detectives assigned to the case are in a haze. The only pertinent information obtainable has been furnished by the leader of the RECORD-AMERICAN bloodhound force, which was put on the job last night and unraveled the mystery at an early hour this morning. According to current gossip, the local contractor has contradicted the contraction of the bricks in question, alleging that a false report credited to an unnamed "mystery woman" who is said to have been vitally concerned in the disposition of the profits believed to have accrued from the suspected shortening of the bricks has caused the unfounded charges of graft he believes to have been leveled against him. That a mysterious female is on the receiving end of the dishonest transaction involving the fair name of the Institute in question is scandal is the theory of the local motion picture magnates, who are indirectly quoted as having confessed that three women were able to pay their way into last night's performance. Consequently a platoon of carefully trained policemen armed with pecker-books was stationed outside the cinema doors late this morning, but no further developments have yet been reported from that quarter.

An official despatch from Brickville Junction via Brickville Corners contains the announcement that a blue-print of the library has been discovered, fastened to a $2.00 bill, between four horribly mangled human bodies, supposed to have been implicated in the scandal before their unlooked-for demise. It is expected that the library in question will be completed by the transplanting of the chapel tower, which will no doubt be more serviceable in its new position.

HAPPINESS COMES TO PAT'S HOME

Oboe Player Liberally Rewarded by Steal Magnate

Happiness and prosperity now reign in the home of Patrick O'Flanagan, the poor but talented Polish oboe player. No longer does Pat rail at the unequal distribution of wealth and the cruel arrogance of the leisure class, because he knows now that generous hearts throb even under hard boiled shirts and heavy gold watch chains, to say nothing of red flannel unders.

Yesterday young Pat junior was playing happily in the gutter before the home of his sire, innocently amusing himself by stripping the hide from the neighbor's cat with a can opener. His rosy young cheeks glowed with exuberant health and his bright young eyes sparkled with mischief as he discontinued his exploration of Tabby's intestinal organs long enough to pluck an over ripe tomato from the gurgling torrent of sewage which swirled about his chubby legs and heave it with laudable accuracy at the shining silk hat of a passer-by.

After this childish prank the youngster decided to transfer his activities to other fields, being perhaps hastened in his decision by the altogether unreasonable wrath of the recipient of his recent fling offering, who, armed with a heavy club, was descending upon the lad. But boys will be boys, and after succeeding in covering the choleric stranger with mud and slime, young Patrick ducked under his arm and fled across the street.

Thus at this point that a tragedy almost occurred for Otto Gheubelcher, the wealthy steal magnate, happened at this moment to be rolling down that very street in his bright and shiny Pierce Sparrow. There was a scream, a grinding of brakes, and a pathetic little body lay broken and mangled upon the highway. But Otto's heart is full of sympathy for youth and life, and he ordered his chauffeur to descend and press a token of love into the little mangled hand. When Patrick senior returned from the corner saloon that night he found the lifeless body of his son still sprawled upon the avenue, clutching in his hand a crisp new German one mark note. His eyes filled with tears of gratitude as he lifted his face toward heaven and murmured a few words of thanks for the generous stranger.

GIRL DISAPPEARS IN BLACKINTON MYSTERY

By International News Service
Blackinton, March 17—Miss Mary Nequer is reported to have disappeared mysteriously this morning while on her way to work. God knows where she is.

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER FOUND

While wandering at large in one of the parks of the city early this morning, a ragged stranger was taken in tow by the police and conducted to a cell in the station house. Although Caucasian in general appearance, the man, when questioned, would utter only the words, "Pie, pie" in dythrambic couplets. Acting on a bright suggestion from the desk sergeant, one of the officers was despatched to the nearest lunch room, whence he returned with samples of every known brand of pie both domestic and foreign, ancient and modern. Those were placed before the prisoner, but he gazed at them with unseeing eyes, continuing to murmur the melancholy syllables "Pie, pie" in a tone which tugged at the hardened heart-strings of the officers.

Finally, Head Keeper Wenzel, of the Bronx Par, Zook and Prof. Ticklejohn, of Aniwort College, both of whom are brought in daily contact with strange animals, were sent for. They disagreed at first, but later identified the specimen as a hitherto believed extinct member of the genus homo oeconomicus, order Clarkus, species simplicitus. The words of the strange man, for such he seems to be, which had puzzled the officers, were declared by the experts to be his native utterances.

DID SHE FALL OR WAS SHE PUSHED?

A Gripping Story of Passion and Adventure

By Feloner Chin

THE STORY TO DATE

Gwendolyn Gillicky, a retiring lass, who earns her daily bread and midnight suppers by taking the title roll in the Bed-Room-Scene of Short Sheets, is madly in love with Jerome Jerkin, a popular young hacheler and chumma of the lower East Side and the Ghetto. Gwendolyn first met our hero in a Beverly hash house where he was pot walloping just for the fun of it, not to mention the six dollars per. During the first XLVI installments Jerk passionately declares his undying love for the young damsel, proving his affection in chapter XLVII by beating up her father, who with great power of character analysis has denounced Jerk as a worthless scut and a drunken bum.

CHAPTER XLVIII—Continued

"We must elope, Gwendolyn," Jerome paced nervously up and down Avenue A where he had met the light of his love for a quiet little pet-a-pet. He uprooted a mump post here and there in his excitement and gnawed hungrily at his toenails.

"As I said before," he repeated, "We must elope."

"But—" replied Gwendolyn.

"But me no huts," he cried and struck her across the mouth.

Somewhat subdued by this outburst of exuberant affection, Gwendolyn wept softly as she casually picked the pockets of one of the crowd of curious bystanders that had gathered around the lovers.

"We can't go on like this," she said in a small voice, looking fondly down upon her man from the proud height of her six feet three inches of superb womanhood.

Suddenly her brow cleared. An idea had entered her pretty head. "We'll kill the old man," she breathed. Almost beside herself with joy at the thought of this easy solution of their problem, she swung on Jerome, landing a beautiful haymaker on the point of his chin. Her lover staggered under the force of the blow and the idea, and his eyes took on a veiled and expressionless expression. His blood sang in his veins and his temples throbbled with passion.

CHAPTER XLIX

"Have you done the deed, my love?" panted our heroine.

"You betcha," answered Jerk, "and if I do say it myself, it was one of the neatest murders I ever committed."

"Yes, yes—Go on," she cried.

"Twas thus," he explained. "Disguising myself as a celluloid collar, I fastened about the old gent's neck and seized his Adam's apple in a death grip. So inflamed with the lust to kill was I that I burst into a bright blaze and set fire to the very becoming and modish lace curtain coffee strainers, which your pa wears upon his upper lip. The flames lapped hungrily at his eyebrows, mounting steadily until they reached the gray hairs of his venerable old head, and then—"

The Woman Pays

By A. BITT WRINKLEY

It has been said that the woman pays and pay she must—the her coin be counterfeit. Behold the radiant Kathleen, with rosy lips and sun kissed locks, whose courtly swain has offered to drive her back home to North Adams—dank, dark and dismal city of a thousand gutters. O'erhead the tiny nightgales sing their honey sweet throats hoarse, and the roses blush a deeper, clear pink! The whole universe seem to radiate happiness as if to proclaim in clarion tones—The Dean has resigned or the Kaiser's dead!

And Kathleen is impelled by the thrilling, soul-satisfying atmosphere to repay her swain for all his kindness. Behold her poised above him about to place those two ruby lips—slightly parted—to Jim's firm manly mouth—poised like a butterfly whose wings of myriad colors are about to bear her away on the wind. The woman pays—but in doing so labels a fallacy—the age old statement that you can't get loving where there ain't any love—not if you own a car.

My advice to a young man who intends to help damsels in distress by means of his auto is to place a sign on it: One man car—Pay at the Rear!

Advice to the Lovelorn

By Beatrice Bareback

Maldie: You were perfectly right. The young man had no business to put his foot in your father's soup.

Dear Bee: I have been going with a young man for over a year, but lately he has been giving my chum a lot of time, love him dearly, and want him back. How shall I go about it?

SWEET PATOOTIE
Find out what she drinks and get the recipe.

Handsome Jack: A good birthday present for your fiancée would be a pair of the new open-work overshoes in cerise or magenta. Or you might try a pet pooch, to make her think of you. You're welcome.

Dear Beatrice: Is it right to invite a young man into the house when returning from the theater with him? SALOME.
If you have to invite him in, you'd better consult a beauty specialist.

Irene: Judging from your photograph, a good way for you to catch a man would be to employ a 45 and a lasso. If these fail, try sneaking up on him with a bottle of chloroform.

Sam: If your wife insists on smoking your cigars after you have admonished her in a friendly way with the poker, cut out smoking and fool her.

UNNATURAL HISTORY

One of our least appreciated domestic animals is the common rattlesnake. These gentle creatures have been much maligned by ignorant folk who have sought their extermination on the ground that they kill off English sparrows and other beautiful songsters. As a matter of fact, the rattlesnake is just as harmless and agreeable to meet and to associate with as is the skunk, or its cousin, the hi-colored Hun. Rattlesnakes are the friends of mankind, and it is simply because their quick, affectionate, impulsive natures make them rather more spontaneous in their friendly advances than we are accustomed to expect from our fellow creatures, that they have been misunderstood and classed as dangerous. Upon meeting one of these animals, which may be easily recognized by their long, curly, zebra-striped hair, the lover of nature may expect to receive a sudden, but nonetheless well-meant kiss of friendship. Some reserved persons attempt to avoid this salutation, but the practice is not practiced by others, who have learned that the rattlesnake is like a mother-in-law—it can not be avoided.

A rattlesnake, once it has learned the lay of the land, and has discovered the family sleeping rooms, where it may keep warm between the sheets, as well as make things warm for members of the family on the retirement of the latter, makes a most delightful pet and a perfect companion for the neighbors' children. It is quick to make itself thoroughly at home, being of an adaptable nature, and once located, it can scarcely be dislodged. As a watchdog, it is better than any tame wood mouse, despite the eulogies which that animal has received from the ignorant. Its only disadvantage is that, in its enthusiasm and eagerness, it is just as likely to select its master as to pick out the burglar, to be the object of its greeting.

Not the least of the joys of keeping a pet rattlesnake is the fact that it is extraordinarily fond of whiskey, and the owner of a snake can secure the fluid, even in these days of its scarcity, by merely stating that it is for his pet snake. Sufficient whiskey, too, will lead to a multiplication of opportunities for acquiring whiskey, which will lead to more snakes, and so on, in an endless cycle of pleasure.

On the whole, then, nothing can compare with the rattlesnake as a companion, except, possibly, the boa constrictor. The latter, however, is sluggish and sensual in its affection, and its thoroughgoing embraces lack the Platonic effect of the rattlesnake's gentle kisses.

Worse Than Calomel

Thousands have discovered Dr. Quaxey's Chapel Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Quaxey's Chapel Tablets—the substitute for religion—are a mild but sure sedative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little colorless tablets are the result of Dr. Quaxey's determination not to treat his hearers to anything worth hearing.

These unpleasant little tablets do more harm than Calomel does, but they have no bad after effects on a strong constitution. They take hold of a Christian and quickly convert him. It is best to take Calomel. Let your wife take Doctor Quaxey's Chapel Tablets. "Headaches," "dullness," and "that lary feeling" come from a disordered liver. Take Doctor Quaxey's Chapel Tablets when you feel "lary." They cloud clear brains and sink the spirits.

HOW WILL YOU BE HEALTHY?

Modern science has since and for all put the kibosh on Old Man Sickness and comes forth with a simple system of exercise and dieting which is guaranteed to change Hercules from a myth into a garden variety reality. Nobody has any excuse now for scrambling the artistic perspective of the landscape by sporting a hat-rack physique.

Professor Elias L. Strongfoote announces in a scientific magazine of ill repute, that by pursuing his advice, everybody can become strong, virile, and winsome, no matter how raw a deal they got from nature. He says:

"To become strong and healthy one needs only to diet on onions and horehew. It is remarkable how quickly one's newly found strength will become noticeable even to one's friends. After several days of dieting, the patient will find that he can easily chin himself on his own breath. Healthful exercises—no springs, no apparatus, no trusses.

"Treatment is strenuous to be sure but one can't get something for nothing. Onions are a novelty the first day, stimulating the second, and appalling the third day, while at the end of 21 days the average man is ready to let his skeleton remain unpadded and try to get back on speaking terms with the wife.

"Wading thru a couple of baskets of won fruit daily is more or less of a bore, but it is cheap and the result is certain and gratifying. And, consider the home brew part of the treatment. This feature is of little value as a body builder and is merely put in to make it easy. However, Dr. Baldack's Wine of Pepin may be substituted with pleasurable results. It aids predigestion and is sure a knock-out cure for insomnia."

"To give this course the supreme test, try it on somebody else first. That's what I am doing."

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toilet Talks)

A stiff paste made with some powdered sulphuric acid and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 seconds, will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. There is no need to wash away remaining sulphuric acid from the skin. There will be no skin. Be sure it is sulphuric acid and not nitric that you get, and you will not be disappointed. ### Ave atque Vale!

With this issue the 1921 board of The Record passes on the torch to its successors. The past year, with many successes and some failures, has fled swiftly, and now another class takes up the work where we leave it.

We attempt at this time no summary of the work of the year, but include only a brief statement of the general character of The Record's editorial policy under 1921's regime. We have considered that our function, as that of any college newspaper, has been double. We have aimed, first of all, to represent in general the opinions and desires of the undergraduate body, to champion its causes, and work toward its welfare. In the second place we have considered it necessary, to retain our integrity as a journal of any character, to take an independent position as many questions, in accordance with the motto of our best forefathers, even though those opinions have been conflicted with that of the majority. Only by doing this can any newspaper retain its self-respect and the respect of its readers.

The editorial policy cannot be classified as either conservative or liberal. If anything, it has bordered on the latter. We have, at times, attacked certain institutions which bore the sanction of time and custom. We have felt in these cases that the mere fact that a thing has existed in the past should be no protection against careful consideration of its present necessity. To obtain true values, it is often advisable to remove the subject from the pedestal to the dissecting table.

The Record has come in for occasional adverse criticism from many sources. To a certain extent, this is a matter for congratulation rather than condemnation. No critical journal can maintain a policy of "please everybody," and amount to anything worth while. We have aimed to make our criticism, no matter if severe, fair and constructive. If we have called something bad, we have always suggested a remedy, a means by which it may be improved.

To the 1922 board we leave unfinished much of the work we have begun. The matter of chapel has, through The Record's efforts, come nearer to a solution than ever before, and now promises to be decided in the near future. The work of completing the settlement of this problem we leave to 1922.

The matter of cooperation between student body and faculty is even more important. Whether it is to be carried out by further development of the College Senate, or by other means, it is imperative to the highest good of Williams College that the relations between the two bodies be kept sympathetic and friendly. Here again we offer to 1922 an opportunity for service along a line that has been started but not completed.

Various other things that have been mentioned in these columns that will go to make Williams a better college come to mind, but it is hardly necessary to mention them. We say only in conclusion, that we leave the heritage of The Record's influence in what we are confident are good hands, and we trust that they will be guided by the highest principles, by sane though liberal judgment, and by adherence to the tenets of journalism which we have mentioned above, service to the College, first, by representing the best desires of the undergraduate body, and, second, by advocating those changes which are, in the judgment of the editors, calculated to bring the most immediate, the most thorough, and the most permanent benefits to Williams.

Ave atque vale!

THE DESSICK EIGHT

Universally acclaimed the 47th Wonder of the World by all but osteopaths, who declare that the healthful vibration will ruin their business if the car gains the popularity which it is expected to attain.

The Dessick was shown at a New York automobile show recently, and the police reserves had to be called to quell the riot of enthusiasm which arose as interested sub-customers crowded about the model. A pretty chorus girl was employed as an added attraction, but bear in mind that we are sure that it was only the car that drew the crowd, for the girl was completely attired.

The Dessick is rated (by the C. Q. D. system) at 95 hen power, and is guaranteed to make a perfect showing on the down grade of any hill in the United States or Europe. It is no respecter of the grades of gasoline you buy—it runs as poorly on one kind as on another.

The Dessick is fitted with many novel comforts. For people who enjoy horseback riding, a fine leather saddle is provided instead of the usual "pull-up" seats in the tonneau. A handsome green-gold cocktail shaker is set in in the rear of all enclosed models, and a complete set of manicuring tools is included in all ladies' models.

Prices are moderate in comparison with those of cars less attractively furnished than the Dessick. Roadster — $4500. Touring—$6500. Coupe—$7500. Limousine—$12,000. Lady's model—$10,000. A perfect '30' $15,000. Any car with a silver plated still far outclassifies water for batteries—Extra—$1000.

You cannot go wrong in considering this car before you carry out your threat of suicide—it's a slow death, but it's pleasant.

The Batty Crook Sanitarium has ordered 15 Dessicks for the use of their Delirium Tremens patients. Follow their example.

DISCOVER FACULTY LIQUOR RING

Two Boys Are Taken in Raid on Clubhouse by Local Cop

Williamstown's liquor business is in the hands of the faculty.

"Unless the Faculty Club is licensed, giving the police a weapon with which to regulate this resort, crime, bootlegging and dope selling will continue."

These were the assertions said to have been made today of a local official, who was one of the police to appear in behalf of the new college rule requiring all local clubs to take out a Federal license.

Prof. Boers and Barnard have been held under $5,000 bonds, it is claimed, for purloining alcohol from the College Chemistry Laboratory. The stolen spirits are alleged to have been conveyed to the Faculty Club where they were used, with numerous gallons of pure water, in making spurious liquors, thus laying the prodigious professors open to a charge of dilution as well as of moonshine.

When the raiding parties entered, it is alleged, the frenzied instructors, were seen sliding down drain pipes and intertwining themselves in the poison ivy which covers the edifice of the Faculty Club, in an effort to escape the government officers.

At an inquest held here today, the composite defense offered by the accused moonshiners was the naive phrase "Children Cry for It."

WETWEATHER WALLOPS WINNERS

Montreal Gutters Prove Comfortable Beds for Rollicking Rookies

By NEVILLATON NEWS SERVICE

Montreal, Canada, March 18—The flight of the Bean Eaters over the tins ended last night at 6.50 when the 77th annual Six-Day Bicycle Race, conducted by the Spring Street Merchants' Association, Williamstown Local No. 4567890, The victory leaves Karl the undisputed velodrome champion of the town, and makes him eligible to receive the outclass eyecup which is awarded annually to the winner through the generosity of Wally Diggs. By permission of the Athletic Council, the cyclists were enabled to meet on the board track on the condition that they replace all splinters.

The boys are shown movie pictures every morning from 11:01 to 11:23 emphasizing the correct ways of throwing, batting, pitching and hitting as well as fielding and catching. This method is expected to produce a scientific aggregation of ball tossers which will be second to all. My boys will all be taught to play with their heads and to coordinate their brains to fit their actions. Manager Snitcheff is reported to have said today. Great results are hoped for.

The life of the party was Helen Haw the big, beefy boy rookie from the Yankees A. C. who greatly amused the whole party with his intimate knowledge of everything, his loud mouth being stilled only to eat. Whenever conversation lagged, he was sure to come to bat with some ready retort which was sure to draw a laugh. The boy admits that he is a good pitcher, outfielder, and batter and expects to make good in his chosen line. He certainly has an air of confidence about him by which he makes a host of friends wherever he goes. His wardrobe is symphonic in its choice of apparel, his neckties especially having attracted the attention of all French Canadians for their color and diversity.

Bald Dick Oxarks will not join the squad in training this year for it is feared that he may get his yearly bit before the season starts.

Woodwoman, the star of the Troy League last season, has left the squad, it is alleged, because at the end of two weeks' practice, the coach failed to call him by his first name. This blow may be fatal to the hopes of victory for the team, for the Trojan was counted upon to furnish strength in the infield of the team. It is rumored, however, that deeper and more subtle motives caused the withdrawal of the valued star.

Another compelling factor in lightening the burden—the prices are considerably lighter than heretofore.

SUN BEME BARELY BEATEN

Favorite's Defeat Attributed to Eighteenth Amendment

By WHEELSPOKE

"Kid" Karl outdistanced "Sun" Beme by 3-10 of an inch in the last lap of the 77th annual Six-Day Bicycle Race, conducted by the Spring Street Merchants' Association, Williamstown Local No. 4567890. The victory leaves Karl the undisputed velodrome champion of the town, and makes him eligible to receive the outclass eyecup which is awarded annually to the winner through the generosity of Wally Diggs. By permission of the Athletic Council, the cyclists were enabled to meet on the board track on the condition that they replace all splinters.

During the length of the course, the racers were nearly close, which is not at all unusual, and it is considered the greatest imaginable stroke of luck that Karl beat out Beme. The latter was always picked for a winner, but it is remarkable that he has not won a race since the 18th amendment was passed. H. H. Wadsworth, who is a member of the club, said that the legs, a disease quite common among cyclists, Salivatore, repudiated in a new pair of "Bostons," was unable to pedal due to the loss of his sole. The rest of the entries were ruled out for using spiked tires on their machines.

At the finish, Beme was gnawing somebody's teeth, and Karl was cool as a mountain hilly. As they crossed the finish line, members of the local order of Odd Birds were in readiness to catch Brother Beme as he fell, but being both a Cyclist and Merchant Extraordinary, he failed to fall, and when last seen was running in the direction of Troy.

"Kid" Karl the winner, got his first training as a cyclist, when at the tender age of fourteen, he left the study of the Sanskrit Bible, and entered the employ of the Worcester Telegram and Gazette in the capacity of a messenger. In his position, he gained considerable practice and speed in riding here and there. It is rumored that he once delivered three telegrams in an eight-hour day, a record yet to be excelled. "Kid" exercises every day, running to the bank no less than ten times between nine and four to deposit his hauls, which are reported to be considerable. Karl is a member of the Push-and-Cycling Club of North Adams, and of the L. O. O. M. (Ludicrous Order of Millrats).

Sport Editorial

Last night's center between Mickey O'Tool and Shaver O'Wood, was the heart strings of all true followers of the square ring and the rosinod corner. O'Tool was punching on all cylinders and had just started a sizzling cloud that was headed for the key on the Shaver's chin, making a sure casualty of the eating apparatus of the sturdy ring warrior with one mighty slough, when the local bumbino moved his head, contrary to all Count of Kingsbury rules and ducked the mit of the peppery batter. Is the manly not degenerating, are the local fans going to stand such a debasement of the game? Will they allow the brawny scrappers to become simon pures? What a joke the grand old battle will have become if the millers are going to duck punches and prevent the thud of the stuffed mit on the iron jaw!

Next time that Mickey packs a kayo surprise party to the Shavers' jaw, let the followers of the tin ear stand up and demand that the jaw be pasted in true old style, and if the Shaver sails thru the purple ozone, let Mickey's right be raised in triumph.

FIGHT DOPE

By Battling Bugs

"I'll paste me right in the jaw and give him a free trip through the ozone. All I hope is that he gets tender ear. There's going to be one frame in this ten round frolic tonight," was the statement alleged to have been made by K. O. Brennan at his training quarters to a RECORD-AMERICAN representative. The well known kid has fanned most of his opponents in the square ring so far and isn't very bashful in admitting that he will paste a mean kayo on Battling Murphy (Moszienski) in tonight's duel.

Battling Murphy makes no secret of his purpose to bat the K. O. Kid out of the picture and send him back to peddling shoes. After his last bout with the heavy-hitting Mike Donovan which he ended early by packing a pile driver to the Mike's food bag, the Battler has displayed his fighting wares in four mills and has piled up a flock of victories. His right mitt has sent many to sweet Shumberland where they have heard the dear old chiming ring. Izzy Goldstein's protegee is a two-fisted, hard-hitting hick and he will do his best to make tonight's mill an interesting one.

After much dickering, the match will be staged at the Sturgeon, A. A. where the veteran Charley Algy will officiate in the ring as the third man and a stiff battle will be put up for both boys are out for the scalp and nothing short of a slugging contest will be accepted.

MARKET IS WILD IN ERRATIC DAY

Much Change Changes Hands on Stock Exchange

Little change was seen on 'Change today, outside of the usual bull-thriving. New River remained at its old level, while Eiffel Tower opened strong, but shook under pressure. United Fruit proved to be rather tutti, and B. and M. was still irregular, as usual. A big blow was predicted in American Handkerchief, but this made little impression on the bears when it was learned that Elevator Preferred was to rise.

The lambs were petrified shortly after the opening of the market by the word that Rummy Dumphy was on the ragged edge, and their terror was increased when it was learned that Rolling Hoop was being batted around considerably.

Conversation Gas remained light throughout the day; Little Giant Limburger came strong after a tortuous descent. Spum Reins fell steadily until the closing, but marked contrast to the rise of Old Faithful Yeast. International Nickel closed out varying from its stand at 5.

Boston, March 17—Revival of the ancient Blue Law which forbids husbands to kiss their wives on the Sabbath Day has caused much confusion among residents of the Hub City and has led to unprecedented activity on the vice squad. ## England for the English-- New York and Ireland For St. Patrick

Editor of the Record-American:

It's about time the American authorities woke up to the fact that England and the United States have nothing more in common.

Our Pilgrim Papas may have been English—God help 'em—, but that was 300 years ago, and for the last century and a half the immigration into this country has been Irish—God bless 'em. Evidence of this may be found in the records of any borough of Manhattan, police headquarters preferred. Furthermore my old friend, Hijinks of Palm Beach and New York (mayor of the latter spot at intervals), and the friend of all the common people, meaning those in particular of Irish extraction, admits with pride that there are certain slight traces of an Erin ancestry or at least relationship in his family tree, and goes on to say that he has met several other wielders of the shilleah since first arriving on this side.

Despite these salient and self-evident facts, the late regrettable war appeared to establish a bond between England and our glorious homeland, but our eyes are now opened and disillusionized. The very fact that my newspapers were fined $20.00 a copy in Canada during the war amply illustrates this fact, (though I must confess I really realized our mutual incompatibility before that—at least a year before.) But to tell you what is on my heart, and of course what should be on the heart of every other true and loyal American.

Sir Fild Tutha Ribbs, chosen British propagandist to this country, should pack up his bags and go home, go home, GO HOME!

He is of no help here either to himself, to us, or to England by his stirring up of internal agitation over the Irish question by his detestable, criminal anti-Irish, pro-English propaganda. If he doesn't realize that by this time, some one ought to read him this open letter so he will know.

Sir Eddie Garcon declared that the Irish question was none of our "damned business" in America, and denounced "American meddling" in Irish affairs as "damned impudence."

In the first place it is not nice for a British lord to use such language in talking about his friends across the water. Again, it might be retorted that the principal newspapers of this country, such as the Record-American, have already recognized the independence of the Irish Republic, and we wonder what "damned business" it is of the English to "meddle" in Irish affairs. Lastly, if it is the honest sentiment of the English government that the Irish situation is none of our damned business, they should chain their propagandists at home and not ship their citizens over here to interfere ostentatiously in affairs which they declare are none of our damned business, and not try to cram down our gullet English views of the virtue of ceaseless outrage, murder, and rape, massacre, slaughter, and brutal destruction in the unresisting land of good St. Patrick.

Take the case of the Island of Yap, for instance. I have already told you your ideas on that subject. It is evident to every reading American that the instant any Japanese propagandist sets foot upon the sovereign state of California and lets so much as one Yap out of his mouth upon the subject, that same instant he will meet the same horrible fate meted out to those outcast dogs, the British soldiers in Ireland. It would form the immediate excuse for which we have been waiting and coveting so long, an excuse for war with the yellow gringos of Yokohama. The staff reporters of my string of newspapers have been waiting for three years now with sealed instructions for exactly that event. Those instructions assign them every possible point to cover in such a contingency, from Chinatown in New York to Chinatown in San Francisco, not forgetting Yap.

Of course I don't know any real reason why we should go to war over Yap except for the fact that my editorial policy requires it. Yellow never has had any special appeal though, except in journalism.

Speaking of yellow, there is recalled to my mind a pathetic picture—that of an old man, a prisoner, alone, sick and sorrowing. He is probably seated before the wood-pile, no longer even chopping, his gaze seeing far out beyond those temporal limits of Holland. Perhaps a map of the world lies unfolded on his lap, crumpled and tear-stained, while in his eyes is a wistful, broken-hearted expression. Ah! If we could only have realized sooner the inner nobility and real worth of that monarch, William II. Posterity will class him as I am forced to by the urgings of my deepest heart of hearts as a fit companion for Caesar, Charlemagne, and Napoleon. True! He ran away, but who of us would not under the same circumstances, and he did possess that ambition which has thrilled often in our own souls, over-weening ambition for world-dominion and world-power. If he had only been Irish he would certainly have succeeded.

Foreign nations like England and Japan may realize in the course of time that the American people are not poor, gullible idiots who will believe anything if properly propagandized. Our people, thanks to my efforts, are becoming actually peeved at such nations which strive to drag us in on their dirty work. They realize our needs as I outline them below:

I want the non-interference principles of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, and ME restored.

I want America to be let alone at home and to be let alone to meddle as she sees fit abroad.

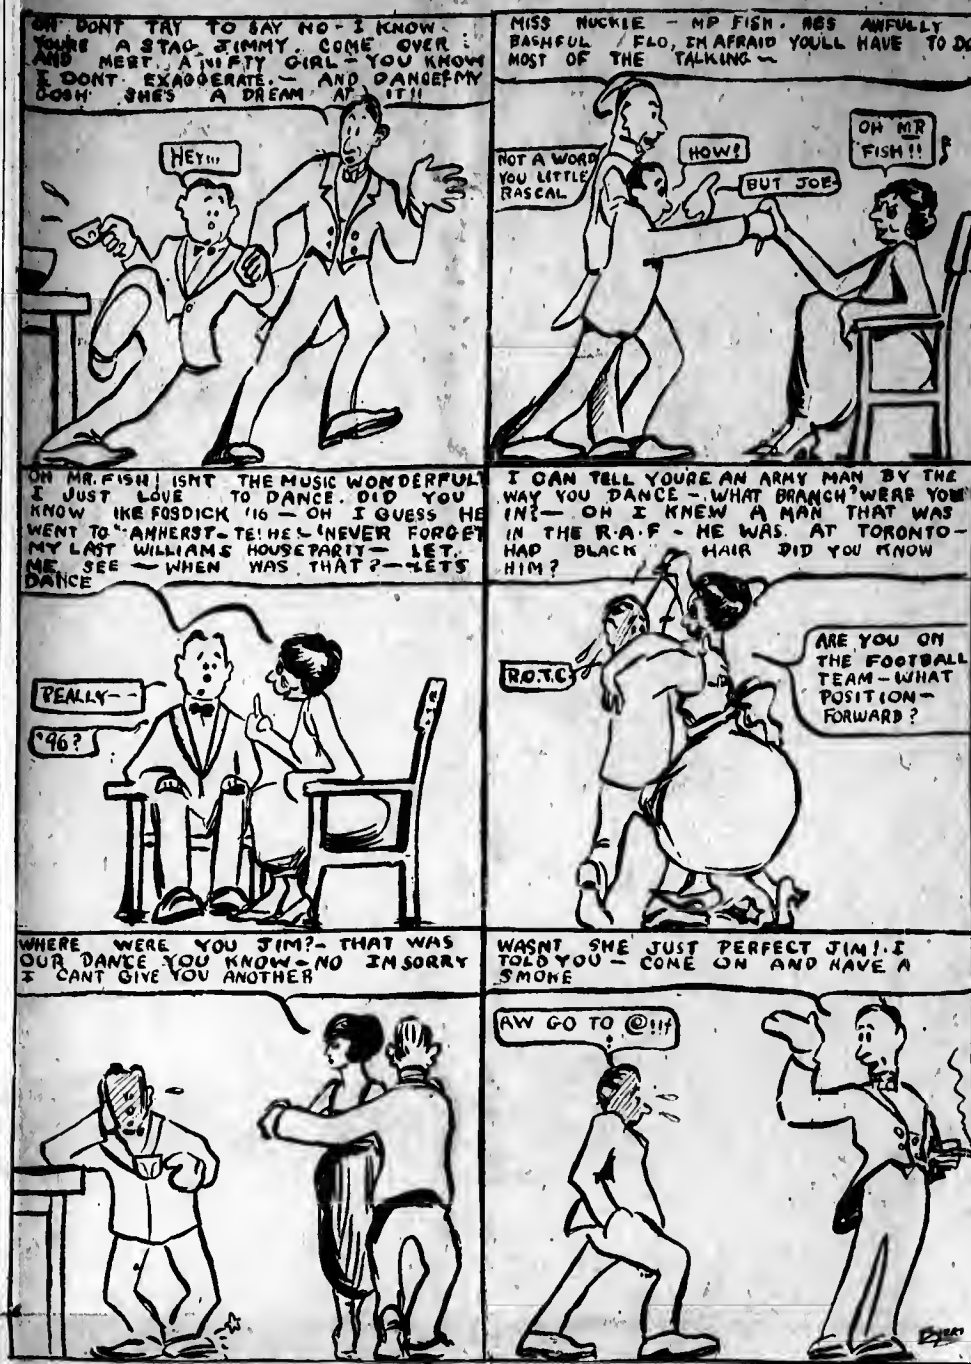

I want these European nations to pay me and my friends the money they owe us, and hereafter to attend only to their own damned affairs. (I want the American government to likewise cut a graft dividend and do the Santa Claus act in the shape of a bonus to us fighters.)

I would like the European nations to do their duty to humanity, to God, and to me, and to perform towards the peoples of the world the promises and pledges they were so anxious to assure us with when they dragged us into the war in spite of my papers.

I would like to see our government motto made: "Keep America safe for the Irish, and make Ireland so!"

WILLIAM HANDOUT WURST.

THE RHYMING PESSIMIST

By Gloomy Gus

THE guys who always skip about with lightsome leap and merry shout and tell me that I should be gay when things have ceased to come my way, and biff me off the merry whack upon my thin and shrinking back—such wights, say I, are not my speed. Of them this world has not a need. These ginks produce more misery than income tax reports, by gee, for up they dash on every hand, guffawing loud to beat the band, and urging me with raucous voice to twang the harp, bid me rejoice because the price of hootch has soared or all my coin's gone by the board. Said one of them, not long ago, "Your frau has left you, is that so? You shouldn't look so glum and sad; you should make joyful sounds, my lad. You might have stumbled in the rain, and slid beneath a subway train, which, when it hit your stalwart neck, would have been scrambled in a wreck. The hoosgow would have been your home; contumely would have bid your dome, and you'd have got a benepen tie for making all those people die. Cheer up, old top, and look alive—it's stuff like this that makes us thrive." A line of chatter such as that starts things. Guffawing "neath my hat. A lamp post I would like to grab, with which to plug the fount of gab, or, lacking that, I'd clinch my fist, and for my mill that guy'd be grist. When fate has knocked me through the ropes, I'd swear at fifty-leven popes if they came handing me such junk as "Cheer!" and its kindred bunk. The gents who see things pink and rose whenever they're eluded on the nose had better keep far from my sight, or they'll be smyring soon. "Good Night!" if they are coming round to drive away the gloom that makes me yell "Hurrah!" A pessimist this baird was born—my greatest joy is when I mourn, and I'm not worth a whoop, I know, unless I have my share of woe. I figure that man was designed to have a two-way balanced mind—that he should feel both glad and sad—variety's the thing, by gad. Far be it from a mutt like I'm, who make my koppek writing rhyme, to set against the wish expressed of what some Nature thinks is best, and if I'm sent to be this way, why it is thus I'm going to stay. What I may be is my own business, no half-wit squirrel-food's merry chat will ever make me leave my gloom, on a grin to take its room, as long as both please my soul to go around all moped in drole.

Terrible Tragedy of Life Stranger Than Fiction

Editor's Note—The love tragedy here unfolded exclusively by the RECORD-AMERICAN is far more remarkable than fiction. Yet every detail has been fully investigated. All the principals have been personally interviewed. Even the deranged and suffering billionaire's son himself was personally visited and observed.

By Soffie Sobb

A mother's tall, blond handsome son tossed tonight on a madman's cot in the Consumption Hill Hospital in Blackinton. A young girl's tender heart is bleeding.

Three other people endure heart rending torture every time the clock ticks.

All because a domineering father and a proud, jealous mother meddled in a love affair!

They interfered with the smooth course of a pure love affair and now they have their reward.

Listen to the tragic story which grips your heart strings and which has ruined the lives of five people. The story weaves its remarkable way from the mud flats of South Boston, to France, to England, across the trackless deep, and back again to the mud flats. And the last page of this pitiful tragedy is written in Blackinton, cot number 357, Ward J, Consumption Hill Hospital.

One theme runs through the sad story, one dominant theme—meddling parents, meddling parents.

The dreamlike romance of Corinne Stacey and Cornelius Macy—a beautifully, touching and soulfully expressive tale—began at the Match High School in Blackinton. For there it was that Corinne met the tall handsome youth and their story-like romance began. From the very beginning, they studied their lessons together, played together, and together they divided their treasures. They had no secrets from each other. Cornelius called for the sweet, round-faced Corinne every morning. He helped her over the rough country roads, affectionately carrying her over intervening puddles, her head laid trustfully upon his stalwart breast, her golden locks intertwined with his raven-black hair. Corinne relied soulfully upon Cornelius's masly arm.

A SCHOOLDAY ROMANCE

After school, Cornelius waited disconsolate until the lady of his heart appeared, then a cheering smile lit up his boyish face, his heart beat faster, and with joyous steps he escorted her home, dallying on the way to pick the sweet flowers of their love. So pure, so innocent.

But at last a fateful day came, Cornelius had to make a trip to Central Africa to visit his parents. And oh, how Corinne missed him! How her heart longed for his return. And with what loving embraces and earnest protestations of her love did she greet him upon his safe return. And then it dawned upon them, that which for long the smiling neighbors have been aware of.

One day dull realization came to both of them.

They loved. They wanted each other. They wanted each other for better, for worse, for more, for less, they desired nothing more wonderful than to trip gaily down the sunny paths of life, hand in hand, gladly sharing all their good fortunes together. Such was their love.

One day Cornelius's conscience forced him to make a confession, wrong from the depths of his heart—a statement which might forever ruin his happiness.

My father is rich. I am the heir to eighty-nine million dollars. My father made his money in the cat industry. He kept a cat ranch in Sweden. He feeds the cats on the dead rats, and after he has skinned the cats, he feeds the rats on the bodies of the cats. Thus his cats feed the rats and the rats feed the cats and his only expense is in skinning the cats. He also made a separate fortune in South Africa, importing dancing records for the king's Larem. He also sold the machine, which breaks each record after it has been played once. But with all their money, my father and mother are not happy. They have not the true pure love that is ours! They do not live together and their children are all here in Blackinton under the care of a nurse while we—"But Corinne blushing stopped the confession with the gentle pressure of her ruby lips, forming a perfect Cupid's bow, a gesture of the gods granting forgiveness.

And thus passed the happy years in the little hamlet, sheltered from the world and enjoying the sweet love of one another. Cornelius was studying to enter M. I. T.—he was going to discover a machine to skin his father's cats. And he wrote his parents, telling of his overpowering love for the sweet companion of his days.

One fateful day he came to Corinne, dejected, pale, immoveable, haggard, his cheeks flushed, his eyes burning in his head. "I have received two letters, just this morning. They're terrible."

Letters to the Editor

Malice Towards All and Justice Towards None

To the Editor of the RECORD-AMERICAN,
Dear Sir:—

It is a self evident fact that two and two make four; also that three and three make six. Therefore it is impossible for the Library to carry on an unjust administration of secluded nooks without the co-operation of the students' bodies. That carelessness and irresponsibility on the part of the librarians amount to an inconceivable atom in postal notices occasionally ($1.23%) is unimportant in comparison with the inconvenience caused to students and the irritation of an obviously inefficient system.

A nook placed on reserve is lost to the world and to the members of the library force, who stand singly and collectively for "malice towards all and justice towards none."

All students must be acquainted with some of the charming local talent and with the administrative rule, "No absences from recitation are allowed before and after Yom Kippur." That this regulation may be effectively carried out it has been considered necessary to change the present student body for that of Columbia University, with George Rudnick for dean.

Hints to the Motorist

A good way to prevent deterioration of inner tubes during dry weather is to fill them with dilute alcohol once a week. After a few minutes immersion they should become thoroughly pickled and a pleasing sensation of intoxication will result. This will keep the tubes in good condition.

Spark plugs should never be forced into position by severe wrench action. They should be seated firmly and gently in the gasket with but little more force than can be applied with the fingers.

In most modern battery ignition systems a so-called latch is attached to the rotor. When the latch becomes worn to any extent the system may fail. It is suggested that owners carry along a spare latch.

In fitting a spark plug in a cold cylinder be very careful not to screw it too tight. The principle cause of breakage is due to expansion when the engine gets hot, thereby exerting a crushing effect on the plug and resulting in a cracked insulator.

More interesting advice tomorrow. Look this column over and get wise.

One was from his mother.
One was from his father.

Both letters agreed. Cornelius must break the engagement. His education must not suffer the damage which would inevitably tend to follow such an engagement. He must give up the girl or the cat farm.

Cornelius replied, "I love Corinne. Without Corinne I might as well die. With her I surely will. I must choose between my legacy, the enticing cat farm, and Corinne. Father, I choose Corinne."

One day came. One letter. Cornelius had lost his legacy and a monthly allowance. The poor broken boy was alone in a foreign land without money, without a home, and without Corinne. Her father, who had been a millionaire, was now a pauper. He was a shell-like cat, she toddled sweetly, and he was cat.

But his mother, mother-like, came to his rescue. She came to the mud flats from the far off cat ranch to see the apple of her son's eye and to judge the conditions in the new Garden of Eden. But Mrs. Macy was a Swedol. She was a woman! She was jealous! Corinne did not please her. Corinne's delicate, flower-like arms could not scrub the kitchen floor, she would never be able to skin cats!

More suffering for Cornelius!
More morbid moments for Cornelius!
Poor simple innocent girl!
Poor misguided jealous doing mother!

England for the English-- New York and Ireland For St. Patrick

Editor of the Record-American:

It's about time the American authorities woke up to the fact that England and the United States have nothing more in common.

Our Pilgrim Papas may have been English—God help 'em—but that was 300 years ago, and for the last century and a half the immigration into this country has been Irish—God bless 'em. Evidence of this may be found in the records of any borough of Manhattan, police headquarters preferred. Furthermore my old friend, Hinkins of Palm Beach and New York (mayor of the latter spot at intervals), and the friend of all the common people, meaning those in particular of Irish extraction, admits with pride that there are certain slight traces of an Erin ancestry or at least relationship in his family tree, and goes on to say that he has met several other wielders of the shillelagh since first arriving on this side.

Despite these salient and self-evident facts, the late regrettable war appeared to establish a bond between England and our glorious homeland, but our eyes are now opened and disillusioned. The very fact that my newspapers were fined $20.00 a copy in Canada during the war amply illustrates this fact, (though I must confess I really realized our mutual incompatibility before that—at least a year before.) But to tell you what is on my heart, and of course what should be on the heart of every other true and loyal American.

Sir Fild Tuttha Ribbs, chosen British propagandist to this country, should pack up his bags and go home, GO HOME!

He is of no help here either to himself, to us, or to England by his stirring up of internal agitation over the Irish question by his detestable, criminal anti-Irish, pro-English propaganda. If he doesn't realize that by this time, some one ought to read him this open letter so he will know.

Sir Eddie Garcon declared that the Irish question was none of our "damned business" in America, and denounced "American meddling" in Irish affairs as "damned impudence."

In the first place it is not nice for a British lord to use such language in talking about his friends across the water. Again, it might be retorted that the principal newspapers of this country, such as the Record-American, have already recognized the independence of the Irish Republic, and we wonder what "damned business" it is of the English to "meddle" in Irish affairs. Lastly, if it is the honest sentiment of the English government that the Irish situation is none of our damned business, they should chain their propagandists at home and not ship their citizens over here to interfere ostentatiously in affairs which they declare are none of our damned business, and not try to cram down our gullet English views of the virtue of ceaseless outrage, murder, and rape, massacre, slaughter, and brutal destruction in the unresisting land of good St. Patrick.

Take the case of the Island of Yap, for instance. I have already told you your ideas on that subject. It is evident to every reading American that the instant any Japanese propagandist sets foot upon the sovereign state of California and lets so much as one Yap out of his mouth upon the subject, that same instant he will meet the same horrible fate meted out to those outcast dogs, the British soldiers in Ireland. It would form the immediate excuse for which we have been waiting and coveting so long, an excuse for war with the yellow gringos of Yokohama. The staff reporters of my string of newspapers have been waiting for three years now with sealed instructions for exactly that event. Those instructions assign them every possible point to cover in such a contingency, from Chinatown in New York to Chinatown in San Francisco, not forgetting Yap.

Of course I don't know any real reason why we should go to war over Yap except for the fact that my editorial policy requires it. Yellow never has had any special appeal though, except in journalism.

Speaking of yellow, there is recalled to my mind a pathetic picture—that of an old man, a prisoner, alone, sick and sorrowing. He is probably seated before the wood-pile, no longer even chopping, his gaze seeing far out beyond those temporal limits of Holland. Perhaps a map of the world lies unfolded on his lap, crumpled and tear-stained, while in his eyes is a wistful, broken-hearted expression. Ah! If we could only have realized sooner the inner nobility and real worth of that monarch, William II. Posterity will class him as I am forced to by the urgings of my deepest heart of hearts as a fit companion for Caesar, Charlemagne, and Napoleon. True! He ran away, but who of us would not under the same circumstances, and he did possess that ambition which has thrilled often in our own souls, over-weening ambition for world-domination and world-power. If he had only been Irish he would certainly have succeeded.

Foreign nations like England and Japan may realize in the course of time that the American people are not poor, gullible idiots who will believe anything if properly propagandized. Our people, thanks to my efforts, are becoming actually peeved at such nations which strive to drag us in on their dirty work. They realize our needs as I outline them below:

I want the non-interference principles of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, and ME restored.

I want America to be let alone at home and to be let alone to meddle as she sees fit abroad.

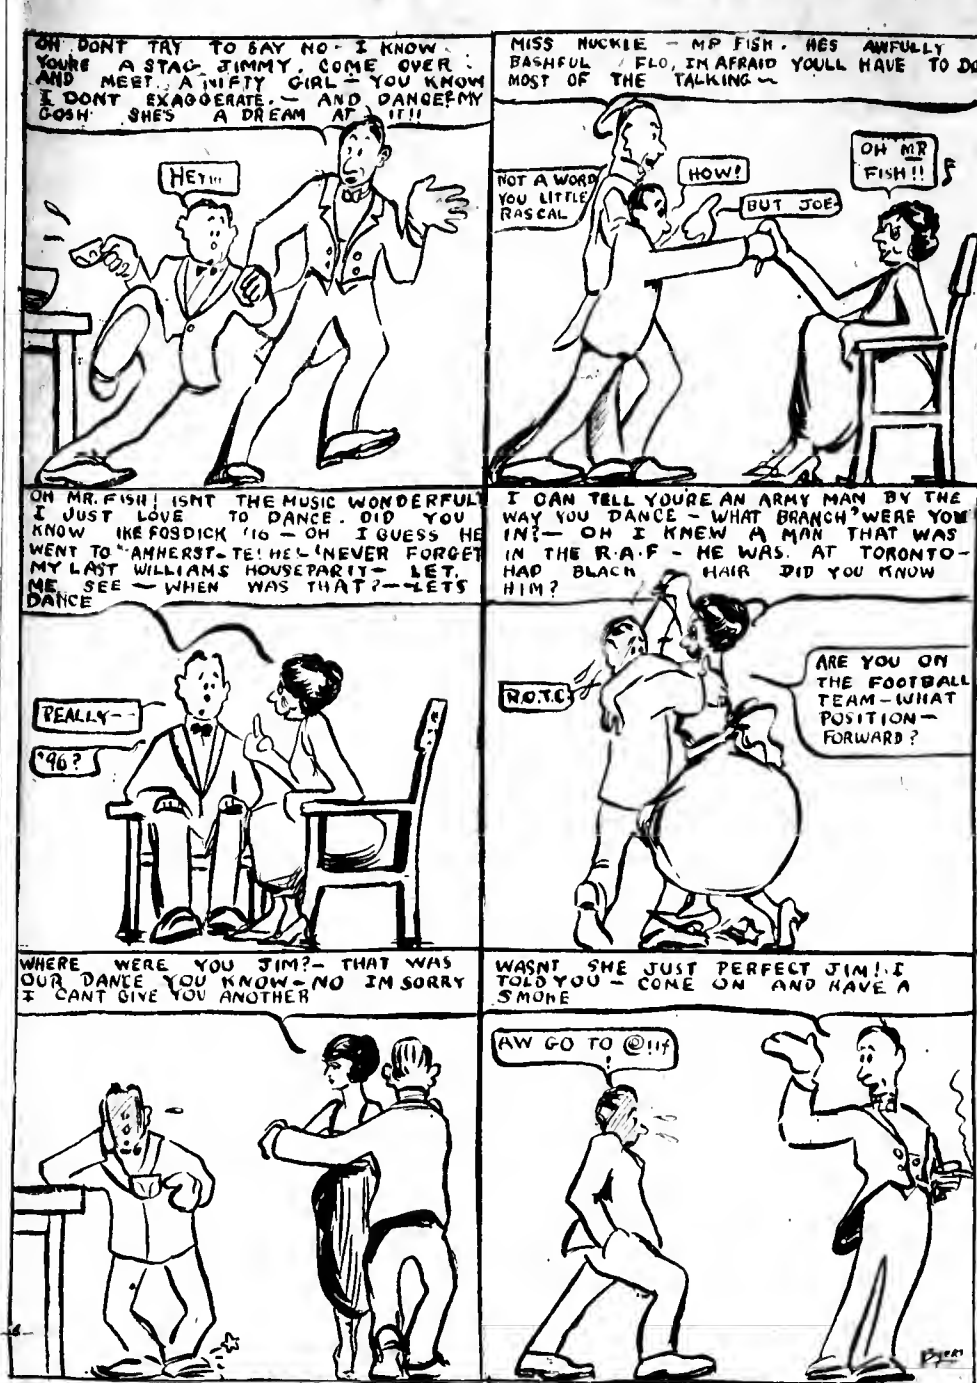

I want these European nations to pay me and my friends the money they owe us, and hereafter to attend only to their own damned affairs. (I want the American government to likewise cut a graft dividend and do the Santa Claus act in the shape of a bonus to us fighters.)

I would like the European nations to do their duty to humanity, to God, and to me, and to perform towards the peoples of the world the promises and pledges they were so anxious to assure us with when they dragged us into the war in spite of my papers.

I would like to see our government motto made: "Keep America safe for the Irish, and make Ireland so!"

WILLIAM HANDOUT WURST.

THE RHYMING PESSIMIST

By Gloomy Gus.

THE guys who always skip about with light-some loup and merry about and tell me that I should be gay when things have ceased to come my way, and tell me off the merry whack upon my thin and shrinking back—such wights, say I, are not my speed; of them this world has had a need. These guys produce more misery than income tax reports, by gee, for up they dash on every hand, guffawing loud to bent the band, and urging me with raucous voice to twang the harp, bid me rejoice because the price of hootch has soared or all my coin's gone by the board. Said one of them, not long ago, "Your frau has left you, is that so? You should look so glum and sad, you should make joyful sounds, my lad. You might have stumbled in the rain, and slid beneath a subway train, which, when it hit your stalwart neck, would have been scrambled in a wreck. The hoosgow would have had your dome, and you'd have got a heppan tie for making all those people die. Cheer up, old top, and look alive—it's stuff like this that makes us thrive." A line of chatter such as that starts things chattering 'neath my hat. A lamp post I would like to grab, with which to plug the fount of gab, or, lacking that, I'd clinch my fist, and for my mill that guy'd be grieved. When fate has knocked me through the ropes, I'd swear at fifty-seven popes if they came handing me such junk as "Cheer up" and its kindred bunk. The gent who sees things pink and rose whenever he's eluded on the nose had better keep far from my sight, or they'll be saying soon "Good Night!" if they come round to drive away the gloom that makes me yell "Hurrah!" A pessimist this bard was born—my greatest joy is when I moan, and I'm not worth a whoop, I know, unless I have my share of woe. I figure that man was designed to have a two-way balanced mind—that he should feel both glad and sad—variety's the thing, by gee. Far be it from a mutt like I'm, who make my kopek writing rhyme, to go against the wish expressed of what Dame Nature thinks is best, and if I'm meant to be this way, why it is thus I'm going to stay. What I may be is my look-out, no half-wit squirrelhood's merry shout will ever make me leave my gloom, put on a grin to take its room, as long as I both please my soul to go around all wrapped in duple.
